MESSAGES FROM CELESTIAL ANGELS

SPIRIT: MARTIN LUTHER

Medium: Al Fike Location: Frankfurt, Germany Date: August 31, 2016

Title: Welcome To Frankfurt

Welcome, beautiful souls. I am Martin Luther, and I welcome you to the country in which I was born and I regret that I cannot speak my language through this instrument who is unprepared to do so, so we will have to make due with English.

Beloved souls, you have been called together and I have worked with the beautiful souls who have arranged this gathering and the purpose of which is to start a new Reformation, a new understanding of what is truly a journey of the soul.

Yes, I fought for change in my country and that had far-reaching effects. And now, beloved souls, those of you who are willing, must again fight for change, must again bring the truth that you have to your respective countries, to bring a great change, a great Reformation. For this Reformation, this revolution of thought and deed based on love, the Divine Love, will change the world, beloved souls, for all those who are hungering, who need from deep within themselves a great cleansing and comfort, a Touch from God so that they may know of joy, that they may open their eyes and see the truth. For so many in this world are blind, so many go about their day without even a thought towards God, without expressing love, without bringing harmony to your world. And you, beloved souls, you will bring change. You will show through your example what God means for all humanity to be, to be spiritually strong and beautiful, to be that channel of Love that is so needed in this world.

In my time, my thinking was different and my efforts were born mainly of the mind, the material mind. Although something within me motivated me, something within my soul, God did indeed guide me, strengthen me, show me the way, but now you have so much more clarity. You can bypass all the intellectualism, the analysis, the step-by-step ways in which you reassure your mind of the truth.

Here, beloved souls, you will come to know, through your soul awakening, the Truth. And this is what we set before us for these days to come, to awaken the soul, to bring greater understanding from that place of soul which will influence and change your minds. It is not from the mind to the soul, beloveds, in these days ahead, it is from the soul to the mind. May that awakening happen for each one of you and those who are coming. May that beautiful flowering of awareness, in coming to God in innocence, in clarity, in a singleness of desire and purpose bring to you a mighty inflowing of Love into your souls.

Every gathering such as this has the potential to bring the Pentecost to your beings and this is a real blessing, beloveds, a mighty blessing that will change each and every one of you. Are you willing to focus your true hearts upon this great benefit and blessing of God's Essence? If you are, if you have a sincere longing and you push aside those elements within your minds which cause resistance and questioning. If you are willing to take this great leap of faith, then great blessings will come, for it is the longing of the soul, the focusing of the soul towards God that will bring all that you require.

I was a man of rules, of intellect, but I was also a man who desired that the world change for the better, that all the dogmas and the heaviness of those who would control the seeking souls would disappear and that we would all have freedom to worship God in our own way and this, beloved souls, is still my desire, that you all worship the Heavenly Father in your own ways, in your own words and with a great longing from your soul and in this way you will turn that key, the door will open and you will enter into a world that is filled with Grace, the presence of God and your soul will sing in joy and come to know wondrous things as you reach out to your Heavenly Father in true prayer, prayer that is not necessarily of words, but it is and must be your deep desire for connection and love, for healing and comfort, to know this great joy.

So, my fellow seekers of truth, my Reformers, shall we enter into this place, seeking Love, Light, healing, joy, and doing so without trepidation or ambivalence but to do so with innocence and curiosity and a deep desire.

Thank you for listening to me and thank you for allowing me to open this circle. Many will come to speak. Much is to be conveyed and we will together bring ourselves up far beyond the human condition into a place of soulful, joyful dancing with God.

God bless you, beloveds. I am Martin Luther and will be with you as will many Angels in these days to come.

Title: Be Open To God's Love

I come, I am Jesus. Beloveds, I want you to come to know me for I am your brother and I come to show you the way to the enlightenment of your souls. I come to light the way so that you may realize those deep longings within you, to be in the Light, to know deep love, to be in harmony within. Cast aside your doubts, beloved brothers and sisters, and be open to what God will give you as you set forth your longings to the Creator.

You are loved, each one a beautiful soul, each one is worthy of God's Touch of Love. Each one who allows this deep touch within them will begin a journey to atonement with God. The only obstacle in your way, beloved souls, is yourselves. For within your minds many of you have barriers caused by many conditions in this world, many things that were told to you, many betrayals by others. Even your country struggles to rise beyond those conditions created long ago.

Forgiveness, beloved souls, will open the door, forgiveness of yourselves, of all those around you and in place you must put love. Love, my beloveds, is the key to healing. Love will open the door to God and God's Love will come rushing in like a mighty river bringing you to that place of enlightenment, understanding, and peace.

You all long for this, beloveds. You all seek it and I will lead you as will many Angels upon this path. Be humble. Be innocent. Ask God to show you and you shall be shown and your eyes will be open and Love, glorious Love will be yours.

