INTRODUCTION

In the spring of 2018 our Teacher Augustine came to us in a morning prayer and invited Al to write a book about Divine Love Mediumship. The Angels wanted a book to describe the difference between Divine Love Mediumship and typical material mediumship that would also identify the spiritual laws that govern the development of one's spiritual gifts and soul progression.

Augustine said, “Our greatest ambition is that others will come to know us and forge a bond and avenue of communication. The primary goal is to encourage the souls of your brothers and sisters to be open to the blessing of God’s Love. And to be open to the possibility of receiving guidance and communication with us in the Celestial Realms.”

Seretta Kem explained, “You will come to know us. Some of you will come to see us as if we are in the flesh and there will be a great co-operation and collaboration between us to help bring the world back from the brink. May your souls be eager for Love, eager and open so that God may indeed be close and you may walk in Light.”

Thanks to our friend Geoff Cutler first edition copies of Divine Love Mediumship were printed very quickly and made available for use as a study guide by 12 eager students who participated in a Divine Love Mediumship Retreat at the end of August, 2018. (A free download of the book is available at: <https://divinelovesanctuary.com/divine-love-publications/>.)

Each day we explored such topics as:

- How is a Divine Love Medium different from a material medium or platform medium?
- Sensitizing ourselves to thought energies, spirits and Soul Knowings.
- Harmonizing the Mind and Soul.
- The Laws of Rapport and Communication: How do you know you are connecting with an Angel?
- What are your gifts? Your desires? Your intentions?

We are pleased to share, in this collection, the exceptional messages that were channeled through three trance mediums during our first ever Divine Love Mediumship Retreat!

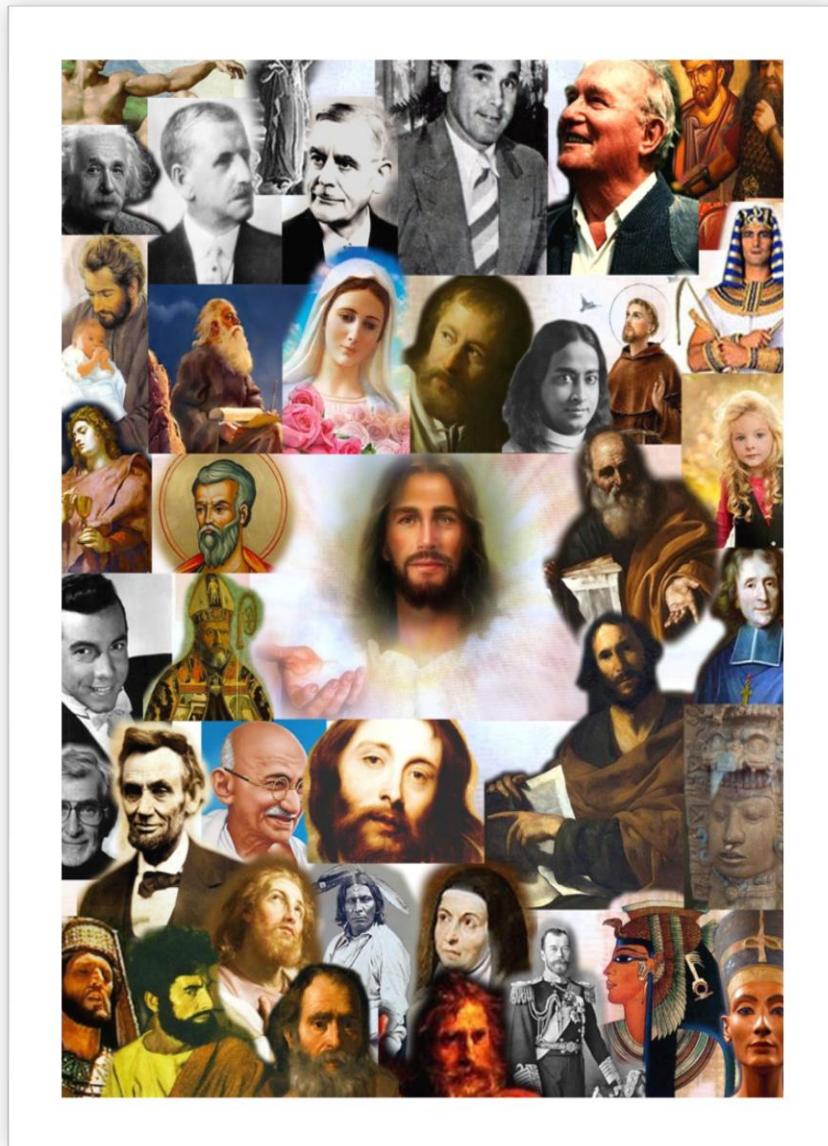

Connection and communication with Angels has in itself profound spiritual rewards. Applying the wisdom of Celestial Angels will propel you forward upon your spiritual journey of Soul Awakening. Being a channel for the Angels to communicate with others is a beautiful way to serve humanity. With effort and persistence, discovering the joys and benefits of becoming a Divine Love Medium brings a dimension and depth to life that is incomparable to other paths towards spiritual enlightenment.

Blessings to those who seek for the highest.

MESSAGES FROM CELESTIAL ANGELS

The messages received in Gibsons during the August 2018 Divine Love Retreat were from Angels–Celestial Spirit Guides and Teachers who once lived on Earth...yes, they were human once, and through their soul longings, were transformed from the image of God into Divine spirits by praying to God sincerely for an inflowing of Divine Love.

Jesus' Welcome to the Divine Love Mediumship Retreat

Spirit: Jesus

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 25, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

I am Jesus and I come to bless you beloved souls, children of God. Such joy it gives we in spirit to see you come together in this way, to explore the possibilities of your service for God in love, to come to know your true natures and to share your love. May the blessings of the Father's gift of His Love infill you with such great abundance that great joy may leap from your heart and wisdom grow within you, that you may serve the Heavenly Father in all that you do, in all that you are, to assist the transition of mankind from darkness to light.

Each of you carries special gifts, great potentials that are being awakened with your prayers for the Father's Love. You will find that you will be uplifted and guided upon your path. I am with you every step of the way upon this journey, this wonderment of the awakening of your soul. You will be deeply blessed, beloveds. You are my disciples in this world.

Carry the truth wherever you go. Stand tall. Be a beacon of light and love and speak the truth as you know the truth. Walk as a child of God. Be a channel of love. Share the bounty of God's blessings with others. Care for your brothers and sisters who are lost and in deep thirst for love. Allow yourselves to walk the path that God has destined for you, will carry you forth into the world, just as I did and my disciples have done, carrying the message of love to the world. You will be guided, shown the way. Each day will be a gift, an opportunity to serve God in many different ways, many different opportunities to walk as God's channel of love and light.

God bless you beloveds. I am with you and I have great love for you beloveds, great love for my brothers and sisters who walk upon God's path Divine. God bless you, keep you in His Embrace. Deep peace to you beloveds, God bless you.

God's Love Will Awaken Your Souls

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 25, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

My greetings from spirit to all of you. Our deepest wish is that you receive a great inflowing of the Father's Love into your souls. For this is the true path to understanding and the awakening of your gifts, your true capacities to serve and to love. Many of you have felt our presence with you, and indeed each has an angel with them. You will be guided, beloved souls, impressed in many ways. Portals of communication will open. You will indeed receive much in this time together, provided that you are able to put aside your material concerns and thoughts, and focus upon the spiritual. For it is in this focus and honing in upon the desires of your soul, that many blessings may come to you, many insights may open to you, and your gifts may indeed be awakened.

Say your prayers for the inflowing of this blessing of God's Love. Even if this is unfamiliar to you, say this prayer, "Gracious God, awaken my soul with your Love. Help me to understand my true self and to understand you. Bring me to that place of light, awareness, joy and deep peace. That the world of your creation, the world of your Love, may be opened to me, and that I may be aware and uplifted and changed in my heart by your Love." This prayer, beloved souls, will open many gifts and portals to you upon your journey of awakening.

We communicate with you, beloved souls, not primarily through your mind but your soul. This is where you must focus. Release any barriers. Let go of your doubts. Be assured, beloveds, that God will carry you to greater light, that all that you desire in the awakening of your true selves, will be realized by the infusion of God's Essence into your souls.

So much awaits each one of you. So many potentials are lying dormant within you, waiting to be awakened. May your eyes be opened. May the true wisdom of your souls come forth into your consciousness, that you may truly know of the wonderment that is you. God will touch each of your souls deeply. God will communicate what you need to understand, so that you may awaken more fully upon this journey.

You have come together to experience a very blessed time, an opportunity to truly come closer to God and come closer to your true selves. May you be blessed beloved souls, carried upward, removed from the earthly conditions to a place of light and joy, where you may move with ease in the understanding of your spiritual nature and knowings, where God is present with you and this awareness is constant.

Allow yourself to be uplifted, beloved souls. Seek for the highest. Come to know God and you will never thirst for knowledge, nor will you wonder as to who you are and what lies within you. For with God, the awakening of your soul brings all answers, brings all possibilities, brings you to a place of clarity so that you may be a clear channel of love in this world. God touches your soul at this very moment. Breathe in this blessing.

Come to know the true desires of your soul, that you may find at-onement with God. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls. Your teacher Augustine is with you in this wondrous journey of awakening. God bless you and I love you.

Opening Message Mediumship Retreat

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 26, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

I am your teacher Augustine. Are we ready to begin upon this journey of discovering the awakening of the potentials within you? Do you have the kind of faith within you that says I may indeed be used as a channel of love in this world, that I have gifts that God has given me and I wish to utilize these gifts for the benefit of others? May I walk in this world with love as my impetus and desire. Do I know God and His Will for me? Can I be open and innocent, humble and filled with gratitude?

