INTRODUCTION

The “Three Amigos”, Geoff Cutler, Jimbeau Walsh and Al Fike held daily Circles of Light in Sydney and Fitzroy Falls, New South Wales, Australia for three weeks in November and December, 2018.

This collection of 45 selected messages from Jesus, Mary, James Padgett and a host of Celestial angels were received during their daily prayers for Divine Love in the homes of Geoff Cutler, and Susan and Michael Lytton-Hitchins.

During their opening prayer, our beloved guide Seretta Kem conveyed that the purpose of their time together was to create a Centre of Light in Australia that would be useful in the future; and that the three men were being brought together to nurture further development of their own soul awakenings. Seretta Kem said the angels would be working on their physical make-up and chemistry to help develop each person’s unique gifts within.

Indeed, many of the messages received are of such a personal nature, that we questioned whether to share them with others or not. It was decided that since the messages have relevance to all spiritual seekers, to share some of them publicly – hence the recipients granted permission to include messages of a personal nature in this collection.

The first day that the Three Amigos sat together in prayer, their old friend James Reid, who passed into spirit in 2017, brought them greetings from his new home and encouraged them to continue their spiritual quest. James said that if he were still on earth, he would have loved to travel with them on their spiritual adventure! He wanted to share his adventures progressing in the spheres of spirit and promised them that when their time came to pass over, he would be there to greet them.

Three extraordinary messages from Yogananda are included in this collection. Two deal with lessons about Taming the Mind and Pathways of Consciousness; and in the third message, Yogananda describes his personal journey through the spirit spheres to the Celestial Heavens.

Other remarkable messages came from Professor Salyards and James Padgett. Professor Salyards responded to a complicated question regarding the expansion of the soul with the Divine Love. He emphasized that there is no limitation to an awakened soul's capacity to understand truth. There is much that can be absorbed and integrated into a soul that is fully alive and transformed in Divine Love! Its capacities and instrumentalities, gifts and ability to perceive, observe and understand truth evolve at a different frequency.

There is much that can be absorbed and integrated into a soul that is fully alive in the Divine Love. For that soul is indeed transformed. Its capacities and instrumentalities, gifts, and ability to perceive, observe and understand truth is at a different frequency.

James Padgett describes how greater truths may come through various mediums that are in alignment with God and capable of bringing clearer and deeper understanding of the truths of the Father's Love with all the wonderment and increased capacity that comes with the awakened soul. James Padgett continues, in spirit, to bring truth, inspiration and understanding about Divine Love to the world.

With this collection, we would like to invite readers to join other Divine Love followers in a global effort for heartfelt simultaneous prayer with LightBringers, a prayer network that is powered by the free WhatsApp chat platform that allows members to coordinate their prayer efforts.

We are all needed to contribute to the cause of bringing increased light, love, peace, and healing for humanity and for our planet. Praying together increases the power of our prayers many times over and strengthens the bonds of love that we share as brothers and sisters made in the image of our precious and beloved Creator.

With love and gratitude,
Jeanne Fike, Gibsons, B.C.

MESSAGES FROM CELESTIAL ANGELS

The messages received in Australia during November-December 2018 were from angels—Celestial spirit guides and teachers who once lived on Earth...yes, they were human once, and through their soul longings, were transformed from the image of God into Divine spirits by praying to God sincerely for an inflowing of Divine Love.

Open Your Minds and Souls to God's Guidance (Seretta Kem)

Title: Open Your Minds and Souls to God's Guidance
Spirit: Seretta Kem
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 14, 2018

I am very pleased to see the three of you together at this time and I wish to inform you that we do indeed have an agenda, a purpose to fulfill, while you are together. Primarily we wish to create within this place a node of light that will be used in this part of the world as your beloved brother continues in his prayer vigil and efforts here. So, with the three of you together, there is a possibility of being successful with this venture of creating a portal and Centre of Light here that will be useful in the future. You will be surprised what may come through your efforts, what is possible with your prayers, what can be accomplished through your dedications and ministrations together.

Always remember that you are surrounded by many spirits, many who are in need of assistance and loving ministrations to assist their soul growth. So when we create a Centre of Light, we not only do so for those on the earth plane but for those in spirit as well. Many, many souls benefit and there are many layers and dimensions to this work. So do not assess your efforts from merely the mind's perception of what is plainly before you. Recognize that there are many other aspects to what you do and how you are being utilized by God as His servants of light. This often requires a certain humility and an acceptance of what may seem on the surface a very modest effort, but in fact, your efforts plant many seeds and many beginnings and possibilities that will come to fruition in the future.

Never underestimate the power of God's Will and the beauty of His plan for the salvation of mankind. That your footfalls may be carefully chosen and guided by God is important at this time, that you are also willing to venture forth and to touch other souls as God's channels. Put aside any reluctance or judgments or desire to assess the effectiveness of your work. These things come from the mind and are not helpful in your mutual efforts. Allow your days to unfold in God's guidance with the help of your angel friends, that you may work together adding your piece to the puzzle, adding your understanding to the greater whole of what it is that you are doing in this effort together. This is a challenge at times and this is a test.

This is a great opportunity to work together. This will inform the future, beloved souls, of what may come to be in this great effort as channels of God's Love and Truth.

Realize that you each bring certain gifts, perceptions and abilities that complement your mutual efforts together. Allow these gifts to unfold and work into the fabric of this beautiful effort. You will learn and grow from this, beloveds, if you are willing to open your minds and your souls to what is being given in these precious moments together.

Again, I reiterate, do not underestimate the power and the possibilities of what may come from your efforts. As long as you are in alignment with God, so many possibilities may flow forth from your ability to release control of the outcomes and allow the flow of God's Will in everything that you do together.

Much can be accomplished in this way and much will unfold in the possibilities of your present situation. Pray to be guided, beloved friends. Pray that your eyes may be opened so that you may see, that your ears may be opened that you may hear, that your soul may be opened so that you may understand. And in this way, all will unfold in the beauty, wonderment, and grace of God's Will.

God bless you my friends. I am happy to greet you and we will continue to work together. There is much that we in spirit wish to convey in this time that you share and that we share with you. Allow God's guidance to infuse your dreams, your prayers, your thoughts and do not restrict yourselves. Allow all to unfold in harmony.

God bless you. I am Seretta Kem. I am with you, beloved friends. God bless you.

Have Faith That Your Soul Is Awakening (Confucius)

Title: Have Faith That Your Soul Is Awakening
Spirit: Confucius
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 15, 2018

I am Confucius and I am happy to see you together in prayer, in a desire to increase your service to humanity and to God. You carry within you, beloved, beloved brothers, a great strength, the strength of the Divine Love burning its fires in your souls. You must utilize this strength in whatever efforts you do on behalf of God to bring this Truth to humanity. You must truly know your soul, the composition of your soul, the light of your soul, the capacities of your soul to know truth and to be in alignment with your Creator. When this understanding is well-established within your consciousness and is expressed in all of your efforts, then the work truly begins, beloved brothers, the work truly unfolds in the harmony and timing and plan of God.

Do you see the light that is pouring upon you at this moment? How God continues to nurture you, beloved souls, to help you to come to that holy place of communion, that powerful place of true understanding? So God pours upon you His Love. He makes available to you all the resources and blessings that you may require to step forward in light in this world. You must first release your judgments or your reticence and walk in faith, the faith that does not require true and clear understanding of what is next. With faith, it is a trust that God knows what you must do and will convey this knowledge to you with each moment and your souls will acknowledge this guidance. Then, you must allow this understanding to rise into your minds to complete the efforts to express the Will of God.

Efforts for God do not arise from the mind which then informs the soul. No, my beloveds, it is the opposite. Efforts for God begin in the soul and emerge as inspiration for your conscious mind to comprehend and express. Consider this, beloved souls, consider how you must make a great effort to clear away the obstructions between the consciousness of your mind and consciousness of your soul. But in the efforts that you make to release the obstructions, to clear away the error or confusion, or old habits of mind, you will begin in earnest the work that is waiting and will bring forth many beautiful manifestations of love.

Yes, I know that you feel your journeys have been long and arduous, that you are indeed ready to lay down your life in dedication to God. Indeed, you are close, very close to this realization of your purpose. With faith, you will know peace. With faith, you will know surety. With faith, you will have a deep sense of gratitude for every moment of your life.

In the awakening of your souls, beloveds, you will see how the journey has been perfectly orchestrated to bring this awakening forward within you. Yes, indeed you have decided upon the timing of this journey, but God has provided the elements and opportunities to carry you forward in the awakening of your souls. Realize that this step by step journey has been a deep and profound gift to each one of you as you have carried yourself along these unique paths that have intersected to bring you together, that you may share your gifts, your insights, your love for the benefit of one another.

Make good use of your time together, beloved brothers. Make use of your gifts to benefit your brothers and bring all intentions to God in your prayers that you may be inspired to open and express new gifts and new possibilities to your consciences. Indeed, you continue to be prepared and nurtured and your souls continue to grow in love.

Be joyful, beloved brothers, in how God continues to awaken you upon your journey, that you will indeed find your place within the plan for the salvation of mankind more fully with each day, in closer alignment with what is meant to be in this outpouring of truth and love and healing to the world. Have faith and trust in your own beautiful soul and its capacities to bring light to this world.

Beloved souls, you will come to know your true selves in greater measure and profound knowings, in wonderful expressions of love, as the Essence of God continues to ignite those beautiful aspects and gifts of your soul. It happens with every breath you take. There is an awakening, a change and shift, though subtle, yet powerful and permanent, within you. Allow God to perform His miraculous transformation of your soul and all else will follow in its stead.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am Confucius and I bring you my blessing, my love to my beloved brothers upon this path Divine. Great peace and light upon you, brothers. God bless you. Confucius loves you.

My friends, I am Yogananda. I am happy to be with you and to share in conversation, to bring what drops of wisdom, understanding that I may share as we pray together in this sacred circle. Yes, I will come again very soon and speak to you on some things which you may have some interest in to understand a little further my efforts while on earth.

Understand my motivations to assist you my friends in your efforts to bring truth, all flows in this direction towards God. All truth comes with the intention of the soul to be in greater light, understanding, and love. So, we work together, hand in hand for this great effort to bring truth to humanity, to walk in the light, to listen to God's guiding force and will to bring healing and harmony to humanity. So, we will continue to learn and grow together in truth and love. I am your humble servant Yogananda. I am glad to be your friend and humble teacher. God bless you beloved, beloved souls. I will share with you the wisdom of my soul, the truth that I have come to know in my relationship with the Creator of all.

God bless you. I shall come again. I am Yogananda. God bless you.

Yes, we bring you together so that you may work together and also that we may accomplish further developments of your souls' awakenings. We may work with you to help you to further open and understand the potentials of your soul. So it is together we may help to encourage one another in this awakening, that each indeed is gifted with insights and abilities and even through your physical make-up and chemistry that we may blend and help to develop various gifts within you.

Yes, there is a short time but much to be accomplished and we will continue to work diligently. And we are happy to hear that your prayerful mission will be focused and plentiful. So I say to you, beloved friends, bless you in your efforts, bless you in your dreams, bless you in your travels and your conversations, and most of all, bless you in your prayers to God to receive His Love and this all will flow and be sustained in light.

God bless you, beloved friends. I am Keea and I love you. I love you dearly, dear brothers, brothers of light, brothers of truth, brothers of love. God bless you and I love you. God bless you.

We Work Together in Service to God (James Reid)

Title: We Work Together in Service to God
Spirit: James Reid
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 15, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

I am your earthly friend, James, and I will continue to be with you in your prayer vigils together. And I am so happy to see the three of you together. If I were still on the earth, I would have loved to have joined you in this circle of spiritual men. I wish I could tell you of my journeys, how wonderful, how awesome in nature have been my experiences while progressing in the spheres of spirit. Beloved, beloved friends, I want you to know that there are many, many things awaiting each one of you when that time comes to pass. I will be there to greet you, each one, as will be many spirits and angels, who will want to welcome you into the greater life of spirit.

I see you have a deep desire to make plans to reach out to your brothers and sisters, to assist them so that they may have the clarity of this truth. I want you to know that your desires are not misplaced, that your efforts will come to fruition, given patience and persistence, and that there are many on my side of life working to help open doors and bring possibilities forward in your work.

The light that is around you, my friends, is great and is powerful. This light penetrates into the dark spheres of spirit, into the deep spheres of darkness and the greyness, and those even of light. You see, you cause great interest and curiosity in many spheres and many spirits who inhabit these spheres. In fact, as your life continues in service and prayer, a great deal of the work that you do is in bringing greater truth to these spirits. For you reside in a very fortuitous plane of existence in this regard, that many can be reached through your instrumentalities and your efforts to pray, to be together. I dare say, and I do not wish to inhibit you, but I dare say that even your conversations are overheard by many, many spirits who are curious to what you say.

So my friends, each moment is an opportunity to serve God, to be a channel of truth. Consider your words, consider the truth that you speak and how this reverberates out to many others, whom of course you are not aware nor do you need to be, but they are present nonetheless.

My friends, know that we surround you in light, that we continue our work together in the great effort that God is making to cleanse this world of darkness, to bring the peace and harmony and joy and love that every soul on your world is entitled to receive and know. That you are a part of a plan, its scope is vast and complex. That each of us, whether in spirit or in the flesh, play a part, and that in this effort we make in dedication to our love to God, we will all know a great joy and the great benefits of spiritual blessings poured upon us for our efforts and through us in our efforts to serve God and to serve humanity.

My brothers, many work with you and many seek to work through you and as long as your desire is for the highest, many beautiful gifts and blessings will manifest through you. Know that every life continues upon the journey, a process of awakening and growing. You have gleaned much truth and knowledge in your lives and this helps deeply in your growth and direction and ability to serve and speak the truth.

My friends, your brother James is with you. God bless you. It is a gift to assist you in your efforts and in your growth of the soul. God bless you. God bless you. Your friend James, never far away.

Personal to Jimbeau (Care)

Title: Personal to Jimbeau
Spirit: Care
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 17, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

My beloved Jimbeau, I love you and how I enjoy listening to your stories. Your acknowledgment of the wonderful miracles and blessings that we experienced together as God guided us, touched our souls with His love and brought us into deeper rapport with him and one another. Yes, how patient you were with me and my ways of being in the world. How it was the love in your soul that provided your patience and strength, caring, compassion, love. We will be together one day my beloved, together again and Jesus will come and re-consecrate our marriage and acknowledge that we are one, soul mates forever. Remember that I am with you so often and I continue to guide and encourage you with your work, with your creativity, with all that you do. That they the expressions of love and light in the world and I know at times you feel alone and unheard and unrecognized, but God knows you and recognizes your beauty, your beautiful soul, as do I. We are never far apart my beloved, we are always connected with our souls together. You will find that there will be a great similarity to your work and life at this time as it was when we were together. Surprising things will manifest and beautiful opportunities will be presented and you will know in your heart which way to turn and how to proceed. God will guide you and keep you in his loving care and protection and love.

You have a beautiful soul, beloved Jimbeau, and it is bright with God's love and is eager to express this love in your life, in your work, in your day and in your night. God's love will be there always, will carry you through many, many experiences and encounters with souls that will seek you out, souls that will see your beauty and light. As you see, God has carried you halfway around the world and this has purpose and your coming together with your dear friends will continue to inform your soul and your mind and assist you in the awakening of both. That you may be prepared for your work and that you may know where you need to move and act and be at any given time. Just as I knew, and you followed my promptings, so this is your time to know, to listen, to be in the flow of God's will, and all will indeed unfold and awaken and be in harmony. Yes, roses will follow you everywhere my beloved, to remind you of love, my love and God's love, they will remind you that you are loved. I will be close to you my beautiful, beautiful husband, I will be close to you and we will work together because there is not so much separation between us, our souls are bonded together in love and the power of this love will be a great assistance to your efforts in the world. Put aside your resistance, your fears, your frustrations, your confusion. Be at peace, be at peace beloved and know that all unfolds as it should in God's great plan for you. Yes, with every spiritual effort comes the need for strength and faith and to put aside your fears and skepticism. Most of all you need to love yourself, love yourself, and be in God's peace. You are so loved my darling, so loved and I know you feel it, I know it.

Never, lose sight of these blessings that God has given you and the gifts that God has given you that you may indeed walk in this world as a channel of light and love and be your true self, your true and beautiful soul, awakening in love. Blossoming like a rose revealing its beauty and grace so you will, you will, walk with God as your guide and keeper. You will know a deep protection, your needs will be met and you will move and travel to many places. Like a troubadour, you will be guided by the knowings within you and walk in grace and love. Everywhere will be your home and you will feel comfortable wherever you are, for God will give you that peace and that knowing that you are where you are meant to be, that you will be in many places touching many souls with your love, your words of wisdom and your music. The grace and light of your soul will touch many. Allow God to guide you every day, allowing me to be close to you every day and all will be well, my beautiful, beautiful husband, all will be well, and I love you like no other, I love you. Remember this, I am close always. Blessings to you, beloved, blessings of love.

How to Bring the Truth to New Souls (Michael)

Title: How to Bring the Truth to New Souls
Spirit: Michael
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 18, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

God bless you my friends, my name is Michael and I am guiding the two dear souls whom you will meet. I am an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom, another angel amongst many who work with you all on earth. You have been invited in earnest to speak to those dear souls who will gather and be a part of your Circle of Light. We are busy arranging and urging others to come to be a part of this circle and we are very pleased that you have taken up this call.

Beloved souls, you will find for the most part that when you gather a circle together such as this, there will be many from many different perspectives, understandings of the mind, and yet within the soul there is a longing and a desire for this truth of Divine Love. This you must realize with each encounter that you have, for there will be many in years to come, you will be guided as you have been to be with others. Some are curious, some are in deep need and some are confused. Many are seeking greater light and truth.

It is your clear message, beloved, beloved souls, regarding the power and wonderment of God's Love that is meant for all that you must convey to your brothers and sisters who gather. There is no need for complex explanations. There is no need to try and dissuade another of their beliefs. There is no need to be invested in convincing others of this truth. No, my precious friends, you bring a light, you bring the truth and God's Love burns within your souls. What you speak may be words of comfort and love, of peace and joy. This has more power and influence upon these precious souls than any other words you may speak. It is the power of love that you may be an instrument to channel and bring amongst those who gather to listen and to be with you.

The simplicity of your words, the power of your actions, the beauty of your prayers, the openness of your hearts, the willingness to embrace those who have different ideas and understandings will bring about the desired results so that those who come together may experience the blessings from God and experience a connection and loving bond amongst one another. In this way, a spark is ignited, a flame that begins with simple connection that will awaken many things within the soul.

My friends, you come to speak of the soul, to speak of God's Soul and to do so with gentle loving and sharing of your true selves, your authentic, integral self. It is your soul reaching out to those who have their focus upon you that will impress some greatly. Others will not abide by your words, for their minds are too strong within their ideas and concepts of truth. This, my friends, you will find everywhere you go. Even reaching one soul, inspiring one soul is a great blessing and accomplishment. We do not encourage you to count how many are affected or how effective you have been in your efforts. What is important is that you have listened to God's guidance, you have been compelled to reach out and to walk in this light and express this light to those who are willing to listen and be with you in prayer.