God bless you. I will be with you upon this short journey together. I will be with you as you come to reconcile the truth within yourselves and come to know the great power and glory and wonderment which is God's Love for you, beloved souls.

God bless you. God bless you.

Title: Group Prayer Multiplies Blessings

And may the Father's Love find a constant inflowing into your souls that that Light might burn brighter and brighter till it is bright like the sun, illuminating all that which is around you, beloved souls. For God's Love is unlimited, the capacity to receive this Love is unlimited, only restricted by your own desires and longings. The more passionate you are to receive this gift the greater will be the inflowing of this blessing. And so it is in a group of souls praying together, it is your longing, your passion, your focus, and your efforts to receive and to be in harmony together to create those conditions amongst you that draws this great blessing to you. And the great benefit of group prayer is how the longing, the desire is multiplied by each individual coming together, harmonizing and resonating with one another. And in this way a great inflowing is possible for each one of you. You benefit from the prayers of your brothers and sisters who join you. You come to a place of harmony and so the energy of the group, the flow of that energy within a group generates the conditions required for these great blessings to be given.

This is not the only way to receive Divine Love, my brothers, my sisters, it is in your personal and private prayers that the substantial portion of Love is given. But in these special occasions when you come together to receive, you generate and activate a great law of attraction that brings a greater benefit, a substantial benefit to each one of you. And these benefits come in the form of receiving the Love, in the form of receiving the healing from God, in the form of the powerful presence of the peace that passes all understanding. And so as you continue to pray together keep this in mind, beloved souls, that you are generating something very sacred together, that you are giving to all your brothers and sisters in a way that brings great benefit to them as well as you. And there are many energies that come with these prayers that are beneficial not only to you and this group but to all those who are connected to you in this great network, this lattice of Light, these love bonds that are created between you and all those you care for and love, and even all those who are associated with you. So you generate a Light through your prayers that spreads out through this network and benefits many others. So again the benefits are multiplied in a group setting.

The blessings flow out in waves, colors of Light, great peace and healing. This my beloved, beautiful friends, is what will change the world. It is prayer, beloveds, it is the power of prayer, it is laying down your own egos and personal sense that you are all powerful and going to God and saying, "God, you are the one who is all powerful. In my prayer and love for you I accept that you will bring these gifts and blessings to others and if in my own small way, I can be an instrument for this, if I can assist you in this, if I can bring my own gifts into play for you as a dedication of love towards you and a dedication of love towards my brothers and sisters". Then you open a door that is powerful indeed.

This does not take away from your beings, beloved souls. It adds to you. For as you give, so you receive; as you are willing to be used by God, so you are blessed. And many do not understand this. They seek to make themselves strong and powerful, to walk this Earth contained within themselves, feeling that they have the perceptions and the abilities to be a strong influence upon others. And to some degree this is true, but there is always something higher, my beloveds, something more powerful than you, just as the concept of this group power indicates greater power than yourselves so the concept of the power of God brings greater power to you, through you and around you to others.

It is an important understanding and God does not negate your own efforts to be strong and to be spiritually pure. No, my beloveds, God adds to your gifts. God can use your gifts and who you are, as the beautiful souls that you are. But part of you must let go and allow God to work through you. This is so difficult for the souls who inhabit the Earth at this time, for the messages that you receive is to be strong and powerful, be contained, be yourself, do not allow others to influence you, assess everything, judge everything, be powerful. And I say to you, my beloved souls, my friends, there is a higher way. There is a way where you feel completely and utterly acknowledged and sure within yourselves for your souls touched by God's Love will bring this condition within you and your minds will acquiesce to the desires of your soul which acquiesces to the desires of God. And you become a balanced and spiritually mature human being when these elements are in balance, when the flow of God's Will informs your actions, when the flow of God's Love touches everything you do, everything you are, and everything that you will be. You will flower and expand, and become a mighty force that will beat back the dark conditions of this world.

The phrase "Seek ye the Kingdom of Heaven and all things shall come unto you" is a truth. In order to seek the Kingdom of Heaven you must receive the glories of Heaven which is the Love of God and to be as a child innocent, full of joy and desire, full of longing for God, for this embrace. This is the beginning, it is the first step of many, many steps as you ascend in your souls, in your development and you answer that call deep within you to serve mankind.

God has a plan for each and every soul in this world and it is for you, my beloveds, to understand that plan and the purpose for your existence in this world and the key will come to you personally and in harmony, in a way that you will understand, for each path is unique, each expression is unique, each soul is unique and God will nurture that beautiful flower that is you and bring you to full bloom, shining brightly in all its beauty.

I thank you, my beloveds, for allowing me to speak. I am Seretta Kem. I existed many thousands of years ago in the country of Egypt. I was a healer and I continue to be a healer in the world of spirit and even in this world when I am able to be used as God's channel through healing and Love in this world, I come and I help. So I ask you, beloved souls, when you need my help, ask for me by name and I will come to you in an effort to help you with whatever you are struggling with, for as an Angel in the Celestial Heavens our great task and our great joy is to serve all spirits and mankind in love.