You are all worthy beloved souls, and each of you has a great potential. Many of you may speak as I speak through this instrument. Many of you may communicate with me in spirit in some way so that we may forge a connection, a bond that is real and palpable in your lives. This may be accomplished because you have yearned for and received the blessings of Divine Love, the great essence of God flowing into your souls and the power of this essence is what makes these things possible.

Each of you in your souls, beloveds, has a deep desire to be with God, to love God, and to serve in love and to bring blessings to your brothers and sisters as God's living channels of love in this world. That channel may begin as a faint glimmer, an opening in the crack of your consciousness, but it will expand and grow as this blessing of God's Love expands and grows within your souls. It must, for with the laws of love comes this flow of Love, not only into you, but around you and through you. Your life will be lit by the Light of God's Love. Your being will emanate and be transformed by this great gift of Love. In this transformation, the awakening of the soul as we have called it, many gifts come to the fore. An awakening of many things within you, things that you are not aware of and have not anticipated. You do not realize what lays within your soul, seeds planted by God at the beginning of your creation, ready to sprout, ready to take life, and be life within you.

All is possible by this great gift of God's living waters, which you must drink and drink with gusto, like a thirsty man upon the desert. For indeed you live upon a sort of desert that is parched and lacks love, lacks these living waters and the abundance which God has intended for this world but has been destroyed and rejected. Man has turned away from the very essence that will nurture their souls. Beloveds, it is your soul that is your true selves. It is your soul that is the greatest gift that God has given to you. Within the soul, all of the potentials and gifts reside and await your choice and your efforts to bring to them life, life that comes from God, His great soul feeding your precious and tender souls.

God is your gardener and you are all flowers within His garden. Each of you has a deep desire to flourish within that garden, to be beautiful for God, to show God the wonderment of His own creation, the beauty that is you, unique and wonderful, glorious in the Light of His Love.

At this very moment, you are drawing in these living waters, feeding your souls, hoping that indeed these hidden potentials will be realized, this beauty will emerge. It is a process that takes time and effort. Like anything in God's universe, there are steps to take, an incremental growth, a slow realization of what can be to that point of being. So you come to these circles. Some come with curiosity, some with purpose, some with a surety that they are guided, all with a desire to join together in this upliftment and light, that God may bless you all and set you further upon your journey of awakening.

You sit beseeching God to bless your soul and indeed God answers your prayers. Indeed, God answers them with such abundance that He fills this place with light and love, all the energies and nurturance to cultivate your souls and your beings so that you may reach a higher place of awareness and realization of your gifts.

The expanding of your souls in love, beloveds, is what brings to you what it is that you seek. This is the very foundation of what you call Divine Love mediumship. Without it, it cannot be realized.

Yes, the gift of mediumship is within each individual in some permutation. But to reach for the highest, beloveds, which is what you are doing, requires this gift of Divine Love. It is the fuel that moves the potential forward and makes it reality. Each of you are at a different place upon the continuum of realizing these potentials. Surprisingly some of you have opened up great potentials, but still struggle with your minds that deny you these gifts. Yet they sit, awaiting your permission to be expressed in your life.

Your minds have such power of you, beloved souls. It is a reflection of the human condition in which you live, and many distractions, that bring you away from your simple and innocent selves, that place of soul. It is our hope in these days to come, that the layers of resistance, the layers of the mind, may be shed and you will come to a closer acknowledgement and acceptance of your soul, that all the potentials that lay within you may find acceptance from you and that you desire to nurture them, to make them real in your consciousness. For without your acceptance and desire and faith, they cannot be realized and they remain hidden behind a curtain.

The world needs the awakening of your gifts and all gifts from all souls, so that the equilibrium and balance may be reached, that which is so desperately needed in the world. For the world must recognize a different way, a different approach to life. One that includes the soul. One that allows the soul, the realization of its deep desire to be with God. In this union of soul and God, soul and Great Soul, these many gifts come to life. In this, each expresses their uniqueness and beauty in the world.

There is no greater journey my beloveds. No more wondrous experience and awakening than this. It is why God gave you life and it is a fulfillment of God's desire that you live life and live life abundantly. All that you require will be given by God if you are willing to accept His gifts and accept your own. Beloved souls, walk in the light of God's Love. Realize the great potentials within you. Acknowledge your own souls. Acknowledge the truth of God's existence and the reality of God and all of His creation. It is this awakening to the consciousness of God that brings everything.

Consider this, beloved souls, consider how the world is asleep and lacks these awarenesses. It is desensitized to the tender and vibrant soul and instead gives great credence to the mind and intellect. Yet everyone in your world senses that there is something vital missing. This sets them upon a course to crave distractions, to crave love and fulfillment from others rather than to turn their eyes to God, where all is given as with this great blessing all flows in abundance and fulfillment.

You continue to open your eyes and turn them to God, and in this, you forge a path for others. Many of you here will be used by God to help others find their way. God is igniting a great light within each of you and the power and beauty of that light will touch many souls as you go forth in the world. Here, as you come together, you are igniting a greater light within you. God continues to open the many avenues and possibilities of your souls, creating a deeper bond, a powerful connection and understanding of His presence, of His being. This will go on for all eternity, my beloveds as you continue the journey with all its beauty and discoveries, its power and grace, bringing a deep joy within your soul knowing that your soul has found its mark, its place, which is with God.

God bless you beloveds. May God bless you deeply with His Love. I am your teacher Augustine and I love you. God bless you.

Mary Brings Her Blessing

Spirit: Mary

Medium: Maureen Cardoso

Location: Gibsons, BC – Mediumship Retreat

Date: August 26, 2018

It is Mary, I come to give you my love. I watch over every child that desires to serve God.

You are familiar with the work my beloved son brought to earth. The Essence of God touching his soul allowing him to teach many, those that would listen and come to understand and know God on a level of soul.

My beloved children, take this time you have together nourish your souls drink in these living waters, ask your questions for you are amongst those that have walked this path, who have lifted their souls greatly and are sharing with the world the many gifts God has opened in their souls by this Love. We in spirit embrace you and I bring my love to each of you.

God bless you, I am Mary and I love you.

Awakening Our Souls

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 27, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

It is your teacher Augustine. Again, you come into this Circle of Light and again God touches your souls. God's desire is that you know the truth, beloveds. Not the truth of your minds, not the perceptions and assumptions that come with the mind's understandings but the blessing and knowings that come with the soul awakened in the Father's Love. This is different beloveds, from your normal experience and understanding of spirituality. So much you have gained through your experiences and readings, ideas and discussions in your lives, collecting these things within your mind, formulating from that place ideas of truth. The challenge, beloved souls, is to compare the perceptions of the mind with the knowings of the soul. This, my beloved and beautiful souls, is not easy in your world for this world is infused with many thoughts, many spirits and many energetic conditions that will influence your thinking and your perceptions. In this way it is difficult to discern between these two realities, soul and mind, the material world and your fledgling relationship with God knowing the world of His Creation.

You must consider this, beloved souls, that none of you here has a clear perception of the truth. You may think that you understand but you do not truly and I do not say this to contradict your ideas and perceptions. No my beloveds, but that you may come to understand that to come to the clear truth of God through your soul is an ever expanding journey of awakening. It does not come in a flash and revelation of truth. It comes with the dawning awakening of your soul perceptions as you receive the gift of the Father's Love.

We in the Celestial Kingdom have great compassion for you in this world so filled with many, many things that are not of God but of the creation of man. From birth you open your eyes and absorb and believe, trust and desire to know the world. Unfortunately the world you have come to know, the reality that you see all about you is more the creation of man than the creation of God and thus you are ensnared in this reality. You struggle to release yourselves from the error, from the illusion, from these false knowings, so that you may come to a place of true knowing. It is, with the inflowing of the Father's Love, the Divine Love, that you will come to truth for all will come into alignment, soul and mind so that truth is known and can be relied upon. Truth that is predicated upon the laws and creation of God rather than what humanity has created for itself.

To be in the world but not of the world, beloveds, is a most difficult task – to separate yourselves from the illusion, yet to continue to be a part of the flow of humanity as a channel of love. Living your life in love is a deep challenge indeed but each of you in your own way continues to find your way through the maze of the human condition to a place of true connection with God. In this way your gifts open. In this way your gifts become true and clear, powerful and beautiful. Not distorted by the mind, not given way to the desires and insistence of the mind but to a flow of truth and awareness that is harmonious and joyful, touched by Love and expressed in love. You cannot walk too far along this path without confronting these dilemmas as it becomes a powerful motivation within you to go beyond your own illusions and desires to a place that is a true desire of the soul. As the illusions fall away, for many there is a sense of loss because of this great investment that you make upon your own illusions, your beliefs that state that it is truth. When you come to realize that much of your truth is false, it brings a deep sadness. But in this sadness, in this disillusionment comes a cry from your soul for God and this cry is powerful. It points the way to Truth.

Remember, beloved souls, what you believe today about truth, about yourselves, about the world is a mixture of error and truth. The mind filters so much of the wisdom of the soul and you must realize and have patience that your reality will change, the understandings of today will not be your understandings of tomorrow. You must be open and trusting in God's plan for the salvation of your soul. For as your soul expands in Love, so all changes as this transformation affects everything. The very core of your being is indeed your soul and all truth must emanate from this place. You are young, beloveds. You begin a journey. Realize that the level of your understanding of truth is rudimentary indeed. But you are assisted by the angels. You are blessed by God and you are upon the path to truth. Have compassion for yourselves and for each other. As you begin to open in your soul's perceptions and realize that you readily perceive of others' falsity but fail to see that you too carry some things that are false.