Beloved souls, this is God's work. The soul does not insist upon results and facts and a sense of accomplishment. No, this is of the mind. The soul is content to be in a room with your brothers and sisters in prayer, to share this experience together, to be with God together. This brings deep satisfaction to the soul and this is your motivation, my beloved friends. Yes, you have come far to be together in this way. God rewards you with each day a blessing, a touch upon your soul, a deeper understanding as you continue to share with one another your perceptions and experiences, your feelings and your ideas. And so God works in this way, the soul awakens ever so slowly like watching a flower bloom. You must be patient and allow the petals to unfold one at a time in the sunlight of God's Love.

Beloved, beloved friends, I am happy, very happy that you are willing and open to take on this task to assist the dear souls who gather and the dear souls who wish to bring the truth of God's Love more fully into this world. God needs more like you, beloved friends, more who are willing to go beyond their comfort to something that is somewhat challenging and requires effort. You lead the way, beloved brothers, you lead the way. May God bless you with all His Love and healing and peace that your souls may indeed ascend to lofty heights, to beautiful light, to a closer oneness with God.

We continue to work with you, beloved brothers. Many souls were touched today, my friends, as you walked the streets of the busy city. Yes, much of this you are unaware but indeed this is all part of being humble and faithful, to step forward, trusting that God will do the work of touching the souls. He will bring blessings for you to benefit those who are within your presence. This is how God works, a gentle touch, the subtle, subtle blessing that sows many seeds in many souls and you become part of God's instruments of truth and change in this world.

God bless you, beloved souls, God bless you. I am Michael and I am happy to have spoken and to be a part of this effort to bring the truth to mankind. God bless you and keep you always in His Love. God bless you.

Each Soul Is Unique (Andrew)

Title: Each Soul Is Unique
Spirit: Andrew
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 19, 2018

God bless you, I am Andrew. Is it not just wonderful, all the varieties of individuals in this world? So many differences, yet, you all come together as brothers and sisters when love is present. When love is present, beloveds, there is connection, there is the honoring of life, there is the allowance of these differences in your interactions, communications, prayers. Each soul is different in their personalities, not just within the mind, but within the soul, there are differences amongst you. Not only in the conditions of the soul but in the expressions of the soul for each soul is unique. Each soul is beautifully and wonderfully created by God. And God seeds the universe with such a vast variety of life and variety of souls and this is a great gift.

If there was universal uniformity, the energetic interactions in the universe could not function to create change and movement. It would stagnate. So, it is in these differences, in this uniqueness, unique qualities of a soul, of a being in God's universe that create the conditions for growth, expansion, allowing greater expression of each soul. The gift of life, the gift of having a unique soul allows your existence to be conscious and aware and open.

When the soul is imbued with the Father's Love, it only enhances and expands these beautiful, unique qualities of each soul. Thus your world and all the universe dances with unique and beautiful expressions of God through each individual and each of His creations. And all seeks harmony. All seeks to be in alignment with God. A soul, in all its unique qualities is the same with each soul in as much as there is a deep desire for at-onement with God for this connection and alignment to take place. Follow your longings, beloved brothers, follow your desires to be in harmony with God, alignment with God, awakened within your soul so that you may truly know your Creator and truly know all the unique and beautiful qualities that God has put within you.

Beloved souls, God's Blessing of His Love magnifies and accentuates all your lovely facets like a diamond shining in the bright sun that sparkles and responds to the light. So your soul, beloved, beloved souls, is awakening and its encrustations are falling away so that the clear beauty and vibrancy of your soul shines forth in the world and in your consciousness. And in this, God smiles upon you. His joy is immense when he sees a soul awakened, awakened by His Love and expressing itself love and shining in love.

My beloved souls, you are that beautiful diamond of God's creations. You can and will smile with all its beauty and light so that you too may bedazzle the universe in all your beauty that you are and have been created to be. Beautiful souls, continue to allow the encrustations to fall away and the light to shine through and in time you will be that dazzling creature and dazzling soul that God has created in all its potentials, in all wonderment of this existence.

Beloved, beloved souls, be in God's grace. Allow His Light and Love to shine upon you so that you may truly be who you are and be in the grace and beauty of His Love. God bless you beloved. I am Andrew and I love you. God bless you.

Rest and Pray to Replenish Yourself (Matthew)

Title: Rest and Pray to Replenish Yourself
Spirit: Matthew
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 20, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

May I suggest an agenda for tomorrow? Since the two of you have indeed had a powerful healing and treatment, I would suggest that you take a day to absorb and integrate this blessing from the dear soul. I would further suggest that you take time to pray three times tomorrow and if this day is restful in between these sessions then you are assured to receive some of the messages that you are anticipating. To take time for this work and these efforts will bring the fruits of your labors.

Beloved souls, I know there are many things that may take your time and your attention. I would suggest that prayer can be your focus and priority. To be together in this way will bring great benefits to your souls and to your physical bodies and your minds for this growth of the soul, the awakening of your soul. The educating of your conscious awareness requires time and effort to apply the laws of communication and rapport, to apply the power of prayer for your benefit. So I would suggest that a day of prayer and rest would be most beneficial and bring some eagerly sought results.

Here we are building the conditions and a portal making this a centre of light in your world so that we may utilize these conditions and what is built here for the benefit of your brothers and sisters of the world. Your dear brother, who prays often in this place, is helping to guard and facilitate this light, to bring the benefits that are possible through prayer, through our efforts and yours.

The world is in great need of light, comfort, healing and love. Yes, you are drawn to see these parts of the world that intrigue and inspire you, to travel about entertaining your minds and your desires to be with others, to be a part of the flow of life. I do not disparage this at all but, I wish to suggest that the rhythm and timing must be adjusted so that you give time for the spiritual work that is happening in this location. Yes, I will assure that you will experience and see many things while you are together and many blessings are meant to come to each one of you, beloved brothers. Do not be anxious. Do not worry nor concern yourselves with this flow of activity. As long as you are attuned to the knowings and desires of your soul and this way all will work together in harmony and flow in love.

This is a precious opportunity, beloved souls, a time that is rare and especially blessed amongst you. Give over your time to allow the workings of the angels and the blessings of God to assist you in your soul growth and to be used as a channel of love in this world for much can be accomplished as you sit in prayer, as you are together in uplifting conversation and loving ministrations to one another. This flow is easily recognized. It is not complicated. It merely needs your attention and your understanding of what is required.

Blessed and beloved brothers, you are embraced by God. Your souls awaken in this great blessing of His love. Our intention and desire are to assist you in your conscious awakening that you may know your soul and know God in deeper ways, that you understand the power of love, the power of love to awaken your soul and awaken the many gifts and faculties that are within your soul.

Your time on this earth is not long compared to the flow of your life for all eternity and we beseech you to make the most of this time for here in the world there are many opportunities and many blessings available to you so that you may progress and grow quickly in your souls and that you may be used effectively as a channel of truth and love, comfort and peace for many.

God's plan continues to unfold. His blessings continue to pour upon you. You determine the timing, the intensity, and the extent of these blessings and this work. It hinges upon your efforts, your prayers, and your desires. I know that each one of you have a great desire to serve and to grow in love. Continue to awaken to this soul desire and express it with a fervency and dedication that will bring many blessings forth and awakenings and works of love.

We continue to stand by your side, to walk with you, to utilize every opportunity that you make available to us to strengthen our rapport, to encourage you to pray, to be in the flow of the Father's Love and Light. May you continue to awaken to these possibilities and come to know your true soulful self and make this your focus and expression in life and may God continue to pour His Love with in your soul that you may see and know, feel and be in this love awakened in this love, expressions of His love through you, knowings of your own soul in relationship with your Heavenly Father.

There is great potential, beloved souls. So much awaits that you may come to that place where all barriers and distractions, all error, all that is not of love may fall away, and love may reign supreme in your being, in your mind, and in your soul. That all parts of your being may be integrated in love, awakened in love, expressed in love.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am Matthew and I am with you. God Bless you.

Natural Love vs. Divine Love Soul Progression (Professor Salyards)

Title: Natural Love vs. Divine Love Soul Progression
Spirit: Professor Salyards
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 20, 2018

I have come to answer a somewhat complicated question that you have had regarding the expansion of the soul that is fully developed in the natural love compared to the soul developed with the Divine Love. Since I have been studying this subject, I have been asked to give you some points of interest and details regarding this issue. The soul untransformed by the Divine Love still carries within it certain capacities and abilities. In this, the mind of the soul is present and may convey certain information to the material mind. If you think of the soul mind as a receiver of information like a radio and the frequencies which may be available to the mind of the soul merely purified by the natural love, these frequencies are somewhat limited and may only go as far as the development of that soul and therefore is unable to receive the higher truths that the soul enhanced by the Divine Love may receive. Its frequencies then are in the lower range of what is possible.

So one may say, given the examination of the soul's mind, that the soul may expand to some degree in information and truth. There is a greater capacity to understand certain laws and truths of the universe through the faculties of the soul that are purified but limited by the condition of the soul. And as you well know, the soul enhanced, purified, and transformed by the Divine Love has much greater capacities to understand truths of the universe, to understand God in all His glory and complexities.

There is much that can be absorbed and integrated into a soul that is fully alive in the Divine Love. For that soul is indeed transformed. Its capacities and instrumentalities, gifts, and ability to perceive, observe and understand truth is at a different frequency than that of the natural love soul that has been purified. So, yes, those who inhabit the sixth sphere, the natural love heavens, do indeed enjoy a certain amount of truth and knowing that comes from the soul faculties, but the higher truths, the greater truths of God are not fully understood by the limitations of the soul unredeemed.

You cannot compare the two, for there is no comparison. The ways in which a natural love soul may approach, absorb, and integrate the knowledge that is available to it is very different from the capacities of a soul transformed by Divine Love. Therefore, one might say that they speak different languages, that the faculties used, though similar, are very rudimentary within the natural love soul compared to the complexities, the facets of these faculties within the soul redeemed in Love. This is why the capacity for soul progression in the natural-love spirit is limited though one may say is far beyond the understandings and perceptions of those of you on the earth plane. It still lacks certain dimensions, abilities, depth of understanding that comes with the awakened soul.

But those souls who are within the purified condition of the natural love are quite satisfied with their experiences, their pursuits of truth, their understanding of the universe. For this too is a complex world, a world that may be explored for a very, very long time in order to understand with the mental faculties of both the material mind and the soul mind. These understandings are hard-won and take a great deal of effort and tedious examination. Yet, these spirits take great pride in their pursuit of knowledge and are constantly experimenting with the possibilities of their mindful knowings of truth.

With those who reside in the Celestial Kingdom, truth is like plucking a flower. It comes reflexively with the Love as God's truths pour into the soul that is receptive and able to perceive with its renewed and transformed faculties. And there is great joy in this pursuit, not pride. It is not forced or is not subject to intellectual examination. It comes as a gift from God and this gift is magnificent. The faculties of the soul are capable of absorbing all facets of a particular aspect of truth. Their knowledge comes complete, though is able to be added to as the soul continues its infinite progression. So here again, there is no limitation to the awakened soul's capacities to understand truth. For a soul is not limited by mind. A soul is not dependent only upon mind, but there are other faculties of the soul that come into operation and are able to comprehend truth in ways that would be difficult to explain to you in your present state of soul progression.

I assure you that an awakened soul redeemed in the Father's Love holds within it a treasure chest of knowledge, possibilities, capacities and faculties that a soul limited by mere purification and intellectual and mindful development cannot perceive or know. Do you not think it is sad that those who reside within the sixth sphere, the heavens of the natural man, are incapable of knowing truth in this way, knowing God in all His wonderment, beauty, and complexity? Yet, one comes back to this crucial issue of feeding the mind and feeding the soul. Those upon the natural path are quite content and quite focused upon the mind and see this as the only reality. Though when they are in the receptive state, they come to realize these limited faculties of the soul's mind and are excited to utilize these awarenesses. There are many yogis and spiritual men who have walked this Earth and have come to realize these faculties without the awakening of their soul in Divine Love and they may utilize many gifts to manifest many things, to utilize the laws of nature, of creation, to bring forth what you may consider astounding manifestations.

Indeed, there is a measure of wisdom within the mind, the mind of the soul that is of a higher level, but not of the Divine. So you see, from your perspective, it would be easy to acknowledge a spiritually developed individual on your earth plane as being ascendant, perfect, and provide to you a great example of what is possible. But I tell you, my friends, those souls redeemed with the Father's Love have far greater capacities and abilities. Though your minds are limited in the perception of these things, your souls feel the power of the Love within your angel friends that visit you and can feel a difference in these two qualities of soul.

So I say to you, my friends, continue to follow the development and awakening of your souls with the Father's Love, for in this come infinite possibilities, wondrous gifts, capacities, to be expressed through each soul redeemed by God. Though many are content to walk the natural path, to pursue the development of the soul in this way, know that they are limited in what is possible in their development. Though the manifestations and possibilities within these souls may be quite astounding to you, they are limited. You must consider the higher road to soul awakening and expansion for many, many blessings come in this way.

I thank you for listening to me, my friends. Your Professor Salyards continues to observe your progression and your light and I am happy to come to speak to you on this subject. May you continue to grow in the Father's Love, to awaken and in time know all the possibilities and potentials that come with this gift as your soul expands in love and its energies reaching far in your world and our world, as the light grows bright, the love flows unrestricted, and your consciousness becomes fully integrated with your soul. Yes, there is so much more truth to know, my friends. There is no end to it and this brings this humble researcher great joy as I continue to travel in the universe with my soul fully awake and eager to absorb all the truths of God.

May God bless you my friends and keep you in His Light and show you the way to infinite truth and knowledge, joy and peace, and love, love that cannot be contained but grows and grows. God bless you. God bless you, my friends.

Personal to Al (James Padgett)

I am James Padgett and I am happy to have heard from the dear professor for he continues to work diligently to learn all the truths that he is able and he spends much time teaching these truths to others. So you have been blessed by a very esteemed soul who is intent upon knowing the deep truths of God. Now I wish to say that this instrument, this medium, is reaching his stride in his gifts and will be able to bring forth many truths that have not been mentioned in the works that I was a part of. He is not restricted by the biases of the mind that indeed made it difficult for the angels to speak clearly and without error through me. I am not suggesting that what came through me is not valuable. It is indeed, bringing forth these truths that lead to at-onement with God through the blessing of the Divine Love. But I know that many of you are eager to explore further. You have many questions and you consider many things and your souls are eager to grow in knowledge and truth.

As long as you make great effort to bring the blessing of the Father's Love within you, you will have the capacity to understand these higher truths. As this instrument continues to grow in the Father's Love, he will be utilized as much as is possible to bring our communications forth in hopes of one day there will be publications such as what have been accomplished with my work, to help augment these truths and bring greater understanding to those eager souls who have dedicated themselves to growing in the Father's Love.

Yes, there is always progression, is there not? Greater truths, truths that may come through various mediums that are in alignment with God and are capable of bringing clearer understanding, deeper understanding of the truths of the Father's Love and all the wonderment and capacities that come with the awakened soul. And so, we all continue to progress, do we not? We continue to add our efforts to bring truth to humanity, to bring inspiration and understanding. I am grateful for your efforts, all your efforts, to continue on this course of exploration and soul awakening. Putting into action an expression of the truths that you know and adding to them as you go along in your journey of soul awakening. Yes, there is much to know, truths to be revealed, but you must put the truths that come into action and expression. Applying these truths as best you can in your life, though we will not feed you such a rich diet that you cannot comfortably absorb these things. They will come as you progress. They will come with the wisdom of God's touch upon each one of you and those who are willing to be of service as mediums, channels, healers, speakers, the many gifts that will manifest the truths of God. One must pace oneself and be patient and know that all will be revealed in time, in harmony, in the beautiful flow that is God's Love.

God bless you my friends. I continue to work with you all. I am James Padgett and I am happy to see these three brothers who are eager to work together for the glory of God, for the glory of truth, for the glory of Love. May God bless you abundantly, beloved friends. I am with you more than you know and I encourage you when I may and when it is possible to make a deep rapport. I am with you. I am one of many angels who are dedicated to these tasks of supporting those who are involved in the awakening of their souls through Love. God bless you, my friends. God bless you and keep you always in His Love and my love. Gratitude is with you, each one. God bless you.

Effort Needed to Align the Mind and the Soul (Yogananda)

Title: Effort Needed to Align the Mind and the Soul
Spirit: Yogananda
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 21, 2018

I am Yogananda. I promised I would come and I am here. I have been with you for the morning and I find you all quite amusing, how so much of your conversation is so mundane and yet you carry such bright souls. Yes, this is the way of your world. The mind continues to play out those issues and ideas that are not relevant to a mature soul. Yet, with this gift of Divine Love, your souls grow and mature and are resplendent in wisdom and love. I find this rather ironic but it is as it is. It is how you are in the world, my dear brothers and how all who live in your world continue to sustain the illusions, the incomplete understandings, the desires and the ideas of the material plane.

For those of us who have graduated beyond this plane to higher planes, we must humbly stand by and allow you to play out your life in whatever way that your will and desire makes it so. We have great compassion for you, my friends, compassion for the challenges and the conditions that you must deal with day in and day out. Yet you continue to be consistent and dedicated to the truth of the Love of God and the way of God. And yes, you change, you evolve in your ways in the world as the light within your soul continues to influence your thoughts, influence your motivations and your desires.

The power of this Love will transform you, beloved, beloved friends. It does so each day, inching forward to that place of truth and harmony, of peace and love. Come to truly know yourselves, my friends. Come to observe yourselves in your daily practice and efforts in the world for only you can change yourselves. You may find it easier to judge another, to observe the flaws and the weaknesses, the error and the fears, but my beloved friends, can you change your friend? No. All you can do in the world is model the behavior that is in harmony with love, and this in itself brings change and influence amongst those you associate with.

Making this effort, meeting this challenge with love, love for yourself and recognizing the transformational process that is happening within you so that you may indeed adopt and embrace this new perspective, this new way of being in the world. It requires your efforts, my friends, the discipline of the mind, a willingness to look honestly within yourself and to see that in some ways you interact with others lacks love and is of the harshness of the mind.

Judgment kills the light, beloveds. If you judge another, you are killing your own light by enshrouding it with a darkened condition. Each of you, my friends, are responsible for your thoughts and for what you express in the world. And I'm not suggesting that you create a facade that would be acceptable in this case. No, you must truly feel and think and express love and put aside anything that is not of love. For if you are truly serious about your desire to speak and bless and comfort many, then this must be your demeanor, who you truly are. That you may banish these old ways of thinking, these old patterns of the mind and say to yourselves, I am truly finished with this old and useless pattern and thought and expression. Though they cling to you, beloved souls, these things of the mind, they cling to you because there is a part of you that is afraid to let go, that it is comforting to speak and be in the way that is your well-worn pattern of thought. And yet, God compels you to speak and think in different ways, the ways that are in harmony with His Love.

So, my beloved friends, beautiful brothers with beautiful lights, there are always challenges when one progresses upon the spiritual path. These challenges must not be ignored, for if they are, there are deep consequences in your willful ignorance. As God blesses you so beautifully and so powerfully, He desires that you respond by changing and releasing those conditions that are not of love. This is your responsibility, beautiful souls. You cannot be one way of the mind and another way of the soul, though this is very common in your world.

If you are to be leaders, if you are to speak up, to demonstrate this truth, you must integrate the light of your soul with the conditions of your mind and truly be that individual who is a shining light and an example to those you meet in this world.

As these conditions are dealt with and dissipate, then your relationship with God intensifies. The light and the love are more palpable in your experience of prayer. It is the mind that always inhibits the soul. It is the mind that has been cultivated by the conditions of your world that must be re-generated in light. And this takes effort, a deep effort, a deep commitment in truth and honesty, a strength and a bravery that motivates you to speak in light with every breath, every moment to think in light. Every way that you can be in this world must be of light. In this way all of your ambitions and desires, efforts and motivations to be a channel of God's Love, an instrument of His Truth, a teacher that may administer to many, will come to be.