God bless you beloveds. God bless you and I love you.

Title: Seek God's Peace

Standing, when you feel this great and deep peace you know that God has touched you, you know that your soul has been awakened to some degree and that you are touched by God, for His mark is the peace that passes all understanding. Seek out this beautiful peace; seek God in this way and know that His Love comes with this great and gentle touch within your being. God bless you. I am Andrew.

Title: Natural Love And Divine Love

I am Augustine, your teacher, I was once the Bishop of Hippo many, many years ago and I have spent many centuries in the world of Spirit and I now reside within the Celestial Heavens, for my soul has been redeemed by the Father's Love.

Precious souls, you have had an important conversation amongst yourselves brought upon by the visitation of a beautiful soul who has expressed his beliefs about Divine Love. This soul does have Divine Love within him, yet he does not clearly understand the differences between what resides within his soul and the understandings of the love that is of the natural kind, the human love.

And this is understandable, for many of you and many, many in the world do not see the difference, they do not discern the difference between the Love of God and the love of man. For when you experience love you feel the upliftment of this condition of love. You enjoy its experience. You are not thinking of which to attribute this experience to, merely to experience what it is in your life and so it is with most of mankind. They experience different emotions, feelings, aspects of love, the love of their parents towards them, the love they feel for their mates, the love they feel for their children, and all of these are beautiful attributes of the natural love not to be denied nor to be pushed aside as something inferior. No, my beloved children, the natural love is a beautiful manifestation which each soul in this world is capable of experiencing and expressing in a myriad of ways and it is a gift from God.

The Divine Love has a quality, a substance, a certain texture of experience within your being that is unique. It is of its own something that only a soul yearning and open for this blessing can experience in a full and rich way.

And for you, my beloved souls, who are familiar with the natural love and your life experience is rich with this love and coupled with that is the experience of the mind and all of its attributes, so it is difficult to delineate between the mind, the natural love, and soul experiencing the Divine Love.

For the beginner this is a difficult dilemma, for they feel the yearnings of their souls for this experience, they reach out like a child to its parent, "Love me" but this reaching is from your soul to God. Love me, bring your love into me, help me to know that I am truly loved and you are truly there touching me with your Love.

This is a deep and profound relationship between your soul and the soul of God and often it is difficult to come to that level, that depth of knowing and experiencing for it is so different from the experience of your mind in the natural love.

But in the power of your yearning and your prayers these conditions which are natural to you and inherent in your experience are able to be put aside so that you may experience something from your soul. This unique experience to know God in His Love, that quality of this Love, the texture of this Love, is unique, powerful, beautiful and inexplicable for there are no true words to explain, to transfer to you the experience of this Touch. It is for you, you individually, to come to know, to acknowledge, to consciously feel this wondrous blessing.

I urge you, beloved souls, those who have not truly experienced this wondrous gift, even though you may indeed possess it within your souls, but unknowingly so, that you come to a conscious awareness. When you come to God innocent as a child reaching for this gift, this Love, in that place of vulnerability, of yearning, a pure soul longing, you will know this gift in a way that is undeniable, unshakable, powerful, and transformative. It is the beginning of true faith, true soul awakening, true understanding and it cannot be through another, it is only through you and your relationship with God. And God yearns for you to be touched in this way, your soul yearns to be touched by God. Make this wondrous connection, beloved souls, and you will begin your journey of truly understanding yourselves, understanding your purpose, the wonderment that is the creation of your being and the wonderment which is the existence of the Creator.

Walk with us upon that path and I assure you each one will have the unfolding, glorious experience of being touched in Love, awakened in Love, to know that great peace, to feel that great excitement and joy within you, to be sure that the Heavenly Father loves you completely and that God has his hand upon you.

What more can you aspire for, my children? What more can await you than this mystical, glorious experience that is God's Touch of Love within your souls?

God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you and may God envelope you. I am Augustine and I know the Touch of God's Love and I know of what I speak, and I will join you in your experience of Love. God bless you and I love you. God bless you.

SPIRIT: CONFUCIUS

Title: God Has Lit A Spark Within You

It is Confucius. God has lit a spark within each soul in this circle, a spark that will change you, beloved souls, will inspire you upon a different path in your lives, will bring you to certain awarenesses and experiences that may not otherwise be a part of your life. The power of a soul that is blessed in this way will bring great change, will motivate each one to walk a path imbued with Light and that which is not in harmony with God's Love, with this spark of Light will fall away from you, beloved souls. Do not resist this change within you, that which compels you to move forward. Listen to the desire of your soul. Listen to that truth that beats within you, each one of you, and be compelled to act upon that which is within you, to walk a path lit by God, guided by God and in so doing you contribute to the change that is required in this world. For each of you must change, each soul upon this planet must be ignited into change to release the dark conditions that beset humanity. You must become a Light. You must allow the flame which God has placed within you to burn bright, to seek God's repeated Touch of His Love within you that will fuel the great revolution within your soul, the transformation of your being, which will in turn change your thinking and your doing, which will in turn heal your wounds and your errors.