Have compassion for all and patience and know that each struggles, each has a deep desire, a longing for truth and to serve in truth. At each step of the way, more truth comes and error falls away as the soul awakens and comes to these realizations as the mind gives way to truth. This is your journey, beloveds. As more error falls away you come closer to God. As more Love flows into your souls, you are able to recognize your relationship with the Source of all Truth.

Be steadfast with that truth that you know from the core of your being and realize that all else is subject to change and will indeed respond with the power of this glorious Love, the Essence of God. You all wish to be teachers – to bring truth to humanity, to follow the Will of God, to be clear upon the path of Truth and Light. These are sentiments that originate from your souls. This deep desire to be and to know, to express and to be within that river of Love that God beckons you towards. You are indeed wading into that river and that river cleanses, pulls those things that are upon you, encrustations and error, away and dissolves these things in Love. Be patient, be kind to yourselves, kind to others knowing that each one is upon their own journey to awakening and each possesses their own capacities and gifts, perceptions and that in time the soul will awaken, the truth will shine forth and Love will enhance all, transform, heal and bring each soul to clarity and joy.

Often we call you children because indeed in this way you are just beginning. Your eyes barely open, your souls beginning to stir and this vitality and innocence within you is what gives us such joy to know that another soul awakens with the Touch of God and begins their journey to God. You have done this, beloved souls. Each of you in your own way walks upon that path to God. Seek His Love always. Know that with each drop of this Holy Essence, all will come. The enfolding of your soul will burst forth and all of your being will be transformed and awakened in Love. This is God's promise to you, beloved souls. This is His Breath of Life to your soul.

May you continue in your prayers, in your conversations, in your efforts to support and love one another and all those in your life. To bring light, to bring joy, to bring truth, to be a channel of love and God will be with you every moment and we who are your friends will be with you as well. God bless you. I am your teacher Augustine and I love you. God bless you beloved children of God. God bless you.

Caring for Your Physical Body & Spirit Body

Spirit: Faith

Medium: Maureen Cardoso

Date: August 27, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

Our beloved Augustine touches the root of a soul connection with your beloved Creator. This is the route to all of your gifts opening. I wish to come and speak to you to help you understand more deeply the way in which you may support yourself, take the responsibility to support yourself in the condition of your spirit. This is different from the condition of your soul.

Your spirit body encases the soul, encases your physical body and is greatly affected by your physical being. It does emanate the condition of your soul but I wish to speak of these daily steps which you can take to support your spirit condition. It is greatly set in your physicality. For gifts to open by the Grace of God's Divine Love, with the essence of desiring to share these higher truths, to be a medium in whatever capacity God has designed for you, for sharing these higher truths.

You are watched, you are observed by us in spirit and we see your desire and those who desire to carry forth these truths to serve God and to serve humanity, this is what it takes to be a medium for the Celestial realms, the teachers to be able to come through and use your instrumentality.

Please watch your thoughts. This is a big task. But your thoughts as many of you know are things and if you are ruminating with negativity, whether that be in silence or in verbal expression this affects your personal condition greatly. Develop your ways of soothing your mind into more loving thoughts. We are not asking you to remove every thought that is not a higher thought, that is too big of a task. More so what we are asking you is to develop your ability to strengthen your capacity to catch yourself when your train of thought is upon negativity and this too relates to conversation.

When you understand the power of words and thoughts and how they affect you and your world by the grace of God's Love having this Love grow in your soul and affecting all parts of you, your thoughts and your words in conversations too will reflect that growth. A simple prayer, "God help me with this". There is not one thing that your beautiful, beloved Creator cannot help you with. But He is waiting for your call, in sincerity. So, your thoughts and words greatly affect the condition of your spirit, that light that emanates from you.

In the physical nature of moving your body it is important to nurture the body with physical movement in whatever way you can. Help it to be a strong, clean vessel for your soul. Each of you knows what works well in moving your body. Tune in to your body's language. It is not necessary to join the masses of fads - oh now we need to follow this way, and this way - follow your rhythm beloveds. For when you have the ability to discern your soul it will guide you in this relationship with your body and you will know what is right for you. Any movement helps your beautiful vessel that God has gifted you with to move more freely, to travel this world, to carry these teachings with greater ease in your physical body.

Then there is your dietary intake. Again beloveds, tune in to what your body is asking for in nourishment. Each of you are unique in your physical dietary needs as well. You will find as you progress along, these aspects of keeping the condition of your spirit flowing, those energies that flow from your physical body out to your spirit body as you learn to implement these practises into your life you will find from your lighter sense of being you will more greatly be able to tune into the essence of your soul. Everything is connected. This is a practise, a daily effort. There will be days that are easier than others and I say this to encourage you to uplift your entire experience of living on Earth.

Each of you are asked to come to a level of maturity in your spiritual expression. It is good to take it to prayer to God. Take everything to God. Let your faith grow as you take your various aspects, those various conditions, those inhibitions, those negative thoughts of mind, those desires of the appetite that are of the appetite, the material appetite. Bring those to God and ask for help. Ask for a beautiful Celestial angel to walk with you, to help influence your thoughts, to help uplift your desires. Keeping you connected to God at all times, deepening your relationship with your beloved Creator, allowing this Love of your soul that God has imbued to affect everything.

You are all beautiful, glorious souls created by our loving Creator. It is a gift for us in spirit to help you along and we invite you to ask, ask for our presence. Keeping your thoughts high, upon God is also what attracts us. When you pray, whether it be alone or in circle, when you pray for Divine Love you attract the celestial angels and we are there to serve you. So, my beloveds, please walk with great intention to keep the condition of your spirit bright, clean, illuminated.

I thank you for allowing me to come and share this important aspect, the development of your gifts. My name is Faith. I reside in the Celestial Kingdom and I am here to serve you. God bless you. I love you.

Elevate your gifts through Divine Love

Spirit: Seretta Kem

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 28, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

I am Seretta Kem. Some of you know me well while others do not know me. I lived in Egypt many thousands of years ago. I am a healer and a chemist. I work with those mortals who desire to develop their gifts and who also subscribe to the way of Divine Love. I am an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom and I, along with many others who live in these beautiful realms, come to assist mortals in their spiritual growth and soul awakening.

You are fortunate to be in this beautiful Centre of Light, which we have built, along with those on the earth plane who have prayed for this, to create a refuge from the conditions of the material world so that you may be in an uplifted environment, a condition of light. Indeed you all feel this upliftment, these conditions that have been built, and you benefit by this. Remember that the very foundation of all that we do and all that you may do, is your commitment to receive the gift of the Holy Essence of God into your souls. Without this foundation within you, all that we speak of, all that you may aspire to, cannot be. For all is predicated upon building this light within your souls.

Yes there are many in the world who practice spiritualism, mediumship, healing, who teach their own version of truth and who have a certain power and ability to communicate with spirits and to bring forth healing energies of the earth plane. In the case of your endeavors and aspirations, you seek for the highest. Thus, you must follow the laws pertaining to being in the company of angels and to be a channel of love in the world. Love that is not created by the natural love in which all humanity exists, but the Love of God that must be given by your prayers and desire to receive.

Beloved souls, without your clear expectations and desires to reach for the highest, to receive this great gift that is available to all, then what you may create and build within you is not of the highest. Though beautiful in its own right and may bless many in its own way, it does not have this direct touch from God. It is merely the operations of the material universe put into action, creating certain conditions and benefits from this desire to bless others as a channel, a conduit for these energies that are available in the universe. Many find this pursuit to be satisfactory and wish to go no further than to perfect their gifts in this way.

With the gift of Divine Love, there are no limitations to these blessings. Indeed they too follow some of the laws that are required in order to exercise these gifts, but with the blessing of Divine Love, something more is added. There is an elevation of the gifts of each soul ignited by the Divine Love. These gifts are different. They have a different quality than the natural gifts. Yet you are all born with these gifts, these natural gifts within you. As I have said, you may pursue the development of them upon the path of the natural love, your innate abilities. But they will always lack that direct touch from God that brings higher outcomes, a more powerful expression, that which is in greater harmony with the laws of creation.

There are the laws of love that accompany the pursuit of the Divine Love. They are above the laws of life in as much as there is greater potential, a more powerful expression and outcome when one is bringing these gifts forth of their soul. Without a soul ignited in Divine Love, these gifts remain more of the material plane. With the Divine Love, they are transformed and elevated into something deeply spiritual, something that is in alignment with God.

Every soul has a choice as to what they may do with their own potentials. Each of you have a desire and a curiosity in regards to your abilities and gifts. As you have noticed, we stress the importance of receiving the Divine Love. You must listen deeply and come to understand fully what this entails. When you are at that place of understanding, when you are upon that road to at-onement with God through receiving this gift of Divine Love, then many gifts will unfold. Many possibilities may be realized. This cannot be rushed. It cannot be forced. It cannot be manifested like you assume you might manifest something in your life, through your mind's desire. It must come with the awakening of the soul receiving God's Love.

God's Love is not parsed out by the Holy Spirit. What you receive is dependent upon the intensity of your desire. The disciples received the Pentecost in a moment, changing their souls forever. Their desire was intense. They beseeched God for this gift of His Love and God responded with a thunderous pouring of His Love into their souls. This is possible, beloved souls. But remember, these were different times, more innocent times in some ways. Today you are often focused on many things. Prayer becomes just one element of your day. As such, your efforts to receive this gift of Divine Love most often comes drop by drop. It is indeed a slow and incremental process. As you grow in this Love, as this Love continues to turn your eyes to God, as you become more sensitized to the workings of your soul and the presence of God in your life, then many gifts and blessings come, and they come with your awareness and knowing.

