FOREWORD

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 15, 2015

God bless you, my beloved beautiful souls, it is your teacher Augustine, and I come to greet you as you come together to receive God's Love and to know God's Will. And some of you have struggled through the darkened conditions of this world and have triumphed in this struggle, have overcome the barriers presented, have come to understand and to feel the pull of God's Will in your lives. You have all been brought here for a purpose, my beloved, beloved students – to understand more fully God's will, to come together to strengthen the bonds with one another and to test the waters with one another, to see who is truly your brother and your sister, to see whether these bonds may bear fruit in service to bring further Love in this world.

Each of you is so unique and comes from different cultures and life experiences. What you have learned, how you have struggled, who you are in the world, brings about characteristics within you that are unique. But what you share together is the experience of God's Love. This is the common factor and in this comes the power to melt away all differences, to bring clarity, to bring love and acceptance.

And as you are together in this gathering and these meetings, you forge something that cannot be forged from any one individual, but comes together from all of your efforts collectively, all of your desires, all of that which you are, comes into play so that you may build something for God. And that which you build is not truly of your own making, but of God's making through you. The understandings and awarenesses that will come through this process of coming together in Love are accomplished from God pushing through the barriers within you and creating something together in Love, in a desire to be of service in this world, to bring something that will bring hope and Light and comfort and Peace and Love and Truth to this world that truly is in need of these things.

Millions upon millions of souls live in this limbo of darkness and ignorance and their souls cry out for something which they can truly understand. And it is for you, my beloved and precious souls, to come together and create a way, an opening that will reach many, many, many souls. And God's Will will be manifest in this. For each of you has been prepared, each of you has been guided, each of you has found your way to this circle. And you have done so through your prayers and your desire for the Father's Love. And in this way, this true desire within your souls, you will find the answers that you seek and you will create for others those avenues which will reach their souls.

So, beloved souls, use this time to truly look within yourselves. Come to that place of knowing what your true soul's desires are. For in this you will find your true selves and in this you will find God's Will. Do not be distracted. Focus! Be prayerful! Seek God's Love above all else. And honor your brothers and sisters who come together in this circle, for each of you has something to contribute that is unique and precious. Powerful insights lie within you, my beloveds. It is for you to come to that place of awareness of inner revelation that you may contribute what it is that you carry. This hidden secret, this precious jewel, and all is bathed and influenced and transformed by God's Love.

So you see, as these days progress, the secret will be revealed, what is hidden within you will come forth in your consciousness and it is for you to trust one another in Love, to share this, to bring forth this bit of beauty, this divine inspiration and say: "This is what I have to give as a gift of Love to you, as a gift of Love in my desire to serve my Heavenly Father and to serve all my brothers and sisters in this world". And when all of your Gifts are piled together and you admire what you have created in this giving, then you must act, you MUST step forward.

And this, my dear and beloved students, is your challenge: "What prevents me from serving God in a clearer and deeper way, to bring Love into my life and into the lives of those whom I am involved with in a more powerful way? How can I speak and live the Truth so that others may truly see the Light that I carry, the Truth that I live, the Love that I possess?" So often, my beloveds you hide away, fearing rejection, fearing judgment. It is now time to step away from this screen, this mask, and reveal your true selves, boldly, beautifully yet humbly – as your tribute to your Heavenly Father who has given so much to you and has guided you to this point and for you to stand up.

Though you may feel naked and alone, you are not. And say "I am a child of God and I know the beauty of His Love for me and I want you to know this precious Gift. Pray with me, pray with me that we may know this Gift together."

Yes, the Truth is so simple, yet the Truth will save this world from such strife and inequities, such lack of Love. And you, my beloved, beautiful souls, have the desire to contribute to the Father's Plan for the salvation of mankind. Each of you carry this desire within your souls, each of you know you have a role to play, each of you has great gifts and abilities and possess the Father's Love within your souls. It is time to release your fears, your anxieties, your doubts and to walk in the Light in plain view for all to see. You will find freedom and joy in this. And you will find that the wisdom within your souls, the Will which you are able to know of God, the power of His Love manifest through you will be present and powerful and guide you forward.

The Master has called each of you, my beloveds, and you are challenged by this and you have many questions. Ask your questions, confront your fears. Pull away from these old and tired habits of your lives and start anew, knowing from this day forward, God is guiding you with each step. And you have released your will to the Will of God and He will show you the way.

Yes, this time you spend together is serious, yet it is filled with joy and the wonderment of discovery. You will find within yourselves wonderful treasures, deep understanding, a soulful awareness and recognition of who you truly are and what God intends for you to do in this world for each of you is imbued with purpose. You have something that you are meant to do. And it is my fervent hope that within these few days you will have some understanding of what that is. And this shall set you free from your doubts and your questions. For each soul who knows their purpose is purposeful in their life and each of you has great ability and strength to follow what you know is right and true and good and in alignment with God's Will.

Think of what I have said, my beloved students. Consider that there is much to be revealed to you and ask your Heavenly Father to open that door so that you may know His intentions for you as you walk your unique path in Light and Love. And we, the angels, pray for this opening and await your discovery and stand with you in this birthing of something new and precious and beautiful which lies within you waiting, waiting to come forth, eager and full and vibrant and is a Gift of Love from your Heavenly Father. God bless you, my students, pregnant with new and wonderful life. God bless you.

In the summer of 2015, the Divine Love Sanctuary Foundation invited a global network of friends to come together in prayer. With the belief that God's Love is abundant and available to every sincere soul who longs to receive it... along with a deep respect for the spiritual heritage of all humanity, the D.L.S.F. extended an invitation to "retreat" from the everyday conditions of the world – to be uplifted by God and the angels to that blissful, prayerful condition that passes all understanding.

Almost 60 people – from Australia, Africa, Europe, across the United States and Canada – gathered together to share their faith, their stories, and the elegant, simple prayer practice of praying for Divine Love.

The participants came with such a sincere desire to deepen their personal relationship with the Creator that a wealth of spiritual insights and life changing connections with the Divine occurred within the group! As the Divine Essence was accepted within the participants, it caused an awakening of souls!

There was a great diversity amongst the participants – from age 24 to 84 – representing a broad range of religions, first languages and cultures – but what everyone had in common was a sincere desire for spiritual growth and connection with the Divine. Some participants were “elders” amongst the group, having prayed for Divine Love for decades, while others came out of curiosity.

Those who gathered experienced the spiritual power that comes with group prayer and meditation. Participants shared stories about how God and the angels have influenced their lives ... indeed a host of celestial angels came in response to prayers offered up by the group each day and this book is a compilation of messages received from a host of celestial spirit guides before, during and after the Divine Love Retreats.

Each day the angels spoke to us on a variety of topics, but if there is one theme that stands out in this collection of messages above all others it is the difference between the soul and the mind.

We invite you to explore and experiment with prayer as you read these messages. We invite you to pray earnestly for an ever deepening soul awakening as you ask for the angels to pray with you and help you open your soul to the inflowing of Divine Love – the Greatest Gift in all the Universe!

If you are interested in creating a Circle of Light Divine Love Prayer Group in your home or in your community, we invite you to contact us at: www.Divine-love-sanctuary.ca .

May God bless us all with a constant inflowing of Divine Love into our souls and together, may we all be connected in our efforts to create Circles of Light around our planet.

MESSAGES FOR PREPARATION

---

Spirit: Alec Gaunt

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: June 29, 2015

God bless you my friends.

Yes, I was with this instrument in the garden today and he thought of me and I was pleased to know that he was consciously aware of my presence. And this will happen more and more as he develops in his soul faculties and becomes more sensitive to spirit communication and presence.

Indeed, he has worked diligently to create and provide a beautiful setting for all of you to abide in the fruits of his labors, to be together in Love, to provide a sanctuary. And he along with our Heavenly Father have worked together to bring about this blessing in your lives and in his life. And in times to come this sanctuary will provide shelter for many, this sanctuary will provide healing and comfort to many. And as he works within the garden, tending his fruits and vegetables and flowers and trees, he draws from the ground and from the Heavens energies and blessings that build in Light and beauty and this will be utilized in the future to bring the comfort and shelter that is necessary in the coming days of disruption and difficulty.

Jesus has asked you to come together, to speak to one another, to ask, to be guided and to share with one another your innermost dreams and thoughts, ambitions and ideas for your futures as God's channels of Love in this world. And this is a necessary and important part of your working together on behalf of Truth. Do not discount the opportunity that has been laid before you, for we in spirit are making great preparations with each one of you to help you come to that place of receptivity and soul awareness of what it is you are required to do in this world and how it is that you are to work together to fulfill God's plan. And a mighty plan it is, and we in spirit have great anticipation and joy at the prospects of the changes that are coming. This will require your dedication, your willingness to serve, to be a clear and powerful channel of Light in the world.

So much is dependent on the few souls in this world who are truly willing and have been prepared for many years to step forward and bring a new Truth, a new awareness to mankind. There are two choices for humanity: one is definitely not desirable, where the other will bring great change and joy and peace to this world. And we do not inform you of this predicament to bring fear into your minds or to cause your minds to speculate as to what is truly meant by this, but we bring you this information and this encouragement so you will make your efforts to prepare yourselves and to understand what is happening within you and around you at this time as God brings extra and beautiful energies and blessings to you and all around you, and for those who are being prepared to come together in this way.

Much is being given, my beloveds. This is not done out of desperation or fear, it is done out of Love and anticipation, joyful anticipation, of what is to come. And it is for you to focus your thoughts and your efforts in this direction as much as you can. This is very important. It requires you to make choices in your life at this time that will speed your progression and bring greater awareness which awaits you. For God is waiting to give you what you require to do this work, to fulfill this great purpose that you have been blessed with. The only thing that stands in the way is yourselves. Do not hold on to those conditions which are causing you grief and consternation, anger and pain. Ask for this to be released and it shall be. But you must want to go to that place that is also vulnerable and honest, and in your journey to that place you will be accompanied by the angels and cradled in God's arms. The healing touch shall pour within you and you will know relief from pains harbored for many years. And then in this release you must discipline yourselves, so that your mind does not return to these old patterns, to be free and joyful and adopt a new way of thinking and doing and being which is more in harmony in God's Love and His Will. Of course this will not happen in an instant, it is incremental, it is sporadic and it often comes when you least expect it. But when it comes go with it, release it, and allow God to heal you. It will come in unique ways for each one and now is the time to be completely honest with yourselves and with God, to take that long look, that hard look, that necessary look, in order to allow what is essentially the last vestiges of inharmony within you, that which clings on the most tenaciously, to allow this to be released to God.

Do you understand this, my friends? How necessary it is to release, to truly release these conditions to God, and in that fleeting pain, that time of anguish and recognition do not draw it back within yourself and hold on to what to you seems dear and so much a part of you, for truly it is not. Your souls long for Light and release, and freedom and Love. This is what is truly a part of you now. Ask God to heal you in this way, this is your time for great healing, for transformation, to accept the Truth fully within yourselves and to walk this Truth and be this Truth in everything you are and everything you do.

Then you will be used in miraculous ways, great healings will be accomplished, you will speak with truth, and wisdom, and authority. You will truly become a disciple of the Master and bring this message of Love into the world, for you will have truly come to love yourselves as you are meant to. And in so doing you will love all those in the world.

Carry on my friends, you know the Truth. It is time to use that knowledge in every way possible, to heal yourselves and to make that great step forward as God's channels of Love. We pray for this each day and each moment and are with you each day and each moment.

God gifts you many Gifts and brings you much Light and this shall always be so, for His children who walk in Love. God bless you, your friend Alec is ever by your side and prays with you and does what he can to help and assist you. God bless you, my love is with you. God bless you.

Spirit: Confucius

Beloveds, it is Confucius. My precious and beautiful souls, such a blessing it is for you to come together in this way to receive the Father's Love. And through the turmoil of this world and the challenges that you face you have each other to rely upon in prayer together, in loving outreach to one another, to support one another in Love – a blessing from God, my beloveds, a blessing from God.

I have come to tell you that you are entering the calm before the storm, my beloveds. This period of time in your Earth time will be peaceful for you and for this Earth, but what comes after this calm will be very challenging for all of you. The world is on the brink of great change and this change accelerates and you, my beloveds, are on the brink of great change and this change is indeed accelerating within you, a shift within your souls. And each day brings a new test, a new opportunity, a new invitation to grow, to learn, to release that which inhibits the flow of God's Love within your souls. And each one of you confronts those challenging parts of yourself in different ways. Yet in your efforts you will find release from these conditions which cling to you and conspire to turn you away from your Heavenly Father.

And I tell you God is with you always, as are the angels surrounding you and supporting you and the time will come when much of this condition that is not in harmony with God's Love will not affect and control your behavior and emotions. You are in the process of cleansing your souls. This expiation is necessary and has indeed been accelerated, for what comes next you will be required to be strong and centered in the Love of God. You must prepare yourselves, my beloveds, redouble your efforts in prayer to bring yourself closer to your Heavenly Father. This effort can no longer be a casual one, but one of great commitment and choice. For when you enter the storm you must be clothed in the raiments of Light. You must be strong in your relationship with your Heavenly Father. You must be willing to let go of all of those attachments which pull you to the Earth condition and be in harmony and within the flow of God's Love and all you require will be provided, all your obligations in this world will come into the care of God's Loving Hand, and you will not feel as if you are sacrificing and compromising in your life.

It will be harmonious and it will be powerful in its effects and in your world as a channel of Love you will find your way each one. And your journey is unique, your understandings and awareneses unique, as each soul is unique in this world. But now comes the time when you cannot hold back God's intended purpose for each one of you and the flow of His Love to permeate each and every part of your being and your lives. You cannot compromise in this, but move forward in faith and strength and trust. For God needs your strength, my beloveds, God needs your trust. And in your relationship with your Creator, your faith will blossom and grow.

Walk in the Light and know that we who love you have been with you, will continue to support you and bring you more fully into the Light. There is much work to do, my beloveds, and you are so desperately needed in a world so desperately out of harmony with the laws of creation, the laws of Love. And you will see how the forces that draw humanity away from God shall come into disarray and will no longer have its power and control over the minds of men. And in this you have an opportunity as God's channels of Truth to make that difference, that effect in the world of Light, which you have always dreamed of and desired. Doors will open, my beloveds, and you will joyfully walk through with strength and purpose, wisdom and humility.

Continue to pray for the Father's Love to make a great inflowing into your souls. This is the key to all, as you well know, and you make these efforts daily to be with God in this way. Yes the times ahead will be challenging but as you witness and are a part of the great changes in your world there is much to experience and learn and grow and serve, and this will be a fulfilling time in your lives, a time of great joy and wonderment. Release your fears, release all those conditions which hold you from joyful union with your Creator. We will help you. We are with you and God's mighty hand is upon you, beloved beautiful souls. Continue to walk in the Light and be that channel of Love, and I will continue to serve as your guide and teacher and healer in your lives, my beautiful charges. I love you so. I love you so. God bless you. Confucius loves you.

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: July 06, 2015

It is your teacher, Augustine. May your souls open wide to the great inflowing of our Father's Divine Essence, the benediction of His Touch within you which will bring great change and transformation within your souls and lead you upon a path of Light and enlightenment that shall carry you far and beyond and into the flow of all eternity. This Love, this Path, this Light shall carry you and show you the way to all that your souls desire, to all Truth and all Love and all Being that is in the grace of God.

Drink deep this blessing, my beloveds. Drink like a thirsty man in the desert. Long for this blessing of Love. For every soul in this world is parched and in need of this blessed Gift of these Living Waters. Drink deep, beloved souls, and know that you are in God's embrace and His Hand rests upon you and His angels pray with you, his Love always available for your desire and prayer to elicit its response that you may receive within you the Light that shall burn for all eternity within and about you.

In the coming weeks, you will gather together with many souls from around this world. Many eager souls anticipating the acknowledgement and joy of fellowship of the Truth of God's Love that shines within them. To come together in this way is to acknowledge the Truth that God does indeed love all His children. Embrace each child as they come through the threshold of your doorway. Acknowledge the beauty of each unique soul, for each one carries many gifts and beauty that is unique to them. Together you come and bring a great Light and God will gift all of you with a great opening of His Love, a shifting of your consciousness, an awareness that is deep and profound within each soul who comes with an open heart, with a soul deeply desirous of His Love.

Prepare yourselves accordingly, my beloveds. Focus your prayers on your Heavenly Father and gather in your consciousness all those who will be with you in those days to come. For as you send Love to each of these precious souls, as you cherish this opportunity to be together, you build the Light, you intensify the conditions of Love, you support all those who come. And they who come are in many different positions upon the Path Divine, many stages, many different perceptions and understandings of what it is to follow this Truth of Love. And it will be for those who have come a little further upon this Path to reach back to those who feel unsure and begin this journey to say come, come along you are in the Love, you are my brother, you are my sister and we are all God's children in the Light of His Loving Care, and we will know the joy of this for all eternity, and we will come to rest in deep and abiding peace, and we will come to know the Truth with eyes open, souls expanded, journeys taken guided by God.

You are all children of God. You have all taken this journey and you will all continue to seek His Love in your own way, upon your unique path. And your minds may differ in their perceptions of what this means but your souls know, my beloveds, they know the Truth, and you all resonate in this with a calm understanding that pervades your presence and your prayers and your longings.

We will be with you as you gather. We will be with you as you pray for the others and pray for yourselves, and there will be a joyous awakening, a beautiful opening, a wondrous opportunity to be in that loving Light, that Sanctuary from all the troubles of this world, a fellowship and a joining that will envelop each and every soul in Light. God bless you, my beloved beautiful souls. You will be guided and Light will shine upon your Path. Blessings to you, blessings. Augustine loves you. God bless you.

Spirit: Alec Gaunt

God bless you, I am Alec. Be full to the brim of God's Love. You have been discussing changes in the Earth and I am sad to say that these changes will continue to accelerate. The climate within this world will change dramatically as you have already witnessed. The Earth will become warmer and this will set off chain reactions that will melt the ice and cause further warming and greater disruptions. And the very core of the Earth is shifting and changing and this will cause further disruptions. You will have much to deal with in the future and I do not say this to cause fear and anxiety within you, for as you maintain your connection with your Creator you will be protected and guided through all of these obstructions and cataclysms and problems.

Yes the Earth responds to mankind's neglect and greed and the imbalance is caused by such insensitive reactions and choices. But in the end through this time of transition and change there will be peace and there will be balance. God will maintain His creation in the beauty it is meant to be sustained. God is pouring His Light, His Blessings of Love, and His Spirit of change is working upon every element, every atom, every part of this Earth and those who dwell upon it. And you all feel to some degree the effects of this, and this will intensify and this change will continue for much of your life upon this planet. But in the flow of this change there will be great opportunities for you who desire to be channels of Love, teachers of Truth, who desire to be of assistance to usher in new consciousness, new awarenesses, new truth to mankind. There will be opportunities, abundant opportunities and you will be guided to be in places with people, in situations which will have a great effect and cause a shift in consciousness in the world, and you will join with many others who are in this world at this time who have chosen this time to bring and usher in change in the world as have you all chosen this purpose, this role.

And each of you has struggled for the Light, has desired to be close to God, to come to know Truth and harmony and peace within yourselves, and you will share this in these hard times and you will be given the opportunities to do so in many different ways, in many different places in the world. A great work awaits the willing, those who choose to walk this road, to have a deep compassion and Love for your brothers and sisters, to have a deep and abiding Love for your Heavenly Father, to be educated in ways that will convey the Truth to those who have ears to listen, and eyes to see, and souls receptive. You are all being prepared, you have been for many years and what we have told you in the past is coming to fruition. And you will all come to see this in greater clarity and in this clarity will come peace, and a great calm, and an understanding of what you are to do.

Much awaits. We in spirit are in alignment with you on Earth to bring change and healing and balance to this dear Earth. This is God's Will and you will come to know this as the days and weeks and months and years progress in your life and in your time. Have joy, my children, my friends, for you do indeed live in interesting times, a great shift of consciousness in the world, a great shift in how the world is and all its workings. And you will have the blessing of knowing what this is and what it means. How many in this world will know? Very few and you will convey this knowledge, this understanding and bring comfort to many and show many the way to Truth, the way to Love, the way to give back to this beautiful Earth.

Much is in its beginnings and there is much more to know and to learn, there is much more Love to be had within you, an expansion of your awareness that comes from the soul filled with God's Love, and we will assist you every step of the way, every breath you take, every thought that you have will have within it some of our influence, a seed of Truth, a grain of Light.

Continue in your prayers, seek your Heavenly Father with all your hearts and souls, all your yearnings and longings and will be given to, and cared for, and blessed mightily, for your time has come, and God gives what you require, to be His instruments of Light and change and Love in this world. Perk up your ears, open your eyes, pray your prayers in sincere and earnest longing and my words will ring true and you will come to know your true selves and true purpose in this world. God bless you, your beloved friend Alec is with you always and I love you dearly. God bless you.

Spirit: Mary, Mother of Jesus

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: July 20, 2015

I bring a blessing of Love to you and to all of your children and their children, all the children that are connected to each one of you in this world, a blessing to be given, a blessing of joy and Love. For it is in the children that your future lies, who they are, how they will be in your world and what they do with their lives. Pray for your children, my beloveds, for they hold the future. Pray that God will put within them the desire for His Love. Pray that their eyes will be opened from this deep sleep that humanity has been in for so many long centuries, not willing to look within themselves to find the solutions which God has to give within their souls.

Pray that their ears will be opened that they may hear the quiet voice of God to guide them along their path, to inspire them to greater and higher good. Pray that they will be protected from the forces of evil that they may do good in the world and walk in Light. And pray for this world so burdened by the conditions that humanity has brought to it that these conditions may dissipate, that there be a brighter day ahead, a day of peace, a day of Love, that all children and all parents and all peoples may live in harmony and peace with one another acknowledging the unique creation which God has made for each soul who inhabits this place. May there be Love. May there be acceptance and may there be wisdom that comes from the soul filled with the Father's Love.

God bless you, my beloveds. God bless you and bless your children and their children and all the children in this world. And I love you, beloved beautiful souls, I love you. God bless you and goodnight.

Spirit: Jesus

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: July 21, 2015

I am Jesus. I come to be with you in your prayers and I am pleased that you take this time to pray together for your prayers are necessary, are required at this time to help you progress to that higher level of consciousness in the flow of your Heavenly Father's Love. Seek your Heavenly Father. Seek your Heavenly Father often. Be in this state of prayer, in this grace of the Father's touch that you may indeed ascend to a place that is not caught up in the human condition, that is not filled with worries and cares, judgments and fears but a place of liberation, of peace and joy. It is possible, it awaits each one of you. And your efforts to stretch, to yearn, and to long to be in that place where the peace that passes all understanding is forefront in your awareness and your being where God's Love brings great insight and motivates you in everything that you do and everything that you think and everything that you are is influenced by this Love. And in this place God will guide you freely and clearly in your lives, for there will be nothing to hold you from His sure and loving guidance.

You will have released your old cloak and donned new garb of Light and Beauty and Love. Be my disciples. Walk this Path of Love together. Work together to do God's Will and open your eyes, open your minds, open your souls to the new day that dawns, that place of freedom and joy. It is so close, my beloveds, so very close. And you pause at the door and you wonder at what you will lose if you step through this door and I say, my brethren, you will lose nothing and gain everything, for when you are fully within the Father's care all that you require, all that is required will be given and given in abundance. And in this new place of being that which you will require will be different from that which you believe that you need at this time. Life will simplify and yet the work will intensify and you will travel and seek out many souls who desire the touch of God and His Love, some who have already been touched and live in abundance and Light and some who are eager to have what you possess, and many who are curious and who are seeking relief from their pains, answers to their questions, love in their hearts.

Yes the world seeks so much, the world needs so much for the Father to heal, to replenish, to feed the succor for the soul. For many hunger greatly and do not know for what and you my children, my disciples, know this Truth and this Love and you can bring this Love to those who are hungry. You can teach them how to fill this hunger. You can show them the way to Love and as you do so you do the Father's Will and you do my work in this world, a work so necessary and crucial in this time in your world.

Seek to know your place within the plan of the Father's salvation for mankind. Seek to know your purpose. And as you earnestly long to understand God's purpose for each one of you, you will find the answers, you will know the Way, you will walk upon the Path Divine in confidence and surety and joy. God awaits your sincere and true desire to be with Him above all else, to be true to your soul and that Love within above all else, and to accept the consciousness and the power and the desire of your soul that it may be your guiding force, your true and clear motivation in your lives.

Yes each soul struggles in this dilemma to follow the desires of your soul or the will of your mind, and so much in this Earth compels you to use your mental faculties as your guiding force and motivation and yet we the angels beseech you to seek the understanding that comes with the soul filled with the Father's Love. And you have struggled many long years, some have struggled for many years in this dilemma and now it is time to throw away that old cloak and to don the garments and vestments of Truth and Love and Light and to follow, to follow me upon this road. And my promise to you is that I will never leave you, and I will always guide you, and many angels will surround you.

Even when you feel the vulnerability of this new way of being in the world you will be surrounded and protected and you will know a strength and a surety that comes with the soul knowing God and knowing Truth. And you will be a great Light in this world, a leader, leading mankind to these simple Truths, to a way out of so many dark and difficult dilemmas. And many will indeed challenge you as they create within their mind's vision a way to discredit and to turn away and this at times will be hurtful and frustrating and challenging, for to ask a soul to change its thinking and being creates fear and resistance.

Yet you must persist, my children, for without these changes in the world the suffering will multiply and escalate and this dear and beloved world will continue to heave in pain and the balance must be obtained and restored. This must be so, my children, my beloveds, and the time is now, for much rests upon the efforts of mankind to make this choice for Light. Much rests upon your decision, my beloveds, to choose the Path Divine in this more complete way.

You are ready, though I am sure that you feel that you are not, yet you are. It is a decision, a step, a desire and a resolve to step beyond that line that you have drawn, that line that you have drawn where you feel safe and secure and yet it is only an illusion. There is no security in this world except when you are with your Heavenly Father. In that Light there is security and all that you require. The rest is an illusion which you must put aside and allow the Truth, the clarity of Truth, the immensity of Truth, the solidity of Truth, of reality to infuse your consciousness so that when it is required for you to guide others your vision will be clear, your understanding will be comprehensive and you will be able to guide many who will be confused and fearful and clamoring.