Change always starts from within and it is the power and the passion, the great desire that wells up within you, beloved souls that will motivate you to seek God, to seek truth, to seek to love your fellow man. And as you struggle forth beating back the darkness of error and those negative conditions which beset all of humanity you will be the change required, you will do God's Will in this respect: that you will live by example, by your own being live the truth and that expression will be unique for each individual. For each soul is unique and the path that they walk is unique.

Do not judge another's path but walk firmly upon your own, knowing that God will guide you forth, show you the way and bring to you what is required. That you may grow within your souls and that that Light will expand within your beings and that this Light will break through and break forth in wondrous acts of Love.

God desires to build a channel of Love within each soul in this world so that His Love may flow forth and bring Light and healing, comfort and joy to those around you, my beloved souls. Again this creates the change that is required. Some of you have much to think about, to digest from this time of prayer and teaching and I tell you bring your questions to God in prayer and the answers will come, the dilemmas will dissolve and you will know the freedom of flight, to soar in the air, experiencing the joy of our beloved Father's Love, releasing the great burdens of this Earth and to be in the sun, beating down its Love, warming you and bringing joy within. Beloved souls, I am Confucius and I bless you in your efforts and your struggles and your prayers. God bless you. God bless you.

Title: I Am Your Brother

And I walk amongst you, beloved souls. I walk amongst you and every soul who longs for the Father's Love I will walk with you, in my love. Yes, I have returned to Earth and I have done so many, many times to help educate and influence the souls of the Earth to the truth of the Father's Love. And every soul open to this great blessing of the Divine Love will receive this gift, for in their longings, in their great desire to be with God in love, to be with God directly, they will be blessed; they will be blessed.

I was never God incarnate. No, my beloveds, I was a man who discovered the truth of God's Love and in my discovery opened the doors to its existence amongst mankind and all spirits. Beloved souls, do not worship me in any way for I am not God. I am your teacher. I am with you in my love for you but I am with God as you are with God in your love for God. And this is a great truth; that it is God you must worship; it is God you must reveal your heart and your souls to and it is God that will bless you in your efforts and your prayers and your vulnerability and your aching heart. You will be touched in powerful ways and you will manifest in powerful ways God's Love and this will influence and bring Light to many, to be a channel of Love, to be as I was upon this Earth, as God touches you in this way.

I am your brother. I am your brother and I will walk with you as you seek truth, as you seek God, as you are, as a child of God, I am your brother. God bless you, beloved souls, and may you continue to long for truth and be open to this great blessing of His Love and all will be revealed within your souls, beloveds, within your souls, you will know. You will come to know in complete and utter surety that this is the truth. God bless you, beloveds. God bless you and I love you. God bless you.

Title: Pray For Mankind

...my beloved souls, a great deprivation. Despite all the material that you possess, that is possessed within this world, almost all souls residing in this place have a great lacking within them and these conditions, this lack of love, this inability to reach beyond oneself in love, continue to create dark conditions, wars and strife, a deep hunger in humanity, beloved souls, a deep hunger for substance that is not of material but spiritual.

You have come together because you have recognized your own hunger and you have come together because you feel that in your association you may not only feed one another but feed your world in love. And this is the expression of your souls. This is the desire of your souls. And each soul that goes to God in innocence and of deep desire shall be filled up. Where there was lacking, there will be joy. Where there is lacking there will be wisdom. Where there is lacking there will be love. And you must, beloved souls, venture forth into the world, seeking to love your fellow man, for there is deprivation all about you, beloved souls. Look into the eyes of those in the world and you will see it, you will see it—hunger, a desperation, a fear and a deep desire to be loved.

Pray for the children. Pray for those who are lost. Pray for your fellow man, for each soul in their own way, is lost and for this world to change each soul must find their way. For it is in that deep recognition of what it is that is needed that the world will change. And you all know and recognize the necessity for change in this world, for without a tidal change of attitudes, of priorities, of deep desire, the world will continue to darken to the point that all will unravel. You cannot, humanity cannot control the world. You add to the conditions, you add to the energies of this world in ways that are disruptive, that will bring chaos in time, and now is the time for each of you to look within and look about you and realize that without the Hand of God upon each one in this world there can be no solutions only further contributions to the difficulties and the darkness.

Mankind is lost, my beloveds. It is mankind you must pray for and it is your own souls that you must pray that you will find your way and for all those that you love, and for all those who are lost, you must pray that you shall all find your way in this darkened world to bring Light, to bring peace, to bring Truth and most and crucially, to bring Love.

