PREFACE
MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

We would like to preface this Messages of Love collection with a beautiful blessing received from Augustine through the mediumship of Al on February 14, 2018 in Gibsons, BC prior to the commencement of our journey. – Al and Jeanne Fike

You will be guided. You will be guided, and you will be surprised how many you will touch upon these travels as you see already souls are being drawn and compelled to come into the Circles of Light that you are creating beloved souls.

Keep your message simple. Be loving. Be clear with your words. Be truthful with your words. Be a channel of Love for God. For you cannot judge those who God brings into your path in any way. Merely accept that this is a gift from your Heavenly Father to minister to those whose souls long for the truth. To minister to those who are in pain and who need comfort.

We shall be with you at all times my beloveds and we shall surround you and protect you with the Light of the Father's Love and inspire you forward as you seek to serve. This is our pledge to you, to assist you in these efforts as you travel far and wide and to work to bring in those souls who are eager to hear the message of the Father's Love for each and every one. Do not over-complicate the truth my beloveds. Do not try to sculpt your words and this truth to an ideal that you assume others will accept. Merely bring forth the simple truth with love. That is all that is required. Sow these seeds. Sow these seeds with love and you will have done your work upon this travel.

Be prayerful. Be vigilant. Do not allow the conditions of these places and circumstances to dictate your spiritual condition. Merely have faith that you are protected and loved and carried and you will be. It is only those things of your mind which cause the obstructions to this flow of Love and support that is offered at all times.

Let yourselves be carried along this river and be of great joy and peace. Allow the excitement of your souls to dictate your actions and your efforts. Be open to what God has to give and say your prayers of love for your Heavenly Father. We will be by your side. We will speak. We will compliment your words and bring the truth in unambiguous and powerful ways to those who are willing to hear and receive. Many blessings will flow forth. Many blessings indeed.

God bless you my beloveds. Your teacher Augustine continues to be by your side and is indeed very happy to see your efforts, your desire to serve in this way. God bless you beloveds. Keep you on the Divine Path always. I love you. I love you dearly. God bless you.

Title: Seek to Know God and You Shall be a Channel of Love

God pours His blessings upon you, my beloveds. God seeks to touch every soul in your world and that every soul may open to the touch of God, that His Love may pour upon each one of you no matter the religion, the doctrines and creeds, the races and cultures of this world. Every soul is loved. Every soul is precious in the eyes of God.

You seek to bring Light to this world, my beloveds, to embrace all in Love. Please continue in your desires and your efforts to serve mankind, to serve humanity in Love. In this God will touch your efforts, the blessings will flow, and you will be inspired to bring healing and upliftment to those who are in need. Seek the Touch of God to empower your touch upon others, my beloveds. Seek to know God and you shall be a channel of Love. To empower others, you must empower yourselves, and to do this most effectively you must seek the source of all power and Love and Light. It is in this simple prayer and longing heart that all flows and all comes with the aspirations of your soul, the desires of your minds and may open doors to bring real possibilities of service to mankind. It comes with a simple prayer. It comes with a longing. It comes with an open and willing heart to bring Love to humanity.

God bless you, my beloveds. I am Matthew. I feel love for each one who travels their unique path to bring healing to the children, to all the peoples in this world. God blesses the healers, the ones who seek truth, the ones who wish that Love may reign in this world. This is God's work. God bless you, beloveds. God bless you in your work.

Title: Your Efforts Will Make This Church a Centre of Light

I am Jesus. I come to bless you because you seek to serve our Heavenly Father, you seek to bring Love to the children who cry out, you seek to bring greater blessings to your own souls. All souls who seek for the highest, who know of the Father's great blessing of His Love shall have my blessings, shall be in my prayers, shall be ministered to by angels who carry the Will of God into this world.

So my beloveds, have faith that God shall indeed guide you and show you the way to bring the holy blessings to this place, this sanctuary of Light. God has consecrated this church and has enlisted this place and those who are responsible to do His Service that His Will may manifest in this place. Be aware, beloved souls, that you step within holy ground that has been touched by God, that miracles of healing, great waves of peace, the bounty of God's Love will pour upon this place given your commitment, beloved souls, to open its doors to all those who seek refuge from the conditions of this world to find peace and nourishment for the soul, to find a place where they feel they belong and are safe and are blessed.

Can you bring these conditions here, my beloveds, and bring the souls who seek together? Make your prayers fervent, your efforts pure, and follow the Will of God with humility. Allow God to do what is meant to be. Allow yourselves to be attuned to this flow. As all things are done in Love, so every aspect and element will fall into place to bring a thriving and beautiful condition and church in this place. It awaits, it awaits the call and the efforts to gather the souls together and make of this place a Centre of Light in the world.