All of this is predicated upon your time and effort to be in harmony with God's laws of Love. We do not judge you, my friends. We have a deep love for you. It is not common for us to prescribe in your daily expressions of life, but I say to you, my beloved friends, that it is important that you make efforts to correct your mental patterns so to be truly in harmony.

From the soles of your feet to the top of your head, all must be in harmony. In this way, your demeanor and expression in the world will draw in many. You will have a certain charisma. You will emanate light. You will bring with you a condition of love that others will feel readily and be drawn to and will listen to your words. For when one is a teacher and a leader, every gesture, every moment, every word, every part of you is thoroughly watched and observed. For it is the way of this world of yours to find the flaws so that they may discredit your words of truth. And so, if you are truly serious about being that channel of love and truth that is a burning desire within your hearts, then you must make efforts each day so that you may incrementally come to that place of alignment between the mind and the soul, the thoughts and the expressions of the mind and the condition and light of the soul.

These concepts are not new. This has been taught in many different ways. At times, your brothers and sisters who have travelled this path are somewhat remiss in taking responsibility for these matters. They naively believe that in praying for this Love, all will take care of itself. There will be some deep healing at some future time that will change everything including the thoughtful patterns of the mind. I say to you my friends, that in theory this is possible, for some have been radically transformed by a prayer. Such it was with the apostles at Pentecost and can be, but I say to you, why wait? Why allow yourself to drift and not take advantage of the time and place to put your step forward in spiritual growth and maturity?

Yes, these things are hard-fought and hard-won, but your efforts will bring great rewards, beautiful blessings, and a deep relief from the tyrannies of your mind so that the joys of your soul may flourish and blossom in a conscious way with each moment and breath. Is this not what you seek, my friends? Is this not what every soul seeks, to be in that state of exultation and bliss and joy with God. Your souls, my friends, even now, are experiencing this condition but it is your minds that dampen down this experience that is in control of what you recognize in a conscious way.

Do you not want to be free? I taught this when I was on earth. And yes, I struggled, as does every soul, to be in harmony. I received great rewards in my experiences and efforts to be in the flow of God's Love and Light. And this I wish for you as well, to be free, to know this great exultation of joy, and to know the deep wisdom that comes with the soul awakened and on fire with love.

Thank you, my friends for listening to me and I shall add more at some future time, for I do enjoy speaking with you. I have a deep desire that I might speak to many through this gift of the Direct Voice. It is our desire at some future time and this may come to be. So I encourage you in your efforts for light, your efforts to be light.

May God bless you upon that journey and may I continue to follow you upon that journey. God bless you, my friends. God bless you deeply. God bless you fully. God bless you that your souls may expand, expand in love. I thank you and my love continues to be with you my friends. I am Yogananda. God bless you.

Value of Building Portals of Light (James)

Title: Value of Building Portals of Light
Spirit: James
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 21, 2018

This is James and I wish to speak on the subject of portals of light that are being built in your world. These portals are a powerful catalyst to bring energies of change to your world. We rely upon instruments such as yourselves to help us build these conditions, this portal, where we may. This instrument has seen the vision of many portals being established in your world that will feed the spiritual changes that are coming and will connect the great lattice of light that is being built around your world. These portals act in some ways like a machine that functions to bring and focus energy. This energy allows us in the spirit world to make connection and rapport more readily to the material world. And much flows through these conduits, much in the way of energies, healings, lights, energetic forces that help to clear the darkness in your world and establish greater harmony to bring light.

It is important that you continue to follow your guidance in your travels that we may indeed utilize your gifts and prayers and intentions to help anchor these portals in the world. So that when you establish yourself in a certain place for some time dedicated to prayer, then you facilitate from your perspective upon this planet the possibility of working with us to create these conduits of light. We require your presence and we require the possibility of making a rapport and a connection.

Think of this as when one builds a bridge that starts from either end and cables and girders are built so they may connect and forge a solid foundation. So it is when establishing a portal of light. You are one side and we are the other, and we work together to weave this connection, this structure so that it may become solid and stable in the world. These devices, generators of energy and blessings, are very important at this time. To establish them now is important indeed for they will be utilized in many ways given the unstable conditions of your world. They will be used to bring stability and to bring the light that is coming so that they may focus this light, intensify it, and we may work in concert with you to utilize these gifts and energies and blessings for the benefit of mankind and for the benefit of this planet.

My friends, building portals of light is as important as it is to create circles of light and centres of light. All these things go hand in hand with the great blessings of God's hand upon all of them. These gifts given to humanity allows you to be used in this way, my friends, and to walk in this light with the faith that you are indeed being used to be channels in many different ways on this planet. You are being prepared and your gifts are being utilized and the love within your soul continues to expand so you may indeed walk in light and be effective channels and instruments of change in this world.

Your brother James greets you with love and thanks you for your efforts. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls.

Guidance to Maureen for Bringing Light to WHC (Faith)

Title: Guidance to Maureen for Bringing Light to WHC
Spirit: Faith
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 21, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

God bless you, it is Faith. I am happy, very happy that all of you who work together are open and willing to follow your guidance, to step forward in light, to be able to listen to the Will of God. Though you have had your struggles with that place of healing, that indeed has shuttered its doors and windows to you, there is still the intention and Will of God to make this a Centre of Light in the world. So one must be patient and persevere, prayerful and accepting of the timing. The dear soul has been guided and has been awakened to her newfound gifts and capacities to be a channel of God's Love in the world. These experiences and opportunities that God lays before each soul who is willing to step forward are great blessings, and often great challenges and tests. Yet within the soul there is a recognition and joy as to the possibilities to stretch and grow, to express and help many. So you, dear souls, have felt the excitement and the rightness of this further attempt to bring Light to this place.

God works diligently with His angels to open doors, to force them open despite the resistance and reluctance. For even within the souls of those who are in authority in that place, there is an inkling and a desire to serve God, and though this may be slight and faint in some, it still exists. The power of God's touch will awaken this desire and bring it to consciousness. They too will feel hope when one such as this beautiful soul steps forward and says, "I am willing to pray, to heal, to teach, and my desire is to bring the lost souls into this Light, the gift of this place blessed by God."

I can assure this beautiful instrument that she will be protected and guided and God's hand is firmly upon her and this experience will bring great blessings to her, blessings and opportunities to serve. I am happy because you have not given up in your desire to listen to God's Will in this regard, that you are willing to support your sister in her efforts, in her desire to acknowledge her gifts, acknowledge this new way of being in the world, unencumbered by fear and reticence, strengthened in Love, awakened in the soul's wisdom and desire to know God's Will. As one continues to awaken to these revelatory messages from God, this guidance to your soul and acting upon it, then one becomes more receptive and open to this way of being in the world. Each step forward makes the next step easier and the guidance clearer. And so it will go with you all, as you embark upon your journey of service to mankind. You begin to see the wider scope of possibilities, so that many other opportunities may be realized in your life, and to let go of the rigidity of the mind, the narrowness of thought that restricts God's Will in your life. God has freed you all so you may indeed move freely and fluidly in life so that there are few restrictions and many opportunities. This is such a gift, such a beautiful gift from God, one of which few in this world are able to avail themselves. Yet, to all there is the possibility of freedom, awakening and love. Beloved souls, many surprises will continue to come into your consciousness, these opportunities unbidden yet divinely blessed. I would urge you, my beloved, beloved friends, to continue to pray and ask that you may be used as His instruments in whatever way, by whatever means is possible. That these doors may continue open, many doors, many doors, so that you will see even with your minds, the wonderment of God's Will and movement within your life as your instrumentalities grow, your gifts grow and the possibilities of service are awakened as your soul is awakened.

God bless you, beloveds, God bless you. May your love continue to glow and be expressed, one to another, one to another, creating such a strong bond that will indeed bring to you much comfort and wisdom as you share your gifts amongst yourselves and as you support each soul that steps forward in service for the benefit of mankind. To have this bond and security together that is forged in love is very important. Most of the world does not truly understand nor care about your desire and connection with God and your service as an expression of your love of God. You must continue to nurture and support your brothers and sisters that the floodgates may be opened, that those opportunities that are waiting, that God continues to manifest in your lives, may all come to fruition and expression in your material world. It requires faith and strength, the soul perception, the brightness of soul that comes with His Love. You continue to grow and build in this wondrous way and we continue to use you as your gifts unfold, as your capacity to love strengthens, as the wisdom and perception of your souls awaken in love.

God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you. I am Faith and yes, I am happy, for I have beautiful brothers and sisters in this world of yours that are willing to go beyond that which is mundane and common to the extraordinary and the brilliant in love and light. God bless you all. Faith loves you. God bless you.

It is Confucius and I have come to bring healing to you, beloved brother. This is how it will work with many, many aspects and possibilities that will enhance your service, will enhance the gifts and blessings that God has to give, not only to you but to many. You will now find a change in your life, beloved brother. It will open doors that were previously closed. This will bring you joy, beloved brother, this will bring you joy and a deep sense of peace.

God's plan continues to manifest in surprising ways, does it not? May God continue to bless you and surprise you. His caring Love for you is infinite, beloved brother. His Joy of your awakening soul can be felt. His desire to use your immediate gifts is great. He will strengthen you and give you what you require to continue to expand in your capacities of service and gifts for the benefit of mankind.

Nothing is impossible with God when the power of His Love comes into play and is expressed. You are lucky, my son. You are all loved, beloved brothers. You are given great benefits of healing and Love, Peace and Joy. Absorb all that is given that you may be joyful and uplifted.

God bless you. Confucius loves you dearly. Yes, my little birds are turning into eagles with great capacity of flight, another miracle of God's Love.

Encouragement to Continue with Plans (Gandhi)

There are many travels waiting for you, many travels to many places as the beloved Master, Jesus, did not sit in one place in prayer in his ministry. He walked to many places, to the limits of his ability, to be a teacher to many. So, you too, beloved friends, must be willing to travel and be in those places that God guides you to be. Because there is indeed a plan, a plan that opens the doors to many possibilities, a plan that is not set in stone but does require flexibility and a desire to listen to your guidance, to be open to what God wishes for you to do.

Yes, the world is a big place and yet, in your modern society, it's not as big as it was. Here you sit, halfway around the world from where some of you reside. This luxury was not possible or readily available for many, many men who have walked this earth. And yet, for you, beloved souls, when you are given the guidance and inclination to go, you have the possibility to do so.

Do not restrict your plans or guidance but be open and willing to listen and to enact what is purposeful and powerful in light, to bring this gift and this truth of God's Love to those who are open and willing to listen and experience. I know it is somewhat frustrating for many of you that you do not receive the details of events to come and yet you feel the momentum building and you know that there are indeed opportunities formulating that will deeply affect your lives, but it must be so in this way. You are attuned to God, listening intently, testing your resolve, your desires, your motivations with each day. You are prompted to pray, are you not? To pray with intensity and intense desire and to be in the highest condition, greatest light, in the Love of God, so that you may be open and capable of knowing His Will.

We, your angel friends, walk a fine line between giving you deep and loving support and not overindulging you in your desires for comfort and knowledge. You must be strong and your faith must be pure. Your efforts must be expressed with high integrity and a desire to serve with humility. In this way, you are tested each day and you must be aware of your thoughts, the words that you speak, the motivations that you carry forth in your life, the desires of the mind and the soul that can often cause difficulties in the pure expression of God's Will through you.

Yes, you are imperfect, but you continue to grow and awaken and purify and you graduate further, further up the ladder of light. This is what you were meant to do, to apply yourselves with each day with the truth and knowledge that you know. To express the wisdom of your souls, to be one who is willing to step forward and declare the truth, to live the truth, to be an example of the truth. Though often you feel that few listen and few turn their heads in your direction, but I say to you, beloved brothers, and all those who read this message, that you grow stronger with each day and that the light that grows within you will soon turn heads and bring acknowledgement. In this time, you will have the humility and the wisdom, the love and the grace that will comport you through life in harmony. So, each day you learn and grow, you pray and you speculate and you continue to be aware of these desires, some that are in harmony with God and some that are not. With each day, you continue to adjust your thinking and allow greater harmony within. As the Love grows in your soul, so the wisdom will permeate all of your thinking and your doing.

Yes, there is a great work that desperately needs doing in your world. You must be ready. You are willing, this we know, and you are eager. What continues to be your challenge is to be in that light so purely and intently that you may indeed be a clear and beautiful channel of God's Love and Will in the world. So we continue to teach and to encourage and to add our love and support to your efforts. It brings us great joy to see that you are willing, that you have a deep desire to serve, that you have a thirst and hunger for truth and love. So we are assured by your desires and efforts that you will indeed come to that place, that you may be powerful channels of God's Love, clear and bright, immovable in truth, strong in faith, humble and wise, loving and simple in these expressions.

May God bless you further with His Love. May you come to know your true and beautiful soul and awaken to God's Presence with every breath. I am Mahatma Gandhi and I am one who continues to support you in your efforts and your journey to God. God bless you. God bless you my friends that you may continue on the road and I will walk with you with my staff and my simple clothing. Know that Mahatma Gandhi is your brother. God bless you.

Speak of Simple Truth (Michael)

Title: Speak of Simple Truth
Spirit: Michael
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 22, 2018

God bless you, I am Michael. Yes, we are coming closer to that time where the circle of light may be activated and those souls who are drawn may be inspired by your words and prayers, by your love and acceptance. It is important that you stress prayer and prayer for the Father's Love to heal and replenish the soul. So few in your world know about their soul, understand this great jewel of your being that is truly yourselves, and understand this is the most important truth you may learn. How God has created you, these beautiful aspects of your own being. Though for many, the mind is revered, is seen as the most powerful part of each human being, and in this world it is true for man has made it true. Humanity has created such reverence of the mind and that part of you that is more of God has been ignored. With this great focus upon the mind, much disharmony, sin, error, lack of love has proliferated in your world.

It is our duty, our effort, and our gift of love to humanity to remind all in your world that it is the power of the soul, the power of love within the soul, that will make the changes required to bring harmony back to your world. The mind will never be able to bring the solutions forward to humanity that will bring healing, change and balance. Though the concepts of the mind and the truth that the mind is able to perceive may come a long way to bring the healing that is needed on your planet, but without the impetus of love igniting the soul in God's Love, these things will never have the power and the strength to be implemented. Instead the baser desires of humanity continue to rule your world and rule the decisions of others who are in power and control. There is no thought to have responsibility for the conditions that each individual creates in their lives through their actions, their thoughts, their interactions with others. Instead all is superficial, all is predicated upon the accumulation of things and the presentation of the superficial as the true self is hidden away. It is a great sadness in your world that so much is hidden. So much is never seen and ignored, and there is a great apathy and lack, lack of desire for higher things, for love, integrity, joy, and peace. All of these things have a spiritual root and unless the spirit is informed and fed, so little is accomplished, so little comes through in the consciousness expression of the individual.

From the very beginning, each soul who comes into this world is fed error, is influenced by the conditions that are dark and of this world. Perpetuating the attitudes and sense of reality that mankind has built over millennia. And so there is a great struggle here, a great struggle indeed. If you can withstand the powerful influence of these negative conditions of this world, and yet there are those who continue to struggle like a fish trying to go upstream. Every effort, every inch of the way is met with resistance.

For those who walk this path of the natural love where God is not particularly present within this paradigm of thought and doing, it is difficult indeed. Those who ascribe to God and receive His Love within their souls, it is an empowerment of the soul giving the impetus, the insights, the strength to create light that grows from within through the blessing of this Love and expands outward into one's life. And it is God's wish that every soul may pursue closeness and eventual at-onement with the Creator.

This is accomplished through Love, awakened by Love, the Essence of God flowing into the soul of each individual through their efforts and prayers to receive this gift. Such a simple act brings great rewards, changes, awakenings, joy, peace, and love. I encourage you my dear brothers to speak in these terms with those you are to meet, to give the simple truth that is the most powerful of all truth. For to guide another and try to inspire them to forge a relationship with God is the very foundation of this work. That they may humbly ask and beseech God for His blessings of Love and Healing and Light.

This sparks the change, the revolution of the soul to something different, in greater harmony and alignment with God. It does not start with words. It starts with a prayer. It starts with a desire for change, for healing, for peace within. So many in your world engage so thoroughly in materialism and the material aspects of life, that they do not see with clear eyes and faith the possibilities that come with this relationship with God. Until humanity can come to a realization of God's presence and being in the universe, they continue upon a path that may, for some, accentuate the good and moral aspects of the individual, the sort of love that we call the natural love but nothing more. There is still a key component that is missing and that is the acknowledgement of the soul and its relationship with God.

This acknowledgement is often considered a weakness by those in your world who need nothing but their own resources to find their way in life. And oh how their lives could be so much easier if they but acknowledged the power of God to bring enlightenment and strength, love and peace within. The wisdom that comes from the soul imbued with the Father's Love can guide an individual upon a path that is of greater harmony, greater fulfillment, even material abundance, given the wisdom of the soul awakened by love.

My friends, you have found the secret. You have lived by this for many years and you have experienced a life that is beautiful, deeply rewarding, filled with love, though you have not experienced the life that is free from challenges. For you cannot live in this world without these conditions pushing against you. You have found a way to achieve the solutions that bring greater harmony to you however.

Beloved souls, speak your truths. Walk in this world as a light. Show your brothers and sisters the way to a greater life, to walk in harmony and peace, to see with the eyes of the soul, to know from the wisdom of the soul, to love from the love of the soul. These things are available to all. May you assist God in waking up humanity to their true potentials, their true purpose in this world so that life and harmony will exist and continue to thrive in your world.

I thank you for allowing me to speak. I am your friend Michael and I'm happy to be in acquaintance with you beautiful souls. I reside within the Celestial Kingdom, a man who has had many struggles in life but has found his way to God. I'm happy to be with you today to be able to speak of these truths which are so important for the future of humanity. May God bless you in your efforts my friends. May you continue to shine in His Love, to listen to your own wisdom and guidance that comes from God, and to be in the joy of His Love always. God bless you. God bless you, my friends.

Journey Through the Spheres Towards the Celestial Heavens (Yogananda)

Title: Journey Through the Spheres Towards the Celestial Heavens
Spirit: Yogananda
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 22, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

I am Yogananda and I wish to tell you of my experience transitioning into the spirit world and my journey towards the Celestial Heavens. When I passed into spirit, I carried with me many ideas and thoughts that originated from the Eastern religions. I nurtured and revered these thoughts in my mind, though within my heart, I tenderly loved God and felt His Love for me and yet it was difficult for me to release these thoughts and conditions that were engrained within me from childhood. So, upon my passing I came to the fourth sphere and found many wonderments and experiences within that sphere that satisfied the edicts of my mind and my religious ideas. Yet, I knew within me there was another longing, the longing of my heart, to go beyond these mental concepts to something that I knew was deeper and closer to God. So, I too had to battle between the ideas of my mind and the desires of my soul.

In time, I progressed to the fifth sphere and was able to be open and receptive to the teachings of the Divine Love and I accepted these teachings, though I continued to harbour some of the natural love ideas that I so enjoyed. From the fifth, I progressed to the sixth. Again, nurturing my mind, my mental ideas, my thoughts of being in truth and order and justice and beauty and righteousness. But I did not stay long within this sphere, for my soul now was pulling me further along this journey of awakening.