This is what you must do. This is so very important and come together, beloved souls, in prayer as often as you may, to bring further Light to this place and to yourselves. Come together in Circles of Light and create further Circles of Light. This tiny droplet of Light will expand and expand in accordance with your efforts and prayers for this world and for yourselves and receiving the Divine Love will further enhance and bring a great blessing to all. You will know what to do as your souls grow in this Love. You will know what to do because what is necessary and required will be obvious as you look at the world through the eyes of your souls.

Beloveds, be strong. Focus on Love and Light. Focus on being a channel of Love and Light and God will use you in ways yet unanticipated, opportunities will come your way so that you may be a change agent in the world and bring further Light, some peace, some change, some Love. The opportunities abound. It is for you to see and to act, to put love into action, to put wisdom into application, to put Truth into every breath you take.

Thank you, beloved souls. I am James and I love you.

Title: Continue In Your Service

It is your teacher Augustine. I believe that you have learned many lessons with this gathering of souls in a country that is foreign to many of you and familiar to some of you. And so it will go, my beloved students, you will venture forth into other lands, other countries, cultures, peoples, traditions, languages, for God does not reside just with your own peoples but with all peoples in the world. And it is important for you to be amongst many different peoples in this world, to be familiar and comfortable with all of these different cultures; to walk amongst your brothers and sisters feeling like you are a part of the human race, for truly you are brothers and sisters in this world. And in all of this, love must inform your actions and your words and you each must be strong, filled with the Love, filled with the desire to serve, and filled with the flow of God's Love through you. For it is in your efforts, those of you well established upon this path and of strong faith, it is for you to encourage, to enhance, to pray deeply when you are amongst those who are hungry and have not had the experience and the growth within their souls that you have had, my beloveds.

For we will be calling you to many places in the world. There will be many such groups, circles, discussions, bonding with many people and you must be prepared, strengthened, filled with God's grace, confident that you are being led, guided. For to do this work, you come as missionaries, ministering to the people who are eager to learn, to experience this great blessing of God's Love. And yes, your message is simple, your love is accepting, your actions within the grace and harmony of God's Will and so when all of these elements align within you and around you the souls are touched powerfully. The Love of God is concentrated within the circle and the innocent and hungering souls are touched and feel this Touch and something is opened within them. But we rely upon you, beloved souls, and those like you who are secured in the Love, to bring about these conditions. You draw, to the group, through your prayers, through your intentions and desires and gifts these great blessings so that others may drink deep as the great well of love is filled and filled overflowing.

Do not argue with others. Be sure of the Love. Do not express contrary opinions, but be sure in the love. Let your heart lead you. Let God's small voice within you inform you and be willing, my brothers and sisters, be willing to serve God, not resist, but to acquiesce to the Will of God and in this way we can use you in powerful ways, in ways that will bring great healing, that will touch many souls, that will bring truth forth. And for some of you we have prepared you for many years for these tasks and we are preparing others.

You begin to see the vastness of God's plan. You begin to open to those whom God has caught within his net of Love and you will be a channel, a mentor, an example for those who wish to serve and are eager, have much to give and need your solid and steadfast faith and knowledge and Light within your souls.

Yes, you serve many in many different ways; when you walk down a street, though you are not aware, souls are touched. When you sit in a circle, though you do not see everything that is manifest through your prayers and your efforts together, there are many, many blessings given to many, many souls far greater than the souls within your circle, and when you plan and feel inspired to travel and to seek out the hungering souls it is your willingness to listen, your willingness to pick up and go where you are guided that makes God's plan easier to enact.

There is a fullness, a richness to your actions, to your lives as you continue to serve God in love and listen with faith and act with a surety and a grace that is informed by God's Love. There is much work ahead. This is only the beginning of a great journey of service, for the whole world hungers, my beloveds, and we do not expect you to carry the whole world but be assured that God will guide you to where you are needed. And you are not to feel burdened or worried, concerned with the details of this, merely to joyfully follow God's guidance as he lights your path, encourages you along the way. One day at a time, one step at a time, one wondrous event, one unfolding act of God's Love in the world, one beautiful expression of your gifts, one gaze upon another with love one moment of open souls receiving this great benediction. Your life is made of these many moments, strings of pearls beautiful to behold, beloved souls.

Continue in your service, your prayers, your desire to be close to God and your desire to serve mankind in love and God will use you, beloved souls, will take you upon a miraculous journey filled with surprises, filled with things unimagined, filled with warm hearts opening, blossoming, to the great Love of God. Continue, beloved souls, in these great efforts. You cannot imagine the rewards, the blessings, what you are creating within your soul through service and love, prayer and faith. Great blessings, great blessings that will carry you far, not only in this world but the next. Beloved souls, we are pleased with your efforts, we are very pleased. We love you and will continue to guide you as you walk upon this path of service, as you are strengthened, as the channel within you grows and clears, becomes powerful and beautiful.