Many of you here know of these gifts that I speak of, and some do not. Yet you are all together in prayer and a desire to know and to learn, to reach beyond your human condition to something more divine and uplifting. You may help one another in this. Let your light shine, be loving to one another, uplift one another, support one another and God surely will use each one of you to be a channel of His Love for one another, to bring greater blessings and understandings. This is how God works in the world, beloveds.

Each of you wishes within your soul to be a channel of love, an instrument of blessings. You wish to use your gifts in this way. These gifts come forth through your expression of love. It must be the very foundation of all that you do. The more powerful the love within you and the clear expression of it, the greater the outcomes in your service and expression of your gifts. It is simple. God's universe flows and operates on simple but profound laws. If one follows these laws, understands the process, there will be success in many ways and dimensions. So again we encourage you to open your souls to the inflowing of God's Love. Seek God above all else and your gifts will flourish in this one desire for the highest.

God bless you beloveds, I am Seretta Kem. I am with you as you pray as you are together. We mix chemicals and energies amongst you to help you to realize these gifts that are within you, potentials waiting to be realized. You may feel different sensations and energies. You may perceive lights, colors, many things. This is our work. Though you may not perceive in detail what we do, you may have a glimpse, a sense of our efforts. May God bless you with deep insight and deep knowings of the soul so that you may unravel the mysteries of the universe, that you may know the wonderment of Love. God bless you, beloveds, and keep you in His care. My love is with you. I am Seretta Kem. God bless you.

Sometimes my teacher friends are too serious I think and they forget that joy makes all learning fun. We indeed need to be joyful together in love acknowledging how wonderful life is, how wonderful you all are in your unique expressions and beauties.

I come to tickle you all in love and I come to inspire you to laughter. So, when you feel a sense of joy, don't hold back, but laugh. Be joyful. Love. Be with one another in the acknowledgement of how wonderful life is, how beautiful you all are. Create the joy and know that joy brings you close to God.

I love you and I am with you. I am with you often to help up-lift, to inspire you with laughter, to bring love. God bless you. I love you. I am Goldie and I love you.

Soul Yearning for Divine Love Brings Celestial Support

Spirit: Alec Gaunt

Medium: Maureen Cardoso

Date: August 28, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

It is your friend Alec. So good to listen to you share, my dear son, your journey and being close with spirit, sharing the way to draw close the celestials - the guidance, the influence and the presence. I so remember being with you and your mate on those days you spoke of experiencing the harmony, being in alignment with the Will of God and then experiencing quite the opposite.

My friends, what is first and foremost important in connecting with us of the celestial realms is your yearning for Divine Love. For a soul that desires to be close to God, to draw in the Essence of the Creator, for that soul to be cleansed and awakened and nurtured by the highest gift which is the gift of Divine Love, this draws us to you. We are like the helpers, the servants, the agents to God, helping those on earth walk in the light and their destiny as put before them. So please remember this important time with your beloved Creator to develop this beautiful soul connection with the One who has created you.

Come to know your souls, beloveds. For in that it makes it possible for us in the celestial realms to support your journey, your discovery, your discovery of what is Divine Love, the ability to tangibly feel your soul awakening over time. We are there to serve you. Yes, there is spirit always around. The plane that you live on is filled with many levels of spirit in different conditions. So, as you make your efforts in developing your soul and awakening your soul in Divine Love, there will come a time for those who are new to us on the celestial realms, there will come a time where you may be able to hear a word, feel a presence, and notice our influence. You may ask for our presence to help you, to uplift you. Some of you know who guides you. Some have had the same guides for a very long time and have developed a close rapport, a soul rapport, with their guide. Some are coming to know their guides or have recently been introduced to one of the celestial angels that is there to guide them. For we have a keen interest in your support. You can call on us to walk with you in your day. It does require your thoughts to be on a higher level but when they are not, my dear friends call out to God asking, yearning, longing for that help. For it is in your call to God, He sends us in your response. It is not a difficult task. It is not methodical. It is more about feeling. Walking with the essence of your heart desire, your soul desire, this is what more readily draws us.

You each have the capacity to create a loving bond with your celestial friends. It does take your effort and it does take your time. My suggestion would be as you continue to strengthen your ability to read things of a spiritual nature on Divine Love, come to understand what this Essence, what this Love of God, can do. There have been many, many extraordinary messages given by us in spirit. Nourish your mind with these beautiful truths, imbue your souls with this beautiful Love and allow the energy of this Love to do its work. Allow it to cleanse and allow it to lift off those conditions that keep you from God. As the dear soul shared in his talk, it is necessary for these conditions to be lifted off and as they are, your soul does expand. There is a greater brightness, a space in you where your light is expansive. This is necessary for your soul awakening and drawing near to you your devoted guides.

Have support around you. Come together with like-minded souls to nurture your curiosity, answer your questions as best they can and to pray together. It is like exercising a muscle you need to develop, this art of yearning to be close to God and to have God touch your soul. As this is strengthened your desire to be close to God will be in the forefront of your thought. You will have the ability to commune with God, to bring God into everything. Here again we can come and guide and influence, help you with your gifts.

Desire does play a part. When a soul desires to walk with celestial angels by their side, we can come. If there is no desire or reaching out, it limits our contacting you. He has touched on in his talk about the mental diet, this also is very important. For when your mental diet is on loving things, on seeking for solutions, on yearning for God's help, we can easily come close to you.

You feel our presence when you pray together in circle. You can also strengthen the rapport as you pray individually on your own. It may feel less in the beginning, but by strengthening this muscle, making your effort, you will draw us near. Allow your soul to grow in God's Love. Do not worry in the way in which we will communicate with you. Allow things to unfold and know the hand of God is upon you, taking care of you. We all look forward to having a rapport with you and as the dear soul mentioned earlier in the week, there are many unemployed celestials. They are there to serve you, my friends. So, I hope this helps you in your discovery and how to more deeply connect with us in spirit. I hope I have been able to share with you some simple ways.

I wish to commend the dear soul who has listened to his guidance and his mate has listened to her guidance for being open to bringing all of us together. You are both deeply loved and are serving your purpose. May you all be so blessed to know God so closely that you can discern your purpose. Each day though, one serves a purpose to love themselves, to love God, and to love others. This is each of your purpose.

My friends I thank you for your time. I love you all dearly and this group, this extended group in this area, is very, very dear to me. For yes, many years ago when I walked on earth, it was a great mission for me to form circles and to teach about Divine Love. I also thank you for continuing with the great blessing of the gift of direct voice. May this gift come into a realization of the many souls on earth. God bless each of you. I love you and I am your friend Alec. God bless you.

I wish to say that it is wonderful to be here amongst you and be in this Circle of Light. The light is building very strongly here now in this circle. I wish to say that everything is well and as it should be. No need for any worries. We are trying to bond with every one of you and work with you in a way that we can, the best possible way. I want to say that my love is the great gift of the Father and that you must just trust it and allow it to flow into your souls. That way it can come in in great abundance and change you and help you to achieve the things that you must achieve.

Love is the great Truth of the universe, which we wish to bring to mankind. Everybody on earth must know about this Love. It is of paramount importance that it be given, that everyone can find their way to God. Love is the great gift of life and this love amplifies the love that you were created with, so that it may heal your wounds, discover your true self, and be healed from all that ails you.

I wish to say one more thing and that is that life is love. In this circle let the love flow in between you, bonds are deepening and we are so happy to experience this and see this from our side of life that it makes our hearts sing. We are touched by your efforts and excited at the results that will flow. Thank you for allowing me to speak.

What Brings Divine Love Mediumship

Spirit: Seretta Kem

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 29, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

There is much to impart to you regarding what you call Divine Love mediumship. So I will continue upon my discourse. It is been often said amongst you mortals, that you have a long way to go in regards to your journey to God and your awakening of the soul. I say that all mortals and spirits and even Celestial angels, have a long way to go to God. For the soul, gifted with the Father's Divine Love, is on an eternal journey to at-onement with God. Though you may measure this journey upon the earth, the awakening of your soul in your earthly life, although in the space of eternity it is not that much further than we in the Celestial Heavens. So I would suggest to you, beloved souls, do not measure your progress, but be attuned to your soul each day. Have deep appreciation of the experience that you have in the moment, in your relationship with your Heavenly Father, in your relationship with yourself. Yes each day is a day of progression, a moving forward in light, of learning, growing, experiencing and living. When you start each day with prayer, you begin the journey of that day well.

Now in regards to mediumship, and all manner of communication with spirits, there are basic laws involved regarding communication and rapport. These laws are not dissimilar to a mortal who is pursuing communication with natural love spirits and one who is communicating with Celestial angels. It requires the same effort and discipline, awareness and gifts. For these gifts are imbued within the functioning of the brain and body chemistry. There are the physical and mental attributes that are required to be open to communication with spirit. Yet, as has been discussed, there is a difference in the motivation and condition of the soul in regards to this communication. We have said to you many times, seek for the highest, to be focused upon your desire, to be open to the angels of the Celestial Heavens. As we have explained many, many times, this door is opened through prayer to receive the blessing of Divine Love. This is the difference. A natural love mortal may at times be in communication with a Celestial angel, but unless the Light of Divine Love and its transformative effects upon the soul are present with that mortal, then this communication is somewhat haphazard.

If you truly desire to be a Divine Love medium, you must venture upon the Divine Path, seeking your connection with the Creator, walking close to God, as close as you may in prayer, in thoughts, in awakening your soul by asking for this gift. So you may wonder, what are the differences between those who pursue mediumship and communication upon the path of the natural love and the path of the Divine Love? In essence they are the same, but these fundamental differences exist: everything that you are and everything that you do, is affected and blessed by the light that you carry within your soul. When you seek to build the light within your soul, to open your soul to God, to ignite the ultimate communication, which is to the Creator, and to receive through that avenue, that conduit, the Essence of God flowing into your soul, then the quality and type of communication that is opened is predicated upon love, Divine Love, not natural love, but Divine Love.