I progressed to the seventh, that beautiful sphere, more beautiful than the sixth sphere, a sphere of the Natural Heavens. I thought I had achieved my goal of knowing heaven, but alas, it became evident quite quickly that I was merely on the doorstep to heaven. Once I released my erroneous beliefs that originated from my mind and all conditions that were more of the conditions of humanity than that of the soul, then I was ready to cross that threshold into the heavenly realms of the Celestial Kingdom. My joy was great. Such joy, to be within that condition of Love, to know the deep joy and satisfaction of the soul, pure and radiating Love, and continuing to grow in Love.

I tell you, my friends, this was greater than anything I experienced on your earth or any of the spheres that I inhabited. This is the bliss that is truly of God. Though I had experienced the bliss of the mind, the bliss of the pure soul, to know the bliss of God's Love in all its powerful glory is beyond explanation or description. And I see amongst my friends here that you are well on your way to this journey of knowing the wonderment of heaven. I have made my commitments to God to serve Him in Love, to come back to your earth plane and bring further truth than the one I had left behind in my service and teachings. So, this is why I continue to be with you my friends, to speak to you and to work with you.

There is so much to be imparted to humanity, so much ignorance in the world, deprivation and need. God needs all those who are willing to work for the betterment of mankind, to be in harmony with His laws of Love. So, we will work together, my brothers, we will work together. I will make contact with each one of you personally and we will have conversations. We will make efforts together to bring Truth. It is my privilege and blessing to work with you in this way and I am but one of many who make these efforts, who walk with you and assist you in this great work.

So, I have known both heavens and I have chosen thus. I have come to know at-onement with God in some measure with the realization that the joy and the bliss, the wonderment and the power of Love will continue to increase for all eternity. The bounty that I have reaped with my efforts and prayers has been great and I wish to share what I know and what is Truth, the knowings of my soul. You, my beloved brothers, will help me to do so, and I know you are eager to do so. We all work together in this sacred work to bring light to this world and to bring light to the many spirits who are in the darkness and grayness of the lower spheres. It is possible to reach many millions, my friends, given your commitment and efforts as you follow the Will of God. This is possible. Have faith that God's plan is extraordinary and vast in its scope and that you may be a part of this, to work with many to bring about the realization of God's desire to bring Light and Peace and Love to your world.

Thank you for listening to me, my friends. I am Yogananda. I continue to teach and be God's servant. We will continue in our work together and be in the flow of God's Love and Will. God bless you. God bless you, my friends. My love is with you. God bless you

Pathways of Consciousness (Yogananda)

Title: Pathways of Consciousness
Spirit: Yogananda
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney, Australia
Date: November 22, 2018

Dear friends, Yogananda returns and I wish to speak on the subject of the pathways of consciousness – how those who walk the path of the natural man gravitate towards the mind. And in prayer and meditation, avenues of the mind are opened, bringing experiences that are not so much of the soul but of the mind, levels of consciousness that come from the mind that is stilled and clear. A well-practiced meditator may come to these places that are of light and stillness giving a detachment to all the mental thoughts and conditions of daily life. This state is highly prized by those who meditate and walk this natural path and yes, there are facets and possibilities that are inherent in this altered state. There can be gifts of insight and knowing. But it is not a place of feeling. It is a place of detachment. At times there may come uplifts, a sense of expansiveness, but mostly one experiences a sort of holiday from the usual mental frame of mind.

The sort of prayer and meditation which you ascribe to is very different. Rather than the consciousness succumbing to a higher consciousnesses of the mind, it takes a different route and enters the consciousness of the soul. This is a wholly different place of experience, of knowing, of being. Yes, there is an element of detachment from the material mind's conditions, but there is much more feeling, there is much more depth, where love becomes the predominant condition and sense that enfolds those who pray and meditate in this way. And many things may come in this state of receptivity to God. Deep blessings and insights, revelations, awakenings, understandings come because rather than relying solely on the material mind and its faculties, the soul is engaged and the mind of the soul is engaged. If one is fully in alignment with this sort of a prayer and listening, in this way the consciousness of God comes and God is recognised and perceived by the eyes of the soul. As these eyes open, so God is seen more clearly, all the while bathed in love, bathed in joy, bathed in truth. The many facets and depths of this experience continue to grow and awaken as this gift of Divine Essence invades the soul, clearing the way for consciousness to find its path and awakening within the soul.

It is easier to go to the mind, the material mind, the consciousness that comes with the natural man, though each avenue requires effort and discipline. The avenue towards the soul is guided by love. As you follow the trail of love, you come to that place where you and God are together. And so, as you desire and long to go to that place, that special place where you and God are in communion, the route that is taken becomes well trod with prayer and becomes easier in time. The desire for more of this experience, this awakening of the soul, grows more intense, a passionate embrace with the Divine and becomes a craving within the heart.

Those who seek to know their true selves indeed must go within themselves. And yet, the awakening of the soul to God brings the presence of God to you. It is not there to begin with, for it takes a prayer and a longing and a reaching. The ability to recognise God is within, but the actual act of connecting and embracing God comes from both within and without.

My friends, you have done this many times. You have sought to be in communion with your Creator and you know the road well and recognise those feelings and senses of the soul awakening to God, reaching, knowing, feeling the deep peace, feeling that kernel of joy within your heart that brings the upliftment, that brings the opening of your perceptions. Yes, it is difficult to explain the way to the soul, but it is indeed not difficult in action. When you teach others this way, encourage them not to go into the direction of the mind, but something deeper. And when you engage in these Circles of Light where prayer and the desire to receive this gift of the Divine Love is present, then the angels of God are present as well and they assist each soul in finding their way, guiding them along that path, a path that may seem different and unknown.

It is within each soul to find its way, to know its way to God. It starts with a deep longing within, a sense of need, a desire to be with the Creator of All. As each soul longs for God's Love, longs for that embrace, that communion that says "You are my child, I acknowledge you as part of my great family of humanity and you are welcome to my embrace, my Love and I will never refuse you or turn you away to a place where my Love does not exist."

If those who pray have a measure of faith, a desire, a willingness to follow this path in order to discover God, they will be rewarded with many experiences, many awakenings. They will fill themselves with this awakening that comes from God, that awaits your efforts to knock on the mighty door of His Soul. And God will not ignore this knock. He takes great pleasure in opening this door of Love that all good and wondrous gifts may pour upon that soul that has taken the time and the effort and has trusted in what God may give.

The innocence of a child, the wisdom of the soul desiring God, the efforts of a few words in prayer, the sitting for a few minutes in quiet, the reaching to a place that is not of this world, these things bring God close. There is little that can hold a soul in deep longing to God from this embrace. It comes in response to this longing. So little effort is needed for such great rewards. It is only the resistance of the mind that refuses to believe that God exists in His place in the universe, whose mistrust of God must have been learned long ago. These things hold the soul back from its desire for unity. You must assure the children, assure the seeker, gently guide them forth in loving, gentle ways and you will have done your job in teaching the soul to find its way to God.

May you be successful in your work, my friends. May you find your stride in this teaching way and bring great and deep inspiration with your words, your prayers, your joy, your wisdom, your love. All this comes as you have a sincere desire to serve and be God's channels of love, and instruments of peace and change in the world. Many blessings will come and many souls will cross your path. May each encounter bring a great blessing, bring some touch that will cause a response, a shift, a change within that soul. For these things are often subtle, but in time these seeds take root and brings the desired results. Have faith that you will be guided, that you indeed hold the key to this great and powerful truth, the highest of blessings, the greatest and deepest change from God to the soul of man.

God bless you, my friends. God bless you. I am Yogananda, so very, very happy that we are communicating in this way. God bless you.

Teaching Others Through Love and Humility (Augustine)

Title: Teaching Others Through Love and Humility
Spirit: Augustine
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney Australia
Date: November 22, 2018

God bless you, it is your teacher Augustine. Prayers cannot be sent for a soul in regards to receiving the Divine Love. It is impossible for you to initiate this gift in another. You may be a channel of love for another, but you cannot make the blessing be enacted by God to that soul. They must pray for it themselves or initiate the response from the Holy Spirit through their soul longings, save one exception, my beloved brothers. You may pray for the Love to enter the soul of a young child, a baby may receive this gift through your prayers, through your efforts to be a channel of love.

If it were so easy that a soul may receive this gift by another's prayers, then would we not continuously pray for this world to receive this gift of love and see its transformation before our eyes? This is not how the laws work. Though in your hearts you have a desire that others may indeed feel this gift and know its blessing and you may be an example of it and carry the condition of love with you as we do when we come to make great rapport with you. But we cannot transfer this Love into your souls. It is only by the mechanism of the Holy Spirit that this may be done. This is the law of Love enacted and consistent.

We urge you, beloved souls, to enact this prayer for yourselves with every moment and opportunity you may have so that this blessing may indeed flow into your soul, that you may trigger a response from God and His ministry, the outflow of Love through the Holy Spirit. My beloved brothers, it is important that you know of these things, that you are clear on these truths, for you will be asked to speak on behalf of the truth to many and you will be asked many questions. You will be challenged. You will have others bow down at your feet in thoughts that you are a special soul, one who desires recognition and adoration. I tell you, my beloved, beloved brothers, that one must walk with humility. One must be clear on the truth as it is and give this truth in simple language, to not complicate nor make too complex your explanations.

If you are to be God's beloved channels of love and truth, you must be clear and pure, humble and loving. For in this way, the light within your soul is not obscured but magnified. In this way, you allow God's hand to be upon you firmly. And in this way, you allow us from the Celestial Kingdom to make a solid rapport with you so that all of these good and wondrous avenues of blessings may pour forth to those you speak amongst, to those who are open and eager to know of your truth.

You see, much of this work requires a humility and a grace about you allowing for the beautiful blessings and conditions of love to flow and increase in your presence. If you are to be a disciple of the Master, you must be an example as he was an example. You must exemplify his message in this way in the world, for each of you have gifts and abilities, strengths and capacities that God may use for the benefit of others.

If you allow those things of the mind to dominate in your efforts to reach out with blessings and love to your brothers and sisters, then you diminish what is possible. Yet we do not expect any of you to be perfect, nor do we expect that you will be as the Master was in his beautiful ministry, so powerful and close to God. You may attain, however, an approximation of this given your willingness to release a need that comes from the mind and be within your souls.

To feel the grace of God flowing, His Love enveloping, His Wisdom manifesting through you, to be an instrument, beloved souls, is to let go of those things of the mind that play on certain agendas and desires. Instead, be at peace, be confident and with faith that all will flow in harmony with truth and love.

If you walk in this way, you will see how God uses you effectively and powerfully. The words that you speak will be words of wisdom and love. The blessings that come through will be of the highest. You will inspire. You will comfort and heal and bring love. This is your destiny, my beloveds brothers and for all those who wish to serve God in this way. It is the refinement of the capacities of the soul filled with the Father's Love, expressed and enacted in love, guided, and with a deep humility and grace that is so exemplified by the Master Jesus.

By these characteristics will you know them, the channels of God's Love, the instruments of God. They are out in the world, beloveds, and you will meet many who express these characteristics and attributes. You must meet them in the way that they recognize you and you recognize them, as brothers and sisters in arms, doing the Father's work in this world. It is important that you prepare yourselves each time you go forth in the world to speak and teach, to heal and to comfort, not to bring great preparation to the mind but to be in alignment with God. In this way, all will flow in harmony as you allow God's wisdom, God's words, God's Love to flow. In this, you receive a blessing. In this, there is a deep sense of satisfaction and joy.

For you have not put yourself forward so that others may admire you or that you may compare yourselves with others, rather that you are a unique and beautiful soul of God who has blessed you so and made you who you are. It is the man and the woman who may stand up in a crowd with composure, with a sense of themselves in peace, in confidence, in humility that catches the eye of another, often in admiration and recognition that that individual has accomplished something that is somewhat rare in your world, a soul that is honest, humble, wise, and full of love.

May you set your sights upon comporting yourselves in this way. May you be aware of those conditions that you carry within your minds that may be contrary to this example and goal. You must truly love yourselves, my beloved brothers, and come to the realization that God has placed within you something very special indeed. That His Essence burns like a fire within you, that you continue to be healed and transformed by it, and that it is this flame, this light that is the core of the truth that you carry and you must express this, uninhibited or cloaked by the mind.

The soul is wrapped in its own needs and desires. The soul desires to be with God. The soul desires to be in harmony, to express love, to be in light. Follow the yearnings of your souls, beloved brothers. Allow all that which is not in harmony with your soul and the light within to fall away so that you may be free and awakened in love. It is not so difficult. It is certainly not complex, but this goes to the very heart of your struggle and your efforts to be an instrument of God's Will, a channel of His Love. Its potential is certainly within you and you do express this to a degree. You are required to continue to strive ever higher, ever closer to God so that this light may indeed burn bright, that your light may indeed be a powerful catalyst to help change humanity, to help change this world. We continue to encourage you and to walk with you, to teach, to bring insights, inspiration, love.

You are finding your way, beloved brothers. You continue to turn your head towards God and seek for the highest. Your efforts will be rewarded and they have already been and will continue to be. So much more awaits you my friends, so much more.

God bless you, students of truth and of love. I am your teacher Augustine and I continue to walk with you upon this path of Love Divine, of truth, of the soul. May you be richly blessed and be in this flow of love, and be a channel of His love. God bless you. God bless you.

Personal to Jimbeau and Geoff (Luke)

I have come to give you some guidance in regards to future plans and efforts that are a part of God's plan for the salvation of mankind. As you well know, you have each been prepared, bolstered in love, changed by love, that various gifts have opened and you are aware of the possibilities of your soul. Your faith grows. Your resolve and commitment to the truth grows. Your ability to perceive and to express the truth continues to evolve and grow, reaching ever higher, more refined, more in harmony with God's laws of Love. These things are gifted to you through your prayers and your efforts together, to serve and to walk in this world in light.

Thus, you have taken advantage of each opportunity to grow and to learn, to pray and to come closer to God. And the faculties of your soul begin to emerge like seeds germinating in the ground, poking up through the soil of life and awakening to the sun of God's Love, drawing ever closer, higher, feeling its effects as you grow and become that unique and beautiful creation of God. And in this process of awakening, you are drawing closer to your purpose, my sons, closer to what you are meant to do in this world, bringing yourselves into alignment with God's Will.

So much has been accomplished so far in your lives, in the years that you've spent in prayer and contemplation, in preparation, in stretching your gifts and talents, in serving humanity in love. And in this, you have opened many portals of opportunity to serve God. You've come to recognize these gifts and potentials within you. And you recognize the deep desire within your soul to move forward, to be God's instruments in your world.

Beloved sons, you are very close to that time where you will disperse into the world. Each of you and your cohorts are feeling this urge and inspiration to move out into the world from your safe and beautiful homes and places of residence, to reach other souls, to embrace and teach, to comfort in love, to bring healing and peace. And yes, your readiness is an incremental thing. It is not moving from one stance and shifting to another. This growth that

I speak of is subtle and is difficult for you to recognize on a daily basis, how these changes are indeed affecting you. But if you take the vision of long past, you see indeed a great change within you, an opening and awakening within you. And this has been blessed to you by God.

A great deal of effort and prayers have been said for your behalf, in hopes of encouraging you forward. Many angels know of each one of you. Many blessings have come, not only from your prayers and efforts, but from many prayers and efforts from your angel friends, from your friends on earth, from many. God continues to respond to these prayers and bless you mightily, my beautiful and beloved brothers.

And you each feel that you must move forward in the world, to traverse places that are calling you. And this is indeed wisdom from your soul, gained from the blessings of God within. And so I ask you, my brothers, do not restrict your thinking. Do not put barriers in front of this great and mighty plan from God, to place you in various circumstances, locations, with individuals, that will help to nurture this plan for the salvation of all. You have committed yourselves, beloved brothers. You have said, I am willing to serve. You have said, I know this is the truth and that the world indeed needs this powerful truth to overcome the great barriers of ignorance and darkness that hold back humanity from what is destined to be the next step in the evolution of mankind.

The truth and knowledge of the soul, of the spiritual nature of humanity, must be brought forth at this time in the history of mankind. There are only two ways to proceed, beloved souls, for humanity. One is a continued escalation downward, away from God, intensifying the darkness, and the other is to switch and shift towards light. But this cannot be done without encouragement, without avenues through which others may be awakened. And so God seeds many emissaries of truth and light in your world. Though their perspectives may differ, their souls are in alignment with your soul, and all your souls are in alignment with God, to some degree. And so, it is time to move forward, to listen to your own guidance, that which compels you to walk in the world as God's channels of love.

My beloved son to my right, you have many gifts, many talents, many things to give to the world. You say you are somewhat reticent, but this is only the vestiges of your mind continuing to convince you that you are not worthy of being called a child of God, an instrument of light and truth, a channel of love. You are all of these things, my son. And it is time to express these things with grace and confidence, with humility, with a strength that truly lies within your soul, and to believe, to truly know, that what comes forth in your consciousness from God, is powerful and truthful.

You are not being deluded, my son, but encouraged, carried, inspired. And now that you have resolved many issues, that of your physical body, that of your sense of unworthiness, you are ready to step forward, to walk alone in light, to allow God to guide you where you must go, to step forward and declare the truth in words, in music, in caring and embracing of others. Though you do so now, the intensity and effectiveness of this journey and purpose will intensify and grow in surprising ways. It is, and requires, that first step of declaration.

To allow those brilliant seeds within your soul to grow and ripen, it requires great effort and what one would consider risks, experimentation. But this is all part of the growth of the soul, is it not? As God helps you in your journey to awaken through these tests, trials, and tribulations, so the soul grows. Wisdom flourishes in these conditions that are often challenging. And you have worked your way through many of these challenges and come to a place of clarity and wisdom. And so God has readied you, my son, and is now calling you forward, in this work. The time is now.

Do not withhold from these powerful inclinations of your soul. Allow your mind to be at peace and know that through this declaration, you are indeed called. And what changes may come in your life, will bring harmony and peace to you, my son. God bless you.

And you, my son, you acknowledge parts of yourself and move through life with confidence that these, indeed your gifts, and indeed they are, but there is much more, much more that you have to give to the world, much more that will flow from your soul. Do not limit yourself, my son. You are given great opportunity. God continues to guide you and encourage you forward. And you have learned much in the last years of prayer and effort with your brothers and sisters. And it is time, my dear and beloved son, to awaken, to awaken to the possibilities of your soul and recognize that each day may bring great rewards and opportunities, that you may touch many souls with love and wisdom and clarity.

Each soul in God's universe is unique. Each soul has special gifts to give, to be expressed. And in this expression comes a deep reward and satisfaction and joy. Allow yourself to move forward amongst humanity with love. Allow your soul to guide you and to inform your words and your deeds, as God continues to pour within you His great blessing of Love, and awakens these faculties that will indeed add and exponentially open many insights and truth.

You are a teacher, my son, and you are a healer. Use your gifts. Allow them to be expressed overtly. Touch those that are in need of healing. Embrace them in love. Be confident that God will work through you in every circumstance. There is no need for restrictions or ideas that come from the mind, in terms of what is appropriate. What is appropriate will be for the moment, to allow that to flow and be expressed in the harmony of God's Will.

You will find yourself amongst many. You will not be isolated, but travel amongst many in this great venture of the awakening of mankind in truth and love. So much awaits you. So much awaits you all in this great work.