Beloved, beloved souls, you walk in the Light and you are stepping forward ever so slowly but surely. Continue to pray for the Father's Love to enter your souls, to seek this Truth above all else and with this comes all things. Secure yourself with your Heavenly Father. Be at peace, my beloveds, beautiful souls. Be at peace. Know that you are loved so truly and deeply. God bless you, I am Jesus and I love you and I will never leave you. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: July 21, 2015

It is your teacher Augustine here. God bless you, my beloved students. Your coming gathering has great import. You are all aware of this and you want to be a part of whatever it is that is meant to come from this and you will be, my beloveds, you will be. But now is a time of preparation, of prayer, of releasing those old ways that cling to you, the encrustations of your soul that are cracking and peeling and falling away. And at times you feel the emotional stress of this, the discomfort of this, but I tell you all of these emotions and discomforts are well worth the pain that you feel, for in the end you will come to that place of liberation that our Master speaks of, and in this much is possible, great works will be accomplished as you struggle for this elevated place above the conditions of this world and in the conditions of harmony with our Heavenly Father.

Do not enter into this gathering with preconceived notions of what it will be and how it will be. I know there are some who are very intent upon orchestrating this event and I tell you that their efforts will be of naught, for God will orchestrate your gathering and we in spirit will come to assist you to be open and receptive to what it is God wishes to give each one of you. And I tell you that each one will receive something unique that will help to open your gifts and help you to see the road you must take and what it is that you have to give in this world. Will this come from exercises in communication? No, my beloveds, this will come with your communication with your Heavenly Father, with a sincere and open desire to reach for something higher, to reach for something within you that is higher and greater and more beautiful.

This will come and I promise you, beloveds, if you enter into this gathering with sincere openness, with loving desire to be in that place of Light and Love, to embrace your brothers and sisters, in this place, to come together in joy and in Faith you will indeed receive the gifts that are meant to be given, the openings that are meant to be opened, the awarenesses that wait within your souls already there. This will come and bubble up into your consciences and it will be revelatory and joyous and beautiful. May each one of you find your way and find that place where you will accept and allow God to change you and that you will accept and allow that which is not a part of the Father's Love and those Laws contained within His Love to fall away, to be released that you may find that peace that passes all understanding and abide within that peace for all eternity.

So much awaits you, my beloveds, beyond the door, beyond the door. The door that you have held shut and now you are willing to release your grasp and allow God to open it. And at that moment may you have the faith and the desire to walk through the threshold to a dawning Light and awareness that shall change you irrevocably and shall make you truly our Heavenly Father's child and His instrument and channel of Love. Release your grasp, my beloveds. Let go of your fears. Rest in the arms of your Creator and know that you are truly loved, so truly loved. God bless you, and your teacher Augustine loves you dearly. God bless you.

Spirit: John the Beloved

This is John. God's Breath is blowing upon your world, my beloveds. His touch touches everything and His Breath blows upon the mountaintops and into the valleys, the streams and the lakes, the oceans, the creatures of the world, all of creation in this world, my beloveds, is touched by God. At this time there is great change to come from this touch. There is great change, and the world will change, beloveds. The world will change and you must be strong enough and aligned enough with the Will of God in His Love to be a part of that change in every way, to allow yourselves to be transformed by His Love, to allow your bodies to be touched by this special blessing that is transformative in this Earth, to allow your spirits to reflect the Light within your souls, to allow your minds to be receptive to the knowledge that God is giving you within your souls through His Love.

And it is time to put away all that is false and not a part of God's Loving laws. It is time to acquiesce to the will of your souls and the Will of God which is known by your souls. It is time to step forward and say I am a child of my Heavenly Father and I know the way to His redemptive Love. For in this new world, this Love will be the currency among mankind and you must teach this. You must teach this and show those who are willing the way to this new life, this new beginning, this unfolding of God's plan for the salvation of mankind and the healing of this world.

It comes, the Breath of God blows and affects all and shall continue to do so for many years to come. Be a part of this change, my beloveds. Open your eyes and ears, open your souls, your spirits to the great change that is coming. For much will shift, mountains will crumble, oceans will rise and your climate continues to shift and change and there is much more to come, my beloveds. Rather than be fearful, be joyful that God has put His Mighty Hand upon this world in order to bring it back to Light, and balance, and Goodness.

Listen to your guidance. Listen to your souls and do not allow your minds to place barriers between you and God and you and your true self which is your soul. For God wishes to give you deep and profound guidance to each one of you and show you the way through the tumult to a place of peace and strength and stability. The time grows short, my beloveds. Pray earnestly. Pray often and be with God always.

Beloved souls, you are surrounded by angels and each and every moment of your lives you are surrounded by angels and God's Hand is upon you. Walk in the sure knowledge of this, beloved, beloved souls and seek ye the Heavenly Father in all things, in all ways, in all that you do, in all that you are, be with God and God shall show you the way and nurture your soul with His Love and walk with you as you live your lives in Light and fullness, in Love and beauty. God bless you, my beloveds, I am John and I love you. Touch reaches your souls and mighty inflowings of His Love open, beloveds. Draw it into yourselves. This is manna from Heaven. God bless you.

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: July 27, 2015

It is Augustine, your teacher. So you have made your plans and you have looked at all the details, mulled over the scenarios, the possibilities and now it is time for you to have confidence that what you have planned and how you have planned will be executed in Light and harmony. And remember that when the Father opens a door for you to do a task, blessings come on many different levels and in many different ways. And though you may be challenged by certain circumstances, that challenge is an opportunity to allow God to bring His Light and His influence of Love into that condition and situation. And in order to allow this, you must put aside your reticence and fears and have faith that God's Hand will touch all that you do as long as you do so in alignment with God's Will and Love.

And as you take on these tasks and comply with God's Will you learn much, you grow within your soul and within your faith and you learn to trust God's guidance and understand His Will, to trust in His wisdom, to go with the flow of His Love, to walk that Road in Light knowing that it has purpose and direction and meaning. And you ask, my beloveds, to be a channel of His Love, to hear His Will, His guidance, to walk this Path Divine. And often you say this prayer trusting in His Will, yet not knowing where that will take you and indeed this naïveté and child-like trust is what is required to move forward as God's instruments in the world. For His Plan is mighty and intricate and depends on precision and timing and all is within the flow of His Love. And for you, it requires a form of obedience and trust to allow God to manifest through you. You must say, I am willing, I will do as you desire, as you will it, and this requires you to lay down those preconceptions and erroneous beliefs and willful desires and expectations and to say Father, What You desire, What You will, What You are is far greater and I am willing to trust in this, to have faith in You and to be with You in the flow of Your Will and Your plan.

It matters not the food that will pass through the lips of those who come compared to the food that will be given to the soul. You lay forth a banquet for your brothers and sisters, a banquet of Love and in this everything will be blessed, even the sip of water, the crust of bread, the piece of fruit will be blessed, my beloveds. And all those who taste of these things will know its sweetness and its nourishment and its Light. And when you come together in prayer, my beloveds, just think of the multitude of angels who will be present with you and the great Light of God that will flood your circle and the openings and shiftings and fillings of the soul will be momentous and abundant. There will be such abundance, my beloveds. You will want for naught, other than more of God's Love.

And you, my precious souls, have been asked to be a part of this, to usher in these blessings for your brothers and sisters. God has entrusted you with the task and you have willingly complied. Continue in this way. Walk in the Light of God and say "Father, I am willing, show me the way and I will go. Help me to put one foot in front of the other in joyous faith, and in loving commitment. To walk with You Father is my life's work and my life's destiny and You, I know, will provide all that is required for me to walk my Path hand in hand with my brothers and sisters to that great Light and at-onement that is meant for us, for all. It is meant for all."

Bless you, beloveds, for your efforts, your willingness, your humility and your beautiful souls filled with Light and desire to do God's Will. Much lies ahead, my beloveds, a great journey of discovery, of service, of understanding what it is to follow the Will of God. You begin anew. You walk in faith and innocence and God is well pleased with your efforts and the desires of your souls. You walk in Light and we who assist you, love you dearly. May we all walk to greater Light, to that higher place in Love and harmony, in peace and joy. Bless you, my beloveds, your teacher Augustine loves you so very much and I am with you. I am with you as are so many. God bless you, beloveds. God bless you.

Spirit: Jesus

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: July 27, 2015

You cannot walk until you crawl, my beloveds, and you cannot run until you can walk. And you raise yourself from the floor to learn to walk at this time and soon you will run. Be steady on your feet, my beloveds, walk the road and when you are about to fall we will catch you. And as you continue to walk you will gain the confidence, the balance which you require to truly move in the flow of God's Love. And when you are that strong and beloved child walking with joy, feeling the Lightness upon your feet, how the Love will flow and the joy will well up within you, the joy of walking with God, running with God, singing and loving with God. It will be, it is your destiny to be in this Love with all the fullness and the joy and the Lightness that is meant for you and each soul upon this world.

Be free, my beloveds, of your worries and your burdens and know how truly loved you are, beloved beautiful souls, children of our Heavenly Father who wish to stand on their own two feet with their eyes raised to their Heavenly Father and their hearts full of Love. Walk, my beloveds, walk and walk with me. I am Jesus and I shall walk with you, my beloved brothers and sisters, all children upon the Path of Love walk with me. God bless you. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 3, 2015

It is your teacher Augustine. Yes, many are coming, my beloveds. Many are coming and I urge you to prepare yourselves for those who come. You must build within you and around you the conditions that are required for God to do His work effectively and powerfully within each soul who comes to partake of fellowship and Love. For those who are receptive and open there will be a great shift in their consciousness and understanding which will change their lives, change the direction of their lives, change the purpose of their lives. And do you not all want to be a part of this and to be open to God's direction and plan for you? This requires a prayerful attitude, a setting aside of those conditions which tie you to this world and lower your consciousness from awareness to your Creator to awareness of your fellow human beings and those conditions.

I do not say that you must be detached and unloving to others, merely to indicate that when you are immersed in the conditions of the world God often feels distant, but when you are immersed in the conditions of God's Love and your mind is cognizant of His presence you may be a loving channel for all your brothers and sisters.

And many come out of need, seeking, wanting to be strong and in God's Grace and you must be those examples, beloved children, you must be those examples for others. Continue with your prayers, redouble your efforts, make the changes necessary to be in harmony with God, release that which holds you back, step over the threshold. The door is open to a place of greater Light and greater joy and greater Love. You will be given all that you require and this will not be a struggle but an acceptance of what is given and what is meant for you.

If you are struggling, my beloveds, you are holding on to old conditions that are no longer truly a part of you and as you release this you feel lighter and lighter, more joyful and at ease, you begin to know that wonderful harmony that living in the flow of God's Love and within His laws of Love. And with that Love burning and influencing you from within, ah, is this not what you seek? Is this not what all of humanity seeks, to be free from the conditions that bedevil so many and to be in Grace always? It is but a choice; it is but a prayer away and it always awaits you, beloveds, it always awaits you. God will never let you down or abandon you or hurt you. God is Love, unconditional. God is what you seek, what your souls long for. He awaits you. Be with Him, beloveds. Seek out the Creator and seek to know Him from deep within you and you will know of what I speak and receive all Goodness and Light, blessings divine, healing and comfort, peace and joy.

I will continue to pray with you and be with you, my beloved students, as you walk the Path Divine. We walk with you in joyful fellowship. God bless you. God bless you, precious souls. Augustine loves you dearly.

Spirit: Confucius

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 3, 2015

God bless you, my beloveds, it is Confucius. The Light of God's Grace is upon you, my beloveds, your prayers have brought this. Feel the longing within your souls. Feel it touch God's Soul, the response of Light which pours down upon you, my beloveds. You bask in this Light. Allow yourselves to be open and to drink in this blessing. You are surrounded by angels, beloved, beloved souls, and these angels pray with you as you discover your true soul's longings, as you put aside that part of you which hides from God and steps into the Light with eyes open and feelings of gratitude, refreshed by this beautiful touch from God.

For each one of you, my beloveds, you have many, many Gifts that are hidden to you which you do not recognize or understand. Many of these Gifts lay dormant within your souls awaiting the opportunity to manifest in the world. And as you receive the Father's Love these great and wondrous Gifts shall leap into life and manifest in wondrous ways in your being, in your consciousness, in who you are in this world. It requires the activating agent of the Father's Love. It requires your prayers and dedication. But in these efforts you then open the door for God to use you as His active agent in the world, to bring change and blessings to many, to throw out that lifeline which will bring greater joy and awareness to those who are lost, yet seeking. Each soul has many Gifts, many treasures that lay within them and it is for you, my beloveds, to discover what God has created in you, the beauty, the wonderment. In His Love He brings you to life, and as you are reborn in the Love so these wondrous aspects of your being come to life.

Yes, many surprises await you, my beloveds. Those who are willing to walk the Path, who are committed to receiving the transformative Love and releasing those conditions within them which are not in harmony with this Love. It is not a harsh Path and, my beloveds, not particularly difficult, but it does require the effort. It does require your prayers and your faith to discover who God truly is, to find truth in all its wondrous manifestations and to know who you truly are, my beloveds, who you truly are.

So much within you, awaits this journey, awaits to be discovered and manifested. And you will find yourselves, beloveds, you will find yourselves as you walk towards God, as you come to know your Heavenly Father and come to know who you truly are. This is the spiritual journey that every soul longs for yet few take because they do not understand the simple requirement to seek the Father's Love. It is crucial. It all revolves around this simple process, this simple prayer, this simple Gift.

Seek the Love, my beloveds, and all else will come to you in God's good time, the unfolding of your true selves to yourselves and to your life and to this world. And as you walk this Path, we who have discovered ourselves, redeemed by God's Love, transformed by God's Love will walk with you, and guide you along the Path, and pray with you, and protect you, and help you to seek the Truth, to seek the Love.

Beloved souls, you are all loved by God, you are all beautiful, you all have great potential. Come to know yourselves, beloveds, in the Light of Love and you will find meaning and purpose, truth and joy, freedom, freedom from the burdens of this life and true understanding, true understanding. Confucius loves you. I am with you often, beloveds. God bless you and keep you in His care and Love. God bless you

Spirit: John

Beloved souls, it is John. The Heavenly Father longs to touch each of your souls, my beloveds, to bring this benediction of Love into your souls. And He awaits your longings; He awaits your prayers. He awaits that part of you, that small part that seeks to break through the encrustations of your soul, the filters of your mind, that you and your Heavenly Father may connect in Love, in recognition that you may truly know from whence you have come and you may truly know where you are going and that those age-old questions may be answered within your souls. For Truth comes from the recognition of the soul, the understanding and awareness of the soul that is touched by the Heavenly Grace, the Love of God.

And until that time, you, my children, and all the children in this world cannot know what is true and what is false for your minds are incapable of such knowledge that is eternal and is absolute. Truth comes with the awakening of the soul. True faith comes with the infusion of the soul of the Father's Love, his Essence pouring into you, my beloveds, to open your eyes, to open that part of you that is capable of truly understanding the Truth of God's Creation and universe.

God awaits you, my beloveds, he awaits your call, your longing, your desire to be with Him, to put aside all those worldly conditions, all those thoughts which clutter your mind, all those worries and fears and cares that you may be truly with Him in the silence, in the river of His Love, in the Light of His presence that you may walk in this true and wondrous beauty.

Take that step my children, take that step and walk in Light, that pure and beautiful Light of God's presence and Love, for at this moment God's Love flows upon you. Drink deep of these Living Waters, my beloved children, and allow your resistance to fall that you may feel that joyous vulnerability, that openness like a child, that wonderment, that knowing which God gives you in abundance, freely. And only you can decide what you receive. It is for you to be open, to allow, and to draw it in. Feel the touch, my beloveds, and be in the Light, beautiful souls, who desire goodness and harmony and peace. God is with you. Drink in His presence, His Love and listen to those soft words which He wishes to speak to each one of you that says I love you, you are my precious child and I will be with you always for all eternity. I am with you and I love you. Precious children, precious children, be at peace. God bless you, beloveds. God bless you. I am John and I love you.

Spirit: John, the Beloved

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 10, 2015

Beloved souls, I am John. Soon you will be coming together and gathering the souls under the wings of Love and care, and you each have a purpose in this, a role to play, something to give to your brothers and sisters who long for Love and who walk the Divine Path seeking understanding, a confirmation that they are indeed walking the Path Divine seeking the Father's Love. And it is for each of you, my beloveds, the strong and beautiful souls that you are, to affirm for your brothers and sisters that you are all indeed walking upon this Path together, that though you may reside in distant places the bonds of Love that you create with this wonderful gathering will draw the precious souls together in prayer, in thought, and in deeds. For God has much for each of you to do and each who come within this larger circle. There is purpose, there is a plan and within this circle each soul will be ignited in awareness at what their place is within this flow of Love in the world, to know God's Will, which is to heal this world to bring greater Love, greater Light, balance and harmony to this precious planet, His wondrous creation. And you, my beloved souls, shall play your part and shall know what you must do to fulfill God's purpose for you.

Much awaits you, my beloveds, and you feel the stirrings within your soul, you feel the excitement building within you, the anticipation for how truly blessed you are to come together in this way, to share the benediction of God's Love, and to walk the Path Divine together with this conscious knowing. And you will support and guide and nurture one another. As you have done so you shall do in greater measure, in more beautiful ways, in deeper understanding, and greater Love. God will pour His Love within your souls, my beloveds, in great abundance. His intention is for you to receive this mighty inflowing and you will not doubt anymore, fear anymore, question anymore but to be secured in Love, to walk in Faith, to be that clear and beautiful channel of Love that you were intended to be, my beloveds.

You have prepared, you have longed, to be in that place of purity and grace, and God will place you in that Light, in the Light of His Presence, in the river of His Love, and you will know great joy and your awareness will expand as your souls are transformed by the Love, ignited, awakened, enlightened by the Father's Love, His essence pouring into you, His essence bringing you what you truly desire, which is to be with Him, to truly be with your Creator, to know

Him and to know yourselves as this part of you comes to Life.

Walk with us beloved children, so earnestly seeking the Truth. It shall be given. It is for you to open yourselves to this gift and to truly know you are a child of your Heavenly Father, beloved, unique and of great beauty. Bring this into your hearts and know this from every part of your being and you will know of the joy and freedom that I speak, you will know the Truth that is unquestionable and absolute, you will know it within your hearts, and you will live it in your lives in beautiful and wondrous ways as God's channels of Love in the world.

You have been given much, my beloveds, the angels have upheld you, God's hands are upon you. Open your eyes and know this and truly, truly acknowledge this. We will be with you as you gather and more guidance will be given. You do a great work and a great service for the world by this effort of Love to bring your brothers and sisters together. It will have far-reaching impacts, waves of Love, and change, and healing, and comfort will reverberate into this world and into spirit. You will see it, you will feel it and it will give you great joy. God bless you, my beloveds, beautiful souls. I am John, and I am with you often and I love you truly. God bless you.

Spirit: Confucius

Did I not say that my precious birds will come together, to flock together? God draws you together, my beloveds, for a great purpose. And when these days are done you will know with surety and a powerful clarity what you must do, the steps you must take forward. In many ways you have tried to discern and decipher the Will of God through your minds and speculations. And I tell you, now comes the time to know the Will of God. But this, my beloveds, is not through your minds, it is through your souls. And we have made great preparations for you to come to this place of clarity, of awakening in this way that your souls may come to understand your purpose. The road which God has placed you upon and the service which is uniquely yours as your Gifts unfold, as the Love continues to pour within your souls. Long for this, my beloveds, this understanding, this soul awareness, this soul wisdom. You are ready to allow this awakening, to embrace it. And the dilemmas which you hold within your mind will melt away. And your mind will truly accept what will be given.

Pray that God will remove all the barriers that continue to inhibit you. For it is difficult for the mind to accept the ways of the soul. For you have lived many years upon this Earth utilizing the perceptions and the understandings that you have built within your minds. And we do not say that this is irrelevance but we say that true understanding will come from your souls and influence and put together in a different way the understanding that will evolve within your minds. It is like a reorganizing of your intellect and the knowledge that you have within you. The soul will do this in response to the Love given. It is not anything that you must put great effort into, it is merely an acceptance and an allowing of the changes within you. Your mind cannot continue to take precedence over the will and desire of your soul. You must allow the soul, which has greater wisdom and a more complete understanding of God's Will to inform your mind and allow the power of God's guiding force to manifest in your lives.

And you get glimpses of this, my beloveds. At times you feel this and know this, and these times will become more frequent until they become the norm for you, my beloveds. And yes, others will perceive you differently, for you will be operating in your world in a different way. But know that this is where humanity must go in their existence upon this world. You are breaking the ground, you are showing them the way and you will not doubt anymore. The fears of rejection will be as nothing. The desire for acceptance will only be directed towards your Heavenly Father. You will truly be unique and powerful and beautiful examples of the Father's Love and channels of His Love in the world. This is the power of the Love, this is why it is given, so that each unique soul will flourish and express that uniqueness in the world and in their existence for all eternity.

You are becoming different. You are very different from when you began. And you shall continue to evolve and walk this Path discovering within yourselves many unique qualities and rather than hiding from this or rejecting this, or rationalizing, it will be expressed in purity and beauty and there will come a confidence not born from the mind, but born from the surety within your souls. And that strength, that strength will draw many to you.

Little precious birds. You are growing into eagles with great wingspans that will embrace the worlds in Love. Ah, the angels are so happy with your progress and your willingness to be the Lights that God intends you to be. Carry on in your efforts, beautiful, beautiful souls, beautiful souls.

Spirit: Jesus

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 13, 2015

Beloved souls, I come. I am Jesus and I am happy that you have heeded my call to come together. Such a blessing for each one of you, such a blessing for this world to have this Light in the world as you come together in beautiful fellowship. And indeed there is great purpose to your gathering together and this purpose will not be elusive or subtle. Guidance will be given. The specifics will not be lost or confused. You will be shown the way, my beautiful brothers and sisters, so earnest in your desire to serve your Heavenly Father and to serve your fellow man, to bring the truth of Love in this world. Already you feel the power of this momentum to reach out to others.

In my day we encountered the same conditions and difficulties to teach this powerful and simple Truth. There was great resistance amongst those in power, great ignorance of those who were a part of the place which I inhabited, and we gathered together as a group, and we discussed amongst ourselves what must be done, and God prepared each beautiful soul to bring this message forward into the world. And after my untimely death they dispersed, and traveled, and taught, and continued to be my disciples. And this was done, for some with great sacrifice, but for all it was a joy, a feeling of rightness, a purpose, and they all knew that God was with them in their journeys and their efforts to teach mankind of the rebestowal of the Divine Essence to the world.

That was many, many years ago and yet you begin anew, my beloveds, my disciples, you begin anew to reach many in the world. Do you understand this? Do you acknowledge this within yourselves that you have chosen this Path, this Work, this journey? Not only for yourselves, but for all your brothers and sisters in the world, to bring this simple Truth that shall transform the world one soul at a time. And you collect around you many souls who hunger, who feel the beauty and the power of this Truth of Love. And this shall continue and the efforts shall accelerate. Where you teach one or two you will teach hundreds for the time comes in this world where great changes will bring great fear and confusion, and many souls will seek for answers to understand why and what and to seek a solution to their strife and suffering and to bring harmony back to this world, for so much is not in harmony, my children, so much requires the healing Hand of the Heavenly Father and every soul requires this Gift of Love, of healing and peace.

You only glimpsed what is within you these great and wondrous Gifts that reside within your souls, ignited by the Father's Love, expanded by this Light. And so often you do not see yourselves in this way but go about your business each day with this limited perception of what reality is. But soon, my beloveds, soon you shall open to this greater reality, to your greater selves, to the greater work that lies ahead. It comes so very close, in fact it is upon you. It is for you to now open your eyes to truly see, to truly understand what is meant for each one of you. For you each walk your own unique path and God guides you upon that path. Yet we all walk upon the Divine Path, we all walk in this Light and Love. And it is for you as you have done to reach out your hands and grab the other, to walk together in joyous harmony, to know that we are truly, truly God's children in this Love, in this reality.

Beloved and precious souls, my heart sings seeing the Light within you and the joy that you share together and as you come together with more and more souls in the coming days this Light will intensify, this joy will reach the very highest Heavens and God will touch you deeply, each one, and bring you to this place of true understanding, of truly knowing that place of great faith and abundant Love. This is a time for your souls to truly be ignited, to truly take precedence within your being, to truly have that conscious and powerful connection with your Creator. And you step upon the threshold, beloveds, of this wondrous, wondrous reality. How few in the world have this opportunity? How few? Seize what is given. Be hungry, be ravenous for these gifts of Love and all shall be given. That hunger shall never be sated, for it goes on and on for all eternity, to be with God, to know God and to be in that joyous flow of God's Love. God bless you, beloveds. I am your friend and I am your brother Jesus and I love you dearly, my precious and beloved friends upon this world.

MESSAGES GIVEN DURING THE STRATEGIC PLANNING GATHERING

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 14, 2015

It is your teacher Augustine. I have come to talk about the soul perceptions which are slowly dawning upon your consciousness, my beautiful brothers and sisters. This slow awakening within your beings emerging ever slowly but surely into the consciousness of your minds requires your attention, my beloveds. Just as you walk through a garden and you are appreciating the bold and colorful flowers, these soul perceptions are more subtle, these flowers grow closer to the ground, they are intricate but you must focus to bend down to see and appreciate what is there. And so you must with your consciousness bring it to a place of attention and openness, desiring to see the subtleties rather than being dazzled by the intricacies of the material world and your mind's machinations, the many thoughts and ideas that come. Yes God's voice is quiet but it is powerful, and the voice of your soul can be resounding within your ears if you listen and if you give it credence.