Without the power of Divine Love within you, this communication is not particularly possible. Yes, the angels do reach out to many mortals and there are many efforts to communicate, but often the mortals upon the natural love path do not recognize or understand the truths that the angels bring. They do not, nor have not, had the experience of receiving the blessing of Divine Love. Or if they have, it has been unrecognized in a conscious way, leaving a very difficult scenario for communication. When the mortal has experienced the inflow of God's Love in a conscious way and pursues the journey of soul awakening, there is a deep recognition from the soul. The soul then begins its efforts to first touch and communicate with the material mind, seeking acknowledgement, seeking communication, seeking the flow of information between these two parts, these two consciousness, one of the mind and one of the soul. We, your guides and teachers, help to facilitate this awakening of consciousness.

God reaches your soul, continuing to awaken the faculties within. So the process beings. The machinery of the soul starts to integrate with that of the mind. So these faculties and abilities of the mind, which you call mediumship, are also transformed by the Love of God. As the soul awakens and this energetic influence, this Light, continues to infuse every part of your being, the mind then is enhanced and changed by this new energy gifted to the mortal. Yes, it may be a slow process, the incremental reshaping of the soul through the blessing of this Love, this energy, but with each drop of this gift, there is a change that reverberates out into all parts of your being.

You are being changed in many ways. Many aspects of who you are, many gifts that are within your material brain and your soul, are affected by this Love. The integration of the mortal with all its attributes, and the soul with all its attributes, begins with the very first drop of this gift of Divine Love and the process grows and strengthens. The effects multiply and deepen with each prayer that is successful in receiving the gift of Divine Love. The awakening of the soul begins in earnest. The mortal comes to this awareness, noting the changes from within, noting different inclinations and motivations, noting at first a faint glimmer of communication with their angel friends as this too grows.

The rapport between the mortal and the angel deepens as the soul awakens. This may grow quickly or may not, depending upon the choice of the mortal and the inclinations of the mortal. For as in all mortals, the mind has precedence and is powerful and tends to have dominance over this process, at least in the beginning. Yet with fervent prayer, the building of deep faith in God and the recognition and acknowledgement of the soul, the mind begins to acquiesce, and the gifts, propensities and attributes of the soul, emerge in a conscious way. In this flowering of great gifts and attributes, there is communication with spirit, the Celestial angels. In some cases, this rapport and connection with a Celestial may be very intense and come with the result of the deep rapport, thus mediumship may emerge in some form. When I say mediumship, I mean that there is clear communication. There is a deep awareness, a certainty. Though the mind may have trouble recognizing and accepting this other form of communication, this newly born avenue and conduit that can receive information of all types, qualities, from we in spirit, there must come a time when the recognition, the power of the experience, must come clear and be accepted.

When this conduit of information is clear and strong, there indeed is a strong possibility that this sort of mediumship, which you refer to as trance mediumship, may take place. Some are more susceptible and gifted in this regard. But this is, as you well know, not the only gift that is possible which brings forth communication. Each mortal in your world has some gift that will open and bring clear communication with the Celestials, provided their souls are enlivened with the Divine Love. Many things are possible with this gift, for this gift brings many gifts. Allow yourself to be open and receptive to what God has to give to you in these beautiful openings of the soul and openings of the mind, all merging together in harmony, all influenced by love.

There is much that awaits every mortal and every spirit who journeys upon this path. But it is not the material mind that is of great concern here. The qualities of the mind are a factor in trance mediumship, but they are not the predominant aspect that will facilitate communication. It is the Divine Love and the soul. You will see, each of you will see, as you progress along this path, what I refer to. Your experiences will be unique and different to the next, but many blessings will come, many blessings indeed.

So I bless you upon your journeys, my friends. May you continue to awaken within your souls and may your minds continue to accept what comes in this awakening. May you know peace and harmony, love and joy on this journey. God bless you, beloved souls. I am Seretta Kem and I love you. God bless you.

Allow your True Selves to Emerge in God's Love

Spirit: Lotus Blossom

Medium: Maureen Cardoso

Date: August 29, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC – Mediumship Retreat

I am Lotus Blossom and yes, I am one of the guides of this dear soul and she has shared with you her experience of the gift of her mediumship opening. There is a curiosity that she does carry about herself and curiosity is an element that can help all of you as you experience the development of your gifts in the various stages. For when one is curious there is a sense of innocence and openness to experience the gift in the way in which the beloved Creator desires to use the instrumentality.

As each of you are unique it is good to hear ones' experience though know your experience will be yours. Open with the spirit of curiosity about who you are on the level of soul, who you are your essence for this true part of you will emerge by the grace of God's Love upon your souls in its awakening. And when one is living from their true self, all falls into place. This does take time but each of you notice your progression, your development and your changes. It is not to measure these changes but more to appreciate the changes that are occurring in you. Know that the hand of God guides you all. And as you more readily begin to feel your guides and your gifts developing this essence of who you are in truth, will find its expression. As you allow these changes to occur within you and around you will be able to feel a sense of alignment, harmony with many more aspects in your life. There is no need to push but you may carry a knowing that by creating your discipline and living by having your prayer practice a daily occurrence, spending time with God, receiving the blessing and inflowing the gift of Divine Love, know that your true selves will emerge. Know that for it will happen and with the grace and the excitement of this curiosity does it not ignite great joy in you? Does it not light a fire in you to continue to discover this true essence of yourself? Can you not right now feel in the centre of your being that joy, discovering more deeply your soul and its presence in your life?

There are many gifts in each of you and as you have been talking about mediumship there is a number of elements to it. Trance mediumship is very overt but there are many subtle ways you are being used as a medium. Through a touch, a loving glance, a kind word spoken, a helping hand you are giving place for your soul to express love. And this my friends, these ways are subtle but they bring a deep need of love into your world. So know that by just being you, you are a medium – you are a medium for God to place love before another in your world and to allow love to be who you are. A soul awakening by the grace of God, receiving this Love you then are love and the many attributes which that carries. So yes, it is a beautiful phrase “befriend your soul”, be good to yourselves, be easy on yourselves, that loving touch, that loving glance and soft words spoken to another be sure to nurture yourself in such a way and as this love expands and grows in your souls, you will come to know the grace of this language of your soul. There will be such a deep contentment within you, you will feel deep peace and a great sense of being at home. You will feel at home within yourself no matter where you go or what is happening around you.

So please continue to develop your gifts by the grace of God’s Love for it is then that they will shine in your world by the Creator’s Will. All is unfolding as it should. You have all been drawn here to learn, to love and to develop. It is a great pleasure to witness your time together. Be curious, beloveds. Be very curious about who you are. Stay close to your beloved Creator. You are all deeply loved and guided and watched over. Your angel friends will be near you, should you ask. We will do our best from our side of life to help you grow. It is a great pleasure to come and speak to you. It is a great pleasure to witness my dear charges’ gift being nourished by God and her willingness to be open, to be used and to serve God with a sincerity of serving her brothers and sisters in the best possible way. You are each deeply loved. God bless you. I am Lotus Blossom. God bless you.

God's Love is the Greatest Gift

Spirit: Jesus

Medium: Jesper Sorensen

Date: August 29, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

I am Jesus. I come close to this circle to share my love with you. I have been observing you, your bonds with each other in love, and as these love bonds grow so your light will grow and you will be used as an instrument for love in the world. I am so pleased to come here today to be with you. I have tried a few times with this instrument but we have not had so much luck. Now it seems to work better. I am here and I wish to say that I am very happy to be here. Love is the greatest thing. The Divine Love of God is the greatest thing in the whole Universe. This is really the thing to be sought for by all of you and you do so right here and this is wonderful to see. I come and I witness you all. I love you all.

God bless you all. I wish to say that it is not such an easy thing to say that here you receive the Divine Love of God. It requires some trust and some letting go on your parts. But I would say that you are doing really well at this. It is also not that difficult but just requires a letting go from the material mind that your soul may become more shall we say open to the inflowing of God's Love and this is really all that is good, to allow this Love to flow into your soul, that you feel it, you experience it in a deep way. To allow this Love to sink in and to change you, to transform your being is the key to the healing of this world and to all aspects of yourself, one another that you receive this Love and you go forward into the world so you will touch other people. Other people will be able to see your light so that they will be interested in. This is really the thing that we are looking for here – to grow our love, our lights and to spread this to the world. And this happens quite naturally as we receive this Love and we meet people. They are automatically touched. You don't need to say anything, you just need to be with them and the love. And this is the beauty of this love that it touches other people and other people feel its presence.

I also wish to say that there is nothing to be afraid of in these Circles of Light. We are love and that we all come in love so there is nothing to be too worried about. It's all about love and Love is the key to all the answers to your questions and to your path. So keep seeking the Love my friends. This will really heal you and help you on your journey to greater love and to greater understanding of God and of who yourselves truly are. You are much more than this physical body you identify so much with during your years. Your body is only a shell. Your faith of you. This is what needs to be developed. As we come close to you all, we touch you with our presence with our Divine Love and you feel it and you embrace it. This is how it should be. Keep going this way my friends and love will touch the world. The world will change. So it is.

I am Jesus and I am happy to come through this instrument with this message to you all. Know that you are all deeply loved by the Creator who watches over you at all times. Protects you and there is nothing to worry about. You are guided by God and the angels and all is love. Thank you.

A Declaration Proclaiming the Beginning of a New Era of Light

Spirit: Isaiah

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 29, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

God is infecting the world with Love. He pours His Love into many parts of your world creating great change for individuals and for the many races of this world, change that will come in surprising ways. Those who feel animosity towards others shall lay this down at God's Feet and will come to embrace their brothers and sisters, to see all as equals and beloved.