And we in the Celestial Kingdom are greatly encouraged and joyful to see your souls expand as they have, as you awaken in this love, as you know your true selves and be in the world in a way that is of truth and light, that you will indeed speak, heal, love as God's emissaries. You will walk forward in this light. The time has come to step forward in this way. And many things will be revealed to you, my brothers, and all the glory and wonderment that God has to express to your souls.

And though you may see yourselves as imperfect, possibly unworthy, I say to you, does God see you in this way? Does God limit His Love for you? Does God judge you? No. God only encourages you forward, to inspire you to greater heights, as you release all the impediments of your soul and mind, only absorbing truth and love.

Beloved souls, you are worthy. You are beautiful. You have what you require to be God's channels of love in the world. Accept this. Be in this flow of your love, of His Love, so that all is love, all is in harmony, grace and beauty, and each day will bring beautiful gifts, opportunities, blessings.

Your callings continue to unfold, my brothers. You will find yourselves in circumstances that are surprising and unimaginable to you at this time. Walk into each day with your eyes, the eyes of your soul, open in readiness and eager to hear God's guidance for that day and you will find that each step forward leads to many more. And the journey shall quicken, the opportunities awaken and be easily met, upon your journey of love and service.

God bless you. I am Luke and I am happy to have spoken to you on behalf of the Master, to bring these tidings of joy, and awakening, and possibility. God bless you. God bless you.

So, you see my sons, what starts as humble beginnings may grow to magnificent outcomes in faith of God. In your own acknowledgement of your soul, in your awakening to your true self, so many things come. The little chick becomes the eagle. What is born in humility becomes a magnificent awakening and creation of God. The power of Love, beloveds, the power of Love.

God bless you, beautiful souls. Stretch your wings. Acknowledge what God has created within you and awaken to your magnificence, your beauty, the power of Love within you. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you. Confucius loves you.

I've come to remind you that not all your work is serious. It must be done in joy. Joy is so important. Joy lightens and brings greater light. Joy soothes the soul and invigorates the mind so that all is in harmony and all flows in love. For without joy, what is love? With love there is joy. Remember this my serious friends. Be joyful and laugh and embrace the beauty and wonderment in life with lighthearted joy and your friend Goldie will be with you. I will tickle you. I will tickle your soul with joy.

God bless you. God bless you.

Being Channels of God's Love and Truth in the World (Faith)

What a great light you are building in this home with your prayers and your conversations, keeping your minds upon the higher truths, nurturing one another in this effort to bring light into your midst. Indeed it is having its effects. Indeed you are feeling and experiencing the upliftment of your souls in this beautiful condition of light.

This is what humanity needs my friends, not the distractions, not the intense mental machinations, not the bickering about truth and arguments about reality. None of these things bring the soul to a place of receptivity so that it may awaken in the fullness of the Father's Love. No, it is that quiet surety, that beautiful peace, that loving demeanor that brings the angels in your midst and God's blessing upon you.

This you must teach as you cast the seeds about you. Yes, these seeds may fall on fallow ground and fall on fertile ground. It is not for you to judge or to be concerned, merely to go about your work as channels of God's Love and Truth in the world. As you do so with humility and grace, with focus and purpose, many will be touched. Those seeds will be deposited within the consciousness of those to whom you speak. In this way, you will have done your work. Yes, in your world there is always a desire for immediate results and this, in the flow of God's Universe, is not always possible nor likely. It requires patience.

As you continue to pray for all those who have been touched and connected to you, asking God to continue to bless your brothers and sisters, asking God to widen the scope of His efforts in your world so that in time there will be a tipping point where these truths and all the Truths of God, the Truths of Love, the Truths of Light, will take hold and create a shift in the consciousness of mankind.

It is a great and noble work that you do, my brothers. All who engage within it must be steadfast, consistent, faithful, and make all the effort that they can muster so that you may indeed bring this truth to the ears of those who are curious, who wish to listen, and those whose souls will reverberate with the words and love that you bring so that God may bless you all in His Love. Continue to be God's purveyors of truth. Continue to be of good faith. Continue to ask God to guide you, to inspire you with words, to enwrap you in His Love, that as you walk and speak, as you heal, inspire, and pray, this Light may indeed manifest and flow to many.

As you become the conduit, a purveyor for God's Love and Truth to flow, God needs your effort. He needs your sincere and integral desire to serve. As His Light and Love continues to flow and be transmitted through the many angels and spirits and mortals to this world, though you see your work as humble in comparison with the need of humanity, you are enacting the Will of God and you will bring many souls to the Truth as you continue to be persistent and put forth the efforts that are required.

You do not know the future. You cannot see where you are going, not in any great detail, but I tell you, you are on a beautiful and mighty path that will take you to many souls and will afford the sowing of many seeds of truth and light. Every time you step forward as you are willing to do on the morrow, you step a little closer to your purpose and to this great task of teaching the truth of God's Love to humanity. In your efforts, much flows to you, to your soul, strengthening and widening the condition of love within you. This will bring greater power and beauty to your efforts and in this ever-increasing flow of this work, you will see the doors open of which you ask and speak of. It must come in response to the power of God's Love within you. It is a matter of faith. It is a matter of effort, of prayer, of consistency, and of joy.

May these gifts and blessings continue to pour upon you my beloved brothers, and we will continue to accompany you upon your journeys and bring you face-to-face with many whose souls seek the truth. May you have the power as God's channels to penetrate the resistance of the mind and touch the soul with the great sword of Truth, laying it bare to receive the healing of God, His touch of Love.

God bless you. I will be with you on the morrow (a talk and prayer in Fitzroy Falls, NSW) as will many. Each soul will have an angel with them and you will all be inspired in your work and talk and efforts and prayers. God bless you. I am Faith. My love is with you, beloved, beloved brothers, with you all. God bless you.

God Uses Our Gifts to Bless Others (Francis)

Title: God Uses Our Gifts to Bless Others (Personal to Jimbeau)

Location: Sydney, Australia

I will accompany you upon your trek to the fair lands that you so desire to rest upon and do your work. With my presence, there will be a gentleness and a welcoming embrace from the peoples who you will encounter. When God puts His hand upon a journey such as this, you may expect many beautiful blessings and miracles to be in your midst and presence. Offer to pray with whoever may ask. Offer to pray in the churches. Pray for those who are ill. Pray for the troubled. Pray for the weak. Pray for the lost. Every day brings great opportunity for prayer, to bring God's blessings and grace into your midst, and the midst of those who are with you.

Do not be afraid to offer your services, your prayers, your music, your gifts. For as you continue to open in this way and make this your truth, it will come easier and more naturally. Though there may be those who do not understand your work, there will be many who will open themselves eagerly to the blessings that you may give.

God works through you, beloved, beloved brother. God works through many. Those who are strong and are of faith may walk in the world with a dignity, a strength, a composure that does not invite ridicule, but respect. So this is how you may comport yourself in the world, my brother. Do not feel small, but large in light and love. Declare yourself with your presence. When you are guided to touch others, do so. Reach out, embrace. When you are guided to sing and bring forth your words of music, offer yourself as a gift to your brothers and sisters. When you feel guided to heal another in prayer, ask God to bring His blessings upon them and upon you. Do not feel self-conscious, but be assured that you are doing God's work.

It is not that we ask you to forge ahead insisting upon expressing yourself, but there is a beautiful balance that may be obtained with prayer and listening to God's guidance, of seeing the opportunities that are in front of you and walking where you are guided to be, and being in the grace of God. Though there are times when you may be quiet and gentle, unassuming and possibly unnoticed, this is not to say that you are ignoring God's work. When you have those feelings of quietness, be quiet and be with God. When you have those promptings to reach out, reach out and embrace your brothers and sisters. We will assist in bringing your conversations to those [of the spiritual matters ??] and inspire those who are with you to be open and receptive to what you have to say, to the prayers that you may give and to the light that will come.

Yes, you and I have a special connection, my brother. I will guide you. Know that when you ask for me, I will be present. Know that with my presence will come beautiful blessings. Be assured that God will open these doors, that this work will be awakened and fulfilled through you, my son, my beloved brother.

The blessing of God is upon you. He shows Himself to you and He will awaken much more within you. Be at peace, my son, and know that you are truly loved, that you are truly gifted, and that God has a great plan for you, beloved soul, eager to serve and be in His grace. God bless you, beloved soul, kindred soul, beautiful soul. God bless you.

I am Jesus. I come to reiterate this calling and say to you that all souls who take up this mantle of Truth, and desire to be my disciples and God's channels of Love shall be blessed for all eternity and given a special cloak of protection and light, of wisdom and strength. For God may indeed touch those who wish to serve in truth and bring these beautiful blessings to each and every soul who is open and awakened to the Truth of His Love.

You shall always be uplifted, my beloved brothers. Every task that God lays before you shall be blessed and all shall unfold in harmony. The power of the Light, the gift of Love shall be with you, beloved brothers who continue to awaken in Love. You are with me and I am with you always. I shall never leave you. Always you are in my heart and you are my beloveds. God bless you beloveds. God bless you my dear and beloved brothers in your awakenings, your efforts, your life. A joy to behold, a beautiful soul each one. God bless you. I am your brother Jesus and I love you. I love you. God bless you.

Portal of Light (Confucius)

Title: Portal of Light
Spirit: Confucius
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Sydney Australia
Date: November 25, 2018

I am Confucius and I come to tell you that with your consistent efforts in this place, we will build a portal of light that will bring many blessings and energies into this room, into the vicinity of where you live that potentially has the power to touch many souls, not only in your vicinity but in many places in your country. That through your prayers and consistency and efforts of love, many things are possible and can take place through you as long as you have unity and harmony amongst you and a desire to serve God with humility and love.

God awaits your decision. God awaits your desire to come together and explore the possibilities of prayer and dedication, to understand the power of a singleness of purpose and a desire for truth. That this may be awakened in love and brought forth by your efforts and gifts. Each unique soul may contribute to this portal and be used in many ways for the benefit of many. We are willing, beloved souls, to extend our invitation and efforts and presence to be with you in this way.

It requires your commitment, your willingness to release all that may block your efforts so that you may proceed and continue to awaken your gifts. There is great need, beloved souls, for your light and your gifts. Awaken, awaken to the possibilities that God has set before you and see the power of your own soul when blessed by God and carried to great heights.

God bless you, beloveds. I am Confucius and I am with you in your efforts and your desire for light and truth, for love and peace. It shall be obtained by the gathering of your souls and great effort to bring change to yourselves and to this world. When you go to the highest Source, there is no limitations to what can be accomplished. God bless you. God bless you beloved souls.

Talk to a Beginners' Group (Michael)

Title: Talk to a Beginners' Group
Spirit: Michael
Medium: Al Fike

Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

Welcome to this circle of light. I have called you together. My name is Michael and I have been working with this dear soul and her mate and though she is not entirely aware of my presence, we know each other well. I am an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom. I have taken the journey which these beloved brothers speak of and have come to that place where my soul, my being, has been transformed by love. It is the power of love, the power of God's Love, that is the greatest force for change in the universe. For it is the highest energy, the highest element available to mankind. When you open yourselves to this gift, you will experience something far beyond that which you carry within you, all the potentials that are of the mind, of your natural state. For this transformative energy goes directly to the soul and infills the soul so that deep healing, deep changes and shifts take place.

My friends, the world needs more light. The world needs more who are willing to love not only themselves but others. This is a simple statement, yet it is profound and important. For you see about you many who are lost, many who are in darkness, many who have no idea of what it is that nourishes them. They ride a wave of superficial thought and deed and think nothing more of what direction they walk in, where they go, and what may become of their lives.

I see amongst you many bright souls, many who have wisdom, who have spent their lives seeking higher truths and helping others in their struggles in life. I wish to encourage you, beloved souls, to continue in these efforts that you make on behalf of humanity to uplift and bring harmony to your world. I would encourage you to come together in these circles of light and bring your intentions, bring your desires for the higher blessings of love. Put your efforts together and formulate this circle of light. We will come, my beloved friends, we will come to assist you, to teach you, to show you how you may accomplish greater acts of love and service in the world. For there is no limitation to those who are inflamed with love and light. Great works, my friends, may be done with humility, grace, love, and wisdom. These things come with this blessing of the Father's Love. These things come with a willingness and openness that will allow these gifts to enter into your souls.

There is always much to learn, my friends. Greater truths, greater and deeper consciousness within. We of the Celestial Kingdom are eager to assist mortals of your world in their efforts and struggles to rise above the conditions of this earth plane, to be in a condition of light and harmony and love. All you need to do is but ask, my friends. Ask for our assistance and you shall receive what you require. You are not alone, never alone. God is always with you. God sends His angels to be with you, beloved souls, provided this is your desire, provided you put forth a simple prayer, "Beloved God, open my soul to your Love. Bring me close. Embrace me with your Love that I may feel the peace that passes all understanding, that I may know your presence, that I may feel your essence flowing into me, healing and changing me." This all you need say, my beloved friends, and God will do the rest.

The power of God's touch transforms, awakens, heals, and brings many blessings. Gifts open from the flow of this gift, this one gift that is Love. There are many here who wish to use their gifts to benefit others. I say that with the foundation of this Love within your souls, these gifts will be magnified, awakened, and exponentially more powerful with the infusion of this energetic Essence of God. I issue you all an invitation, beloved souls, to accept this gift that God gives willingly. The abundance of this gift is limitless. The possibilities that come with this gift are beyond your imagination. Great change comes within and great works expressed through a soul awakened by the Essence of God.

May you continue to seek this Truth. To come to know this Truth and bring it to your hearts. Allow this Love to penetrate beyond the ideas of your minds to that longing place, that longing place of your soul. You will feel the warmth of God's touch within you that will awaken many things and bring many truths to your consciousness and show you the road which God has laid before you filled with the bounty of His Love, the blessings that will come in God's great care and love of you.

God bless you my friends. God bless you and may I come again to speak to you. There are others, other beautiful souls who wish to speak and bring their wisdom and truth to you..... pour upon you. Drink deep and refresh your souls, my friends. Drink deep and know the joy that comes in knowing God. May you be fully blessed and come to the deep awakenings of the soul. God bless you. I am Michael and my love is with you, beloved friends. God bless you.

May the Father's Love continue to pour within your souls, precious and beloveds. I have come to say that you continue to awaken in God's Love, that you are destined to be in God's grace evermore, rising closer to your Creator, feeling His Love reign supreme within your consciousness and in your lives.

The yearnings of your souls are strong, my beloved friends, and this is what brings this great bounty of blessings to you. Continue to listen and know this integral part of you, this place where all knowing is possible, all joy emerges, and all wisdom embraces. Deep peace comes with the touch of the Holy Spirit upon your souls. Beloveds, you are in holy communion with God at this moment. Drink deep and know that you are truly loved.

I guide you, my daughter. I am with you and I have been with you for many years. As you reach out to the lost souls, I have been with you. As you seek higher truth, I have been with you. As you continue to grow in the Father's Love and seek to serve God in love, I have been with you for I love you so, beloved daughter. I love you so.

My beloved son is with you all in your ventures to bring the Truth to mankind. Know that as you seek the highest, you receive the highest. As your desire is for this, so the blessings come. Yes, we build the light amongst you and open the doors of many possibilities through your prayers and intentions and efforts to connect with God. So, you continue to awaken, beloved souls, and know your Heavenly Father in all His beauty and glory and Love. So it shall be in your awareness and knowings, God will infuse every part of your lives through His Love and His many blessings.

From the very beginning of your lives, beloved souls, you have yearned for this and God has guided you along many different twists and turns of your path of life, ever seeking to be in that place of clarity and truth, of peace and love. And now you are very close to true awakening. Continue to pray earnestly, to seek with your hearts, to be in communion with God, and the diamond that is your soul will sparkle and reveal many facets, many facets alive with light and truth and beauty.

Blessed are you, my beloved souls, blessed and loved. God bless you. I am Mary and I love you. God bless you.

Simplicity of Love Ignites the Soul (Michael Collier)

Title: Simplicity of Love Ignites the Soul
Spirit: Michael Collier
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 26, 2018
Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

I am Michael Collier and I have declared myself as one of your helpers, my beloved friends. I resided in the country of England in the 1800s and died in the early 1900s. I was a simple clerk in the busy city of London and lived a humble life while on this earth of yours. I did not have a particularly spiritual life and it was in many ways lacking in luster and excitement, but once I came to spirit my eyes were opened. I came to see the possibilities of this life and I was fortunate to have beautiful spirit friends who taught me of the wonder of God's Love.

I've progressed quickly in spirit with this great passion of the soul and awakened in the Father's Love. I struggled as all souls struggle to know the truth and to cast off the layers of untruth that I carried. Now I have earned a place in the Celestial Kingdom through receiving this great gift of Love. I truly wish to serve those of you in your world, to assist you in your efforts to bring life to others, the truth of love, awakening others to the possibilities of life. For as one who lived a very drab existence, I do not wish to see my brothers and sisters caught up in conditions that are without joy.

With the gift of the Father's Love, the awakening of life begins within you and there is great hope and a sense of what might be in one's life. Each of you exemplifies this in your own way, though your lives are different from one another. You are always seeking more life, more expressions of yourselves in loving and beautiful ways, and so you are the examples and you are the teachers by example of this great Truth of the essence of God that awakens life, joy, truth, wisdom, and brings deep peace awareness so that every part of your life sparkles in Love.

So, I in my humble way wish to serve those of you who wish to bring greater life to humanity as God's channels of love. There are many such as myself in the world of spirit who have a deep desire to awaken humanity, for so many are asleep, so many do not feel the joy within them that comes with a soul awakened in Love. Though they may hide themselves in many tasks and ideas of the mind, adventures upon your world that keep the mind active, they are still asleep. Underneath all of this is a soul yet to be awakened.

You my beloved friends know the path to awakening, the path to greater life and love. Do not keep this knowledge to yourselves. Utilize every opportunity so that God may touch another soul through you, so that your life, your light, may inspire others. For each of you is certainly a jewel beyond price, a beautiful soul that has much to give, many gifts and talents, insights that may be shared with others.

Yes, in the circle that was arranged, you see all the variations and differences of the mind's perception of truth, but I tell you my friends, each soul in that circle was touched, even those whose minds were of a very different perspective. Their souls felt something. They were stirred. A seed was planted. Love was given, given freely, given with an intensity that is rarely found in this world. So, when you continue with these circles, opening your home, beloved souls, to those who are seeking, remember it is not the outward signs and appearances, and even their spiritual expressions that is important. It is the soul, that you give to the soul as God's instruments, channels of love. It is advisable that you have no expectations of those who come other than that they sit quietly in prayer, that they may bask in the light that is built in this place and receive the healing and upliftment and maybe a few words of truth and wisdom. In this you will have done your work. You will have carried on the need of truth and awakening and light that God has for his children.

Yes, as you well know, it is very simple. It is your gesture of love, your prayer for your friends, for many others, your simple efforts and simple words that will ignite the most profound touch within the soul though their minds may continue to carry their beliefs and their understandings. In time, maybe in a very long time, they will come to this truth and make their decision as to what path they must travel. God's work is proffering the invitation to love and it is for each soul to decide whether they wish to accept this invitation or not. This is your work, to say that God loves you and that this Love may be carried within your soul and accumulate there and change the very nature of your being. Other than this, what truth is more profound? What may you share that ignites the soul? Do not get caught in explaining and constructing mental constructs of truth. This will inevitably be misconstrued and reorganized within the minds of those who already have their ideas, perspectives. They are not seeking this my friends. They are seeking Love. The one thing that misses, is missed in all of these religious and so-called spiritual teachings, is the depth of Love that comes from God. This must be revealed and shown, allowing each to respond to this beautiful truth.