Your teacher Augustine loves you, will continue to be by your side guiding you and teaching you and loving you. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls. I love you.

Title: God's Love Is the Key

Blessings to you, beloved souls, I am John the Beloved. If you had the eyes to see, beloved souls, you would see that your numbers here on Earth are tiny compared to what surrounds you in spirit. Many, many souls are here, praying with you, observing and learning. For when you come together in this way, when you put your intentions to God to be in the Light, to be in that place of grace, you draw many to you, for a great Light is established amongst you and that Light draws the many spirits to it; many spirits who are dark and in need of comfort and Light, many spirits who are connected to each one of you, who are your relatives living on the other side and, of course, the Angels surround you, keeping you protected, praying with you and supporting you in this great effort.

Do you realize how rare this is, beloved souls, for a group of people to come together and pray for God's Love in this simple and powerful way? It is very rare in this world and it is a powerful channel of Light for this world and I urge each and every one of you to consider what you have done together in your prayers, in your bonding and love for one another, in this effort to learn truth, to reach for the highest, to be with God in His Love.

You become the point of the arrow that is piercing the darkness. You become those that are forging the path for others. You walk a trail that is cluttered with obstructions and you yourselves have overcome whatever barrier has been on your path to come to this place of sincere prayer, longing for the highest gift, the Father's Love. And I acknowledge each and everyone here who has made that choice, that great effort to come together. Some of you had no clear understanding of why. Others were firmly guided and clear in their intentions, but all of you chose together to be in this Love and Light, to share this experience together, to walk this distance sharing and loving, praying and bringing peace and joy to yourselves. What would the world be like, beloved souls, if all of humanity chose these simple ways to be together in love and harmony, to create amongst themselves a great intention to God to bring His blessings, His Love, His healing, His peace and comfort amongst you?

Love will change the world. Love will change the world, beloveds. Love changes you. Slowly your eyes are opening. You are able to see more clearly. You are that much closer to God. The Light that shines within you is a little brighter and many of you will continue to walk this path to discover its many wonders, to be more closely in the Love and closer to your Heavenly Father. Each day is a choice. Each day is a choice for love or a choice to indulge in the human condition. With each breath you take, at times you indulge in the human condition and at times you indulge in the Love. I urge you, beloved souls, to make the choice for Love always, for in this, you will draw to you many wondrous things, many wondrous things: beautiful souls who will support you in your journey; great love will envelope you and flow within you; and an awakening of your soul's great potentials that many of you have no idea you possess will come to the fore; gifts...many gifts that are powerful and will assist not only yourselves but will be a great benefit to others. This is a calling, my beloveds, this calling of Love. It beckons your souls. It draws you together. It brings you to God. Although, it is so very simple, that which comes with this calling and your answering brings a myriad of experiences, awakenings, development of your soul and that indeed is a complex journey, many discoveries and challenges as you begin to know who you truly are, beloved souls, and what your potential is that God has created and placed within you, this wondrous soul that is you.

Many decide to turn away from this once they feel the power and the wonderment and the potential of this great journey of Love. They are fearful, fearful of change. For if there is one major component of the gift of the Father's Love it is that it changes you. It draws your attention from the surface of your mind's perceptions of the world to a deeper place, a deeper understanding, where the layers of illusions fall away and the truth is revealed. The difficulty in this is to truly see the darkness of the human condition. To see within those around you how this darkness interplays in their lives and interplays in your life is difficult, it is a challenge, but of course there are many rewards—liberation, beloved souls. Liberation from these conditions, this illusion, this darkness, brings a joy so deep it is unfathomable, brings perceptions so clear that you will wonder how you could not see before, brings a closeness to God that is like a rock, solid and unshakable.

Now many in the world seek material gratification. They see this as their goal in life and because this pursuit will never truly bring gratification they continue on and on in this relentless effort to fill that void within them and I say this is a hollow pursuit and I think many of you understand this. But the pursuit of God, the pursuit of infilling your soul with God's Presence, His Essence, is not an idle pursuit. It is the beginning of a journey that shall last for all eternity, my beloveds. It is a true beginning for a soul that begins a life and this world, this existence here, is just a first step of infinite steps upon your journey of life. To begin with this truth is a wondrous beginning, a powerful, powerful first step, for it sets you on a course that will bring all that you require, will bring to you everything, everything, my beloveds.

It is for you to choose. It is a simple choice to sit in prayer. To long for this Love requires nothing but your effort and time. Even a brief prayer to God for His Love will eventually set you upon this course and the more effort you apply to this journey, the faster will be the awakening, the releasing of those human conditions, the understanding of the true purpose of life and the nurturing of that wondrous joy, that wondrous, wondrous joy.