The world is about to change, my beloved and beautiful friends. Great change is coming and you will witness this in your lives and you will be a part of it in your gifts and talents imbued by God as you truly come to know the nature of your own souls, as you truly come to know the Will of God through receiving this great gift of Love. God pours His Light and Love upon you at this very moment. God shall pour His Light and Love upon you each day as you, my beloved and beautiful brothers and sisters, spend each day absorbing this gift that it may be a powerful catalyst for the awakening of your souls, for opening your eyes and greeting the world in love, that you may go out into the world and embrace your brothers and sisters and live and express this great gift. This message from God that is "Children, the way of the world must be of love and acceptance, that you may all live together in harmony. The way of mankind and their ways of power and lack of love is finished. This begins a new era, beloveds, an era that you have all incarnated into to be instruments, harbingers of Truth and Love and Light. This shall flow through you. Mighty torrents of Light and Love will flow through you as you continue to reach to your heavenly Father and reach down from His great Soul, the living waters of Love, that shall pour through you into this world, flooding this world in Light."

There are many being prepared, beloved souls. Many who have themselves chosen this path and this time to be God's instruments of change in the world. Great change is coming, beloveds, and you are all swept along in God's mighty river of Love. You shall all know your purpose and work on behalf of the heavenly Father. It shall be clear and powerful and bring great joy to each one of you and all who engage in this beautiful awakening of mankind. For the change shall touch every soul upon this world. The clarion call of God will reverberate within the souls of mankind and elicit the response, as each soul will be given the choice to awaken or to fall away, to become alive in their souls or fall away. This is the choice, this is the clarion call of your Heavenly Father, that your souls may gain its rightful place in Light and that your gifts of the soul may awaken and become evident in this world. That you, each one of you, may step forward in the days to come and declare the Truth and live the Truth and reach out to your brothers and sisters in Love and Truth and speak on behalf of God. Come and be in the Light. Come my brother, come my sister, come children all, and be in the Light of Truth and receive the great gift and benediction upon your souls that you may awaken and come to new life, a new era of Light.

The angels of God are with you, beloved souls. The Truth is evident within your souls. Come to know this part of yourself and be truly an expression of the fullness and wonderment of God's creation which is you. Each of you in your unique and beautiful selves is a precious and beloved child of God. Bring this into each moment of your day, each aspect of your being that you may be truly this expression, the awakened soul in the great blessing of God's Will and Desire for humanity to be His blessed children that are close, that have chosen to love one another and become the family that it truly is. Children all of God, children beautiful in light, gracious of soul, keen of mind, beautiful in light. God bless you. God bless you beloved souls upon this journey and may you indeed hear the clarion call of God and heed this call with all of your commitment and desire for love. God bless you. God bless you beloveds. My love is with you and God's great Love shall always pour upon you. God bless you.

Note from the Medium: This message was a powerful declaration from Isaiah. The spiritual power in the room was extraordinary and those present felt it keenly. My hope is that the reader will also feel the power and beauty of this declaration for the end of the era of darkness brought on by our inhumanity towards each other.

God bless.

God Communicates with Your Soul

Spirit: Seretta Kem

God's breath is upon you, beloveds. He pours His Light, His peace, and His Love into your circle. In these times you've had together, God has uplifted you all, blessed you in many ways, given you insights, encouraged and brought His Love to you in great abundance. You have been instructed to walk in the world with this light, to be channels of love, to uplift yourselves in this light. For God will indeed answer your call and bring you to a place of peace, joy and harmony. It is but for the asking and is always available to you. Within your souls beloveds, there is a deep longing for this communion in light, this deep peace, this acknowledgement, this love.

Beloved souls, you now realize that God communicates with you in many ways. God communicates to your soul directly and you communicate with God with your prayers and longings and your thoughts and desires. As you build this conduit that is recognizable and powerful, that brings many insights and blessings to you, your soul begins to awaken, your understanding deepens, that awareness deep within you emerges into your consciousness. The flowering of truth comes to you, allowing you to conduct yourselves and your life in a way that brings harmony, in a way that is in light and brings peace.

When you have established this bond with God, this way of communication of the interchange of your soulful energies and God's great energies and blessings, then you have begun a process that will transform you, beloved souls, and open many gifts. For the faculties of the soul become ignited by the Divine Love. Embedded within these faculties is the ability to communicate with God, with we in spirit, with your own true nature and being.

Many dimensions are opened with the awakening of your faculties. These senses within are multidimensional. In this way, clear understanding of truth of the reality of God is possible. As the wisdom of the soul grows, expands, intensifies and deepens, we the angels of Heaven, may utilize the wisdom inherent in your soul, the love that glows in your soul, to communicate with others, through you, in many different ways. Not just through words, but through blessings, through utilizing your gifts to connect with other souls in the world so to clear the way of light, God utilizes His instruments, and we are all instruments, beloveds. Our awareness and understanding of God's Will is deep and comes with the cleansing and expansion of our souls in God's Love. Your capacity to serve and to know is only limited by the progression of your soul. So with every effort you make to be close to God and to receive this great benediction of love, you continue to forge a connection, to clear this conduit, so that you may receive more and more, know more and more, be used more readily, powerfully and clearly, by God.

Thus you are fledgling angels, beloveds. God is utilizing you to the fullest of your capacities to be used. As you grow, so shall your gifts, your abilities, and this flow of the enactment of God's Will in your life. In this way, many of your brothers and sisters benefit by your actions and your dedication. By the growing of your soul, so you bring greater light into this world. In this way beloveds, you are precious to us and to God. For there are few in your world who are truly dedicated to the growing of their soul, this world that is filled with mindful concerns as the human condition dominates and effects this world in so many unfortunate ways.

God's ability to make a clear and direct connection with His children is lost in the fog of all of these thought-forms and energies and conditions created by man. So few understand what it is that their souls long for with their minds so distracted and carried away by these conditions. You must step forth, beloveds souls, as you grow and expand in this truth with God, and declare that there is indeed a different way, a different flow and understanding that will come with the opening of your soul. This is the truth that will be the key for the salvation of mankind and will change the world.

You brave and beloved souls step forward and follow this Truth of God's Love. You begin the process of change that will ignite the entire world. God wishes that all your gifts and abilities, the strength of your light, your wisdom and your love will flow forth in every day and in every way to help ignite this revolution of understanding and living in this world through love. It is a formidable task. For the waves of darkness and misunderstanding, error and deprivation are powerful indeed. Yet God desires that these conditions dissolve in light so that love may flow readily, and harmony comes with this change, that all who live in your world and all who are coming, the children and all who may have the blessing of life in this beautiful world may be loved and cared for, nurtured and shown the way to harmony. Do you not wish to leave this legacy in your life and your actions? To pass on the truth in simple but powerful ways. To enact the truth in your own personal life. To be an example. To be close to God always.

Every soul is given a choice. You have chosen to step upon the highest path. May you reach out to many others in some way and say to them that they are loved by God and that they may pursue His Love and bring Him into their hearts, into their consciousness, into their life.

Many blessings and gifts await humanity, but humanity first must awaken from their slumbers. Humanity must come to realize that love is the most important thing of all, that a life predicated upon love is a life lived as God intended. So many feel unloved. So many feel bereft in so many ways. You must teach them. You must show them where they must and can receive and be uplifted and infilled with the greatest of all loves, God's Love.

There is no other way left for humanity, my beloveds. All of their ideas, solutions, expectations that the intellect and the mind will bring in some future time order and harmony to humanity. But for those who think in this way, they forget about the heart. They do not see the importance in expanding the heart in love, of changing their consciousness so that they may love and recognizing the power of the wisdom of love. If all of humanity could but realize the power of love, both of the natural and the Divine, then many solutions would come, many dilemmas would be solved. So much could be transformed in your world so that there would be equality and the needs of humanity would be met so that each may live a life full and rich with possibilities and with love. You must strive towards these ends, beloved souls. For you are willing to go on that journey of awakening, to come to the realizations that are necessary, that the faculties and wisdom of the soul may carry you to truth and harmony.

This is your gift, beloved souls, the gift of life. What you do with this gift is determined with each day and each breath. May you reach for the highest and find all that is inherent in the awakening of the soul. The power of love, the power of love, beloveds, is what you need. Go to the source. Receive and come to know, in your own way, this truth, and all that I speak of will come perfectly clear. All that you may do, in this world, will be expanded and awakened, expressed and fulfilled, as God will guide you and use you and nurture you and uplift you.

God bless you beloved souls. May you come to know your true selves, and within that knowing, express your true gifts in love and harmony, to be truly that magnificent individual that God has created and set forth to grow and progress in the world, in your world and in ours, that long and beautiful journey to God. God bless you beloveds. I am Seretta Kem and I love you. God bless you.

Love... Love is the great liberator. Love is the thing that will set your soul free from the encrustments and the darkness that has been inculcated in your souls. Divine Love will heal all that and bring you nearer to God. You must realize that every time you receive a portion of this Divine Love you are in at-onement with God to the degree that you have His Love in your soul. At-onement does not just happen one day. It happens every minute that you are receiving God's Love.

I wish to say that is a wonderful group of wonderful people, you are all a part of the plan of God's salvation for humanity. This is a beautiful thing. I love you all dearly. I will always watch over you so you have nothing to worry about. Love is a thing to be sought for as you are doing. This will bring a big change to this world. You must believe that and know that in your heart.

I wish to say that this is good for now. I will be back. God bless you dear souls. I am Jesus. I love you.

The Father's Light pours deeply down upon you, a deep blessing as you have prayed your sister into spirit. Father bless these Thy children who deeply desire to serve Your will, who seek to be at one with You, who yearn to be close. Bless them dear Father. Help them to drink deeply Your living waters. Each of them walking the path destined by You.