My friends, so your work is great and without end. Its actual expression is simple and powerful and easily executed, so do not complicate things, my beloved friends, and do not worry as to the demands of results, the possibilities, the problems that may ensue, for yes, the human condition will continue to manifest with whomever you are with. This requires a certain detachment that is overshadowed by love and you beloved, beloved souls have every capability and light and strength to do so with grace and beauty. God uses each of His beautiful channels of love in many ways, in many ways.

May God bless you, my friends, and keep you in His Love always. I am close. Many are close who walk with you in light. The Master walks with you, my friends. Many walk with you. God bless you. I am Michael. God bless you.

Clarification on the Nature of Jesus (Jesus)

Title: Clarification on the Nature of Jesus

Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

I am your brother. I am Jesus. I tell you my friends, I reside within the Celestial Kingdom and in no other place but my own blessed residence close to God. Many have tried to impersonate me in your world. Some do so overtly, but many do so because they do not understand the power of the influence of spirit upon them. Though they are well meaning, they are in error. Though they seem to think they know the truth of my existence and my being, they are influenced by spirits who are eager for acknowledgement and a platform from which to speak.

My beloved friends, you must be strong enough and clear enough within your souls to be able to discern the difference, to know my presence when I am with you, to know my love, my light. For I am who I say I am, beloved souls. I am not within the personage of just this individual through which I speak. I am a celestial spirit who has lived a life on earth and come to this place that is close to God. When you have the eyes of your soul awakened and opened, you will see, see my true self and know my true being. Until then, every soul without the faculties and discernment may believe many things which others convey in the guise of truth.

As I have said, in many cases these individuals are well meaning, yet do not truly understand which influences they are subject to. That rapport from spirit may be so close that they truly believe that they are that individual and come to believe what is impressed within their mind. When that individual speaks with authority they are believed, for it is the way of your world to allow the mind to absorb and give credibility to the words of those who wear the mantle of authority. But truly, those who understand and know truth from the soul will see through the ruse and the error and see truth. This you must all do, my beloved friends, continue to awaken your souls by receiving the Father's Love.

I do not say these things to condemn those who truly believe they are doing good in the world, for in many ways they do good in the world. You must have compassion for those who are deluded and in error, and there are many in your world who are truly deluded and bring error. Your great challenge is to awaken mankind to truth and your present challenge is to awaken yourself to truth. A soul fully awakened in the Father's Love can only speak truth and bring truth, for to bring error would be incompatible and improbable to the soul in light.

This dear soul that you have spoken of is earnest in his efforts. Within his soul is a deep desire to bring truth to the world, but within his mind is what you would call a disconnect of understanding, a misinterpretation of his gifts, which makes him vulnerable to these forces that would use him to bring their understandings forward. This situation is not unusual. There are many in your world and there have been many in your world, that have brought distorted truth through and yet they strive to bring light and harmony and truth to the world. This has happened through many, many generations of your brothers and sisters who have brought forth many errors within the Bible, many errors in doctrines of religion, and done so through the best of intentions and yet imperfect and often unreliable for truth.

Our goal, beloved souls, as children of God, celestial angels of God, and those whom we desire to work through, is to eliminate these filters and distortions and bring clear truth to humanity. It is a great challenge to you, my friends. A great challenge indeed, but you know your souls, you know the possibilities and potentials of your souls and you have come to truly know yourselves in this light and truth. Ask God to bring clarity to all that you believe and think, clarity to all efforts to teach and bring truth, clarity to your soul and that which is within you. This capacity to know truth, as the spirit of truth blesses you my beloved friends, then there will be no doubt, no confusion and truth will indeed flow through you, beloveds. It may not be complete truth, it may not be exactly what we wish to convey, but it will be truth nonetheless and given to you from the highest authority. This is our desire beloved souls, that humanity may have access to truth and come to understand this truth and live by it without distortion, without distraction and misdirection, but pure in love, pure in divine touch.

As God puts His hands upon you all and blesses you with the highest of Truths, the greatest of Wisdom, and the power of Love, you bring my message forward, beloved souls. This does not mean you are me, but it is that you are you in all your beautiful glory, in all the wonderment of your unique creation that is your soul. A soul that God loves as much as He loves me and all in your world and in the world of spirit. God's Love, its intensity, is equal for each soul, and the potential for that soul to find its at-onement with God is available and possible for each soul.

I will never return to the flesh, beloveds, though this myth has persisted for many, many years. It cannot be and contravenes the laws of creation, for in God's laws progression is eternal, moves forward, does not regress but forever moves forward. My time on earth was ordained by God and that time will not be repeated. But I do come to the earth to speak to you in my spirit body which contains my soul and this is possible, as I continue to teach my message to the world and to the world of spirit. In this way, I am God's messenger of truth, as are you my beloved friends, as are all those who take up the mantle of truth, who speak of the Love of God and its power to transform the soul. Come to know me beloveds. Come to know me and know that I am your friend and brother. I am Jesus of the Bible and I reside within the Celestial Kingdom, which I was the first to enter and reside within the highest realms of this kingdom. I tell you there is none other and shall never be one other than who I am and shall be for all eternity.

God bless you beloved souls. God bless you with a great inflowing of His Love that He may give you and empower you with the knowings of your soul, to know the truth, that you may live the truth and be the truth. God bless you. I am Jesus and I love you. God bless you.

Personal Message for Michael (Isaiah)

Title: Personal Message for Michael Spirit: Isaiah
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 27, 2018
Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

May your souls awaken, your eyes open to truth, your hearts fill with love, your minds clear and become receptive to the Will of God, for now is the time to activate the powers of your souls. As God activates your soul with His Love, so you must allow this flow of love and wisdom, these gifts of healing and insight to manifest within your consciousness awakened in love, stirred by God's touch, filled with the glory and wonderment and power of God's presence in your life.

My beloved son Michael, I have come to bring you a blessing and a message. Your soul is filled with light, my beloved brother, you have a deep understanding of God and many gifts. Many gifts that you do not recognize nor acknowledge as you are a humble man, a simple man, a man of God. In times to come you will find that God will use your gifts and will guide you forward to bring many blessings to others. Your gift of healing, of wisdom, the strength of love within you, will touch many souls and together with your beloved mate, you will bring such light into the midst of your circles and efforts and relationships in this world that many will be drawn to it. Ask to be used, beloved son, as a channel of His Love. Speak up with words that ring of loving care and gracious truth which will penetrate the ears of your friends and people that come to your home. Though you may sit in silence and emanate love, and this will indeed bless many, there is greater work for you my son, greater things that God has in store. For you are truly gifted and you have a strong soul, one of light, one that can truly discern truth. Speak your truth beloved son, bring your light forward as you embrace your brothers and sisters. Share with them your insights and your knowledge.

As you have tended to your fields and the beasts of your fields, you have forged a deep connection with your Creator. As you have lived your life with deep integrity and love, you have garnered the blessings of God and God prepares each of his children who are receptive and willing to serve and love, so you have been prepared my son. In this last chapter of your life, may there be many blessings given and received through your beautiful channel and beautiful soul. Much awaits you my son, as it does the dear daughter. In this work you will see, as the doors fly open and the beautiful souls enter, eager and receptive to receive the blessings. Your strength is palpable, your light is beautiful, your gifts are on the edge of expression in pure and beautiful ways. You are blessed my son and I come to bless you and acknowledge you for a life lived in light, for a journey that has brought much truth and love to you, my son. You are a beautiful soul and it continues to awaken to truth and you will feel the joy and upliftment of God's presence in your life. His gifts are abundant, His Love is endless, His Light is powerful. Drink and absorb these blessings my son. Acknowledge your true self and the true worth of your soul, for you are indeed one of God's children.

Blessed are you my beloved, beloved children, souls of God, harbingers of truth. Awaken, awaken and see the truth of your wonderful selves in the Light of God and His Love. As God uplifts you, releases your burdens and replaces them with love and peace, a peace beyond understanding, the love endless, the light, the light of His Presence with you, you are blessed, beloved souls. You are blessed. I am Isaiah, and I have come a long way to be with you, beautiful lights, and assure you that God has you well within his fold and shall guide you and spread His Light all about you. God bless you, God bless you beloveds.

Portal of Light Established in Fitzroy Falls (Seretta Kem)

Title: Portal of Light Established in Fitzroy Falls
Spirit: Seretta Kem
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 27, 2018
Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

I have come to speak of the portal of light that has been established in this room. It is why you have come together, my beloved friends, to establish this blessed tool of communication, a channel that reaches far into the world of spirit to the seventh sphere. This opening has been awakened by God's Touch, with His holy blessing upon this gift. These portals continue to be established as part of God's plan for the salvation of mankind. So, my beloved souls, you have been gifted something that is very important, even vital, in bringing of blessed energies forth in your part of this world and you already have a sense of the responsibility of this blessed gift. To nurture it does not require great sacrifice, but it does require your prayers and an effort to establish within your consciousness this presence, so that you may continue to assist in its activations. With this gift, many blessings, outpourings of blessed energies may come through and flow through you and to you, this place, those who gather together in Circles of Light, even as you pray individually and ask for blessings for this world, so you activate the laws that activate this portal.

This beautiful gift will bring many blessings to you, my beloved friends. It is a result of your prayers and your efforts to serve God and God sees the light in your souls. He knows your inner hearts and has entrusted you with this gift. So, many surprising blessings come as your souls awaken in love, as you begin to recognize your true and blessed selves. Be joyed, my friends. Be joyed at your beautiful lights and gifts and life upon this world, that God has given you much and will continue to do so. As you reach ever further into the light and truth and love, recognize the beauty of your own souls and the power of your souls to bring such gifts forth through your longings, the power of the light within. As you continue to pray and ask to be guided and shown the way of your path blessed by God, allow these things to come to your consciousness. Release any anxieties or sense of unworthiness or inadequacies. Know that all that you require is within your souls and it is in your efforts and prayers to align your souls with God that the truth will be revealed. Your gifts and insights will come and you will know deep and lasting joy and fulfillment in these years of your life that will be spent in service and love.

Draw the light to you with every breath. Allow the blessings of God which are great and abundant, to flow to you. Let down your guard and be that innocent child that is nurtured by the Father and Source of all.

God bless you my friends. I am Seretta Kem and I have assisted in the establishment of this portal and gift to you. May I come another day and speak to you about many things in regards to your gifts and what may flow through you, beloved souls. For you have many gifts, many unknown potentials, many things within your soul to be awakened, and it is the responsibility and blessing of many of us to help assist you in this awakening of gifts. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls. Seretta Kem is at your service. God bless you.

Truth Comes from the Soul (Augustine)

Title: Truth Comes from the Soul
Spirit: Augustine
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 28, 2018
Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

I see that you have had a lively discussion this morning. One rather controversial in nature. One that has ruffled the feathers of a few, maybe even caused the clouds to collide to make thunder (laughter). My dearly beloved brothers and sisters, you must realize that the multitude of spirits in the spirit world is vast and complex. Within that complexity are a great deal of perspectives and what you would call realities because the mind is a powerful tool that is expressed more readily within the world of spirit creating these realities which many spirits abide by and live within, and believe that they have found truth. Indeed, they have found a truth that they have created of themselves and made a world real and substantial through their own creation.

You do not fully understand the power of your minds, the power of thought, the power of creation that you all possess. This is why in your world there are so many renditions of truth, because these spirits, fully in compliance with their concept of truth of which they own a part, believe that they have found the complete truth or at least a substantial part of it. Keep this in mind my friends if you continue to engage with many others, many who seek truth and have in their own way come to believe that they have found substantial truth. What you know within your souls, beloved friends, is the truth that comes with a knowing from the soul, not a knowing from the mind. This is your signal to assess what another has said. If it resonates within your soul, there is a familiar feeling, a gift that God has given you to know and sense that what you have taken into your mind through words and conversation, ideas and possibly experiences in prayer, rings of truth. If it does not ring of truth, it is not necessarily that your minds have blocked the truth. It is that your souls have recognized an untruth with the idea and knowing that truth is an expanding understanding. As your souls grow in the Father's Love, as you awaken in this Love, so truth is able to be received, not from the mind, and I stress this again my friends, not from the mind, at least the material mind, but from the mind of the soul. With each individual in their journey towards truth and understanding, the mind of the soul awakens and is able to grasp truth in a wholly different way than the material mind is able.

The mind of the soul absorbs truth. It does not work diligently to construct complex concepts and ideas of what it considers reality. This is how the mind operates. Instead, the mind of the soul absorbs truth as a blessing that comes as you receive more of the Father's Love. It awakens truth as your capacity to understand and to know truth is awakened by this gift of Divine Love. So, you may converse and express your mental ideas, concepts of truth ad infinitum, but I tell you my friends, this does not add to your soul as the gift from God and His Love adds to your soul with many truths and awakenings and knowings.

So, my friends, I do not discourage you to converse, to read, to consider expressions and ideas of another, but I tell you, take it to your soul. Come to know that familiar feeling and knowing from within that will affirm a truth that the mind may be speculating upon. You are mature enough within your soul, each one of you here, to understand that there is a greater reality within God and God's creation. He has given you the faculties within you, within your soul, to come to know truth in all its wonderment and beauty, power and glory. This can only grow as your souls awaken in Love. In time, you will not seek truth from others. You may take a book into your hand and know just from holding it whether it contains truth. You may read a phrase from an unexpected source and recognize "this is truth". But most of all, in your prayers with your Heavenly Father, you will be fed truth, in copious amounts, if you are open to it and aligned with your souls to God. These things will come and flow in joyful, loving, living waters that wash over your consciousness and bring to you deep, deep insights into the reality of God's creation. You must pray for this, beloveds. Ask for the faculties of your souls be opened in such ways that the truth will not remain a mystery and truth will not be a thing of speculation, it will be a reality of the soul. As you awaken within your soul, so this reality will grow and bring more and more of God's Truth, the reality of His creation, the reality of Love of which you seek and know.

God desires to give you all that you require and all that you desire upon your spiritual journey and quest for at-onement. So, it will be as you continue to acknowledge the beginning of all quests of the soul which is to open the soul to the inflowing of the great and transformative blessings of the Divine Essence. This is your path, beloved souls, and there is no need for other investigations, though God will never prevent you from such and we would never prevent you from such journeys of the mind. But I tell you, as I have told you before, that all truth comes from the soul.

The truth of the mind is fluid, changes, is impetuous and not reliable, though indeed the mind craves and longs to be filled and secured in a solid foundation of what it calls truth in order to substantiate its ideas and longings of existence. You see, your minds have a great longing to know, to recognize their own existence, to feel alive within this material plane. This is not a sin. This is how God has created you. But you must realize, and surely you realize, that there are other levels of wisdom and knowledge within you. Your sincere desire is to awaken these things within you so that the material mind and the mind of the soul may collaborate and come to an understanding, a harmony, an integration so that you may express truth in this material world, for you must use your faculties of language and reason in order to do so. Yet, the foundation of your discourse and expression must always be in that core place of your being that knows, that is speaking truth, that recognizes that what you say is in some way a reflection of truth. Indeed, that is refined as you progress and the language that you may use and concepts you may have in this conscious part of yourself will evolve and change and be highly influenced by the awareness of the soul as you continue upon this journey of awakening, of knowing, of recognizing the blessings of truth.

Beloved souls, you are still babes in the woods in this regard. Do not consider yourself an authority for you are not. You have not the faculties and abilities at this time that are in such alignment with God and with your own selves that is capable of expressing complex truth. Humility is important my beloved friends, humility and a deep understanding that the reality of God is merely a pale reflection within your consciousness compared to its true self. You continue upon that road of awakening and will someday come to a place of deep wisdom and knowing. But until that day, hold on to those truths that you know, and you know that you know, and release all else that you may speculate upon, for this does not assist you upon your journey for truth, nor will it enhance your efforts to bring truth to humanity.

Yes, it is a simple path, is it not? It is not adorned with many complex ideas and this is for a reason. For until all is predicated upon love, awakened in love, and reflection of love, you cannot venture into these more complex arenas with confidence or with a clear understanding of what this is. So, God encourages you upon a simple path as do we, so that you may truly absorb these things and live these truths. This is all that is asked of you. This is all that is required of you.

Indeed, many of you are challenged by the power of your own mind that is engaged in speculation almost compulsively. In this we have deep compassion for you, my beloved friends. For we have tamed our minds long ago, but we have walked the same path. We have been human and realize the challenges of being human and so we see your progress. We recognize the milestones, the shifts and the changes, as you continue to venture towards the awakening of your souls in Love. At times, we come to remind you, as I do now, of what these challenges are and how the conditions of this world and the insistence of this world has upon the power of the mind, the mental condition which continues to press upon you and at times distract you.

I say to you, as I say to all dilemmas of those in the material world, pray, pray, and pray. Allow God to continue to help you establish a relationship with Him. This will awaken your soul, bit by bit, day by day and this is the source of truth. This is the path of truth. This is the way to truth. And it comes. It is infilling your soul at this very moment. It comes with faith and trust, patience and persistence. You will walk upon this path and find jewels of truth beyond price, jewels of understanding that cannot possibly come from the material mind but will come with the awakenings of your soul.

Allow this to come to you, beloved souls. Continue to pray for the inflowing of this wondrous blessing of the Father's Love and you will find what you are looking for. Even your minds will feel satisfied with the great, bounteous meal that the Father offers you that is filled with kernels upon kernels of truth. God does not deprive you of anything, my beloved souls. God continues to nourish you and awaken you. There is no need to feel inadequate. Even the hungering of your mind may be acquiesced by the peace within your soul. Continue beloved souls upon your quest for Love and awakening, truth and joy and all will flow in accordance to your desires, your true desires that come from your soul.

God bless you, my beloveds. I am your teacher Augustine and I will continue to bring some measure of truth to you as you are able to open yourselves and receive these gifts. God bless you. My love is with you. You know I am never far away and I am here to support and guide you as are many of my friends in the Celestial Kingdom. God bless you. God loves you, beloveds. God loves you. God bless you.

A Blessing (Jesus)

Title: A Blessing
Spirit: Jesus
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 29, 2018
Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

I am Jesus. What a gift it is that I am able to come to my brothers and sisters in this world of darkness, who have great need and desire to bring Light within themselves and Light into this world. Those who follow this path of Love are my disciples and I shall ensure that their path in life is lit, that you may walk upon the path of Truth. I will lead you thus towards the at-onement with God, the awakening of your souls, the upliftment into Light. My blessings are upon you, beloved souls. My blessings are upon you. You are my brothers and sisters, part of my family.

God bless you. God bless you.

Importance of Circles of Light (Luke)

Title: The Importance of Circles of Light
Spirit: Luke
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 29, 2018
Location: Fitzroy Falls, Australia

I am Luke and I wish to speak to you about the importance of the Circles of Light. These prayer circles that focus upon receiving the blessings of the Father's Love are intended to spread and multiply in the world, and for each circle that is established God has sent special angels to bring powerful blessings to that group of earth souls. So, I wish to reassure you beloveds that even if you sit with two others in a Circle of Light, you will receive powerful blessings from God and to complete your circle, the angels will hold hands with you forming a Circle of Light.

The power of a circle, a circle that draws God's blessings into its midst, may accomplish many things, many blessings that will afford a great channel of light into this world of yours and this channel of light will benefit not only those of you who are mortals, but those in spirit as well. For the light that is created through these efforts may be seen far and wide in the world of spirit and bring a curiosity and attention to this light. For it is far brighter than any energy and light that one may see on this earth plane in any great measure. This brings the attention of those who are in the lower spheres and thus, the angels may use you to help draw in lost souls on both sides of the veil to assist them in their efforts and struggles towards light.