But indeed your minds crave the busy, cluttered, earthly thoughts which are so much a part of your consciousness. And you must slow down, seek the silence and listen. And you are already aware of the presence of angels, you are already aware of the support that you are given with each prayer and each effort that you make. You must continue in this way having faith and new doors will open, your minds will be quelled and the mind of your soul which is being nurtured and developed and ignited by the Love of God will find its rightful place within your consciousness. Instead of guessing you will know, instead of speculation there will be clarity and understanding and wisdom, instead of the illusion of your thinking which has many roots from outside of your being, from the thoughts of others, what you have inherited from the many generations of thought and understanding perceiving in a somewhat arrogant way that this is reality. But I tell you, my children, reality is far from what you see. Reality is only seen through the eyes of the soul and understood through the soul mind. And when you have glimpses, your tendency is to reject this, to not give it the credence it deserves, to not allow this understanding, which in many ways is foreign to you, to be embraced and accepted, to be joyful in this awakening. For as you go to that place of awakening of perception and understanding so different, yet so powerful, you clear the path in your consciousness, you allow this to emerge in a more powerful way, rather than turn away and avert your eyes elsewhere because your minds are so compelled through its habituation and patterns of thinking, to look at the world in a certain way, to adopt your judgments, to hang upon your judgments many emotions, to speak what you think is truth in ways that you truly believe are in fact reality. But the true reality is wordless, it comes in a deeper way and yes, your challenge is to express this. Once you know the Truth to express this in ways that others may understand. Indeed we in spirit are challenged as well to convey our soul perceptions to you in this world and we must do so through an instrument, a medium, which colors and filters through their minds what is meant to be said and this is why, my beloveds, we keep our messages simple, bring as much clarity as we can, approach each truth from many different angles and many different words describing the one central Truth of God's Love and all that comes with this glorious Gift, the opening of these perceptions of which I speak, the understanding through the soul mind.

This is what we are urging you to step into, my beloved students, to come to that different place of awareness and understanding. Your souls know the Truth. Your souls are imbued with the Essence of the Creator. Your souls shine brightly in the Light and for many they cover this over with their thinking, with their judgments, with their emotions and their fears. And this my children, my beloved students, you must struggle to rise above, to keep close to you this awareness that it is your soul which is the vital part of you, the sustaining, the magical, the glorious part of your being. Without your soul who are you? Merely flesh and bones, and energies, and thoughts of the mind. What compels you to reach for God, what compels you to love, what compels you to seek for truth, what compels you in all the spiritual work that you do? It is your souls, my beloveds. It is time to give full recognition to this aspect of your being which God nurtures each and every day, which grows in the Love and is a very vital, central, powerful part of your being. And so much potential lies there that is not being utilized at this time but will indeed come forth as you allow this to be and as God ignites it with His Love.

It is time, my beloveds. It is time to walk in soul consciousness, in soul awareness and knowing the Will of God, which can only come in this way. And as you accept the Will of God and release all of that which you find so important within your minds you will then become that clear and beautiful channel for God which you truly desire to be and have every ability to be if you are able to truly acknowledge your souls and allow your minds to shift from that place of precedence to that place of service, complementing who you are rather than being so predominant in who you are.

It is challenging, very difficult, but have you not been prepared and nurtured and taught? Have you not been given much by God and His angels so that you are strong enough, you may lead the way, clear the Path and show your brothers and sisters where it is we are all meant to go and how we are meant to walk and who we are truly? The master, our beloved master showed us the way did he not? And did he not acknowledge that these things you may also do? And is he not desirous that you do as he has instructed? To follow the Path of Truth and Love Divine, to walk in Light, to be humble but sure of your steps, to Love, always to Love. For Love is the key, it is what will set you free from the tyranny of your mind and the tyranny of the reality which humanity has created in this world and will bring you to a place of such clarity and joy.

Freedom, my beloveds – do you not wish to be free? Then you must follow this Path, this route to freedom. Incrementally the eyes open, incrementally the mind of the soul is activated each time you acknowledge your soul you give it more power, you allow it to express itself within your being and you become more of your true selves. Beloved beautiful souls, we encourage you and love you and we give you this message in this Light to urge you to acknowledge what is very much alive within you and to give over to this reality so that you may be God's channels of Love in the world in ways that will astound you, my beloveds. For the power of the soul, the power of the active soul being a channel of God's Love brings what others may call miracles but is truly the activation of the laws which God has created, which come with this Love.

Be the champions. Walk the Path. May your faith grow strong and resolute and may you continue to pray for the Father's Love that it may find a constant inflowing into your soul and you may walk in this Light for all eternity. Your teacher Augustine continues to walk with you and to bring his love and support in your efforts to bring Light and Truth into yourselves and into this world. Your gathering to come will bring great Light, great Light into this world and for the many, many souls connected to your soul, many loved ones, many people around the world who are part of your lives, who are connected in some way will benefit from your prayers and your efforts together as they do as you live your life in the Truth, as you say your prayers for those whom you love, as you make your efforts to be with the Heavenly Father and bring Light. This is used in so many different ways. This is such a benefit to so many. Continue to say your prayers, to increase your Love, to improve your actions and your thoughts so they may be more spiritual, more attuned with your soul, more attuned with God and we will always be with you, always, always. God bless you, beloved and precious souls. Your teacher Augustine is with you and I love you, beloved souls. God bless you.

Spirit: James

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 14, 2015

I wish to tell you and your inner circle you have been given a special dispensation. And to those within your inner circle for you to do this work in this wider circle you've been given a cloak of protection, you have been given a special angel who guards and sustains you, and a special Light has been given to you to help you to not engage so readily in the material and human conditions. Sustain this, my beloveds. Sustain this so that you may do the work that is planned for you to do. For many things will come of these meetings, changes and shifts within many people and a coming together in a more powerful and effective way of all of the earnest souls who wish to do God's work. Do not underestimate the power of this or the importance of this. The world comes to a very crucial crossroads and so do you, my beloveds, so do you. Choose wisely, listen carefully and know that God wants the highest, the greatest Good for each of you and for every soul in this world. Allow His Touch to affect every part of you and all around you. Be at peace, beloved souls. Be at peace. I am James and I love you. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

God bless you, my beloved beautiful souls, it is your teacher Augustine, and I come to greet you as you come together to receive God's Love and to know God's Will. And some of you have struggled through the darkened conditions of this world and have triumphed in this struggle, have overcome the barriers presented, have come to understand and to feel the pull of God's Will in your lives. You have all been brought here for a purpose, my beloved, beloved students – to understand more fully God's will, to come together to strengthen the bonds with one another and to test the waters with one another, to see who is truly your brother and your sister, to see whether these bonds may bear fruit in service to bring further Love in this world.

Each of you is so unique and comes from different cultures and life experiences. What you have learned, how you have struggled, who you are in the world, brings about characteristics within you that are unique. But what you share together is the experience of God's Love. This is the common factor and in this comes the power to melt away all differences, to bring clarity, to bring love and acceptance.

And as you are together in this gathering and these meetings, you forge something that cannot be forged from any one individual, but comes together from all of your efforts collectively, all of your desires, all of that which you are, comes into play so that you may build something for God. And that which you build is not truly of your own making, but of God's making through you. The understandings and awarenesses that will come through this process of coming together in Love are accomplished from God pushing through the barriers within you and creating something together in Love, in a desire to be of service in this world, to bring something that will bring hope and Light and comfort and Peace and Love and Truth to this world that truly is in need of these things.

Millions upon millions of souls live in this limbo of darkness and ignorance and their souls cry out for something which they can truly understand. And it is for you, my beloved and precious souls, to come together and create a way, an opening that will reach many, many, many souls. And God's Will will be manifest in this. For each of you has been prepared, each of you has been guided, each of you has found your way to this circle. And you have done so through your prayers and your desire for the Father's Love. And in this way, this true desire within your souls, you will find the answers that you seek and you will create for others those avenues which will reach their souls.

So, beloved souls, use this time to truly look within yourselves. Come to that place of knowing what your true soul's desires are. For in this you will find your true selves and in this you will find God's Will. Do not be distracted. Focus! Be prayerful! Seek God's Love above all else. And honor your brothers and sisters who come together in this circle, for each of you has something to contribute that is unique and precious. Powerful insights lie within you, my beloveds. It is for you to come to that place of awareness of inner revelation that you may contribute what it is that you carry. This hidden secret, this precious jewel, and all is bathed and influenced and transformed by God's Love.

So you see, as these days progress, the secret will be revealed, what is hidden within you will come forth in your consciousness and it is for you to trust one another in Love, to share this, to bring forth this bit of beauty, this divine inspiration and say: “This is what I have to give as a gift of Love to you, as a gift of Love in my desire to serve my Heavenly Father and to serve all my brothers and sisters in this world”. And when all of your Gifts are piled together and you admire what you have created in this giving, then you must act, you MUST step forward.

And this, my dear and beloved students, is your challenge: “What prevents me from serving God in a clearer and deeper way, to bring Love into my life and into the lives of those whom I am involved with in a more powerful way? How can I speak and live the Truth so that others may truly see the Light that I carry, the Truth that I live, the Love that I possess?” So often, my beloveds you hide away, fearing rejection, fearing judgment. It is now time to step away from this screen, this mask, and reveal your true selves, boldly, beautifully yet humbly – as your tribute to your Heavenly Father who has given so much to you and has guided you to this point and for you to stand up.

Though you may feel naked and alone, you are not. And say “I am a child of God and I know the beauty of His Love for me and I want you to know this precious Gift. Pray with me, pray with me that we may know this Gift together.”

Yes, the Truth is so simple, yet the Truth will save this world from such strife and inequities, such lack of Love. And you, my beloved, beautiful souls, have the desire to contribute to the Father’s Plan for the salvation of mankind. Each of you carry this desire within your souls, each of you know you have a role to play, each of you has great gifts and abilities and possess the Father’s Love within your souls. It is time to release your fears, your anxieties, your doubts and to walk in the Light in plain view for all to see. You will find freedom and joy in this. And you will find that the wisdom within your souls, the Will which you are able to know of God, the power of His Love manifest through you will be present and powerful and guide you forward.

The Master has called each of you, my beloveds, and you are challenged by this and you have many questions. Ask your questions, confront your fears. Pull away from these old and tired habits of your lives and start anew, knowing from this day forward, God is guiding you with each step. And you have released your will to the Will of God and He will show you the way.

Yes, this time you spend together is serious, yet it is filled with joy and the wonderment of discovery. You will find within yourselves wonderful treasures, deep understanding, a soulful awareness and recognition of who you truly are and what God intends for you to do in this world for each of you is imbued with purpose. You have something that you are meant to do. And it is my fervent hope that within these few days you will have some understanding of what that is. And this shall set you free from your doubts and your questions. For each soul who knows their purpose is purposeful in their life and each of you has great ability and strength to follow what you know is right and true and good and in alignment with God's Will.

Think of what I have said, my beloved students. Consider that there is much to be revealed to you and ask your Heavenly Father to open that door so that you may know His intentions for you as you walk your unique path in Light and Love. And we, the angels, pray for this opening and await your discovery and stand with you in this birthing of something new and precious and beautiful which lies within you waiting, waiting to come forth, eager and full and vibrant and is a Gift of Love from your Heavenly Father. God bless you, my students, pregnant with new and wonderful life. God bless you.

Spirit: Mary

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 15, 2015

Bless you my children, I am Mary.

And I come to you because with each precious soul, each woman within this circle, are within my charge whom I have special care upon. And it is in your wisdom, your beautiful souls, lies much truth and much to give to the world in those qualities within yourselves that nurture and envelop and feel great love and empathy for many of children within this world. I am with you in this and you do my work bringing comfort and peace to the troubled souls, to the many who cry out, to the many who seek love where there is no love. You give love, you touch, you feed them, and you feed their souls with your love. And so these special qualities within you, my beautiful and beloved souls, are so needed in this world, this world so bereft of this gentle touch and love. And this quality within you will grow as the Love grows within and you will know so truly within yourselves what you must do with each soul you encounter, what must be given, what special words of comfort will be given, whispered in their ears and the embrace will release the pain within them. And you will bring such a Light to many, many, many souls who are seeking a way out of their pain and their darkness, the innocent children who long to be loved, and the mothers who feel unloved, and all of your brethren who are lost in the pain of the human condition. You must go forth and embrace all of these lost souls, all of these hungering children, all of those in the world who cast about, yet they know not what they seek. Bring them the Truth, my beloveds. Bring them the Truth. Walk in Light.

Ask your Heavenly Father to guide you each day to those who are in need and willingly and joyfully embrace all those you encounter. The fires of Love start with a spark, a spark of compassion, a touch of Love, which ignites within the soul a desire for God. And as God replies and stokes the fires within their souls so they too embrace others, who embrace others and the flame of Love shall purify the world and bring gifts of joy and Truth and wisdom and balance into this world. We stoke the flames together now for you to carry into the world. Listen with your souls, listen intently and know that God will give you each a role to play to carry this flame in the world.

God bless you, my beloveds. May God keep you in His Love and Care always and we who are with you love you dearly and I love my charges, those sweet souls whom I care for, each one unique, each one carrying their special flame in the world. Such a joy for me to have this gift to be with you, to share my love with you, and for you to share your love with others. You do God's work in this way. God bless you, beloved, beloved souls. I love you.

Spirit: Confucius

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 15, 2015

I am Confucius, and I carry the burden of the men (laughter).

Willful creatures they are but indeed within their souls they carry a great desire to do God's work, to grow in the Love and this gives me great hope. Yes, every soul has a great potential within them to carry the Truth of God and to manifest His Blessings in the world. And when a soul is in alignment with God and His Love, such great miracles, wondrous blessings will manifest. And for the men this brings a quality and power that is great and effective.

Each of you have been called by God to manifest your unique and powerful qualities of Love and healing and Truth in the world. And you know this deep within yourselves my brothers, what it is that you carry. That flame of Truth within your souls, which God has stoked and nurtured and added to, through your openness and desire for Him to do so within you. You carry a flame and with this flame comes great responsibility. Do not immerse yourselves in the waters of the human condition which will indeed dampen this flame, instead God's Living Waters will fuel this flame. For His Living Waters of Love are the very essence of this great Light of flame.

Do not take this life for granted, my beloved brothers. But live it to the fullest and pray each day to glean the potential that is there within you and all around you, the opportunities that await you. The Truth that you have, taken within you must indeed be expressed in the world in many different ways, not just in words but in deeds. And not just in deeds, but in being. Being the Love. Allowing the Love to flow and glow within you so that you may emanate the Truth and walk in this way and walk with your head tall and your heart open and willing to do the Will of God and in this to express true humility.

Each of you, my brothers, have great gifts. Many of these gifts you are not aware may remain hidden behind the veil of your own doubts. And I ask you to cast aside your doubts, to walk in faith, to walk bravely beyond that place on which you stand that feels comfortable to you and yet you cannot stay there for long. For the Love accumulating within your souls will transform that place of comfort to discomfort. For one cannot stand in the greyness, but must stand in the full Light of Truth. And this indeed is difficult, for the mind which draws into itself many ideas which it believes are plausible and important, but are not. The Truth comes from the soul, my beloveds. It is the soul you seek truly. For truly in seeking the soul you seek yourselves, your true selves, that part of you that goes on for all eternity when it is imbued with the Father's Love. The rest is mere window dressing, my beloveds, soon to become irrelevant, soon to fall away. And then Truth will shine forth and be your guiding Light.

Each soul is precious to me, each soul in this circle. And I watch over you, my beloveds in loving service, for it is my Gift from God to have my charges upon the world. And I shall never leave you and always love you and we shall always walk hand in hand to our destiny, which is to be at one with God. Beloved and precious souls, continue upon your journeys and God will always be with you, as will we.

God bless you.

Spirit: Jesus

I am Jesus, I come and I am so pleased that you have answered my call to come together to seek the guidance your souls yearn to have and acknowledge, for many of you have many questions and you seek to serve your Heavenly Father in higher and greater ways, in a greater flow of His Love and to be within yourselves more aligned with the Father's care and Love. Beloved, beautiful souls, know that these questions will be answered and that you will reach that place of greater service and understanding, and that the harmony that you seek, the peace that you seek within your lives and within the flow of this service will be granted by God as you come to that place of greater awareness of understanding the Will of God. And embodied within the will of God is Harmony and Love and Peace. And as you step more closely into that flow, more deeply into that Light, more fully into yourselves, your true selves, all the conditions of the world, all that would assail you cannot touch you. You come to that place of Peace, of truly understanding what this life is for, and all of those conditions which distract you and pull you from this Light will not have the power to do so for you will be centered in God and this place of sure and bounteous blessings and peace and knowing and will not be shaken by these conditions.

You will be at peace, my beloveds, and you will know joy, deep and abiding joy. And though you will observe the conditions around you, you will perceive them in a different way, you will come to a deep acceptance and you will manifest Truth in such a way that those who are manifesting these human conditions will turn to you and ask how they may too be in that place of Peace and Love and this will be your opportunity to speak the Truth. And the greatest message, the most powerful way to teach others is to be an example of the Truth in the world, to walk in that quiet way, to emanate the Light and the Peace, the Love and the healing that comes from your Heavenly Father through you. And as you are not bothered by these conditions there are no barriers to this flow of Love. You do not hold back through your own mental judgments and filters but merely walk in this simple way, this powerful way of Love.

And this, my beloveds, is my first instruction to you and how you may further bring the Truth to mankind. It must start with your own being, to be and walk in that place in alignment with your Heavenly Father, and this you know is the response to receiving the Love of God within you. Without this very fundamental truth living within your being you cannot move forward, it is not possible. For if you are in the world and of the world you are very much a part of the conditions of the world, but if you are in the world but not of the world you become God's channels of Love. And this I realize, my beloveds, is the most challenging invitation of all. But each of you have prayed to be at one with God in His Love and to walk this world as a channel of Love. And you have prayed this from your souls for this is your soul's desire. This is what you truly want, my beloveds, and it does require your effort, your commitment, your strength, and your discipline and most of all it requires that you may love yourselves truly and have compassion for yourselves truly and to release all those conditions which are not loving, which you utilize to condemn yourselves and judge yourselves. And this indeed reflects the human condition which you all long to be released from, to know the joy of your souls, to feel the wonderment of the creation that you are unique and beautiful. And as you desire this, so God shall grant your desires in His blessings of Love, touching you deeply, touching you in ways that are transformative and powerful and healing.

And we who love you and walk with you shall continue to assist you in this effort to heal yourselves and to be that Light in the world, and some have walked this Path for many years, some are new to this Path yet have a deep understanding of what it is. But I tell you, you are all capable of walking in this Light, of loving yourselves and loving all of humanity, of being in the world but not of the world. And now is the time to step forward into this Light and accept this invitation to release your burdens, to be free of your fears, to allow the Light within your souls to shine forth in all its beauty and wonderment.

You have been called, my beloveds, and you have been called more than once. Heed my call. Be my disciples in this world and you will find a journey which you cannot truly imagine in all its beauty and grace and power and Love. For God will guide every step, and touch you with every breath, and be with you with every thought and deed and action. This is how you were meant to be, my beloveds. Release your cloak of pain, of fear, of reticence and doubt and walk boldly into the Light truly exercising the faith that lives within your souls, and walking forward bravely, resolutely yet with gentleness and humility.

We do not expect perfection but we yearn that what is within you, that great potential, that great beauty may be expressed in this world as fully as can be, knowing that God truly, truly loves you and wants the highest and best, the most beautiful and the most glorious life for you, for each of you.

I am your brother and I am your friend and I love you. You are truly my brethren upon this world and I am with you. I am with you in your struggles. I am with you in your joys. I am with you with each day you live. My prayers go to our Heavenly Father for your benefit as do many angels pray for you, my beloveds. For in you lies the possibility of hope for your world. For in you is the Truth, and in you the Truth must be known. And do you realize how truly precious you are, how many angels pray for you, how many in spirit watch you, and how many in this world long to have what you have, to see as you see, to love as you love? And yes many of you feel inadequate, you are not up to this task, but I tell you once you are truly aligned with your souls you will know that indeed you have all that you require to walk this Path in this powerful way, to speak the Truth in truthful ways, to be Love in truly loving ways.

Seek your souls, my beautiful souls. Seek your Love, seek your God who loves you and loves you uniquely and loves you for your uniqueness as do we who surround you. Beloveds, join us in these days of prayer seeking deeper

Truth, greater Love, and greater understanding. And as you seek and are open, as you pray together and speak together much will be revealed and given willingly without restriction. God's abundance is great and is for all who seek. Seek this, my beloveds, seek God's abundance and it shall be given. God bless you. God bless you.

Spirit: Goldie

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 15, 2015

I am Goldie! God Bless you! I come because I see you all need to laugh and to feel joy! I come to help you laugh! (giggles) Although you've heard from a few of us, know that there are many of us that come to you to support you and love you and bring their blessings to you. And we each bring our special gifts to give to you, precious souls. Many gifts given, much love poured upon you. Truly know this, my friends, truly know this, how beautifully cared for you are in the Light of God's Love and I love you. Many times you make me laugh. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Good morning, it is your teacher Augustine. Today I wish for you to perform an exercise. When you speak your mind I want you to indicate, to be honest, whether you feel this is a guidance that comes from your soul, or a thought that is of your mind. And I do not want you to feel or to judge that any of these words and thoughts that you speak are not of value. But if you list upon paper a synopsis of your thoughts, one paper shall have what is believed to be guidance and one will be what is believed to be of your thinking that originates from you alone. And I know this may feel a bit terrifying, but it is a good exercise so that you will come to recognize what truly is guidance and what truly is speculation. And I tell you, you will be surprised at what comes. You will feel within your hearts what is important and you will know that God is indeed influencing each one of you and very often the thoughts of your mind have within them the seeds of guidance and it is our hope that you will see what is indeed the seed and what is indeed the interpretation.

And thus we will begin our exercise of understanding the desires and guidance of our souls, the Will of our Heavenly Father, that which is born of Love and that which is born of the mind. It is important to learn this, my beloveds, to discern these two parts and to come to clarity and understanding of Truth.

You each have much to say, and you each must be strong enough to express yourselves and you each must trust one another and love one another and understand that each is loved equally by the Heavenly Father. Each is a precious soul that has something to give and if you feel unworthy or afraid, then you will not give your gifts to the others, but hold on to it in fear and doubt. This is not what is required here, my beloveds, be bold, be joyous. At times you must laugh at the ridiculousness of your own thoughts and at other times to stand in awe of your wisdom. This is what it is to be human. And, my beloveds, acknowledge your own beauty, acknowledge your own humanness, but most of all acknowledge your own souls.

You need to do this, to begin to trust the power of the Love that resides within you, and to laugh at your own illusions and delusions and to come to that place of wisdom and true knowing. So, my beloveds, beautiful, beautiful souls, I ask you to be in that flow of God's Love and express yourselves in loving refrain, in laughter and joy. This is not so serious that you cannot laugh. This is not so important that you cannot express silliness. For in laughter and joy comes great wisdom, profound thoughts.

You are all embraced by God at this moment and shall be for these days to come. Speak your truth and be willing to receive the truth of others. God bless you, my beloved students, and we will speak again as you embark upon this journey together. God bless you and good luck.

It is your teacher Augustine. God bless you, my students. To share in this way, in your own personal way, not only reflects your own personality, but reflects your approach to your spiritual life and your life in general, and I think each have learned much of the others through this sharing. It is not so much the words that you speak but the feelings that you carry, the intentions that you have, the thoughts that roll around your within your minds which then encounter the wisdom of your souls.

And after you complete this exercise, my children, I would ask you to progress into exploring and discussing the gifts that you carry, what you are willing to contribute, how much of your lives are you willing to give to the pursuit of bringing the Divine Love Truths into this world?

Now you have talked about what you like to do, what you are doing, now you must talk about what you are willing to do. And again this same context of what you believe is God's Will and what you believe is your will in this conversation. It is important to see clearly your motivations, but it is most important for you to understand as clearly as you can God's desire or Will for you. And often these two are mixed together that can be confusing, illusive, difficult to discern. But in revealing these understandings to one another you will indeed be able to help one another, assist one another, in bringing clarity and ultimately to assist each of you to work towards the common goals and I believe you will be very surprised, my brothers and sisters, how common these goals are. They will be expressed through your individuality, your uniqueness, the set of gifts and abilities which you carry with you and those many gifts that lie dormant and are ready, on the verge of being expressed, of coming to the conscious you.

Carry on, beloved souls, carry on and always, always ask that God bring his Love into everything that you do together and everything you are, and everything that you express that His Love amplify and transmute and bring more powerfully and clearly into the world, into your consciousness which have many, many gifts and great potentials.

Application, my dear students, application of these gifts and potentials is what you are after and as you apply yourself in the world, in the context of God's Will for you, ah the doors that will be opened, the understandings that will be gleaned, the souls that will be touched, the Love that will flow, beyond your comprehension at this time, my beloved students, but indeed it awaits, it awaits your commitment, the laying down of your will to God's Will and the expression, the true and beautiful expression of your souls. One day at a time, one step at a time, one prayer at a time and one soul at a time. Soon you accumulate a vast treasure trove of Light, of Love, of service and fulfilment of the Father's Will. Thank you, beloved souls. Continue with your efforts. We thank you, God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Augustine here. You have done good work today, my dear students. You have looked within yourselves and you have assessed your desires, and you have reflected upon who you are in the world and what you are willing to do in the world on behalf of God and His Will, and you have seen the needs that are ever-present in this world and you have thought about where you may meet those needs and you have written your statements and drawn your pictures and this is all important work and I task you with another: I wish for you each one to list five questions you wish to ask of God and to bring them to your circle tomorrow.

Think about these questions, think about what is important to you, what you may ask that will help you in the future that may clear away some doubt, some lingering fears, something that causes you concern or consternation and of course you may necessarily not list five, maybe one. But then it is good to ask questions, it helps you to focus your thinking and we will attempt to answer your questions, my beloveds, and indeed if your question is so large as what is the secret of the universe, this may be difficult to answer although you do know that the Father's Love will bring all knowledge to you.

Try and contain your curiosity, my beloveds, and utilise this opportunity that we may be of help and service to you and we will prepare this instrument to be able to give information, but he is not the only channel in this room. Each of you is able to give with wisdom and knowledge and indeed you may be inspired to answer these questions yourselves, to answer for another and so I would encourage discussion before you come to prayer so that you all may be clear on what it is you wish to ask and those questions that already have been answered, need not to be asked.

Beloved students, indeed you are given the opportunity to go deeper within yourselves, to reflect and to move forward with greater knowledge and with greater inspiration and it is our desire that you will leave these meetings with a clear and focused desire to do one thing for God, and to follow through with that one commitment, to do so in Love, to do so as a dedication to your Heavenly Father, to do so for your brothers and sisters in the world. If each of you did one thing, committed to one thing, you will bring greater Light into this world for you all know that this one thing must be in service to benefit mankind and with the knowledge of your gifts, your capabilities and the Love within your souls you are sure to make a difference in this world, to shift something, to attract souls to Truth, to alleviate a condition of darkness, to teach the Truth, to sacrifice something for the good of others, to walk a Path of Light leading to greater service and greater work.