So in these last few days, we have attempted to teach and to encourage, to point the way and we are very happy that you have listened and prayed, questioned and loved. And for those who wish to take this journey, we will walk with you always, never abandoning you, my beloveds, never abandoning you but walking with you each step of the way and God's Hand will be upon you. His Hand will Touch each soul and bring a strength that will help you to not be distracted by these conditions that surround you but will pull you along encouraging and reminding you to take your time in prayer to be with your Heavenly Father, to be with yourself and with God. This is so important, to be removed from the world for those precious moments in Light, to be in silence and to be in that soulful love for God. How this nourishes you, my beloveds. Every mystic, every true child of God begins in this way. To allow yourselves to be with God, however momentarily, is a powerful statement in the world, a world that has turned itself away from God. Are you willing to say, "Father, I need you. I need your Love. I need you to help me rise above these conditions, my own condition and all that is around me to something higher, to something more true and real. I need to be nourished in my soul by your great Essence."

This great gift is not known by many and yet here you all sit knowing, possessing this key of truth. Use this key to unlock the doors and I promise you, you will never be bored, you will never go without, you will always find something new, something beautiful, something precious as you make your own discoveries upon your unique path to God. Remember, it is His Love that is the key. Take this message into your heart and it is our fervent desire that when you do so, you feel the truth of it, you feel the power of it, and you feel the wonderment of this beautiful gift, God's Love.

Bless you, my beloveds. Know that the Angels will be with you in the efforts that are to come. And yes, there will be many circles in the world. This will be part of God's plan and some - many of you - will be a part of this, will travel and share your Light, your prayers with others. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you. I am John and I love you.

Title: Be Secure Upon The Path

Beloved souls, I am Andrew. The steps upon your path are many, my beloveds, many increments of understanding, of receiving the Father's Love within your souls, of opening your awareness to the spiritual truth. And each of you must be patient in this journey, trusting that God will guide you upon this path, that these awarenesses and shifts within you, releasing all that is not in harmony with the Love, growing, expanding, feeling the joy that wells up from the soul, relating to all your brothers and sisters in loving ways and allowing that healing condition to fall away from you so that in time your lives are governed by your soul and your soul is governed by God.

This is not an easy path, an easy road, for everywhere you turn are many distractions and messages which encourage you to not follow these simple ways of Love and faith and trusting God. And some fall away because they are not strong enough. Others excel because within them is a deep trust, faith in God. But most waver from one to the other; the mind and soul, the mind and the soul, trying in their own way to make sense of the truth, to enact the truth in their lives, struggling as they will for Light. God will use those instruments who are secure upon this path and allow their soul to take precedence within their lives. Yes, he will use you when you are strong enough to walk in this way. When you cast aside your doubts and your fears, when you relinquish your willfulness to God, when you are solidly in the Light of His Love you will be used in wondrous ways. And this is not to say that God does not use those who waver somewhat, for you are human and we do not expect perfection, but the more that you can travel within this truth expressing the truth within your soul, having this Love, this blessing infuse everything that you do, then, my beloveds, you will be carried in a great river, a purposeful, meaningful, wonderful, and loving flow that shall bring you to places, experiences, opportunities unimagined by the mind.

This takes a great faith, a great commitment, a willingness to listen, a humility; such strength comes from such faith, such joy comes from such Love. And so there are few upon this Earth who know the knowledge that you have and fewer still who are willing to act upon the truth that they know. But it is a wonderful beginning for the transformation of this world from a place governed by man to a place governed by God. This is the goal that all your brothers and all your sisters may listen to God, may express love in everything that they do, might have unshakeable faith and are true to the laws and the conditions which God has set out for mankind, for all creation.

It is a noble ambition that this be the reality of all humanity and I am sure within your minds you do not see this as a possibility but then again you do not see as God sees, and you do not love as God loves. Your vision is limited. You are restricted in many ways, but I tell you God has a plan. God has a plan for the salvation of mankind and each of you, if you are willing, if you lay down your own ambitions, if you are humble and you listen and you love in the way that is prescribed, will play your part in this wondrous plan and the world will be in the Light. The world will be in the Light.

Beloved souls, God needs you, the world needs you to carry this truth, this flame in purity and strength and faith. God needs you to be fully in this Love and this truth of his love. He beckons you forth, the Master has his hands upon you and all of us within the Celestial Kingdom will put our efforts forth to support you, for you are all precious, you are all precious. And there are others who are coming, who will join you in this great task. Prepare yourselves, beloved souls, for what is to come. There is much work that awaits willing hands, hands guided by God. Pray and pray again. Make this your life's effort, to get ever closer to God so that you may understand, you may see and you may appreciate the opportunities that are set before you, beloved souls. You are loved, each one loved, each one touched by God within their souls. Each one has a purpose, a role to play that will bring deep, deep, meaning to your lives and fulfillment and joy. Walk this road, beloved souls. Walk this road with God. Seek ye the kingdom that is His Love and all else will come in the timing of God's wisdom and Will. All will come to you.