Truth may be spoken in this circle and truth is a catalyst for change within the mind and the soul. Love pours into this circle which uplifts all who are present, and those who indeed follow the way to receive this Love and indeed benefit from increased quantities and blessings of this Love while in prayer. Healing comes as one prays in the Circle of Light. Healing of the heart, healing of the body, many aspects of healing are available in these circles and it is our desire to build Portals of Light wherever there is the possibility of sustaining this condition and this facility to bring greater blessings forth in your world. Yes, there is a great effort in your world to increase the light and God reaches out to His many beautiful children whose souls have a deep desire to serve in this way, to be in this light, to receive this blessing that is of the Father, His Love.

And so these circles will grow, you will be guided to many others who will request that you assist them in establishing these circles, and as these beautiful souls have gathered in this place for this purpose and God provides the ways and means, inspiring the opportunity to facilitate the opening of these blessed Circles of Light. When a portal is established within these circles, you may refer to them as Centres of Light and thus we have created through your efforts and ours and through God's blessing upon it, a beautiful Centre of Light in this place and this will draw in many. Though there may be few in numbers who come in relation to the many spirits who are present, it serves its purpose and function on many different levels and in many different ways bringing blessings, bringing the change that is required to uplift this world.

Do not underestimate what may be accomplished, the power of such a circle and place of light, as its effects may be far beyond what you may comprehend or acknowledge with your somewhat limited perceptions. This beautiful gift, this beautiful light, this beautiful circle, is part of God's plan for the salvation for mankind and it is in your humble and consistent efforts in bringing the gift of light and love, healing and peace to this place that expands out in waves in the world, touching many souls, awakening a powerful signal in the souls of your world. The bell is tolled with your prayers and your efforts beseeching humanity to awaken to know the truth of their own beings, awakening the possibilities of the soul and their relationship with the Heavenly Father.

Though many within their minds cannot comprehend or accept these simple truths, within their souls there is a resonance and awakening of sorts and yes, each soul must choose, each soul has the opportunity to step forward in this truth or not. The purpose that you carry is to assist God in showing each soul the choice that they have, the path that they may walk upon to their eventual purification or eternal progress.

So, my beloved friends who continue to work in the flow of the Father's Will and plan, I say to you, you are richly blessed and shall be richly blessed as you carry on in this effort to awaken mankind. To help them to see beyond their limited vision to the possibilities that await them growing their souls in light. And yes, you each humbly step forward and say I am willing, I am willing to serve in this way and the light that is within your souls compel you to do so and there is a sense of joy and knowing that this is truly serving God and this can only grow and expand as your souls grow and expand in Love.

You will establish a powerful legacy of light that will open to many other souls even beyond that time that you spend upon this earth. The light will reverberate. The truth will continue. The awakenings will grow and expand and encircle this earth.

The Father's plan for the salvation of humanity is in motion and you are a part of this, you play your part, you have opened the door that will allow the energies, blessings, actions, outcomes, awakenings, joy, and many other blessings to manifest in your lives and manifest in this circle. I assure you my beloved, beloved friends that every effort you make in this regard will have an effect in your world. An effect that shall ignite other responses and actions that will increase light, that will bring the desired outcomes that God has ordained in His Love. Every drop into the pond will increase its volume. Drop by drop, you and many others continue to add light and blessings to this world until the whole world is flooded in light.

Yes, it is incremental, and it is slow and at times you find it tedious, but it continues to have its effects in establishing the foundation of truth in your world. I wish you could have the vision that we have in order to see this bigger picture, this higher perspective, then you would not doubt, nor would you be anxious as to the pace and tempo of your work. For you are indeed establishing something truly beautiful and powerful with its effects to bring good to this world and this is where your faith and trust in God continues to motivate you in your efforts and your faith builds as the love within builds, as your efforts build, as the response comes, as the light grows, as the plan continues to unfold.

Be at peace my beloved friends and know that you step upon the path that is intended, and you will continue to walk along this path, protected, blessed and guided. It continues to unfold day by day and you continue to grow day by day and all is in the flow of life, God's great blessing of life that He has given all of us.

May your life continue to expand in many different ways and directions, blessings and surprises as you awaken in Love. God bless you beloveds. I am Luke and I love you beautiful brothers and sisters in your world. God bless you. God bless you.

Prayer to Change the World (Abdul Latif)

Title: Prayer to Change the World
Spirit: Abdul Latif
Medium: Al Fike
Location: Fitzroy Falls Australia
Date: November 29, 2018

I am Abdul Latif and I am inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom and I once lived in that part of the world from which you come, beloved daughter. And I wish to tell you that God is everywhere. His blessings are available to every soul who seeks these blessings. But God cannot contravene the gift of free will and thus you cannot expect God to orchestrate every part of your life and the lives of those around you and the lives of those in various countries of your world. This cannot happen. This contravenes the laws that God has set into motion from the very beginning of time, but you may ask for intervention. You may pray that blessings may come to those you pray for and can change the events of the world.

How strong is your prayer, my beloved friends? How strong is your concern for your brothers and sisters in the world and what do you pray for? How do you expect God to intervene? What are your concerns? And will your prayers bring greater harmony and love to the world? Your vision is limited. For those of you who walk this world, it is very hard to see the truth. One must come close to God to seek the blessings of God, to seek the great blessing of His Love, to open up those faculties and capacities of the soul.

With this comes the wisdom and the power to bring change to the world. So many try to intervene with the power of their minds, the power of their ideas, and their assumptions of what is right, what is of God. What I say to you my friends is that you cannot know the wise choice unless you know the wisdom within you that comes with love. Foremost you must come with peace in your heart, for if you pray in anger and fear, concern and indignation, your prayers only go as high as your breath. You must pray with love. Seek the Wisdom of God within your hearts. Know the Truth of God within your soul. Know the Will of God in your mind.

Without this deep wisdom and love, all actions and efforts to change the outcomes of the great flow of humanity will more often than not create greater problems and responses and reactions that do not quell the troubled waters but inflame the troubled hearts of humanity.

So I would say that you cannot know what it is to pray for until you know your own heart and know your own soul in relationship with your Creator. Otherwise, you cast your intentions to the wind. Neither heard by God nor will it bring any satisfaction to that deep part of yourselves. It is merely the words and understandings of the mind that knows, in truth, very little other than that which is within the minds of humanity and this is often untruth, distortion, confusion, and a lack of love.

You see, to be an agent of change in the world, one must change within to carry a deep love and compassion for humanity. In this way you will understand the Will of God and in this way, you will understand what it is that humanity needs so that you may pray with the intentions and desires that are in harmony with love and truth.

This is why humanity is lost. This is why so much in your world is in chaos, confusion, pain, suffering and unrest where peace does not reign, love does not flourish, life is not uplifted and strengthened. The minds of men, the understandings of humanity, the weakness of the human heart corrupted and damaged by pain and material desire cannot see through the darkness and clouds of the human condition and reach God. Though this is a possibility, the penitent hearts, the heart of those who cry out to God will be heard and there is always a response but one cannot expect an outcome that is obvious to those who pray. At times this can be but most often, wheels are set in motion that may not come to their endpoint quickly, even within a lifetime.

Prayer is like that. It adds a stream of possibility into the mix and currents of the human condition. This stream may be nurtured by God as you continue in your prayers and seek to add to the intention, to the light, to the healing balm that God places upon whatever it is that you have prayed for. Prayer is like that. It is often illusive and unclear, but for those who are truly prayerful, to engage in prayer is an act of faith, trusting that God's Will be done, that there will be a solution, a healing, an awakening.

And so my friends, you may pray for the world and I would encourage you to do so. But think of your intentions, what it is that you desire. What are you projecting upon your prayer to God? This is important and vital in the utilization of the laws of God to bring change and healing to the world. Prayer is powerful. Prayer can bring change. Prayer can bring solutions. Prayer can heal. Prayer can bring revelations, wisdom, and the blessing of Love.

Pray, my beloved friends. Pray with wisdom. Pray with pure desire. Pray with love and God will hear your prayers and carry through in some way, an answer, a solution, a way to bring whatever condition it may be to harmony.

Beloved friends, it is good that you pray. It is good that you desire for the highest and the greatest good for humanity. The world needs more who are willing to pray in this way. For this will bring light and comfort, healing, peace, love, harmony. And so you continue to work for God in your prayers and your actions and may God guide you thus. May God guide you to greater light and love and may you carry a light with you wherever you go so that in any circumstance you may be an active agent of God, a channel of His Love. This can be and this will bring change. You may be used to answer prayer as God's active agents. There are many possibilities for a soul that is in harmony with God and seeks for the highest and may receive this gift of Love, the Divine Love that will bring the awakenings and openings of the soul and thus bring great wisdom, powerful messages to God through prayer.

God bless you, beloved souls, I am Abdullah and I'm happy to be with you today. Abdul Latif is my name and I lived in the Middle East many, many years ago. I was a philosopher, a teacher, a mathematician, and had some influence in the courts and powers that be in these lands. God bless you. God bless you. My love is with you, beloved friends. God bless you.

Yes, I wish to assure you, that you will indeed meet again and again and again despite the distances. They will be overcome. With the building of this love bond between you, there really is no distance. Love conquers all, my friends. Love brings many possibilities forward and you will see as time progresses that your lives will criss-cross, that your circles will grow, that your lives will expand into many possibilities and guided directions. You only begin my friends, begin the magnificent journey of service and of assisting many souls to Truth. God will bring many blessings and manifestations forth in your lives that will assure the lost and seeking souls that what you carry is true and will bring them to God. So much, so much awaits each one of you. May you continue upon the path that God has directed you. May you carry the Truth wherever you go, as the light that shines within your souls and a Truth that is clear within your minds, and an expression that reflects light and harmony and love. In this way, you do the Father's work. In this way, you will find your way through whatever obstructions may try to inhibit your progression and expression of Love. May God bless you upon that journey. We are with you. Many are with you my friends. This is God's gift to all children upon your world who are dedicated to the Truth. They are assisted by the angels, of that you can be assured my friends, that you are never alone and that all your needs that are in harmony with God's Will and His laws will be attended to. Thank you, beloved friends, for making this effort to come together.

Thank you, my friend Susan, for your efforts to assist these dear souls and make them welcome in your home. Your light and love shine with everything that you do and are, and this light is beautiful. My son (M) who is my name sake, may you continue to be blessed and awakened in the Father's Love. Your quiet and gentle support is a beautiful light, it brings comfort, it puts all who are in your stead at ease, a gentle peace that comes with your presence. Blessed are you both in your lives and may you continue to be those channels of Light and Love, that God's Love may continue to flow through you touching many souls.

You (G), beloved brother, have a great strength. May you continue to find your way to your soul, this great desire of yours, for your soul to be awakened, for this new reality to be your guiding light in life. You are well on your way, my brother. You will find your way and remember that the Truth is often very different from that which you project within your mind. I suggest that you be open and willing to accept the Truth as God presents it to you, not within your mind but within your soul, and in this way you will find the deep satisfaction and knowing that you seek so diligently. Allow the mind to relax and be a part of the experience of the soul. In this way you will find your way more quickly upon this path. I know that you recognize that which I speak of and know this to be a Truth. Continue to practice in your prayers and your efforts to awaken with the diligence of your soul and the acquiescence of your mind and we will continue to help you upon this journey, my beloved friend. God bless you.

Blessed soul (J), the holy one (laughter), as you refer to yourself in jest. Indeed, you are a holy one for you have found the holy blessing of the Father's Love and it rests so firmly within your soul. It is bright and beautiful, and yes you are on the verge of many travels and connections with many souls. You have come to that place where you are willing to release your attachments to the old and to that which is of comfort to you and yet may not be a part of God's plan for you. Very few are willing to step forward in this way my son, and yet you pray for this and long for this. The wisdom of your soul shines forth in your mind and yet there are still vestiges of fear and anxiety. This will go, this will fall away as you make that tentative step forward. You will see, doorways are opening, the path comes clear and the Truth will indeed set you free. My beloved friend, you are deeply blessed within your soul and have many gifts to share with the world. Walk with your head up high, with your confidence and trust in the Will of God and His designs upon your life and your service in love. You will find your way quite easily. It will not be confusing and as you are attuned to the timing of this outflowing, a purposeful service in the world, all will be well my friend, all will be well.

Yes, I wish to speak to this instrument (A). He must recognize the gift that God has given him and acknowledge that what he carries is a great treasure that may enlighten many people. Though he moves with humility and at times reluctance, he has a great light within his soul and carries a wisdom and strength that God may use effectively in this world. There are those that gather about him who are given as a gift from God to strengthen him and support him. He needs to accept what is given without a sense that he is unworthy. For in God's Love and way in the world, do you not all support one another with the gifts that you have, do you not all give in love? Each who receives must receive fully in love and he who gives must give fully in love and in this great exchange of love, of support, of community, of fellowship, there is a great strength, a great strength that is established. So, that when the tides of negativity wash and try to dash away the light that you carry, your friends, your loved ones, your fellows in love, will be there to stand with you strong and steadfast in the Truth. For each of you recognizes one another and sees the Light, knowing that the Truth of God's Love resides within your souls. Though you be different in your perspectives, in your lives, there is this commonality of the soul that is your strength and your truth.

You are children of God and you walk in the light of God's Touch, His grace, His Love. This is your strength, this is your truth and this shall carry you far. Each one of you will be carried upon this great and beautiful flow of God's river of Love. Is this not a great blessing that you can share this with your beautiful friends? For when you look within each other's eyes, do you not see that they know and you know, that you are truly loved by God and you carry His Love within?

Blessings to you my friends, blessings, peace to you my friends and may the Father's Love continue to flow into your souls in ever greater abundance, awakening and showing the way. We love you, we love you. Your friends in the Celestial Kingdom are always by your side and we love you. God bless you beloved souls. I am Michael and indeed I love you. God bless you.

Guidance on Writing a New Book (Andrew)

Title: Guidance on Writing a New Book
Spirit: Andrew
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 29, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

I wish to call in on your project of this book. Might I suggest that although you plan to present excerpts from the messages received through this dear instrument, that in some place, possibly in the back of the book, you may have the full transcript of the messages. I know this adds more volume to the book, but those who read will be interested in reading the entire transcript. It does give some providence to the messages or portions thereof that you will add to your writings. It would be advisable that this instrument write the book with the assistance of your research, finding relevant material. We are pleased that you are willing to collaborate and put this series of teachings into a book that may be read, that those souls who are curious indeed, may glean deeper knowledge and relevant information regarding the process of soul awakening and transformation through Divine Love.

There are many such messages available. Do not restrict yourself to a particular year or few years of transmission, for there are some very valuable messages that have been given for the last several years. We will assist and inspire you upon this project. You will feel upliftment. You will feel our presence as you engage in this work and it will go quicker than you think, my beloved brothers. For this book will actually become a series of books as time goes on. These relevant and beautiful messages will be collected and shared in book form, creating a beautiful legacy of all of your collective efforts and prayers. You will see, it will flow and not be a burden but a joy. Ask for guidance, beloveds, as you work and toil to bring this effort to fruition and we will assist you. You will be blessed with insight. You will come upon a message that may surprise you with its clarity and wisdom.

May God bless you in this work, beloved souls, as you continue to seek more ways to reach the souls of those who are eager and curious and longing for truth. So, God will work in many ways, many ways, to bring truth to mankind. God bless you. I am Andrew. God bless you.

2018-11-29-AF-Andrew Challenging Earth Changes Bring Light and Harmony to Humanity (Augustine)

Title: Challenging Earth Changes Bring Light and Harmony to Humanity
Spirit: Augustine
Medium: Al Fike
Date: November 29, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

I am Augustine. You know no true adversity, beloveds. Your life is well insulated from true adversity. You want for nothing. You have all that you require to be in God's grace. You are comfortable in your lives. Though there are imperfections, some difficulties and some challenges, compared to many in your world you live a life that is ideal. At times, we who are in charge of your progression and work and soul awakening worry that when true adversity comes your way, that you are strong enough to hold firm against the onslaught of the chaotic world in which you live.

It is human to crave comfort and ease, and to seek to fulfill the needs and desires that you have. We would not deny you your comforts, beloved souls. But there will come a time when this world will be incapable of supplying such richness of experience and comfort and ease. For in the transition that is coming, there will be challenges. What is easy today will not be so in the future. We hope that you will not be disillusioned by these challenges and be strong enough to go to God to receive what you require – the strengthening, the peace and the love that will assist you in navigating through the chaos of the world.

Your lives are rich, beloveds. You have such ease of travel, such wonderful foods, shelter and comforts available to you. Of course, all these things come at a price. As you well know, the price that humanity is paying for its indulgences in the luxuries of life is the degradation of your planet. God's creation suffers as you continue to consume and seek out the fulfillment of your material needs and desires. I know you see this inequity in the world. I know you understand that things cannot continue to function as they are. I say to you, beloved souls, that the time is coming when all the structures of man, so intricately put into place to insulate you from the harshness of life, will crumble and not be of great use to you. This I'm sure brings fear into your heart, a sense of concern. For each of you is invested in having lives that are comfortable and secure.

I cannot tell you that you will be immune from the consequences of earthly changes, for no one will be immune. No one will be able to carry on as they have in such extremes of materialism that are out of harmony with the laws of God's creation. This is not so much your conscious doing, this condition of imbalance, rather it is the collective consequence of all the souls who inhabit your world, each needing from the world, each taking from the world. It is indeed a dilemma, one which you cannot solve, nor could the mass of humanity solve. But it is God's intention to solve this situation. For harmony must be attained in order to sustain this world.

There will never be perfect harmony in your world. It is too dynamic for such things. There is too much at play for the world to come to a place of complete harmony. But there are great forces at work that will bring into play the energies and shifts and conditions in your world that will bring a semblance of balance and harmony.

This is God's work, beloveds, his plan for the salvation of mankind. It plays out at this very moment as you continue to experience conditions and situations in your world that grab your attention, that are overtly dramatic as your world is in a tumult and continues to be unpredictable compared to years past. This will intensify, these situations, these calamities of the weather, of the earth and the air and of the waters as you continue to add and add elements that are not in harmony with nature. So there is a response and a reaction, bringing fires and floods, rumblings of the earth. So this will continue and, in time, will wipe away these structures of men, designed to feed their greed rather than bring all that is required for the harmony of existence of life in your world. But in time, harmony will be struck.

You will see and experience and witness in your own life time, a miracle of the transformation of your world, into greater light and harmony. It will not come in an instant, easily attained. No, there will be consequences and struggles. That which man relied on for so long, bringing you comfort, may be nonexistent in the future. But in its place will come a simpler life, a life in which your needs will be met and your spiritual condition will be of a greater magnitude and harmony, bringing less of a need for the distractions and comforts of this world. For you will be in harmony with God and know and feel and experience a sense of peace, deep peace.

Your physical discomforts and problems will be transformed by this light. Much of what you suffer now will be released and replaced by a body that is more in harmony with God's creation. A spirituality which will be deep and constant in your life, a sense of your relationship with God, will be more intense and love will flow. So though you may release much of your needs for the material, it will be replaced by these deep and beautiful blessings from God.