Yes, God waits your decision, your actions, your commitment, your tribute of Love. Think of this, my beloved students, think of what you wish to do and if you require others to assist you in this, so much the better for everyone, every soul who assists another soul in Light and Love shall be blessed tenfold, a hundredfold, shall be blessed for all eternity. For as you truly give in Love, as you truly step forward and stretch yourselves beyond that place that is comfortable and known, you grow within your souls, you open a greater channel of Love within you, you are changed and life is about change and growth and progress in Light. Pray for God to inspire you to put that seed of a wonderful service, a wonderful tribute within you and be joyed that you are truly able to give to God in this way and to give to your brothers and sisters. For all gifts of Love to God, are gifts of Love to one another, to mankind.

God bless you, my beloved souls, carry on upon your journey of discovery, your sojourn that leads to opening your eyes further to discovering more fully what it is that you truly desire within your souls and to come to know God and His Will in greater measure. Always step forward, my beloveds, always desire to step forward in the flow of God's Love. So I bid you good night, until we meet in the morning and you have contemplated this day and contemplated what is meant for the morrow, and said your prayers, and had your thoughts, and conversed with your loved ones who are here with you. And we will be with you through these hours and days. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you.

Beloveds, 'tis Confucius, I wish to amend this guidance somewhat for this instrument has not received in its entirety what is meant. For if you were to each put forward five questions, we would be answering questions till the day is done. But formulate these questions, my beloveds, and discuss amongst yourselves what is important and bring this forward, for I believe that many of your questions will be similar.

But indeed, we do wish to answer all of your questions and, in time, this will be done. You consider wisely what you ask with wisdom and consider that there are limitations to what may be brought through any instrument. For awareness comes with soul growth and with soul growth comes greater awareness. There are limits. You are all human. But we will attempt to provide these answers and this instrument is willing to try this experiment which is new to him. Yes, we shall see what comes on the morrow. God bless you, God bless you. I am Confucius.

Spirit: JesusMedium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 16, 2015*

I welcome you. I come, I am Jesus, and I thank you for coming to this gathering, I thank you for making that effort to be in this place together, for following your desires of your souls, for seeking fellowship in this way and for yearning for the Love that is given from your Heavenly Father. Blessed and beloved souls, I have entrusted you with purpose and a mission and I wish for you to come to a clear understanding of what that is in your lives and what that means amongst you and how you will work together to bring the Love of God into this world through you and to many, many others who are waiting for your efforts, for you to walk this Earth as channels and purveyors of Love and Truth and as my disciples of this simple Truth of Love. And you must ask yourselves my beloveds, "What are my soul desires?" And when you answer that question, you must ask yourselves: "What is God's Will?" And in order to answer that question you must be close to God and close to your own soul which is how you may communicate with your Creator. Communication with God does not come from words and thoughts, it comes with the yearnings of your soul and your willingness to listen, and your ability to put aside all of the thoughts and energies of your mind, your material mind, and to plummet the depths of your soul to know this, to reach for this, to desire this.

When you are able to do this, my beloved brothers and sisters, then you will move forward and understand what God's Will is. And yes we will be instructing and guiding you, my beloveds. But for you to truly understand our words, to know how to enact the guidance be given, you must bring this into your souls, your soul awareness. And for some of you this is a mystery. You yearn to be in that place of deep peace and understanding that is wordless yet all encompassing. But that journey to the soul seems obscured by your confusion and the human condition that often creates barriers to your consciousness.

And while you are immersed within the waters of God's Love, your head remains above this water, your mind reeling with the many concerns of this world, your intellect seeking to dissect and to build constructs of the mind and this my children is not how you will know the Will of God. This is not how you will correctly interpret the guidance given. It cannot be purely of the intellect of the mind material, the soul must play its part. The soul will give you the very foundation of Truth and from that place and in a way of balance between the mind and the soul will come a clear and effective understanding of where you must go with your next steps.

We in spirit are anxious that you make those next steps, my brethren, for the world is in deep crisis. The world is crumbling, the world is in great imbalance and you, my brethren, are entrusted to bring change to this world. You have the entire Celestial Kingdom at your service. You have God's hand upon you.

We await your decisions to allow God to work through you, to allow the flow of His Love to be clear and pure and powerful through you. And as you plummet your souls, come to that place of deep understanding, you will see what you must do. You will perceive the road ahead of you in clarity. There will be no ambivalence or doubt. Yet many of you hover in that place between the mind and the soul, not quite sure of how to immerse yourself in the soul consciousness. You have been given instruction. You have been encouraged and inspired by the angels. Yet, that place of soul understanding and awareness in being seems peculiar and unfamiliar and you prefer to be in the safety of what you know. But I ask you, my beloved brothers and sisters, to put aside your fears and your discomforts and your suspicions and go to that place that is of soul-awareness. That place where you and God drift in a sea of peace and Love.

We have made great effort to prepare you for this shift in your consciousness. God has placed what you require to be in that soul-awareness of that I speak. The key is the Love, my brethren, the key is receiving God's Love. The flow of that Love sweeps you into that soul-awareness, the flow of that Love expands your soul so that all parts of your being are incorporated within it. The power of Love is the key – God's Love. That special Gift which you know of and you pray for.

But many of you do not entirely trust its effects are powerful. Sometimes you fear this as it sweeps you along into different awarenesses, as those conditions within you that are not in harmony with the Love, bring you discomfort, and say: come forth into your consciousness. Yet you are each strong, you have each managed to overcome many tests in your lives. You have gained wisdom. And the desire of your soul has been strong enough to bring you to this place, not only this place that is here in the world, but this place of allowing yourself to be immersed within your soul. It is but a moment away. It is but for you to say: “Father, I am willing to understand who I truly am and what is meant for me and what your Will is in my life.”

And you have come together to speak to one another. To bring forth your thoughts and your own inner guidance as to what you may do together to further the awareness and understanding of God’s Love in the world. This is your mission that I have imbued each of you with. To play your part for this great plan to bring the awareness of God’s Love more fully into the world and within your souls, within each one of you, my beloveds, is an understanding of what you must do, the role for you to play, the efforts for you to make. Now can you put aside your speculations and come to a deeper place, a more profound understanding, of what it is you are meant to do? Can you acknowledge your own personal beauty and ability and gifts? Can you step aside and allow the soul to inform you of these things?

As you sit together in circle, as you speak together in circle, these things will emerge. It will be like a flickering light. But as you give it more attention, that light will grow. And you will become more aware and we will assist you in this birthing of your true purpose. Yes, it is not possible for you to understand completely and fully at this time. But it is possible for you to get glimpse, to come that understanding. The birthing process does indeed take time and as in all things in the flow of God’s creation, it evolves and is incremental as the warmth of God’s Love nurtures this, so it will emerge in all its beauty and glory. You will emerge in all of your beauty and glory.

So I bless you, my beloved brothers and sisters. I bless you and I love you and I ask you to be open with one another, to trust one another, to encourage one another, and to nurture one another, that you may come together and feel the singularity of your purpose together, that you may pool your Light into something greater than yourselves, wiser than each one of you, clearer than any of your thoughts, and to bring the opening of your souls, to allow yourselves the luxury of being in this way of loving one another as you are meant to love one another, of sharing with one another as God pours upon you His influence of Love.

And we surround you and influence you all in the direction which you are meant to take. It is really not that difficult, my brothers and sisters. It is merely putting aside parts of yourself that get in the way of this. To take that deep breath and say "I am willing to let go. I am willing, dear Father, for Your Will to be here manifest in this room." It does not take great effort; it merely requires you to release those parts and thoughts within your minds, those fears within you, that lack of love that you feel towards yourselves. Let this go. It hangs by tenuous threads. It is not difficult to cut those threads and let go. Trust one another, trust yourselves. Have faith that your souls have deep wisdom and understanding and at this time in this crucible you will be able to express this, to know this, and to acknowledge this in one another.

And we are joyed that you have come together. So far you have indeed trusted in the guidance. Now make this circle complete, allow God to manifest this fully as you can here at this time. To move, speak, share in this Light. Allow your

Your teacher Augustine here. What will you do, my beloveds? The choice is yours. What are you willing to do? The choice is yours. And that choice rests within your souls. That answer rests within your souls. And in fact, you have already made that choice. It is for you to uncover – your purpose, that gift that lies within.

Continue to speak to one another, and to be completely and truly honest. For when you are speaking from your soul, this is what is required. If you feel lost, say you are lost. If you know, say that you know. If you are somewhere between that journey of being lost and knowing, ask for help. It will come. And you will discover, in surprising ways, the answers. God bless you, beloveds. We are now finished with this session. You are all beautiful. You are all loved. And you will all assist in the great changes that are coming in many diverse ways. God bless you. God bless you.

Spirit: Jesus and Isaiah

I am Isaiah, and I have come to add my congratulations to you, for coming together and walking a little further in the love together and allowing God to work his miraculous healing love within you, so that you may shift in your awareness, that you may be strengthened in your souls, that you may focus on serving your Heavenly Father.

Dear, beloved souls, do not forget what you have learned here, do not release the commitments that you have made but enhance them with your Love and tribute to God. Allow God's guidance to infuse you with purpose, to give you greater insight, His Love to touch all those parts of you that are in need of its healing, its transformative powers. And as this transformation occurs you will get greater insights, your souls will be familiar with you to you in a way that is difficult at these times, it will be so much a part of your natures, your awareness of your beings to be in touch with your souls, and in being in touch with your souls you will find that you are communing with God with every breath and he will guide you with every step and you will truly be his channel of His Love. As the flow of his Love is manifested in a purer and powerful way in the world through you, through all of you, think what you may accomplish, beautiful souls, you have committed to some projects but there is much more to do. This is only the beginning, this is only the beginning and soon God's guidance will flood into your beings, your consciousness and every day will be a reflection of this, every thought will be in harmony with this, every action will be purposeful and powerful.

Yes, many of you desire not to be ensnared into the human condition and you struggle to extricate yourselves, and I tell you, my beloveds, within your souls you are free, come to that place of freedom, release all that concerns you and say, dear Father I give this to You, dear Father I wish to serve You, dear Father guide each step upon my journey and illuminate all of this with Your Love.

Beloved souls, I too took a journey in this world guided by our Heavenly Father. I understand the challenges you face, I understand at times you feel lonely, but you are never alone. And those who would put barriers up to you do not truly understand the power of God's Will and the power of a soul infused with Love. You must, you must acknowledge yourselves and harness the power and the glory that is your Heavenly Father and His Will for you.

You will continue to come together. Remember, my beloveds, that it is possible for your souls to come together at any time, this communing has been made possible by your sharing in these days, there is a deep and abiding connection, a powerful source of healing and wisdom. This bond of Love makes you a part of one another. You share in each effort that is made, in each triumph in this world, every time you overcome an obstacle and release another condition that is not worthy of the Love you strengthen all of you. You do this for your beloved brothers and sisters, and as you progress, that heightened condition of Love will influence all of you.

You are now bonded for all eternity, my brothers and sisters. And in this great works, surprising works will be manifest as God uses you to bring Light and harmony to this world and every step that you take will be a step for all of you and will be a step to bring greater Light to this world. What may on the surface appear simple and humble, is powerful. You have great power amongst you, a great ability to bring change and Light into this world.

Continue in your efforts, continue in your commitments and open yourselves to greater work and it shall come your way in avenues unexpected, in possibilities unimagined, in expressions that are now beginning to emerge as your gifts are drawn up by the Light and the Love. Work together, my beloveds. Keep each other within the consciousness of your prayers, of your efforts. You are now a family of children in God's care and you are now servants of God's Will, and you are now disciples of the Truth. You carry a great responsibility and you carry a great blessing of Light and you will now be upheld, truly upheld by the angels, call upon us to support you. Be enveloped in this Light and walk this world as emissaries of Love. God bless you, my beloveds, God bless you. I am Jesus, God bless you.

benediction of Love that is promised you by your Heavenly Father. Drink deep these living waters, beloved souls, drink deep and long. Put your longings to your Heavenly Father. Raise yourselves up from the human condition to the Divine Presence of God.

Spirit: Peter

God bless you, beloved souls, I am Peter.

You each prepare yourselves for the work that lie ahead, for each of you has a purpose in this world to fulfill. Do you truly know this, my brothers and sisters, that you have a task which God has imbued upon you, to work on behalf of mankind, to bring greater light and understanding and peace to this world? And each task is unique as is each soul present here, and every soul in this world, in the world of spirit. And this task is especially formulated to suit your specific gifts and abilities and personality. This is the wonderment of God's creation, the harmony of God's creation, for He does not give you that which is too difficult for you to fulfill. He gives you a task that is perfectly suited for your being and in expressing and performing this task, this purpose, comes a deep fulfillment and knowing from deep within that this is what you are meant to do.

And for some of you the awareness of this purpose will come swiftly, and for others they will emerge as you progress upon your life on this world. And for many in this world this purpose is never revealed for they are not capable of understanding what it is that lay deep within them. As you receive the Father's Love, as you pursue the Divine Path it is inevitable that you will uncover this. For this is a powerful part of your soul, this is a necessary part of your being in this world. And you cannot ignore this, my brothers and sisters, you cannot ignore this. For if you do, it will bring inner strife. For in ignoring your purpose, you are denying a part of yourself, this gift that God has given you and you alone.

And the expression of this purpose will influence every aspect of your life, it comes rather subtly in the beginning and this influence is felt to a degree, but as you progress, as the Love flows into your soul, as your faculties of the soul become enlivened and heightened and more sensitive, this great purpose becomes a very powerful part of your motivations and that which gives you joy and fulfillment.

So I ask you, beautiful souls, to seek to know this purpose, to put this prayer to your Heavenly Father, to know what you are meant to do in this world. And once you have that knowing you will be guided in the ways of expressing and executing this task for God, and it will not be a burden, it will not divert you off your life's path, but will enhance your existence upon this world, for it will be in service to your Heavenly Father. And much in what is accomplished in this world for those who live within the human existence is irrelevant to the greater life in spirit. But what you accomplish in service to God brings great rewards when you progress into spirit, which is a far greater life than this small and short life of yours in this world, to lay the foundations for your next life, to progress in the Love, to be purified in the Love, to be open to God.

My beloved souls, you will know unfathomable joy in the life to come. I encourage you to seek, what it is that God intends for you to do. To go deep within yourself and pull up to your consciousness that awareness, that understanding that lay within your soul, like a jewel glowing within your beautiful souls. Then there will not be a question as to the next steps. There will only be a fervent desire to take those steps which will become so clear and obvious with this awareness.

Many of you feel the pull of this already. Many of you are eager to begin and God will open doors for you. As you become aware of who you truly are and what you are truly capable of in service to God. There will be no guessing and speculating. There will be clarity and surety, so powerful that even your minds will not contradict what you know within your souls. And this will come as the Love enlivens you and empowers you and gives you what you require to live from that soul awareness, that soul Love, that soul motivation.

What you seek in all of your efforts and prayers is to know your souls, for knowing your souls you are able to know God. And as God puts within you His Essence, your soul is empowered with knowledge and wisdom, with insight and perception and it is this transformation of your being that will bring you the enlightenment that you seek. There is no other sure way to do this, my beloveds. There is no other way to at-onement with God. This is the way. And this is the path that you all seek and that seeking, that desire, that fervency only increases as you walk further upon the Path. And in time the human condition, that which draws you away, will melt and fall away from you. That you will then live a life centered in God, centered in His Light and Presence. And in this will come much service expressed through your unique purpose and you will know such peace and joy, beloveds, such peace and joy that few feel and know in this world and you will shine forth wherever you go. And many will notice and see you, will be drawn to you, will seek out what you have and you will indeed teach many to seek this Path, this fulfillment for them to know who they truly are and what God has put within them, what they have to do in this world.

Seek ye the kingdom and all shall come unto you, my beloveds, seek the Love and all will fall into place. It is in accordance to your desire, your efforts to nurture your soul through prayer, being with God and receiving His Love. Those who are eager, direct this energy in efforts to be with God. Those who are curious, release your doubt and be of good faith. For those who are ambivalent, release the thoughts of your mind and commune with your Heavenly Father, for He will indeed show you the way to Truth.

God bless you, my beloved souls, earnest seekers of Love and Truth. I am Peter and I am with you in your efforts, for mankind needs you, needs you to forge this Path, to walk this trail so that others may follow. God bless you and I love you. God bless you.

Spirit: Jesus

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 17, 2015

Blessed are the children who seek to heal this world.
Blessed are the children who long for the Father's Love.
Blessed are you, my beloveds, for in many ways this gathering and these precious souls are the hope for the world.

My precious souls, you long to know many answers that relate to your personal lives and to how this world will be transformed in Light. And in many respects you are not able to comprehend the progression of these changes, because you seek to understand through the faculties of your mind rather than the perceptions of your souls. And you long for physical evidence of the Truth and this, my dear and beloved souls, is not the approach you must take. And we have exhorted you many, many times to seek through your soul the answers, to seek the Divine Love to receive those answers, to put aside your questioning minds and put forward your questioning and longing soul to your Heavenly Father.

And you seek a formula for this. How can one soul convey to another soul a longing? This is not possible. But a soul does long for this Gift of Love. A soul is created to long for this Love. And what stands in the way of this longing, it is all the clutter of the mind, the fears, the intense feelings of being lost, afraid, fearful of the unknown. All of these aspects that thrive in so many lost souls can be conquered in Love. It is that relationship of the soul knowing Love which conveys Love to another soul who does not know Love. And when you gather those who are lost and seeking, it is your Love, it is your Love that reflects in your eyes, in your arms and your simple thoughts and speech which draws in even those souls who are suspicious and afraid.

We ask you, my beloveds, to be in the world but not of the world. This is what we mean by this, to be in the flow of God's Love and other sense-differences. Others long for this peace that surrounds you, this Love that emanates from you and through you. Do you realize what precious gifts you possess? Do you realize you hold the key to healing the world? Can you see within yourselves that you have the wisdom you require, the knowledge, the Love to bring healing to this world?

And you ask why do many turn away, and I say to you that each soul has its time to acknowledge this longing and you must realize that their time on Earth is fleeting as is yours. There is great life, greater life in spirit and many opportunities will be presented to those dear souls, all the souls created to accept the Love of God.

And yet it is indeed a mystery, even to us, why not all souls accept this Gift, this invitation. Indeed from the very beginning of the creation of humanity the first parents turned away from this Gift, believing it is unnecessary, believing that they possess within themselves all that they require for their own happiness and life. And you, my beloveds, have turned towards God. Of course you live in different times. You are not given everything that you require for your happiness. You live in dark conditions; you have all felt the pain of this, the inhumanity in this world. You have all sought to understand love rather than nurture the bitterness within your souls. You have sought to be healed, to be redeemed, to know the Truth.

So, you have to ask yourselves: What is it within you that made that choice that decided to walk in the world in Light, rather than to join so many in darkness? The answers do indeed lie within you.

And you ask about your future steps. You all know that each of you have unique gifts, you have been told this many times. And you were brought together in this place to share your gifts, to pool your gifts, so that you may do the task that has been asked of you, to further spread the Truth of Divine Love in the world. This is what we have asked of you. And we ask you to take time to formulate a plan in order for this to take place and unfold. That requires some sacrifice and commitment on all of your parts and many of you have indeed invested time and effort in this great effort to spread the Truths of Divine Love in the world. You have gathered souls together and have spoken this Truth, you have put this Truth upon the wires, you have walked in the world asking to be a channel of God's Love wherever you go. You have taught the children, you have been an example, you have done much. But now you must coalesce into a body which is committed to work together and present ideas as to how you may further this Truth to inspire others, to bring into the world the knowledge that they, all the souls in this world, have a choice to receive this Love. And indeed, each of you will be guided and it is important for you to share your guidance, to share your ideas, to share your inspiration with all who are present.

It requires your trust and commitment with one another, it requires an appreciation of what each has to give. It requires work, expending energy, and time, and effort. And each of you can express your gifts, focused on this plan that you devise together. For it requires for you to exert your free will to say 'I am willing to work with you', 'I am willing to reveal my thoughts, my inspiration, the feelings that I have from my soul', and to add this to the collective effort. When you are able to freely allow this to be so and to put aside your own personal needs and your own personal concepts that are more designed to gratify your egos and less in line with God's Love and the Laws that pertain to His Love, when you think of the deprivation of this world, when you think of what is clearly required to bring more Love into this world, when you pray that God will inspire within you the answers to how and when and where and why, then the work shall truly begin.

We have been with you in your conversations and I must honestly say that many of you are too caught up in your own needs. In your own inner thoughts reflect this. It is time to put aside your needs, and come to understand what God needs of you. And when you can do this, you have then effectively put aside the mental machinations and come to a place of listening to your soul which understands God's Will.

I know for some of you this is not what you want to hear. For some of you it is important to hear the technical explanations to things, the mechanics. This, my dear and beloved souls, are available to you. These answers are in books already written. If you seek these answers, then read. Bring it into your minds and then let it sink into your souls in a true understanding. For everything that is written must be prayed over and contemplated, truly learned. We cannot flip a switch as you say and bring understanding to your minds. It requires your efforts, your efforts to research, to understand these things.

Now, my beloveds, I wish to say some things to you that are very important. The world is fast approaching a time of chaos. There is a great change coming, the storm is just upon the horizon. It requires for you, my beloveds, to have great faith and strength. To rely upon your Heavenly Father to guide you through these coming times of change in the world. For it will be dramatic and it will be destructive. And this will not be caused by men but by God and by God's creation, which responds to the actions of men. The Earth writhes in pain, it has been abused so greatly by the will of men, by the greed of men and the Earth is fighting back. And I do not think that any of you truly understand the power of the Earth, the forces of the Earth. Indeed when these wind of change come you must secure yourself in Light and all of these questions that you ask will become irrelevant and the burning question will be: "Father, guide me through these darkening times, help me to be a beacon of Light for those around me who are frightened." As the Earth shifts and the winds blow and the oceans rise, as the fires and the rain and all the elements of the Earth conspire to wash away all the traces of man. This is indeed a very serious time and you, my beloveds, are given a warning as to what is coming and in this I want you to redouble your efforts in prayer, to dedicate your lives to your spiritual progression, to walk as clearly and powerfully as you can this Divine Path and in this many gifts will open to you, many faculties and abilities which will serve you greatly in the time to come and will help you to assist others, to survive these times.

And when the clouds clear and the sun shines again, there will be a thousand years of peace upon this world. This transition, this time of cleansing has happened before in your world, and it will happen again. For God loves this world. He loves His creation and He loves all of humanity. But those who turn away from His Love, who turn away from all that is good and all that is in harmony with His Creation and exert their will to such a great degree that there is no semblance of understanding and Love and Light, merely the accumulation of things. The accumulation that has taken from this Earth and nothing returned but rot and garbage fowling the seas and the air and the land.

Is this how you are meant to live, my beloveds? Is this what God intended for you? No. You are meant to live in harmony with this world and with each other. And God does not punish those who do wrong but the laws of creation are inexorable. And for every action, there is a reaction. And all of you choose in some degrees to ignore this crisis. This deep and profound wrongness and wrongdoing for you are indeed human. This does not mean that God loves you any less or that we love you any less. But it does mean that you must, you truly must adopt ways of Light, to increase your souls with Love, to open your eyes truly, with great honesty and integrity, to walk this path of Love boldly. The time of fear cannot continue within your lives or in this world. The time of enlightenment and freedom of fear, freedom from all that is so dark, must be, must be.

My brethren, my beloveds, I will walk with you. And when the changes come, ask for my presence to comfort you, ask for God's Love to strengthen you. Ask that God open your eyes and show you what you must do and where you must go.

Yes, your efforts to open Centers of Light indeed are part of the guidance of given, for these centers will be centers of refuge for many. You must prepare those places, those lifeboats of Light for those who are caught in these storms, these storms of change. And you must focus your efforts as one focuses to prepare a home for the coming storm, you must focus your efforts to prepare yourselves. To prepare places, to prepare those who will listen. And I do not say these things to engender fear within you, for truly what is to come is the cleansing of the world, a starting anew, a time of regeneration, where all the beautiful creatures of this world and all the wonderment of God's creation will then have the ability to regenerate. And this will happen quickly, my beloveds. It will happen quickly. The power of God's creation, the power of nature, as you call it, is immense. The power to heal, for the world to heal itself, is great. But the power of mankind to heal itself is weak. The power that mankind must rely upon for healing comes from God. You have free will and with your free will you have weakened yourself so greatly.

And yet you, my beloveds, have found the key to be powerful, to heal yourselves. Use this key, my beloveds, use this key. You know all that you need to know and yet you continue to question, to wonder, to seek the answer in words. Where the answer lies wordless within your souls. Seek your souls, my beloveds. Each of you is quite capable in seeking your souls and finding your souls. And when you feel you have not come to that place, my dear beloved beautiful souls, you have only made an excuse. You have only formulated an idea within your minds that it is not possible. You have made a choice to turn away from your soul rather than turn towards it. And in many respects these thoughts and these decisions are the result of the human condition which implores you so often to turn away.

Indeed I reiterate, you must be in the world but not of the world. You must embrace this Truth. And live this Truth. And by living this Truth your life will change in many ways. And you will change in many ways. And what is important to you today will be not so important tomorrow. And what you cling onto so resolutely, will fall away. And you feel the rightness and the freedom of this.

You cannot continue to walk forward and not be fully in the Light. You have been called as my disciples to bring the word of Love and Truth to mankind. Surely you are capable in doing so. But if you indulge yourselves in what you need, what is so very important in your minds, then you will fail. You will fail your calling. You must take a good and honest look within yourselves to see what holds you from this. And when you are able to release those barriers and prejudices and fears, you will truly know what you must do. For the soul informs all. The soul is what you need. The soul is everything. And then the mind will be subjugated by the soul. And then the clarity, the clarity and Truth will set you free from these burdens that you carry so resolutely and insistently.