May the Love of God reside deeply in your souls. May the Blessing of God be felt deeply by each of you. We love each of you touched and given a special blessing. I am Jesus and I love you. God bless you.

Circles of Light

Spirit: Kea Atta Kem

Medium: Al Fike

Date: August 30, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

God bless you beloved souls I am Kea Atta Kem and you have questions regarding circles of light and the manifestations that happen in these circles and I'm happy to answer your questions beloveds.

A circle of light is formed by the intentions of those within the circle, those mortals who come to pray together. If their intentions are for the highest and to receive the blessings of God's Love and they draw the angels into their midst, to be in the light, indeed this sets a process in place where not only the mortals present receive blessings and benefits but many others in spirit do as well. For you draw into your midst beautiful blessings and energies, healings that uplift and bring great light as you pray for the inflow of Divine love into your souls. So the angels come with this blessing.

When you establish a circle of light that is maintained in prayer and efforts by those present and these prayers are consistent and powerful, it ignites beautiful blessings to come to your circle. This great portal of light which you have received is a powerful blessing not only for you but for the world. For there are not many portals of light established in the world, and they serve to be a conduit from the heavens to the earth. Allowing us in spirit to bring blessings Divine, powerful healing energies and energies that are used to help each soul present. We are able to share chemistry amongst you, to benefit your bodies and your spirit bodies and then of course, if there is a medium present, we are able to speak some words of encouragement and wisdom. The light in the centre of these circles is great and often an angel stands in the centre in deep prayer, drawing great blessings to your midst. Each soul in the circle is supported by an angel who stands behind them, with their hands upon them in prayer. They uplift and support each soul so that they may be above the conditions of this earth, drawing all in the circle to another place, a beautiful place of light as they enter the portal that draws them to a higher condition beyond the earth plane.

There are times when many spirits come to watch, to listen, to pray with you, and these spirits have many different levels of soul progression and light. They are brought here by many other spirits who work with you all and these spirits are not necessarily of the Celestial Kingdom but reside in the higher spheres, many of them growing in The Love. They bring those who are curious and those who they wish to teach. For on this plane it is possible to bring these many other spirits who are in a variety of conditions to this place so they may hear the Truth and that they may participate in this collective longing to God to receive these gifts of love, comfort and healing. A great light emanates from these circles. At times an angel who stands in circle may speak to the spirits and they draw to them certain energies and substances from the sitters who are mortal which allows them to be seen by the lower spirits and to speak. This is a sort of material mediumship but not quite to the level as to be seen in the material world. So you see, there are many layers, many aspects to a Circle of Light that benefit many in the spirit world as well as the material world. For angels are dispatched to mortals in this world as you pray together for those you love and those who are connected to the circle.

There is much activity and many things happening together to bring these blessings to many souls. Those who live on the material plane and those who live in the spirit world benefit greatly by your efforts for circles of light. When we are able to speak through a channel such as this, these words are amplified so that all may hear and there may be many, many spirits present. Such are the benefits of a circle of light.

Though you need not know of all of these elements and aspects, you may take comfort in knowing the work that you do has many layers, many aspects, many benefits to many souls. The power of prayer, beloveds, the power of praying with singleness of purpose, can bring what you may call miracles in your midst. It is determined by you. With the intensity of your desire, the elevation of your intention, your desire to receive the highest as so many gifts, so much light touches you all and touches many more.

Continue these efforts to create and sustain Circles of Light in the World. They are so needed and so powerful and beneficial to the world. Allowing God to work His blessings and Will through you all creating another avenue for the Light of God to come into this world and the blessings of God to come into this world. Touching the souls of others through you is a powerful agent of change in your world and you all pray for this. When you come to a circle such as this, prepare yourselves, elevate your thoughts and when you come together, come together in love and unity. Share your love amongst your circle and when there is a medium present, send your love to the medium for the power and the love and the light of the truth will emanate and touch many other souls besides your own. It is a wonderful thing to see blessed souls come together in this way to sustain the light, to eagerly seek greater understanding and to know God's power and glory and to seek His love to sustain all upon their journeys to enlightenment.

As your circles grow and as the light within your soul grows and gifts unfold, as your souls awaken in their perceptions, you will see that what I have described will become familiar to you and you will understand the magnitude of your efforts and our efforts combined will bring the truth to mankind. We are all children of God working together to bring light, truth, love and peace to the world. May you continue to awaken, my dear friends, to push aside all barriers and restrictions to living your lives in alignment with God, to expressing your lives in the flow of His Love, to using your gifts for the benefit of many, allowing we in the Celestial kingdom to come close to you and work with you! We continue our work together and we do so with joy and deep gratitude to God who opens up the channels of light which benefits us all.

God bless you, beloveds, I am Keea Atta Kem . God bless you, I love you!

The Awakening of Your Souls Brings the Message of Truth To Humanity.

Spirit: Augustine

Medium: Al Fike

Date: September 1, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

It is your teacher, Augustine. As our beloved brother and Master speaks, you must all go out into the world to teach this truth and live this truth. For humanity is at the crucial hour to awaken, to come to its senses so that harmony may come to this world, peace may come to this world, love may be the currency of this world.

Though every soul may struggle with its inner conditions and be fearful and ignorant and full of error, there is a light, the light within each soul that compels each one to seek God. As you walk in the world a bell tolls with your presence, a bell that says, "Awaken brothers and sisters to this Truth that God loves you, that you may receive His blessings of Love, that your souls and hearts may come to a deep awakening and knowing of this Truth".

So those of you in the world who know of God's Love and have experienced to some degree its transforming effects upon you, carry this message wherever you go. The light of your soul touches other souls. The capacities of your soul to be a channel of love flows out to many others. Even when you are sitting in your home doing idle things, you still send out this signal of light into the world. It is with you. It is always with you for it is truly a part of you, beloved souls, this light, this message, this tolling bell of truth.

Have faith, beloved souls, that you are doing God's Will by carrying this message, by living this truth. You continue to intensify the light within you through your prayers to receive the blessings of the Father's Love. So, the light grows stronger. The tone and strength of this bell sweeter and reverberates out into the world, calling your brothers and sisters to prayer, stimulating that part of their souls that longs for God. Because of this, many reactions come from those around you because you are noticed, because there is something about you that awakens a glimmer within them. At times these responses will not be as you expect, though your intention and good will is for love and harmony. Some are intrigued, while others respond with suspicion, some with anger because you challenge the world, beloveds. You challenge the ways of thought, the normalcy of life created by mankind as so much in your world is a response to all the thoughts and conditions created by mankind.

God at this time challenges humanity to wake up, to hear the tolling bell, to understand that within them is a deep need to connect with their Creator. Because you have answered this call and walk with God, you create around you a light and message that compels others to be drawn. This magnetism is the Touch of God upon you and you must listen and feel comfortable and allow this compelling light to touch many. Do not allow your minds to restrict this. Do not judge others. Do not feel fearful of others but walk in confidence that you walk with God and that God guides you with each day. Though your outward appearance is like all others, this normalcy perceived by the mind, know that within you is something very different, very powerful. The more that you can acknowledge what it is that lays within your soul and to reinforce this reality, you will be a powerful channel of truth and light, love and comfort in this world. Through the wisdom and knowledge of your soul, through your at-oneness with God, knowing His Will, you will move in the world as an instrument of His Will and touch many souls.

There is nothing complicated about this but it is your desire and choice to bring light, to be a channel of love, that makes this possible. In your acknowledgement of the truth and practicing the truth, prayer and receiving, being a channel, all of these things come to pass and not in a great struggle but in a flow and harmony, a beauty and grace that has all the hallmarks of God's Touch. This is what you strive for beloveds. Each of you has a keen desire to be in the world as a light, to be a channel of love, to teach truth and to be truth. The more that you can release the expectations of your mind and come to know the beauty and power of your soul, these things will open and flourish and flow. The ambitions of your soul which are very different from that of your mind will be realized. For the soul in its wisdom, in its very nature, yearns to be in harmony with God and to align itself with God's Will. With this, all the faculties and blessings, gifts and knowings within you will emerge and be expressed in all their beauty, power and glory. You will walk in the light, a beacon of light in the world, just as the Master Jesus walked and followed his Heavenly Father's guidance and Will and was a channel for truth and love, so will you be, beloveds, given your efforts, desires and prayers to be with God. This is the natural outcome of awakening the soul - service, love, truth, compassion, humility, wisdom. All of these things, beloveds, come as you forge a relationship with your Heavenly Father and you are strong enough and clear enough to walk this truth, to be in the world in this way.

May your souls awaken quickly, beloved souls. May you come to truly know yourselves and all the wonderment and beauty that is your soul. All this is so profoundly awesome in knowing God, the power of His Love and Presence with you. In this way you will be born again, renewed within and all that you have been will be transformed into what you can be and will be in the wonderment of Divine Love.

God bless you, beloveds. I continue to observe your journeys, to see the awakening of your souls, to foster and encourage this and I shall indeed continue to be with you on this journey for you are my charges and I love you so. God bless you, beloveds. I am your teacher Augustine and I love you. God bless you.

I say this is a beautiful circle. The beautiful light that has been generated here and that you have all done so well in building the light which is being used in the world for the betterment of humanity. You are all precious souls and you are feeling the Light and the bonds grow. There is no better truth than this Light, this Love and you have been chosen to bring this to the world.

Loving one another is all that we need to do in this world for the world to blossom, for the darkness to be shed. Love is the key to all life, and the truth of your souls. Just trust and believe in this Love and you will go far in this world, in light, being an instrument for God. You are all beautiful. We in spirit love you very much. You all are watched over. You are all blessed. You must believe this for this is the key to confidence, to unlocking those gifts within you, to have that faith to speak up when it's needed regardless of what the others may think.