You're loved. You are guided, and you will, you will serve God in wondrous ways. God bless you, beloved souls. I am Andrew and I love you, precious, beautiful souls. I love you. God bless you.

Title: Be With God

Bless you, beloved souls. I am Joseph, the father of Jesus, and I am very pleased that you have come together in prayer. Is this not a testimony to the power of God's Will that you come together in this way from various parts of the world? Your souls are drawn. God beckons you into this relationship of prayer, of love. And there is a deep purpose to this, these efforts that you all make to be together, for when you come together in this way you create a Light that not only benefits yourselves but benefits your families, benefits the many souls that are connected to you and in some ways benefits this world.

Answer to the callings of your souls, beloveds, for within that call, that desire, that awareness is the answer to all your questions. It is the beginnings of a great spiritual journey that will bring to you many experiences with deep, deep, love and healing and many souls will be drawn just as you were drawn to one another and these souls will be drawn to you, my beloveds. And this is how the Earth will change. This is how humanity will change. One soul saying "I am with You Beloved Father; I am with You in Your Love. I will walk with You, I will talk with You, I will listen to Your response, I will be open to the gifts You have to give me, Your Love to flow towards me, Your guidance showing me the way" and then you walk in Light, you become that example and others will notice.

For each of you in your own way have great gifts and a great Light. Do not turn away from God's Will, but turn towards the beckoning Light, the Light that will bring great change and healing, peace, and Love. There is no other source. There is no other way for you, my beloveds, to walk this road, this journey that within each of your souls is compelling, within each of your souls is a deep and great desire to walk this way of Light. And each step that you take will bring further awakening and will bring about further events, responses, and experiences, that will help you to grow in your soul, will show you the truth as your eyes slowly open and you move closer to God.

And those things that seem a dilemma today will not be so tomorrow. Those fears that you may harbour within you will fall away and the healing will flow towards you, beloved souls, so that you will know a great sense of physical and spiritual strength within you, that you may walk this world as a channel of Love and Light, Truth and comfort for others. That Light grows within each one of you. Nurture it with prayer. Use the truth that you know and you are sure of to strengthen your faith and the Light within your being, with your sincere prayers, with your reaching to God, for there is no other source that will bring the healing and the answers to mankind. Too long humanity has turned away from God and in this turning away they have done themselves and this world great damage. The answers will come in prayer. The answers will come in inspiration. The answers will come as the breath of God blows upon each one of you and clears away the error and the mysteries so that you will truly know, so that you may truly share with others your wisdom. The understandings that God has placed within your souls will emerge into your consciousness and be your guiding grace, your strength, and clarity and all will be informed by Love, all will be infused with Love, all will be an expression of Love.

Is there any higher calling, my beloveds? Is there anything worth pursuing that is greater than this? For this brings true happiness, liberation from the shackles of the human condition, truth and knowledge beyond your present understanding, an awareness of God that will be central in your consciousness and powerful wherever you go. What other riches can a man possess that are greater than this? Pursue your Heavenly Father in prayer, beseeching Him to place His Love within your soul and you will be a very wealthy, wealthy soul in this world. Riches that you can take wherever you go and when your time to enter spirit comes you will walk in great Light, you will know great joy and you will see that your choice and path was right and righteous.

Beloved souls, be with God and all else will follow. Be with God. God bless you, I am Joseph.

You are wanted and loved, precious children. God has you in His Hands, cradling you with His care and protection, the power of His Love, infusing every part of your being, beloved souls. You are cradled in the Hands of God. Allow His sweet Love and care to infuse you, to carry you, to guide you, for He wishes to heal every part of your being, every crevice of your soul. It is so simple, beloved souls, so very simple. Do not clutter your minds with speculation and doubt and fear, for you truly do not wish to be a part of the human condition, you wish to be a part of this reality of God. Your souls long for this. Do not let the conditions of this world distract you from this deep longing and tremendous transformation within, for you are changing, beloved souls. The Truth of God's Love is change and renewal, healing and opening. You must allow this higher Truth and reality to be your truth and reality. Feel the powerful pull of God, His great soul drawing you close, bringing you all that you require to be whole, and beautiful, and Light, and Love.

For every breath you take there will be a blessing, not just for you but for this world. Every step that you take, you will touch another soul. Every thought that you have, it will be of love. Every embrace you give will be a healing and a comfort for another. And you will think not for yourselves but for the salvation of mankind, and this will carry you to many places to bring God's Truth and His Love, for you will carry this Light and many souls will feel the power and beauty of this Light and they will be touched, for God will use you in many beautiful ways. Your gifts just begin to open, they flower in this Love and when they are fully in bloom you will carry a great message and confirmation of the Truth to many souls, beloveds, and the souls await your blooming, opening, sharing, confirming the Truth.

Dedicate yourselves to prayer. Be with God and you will find your great purpose. Confucius loves you, brings you a blessing. God bless you.