These questions, surely you can answer these questions yourselves. And if they remain a mystery to you, my beloveds, you have not acknowledged your souls as you must. For within your souls lies every answer, every answer. Follow your guidance, my beloveds. Walk in this Light every day and ask God to guide you with each day. And those who feel they cannot hear and know this guidance, ask God to remove the barriers and to increase your soul with this Love. And the vista shall open to you. The curtain shall be drawn away. For each of you are capable and gifted. But many of you approach this from your minds, which you cannot do any longer.

My beloveds, the time grows short. There is urgency and there is necessity to put away your indulgences and to be focused on what you must do to bring greater Light to this world, to bring the message of Love and Truth to this world, to be a channel of healing and Love in this world, to bring peace and harmony to your homes, to draw your friends in this way, to draw all who are seeking in this way. Accept every soul who comes to your door. And though you may not approve of what they say, it does not fit into your belief, within their soul is a longing which you must recognize for it is your longing as well to seek Truth, to seek God. Though they may not recognize this in their minds, you, my beloveds must recognize this within your souls. And in this you will give love, in this comes the flow of God's Love.

“Heavenly Father, bless these, Thy children, who seek the Light, who are questioning, who want to be in the Light, and free from all the pains of this world, all that burdens them, and holds them from You. Father, I ask you, to heal my brothers and sisters, that You may give a great inflowing of Your Love into their souls. May they long for this, may this be their burning desire, their true and burning desire to be redeemed by Your Love. For they seek, they seek this. May their prayers be answered, may all our prayers be answered that this world may be healed, that peace may come, and all that is not in harmony with Your Laws of creation be swept away and in their place may men rebuild this world with greater wisdom on the foundation of Love. With wisdom that there may be beauty and grace, that there may be harmony and peace, and all the falsity and all the pain and all the darkness may be swept away by Your Breath of Love.”

God bless you, my beloveds. I hope that now you are at peace. I hope that now you understand why you were brought together. I hope you can work together in loving harmony. And each will play their role, each will contribute their true selves, their true soul's gifts into this great effort, to heal this world.

I am Jesus, and I am your friend and your brother and I am with you in all that you do in every effort that you make that is truly of your souls' origin. And every effort you make in this way will be truly blessed. Walk with me and I will light the way.

Now I release you. Although you are never alone, now you know there are others upon this world who walk with you in Love. Strengthen your relationships, lean upon one another, nurture one another and work together. You will find great solace and strength in this, and insight.

Thank you, beloved students, beloved souls, for your efforts. May God bless you mightily for your efforts. God bless you. Your teacher Augustine has great Love for you.

Spirit: AugustineMedium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 18, 2015*

It is your teacher Augustine. You have been given much in these past days together, much in guidance, much in blessings. Your souls shine with the Love that you have received, and this will carry you forward and assist you in your soul's progression and the unfolding of those faculties of the soul which are ignited by this Love. Each of you will receive transcripts of these messages that were given in these past days. I ask you to read these messages again and again for I promise that every time you read this information you will glean something new from it. There is much in these messages, much in the words we have spoken and it takes time for the soul to bring forth into the consciousness of your mind the significance of these words, the depth of what is shared by the angels.

So I would encourage patience and perseverance. And when there is something within these messages that you find difficult to understand I would take them into your prayers and ask God to elaborate and you will receive the guidance you require. It may not be in words, but it will be in a feeling, a vision, a sense. Do not ignore this, my beloveds. Continue in your explorations. Continue with your questioning. Continue to seek the Truth, for the Truth only truly comes from the soul's awareness, this understanding that is deep within you. If there is one outstanding message given, my beloveds, it is to plumb the depths of your souls, to truly come to know that place within you that for so many in this world is foreign and denied. Yet you have come to acknowledge and to understand this part of you, so vital, so central, so very much the true you.

And of course we know how easy it is to be distracted from this pursuit and the more you are involved with other things in the world, the more difficult it is to come to this realization. For the mind is fueled so often by the outside forces and information and influences keeping you swimming upon the surface of your consciousness. But you must go deep, you must pray earnestly, you must listen intently. You must seek with true and pure intention. You must yearn for the Father's Love therefore causing the Laws of Attraction to take place and bring the angels by your side, who will then reinforce this journey to the soul.

I know we ask a lot, we ask for you to spend more time in prayer. We ask for you to spend less time in worry and concern and distraction. We ask you to be in the world but not of the world. We ask you to commune with your Heavenly Father as often as you might. This is a way of life, my beloveds, it is a way of life and a very strong and singular commitment. It does not mean that you must give up other things in your life, but it means that your priorities must be to put God first, to put the growth of your soul beyond all other pursuits. And then with this balance of priorities, all other things within your life, all other roles in your work, in your family, in what you do to live this life which is meant for you to be done, takes on a different perspective. A greater harmony infuses all of these elements. You come to know greater peace and joy and when the intransigence of the world, the difficulties which come seemingly so random and unexpected, befall upon you, you are much more capable of dealing with these aspects of life without them weighing you down and pulling you away from your Heavenly Father.

We have asked you to be examples of this Love, to walk this Path boldly and in faith. My beloveds, the choice is yours, always. Every moment has a choice. Every thought has a choice. Everything you do is your choice. You cannot blame others or that which is outside of yourself or what happens in your lives. You must take responsibility, you must see with the eyes of your souls which can only show you Truth, rather than the illusions which you create within your minds. This is not an easy Path, but it is a glorious Path. And what it requires in effort and discipline and faith indicates its power and what you receive in return is far greater than what you give, far greater – its effects lasting for all eternity, my beloveds. Can you conceive of this? The Light that you build within your souls lasts for all eternity, never to be diminished but to grow ever brighter. It is worth your effort, my beloveds. It is worth that choice for Light. And when you feel burdened and worried, cry out to your Heavenly Father and ask Him to help you through these difficulties. And the help will be given, freely and abundantly and in accordance to your willingness to accept, to be humble, to allow God to carry you and to release your fears and anxieties, your anger and your pain.

This is a road seldom taken, my beloveds, but it is a road that all souls who choose it find its strength and wisdom, its validity, its truthfulness, its power. And despite all odds for most men choose the road of self-empowerment, most souls do not believe that God truly loves them. Yet if there are souls who walk this road and do so in Love and harmony and their Light shining forth, this very fact that you do so, brings the choice to other souls. You become an example and for some a confrontation. But indeed, you bring with you a resounding bell-toll that says: "You have a choice, you can be with God, you can live in this Light, you can find salvation from your pain and your error and know joy and freedom."

Continue, my beloveds, to seek ever greater Light and wisdom, to truly know yourselves and know your Heavenly Father through this gift of Love. And you will do the work, you will find the purpose for which you are here, for which God wishes upon you. And as you may struggle, and you may fall, and you may be angry and disillusioned, and have all manner of difficulties upon the way, but every time you pick yourselves up, every time you overcome a difficulty, every time you say "No, I will not join in this human condition, I will join in the flow of God's Love", you become stronger and brighter and wiser and more humble.

This is the way of the world. It is not what is meant to be in this world but it is what is in this world. And that is why God sends His angels to support you, to bring their Light to help you, His loving care upon you, so that you may have support and assistance to overcome the difficulties of this life and to build within yourselves a Light so bright and beautiful that you will shine forth in this world and bring comfort and Truth and Love to many. Seek ye the Kingdom, my beloveds, and all things shall come unto you. God's Love pours within you. His Grace brings you peace and comfort. His care carries you through all the conditions of this world, and God never abandons you. God is always with you. Be with God, my beloveds. Be with God and true and deep understanding will be yours.

God bless you, your teacher Augustine will continue to be with you and to help you upon your journey for I love you dearly and I will be there, I will be with you in my Love as will many. God bless you.

Spirit: Confucius

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 18, 2015

My beautiful birds, loving souls, in the beginning of these prayers, I promised you clarity and understanding. And for those who still remain confused I tell you that you are still entrapped within your minds and have not come to that place of soul awareness. And as long as you continue to give your minds precedence, you will not find the clarity of which I have promised. We have encouraged you to feel and know that place deep within you and many of you have felt this. Do you not feel the joy? Do you not feel within you the willingness to go wherever your Father leads you? And do you not feel a deep peace that tells you all is well and there is nothing that can take you from this path of joy. And for those of you who do not feel this, I say there is still time. Prayers are still coming and time for you to choose to release your concerns and be at peace. For from that place of peace will come the answers that you seek and the knowing that is truly known. I know some of you complain how difficult it is to release this mental condition. And I tell you, my beloveds, there are many angels at your disposal who will come and help you with this, bring you the healing, bring you what you require to let go. And this is determined by your prayers and your desire. Are you willing to release this condition? Are you willing to enter a place so unfamiliar yet so beautiful and comforting, to walk in Light without the burden of your mental condition? For your mind absorbs much of this human condition and reinforces this within you.

Indeed, some of you fear losing your minds, but this is only a myth. In releasing your thoughts, you gain the universe, you gain great knowledge and peace and joy and knowing your Heavenly Father. This does not mean that your mind is lost it merely means that your mind is no longer in precedence. You have found the balance of which we speak and ideas will flow in this river of Love and find their harmony and place within it. Your beings will glow in Love, acceptance and be at peace. Let go, my beloveds, let go. And we shall all flow in this river of Love together. Confucius loves you, my beloveds, I love you so. God bless you.

You perform a great service, my beloveds, in coming together, you perform a service for God to bring His Light and Love, peace and comfort into this world. And in many ways you are required to be a part of this effort, for in your soul's desires and longings, in your coming together in Love and harmony these things are possible, this Light manifests in your world, and as this Light manifests in your world it manifests throughout the world of spirit. You bring a great opportunity not only for yourselves but for many, many souls in the spirit world and for those souls from this Earth who are longing what you long for, who are receptive and open to these blessings. Spirit: Seretta Kem

I am Seretta Kem and I am from Egypt. I lived in this world approximately 4000 years ago. I lived at the time when Egypt was a great nation and we had a beautiful culture, and much is not truly known of how we lived and how we thought, for we did indeed revere the Creator and now I revere the Creator in a different way, through my soul. I love my God who truly loves me and loves all of you deeply, endlessly and completely.

We are performing many tasks while you are present together and I am in charge of performing intricate chemical transferences from one to the other which would be difficult for me to explain to you, my beloveds, but I wish you to know that you will become a part of one another in many different ways as you pray together in this way. This facilitates a deeper bond between you. It helps you to communicate with one another when you are not together, for much happens in this realm of communication of the soul that you are not aware of. We open the avenues that create the possibilities of you my beloveds, who live in this world, to have a powerful bond that is of a spiritual nature, that is soul-to-soul, soul awareness to soul awareness. And in this we may use you in different combinations to accomplish things in this world as you pray to be used as a channel of God's Love, an instrument of His peace and change in the world.

He may use each of you in a multiplicity of ways so that you may support one another in these efforts, so that you may not walk alone but walk with many, not only in spirit but in this world as well. This bonding, this reinforcement of your being, in Love and in many intricate ways will help to facilitate the opening of your gifts, of your abilities to be God's instruments in this world.

So, my friends, there are many reasons for you to come together, there are many powerful reasons and outcomes from your efforts. Yes, much of this is very subtle and difficult to perceive, almost impossible to understand and perceive through the material senses and mind, but I tell you this is true, this is real and it is powerful. And as you develop and grow within your souls and the faculties of your souls open your eyes, your ears, your ability to comprehend of soul faculty you will understand, you will see, you will know what it is that I speak of.

But you must, my beloved beautiful souls, you must make that effort to develop your souls through praying for the Father's Love. This is the key to everything that can manifest and blossom within you and all about you and through you. Without God's Love none of this is truly known. Make that effort, pray and redouble your efforts to pray and long for these gifts that will be a part of you for all eternity. The soul is a wonderful thing. It is imbued with many magnificent abilities. Do not ignore yourselves, my beloveds, but make that effort to discover this aspect of your being, so powerful, yet unknown, so beautiful yet often ignored, so necessary yet you do not see your own beauty, your own power, your own abilities. Seek the Truth within, my beloveds, and know that we who walk with you have come to help you, assist you in many ways, and to make your journey a little easier, and make the opening and flourishing the development of your souls a little quicker, a little more accessible and certainly we are pleased and happy when you allow this and desire this.

God bless you, beautiful souls imbued with magnificent gifts and capable of great works for your Heavenly Father who eagerly awaits your awakening. God bless you, your friend and servant, Seretta Kem is with you. God bless you.

Spirit: Andrew

God bless you, precious and beloved souls, I am Andrew. God has brought you together, my beloveds. He has orchestrated this time together. He has guided you. He has encouraged you. And for many of you, He has broken down barriers and provided means for you to be here together, to pray together, to speak together, to Love one another, to find the great gift of fellowship amongst you. Think back, my beloveds, How did God guide you to His Love? What moment did you come to that discovery? How were you led to be wakened to this Truth? Was it a comment, a touch, an invitation, some unremarkable event, a thought, a desire which led you to look and search?

God reached each and every one of you, my beloveds, and led you to the Light of His Love. And this was done in many, many ways, through many, many means to bring you to that place of understanding, of seeking and knowing. This starts with a yearning from your soul. This starts with God inviting you into the Light and he does so with every soul but not every soul acknowledges this invitation, feels with intensity a desire to know. And yet you, my beloveds, you accepted, you came forward and said, Yes I want to be in the Light of your Love, I want to have my life in the flow of your Love. I want my inner life to be lit by your Love.

And many of you ask, how will we bring the knowledge of this Love to others? And I say that God will open those doors and present the invitation, not only through you, my beloveds, but through others, others around the world will be inspired, will be led, will be given this Truth in many beautiful ways, creative, and effective, and clear.

I ask you, my beloveds, to pray that the world will hear and know this invitation from God. That many will choose Love, for it will take many to choose Love in this world for this world to be healed, for this world to be raised up from the present conditions to a place of harmony and peace. The invitation will be given and you, my beloveds, will speak this invitation to many, will express your Love as proof that God Loves all, will bring the wisdom that will spark an openness, a willingness to consider this invitation.

Be guided, my beloveds, be guided upon your road and God will lead you to many, many who are eager to hear your words, to feel your Love, to know that you are in this Light and they want to join you, my beloveds, they desire this within their souls, and God will break down the barriers that they have, the reticence and the suspicion that comes from the mind. You will be used in many ways, you will be inspired powerfully, and God will put the words in your mouth. God will use you as a channel for His Love. You will be led, led through this life, through this world, and you will feel the power of this. You will know that God is leading you forward. You will know this and feel His Love enveloping you upon this journey. For every soul that is claimed by God's Love is a part of this effort to bring Love to others. This is the part of the process of redemption, to allow God to use you in the flow of His Love and Will for the benefit of others. This is part of His flow. This is part of the harmony and the laws that pertain to His Love.

You are not meant to be alone and you are not meant to be isolated in the world. You are meant to be amongst your brothers and sisters as a Light, a channel of Love, to give to others, to connect with Love from your soul to their soul. Be willing, be willing, my beloveds, to walk amongst your brothers and sisters as a channel of Love. Pray for this each day. Ask for God to put upon your path those whom he wishes for you to contact and be with, to Love and contribute in Light and you will be amazed at what unfolds, where you will go, and who you will meet, and what you will say, and how you will say it, and how the words, the gestures, the giving of yourselves will all point to your loving God who provides all for you and for this world.

Seek to be used in this way, my beloveds. Seek to be God's instruments of Love and Peace for change in this world and your prayers will be answered in surprising ways, in beautiful ways, in ways beyond your imaginings at this time. Mighty doors will open, wondrous journeys will be taken. This is the miracle of bringing all of you together at this time. Think of this, what was required to draw you to this place, to this time together, and to know what you were meant to do here, to pray, to long for the Love? This required much work from the angels who have shepherded you along your Path. And God guides His angels and God guides you. It is a great plan, my beloveds, a plan to bring healing to this world, and you each have a role, a purpose, a gift to give, something to share, many gifts to explore and to express to bring about a healing for this world for all your brothers and sisters who are lost yet yearning deeply for Love.

Walk your Path, my beloveds, each one beautiful and unique. Walk your Path and do so in the Grace of God and His Love and you will find your way and you will walk through every door opened for you. For God opens these doors and presents to you that invitation to be His instrument of Love in the world. He opens that door and it is for you to choose to walk through and to feel the joy of this special gift and opportunity to be that channel of Love for others.

Walk in the Light, my beloveds. Be in the Light. Be the Light. You are all capable. You all have something to give. Do not hold your gifts close to your bosom but present them lovingly to others in service, in humility and much will be accomplished, much that is necessary and so crucial at this time in the history of mankind. For humanity is at a crossroads, a choice to progress upward, closer to what is meant for them, for all, or to continue to decline into further darkness and suffering, terrible suffering, my beloveds. You hold the key amongst you. You have the power that is given from your Heavenly Father to make a great difference in this world, to help humanity to climb into the Light. And I know and God knows that you all desire the Light and you all desire for mankind to know that they are loved deeply, and you wish to show them the way to this great and wondrous Love. This is your commitment to God, your tribute to what God has given you.

Consider, my beloveds, what you may do, where you may go, and how you may be in the world and you will be shown through your prayers, you will be inspired within your thoughts, you will feel compelled from your soul to act, to move forward. And what you may do may not gratify your egos, may not gratify your ambitions, may not comply to those well-laid plans within your mind. They may be humble these acts of Love, simple. But they are of God and the accumulation of all of your acts of Love will build a mighty power in the world, for the Light will reverberate around this planet. And the closer you are in harmony together, the more your thoughts and desires, your soul desires, are in harmony, become a singular thing. You will have great power, for God can use those who act in this way, who wish to share their Love in this way together, together in harmony, together in their desire to serve the Heavenly Father.

Be together, my beloveds. Work together. Pray together and support one another in loving ways. Share your wisdom. Share your Love. Share yourselves as you support this great effort. God bless you, beautiful and beloved souls. I am Andrew and I love you. I love you dearly. God bless you.

Spirit: Faith

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 20, 2015

Beloveds, I am Faith and I come to speak to you on the subject of creating Centres of Light in the world. I walked this Earth not too long ago and I did my Father's bidding.

My life was dedicated to following the Father's Will in this world and He took me on a great and beautiful journey of Love. I did not understand as you do the power of God's Love, though I knew of God's Love and I was within His care and Light.

And there has been some discussion of late regarding creating Centres of Light in the world and I wish to encourage you, my brothers and sisters, who still dwell upon this Earth to be supportive, to think about the opportunities that have been laid before you to create these Centres, for they are required in the world. God will provide the means, the buildings, the finances, all that is required will be provided given your intention to work and support in loving harmony the possibilities of creating these Centres, which will be refuges for the many souls who are seeking, the many souls who desire a place of peace, a place of Love, a place filled with Light and joy.

God wishes that these places be in the Earth, upon the Earth in a way that does not require one to have a specific religious belief but only a soul desire to be in the flow of Love and peace, to receive from the Heavenly Father His healing and touch. And these Centres of Light are formulating within your minds at this time but will become a reality in very short order. It will be a reality, and the doors will open, and the souls will flood in, and their eyes will be open, their souls will be inspired, and they will feel God's touch, just as you feel God's touch with you at this time. You are creating here a Centre of Light, a place of refuge, a place where you will receive the nourishment you require and desire to progress within your souls. The Father's great Love awaits your opening and desire.

Many from my side of life are working with you, each one of you, beloved souls. For each soul here desires to be a channel of Love and Light in the world. Each soul aspires to be with God. Each soul continues to struggle through their human conditions and the Earthly conditions and to raise themselves above that condition, to heal within themselves those hurts and errors that lie within, which are a part of every soul on this planet. You struggle to be in Light and God answers your prayers. God touches your soul. God wants you to be in that place of deep and abiding peace within the flow of His Love, embraced by His presence. His Love is here for you. His Love is here for you. Open yourselves, my beloveds. Open, ask, desire. Bring this unity of desire and openness together, direct it towards your Heavenly Father and feel the response of the Holy Spirit touching your souls, bringing you to a place of joy, of upliftment and peace.

Blessed and beloved souls, you are truly brothers and sisters and this bond of Love will grow as His Love grows within you. God bless you, I am Faith and I reside within the Celestial Kingdom and I am with you often. I am with you working to bring Light into this world, to bring Love, more Love into this world and to bring Truth where there is error, to bring clarity where there is confusion, to bring comfort where there is hurt and fear and error. And you, my beloved brothers and sisters, will also do this work wherever you may be in the world. God desires for you to do this work and if you are unclear as to what you must do, pray for guidance, pray that the angels will help you to find that clarity and to do this work in humility and grace and Love. God bless you, my dear friends, and know that what is the Father's Will, will be. It will be. God bless you. God bless you. I love you.

Spirit: Francis of Assisi

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 20, 2015

God bless you, I am Francis, known as St. Francis of Assisi and I come to you, my beloved brothers and sisters, to encourage you to build within your life Circles of Light, to build all about you Light, to be that beacon and source of Light as the Father's channels of Love and Truth and Peace and Healing. I walked away from a life filled with all the material wealth and comfort to do this very thing, to commune with God, to start out again in innocence in my love for my Heavenly Father I walked away. And in this act rejecting the human situation that was my life, I made a commitment to my Heavenly Father that I would do His Will, that I would be in His Grace, that I would love. And in this my gifts flourished and I found contentment, I found joy, I found simplicity in my life, and all of those things that held me from this fell away and I knew deeply my God who loved me.

There comes a time with every soul for them to release that cloak made from fear and error and desire of the material. There comes a day for every soul who truly wants to be with God to put this aside, to put aside those human things that draw one down into darkness rather than to ascend to Light. I went from wealth to poverty, I went from a place of ease and power to a place of aloneness and innocence, and yet I did not lose anything, I gained the world. I gained the world, my beloveds, in my journey to God. Many of you still walk within the world of humanity. You go about your daily lives in this world that distracts you from God. And we cannot blame you or condemn you for this, for you know no different. And although your souls have a deep desire to know God, your mind rules your actions, you are reticent to let go, to be free, to walk away from all your attachments. For you have put great energy and investment in what you have, and your lives as they are. And indeed to detach from these things requires great strength and the shock of letting go as I did, walking away as I did, is too great for many. It is a gradual process of filling yourselves with the Father's Essence through your prayers and desire to receive and then gradually releasing all that is not in harmony with His Love.

You must not doubt yourselves, my beloveds. You must not second-guess yourselves but go with what your heart tells you. Walk that road that your soul desires you to do, be in that place of grace, of peace, of knowing that God is with you at all times and in this will come many opportunities to share your love, to share God's Love in the world. It is your openness, your desire, your faith, the strength of the Love within your souls which encourage you to walk this road of Love. And yes, the human condition does indeed cause complications and difficulties and lost opportunities. But I tell you, as you pray for the Love, as you truly know God, all of these things will truly fall away and you will know this freedom, you will know a fulfillment. This hungering part of you will be sated and will transform to a place of being with God always and receiving His Love at every moment. And your lives will transform in harmonious ways. There will not be great cataclysms of failures and walls falling upon themselves because you have not held them up. It is not for you to hold up these walls. It is for you to let go and let them fall. They must fall for you hide behind your walls, you hide behind those conditions that you carry, that your forefathers carried, that the human race carries each one behind their walls separate from the other. God wants all of His children to be together and free and loving one another, trusting in each other, knowing that God will guide us all upon our unique and beautiful paths of life. And each thing that you contribute will be a thing of Light and beauty and will be manifest within the gifts that lie within your souls, these wondrous gifts that are waiting for you to acknowledge, that are waiting for God to enliven with His Love.

Many of you see through the eyes of your minds and what you see is not altogether Truth. But when the eyes of your souls open, when the faculties of your souls are operating in a conscious way, the world will take on a different look. You will walk differently in the world. What you desire now you will not desire in those times, and what you do now you will not do in those times of Grace and harmony. You will know from a place of wisdom and Truth what it is that you are meant to do in this world and you will have a deep and abiding sense of peace and joy.

All of this awaits you, my beloveds. The angels are poised to carry you, to inspire you, to help you and assist you upon that journey of discovery. The Path is lit. It is straight. You must put one step in front of the other releasing your cloak and being naked in the Light of God's Love knowing that in this innocence you will discover all and all will come to you. You will be safe. You will be secured in the flow of God's Love. You will be who you are, who you are which is a beautiful soul waiting to express itself within your being and within God's being. God bless you, my beloveds, I am Francis and I love you, and I love this world with all its beautiful creatures, all that God has created. Love this world, my beloveds. Love this world, for God's handiwork is great and beautiful. God bless you. God bless you, I am Francis and I love you. God bless you.

Spirit: Mary

Bless you, my beloveds, it is Mary. The change that you desire, that you seek for this world will start with the children. The infants that are coming to your world, being born, are souls who desire Light, who reflexively are drawn to the Light. You must bring the message of Love, the Love of God to all of these beautiful children who are waiting and are coming to be within this wave of Light that will sweep across your world and bring the changes that are required, that the world may be whole again, may be at peace again, may have harmony and balance. The children will have this wisdom, they will share this wisdom and know what must be done and will live in harmony with one another. As they grow to maturity they will bring the wisdom and you, my beloveds, must bring the Love.

This is so important, to know that the Father's Love is available to all the souls of this world. You must work, my beloveds, to bring this Love to the world, the knowledge of this Love, the power of this Love, the beauty of this Love. It must come into the world, you must speak, you must Love, you must work in the flow of God's Will. My beloveds, it is time for a change, deep and healing change for this beautiful world. Can you bring this change within your lives, within your beings, this transformation of consciousness that is so needed? Can you live in harmony? Can you bring Light? Can you pray in words and aspirations which elicit a great response from your Heavenly Father to bring His Love fully and powerfully within your souls? Without this effort, without this deep desire that is within you there will be no change, my beloveds. You will stay within the semidarkness, the semi-Light. You must step forward into the fullness of God's Light and Truth. He beckons you forward. He desires your liberation, your acceptance, your true knowing so that you may be the example in the world, so that you may teach the children, so that you may teach all who come within your presence that you are truly a child of God and that each soul that you encounter may also be a child of God.