It is a leap of faith to walk in this Light, in this Love. Your souls will come to the forefront before your minds and you must not be afraid of this, when you have the urge to speak, to share something with people you may not even know, just trust in this inspiration that you might get in your hearts and don't be afraid to follow the inspiration. This is often so that we get afraid to say, to speak something. We don't know how the other people will respond but as this light grows within you, you will know that you are being inspired to say something so it is just about taking that faith and say it. This will benefit you - you will grow in love and faith and it will benefit the person you are standing before.

It really is about getting the mind out of the way and just feel your heart centre and your soul and believe in its guidance. You all can do this now. You have the light, you have the feeling of your soul. No matter what your mind may tell you about it you must not listen to that but drop into your heart space and believe in that instead. As you do this, as you begin to follow this heart space you build your confidence in yourself at a soul level. It might feel awkward at first but this is what is needed to follow that inner touch that inner guidance no matter how silly you might think it is through your mind's experience. Your mind will always judge you but you must not listen to that. You must step forward and go forward with the inspiration that you feel you receive on a soul level. And this is really all that is needed that you come to trust in your inner being and follow its guidance.

I am delighted to come here amongst you and you are all blessed. Step forward my friends into the world. Don't be afraid to show your light. This is what is needed and it will touch other people. Thank you.

Encouragement to Teach Truth

Spirit: John the Baptist

Medium: Jesper Sorensen

Date: September 1, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC.

Love your neighbour as yourself. I come forth my children. I am John the Baptist. When I walked the earth I did so with great faith. And my cousin Jesus he was indeed the Messiah to teach the truth of God in this world and indeed he did so. I come on behalf of him to send you out into the world to teach these truths. You can do it my friends, nothing to be worried about. It takes faith and courage to stand up to these truths for it is a harsh world that you live in. You really can do it. You must believe this for it is true.

I wish to say you're all dearly loved, by our Great God. He will send you out into the world each in your own way to fulfill your life's purpose. Trust in this for I tell you the truth. Life is a great journey. It is to be enjoyed and not so much to be feared.

When you have the love of God in your heart it becomes a joyous adventure. You will experience this as you go forth into your path. It is not so hard as your mind may tell you or as that you may believe. It's like a thing that takes practice, comes slowly with faith. You take one step, you take the next, you take the third. And so it goes. You will experience the joy of walking this path as well. Indeed, it is a joyous path.

I am pleased with all your efforts to bring the love to the world. You have done so greatly in this circle of light, and the love has flowed between you and so it will continue to flow between you. You are greatly loved. And I wish to say thank you to all of you who desire to bring this love to the world. You are the harbingers of truth and the love to mankind. God bless you.

I come here today into your circle to cheer you up a bit on your last day. Very happy to be here. Such a joy to come here and spend some time with you. I'm really in a playful mood at the moment and I hope you all can feel that.

It feels wonderful to be together like this. We think so. There's great joy in heaven after all of these efforts you have done to come into condition with the Fathers Love.

I come with great love for everyone here. You are all instruments of our Father for to bring His divine love into the world. This is a mighty task that you have before you but you are all very capable to do this work. You all can step forward with this love. It just requires your trust and your willingness to do it There is not much to think about, it is basically just to step forward and follow your guidance, your souls' guidance. You will all be guided to what you need to do. So you can trust that you are all guided as we will all guide you from our side of life. You've had a great soul bonding here in this gathering and this love you can take with you into the world and share it with other people. This is the way of love my friends, to be open to one another and to share with other people, and to touch them.

So many people are lonely in this world and so many people need a little chat so whenever you find you are able to have a little chat with someone that's another opportunity to extend your love to the next person. Indeed, you are all very well capable of these things. Just trust yourselves. You can all do this. I am pleased with all your efforts, and you all feel the love within you, and now it's just all about following it, what does it want? and listening to it and step forward. Take small steps. One step leads to the next and soon you are fulfilling your purpose in this way my friends. Life brings love and laughter. This is what your world needs. I'm glad I've had a chance to come and talk with you and share my love with you. I love you all dearly. You are my brothers and sisters. Trust in love my friends. This is the way. God bless you.

You Are Ready to Step Forward

Spirit: Seretta Kem

Medium: Al Fike

Date: September 1, 2018

Location: Gibsons, BC

I am Seretta Kem. There is a change coming to your circles, a deep change, for gifts are being developed that will garner more attention to you and work that is coming that will draw you out into the world. You must prepare yourselves, beloved souls, within your souls. Have a deep connection with God, a connection that is strong and clear with each day of your life, a commitment to serving your Heavenly Father in a way that may reach wide, out into the world to the many souls who are waiting, to the many opportunities that God is going to place before you. Each of you will have a role to play, opportunities are coming, doors are opening, possibilities are being realized. For as change comes to this world so your responsibilities will deepen. We come to you in these ways to gather you together in Circles of Light, to prepare you, to awaken you, to educate you that you may walk with a clarity and wisdom and light and love that will touch many souls, will be used by God in many ways.

God has a plan, beloveds, and with the knowings of your soul you realize that God desires that you are a part of this plan, that you will be called upon to be strong and steadfast, clear and dedicated to this work. God has much work for you, beloveds. He has tested you. He has sent His angels to prepare you. He has infused His Love into your souls as much as you are able to receive it. Though progression is eternal and relevant to each day of your life, you are ready to step forward. Your souls are eager. You must come into greater alignment between your mind and your soul so that when you walk this road of great responsibility and effort and openness to the world. You are able to be strong with your feet firmly planted upon the ground and your soul connected with Heaven and God. This is a special form of strength, a strength that comes with the opening of your soul, with the blessing of God's Divine Love. For great wisdom comes with this opening, a clarity of understanding and knowing your Creator, knowing His Will that will compel you in your efforts, draw you in many ways to many circumstances and souls in the world. With this strength and light, with the awakening of your soul, the love that you emanate, the peace that accompanies you, many will be touched. Many seek the wisdom and truth that you have to give but you must stand straight and clear, loving and yet steadfast, for you will be challenged. Each teacher that comes to this world, to confront the error, is challenged by the darkness and you must not succumb to the powerful influences of the dark. As long as you are with God and walk in faith, no matter what the circumstances, you will be protected and God will use you in wondrous ways to awaken the sleeping souls in your world.

You must continue to pray and redouble your efforts to walk in light, to listen to all of these teachings and all of the wisdom that has been given to you, to bring it into your heart and truly live in love. Know that love is truly the answer to all the dilemmas of this world. To truly love yourselves and recognize the gifts that God has given you, to be a clear channel of love, to have deep compassion for your brothers and sisters, to be in the world but not of the world, to seek the awareness of your soul above all else and trust in this, trust in the awakening of your soul and walk in the grace and light of God's Touch upon you.

You are needed, beloveds, deeply needed. Though you have many concerns and cares in your life and for those who need you, you will find your way to serve in powerful ways to be that channel of light, light and purpose, which God has designated in this unique journey that is your soul and your being. For many of you, we have spent many years preparing you, preparing you for a time to come that is now very close. You must change your perspectives from that of walking upon this earth with one eye upon the material condition and one eye on God. Instead, you must turn your gaze to your Heavenly Father as much as you are able, in prayerful supplication, in openness so that God may pour within you those blessings, inspirations and revelations that He wishes to give to each one of you. You will see in your own way. You will receive in your own way and yet you will all be united in a sense and commitment to what is needed. In this way you will work together in love. You will see clearly your role. You will enact this role in love and joy for this is what is truly meant for you. You will not envy another because they have a role to play that may be more overt. Instead, as one steps forward, you all will feel a sense of progression and movement towards light. This is how God will work with you all, using each of your gifts in appropriate ways, effective ways, powerful ways that will garner the attention of mankind and stir within them a desire for those higher things that awaken the soul.

God will not wave His Hand and all will be right with the world. This is not how Creation evolves. But the corner will be turned from darkness to light and you will all be involved in this infusion of truth and light that will inspire your brothers and sisters. Though in your mind's eye you may fantasize and consider these possibilities, know that these things are not reality. What is coming you cannot anticipate and must progress and step forward day by day in deep faith and trust in God's plan. In this way, what is meant to come and be manifest in this work will do so. Though what begins as something small and humble will grow as you persist and work to bring the truth to mankind in a guided way.

You have great light in your souls, beloveds, and that light is bursting in great anticipation and desire to infuse your entire being and your entire life and this will be so in the coming days, weeks and months. You will see. Your soul begins to awaken. The truth begins to take hold in powerful ways in your being and you feel the difference, do you not? You feel the fires being stoked within your soul, this awakening changing and transforming everything within you. This is the power of Love, God's Essence. You are on the verge of great transformation, not only personally but in this world. You will know a great joy as God's plan unfolds and you awaken to a new dawn, the Dawn of Love.

May you continue to allow God to ignite the awakening of your soul. May you yearn for this. May you pray fervently and may you trust in the deep Touch and Holy Communion that comes with your relationship with God. In this everything is possible. In this comes the fulfillment of your purpose. In this comes a fulfillment of the awakening of mankind. You must teach these truths and be an example and allow God's Will to manifest fully in your life. Then all your dreams, all that bubbles forth in your souls, these deep desires will become a reality and the world will begin to change for the better and you will be a part of it, with deep soul satisfaction and joy.

May God bless you deeply beloved brothers and sisters with His great and holy Love so that you may indeed find your way along this trail towards at-onement, towards light, towards the healing of your world and the healing of your inner soul. I am Seretta Kem and I walk with you upon this trail of discovery. God bless you. I love you. God bless you.