Unfortunately, many will not accept this gift and release their hold upon their need for power and the material. These lost souls will not survive these changes in the world. This is why we are working so diligently with you, my friends, to put the word into the minds of as many as possible, that changes are coming, that God is peeling the bells that will awaken humankind and be given a choice to step towards light or transition to the world of spirit. These are serious matters, I know, and we have touched upon this many times. We continue to reiterate this call for greater light and for you to be strengthened and of greater faith so that you may indeed not only secure for yourself a life that is viable in a new world, but also to teach and show others the way to God.

Yes, much is given to you, my beloved friends. So much is given in love, to help to awaken your gifts, your souls. This is not only for your benefit, but for the benefit of many others who will look towards you, beloved souls. Where much is given, much is expected. Do not assume that you may sidestep these difficult transitions in your world. Be aware that God will guide you, that God will protect you from the worst of these things, provided you are of great faith and trust. Understand that these things bring forth the awakening of humanity and the healing of your world.

The power of God's touch upon your world is immense. It grows with each day. It brings the power necessary for this transformation to take place. You feel a sense, a disconnection with the world at times, as those things that were so important to you in the past are no longer of such importance. This is because God is helping you to detach from these old ideas, concepts, perceptions and habits so that you may be strong enough to enter into this new situation without much anguish and pain. Allow this to be. Accept this new perspective. Be close to God. Continue in your prayers. Continue to awaken in your souls and to know the power of God's Love which, in itself, brings such powerful transformation. So all will change and grow and evolve in this light of God's touch upon the earth. You will find your way, my friends. You will find your way.

There is nothing to fear. Rather, a sense of gratitude, rejoicing in the healing of your world through love, and a reorganization of your priorities and sense of what is important. That someday soon your world will be based upon the currency of love, that you will all help one another in this world, and that God will guide you to the resources, what you require and need to be in harmony with His laws and to exist upon this world.

Much will be changing, beloved friends. Much is changing. You must change with it and awaken to receive the dawning new age of light. Consider these things, my friends. Consider how you may step forward in your world in harmony and peace, in love and joy.

God bless you, beloved souls, I am your teacher Augustine. I am with you. I am very close, as are many angels that will assist you in your efforts to come closer to God and be in greater harmony with His laws of Love and creation. God bless you, God bless you.

Focus of Prayer and Way to Soul Awakening (Andrew)

Title: Focus of Prayer and Way to Soul Awakening
Spirit: Andrew
Medium: Al Fike
Date: December 1, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

I am Andrew. I urge you to continue to pray fervently for the Father's Love, not that you may obtain certain material results through prayer, that God may usher you into foreign lands, that God may bring you certain gifts of insight and wisdom. No, my beloveds, this is not the focus of prayer. The focus of prayer is to receive the inflowing of the Father's Love that your souls may grow accordingly in this Love. And all that you pray for, indeed these desires within your hearts, will come and flow from this singular prayer to receive the gift of the Father's Love within your souls.

In this awakening will come guidance, clarity, insight, soul perceptions, the awakening of the many faculties of the soul. In you is a deep longing my brothers to serve God, that your service may be predicated upon certain ideas, desires, concepts that may bring you to effective service. Beloved brothers, there is one important, crucial focus, and that is to receive the Father's Love within your souls. In this way, all unfolds in harmony with God's Will. Surprising aspects and gifts within you will emerge organically from this process of awakening. As these things within you awaken, the next steps become clear. And yet you are anxious. You are anxious to see results, to have what you perceive as effective outcomes to your instrumentality in service to God and may come to be in short order.

Beloved souls, this is not how the soul awakens. The many chambers within your soul are awakened not in what you may consider a logical pattern, but somewhat randomly. Thus, we must wait for these chambers, like the many seeds in a sunflower, to open and be claimed by God. This does indeed take time, and it is reliant upon your efforts of prayer. You cannot rush this process of awakening. It must happen in conjunction and harmony with the laws of God's Love. You have come to know some of these chambers within you, but there are many more and that core of light that is being built by the inflow of the Father's Love continues to grow. Its warmth continues to open these chambers, and within, that which is not of Love, continues to flow and be expelled upwards.

The mind is anxious to move forward. It is a reflection of your humanity and your desire to serve. You feel that the time is short, and that you must act. This is not altogether untrue, but the time is becoming short, as the power of the changes coming to this world intensifies. In the coming year there will be much evidence of these changes. There will be many storms, movements of the earth, unusual climatic outcomes, shifts in the crust of the earth. Species will continue to be removed from this planet. The pressure builds in nature's attempts to push aside the condition of humanity in its powerful corruption of the earth. This will continue, and I understand your anxiousness my brothers. Your sense of duty is calling you to set forth in the world and bring this Truth of the Father's Love, and I do not discourage you to do so. I merely wish for you to understand that the awakening of your soul is a complicated matter requiring great and deep commitment, intense prayer, allowing this awakening to occur so that all the chambers within will awaken.

You cannot carry error within you my brothers. You must allow the inflow, the cleansing of your soul to continue and to intensify. Just as this world is experiencing a great shift, so your souls too are experiencing a transition to Light, a deep awakening. And yes, I know you wish to have your question answered, "How long will this take? How long must I wait? How long 'til I engage in that promised flow of work, bringing the Truth to mankind?" In the measure of things, I would tell you my sons, the time is fast approaching. There is not much time at all, and there is no time to waste. Yet, your vision, your ideas of what God calls upon you to do, your place within His great plan for the salvation of mankind will be much different from your ideas and your fantasies of what true soul awakening is.

You see, you are like a flower in bud becoming, you cannot even tell the color that is coming, let alone the shape and texture of the petals that unfold. Yet within the sun of God's Love comes this awakening and this unfolding comes quickly, surprisingly, joyfully. If you think of your soul as a potted flower which you take indoors, and then when that warm sun glows, you put it within its rays, so it is your efforts, consistent efforts, to bring that flower into the sun and warmth, to tend to that flower which is your soul, to love that flower with joyful anticipation of what is to come. You have a great responsibility to awaken in that warmth and Light of the Father's Love. Caring for your soul is not complex. It is simple, but requires dedication and time to focus, to awaken, to put aside those distractions that keep you from this and be in the flow, to be in the Light.

God gives you these blessings without restriction as long as you comply by the laws and hold them willingly, and allow that which is not in harmony with Love to fall away. Much of your energy goes to resisting those things within you that are not in alignment with Love. Though you deny this, you see yourselves as being very dedicated, indeed there are still parts, chambers within, that are heavily guarded which you do not wish to look upon. You must look, my beloved friends. You must look closely, pray fervently. In this way, all that obstructs this full awakening of your beautiful soul will fall away. Few in your world are willing to look into the depths of their soul, but you must in order to fulfill these dreams and desires to awaken fully and to serve God in purity. The power of His Touch, His Love, awakening your gifts and awakening your understanding of His Will.

Few are willing, but those who are strong enough, who are clear enough, who have great faith and trust in this momentous process of healing and awakening, will lead many others to this place of Truth. And as the world endeavors to heal itself, so you will bring a wisdom, a wisdom and a powerful Truth, to help those lost souls, and there will be many lost souls, to come to that place of understanding, of reconciling their souls with God. This is God's Plan, and He awaits the full awakening of your beautiful souls, its potentials realized and at the ready to be used in His service.

Please do not feel that the road ahead is too difficult or insurmountable, because my friends, you are strong. You are of great faith, and you will surmount those things which hold you back from the purity and grace that is required to be the Father's channels of Love and Truth and Light in the world. These events in the world that are coming will only remind you of the need and necessity to be awake. Rather than a sense of foreboding or fear and apprehension, know that as these conditions continue to escalate, humanity is coming closer to reconciliation with God. And you my friends are closer than the vast majority of your brothers and sisters. We rely upon you as does God to continue to engage in this process of healing and awakening and exploring all the chambers of your soul and asking God to heal each and every aspect to bring it to harmony, to bring Love into every part, awakening the whole of you to deep awareness, Love, compassion, and Truth.

So, we continue to minister to you, my beloved brothers, and all who are intent upon the awakening of their soul. Yes, the time is short, but it is not impossible for you to come to that place of true awakening. If in times to come your awakening is not complete, I do not suggest that God will forsake you or not use that which you have to give to assist others in Truth. We merely encourage you to strive for the highest, to express your great soul in all its beauty and light, to utilize all the gifts and wisdom of your soul to help others to see and know God's great Truth and Love.

Continue to pray my brothers. Continue upon your journey of awakening. Make this your focus. Make this your joyful dedication to God. God bless you beloveds. May His Love continue to awaken every part of you and keep you within His Light and Love. God bless you. I am Andrew. I love you. My beloved brothers, I love you.

Truth Comes from the Soul - Part 2 (Augustine)

Title: Truth Comes from the Soul - Part 2
Spirit: Augustine
Medium: Al Fike
Date: December 2, 2018
Location: Sydney, Australia

I wish to add to our earlier discourse regarding how one comes to truth. In your world almost all souls start upon their journey towards truth with their minds seeking information, digesting this information, and assessing it. Of course with your scientific culture, many things are tested and in this testing are either proven to be true or false. This is indeed one way of understanding material truth. It is not the only way, but it is the way that most in your world have adopted. It is always possible that the source or foundation of these truths derived in this way may be false and therefore a certain truth that is thought to be credible is not.

In your communications and interactions together, it is hoped that what one reveals and speaks of is true and not a falsity, but unfortunately there is a great deal of untruth in these communications. Often an untruth is even unknown to the communicator. It is the result of their beliefs, their experiences and assessment of the mind, and in this way, truth is built within the mind. Brick by brick, reality is formed. Yet this reality is more reliant upon the perceptions of the material mind than the absolute truth and reality of creation. And so humanity lives in a fog of misunderstanding, misperceptions and mistruth. Nothing is certain in this reality of the mind, for it is subject to the power of the mind to manipulate and create certain realities, certain ideas and perceptions that come from the intellect and the perceptions and the desire of the mind to have within it certainty and control.

So much of what you believe in your world, much of the reality that you think is absolute is not. Yes, there are elements and layers of the material world that truly do exist and can be observed, but how humanity looks at God's creation, their perceptions, appreciations, sensitivity and understanding of it can be extremely distorted. Your scientists have a great deal of difficulty accepting that every element in your world and in all of creation has energetic and conscious aspects to it. So the truth of your world, at least the world of the materialists and all who reside within what you call Western Civilization, views the world as objects in motion, stimulation coming into the brain and assessed by the mind, hence reality. Yet it has been shown that the reality of man can be manipulated by those with spiritual development and knowledge. Hence this reality is not stable nor is it absolute. It can be changed. Even in a simple way, such as an attitude towards something within one's grasp and experience of life can change the perspective and experience of that thing. The mind is a powerful agent within the consciousness of man. This is why we in the Celestial Kingdom are encouraging and assisting you in the development of your soul faculties. Without these faculties enlivened by the inflow of the Divine Love, awakening your gifts and perceptions, you are stuck within a reality that is unstable, subject to change, and in many ways unreliable.

True reality comes from the soul, but we have already discussed this matter. Your struggles, beloved souls, are in accepting the truth, in absorbing the mind, the material mind, fusing it with the soul mind. This is such a foreign experience to you and to the reality of this world, the conditions that have been created over many, many millennia contravenes the accepted truth of humanity. You have all been indoctrinated into this truth, into this perception of reality, and so your struggle is great. The possibilities of awakening to new truth and releasing old error is in the forefront of your struggle. It is not that you feel distant from God for you do not. It is that you feel distant from your soul and try to reconcile the differences between these two minds. Beloved souls, we understand your struggles. We know the difficulties. We see the workings of your mind which are quite clear to us and the tentative awakening of your souls, these parts of you that are so tender, sensitive, and new. You must nurture these parts, protect them, love them, and accept that in time they will grow to great strength as the seeds of truth germinate one by one bringing a new reality, a different perspective, deeper perceptions and capacities to understand the reality of God's universe.

So we encourage you to pray, and we discourage you somewhat to feed your mind, your material mind extensively. This does not help you to engage your soul. It does the opposite. It feeds the mind, empowers the mind, encourages the mind to be the predominant authority for truth, and as you all know, this is not the truth. It is the illusion of truth that has been fed to you and reinforced by your beliefs and encouraged every day of your life to be a part of this continuous creation of mankind which you call truth and reality. As I have said, some is indeed truth and some is indeed reality, but the deeper truths and the deeper reality of God must come with the awakening of the soul with all its capacities to know truth and understand God.

This is the core of the great changes of which we speak that are coming. This revolution of thinking, of knowing, of being in the world is necessary. For without these changes and shifts that come to contradict the general thinking of humanity, your brothers and sisters will continue upon the course of pain, disharmony and destruction. For the power that humanity has exerted upon your world, in this illusionary and mindfully shielded reality will contravene the truths of God's creation, your world, and cause great destruction of all that has been created in its beauty and harmony and its reality. The power of the human mind is immense. The power of many – countless – human minds is breathtaking in its capacity for good or for evil.

So we continue to nurture those who are willing to step beyond this reality, step beyond the mindful truth to the truth of the soul. That they may lead others towards this place of openness to God and allow God to pour His Truth within you that comes with His Love, that comes with His touch upon your soul. You are pioneers, my beloved friends. You are testing the waters. You are attempting to come to that place that is in greater harmony with God. You continue to pray, pray often to allow this new reality to be infused into your consciousness as the Heavenly Father brings His Love, His touch and healing to you. So we witness the birthing of your souls, beloveds, the dawning of a new reality and all the gifts and perceptions and abilities that come within the soul made whole and alive in Love.

This is an exciting journey my friends. It is as exciting for us as it is for you as we continue to witness the changes that are taking place. I can assure you my friends that much is indeed taking place within your soul. Great shifts and movements, hearts within that are being transformed by the Father's Love. Now it is for you to trust, to allow, to yearn for these awakenings, these understandings and perceptions of the soul. Ask for this to be your truth, your reality, for you are strong enough now to embrace and walk in this reality without projecting fear and concern because it is so different from the reality of mankind. It does not mean that you will become so estranged from this reality because your souls have brought great change within. No my beloved friends, you will come to know a truth, a sense, a strength that will bring authority to your perceptions and what you speak of and share with others, and this will intrigue many. You will not be lost in confusion or doubt, unable to weave together these two perceptions, that of the mind and the soul. Instead, a blending and fusion will take place, and it will not be difficult once you are ready and prepared for such a thing to take place. It begins already, slowly but surely, subtly at first, but I tell you that these changes within you will inform your perceptions and experience in this world and bring to you a sensitivity, a deep perception, a capacity to love and a capacity to see beyond the veil of the human illusion to the truth of God's creation.

I know each one of you and each who listens to this message has a deep desire to come to that place of new reality, new truth, truth of the soul, truth that comes with Love. And you will express this in powerful and beautiful ways in your lives, and it will touch many. God bless you my beloved souls, my beloved students. God bless you. I am your teacher Augustine. May you continue to awaken from your slumbers and illusions and come to a place of deep soul awareness reconciling all that you have carried in error, allowing this to be transformed into truth so that you may recognize and know truth as never before.

God bless you. God bless you beloved souls. Your teacher continues to be with you as you grow in Love. God bless you.

We are very pleased with your time together and what you have accomplished together. I wish to commend you, dear son, who have posted and facilitated much in this effort together. You continue to expend your energies and your largesse towards the work of bringing the Truth of the Divine Love forward into the world. This will continue, my son, this will continue. We will guide you accordingly.

There is much work to do, much work indeed. Each of you are needed in this great effort for the salvation of mankind. You are coming to realize the implications and the challenges that are ahead as the world continues to shift and change, that will in time bring great healing and balance. All is working towards light, my friends, and balance, greater harmony in your world, and you play your parts, each one of you play your parts. You must continue with your prayers and your efforts, listening to the Will of God, being inspired by this flow of guidance, allowing God to place you where you are most effective, where the work may be accomplished to bring greater harmony to your world. You know within your hearts that this is your purpose, that your hearts continue to beat out the guidance, the message of God, of what you are meant to do. Do not restrict your efforts by your mental conditions and barriers. Allow God to work through your souls, bringing forth these divine intentions in your lives.

There is much that awaits each one of you. You have taken time together to explore the possibilities of your gifts, your guidance, your love, indicating I am sure, with each one the true possibilities and awakenings within you. You have been blessed dear brothers with a great opportunity. You have grasped this gift with the longings of your soul and the intentions of your heart to be together in light and to serve God in light. Many opportunities await you, my brothers. Continue to be open to God's Will. Continue to search your own hearts to find the true intentions of your soul in alignment with God. Each day will be a gift, an opportunity, and a blessing.

May you continue to move forward swiftly, with pure intention and a desire to serve. May your souls expand in the Father's Love creating the openings, the visions, the gifts, the awakenings that await you beloved brothers. God bless you, I am your teacher Augustine and I will continue by your side. I am with you in your journey of awakening and your journey of life. God bless you, God bless you, beloved souls. My love is with you. God bless you.

Each Day Brings Opportunities to Serve in Love (Yogananda)

You have drawn me to you with your conversations, speaking of me in loving terms. How can I resist your call? I see that you have increased your lights, my friends, and your prayers and good works together. You have seen how God has guided you through these days together. His Will has been done as you have navigated through each day, desiring to be used as a channel of love, bringing light, peace and truth to those whom you speak and share some time together.

My beloved brothers, you see how intention, some effort and some prayer may come together to create something beautiful. Your days have flowed and brought delights and opportunities, joy, and peace. All your needs have been met and you have met the needs of others. This is how God intends to use His beautiful messengers. As you continue to build light within your soul, joy within your hearts, purity and the highest of intentions, so you will continue to live your life as God's beautiful instruments of peace.

Your friends so in need of upliftment and love jumped with joy with your embrace and acknowledgement. It can be a lonely life for those who are spiritually attuned because they find it difficult to be with others who are not in a condition to understand or relate to their life. And yet, when God is present, no matter who you are with, there is a connection, a flow of love, acceptance and joy. Remember this, my beloved friends. Do not pick and choose who you would associate with at any given moment. Merely allow God to draw those to you whom He intends to bring close, that He may use you as His channels and instruments to touch another. With an attitude of openness and joy, releasing all judgments, you will indeed find great fulfillment in being a channel of love for another.

My beloved friends, the world needs each and all souls who can walk this path of love each and every day, bringing light each and every day, sowing joy and wisdom each and every day. This is the work of those who are children of God and at times it is very humble and simple and other times, you may find yourself speaking to many. This is God's work.

So each day is a day of opportunity and a quiet day set in prayer is no more beautiful than a day where you may speak to many. Given the right perspective and attitude, your day in prayer may reach more beautiful souls than some overt action and effort to bring truth to many. Remember this, beloved brothers, each day is a precious gift from God. Each day brings another possibility of increased light within your souls and increased service and love and truth.

Each of you have dedicated your lives to service to God. Beloved souls, acknowledge and recognize that each day is indeed a dedication to love and to service. And in this way, all that God intends for your day will manifest and unfold often in surprising ways. Do not hold back your love. Do not be fearful of those who are suspicious or are not familiar with you. Instead, know that God brings a soul, a precious soul, and you may touch that soul as His channel, His conduit of Love.

May this day be blessed, my beloved brothers, this day a gift, this day be magnificent in all its wonderment and possibilities. This day is another blessing from God. Keep God close to you. Forever open your souls to His Love and all will unfold in harmony, peace, love.

God bless you, beloved, beloved brothers. I continue to observe your progress and come to help you when I can in your efforts to grow spiritually, to increase your soul in Love, to increase your consciousness in Truth, to increase your gifts in the holy blessing of Divine Love.

God bless you. God bless you my friends. I am Yogananda.