Can you do this, my beloveds? Can you step forward in the world in this way? Putting aside your concerns that others may reject you. Those who do indeed throw their negativity toward you are the ones in pain, are the ones who truly need this message. And though their minds may reject your words, their souls hear, they hear this, you plant a seed and that seed may not sprout for many years to come. But God will tend His garden. God will tend the seeds and it is not for you to know or to touch but to continue to speak and live the Truth within your entire life, all parts of your life, all parts of your being. Can you do this, my beloveds? Can you be strong? Can you be strong in God's Love, in God's care, in God's guidance for you and live in this Light more fully and completely accepting this with every part of your being, every part of your will, and your desire, and your thought and who you are in the world? It is so necessary. God is beckoning you to that place of faith and acceptance, of allowing His Will to manifest through you, His Light and Love to be all around you and influencing everything within your life.

Can you do this, my beloveds? The invitation is there and the angels will uphold you as you make your choice as you decide to be with God in this way. My beloveds, my beloveds, I love you so. Your souls shine with Light. You are beautiful and you are so loved. Please know this within your being, within the very core of your being. Do not doubt, but embrace the Truth that you are a beloved child of your Heavenly Father and you are deeply loved. Bring that Love into your consciousness and express that Love in whatever you do in this world. God bless you, my beloveds. I am Mary and I say deep, constant prayers for your awakening. My Love is with you. God bless you.

Spirit: James Padgett

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 20, 2015

Beloved souls, I am Padgett, James Padgett. I have been asked to speak to you and it is my honor and privilege to do so in this gathering of beautiful souls. The Light that you have created by your presence and prayers is tremendous. It reverberates far out into the spheres of spirit. It creates a place where many spirits are drawn and seek the Light. You do a great service, my friends, in your prayers, in your efforts to reach the highest, to reach for God's Love.

Many of you know me and some do not know of me. Many years ago I was used by spirit to communicate the Truths of the Divine Love, to bring them into our era in a clear and understandable way, written through automatic writing. And I produced through the help of spirit many, many pages of information. And these pages exist still today and have been copied and printed and collated into volumes of books that are available to those who ask and desire to receive and read to further their knowledge of soul growth and the laws pertaining to Divine Love and the laws pertaining to the world of spirit and the world of the Celestial Kingdom.

These places exist as most of you know. God exists as all of you know. The power of this Love is the highest blessing you can receive and I am so grateful to have been able to give these messages to the world. And it was a struggle for me, my friends, to accept what is written, to allow these spirits to write many passages which I questioned. It took me some years to believe that what was being written was true. Yet I continued and persisted, I prayed for God's Love to enter into my soul and in this I grew to accept the Truth, and then I grew to love the Truth, and then I grew to love my brothers and sisters in that I came to a place of true understanding of our Heavenly Father. And now in this place, in my life, which is in spirit in the Celestial Kingdom, I continue to long and seek for Truth, for Love, for enlightenment, to truly know my soul, to truly know my Heavenly Father.

So you see my friends, this journey goes on. Do not condemn yourselves if you feel you have not come up to your expectations upon this Path, for you have all of eternity, my dear beloved friends, to truly know, to understand, to be in God's Grace. And this short life on Earth is but a stepping stone to greater life and greater understanding of Love and Truth and God. And you, my beloved friends, are so blessed to have the angels with you, to have God's Hand upon you. You have drawn this to you by your pursuit and prayers for the Love. You have walked this road and persisted. You have struggled. You have prayed and prayed and prayed and the rewards, my dear and beloved friends, are coming, your blessings have been many, which shall increase and increase, they shall double and quadruple. It shall go on exponentially as you accept and live the Truth. The abundance of God's blessings is far beyond your capacity to understand for it is as infinite as the universe, as powerful as anything you know in your lives. And as you grow in this Love your perceptions will grow, your understanding of Truth will change, you will walk a path of great discovery uncovering many secrets which God will give to you in the flow of His Love.

Do not waste your time, my beloveds. Do not waste your time, but pray fervently for this Love to transform your souls and bring you into that great flow of God's Love. There is no greater pursuit, no greater rewards, no greater opportunity in your lives but this, this wondrous Gift and all that comes with it. The opportunity to be of service to your Heavenly Father, the opportunity to love your brothers and sisters in the flow of God's Love. Take your time and pray. Make this the focus of your efforts spiritually. Seek the peace that passes all understanding. Open yourselves to this Love.

And though I wrote many pages, thousands upon thousands of words upon these pages given through me by spirit, the Truth is ultimately simple and wordless. What was written is a map, a way to help you in your thoughts, in your desires to come to God, to inspire you, to show you that this is true and real and powerful. And the testimony of this Truth is your presence here today, coming together from many far off places being together in Love, wanting to uphold one another and to be close to God. And you will bring the Truth as you leave this place, back with you to where you live and God will give you opportunities to be His beautiful channels of Love. Many doors will open if you desire this.

Please continue to walk this Divine Path with all of us. I am pleased to see that my work has borne fruit, that others have come to this Truth and we all follow the Master Jesus upon this Path and gratefully so, for he leads us to greater heights of spiritual joy and awareness, of soul bursting with Love – such joy, such knowing, such being in the Light. Continue on my brothers and sisters, continue with your great efforts and we shall continue to support you and we are pleased that others have used their gifts to bring Truth into the world. This is important, to continue to keep this channel of communication open from us in spirit to you in this world. For through this world we are able to communicate with many other layers of existence in spirit. Many come to listen to these words, many are here now.

So I say, one man who was filled with doubts and grief for the loss of his wife embarked upon a journey which has touched all of your lives. Such a simple act and decision has great consequences in the world. Consider this, my friends, consider this. That the choices that you make, the decisions in your lives can have great and wondrous consequences for the lives of others. And many await your commitment to live and bring the Truth to this world. Many possibilities await you, much love resides within you. And this is what is required, the Love of God burning within your souls. It empowers the journey and reverberates out into this world and where you put your focus, where you walk, how you are, will have great and enduring consequences for others for this world.

You have been guided that this world needs you and needs to change and go on a course that will lead to healing and harmony in this world. Consider my friends what you may do in service, how you may be in Love, where you may go to teach the Truth. And once you have entreated your Heavenly Father to guide you along where you are meant to go and how you are meant to be and who you are meant to meet, the journey will truly begin. For you have all taken your inner journeys, you have all worked diligently to repair your souls through Love, to prepare your minds through reading of the Truths. You are ready to walk out into the world guided by God and shown the way.

Are you ready to commit to this, to walk in this Light, to be that channel of Love and Truth which God has asked you to be? When I started on this Earth I was not sure of my steps. I was afraid. I was afraid of what others thought of me. I was fearful for my career, my reputation, my standing in the community because to hold up the Truth in this way is unusual. Eyebrows are raised, thoughts of judgment in many. Yet I persisted, and I must confess that my fears held me back to some degree. I did not want others to truly know what I was doing. But thanks to the efforts of braver souls, those who were willing to carry this torch, you today have heard of and know of and pray for the Truth of God's Love in a conscious and clear way. So you see, even I who was not so committed made an impact in this world. And you, my beloveds, who I see are stronger than myself, can make a greater impact in the world.

The world needs you. The world truly needs your efforts. The world truly needs the Truth. Can you walk boldly and say, Dear brothers and sisters, I have something that may change your life, a simple Truth so profound that it can change everything? You need not join a religion, an organization. It costs you nothing. It is freely given. Can you do this, to express the Truth so simply, to give so willingly, to walk so boldly? And yes many will turn away from you, will reject the gift that you have to give, but many will turn towards you and say yes, I am interested. I want to know. And each of those souls who truly come to understand and live the Truth of Love will be a jewel in your crown, and when that time comes for you to enter the world of spirit this will determine in many ways where you will go, the life that you will have in the life beyond. There are many rewards for the faithful. There are many rewards for those who choose Love, Divine Love over everything else. Those rewards in this Earth may not be so palpable, but believe me when you enter into the world of spirit you will be astounded at what will be given by God in gratitude for living the Truth and expressing the Truth, great rewards, wondrous blessings. I thank you, my friends, for the opportunity to speak to you and my heart grows large in gratitude and Love for those of you who have carried on this work. Thank you, thank you. And please continue, please work diligently and with Love. The rewards are awaiting you, my beloveds, and they are great. God bless you and keep you in His care. God bless you.

Beloved, beautiful souls, I am Confucius. You did indeed come together to give healing to the world and healing to yourselves. And it was demonstrated to you the power of group prayer and the wonderment of this blessing that came through you for the world. Much was accomplished in this effort that you made together and some of you felt the power of it and perceived its beauty.

Do you see now that a group of souls coming together with the same intention can bring great blessings into this world, that what it requires is for a mutual agreement, a mutual effort and a loving desire to bring Light? Remember this, my beloveds, for you all have the opportunity when you return to your homes to form circles of like-minded souls, to create Light in the world, to bring it as a channel of Love that God's blessings may reach out to many. Is this so difficult, my beloveds? No, it is not. It merely requires for you to focus your desire, your Love, your Light to bring about a blessing through prayer.

And as you continue to make your efforts, simple, yet powerful in the Love, you will draw many to you. Do not judge. Do not set impossible expectations upon those you invite through the threshold, but love them, love them, my beloveds, and tell them that God loves them and they will find comfort and solace in your embrace, in your acceptance, and in the wisdom of your simple sharing of the Truth.

Circles of Light, my beloveds, this is what is required in the world, creating Circles of Light where God's Love manifests in beautiful ways for many souls who gather around that flame of Love warming them and bringing them peace and comfort and healing and joy. Circles of Light, my beloveds. Bring your Circles of Light wherever you go. Gather those together who are cold and afraid. Be generous. Be loving. Be kind. Nurture your brothers and sisters, for so many are lost and fearful and do not know where to turn, and you will provide for them a place of Light and healing and comfort. Circles of Light, my beloveds, this is what you must do. God will grant you the means. God will show you the way. God will guide you as you do His Will, creating Circles of Light. I am Confucius and I love you, my beloved, beautiful souls, precious, precious, beautiful souls. God bless you.

Beloveds, you have each received the Love Divine. You must know this, my precious ones, for you are deeply needed in your world to bring the peace and the Love that will bring the power of Love Divine to all life, all the lives. Yes, my beloveds, I am Jesus. And you must carry the power of the Love. Let it flow, for this will bring the change that is needed in your world. So many souls are lost and you have the power to let the Divine Love flow into your world. You will bring the peace and Love Divine that is deeply longed for and needed. There are many lost souls that suffer in your world and you must let the power of the Love Divine flow from your souls, my beloveds, and you will deepen the power and healing and comfort and Love Divine.

Your world is ready for this to come, beloveds. Know this and let it flow from your hearts, the Love you carry. It will grow and deepen and there will be peace able to come, beloveds. You are deeply needed and deeply loved. Go forth and let it flow from your souls, precious beloveds, you have been touched and blessed.

Spirit: Confucius

Precious and beloved souls, I am Confucius and I come to greet you this morning with my love and to give you some guidance.

The Father's Love is everywhere and every place in His universe, but you, my beloveds, have drawn in this Love through your prayers and desire to receive it. And with this Gift of Love within your souls you may bring to others a desire for this Love, for God uses you to plant these seeds to all you meet. When you walk upon this Earth you are God's purveyors of Love and Truth, remember this, my beloveds. Remember that wherever you go you bring this Love. Whomever you meet you bring this Love and you need not say the words. It is your being, it is your soul that carries the Love and often you are not aware that this blessing, this inspiration is given as God uses you through your souls to touch another soul.

Yes, my beloveds, you cast these seeds of hope into the world. You walk in the Light of God's Touch and at times you are able to speak the Truth to those who are willing to listen. And as you grow stronger in this Love, receiving ever more of this great benediction within your souls, others will be consciously drawn to you. They will ask their questions, they will want to know from where your loving presence, from where it comes and you may tell them of God's Touch of Love which is for all, it is for all. And blessings from God come from many different areas, many different aspects of life.

The dear soul, the son, who perceived the whales, it was their answer to the call of your Love, my beloveds. They came to acknowledge your presence and the Light that you carry. Many creatures are drawn to the Light, they are sensitive to these things, and in this beautiful contact between this dear soul and these beautiful creatures there was hope given to him, something shifted within him and a blessing given. God uses many ways to bless His children. God gives us blessings through many avenues in this world. For the open soul there is much that they may receive and perceive in the world of God's creation. It is filled with many, many mysteries and gifts.

Open yourselves, my beloveds. Open yourselves to what God has to give you and open yourselves to what God can give to others through you. This is what will save this world, my beloveds, all that is given in Love, all that is of the Heavenly Father in His glorious creation. You know so little of this, your perceptions are so narrow, your understanding limited, but as your soul is ignited with the Love you will know, you will be receptive, you will absorb all the blessings that God has to give you in all of these wonderful ways and means and avenues of Love, gifting you with a life filled, filled to the brim with glorious life, with glorious gifts of beauty and Love. It awaits you my children. It awaits for you to open your eyes to receive as God wishes to give. And in His abundant creativity so many avenues and possibilities are there for you awaiting your perception and reception of His Gifts of Love to you in this beautiful world.

As you walk in this world, as you walk amongst your brothers and sisters be that beautiful Gift in the world. May your Light shine as the Love glows within you, as your eyes perceive the beauty of your brothers and your sisters in this world. For every soul has its beauty, every soul is unique, every soul has the possibility of receiving the Father's Love, and your gift to them is your presence with them in Love and acceptance, in Love and acceptance. Do not judge, do not fear, but be in that wave of the Father's Love, that mighty river that flows from His Great Soul to all the souls of His creation. And you will receive in abundance and give in abundance and this will grow and grow. God will sow the seeds of Love wherever it is possible and He asks each and every one of you to make this possible, to walk this road in clarity, in humility, in fervent service to His Will. And in this you will indeed receive your rewards, your gifts from many aspects of the Father's creation. So much awaits, so much awaits.

A Gift of Love to you, my beloveds, a Gift of Love, do not hold yourselves back but bring this in, absorb this Love as much as you are able. Do not hold back, release all that which is in the way, my beloveds. God is touching you at this time with His Love. Beautiful souls, precious and beautiful souls, God bless you, my beloveds. Confucius loves you.

My beloved children, you have reached out to one another, and you have joined hands in Love, and you have found harmony amongst you, beautiful, beloved souls. Now you much reach God and find harmony with Him. Open yourselves completely to your Heavenly Father, who at this moment pours His Love upon you. Release your burdens. Those who are hiding, come out, come out. We all long for God and He is here for you in His great Love, He is here for you in His deep and abiding care for you. He wants you to know how much you are loved. He wants you to know how deep that Love is. Blessed children, come together and be with God. He is here and He loves you. God bless you. I am Andrew and I love you.

Spirit: Keea atta Kem

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 21, 2015

God bless you, I am Keea atta Kem. Yes, my beloveds, when you walk the Earth you can bring change and Love but you must be with God in this, you must follow His Will and put aside your will, for your will impedes the Love, it is part of the human condition that impedes the Love. And the only way you can know God's Will is to be centered within your soul, to understand His desires. The power of His Love is to be within that place that is your soul and many of you struggle to reside there, to know this place well and to know God's Will, His still voice guiding you, His warm Touch healing you and loving you. And as you go again and again to that sacred and beautiful place within you, you cause, with your efforts and God's Touch, a deep and abiding shift within you, a releasing of all of your wounds, and all that is in error, and all that holds you tightly in the confines of your mind and your pain. It will fall away, it will fall away, my beloveds, because it must, because of the power of God's Love to transform you and heal you, because God wants you to be free and to be in joy.

My beloved, beautiful souls, come to know God in this way, trust in this journey within yourselves, pray for God to bring you to the sacred place within you where you and He will meet in loving communion and let the world, the troubles of the world, the conditions of the world fall away that you may be in holy communion, in loving rapport with your God. Feel this peace that passes all understanding, know this Love that is not like any other love. It is divine; it is of God. Accept this Love within you and allow it to heal your soul, heal your hurts, heal your body, heal your spirit, and bring all into harmony and alignment and balance that your consciousness may truly be from that place of soul, that your perceptions and your awareness and your wisdom may come from that place of the soul.

This is your goal, my dear and beloved brothers and sisters, to shift your consciousness from that of the human condition and your mind to that place of soul and God, for there all questions are answered, all hurts are healed, all fear is resolved, and all wisdom flows, and all Love envelops and infuses everything and every part of you. Shall we go there together, my beloveds? Shall we go now to that place of deep peace, of stillness and Love where God is with us and we are aware of His presence? Be with us, my beloveds, in that place. God bless you. I am Keea and I love you.

Spirit: Martin Luther

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 21, 2015

God bless you, beloved souls, I am Martin Luther and I come to be with you this day to assure you that you all have within your souls a drop of the Father's Love, a touch of His Light. You have received this in your prayers together.

There is such diversity in this room. There are the young and the old, there are those who have walked this Path of Love for many years, and those who have just begun, and those who seek, they are drawn, and those who wish to give, and those who truly understand the Love of God, and those who do not. This is as the world is. And there are those who believe that they are greatly progressed upon this Path of Love, but are not, and those who are humble and have no idea of their wonderful, bright souls, and there are those who long for Love yet do not understand how this is received within the soul. But they wish for this and in their longings and in their efforts and prayers God will answer and bring them the understanding that they seek.

Yes, great diversity here, my beloveds, but each one is loved beyond measure, each soul is precious in the eyes of God, each soul will be redeemed by this Love in good time. So I ask you, my beloved brethren, brothers and sisters all, who seek the Truth, judge not your brother, judge not your sister, but Love them, for you do not know the Light within their souls, you cannot judge their Path in this world. You cannot be that one of authority, for only God can judge and God does not judge, He loves. He loves all.

So when you touch a stranger in Love you do God's work. When you put aside your judgments you do as God wishes you to do. When you take up the work of Love that brings greater Light and understanding to this world you are fulfilling the desire of your soul. Every day is a choice, my beloveds. Every day you are given opportunities. Every day is a possibility to be in the Light. Bring these choices to your awareness and the possibilities that seek God in all of this. Seek God in all of this and your journey will be magnificent and the souls that you touch will be bounteous and unexpected. The encounters that you have will be wonderful. The life that you will live will be full of joy and fulfillment. But the choice, my beloved souls, is yours. You cannot give from an empty basket. You must give with a soul filled with Love. In this way you do not feel that you are being depleted, but you are being filled as you Love, so you shall be loved, as you give so you shall be given to. This is how God created your being, your soul. The more that you can love, the more that God can love you, in a conscious way, in a powerful way. And you will open and expand in this Love feeling the wonderful energies of this Love, feeling the vitality, the strength, the wisdom and the humility of this Love within you.

God needs many channels of Love in this world, for this world needs you. It needs you so very, very much to carry the Love wherever you go. Take up this flame, my beloveds. Walk boldly. Help to dissipate the air of darkness, all the wrongdoing in this world that is caused by the blinded souls, the suffering souls who do not even know that they are living in a way that is contrary to God's laws and creation. They do not know, my beloveds, they do not understand. But when you are with them it will spark an awareness, it will spark something that will cause a change and a shift within them. But if you encounter those whom you see and know are in darkness and you judge them and condemn them, you do nothing but add to that darkness.

God wants you to be a part of His effort to dissipate this darkness in the world. You must not judge or withdraw or be repulsed. You must Love and give in Love, even those with terrible diseases, you may touch them and you will not be harmed if you do so in Love. And those filled with anger, you may embrace them and they will respond, not with violence but with tears. There is much work, my beloveds, in this world for all of you who are willing, who desire this. You cannot go far to encounter an opportunity to be a channel of Love. It may be manifest in a look, a touch, a smile. In many ways God can use you but it requires you to want to connect, to be used and to reach out to another. Remember this, my beloveds, God uses those who desire to be used in Love and Light. He will not ignore you. He will not allow you to sit on the sidelines. He wishes you to be fully in the game, the game of Love. God bless you, beloved souls. I love you, I am Martin. I love you. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

It is your teacher Augustine. You have each received the Gift of the Father's Love within your souls and you have each received a Gift that you will take with you that will enhance your experience upon the morrow in your prayers. It will bring you some help and support for you to reach a deeper place within your souls. And we wish for you to go to your beds in peace and to feel the joy of your Father's Love for you. As you sleep in your beds, this Gift will work its blessing upon you. Come together tomorrow with deep expectations of the blessing of the Father's Love in great abundance. For if you indeed allow this Gift to work its blessing you will all be lifted very high beyond these conditions of the world, beyond the conditions within you to a place of deep communion and Love.

The Father has given you this Gift. He wants you to experience the depth of His Love, to be open and embraced in all its beauty and power and glory. Blessed souls, you have come for this. You were drawn for this experience of deep communion and fellowship and the Grace of the Father's Touch. It is meant for you. It will be given. It is yours to receive and each day is an opportunity to receive His Touch of Love, to be open to this Gift, to walk in the flow of His Love. Continue in your efforts. The intensity of your prayers will bring an intense response. Be at peace, my beloveds, and know the joy that awaits, that is given, that will be with all of you. God bless you, your teacher Augustine is with you, and for each of you an angel will be with you through the night, keeping you in this Light, bathing you in Love. God bless you.

Spirit: John the Beloved

Beloveds, the world cries out for healing and peace, and God has given you great blessings, my beloveds. He has given you a gift this day and some have felt it deeply while others have felt something. But I tell you, each of you has been blessed mightily within your souls and given a gift that is meant to be a part of your efforts in this world, to help heal this world. And each gift is unique, is something that you require, is something that will assist you in your spiritual journey, in your efforts to be a channel of Love in this world. And you will find yourselves changing within your awareness, your thinking, and what you do. And what is important to you at this time will be in alignment with the Will of your Heavenly Father.

Be open to this inspiration that God has put within you. Be open to what your souls are informing you. There is much work for all the souls who desire this. There is much work. For millions upon millions of souls on this Earth are lost and hurting. Do you not want to bring comfort? Do you not want to bring the ways and means for them to reach the Light, to know how much they are loved? You have been strengthened and given deeper Love. Parts of your souls were opened this day that remained closed. Parts of your consciousness were given the means of accessing the Truth within your souls. Gifts, many gifts were given. And many gifts were opened, a beginning for you to discover what lies within.

Now you must walk in faith, my beloveds. Now you must go, in the Light always seeking ever higher and asking God, What is next? What shall I do? Help me to be that channel of Love in the world. Show me how to love. Keep me within Your Grace. Guide me as I walk this Earth. Fill me with Your Love. Beloved, beloved Father, fill me with Your Love and I shall listen to You, obey You and know Your Will. Help me, help me, Dear Father, to reach You always, to be in Your Grace and presence, and may Your angels be with me always and Your Love flow into my soul always, for I want to walk to my at-onement with You. I want this deep within me. I know this is what You want me to do and this is what I want to do, to be at one with You, to know Your Love completely, to be within You. Blessed souls, blessed souls, you are blessed. I am John the Beloved. God bless you, beloveds. You are beloved.

Spirit: Augustine

It is your teacher Augustine here. God bless you, beloved students, beautiful souls, children of our Creator. God has touched you deeply this day and has touched you deeply as you have come together in these past days. And we wish to talk to you about these shifts and changes that will be coming within your consciences and your being and your lives. We will do so in the coming prayer on this day and I wish for you, my beloveds, to share with one another what you believe has happened within you. Is there something different and what might that be? Are you different and how is that within you? Do you feel closer to God? Do you feel more in harmony with His Love? And how will you express this when you leave for your homes and your lives in this world.

We wish for you to think about these questions and discuss amongst you what this is, how this is and possibly why this is. You need, my beloveds, you need desperately to bring these things, this awareness, out in the open, so that you may examine the changes within and embrace them in a conscious way. Work towards this goal together. Work towards this goal with each day, for God wants you to make those changes that will bring greater harmony to you, and within you. God bless you, beloved souls, God bless you. Remain together, strengthen your fellowship, support one another and walk in the Love. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 22, 2015

God bless you, my beloved souls, it is Augustine, your teacher, and I promised you some commentary on the changes in the world and the changes within your souls, so I shall begin.

I will begin with your souls for all beginnings are with your soul. The soul is born into the world with many potentials, with the Gift of free will, with the natural love and many attributes that often are not activated, because of the human condition, that presses upon the soul and creates a stifling environment where the soul is encrusted and encased by these conditions and the experiences of the soul in the flesh. You, my beloveds, have ventured forth to clear those encrustations, to rectify this situation of repression and negativity and, to some degree, darkness. And you have done so by following our instructions, our guidance to pray for God's Divine Love. And many of you have done so for a good period of time and these prayers, these efforts modulate with the conditions that surround you. Your ability to concentrate on this effort, the earnestness that you feel within your souls and through this period you have made a journey, and this journey has brought you to this place together in harmony seeking ever more of the Father's Love, seeking ever more the freedom, the release from these conditions which all humanity are entrapped within. And you have had success. You have found the way to freedom and joy of being with your Heavenly Father in a way that is often, far too often, foreign to so many. And you've prayed to come together and you have prayed together and in this you have found more – more blessings, more freedom and this has shifted your souls, shifted your consciousness because I tell you, my students, the power of group prayer is awesome in its nature. For when you align yourselves with one another with a singleness of purpose to receive the Father's Love into your souls you bring a mighty power into your midst, a response from your Heavenly Father that touches all the souls who are present, and this has happened my beloveds, this has happened.

And along with this blessing of Divine Love you have received other blessings, other Gifts that will ignite the potentials of your soul, will open the faculties of your soul so that you may more readily operate from that place of soul consciousness. The power of Divine Love brings many Gifts and the Father is able to imbue you with certain blessings that do indeed open you in this way. And as these things within you blossom and grow, so your mind is influenced and changed by the activities of your soul. And the mind of the soul becomes more predominant, it informs the material mind. Great inspiration comes in this way through your soul and the mind of your soul. And we, who surround you, come to inspire you, to bring our influence, to help you understand, to help you understand how God's creation functions, how your soul functions, what it is that causes this great awakening which is the simple blessing of the Father's Essence settling deep within you, pushing forth into every aspect of your souls, releasing these encrustations, freeing you and bringing you consciously in touch with these parts of yourselves, so foreign, hidden, inaccessible without this blessing and the power of this blessing.

So I tell you my brothers and sisters, beautiful children all in the care of God's Love, you have raised yourselves another step, you have come a little closer to your Heavenly Father. And this, my beloveds, is an endless journey towards atonement and every step you take is empowered by Love, every opening that happens within you is a result of receiving the Divine Essence within your souls. And this is the Path Divine, the Path that you have chosen, the Path that brings you back again and again to the fountainhead of Love. And in this, in your prayers, you are enveloped, and healed, and made new, and reborn in Love.

Blessed, blessed souls there is no greater pursuit. There is no higher blessing than this and it is yours for the taking, for the asking, for the receiving of this Gift which the Father gives and asks nothing in return, but your continued solicitation of this precious Gift. The universe is bountiful, it is filled with Love. No soul need to be deprived of Love, but each soul is required to be open to this Gift, to ask in their yearnings and longings. And many do receive this Gift but do not know what it is. And for you, my beloveds, to know it, to know how to receive it, and to receive it in abundance, you carry a key for so many others who are seeking, whose souls long for this. You are given this opportunity and responsibility to give to the many souls around you this key. And this key is not necessarily given in words, it is given in your presence, glowing in the Love, touching another soul. And a time comes when each soul rises forth within that being and asks that question, "Where does this Love come, how may I receive this Love?" This question may not be as direct as this, but still they are drawn to you and often not knowing why, but their souls know, their souls draw them to you and you must respond and give Love, give Love. For it is in Love that all the questions are answered and deep peace and joy spring forth from Love.

So my precious, beautiful students, continue to walk this Path and recognize when God opens a door for you to give Love. This is not a rare thing but all too common within your lives. It happens in many ways and it is a Gift to you to serve others in this way. It is a deep Gift, a Gift that opens a greater inflowing of the Father's Love within your soul. For as you give Love you receive Love. As you give Love you are more attuned to Love and this elicits a great longing within your soul.

The world will be changed by one soul touching another as that soul is used by God as a channel of Love in the world. Every time we touch another soul in this way you are changing the world. And the world hungers. The world is in deep deprivation. So little Love in this world, yet so much Love in the universe of God's world and God desires for all to be loved, to know that they are loved, to receive His blessings of Love. This is meant for all, freely given for those who seek it. Walk in this world as a shining example of Love. Bring this Love wherever you go. Let this Love inform every part of your being. Be that child of God that you are meant to be, that you truly are. Do not hide; do not hide your Light but shine forth in the world giving through your own Gifts and abilities to bring comfort and Light and truth and beauty to the world. Each of you have great Gifts, wondrous potentials, which require you to truly believe that they exist, that you have these beautiful Gifts within you to acknowledge them, to live in the flow of these Gifts, to nurture them and bring them forth. For each Gift is unique and beautiful. And together they form your true selves. And the expression of these Gifts are the expression of who you truly are, and in this way you will truly feel whole and loved and purposeful in the world.

And we in spirit have dedicated ourselves to support you in this, to inspire you, to love you and to pray over you so that you may walk in this way, in Light, and touch other souls who will, in turn, touch other souls until the whole world has changed and made anew in the Light of God's Love.

This world of yours, my beloveds, it bends and groans under the burden of the conditions that mankind has set upon it. It has brought a great imbalance, it is a world that is, that has terrible, difficult and destructive conditions within it. Your world is ill and it needs healing, it needs Love, it needs to be acknowledged and respected for it is your home. This is where you all live and breathe. This is how you are sustained in your bodies through what this world gives, this beautiful world that is a creation of your Creator and loved by your Creator.

And as mankind blindly carries on in their greed and their unloving perspectives and their desire for power and control to bring wealth, to bring everything that gratifies their material beings, the appetites and desires of their flesh, this hurts your world. This brings pain to all, you all bring pain to one another in these conditions and this mindful attitude which is born from fear and error and lack of love. For a soul filled with Love would not conduct themselves in this way, this is incompatible with Love. And you, my beloveds, must teach the way of Love and must learn each day the way of Love so that you truly give, you may truly show others, through your example, the road to take to bring more life to this world rather than take life away from this world. It is possible, for many of you it seems a deep and terrible dilemma and I know you anguish over this. You see the destruction, every soul feels the distress of this world, but so few truly understand it or acknowledge this reality.

It is time, my beloveds, for great change to take place. The world will make its attempts to shake off humanity's terrible burden upon it and this will manifest in many different ways. As the ground shakes and the seas rise and the climate brings terrible destruction and inequities within this world that has been nurtured by the rains and the sun and the wind, in these things will come to extremes and cause destruction in your world washing away, washing away much of what mankind has done, making conditions difficult for all of you, my beloveds. It is in your faith, in your closeness to God that you will know how to cope with these changing conditions which will intensify and come to a head and will cause all of you to live differently in this world. It must be so. It is not God's Will that you suffer, but in God's creation, His orderly laws of creation, where there is an action there must be a response. This is a law of the universe and these responses are in relation to the actions.

So, I wish for you, my beloveds, to contemplate how it is you will make changes in your lives in this world to bring greater harmony. Prayer is the most powerful tool you have. Your free will is always operating. You have choices to make and Love; Love will heal all and inform you as to how you will be in this world, what you will do in this world. And as you follow your Father's guidance there is much for you to do within your personal lives and within the world as a whole. Your countries, the many countries in this world must come to the realization that they cannot continue to function in this way, it cannot be sustained. And this is well known amongst your scientists and they cry out and say stop. But the momentum and power of those in power and who have great wealth resist. They are fearful, they want to retain what they have built. But I tell you, this is not possible, God will not let the world go to rack and ruin. God wants this world to be a place that nurtures and sustains all life. And if it requires drastic responses then so be it. Mankind's will must be subjugated and the Will of God must prevail.

We are in serious times, my beloveds, great upheavals are coming. You feel it, you feel what is just over the horizon, it is coming and you must prepare yourselves spiritually within yourselves. Become strong in your souls and your connection with your Heavenly Father who will guide you through what is to come. And when the changes are complete this world will be at peace. And those who are upon this world will see this world from a different light, will look upon one another in Love, will make the changes that are required for humanity to flourish in balance with this world.

You must all pray for your world, for all your brothers and sisters for they will need you, they will need you and you will need to be strong. And what is important to you today surely will not be so in these times. What will be important are relationships of love, your relationship with your Heavenly Father and His care for you which will bring protection and what you require to live in this world. God is the source of all things, my beloveds. Rely upon the resource that is the Creator providing, loving, guiding, caring for all. And if you are able to do this, preparing for yourselves for what is coming, you will be safe and you will be able to save many others in the times to come.

I say these things not to frighten you, my beloveds, but to tell you that God wants all of His children to live in a world that is beautiful and in balance. It is meant to be and you, my beloveds, will live in that world, will flourish and know with a deep wisdom what you must do as your souls inform your minds and God informs your soul. It is simple, yet, so very illusive for so many. But you, my beloveds, have the key, you have the Gifts, you have the abilities. You will exercise all that you are in this beautiful Light and find fulfillment and deep purpose in this way. Truly being who you were created to be and living how you are meant to live. Changes are coming, but change is good. Change brings healing and different opportunities and shifts in thinking and doing. Change is good. Do not avoid the change but embrace it in love knowing that this is God's healing for the world. This is going to bring Light to your children and their children down through the generations of children. A great healing and beautiful balance in this world. And all the creatures that are hiding and are not thriving will find their place in this world once again and they will be loved. All of this world will be loved by all who dwell upon her. It is the Gift that will be given.

God bless you, my beloveds. God bless you and may God always keep you in His care and protection and Love. It will be given to every soul who desires this. God bless you, beloveds. Your teacher Augustine loves you. I love you so. God bless you.

Each of you brings a spark into your lives; each of you will cause wonderful things to happen in this world as God's channels of Love. You will see for yourselves, my beloveds; you will see how all of this flows within the Father's plan for the salvation of mankind. You will see and you will understand because your souls are awakening and your souls are flourishing with the nourishment of God's Divine Essence. And in this awakening you will see the world from different eyes and know your God in deep and abiding ways and feel a Love for all, all your brothers and sisters, that is healing and nourishing for others, comforting and inspiring. You will touch many souls, my beloveds. You will touch many souls.

Beloveds, walk with me, walk in my footsteps and I will guide you forward. I will be with you. I will always be with you, my beloveds, and I love you. I love you. Beloved brothers and sisters upon the Path Divine, I am Confucius and I come to tell you that the angels weep in joy at your efforts and your willingness to love one another, to bring this Light to the world. And you have each journeyed far, journeyed far within yourselves and shall continue on this journey for all eternity to come to know yourselves in the Grace of our Father's Love.

And each of you have been blessed in unique and beautiful ways within your souls, placing within your souls what you require to continue to grow and to be that channel of Love in the world so that each of you may hear your guidance from God, each of you may know your next steps upon this Path of service and Light, so that each of you may create your own Circles of Light in the world. And that Circle may be to serve others in loving ways, to pray with others for God's Love and to teach the Truth. Each of you has a unique path and purpose in this world and you will now begin to uncover this within yourselves, my beloveds. Ask for God to show you, to bring you deep within yourselves that you may truly see for yourselves what it is that you carry, what gifts have been given, what Love resides within you.

You must truly Love yourselves and acknowledge that part of you which is your soul and work from this great strength and Light within you. For in this way you will find your way, in this way you unlock the doors and bring the Light in everything that you do. There is great work ahead for everyone who is willing and there are no obstructions, my beloveds, if you are in the flow of God's Love and in harmony with His Love. For God will clear your path, God will lift your burdens, God will provide the resources that you require to be His channel of Love. And for you, you must exercise your faith, stepping forward in faith, this great strength that comes with the blessing of Love. This knowing that is sure and steady like a rock within you. And when you do this on the wings of Love miracles will happen, my beloveds. Miracles of healing and change and influence that will change the lives of others and giving the Truth clearly so that there is no misunderstanding but a deep acknowledgement from those you speak to that this is the Truth.

And the Truth remains simple, my beloveds, it has always been simple. It has always been powerful in its simplicity. It is not complex; it does not require great rituals and ways that are complex, difficult. It does not require deep intellectual understanding. It requires a simple longing, a desire from your soul to know God, to be with God, and to be filled with His Love. Do not make this complicated, my beloveds. Live it. Live it every moment of your life, with every breath that you may be in God's Love, His Grace and Presence that His Love may live within you. And in this, you will know the Truth and in this God will speak the Truth through you. It is simple, it requires humility, it requires that you understand that in everything God's timing, the rhythm is from Him and His guidance and what He gives you and how His Blessings manifest within you and all around you. Remember this, my beloveds. Remember that God will guide you along the Path if you are willing to listen, if you are willing to be His instrument of Love and Light. Do not fool yourselves, my beloveds. Be honest, be truthful with yourselves. Walk with integrity. Walk with your feet solidly on the ground and your heart with God and all will be well. Your life will unfold in all its beauty and its purpose and that Path that is laid out for you and for you alone. Come to know where you must go. Come to know through your souls what you are meant to do and come to that place of commitment, of faith, of strength, of resolve, of trust that God knows, that God knows and He will give you His knowledge that is meant for you.

God's blessings for you, my beloveds, and when you fly away you will carry this Light into your lives, beloved, beloved souls. God bless you, I am Confucius and I love you beloved souls, beloved souls.

their hearts, open their souls to what you have to give to them for they now stand upon the threshold of deep and wondrous change within them and they are prepared to carry the torch of Truth into this world. Father, guide their steps, bring them what they require, help them to seek you in everything that they do in this world, for without you their steps are hollow and with you they are resounding and shake the Earth, they shake the Earth in Love. Father, may your hand be upon every soul present. May your Love envelop them always and may they be your comforter for others, the purveyor of Truth in the world. Keep them within your Light and protection. Guide them always, Light their path, they are beautiful and we are all your children, my beloveds, we are all your children.”

POST-RETREAT MESSAGES

---

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 24, 2015

It is your teacher Augustine here. I have heard this instrument say that the special dispensation given has now been removed. This is not correct. He is feeling the effects of his rather undisciplined diet and this is a lesson of discernment, my beloveds. For each of you needs to be more sensitive and wiser in your perceptions as to how God influences you and brings blessings to your lives. You will be challenged, my beloveds, as you go back to your lives in your respective cities and places of residence. The human condition is a powerful force in this world. It draws upon you, it influences you, it takes from you and rarely gives something valuable back. And, of course, you must all live in this world and cope with this condition that is not in harmony with God's Love and Laws. And you struggle with this, and you have been given an opportunity to be separated from these conditions, and you have been nourished and fed physically and spiritually, and you have known a fellowship that is beautiful and bright. And some of you feel a tinge of fear upon your return home, and I say to you that God will insulate you from the human condition if you are willing to be attuned to Him in ways that you have been attuned to God in these past days.

It requires your efforts, my beloveds, your prayers, the focusing of your thoughts, and indeed at times the disciplining of your diets. It requires effort, for the laws of cause and effect are real, the laws of God's Love are real and they need to be obeyed, and you need to be wise, my beloveds, in your actions, your thoughts and earnest in your prayers. For if you are not, these feelings of joy and relief and Love and Peace will dissipate, will dissipate until you feel like you are back within the struggles that you so wish to be away from and not a part of. This does not mean that your challenges will disappear in the world, in your world, but it will mean that the way you approach the emotional reactions to them, the anger, and the fear, and the frustration will all but disappear and you will feel a sense of empowerment to be able to cope and find ways and solutions to these dilemmas.

God offers all of these blessings to you, my beloveds, but of course it is your choice. It is your choice what next step you make in your lives, in your thoughts, in your actions. Will they be informed by Love or will they be informed by the human condition which resides in all the souls in this world? For this condition has been built for many, many thousands of years of choices made by humanity, of thoughts nurtured by those who are not informed by their souls, but their minds. My beloveds, it is important for you to recognize the difference and we have guided you through in your discussions to help you to understand the difference, the importance of having the soul discernment, the soul perceptions, the ability to see clearly the difference. This is your next step, my beloveds, to recognize and empower the soul consciousness within your being, to allow this to be that part of you which informs your choices and your actions, for in this is God guiding you and filling your souls with His Love. You will know His Will. You will understand what you must do. You will be at ease in any situation no matter how challenging it may be. You will know peace and a centeredness in God – peace and a centeredness in God, do you not all seek this, my beloveds? It is available to you, it is promised if you accept this Gift that comes from God’s Love, if you trust and adopt the wisdom that flows into your mind from your soul, if you walk in great faith and be strong in your faith and your faith be strong within you, then God can use you as His bright and beautiful channels of Love and change in this world. For the wisdom and the manifestations of Love which will come through you and into your being and all about you will draw many to you, will draw the attention, the openness that you speak of that you wish for your brothers and sisters in this world to have, that their eyes might be opened to another way of being and living in this world that will be in harmony with creation, in harmony with all the creatures of this world, in harmony with the beautiful Earth itself.

And yes, when you say you must do this one step at a time, this is correct. But first and foremost you must have your souls and your minds aligned with God’s Will and we have spent these days together to teach you, to inspire you, to show you how this is done. Please listen to our words. Please adopt these ways. And I know that the human condition is very compelling. It is difficult. It is difficult to rise above it and not be drawn into it, but you must do this my children, you must in order for you to be a part of God’s Great Plan for you and for all those who are willing to bring about the salvation of mankind. For mankind is in desperate need of change and greater harmony and peace – desperate. The negative forces in this world, the great power to destroy, the hatred, the strife, the poverty, the ignorance, the depravation that is on all levels in this world that humanity lives within is burdened by and distorted in their thinking, their doing. This must change, it must change and we rely upon willing souls such as yourselves to enact this change, to make these efforts which will be small to begin with, but each step informs the next step, each effort informs the next effort.

You must do something. You must feel within your souls this need, this desire, this sense of purpose that comes with a soul imbued with God's Love. Love must prevail, my beloveds, it must prevail within you. It does live within your souls. It must prevail within your minds and your actions and all about your life. And as Love takes a permanent place within all of these parts of you and your life it will spread, it will expand, it will grow, and it will create great Circles of Light in the world. For God will feed you, give you what you require, fill your souls with His Love. The more you allow that Love to spread and grow within the world, in your world, God will provide what is necessary to feed this Light, to inform this Light. Beloveds, seek your guidance, be firm upon this Path, allow your doubts and questions and fears to fade away. These cloaks that you wear, allow them to fall upon the Path and continue to walk forward, free of this condition which inhibits your growth, inhibits your Love, inhibits your thoughts.

God bless you, my beloveds, you are loved, and you will move forward supporting one another, and each of you will be inspired, deeply inspired, and have been deeply touched by the Father's Love. Continue in your efforts. Continue in your fellowship. Continue to Love one another and we will work with you to create these Circles of Light in the world. God bless you, beloveds.

Spirit: Seretta Kem

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 24, 2015

God bless you, my beloveds. You have had a discussion about manifestations bringing the laws of spirit clearly into this world and utilizing the ability of spirit to show material objects and manifestations of spirit.

All of these things are possible, they have been proven, but it is not required that you make this a focus in your spiritual pursuit and your work that comes in the future. For the most important part of your work is spreading the Love of God and showing the Love of God. The most powerful manifestation of all is your Love, your presence in the Light of God's Love and to have, with others, deep prayers for Love as you do together to experience the Touch of Love.

And I say to you there are times coming when God will bring the manifestations forward. There will not be many examples, this will not be a trademark of your efforts, but it will come about in harmony with the flow of God's Love and His plan. For yes, we are able to do many things which remain a mystery in your world. But, how does this bring greater Love to humanity? It merely piques the curiosity, and at times this is required, but not always. It's a deeper touch of soul to soul, of the words of Truth that resonate within the soul, of the feeling of Love that flows through you to others. This is the higher Truth imbued with wisdom and Grace and God's Touch.

Yes, Gifts will be given, manifestations will happen around you and you have seen in your lives already what is possible. And, for some of you even the ability of spirit has saved your lives. Yes, there is great power there, but we must remain focused on Love, remain focused on Love, my beloveds, and all else shall follow and find their rightful place in this flow of work, this loving expression. It will come through each one of you.

God bless you, my beloveds, in your efforts. Be with God, be with God a little closer every day and the Truth shall shine all about you and the Love shall flow in mighty rivers, and the Light shall encompass the Earth and influence many. God bless you, your servant, Seretta Kem, ever by your side utilizing the laws of spirit to bring you healing, to bring what you require, to assist you upon your Path and so much of this remains unknown to you and it is not required that you are aware, only that you exercise your faith always in the Love of God. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 28, 2015

My beloveds, precious students of Truth, you have been given a great deal of guidance as you have been together. Each day another piece of the puzzle and we have given you a clear picture of what you must do.

Continue to communicate together, my beloveds, and to strengthen these bonds, for they are important and will do great service in this work as you are united in Love you share a common understanding. You walk the Divine Path together and though you may be many miles away, this Love brings you side-by-side, hand-in-hand upon this Path. And as you accept and become more fluent with your soul you will know this, you will truly know this Truth that your souls are forever bonded in Love and that through this bond you may communicate with one another and you may work together. And as one steps forward, you all step forward, as one gains a precious soul perception and insight to Truth, you will all benefit from this. For that which flows from your souls once to another, you will soon learn to recognize and utilize this Gift of Love that creates this channel of Light amongst you and amongst all your brothers and sisters who work together, who live their lives in Truth and Love.

Yes, you begin a new phase of your journey upon this world and your journey to God. And as another door opens so the journey is more alive and certainly interesting as new perceptions open, new understandings are ignited within you and greater Truth is acknowledged. Much awaits you, my beloveds, many surprises, many experiences unanticipated. Many souls await your presence, your instrumentality that is God's channel of Love. Your Gifts shall open rapidly, my beloveds, as you learn to make that journey to your souls, to accept the wisdom of your souls and the perceptions and the Love.

Journey forth, my beloved, beloved students, and I shall be with you and I shall make efforts to teach you further upon this Path and add my prayers and my love to your efforts and your prayers and your love. You are not alone and now you know that you have your brothers and your sisters in the world. Indeed, God has gifted you with this and many more will join you in this gift of fellowship. God bless you. Your teacher Augustine truly loves you, beloveds.

Spirit: Jesus

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 28, 2015

I am your brother Jesus. I come to bless you upon your journey home, my beloved, beautiful souls. You have learned much while you were here in this place of Love. You have been given respite, your souls have been nurtured, you have been loved and you will carry the Light to your home far off.

The bonds that you have built amongst one another have a great strength and purpose, for you will work together, beloveds, in this great work of God's salvation of mankind. So much awaits you, my beloveds. Do not let your minds restrict what your souls know to be true. Allow God's Love to manifest through you and everything that you do. Trust in this, trust in one another, trust in the unfolding plan which you are a part of, which has brought you together, which will bring you together time and time again to bring Light into this world, to build, to build a great Light in this world.

I do not promise you that this will be an easy task for it will not be so. There will be trials and tribulations, challenges and difficulties. But I will tell you that I stand with you and God's Light is upon you, my beloveds, and in this you will have the strength you require to be upheld in Truth and to do this work in the world. There is so much to be done, so very much and God requires the souls that are willing to put aside that which burdens and distorts and deflects them from the Light and to accept God's Great Benediction upon you and His guidance that lives within your souls, for it lives in Light, it gives you what you require to move forward in this world in Light. God will meet your needs, my beloveds. God has always met your needs. Accept what is given. Walk in Truth. Be simple in your ways, in your words, in your Love. Be generous and kind and loving, and do not hold back your Love, but give, give abundantly and God will give to you. And He shall do so for all eternity.

Beloveds, beloveds walk with me and I will light the way. I am with you and I love you, I love you dearly. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you.

Spirit: Moses

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: August 31, 2015

God bless you. I am Moses and I have come a long ways to be with you this day. Yes indeed, God's presence is here like a sunbeam parting the clouds, His Breath blowing away all of your material cares, His Touch bringing deep peace to you, my beloveds, and His Love flows within your souls, a great benediction, touching the very deep parts within you, chambers that are opened by this Love causing you to be in greater harmony with your Heavenly Father. And as these

SUMMER 2015

Gifts are given you will come to know God deeply, my beloveds, deeply.

It is important for you to take time each day in prayer and communion with your Heavenly Father. It is important to keep your thoughts elevated. It is important to listen in the silence in your prayers for God has much to give to you, my beloveds. Be you so new, so very new and young and tender. God brings His care and envelops you with His Love and nurtures you so that you may be strong in this world, your spirits, your souls shining in Light and beauty. May you come to maturity in God's Love, my beloveds, walking this Path in Light, knowing the Truths which God imparts to you in His silence speaking to your souls, rising you up to a place of deep serenity and peace.

Beloveds, be with God at this moment. Release all the conditions of the material world and know this deep and abiding peace, this profound beauty and joy. It is yours at this moment and God is with you. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you of God.

Spirit: Seretta Kem

It is Seretta Kem. Though this instrument is in pain, we are still able to communicate, for when Love envelops you, the material conditions dissipate and the physical is not important at this time. This is a good lesson, my beloveds, how the physical body can be influenced by the Love of the soul and the touch of the angels and God's healing upon all aspects of your being.

The winds of change are blowing, my beloveds, the winds of change, and it will blow many into your orbit. Where you have a handful of souls praying with you, you will have this room overflowing. God is guiding many to you, my beloveds, and every soul in this world feels the power of this change, they have some inkling of what is to come, they feel the momentum building and the forces of the world being unleashed and causing of peoples. Yes, you have been told of this change that is coming, and we do not tell you to create concern within you, my beloveds, though there will be some adjustments and difficulties, remember God will work through you, no matter the conditions which assail you. God will work through you, my beloveds, and you will walk as a Light, a beacon in the world. Trust in this, walk in faith, do not concern yourselves with these difficulties, but concern yourself with God and His Will for you. For you must teach the children in this world, the lost souls that with the power of this faith the world will be healed and greater wisdom will abide within each soul, and healing, great and powerful healing will bring peace and Love and balance to this place, this planet, this world.

Many of you have prayed to be used as a channel of God's Love in the world. You are needed. In the times that come there will be a great need and much work and God will open the doors and forge the Path for you to walk. And what He will task you with will be surprising in its scope and humbling in its effects and power in the world. Now is the time, my beloveds, to embrace this Truth completely without reservation or doubt or reticence, to say: "I am your child, dear Father, and I walk with You and I know that what You do in this world, Your love of all Your beautiful creation needs this healing and this change and shift so that all will survive in harmony in your Grace and Light. I am with You, dear Father, I walk with You. I trust in You. My faith in You knows no bounds. My Love for You is constant. My desire to be Your channel of Love is my consuming passion. I walk with You, dear Father, and I love You. I love You.”

You all carry a Light and within your souls, you are in the Truth of His Love. You must come to that place where the Light within your souls comes forth in a conscious, clear, and powerful way influencing all that you do and all that you are accepting, accepting God’s Will and walking a Path that is not created by man, but by God. My dear and brave souls, you are loved, surrounded by angels, touched by God, nurtured in Love and Light. Be in this Light always, beloveds, and you will not know any harm, nor will anything stand in your way, for God is protecting you and guiding you. And you will walk a Lighted Path through darkened times. God bless you, beloveds. Seretta Kem always by your side, always in service, always fulfilling our dear Heavenly Father’s Will for you, for this world, for all the souls in this world, for you forge a Path for many, many souls and we assist you in your efforts to do so. God bless you and keep you in His Light. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: September 7, 2015

Bless you, my beloveds, your teacher Augustine is here. Each of you is experiencing a deep shift within yourselves. This is a time of observing, of releasing and stepping into a new realm of consciousness and closeness with your Heavenly Father, for what you received in your gatherings have enlightened your souls, my beloveds, have brought more Love into your souls and this will have its effects in all parts of your beings. For you cannot have a greater Light within you and it not influence all parts of you. You may resist or suppress, you may turn away, you may have all manner of emotions and thoughts regarding this, but I tell you, the power of God's Love, its ability to transform your being, to cleanse your souls, to influence your minds, your thinking and your perceptions, is greater than any blessing in the universe, my beloveds, it is greater than anything you may receive as a blessing, for this is the essence of the Creator. This is a substance that is born from His Soul given to your soul through the workings of the Holy Spirit.

And as God draws you closer to Him, as you make those steps towards harmony and Light and Love, you will change. This is inevitable. And yes, through your inner fear you may resist this change or misinterpret this welling up within you, but it will have its effects nonetheless, and you, my beloved, beautiful souls, must acknowledge the shifts, the mighty shifts within you. And it does take time for you to acclimate to these new conditions within you and once you come to that place of acceptance and peace after all that is within you is pushed and pulled and changed about by the power of this Love, then the skies will clear and the sun will shine and the clarity of your perceptions, born of the soul, the wonderment of your soul awakened and perceiving, perceiving the great Soul of God, the wonderment of creation and all that is within this world and the world of spirit, you will be changed, my beloveds, for that place which you thought was solid within you, that understanding will have changed and grown to something else and brought within you a sure and deep knowing of who you truly are and what God's creation truly is and who God is in His Being.

Yes the road is long, my beloveds, as this transformation continues for all eternity. But these initial steps you will find dramatic and challenging and in the end greatly rewarding, but you must be willing, you must allow, you must have faith and trust in God and His Love and you will begin to understand truly the power of His Love, the glory of His Love, the blessing that is truly given in Love to you, my beloveds.

And we in spirit and who observe you and have observed many of you for many long years are joyed at seeing this Light within you, the shifts that are coming and have come, and that perception within as you have your eyes just barely open like a newborn child perceiving the new world which he is born within, you, my beloveds, are just opening to this understanding, this world of Love and God's presence. Do not be overwhelmed or greatly concerned. Do not allow yourself to be in turmoil, but be with God, who is your anchor and will guide you along this Path of redemption and transformation. And we will surround you, my beloveds, we will walk with you, for we too have taken this road and know it well and understand the struggles that you face, the changes that are coming and in time, my beloveds, you will be joyously embracing all that will come from within and without, for it is a great journey endowed with great meaning and purpose and opening awarenesses which you do not have a great understanding of at this time will open and reveal, reveal such beauty and the glory of God's creation.

It all awaits your coming ever closer. You are shedding that which holds you back. You are accepting the invitation to move forward. You are letting God into your lives more fully and in every part of your lives. Allow, my beloveds, allow this, rejoice in this and walk in this Light that will bring you to so many unexpected places within yourselves and within the world.

Beloved students, your teacher Augustine rejoices with you in the dawning of your true selves to yourselves this awakening, and you barely see, you barely feel this new world, but it is indeed all around you, all within you, you are a part of it and it is a part of you. Continue to walk with us, continue to ask the Heavenly Father to receive His Love, this Great Blessing which will complete the healing, the birthing, the transformation. You begin anew, my beloveds, you begin anew. And as with every newborn there is rejoicing there is great rejoicing to our Heavenly Father, as you are unique and a beautiful creation of God. Beloved, beloved and precious, God bless you. Your teacher Augustine loves you and is with you on your journey. God bless you.

God bless you. Yes, now is the time when God will draw many of you together from many different places in the world, many different cultures, and ideas, and perceptions of God, and He will draw you all together, my beloveds, for you are ready to open your hearts to many, to be accepting and loving and embracing all. This is important, my beloveds, to embrace all you meet, no matter their heritage, their attitudes, the color of their skin, or what social status from which they come. The very poor and the very rich and all in between are welcome in God's house in this Light, and you will have many opportunities, my beloveds, to invite them into the fold of this Light, this circle of Light.

And some of you will be traveling around this globe, encountering many different souls who are seeking. The differences are a reflection of the conditions of the mind, the material mind, but every soul longs for Love, every soul must be given this opportunity to be in prayer together, to receive this Love and you must do so as God's channels of Love, not judging but embracing, not in fear but in Love, acknowledging that in God's universe there is such diversity, and this is beautiful. This is beautiful, my beloveds, to embrace all the differences, all that is in your world, for every child is precious in God's eyes and you must see them in this way and in this way you will be God's channels of Love, you will do His work to bring all the children of the world together in Love and harmony, in acceptance and peace.

It is time to walk in this way, creating your Circles of Light as you progress on your life's path, my beloveds. Open your eyes, the eyes of your souls and see in this way the glorious creation of God in all its wonderment and beauty, in all its variety, and this is beautiful and each soul is precious, beloveds. I am Confucius and I love you, beloveds.

A grateful soul is an open soul. When you look at your lives in this way, when you seek the Light, when you accentuate all that which is positive in your life, you are closer to God, you are closer to harmony and peace within yourselves. And when the blessing of God's Love clears away all the fear and the error, when you are in that place of gratitude and Love, when you find that deep peace within yourselves, the world changes around you, my beloveds, because you see the world differently, you know the world from a place of soul and Love and perception that comes from the soul.

Do not grasp the negative. Do not allow these thoughts and conditions to enter into your consciousness, and when it does, use this exercise of gratitude to clear away those clouds, to bring the Light back in to your minds and to allow the Light within your souls to enter into your consciousness and God's Touch upon you to bring you to that place of joy, of truly understanding the Gift that is your life and the Gift that is you within your life, within God's wondrous creation.

Beloveds, you are a Light, all of you, a beautiful Light. Walk in the world in this way rather than engaging in conditions that are not harmonious with Light. Walk in the world with this attitude that is gracious and grateful, loving and kind, generous and innocent, and God will protect you and guide you as you walk through your life in this way, and He will use you as His channels of Love, and this Light will be infectious all about you to those who encounter you, they will feel this condition and Light and they cannot but help to be drawn in, to change and shift within themselves, to be drawn into the Light.

Beloveds, it is so simple, this Grace that you carry with you and within you to express this in simple ways and to be truly yourselves in the world, a beautiful soul seeking to live a life in harmony with God's Creation and laws of Love. Carry on, my beloveds, carry on in this way and know that you are truly loved and that Love expressed in your life is a choice, it is always a choice. Allow that choice to be an expression of your beautiful souls and God's beautiful Gift of His Love. Thank you, my beloveds, I am Keea and I love you, beautiful souls, I love you. God bless you.

Spirit: Andrew

It is Andrew. Once again you come to the well of the Father's Love to quench your thirst, to drink deeply of these Living Waters that shall never end and always be there for you to receive and be open to. For God is always emanating His Love to you, my beloveds, it is always available for you as His Holy Spirit touches your souls in response to your longings, your desire to receive this Gift, this beautiful Gift of Love, His Essence flowing into you, and changing you, and healing you, and bringing you closer to His Being, and making you more in harmony with His Being and His laws of Creation for you, His laws of Love which bring their Great flow of blessings, and awareness, and openings, and knowings.

Yes, you all continue to walk this Path together and it shall lead you, my beloveds, on many wonderful journeys both within and in this world, for now you feel that you are secured with God, that you walk with Him, and He is guiding you, my beloveds, there is no longer that feeling of doubt, of unworthiness. You feel the strength of this Touch within your souls and this strength gives you the confidence to step forward in your lives and to release that part of you that is fearful and confused and filled with doubt.

My beloveds, beautiful souls, continue to be with your Heavenly Father in Love and prayer, asking for His guidance and blessings, His Love. And your eyes slowly open. You have securely shut them for many years out of fear and protection of yourselves, (not) wishing to be hurt by the so many in this world who lack clear understanding, who do not put love before anger and hostility. My beloveds, you are now strong enough to walk in this world with your head held high, fearing no one, fearing nothing, for there is nothing to fear, there is no one who can hurt you, because God has placed His Hand firmly upon you, my beloveds, and you can now walk securely in His Light and protection. And those who would cast aspersions in your direction, you will see how impotent this is and how misdirected, for those who judge and hurt are themselves in pain and lost. Love those, my beloveds, who direct negativity toward you. Say a prayer for them and say a prayer for yourselves, thanking your Heavenly Father for the Gifts of Truth and Love, Light and Enlightenment that He has given you in your lives. And there are many around you who support you and Love you. This is the result of your Light and their Light, your desire to seek Love and their desire to give Love, your desire to give Love and their desire to receive Love. It is this currency of Love that makes your life filled with wealth, filled with the treasures of the soul.

Continue, my beloveds, to love one another, to love all you meet, even those who you may have judged in the past. Be a channel of Love for them. Do not listen to their words that originate from that place of hurt, but see them as God's children, precious souls, who have not yet realized how loved they are. Judgment only brings greater negativity. It closes the door to Love. Acceptance and allowing yourselves to direct Love towards others only brings greater blessings to you, my beloveds, for you are blessed and they are blessed and all are given greater Light.

Yes, the world is a harsh place. Many wander this world, lost, afraid, ignorant, unable to love. You do not wish to join them, but you wish to change these conditions in the world as God's channels of Love. This is why we stand by your side, my beloveds. This is why God blesses you so, for he wishes for you to be that channel of Love in the world, to be clear and strong with a deep sense of how beautiful every soul is despite what covers that soul. There is beauty within, there is beauty and a wonderful potential which can be ignited by God's Love, by the natural love. It is a matter of time, and progression, effort, and prayer, learning and seeking. Every soul must do this and seek this, this Light and you precious souls have sought and found a great treasure of Light.

Continue, my beloveds, and know that you are truly loved and guided and well upon the road of deep and eternal healing and transformation. Blessed are those who walk this Path with humility and Grace in loving acceptance of all. You are blessed, my beloveds. Walk in this way and nothing negative or hurtful will touch you with this attitude of Love, gracious Love, and earnest gratitude, and self-love, and love for all. God bless you, my beloveds. I am Andrew and I am with you always upon your journeys. It is my Gift from God to be with you. God bless you and may He keep you always in this wonderful Light. God bless you.

Spirit: Mary

...Love. And my beloved son lights your way, as do many who reside within the Celestial Heavens.

Precious souls, you have been given a great Gift when you gathered together in prayer with the many souls who eagerly came to seek fellowship and Love and greater understanding of their souls. A special Gift was given to each one of you, my beloveds, and I urge you to seek, to know this and what this Gift entails, for it requires you, my beloveds, to go within your souls and know what resides there and know what God has given you and placed within you, for this Gift will bring greater understanding and strengthen you upon your journey and open you for what God intends for you to do in this world, my beloveds. There is such a great work ahead, awaiting your understanding and acceptance and true knowing.

Ask God to reveal this Gift to you in a conscious way. Let God work through you, my beloveds. Allow God to love you as deeply as you may let this in, this great Love of God, for as it pours within you it flushes away all that keeps you from this understanding and knowledge and brings you to that holy place of communion and truly knowing God and His Gifts that have been given to you, my beloveds.

Each soul here has a Light. Each soul here has a purpose, and each soul here has within them many Gifts which they are not yet aware of, which await the transformation of your consciousness to that of soul awareness and acting from that place of deep knowing and living from that place of deeply loving yourselves and all you meet.

So much awaits, you know this for we have told you this countless times. The journey never ends, my beloveds, it goes for all eternity and yes, so much awaits and we will continue to be with you, and pray for you, and love you, and guide you, and teach you. Our love is always with you. And God extends His deep and gracious care for each and every one of you, my beloveds. Accept all that is given, and in your daily lives continue to be that channel of Love in the world, for it is Love that will heal this world, Love that will bring the answers to all, Love that will bring harmony. God bless you, I am Mary and my love for you is deep, deep and strong. God bless you.

Spirit: Alec Gaunt

Alec here, wishing to say a few words of encouragement. You are all walking the Path and heading in the directions that are intended, and keeping close to you the Truth of God's Love. Do not doubt this, but continue to be sure of your steps and confirm within you what is the right direction, for God will indeed help you to see that you are heading in the direction intended, towards Light, towards the Truth, towards service, growth, Love.

Carry on, carry on, my friends, and your friend Alec is ever with you, encouraging, guiding, influencing, and working, working behind the scenes, helping in this great orchestra of the dance of the souls and this life, influencing and directing, as are all the angels engaged in this great service for the healing of this world and helping you to find your place within that flow of change and healing. I love you deeply and I am with each one of you often. I love you. God bless you. God bless you.

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: September 27, 2015

It is Augustine, my beloveds, God bless you. Yes, you will be guided and fully engaged in the work, my beloveds, as our dear friend Faith has instructed. As you clear away the obstructions within you and learn to truly love and acknowledge yourselves as the true and beautiful souls that you are, as this awareness dawns within you more fully, completely, you will be more easily guided, the insights will come in deeper and clearer ways, the guidance will lead you and show you the way towards the fulfillment of your purpose and part in the salvation of mankind. For each of you has an important role to play and through your life experiences, perspectives and gifts you will contribute important pieces to this puzzle, this picture, this plan that is of God's making.

My beloveds, do not clutter your mind with unnecessary questioning and expectations. Take all that you have that emerges from your soul to God and you will receive the answers, not necessarily within that prayer, but within your lives the answers will come to your deep questions, and desires, and eagerness to serve your Heavenly Father. And do not allow your mind to countermand what your souls know, my beloveds. Allow that deep knowing to be your anchor and your guide and the foundation from which you express yourselves in this world, for this is how God will manifest through you, my beloveds, as you open this channel of awareness and accept it and make this the great impetus for your lives.

Beloved souls, your souls are filled with God's Love, they are filled with God's Love. What Gifts you have, what beauty you carry and you do not know your own strength, the power of this Love within you, the profound wisdom that comes with this and as you reach out into the world every experience, every turn upon your Path is an opportunity to acknowledge and express what is deep within you as you allow that wondrous beauty and wisdom to be expressed in the world. It is your choice, it hinges upon the great Gift of free will, for God does not interfere with your free will, my beloveds. But as you align yourself more fully with His Will, you will find that there is no conflict, or fear, or doubt, but a true and straight line filled with Love and Light, service and joy and all else will fall away.

My beloveds, continue in your prayers and your desire to serve God and God will find the avenues you seek to walk upon and you will slowly open your eyes and see so clearly what is laid out before you as His Love clears away the shadows and the mists within you and brings that clarity and Light. It is all a Gift upon your Path, a beautiful Gift. God bless you, beloved souls. Your teacher Augustine loves you dearly and is ever with you. God bless you.

Spirit: Faith

You have drawn me to you with your conversations and I am never too far for I love you and I guide you and I am with you in your efforts to bring Light and Love in the world. And yes, my life was filled with challenges and with great blessings. I was not afraid to speak or follow my guidance for I believed it to be the Will of God, and in many ways it was the Will of God to do what I did, to act as I did, to speak as I did. Yet I did not fully understand the depth of the Truth of God's Love, though I possessed this Love while I walked this Earth. My mind was filled with other concerns, and approaches, and indoctrinations, so I did not speak the Truth of this Love clearly and succinctly as you may, my beloveds. Though I lived the Love in many ways and this is the most powerful teacher of all, to live this Love with every moment of every day, to be in prayer, to live your life as a prayer to God, to be that channel of Love in the world as a dedication to your Heavenly Father who loves you so.

All the events which you have spoken of this morning have been a double-edged sword have they not? The disappointments and the blessings, the challenges and the wonderful experiences that you have had through this journey to follow your guidance and to enact your Gifts in a loving way. And yes, though things have not turned out the way you had expected, they did facilitate great growth for you, my beloveds, upon your journey and have affirmed you in your wisdom and have taught you many things and have challenged you to put aside your judgments and be a loving channel in the face of judgments towards you. And this has indeed brought much growth within you and this instrument talks of action, of spreading the Truths of this Love in the world, and he is eager as are you, my beloveds, to do so. And I say each day is a new beginning, a new opportunity, a wondrous Gift, and rather than focus on what must be done tomorrow, live this day in Love, be Love this day and open your eyes to the opportunities that God has placed before you this day. And as each day builds upon the next and the events of the world unfold and all those whom you love and have a bond through God's Love interact and move together in the flow of God's Love and guidance, you will find your way and an ever greater expression of your Gifts, of God's Love in the world. And yes, every opportunity that you grasp, that you put your focus upon will bring about an opportunity to grow and to give, and God does not hold you back in this regard, my beloveds, but encourages you to reach out, to reach out, for there are many souls who are eager to know of this Love though their minds may reject many things associated with this Gift, their souls accept the purity and the simplicity of God's great Gift of Love, and this, my beloveds, is what you have to give, this pure and gracious Gift to all you meet and all you gather together to give this Gift of Love and acceptance, to put aside your judgments or expectations, to be God's channel of Love.

Do you think God is disappointed with you? No, my children, He loves you. He loves you every moment. He loves you always. It is only your expectations that bring disappointment and disillusionment, the constructs within your minds of who and how and what you must be, these things are irrelevant to the soul, for the soul expresses itself naturally and spontaneously without thought of what this means or how this is in the world or how I might be in the world. The soul expresses itself in all its purity and innocence like a child, free of the restrictions and constrictions of the mental conditioning and beliefs. And this is what you strive for, my beloveds, this freedom, this pure joy, this beautiful grace that is within you, that given time will be purely your expression in the world.

What beauty there is within you, my beloveds, what beauty and Light. And God is well pleased with you, my beloveds, His precious creations. His Love knows no bounds. His care for you is perfect and He guides you along your life's path, and you are aware of this in the measure of your own acceptance of it and there is much for you to discover, to know, and to be in all its beauty. Take each day as a step closer to this beautiful expression that is your soul, this unique and wondrous creation of your Heavenly Father.

My beloveds, I am with you in your struggles, in your wonderment, in your questioning, in your triumphs and your challenges. This is life, my beloveds. This is life and you have been well gifted in your lives, each one in many, many ways, in deep and profound ways, in ways that are not common, in ways that have a profound beauty. And in this be grateful, my beloveds, acknowledge God's great Gift of life and in this see yourselves as the beautiful creatures that you are in the flow and beauty of God's Touch upon you and within you and His wondrous and profound, profoundly beautiful creation that is you. And in this, you will be a channel of Love in the world, a beautiful channel of Love in the world, for God will have a deep and clear channel through you to this world as you accept who you truly are in all its beauty and glory. God bless you, my beloveds. It is Faith your friend and helper and I love you so dearly and I encourage you, my beloveds, to continue upon your Path that is the discovery of Truth and Love, Light and joy, service and humility. God bless you. God bless you.

You have all that you require, my beloved friends, to do this work. You have that Light within your souls, the Divine Essence burning away, guiding your way. You have the knowledge of the Love and the support of the angels. You have a desire to change this world, to be used in some way, to utilize your Gifts, your beings, that channel of Love within you, to bring change to this world for the better, to bring healing and balance and Truth. And you have each been given a Gift when you attended the gathering that will assist you in this and give you more of what you require to do the Father's Will in this world.

Ah, what is that, the Father's Will? You can only know the Father's Will by going within you to know your souls and that still voice that lay within your souls, so quiet yet so powerful, so beautiful and wise. Yet many of you remain on the surface of your awareness and ask from that place of the mind where the questions cannot be answered, they must be answered from your soul, my beloveds. It is there, deep within you, so much, so much awaiting your effort, your risk, your longing to go beyond your mental imaginings to that place that is more real than any other place, that has more to give you in insight and knowledge and Truth than has the ability to commune with God.

Remember, my beloved friends, always go to God and always seek the Highest. Make that effort. Make that effort to go to God and seek His Love, to go deep within you in your prayers, to seek Truth in everything, to express your Love in clarity and honesty and integrity, to walk your path guided by God and you will be surely surprised at where you land up, where you may go, who you may meet and what you may do.

Much awaits my friends, your effort and desire to be that beautiful channel of Love in the world that God so desires you to be and you within your souls are eager to be. Continue to pull away the veil of your own mental illusions and go deep within yourselves to find Truth and clarity, Love and insight, perceptions that are beyond the mind and flourish within the soul. God bless you, beloved, beloved souls, travelers along this wonderful Path who journey with eyes open, souls eager, the deep desire to know Truth and express Love. God bless you, beautiful souls, and we are always with you upon this Path and in your efforts to be a channel of Love in the world. We're always with you. God bless you. God bless you.

And it gives us great joy when you embrace one another in Love, to open your arms and your hearts to those who come and want to join you in this loving prayer. And there will be many more, my beloveds, who seek the sanctuary of this Circle of Light. For this is what you build, my beloveds, a Circle of Light, a place of peace, a place of respite, a place where the soul is nurtured in the flow of our Heavenly Father's Love. Continue to open your arms, my beloveds, to accept and embrace those who draw close to you and invite them into this circle, for many, many souls seek respite and are seeking Truth and they know not from where this Truth may come, and you, my beloveds, must say, I know, I have a key for you, a key that is the Father's Love. I will teach you to pray for this. I will give you this gift of knowledge and my love and support as you open yourselves to this benediction of Love and Light, healing and peace.

Yes, how many in your world seek God. There are so many distractions, so many and no time within their thoughts to think these deeper matters, to seek from that deep place within them and you, my beloveds, carry this Truth, this Light, and this influence that elicits the souls, that brings that small voice within the consciousness of so many, that encourages them to open themselves to this Light, to God, to His Love. This is how God works through you, my beloveds. He touches the soul of others and many watch you, take heed of how you are in the world, and who you are, and the Light and peace and Love that you carry. It is your example, this is how you teach, it is your willingness to embrace many. This is how you bring Light in the world. It is your efforts in prayer for many. This is how you bring God's influence in a greater way in this world.

There are many ways you may serve, my beloveds. There is much work for you to do. And though your tasks and the effects which are obtained by your efforts may not seem obvious, nonetheless you are sowing seeds, you are giving that touch of healing and comfort. God is using you to inspire others. The Light grows and shall continue to grow and this Circle of Light grows and there will be many other Circles of Light, places of refuge, for the world needs this desperately. And in the coming times it will be a necessity, these places of refuge and peace and healing and Love.

Remember this, my beloveds. You each hold the key that will save many souls from anguish and pain, darkness and suffering. And I know within each one of you is a deep desire to help your brothers and sisters who are lost in this world, who struggle, who have a deep longing but know not for what. Shout your joy, my beloveds, and say, I know what it is you long for. I have felt God's Touch within me and I know the joy of His Love. Beloved children, carry on in your efforts. Do not shrink from those opportunities to embrace others in joyful Love, in joyful acknowledgment of the beauty of every soul in this world. God bless you, your teacher Augustine loves you dearly, loves you dearly. God bless you.

Spirit: Moses

Medium: Al Fike Location: Gibsons, BC Date: October 5, 2015

I am Moses and I've come a great distance to be with you, my beloveds, for I live in the Celestial Heavens.

Yes, when I was on Earth I journeyed near and far. My life was filled with journeys and I relied upon my Heavenly Father to guide me along my path and I sought His guidance and His presence in my life. And, in so doing, I brought a deep insight into myself and an ability to see, to have vision spiritually. And you, my beloved, beautiful souls, it is like you are in a boat upon the seas and you are all together in this boat being guided by God. Some of you have vision, some have wisdom, you all contribute in some way to this journey together as God guides you and uses your Gifts to contribute to the journey. Beloved souls, know that God has brought you together, that He gives you the Gift of one another, that He shows you, through His guidance, the steps you must take, the journey upon this water.

Yet, you know not where you go, but you know you were meant to go in this direction, to follow this course and to be together in loving support of one another, to receive the guidance of God, to be in loving harmony, to share this journey of Love. Continue in your loving support, continue to pray for God's Love to enter your souls so that you may have the fuel for this journey, that flame within you that supports and carries you and gives you that deep faith that God is leading you on an important quest, a beautiful journey of Love.

And, there are things you must do, my beloveds. You must send your prayers to your Heavenly Father, you must believe and have faith that these prayers will reach their mark and elicit the response from the Creator to your souls, opening within you the vision that you require to journey forward. And when you feel you are lost upon this ocean and it does not feel that you move forward, your Father will show you that indeed you are, that you grow within yourselves, that you are becoming transformed by this Love and you will continue upon this great journey, upon this ocean of Love. And much awaits you, my beloveds, as you continue in your faithful and obedient way together, guided by God. It is not only a journey to discover your true selves, but a journey of service, expressing Light and beauty, expressing who you truly are and a channel of God's Love in this world.

And you continue, my beloveds, you continue and God will ever be there like a guiding star, a great light showing you where you must go. Take comfort in one another and use your Gifts to support one another in loving ways and as you support one another, you help each beautiful soul to open a little further and to be a clearer channel in the world.

Yes, I journeyed far and I'm known amongst men for my journeys, but you, my beloveds, will journey further and you will, in time, save many souls from the dark and lost journey that they are on. Show them the way, God's Way to Light and great peace and joy. Beloved souls, may the Father touch your souls deeply, bring you peace and joy and wisdom that can come from only that place within you that is in touch with God. God bless you, my beloveds, I am Moses and I come to encourage you upon your journeys and I walk with you as you discover each day as a Gift from God. God bless you.

JOHN THE BELOVED'S PRAYER

---

Given 8/22/2015

Father, help me to be that channel of Love in the world.

Show me how to love.

Keep me within Your Grace.

Guide me as I walk this Earth.

Fill me with Your Love.

Beloved, beloved Father, fill me with Your Love and I shall listen to You, obey You and know Your Will.

Help me, help me, Dear Father, to reach You always, to be in Your Grace and presence, and may Your angels be with me always and Your Love flow into my soul always, for I want to walk to my at-onement with You.

I want this deep within me.

I know this is what You want me to do and this is what I want to do, to be at one with You, to know Your Love completely, to be within You.

OUR CELESTIAL GUIDES AND TEACHERS

Mary, mother of Jesus

Isaiah, evangelist and prophet of Israel, widely quoted in the New Testament for predicting the coming of Jesus and warning his people not to forsake God.

Moses, who led the Israelites out of Egyptian slavery and then to the Promised Land

Seretta Kem, an Egyptian chemist and healer

Keea-atta-Kem, an Egyptian princess, daughter of Ramses

Confucius, an ancient Chinese philosopher

Augustine, when on Earth, Bishop of Hippo

St. Francis of Assisi, founder of the Franciscan order.

Martin Luther, German priest and theologian instrumental in the 16th century Protestant Reformation

James Padgett, who in the 20th century, was used by God in transmitting Jesus' gospel anew

Goldie, a mischievous and joyful spirit guide who brings laughter even during trials and tribulations

Faith, a great mystic and charismatic Catholic who challenged the orthodoxy of her church

Alec Gaunt, passed into spirit in 1971; Alec pioneered the understanding of Divine Love on the west coast of Canada. His dedication and insistence upon reaching for the highest truths, along with his tireless efforts to gather people together in prayer left a lasting legacy, not only in Western Canada, but around the world.

We are deeply grateful to the founding directors of the Divine Love Sanctuary Foundation for hosting Divine Love Retreats in the summer of 2015! With their earnest prayers, loving energy and tireless efforts, the Circles of Light held during the Summer of 2015 surpassed our expectations!

We are also grateful to Helge Mercker (Namibia), Brian Holmes (New Jersey) and Maureen Cardoso (Abbotsford, B.C.), for transcribing and selecting the messages contained in this book! No easy task! What a labour of love – they have given countless hours of dedicated service to make this publication possible.