My son, you feel the callings of your soul. Listen, listen, allow those deep urgings within to guide your footsteps and your efforts. Do not allow yourself to be drawn into the human condition but quietly go about your work, listening to the Will of God, allowing God to work through you, my beloved. You have seen in these moments that God drew in a beautiful soul into your midst. So, He will do so one by one, piece by piece, day by day. This will come together and coalesce into the congregation that you seek for and dream about. Many souls, though different in their perspectives and their life stories, yet they are all drawn by Love. Love is the key. Love will open the doors. Your capacity to love, to allow God's Love to flow through you will determine the extent of the fulfillment of God's Will. You stand at the threshold, you look out at the world and you wonder why the world does not look within this place for the blessings and opportunities that are here. I say to you, beloveds, send your love into the world, ask with your hearts, embrace all, and listen to the Will of God. Many will be drawn and listen to your invitation. For in God's Will there is a flow and a timing. Foundations are forged with each soul He uses as His instruments and then the work begins in earnest. So, you are here in your own dedication of service, your own desire to reach out to humanity, to point the way to that great gift of the Father's Love and its power to heal the human spirit, the soul, the mind, all can be healed with His Love. Bring your stories to the lost souls. Speak your truth. Do so with wisdom and humility as I did when I walked the earth, and many will be drawn. One by one, they will come.

Continue with your efforts and your prayers, continue to seek to serve in this way. This Centre of Light that exists in the world will be known in the world. But you must speak of this. You must point the way to the lost souls so that they may find the treasures that this place has to offer. When events unfold unanticipated and at times you feel alone and frustrated with those elements and forces that wish to work against the Light, go to God, my beloveds, go to God and seek His solace, His Love, His wisdom to strengthen you, to carry on, to continue this effort for God will bless you mightily. God will give you what you require to forge ahead, to hold these doors open, to bring many souls into your midst. It requires a tenacity, a commitment, a strength of faith to do this work, my beloveds. For it is a deep and needed work which requires your focus, your willingness, it requires that you may know your souls, know the desires of your souls and know the Will of God. Can you go to that place that is within you that reaches to God as God reaches to you and allow this communion to be the rock within your life that will inform your actions of service to God, that will inform Love in all that you do?

So much awaits you, my beloveds, so much. May you overcome all obstacles and barriers upon your path. May His blessed Love flow within you constantly, uplifting, informing, showing the way. My love and prayers are with you. You do my work and I shall walk with you always, my precious souls. I shall walk with you and uphold you and light the way, light the way to the path intended by God. God bless you, beloveds. God bless you. I am Jesus. I love you.

Title: Bring Music

God bless you. Bring music into this place. Bring those whose hearts are stirred by the beautiful sounds and voices, instruments of music--such a gift to humanity, these beautiful souls that stir your soul with their heartfelt songs and expressions of creativity.

Bring joy into your midst for what is a life without joy? What is a life that is lost in seriousness and worry? Bring healing, for in the healing of the mind and the soul and the body there is upliftment and hope. Bring Love, for without Love nothing is possible. To uplift the spirit these simple things, my beloveds, these simple things will disarm all those who are cautious, will encourage many to feel free to express themselves, will open and inspire the souls.

It does not take much, truly these simple things are your message and can be the message of this place. I know you wish to see this place filled with joy and beauty, Love. So, it shall be for God has already filled it with His Love. The Light is here. Now bring the souls, bring them, draw them in with the sweetness of your voices, the caring of your embrace, the joy of your laughter. Bring them in. I will be with you dancing and laughing. I will increase your joy. I will be with you and many, many others as well in this beautiful dedication of service and Love.

God bless you. I am Goldie. I love you. I love you.

Title: The Phoenix of Truth and Love

Yes, there are those associated with this place who are caught in the entrapments of error, of the old ways, the old thoughts, the old creeds and ideas and so these things weigh down this place. The entrapments of these things are all about you and brings a message that is not your message but a message of bygone days, of things that have been but are no longer. So, you bring a fresh light, a fresh perspective, new blood into this church and so you must.

For any and all of these institutions to survive in this world in the coming changes, there must be harmony with truth, there must be Love. You must embrace all for this will be a refuge in times to come. This is where many will come to find the answers to what is happening in this world where so much will be rent asunder, so much will fall. But from the ashes, the phoenix shall rise--the phoenix of Truth and Love. So, you must empower this place with your prayers and your efforts. You must seek within yourself to be empowered by Love. Let this be your motivation, my beloveds, this be your truth. With that foundation within you, you will rebuild this church brick by brick, effort by effort, prayer by prayer with a clarity and focus and faith within you, a determination to bring to this place a fresh start, a new beginning. For God has indeed put His Hand upon this place and so in your effort you honor His efforts to bring the blessings to the many souls who seek. Are you prepared, my beloveds, to take on this challenge, to be dedicated in this way, to say "I am willing to do as you ask, Heavenly Father, I am willing. Show me the way. I shall step forward as You clear the path for me."?

So it will go and yes, there will be times of challenge and difficulties. But only if you allow these human conditions to entrap you and hold you back from what is meant to be, then you release your will to the will of others. Instead you must embrace God's Will and make it your own. In this you will be strong and steadfast and in the Light and a channel of God's Love. Beloved souls, before you is an opportunity. May you grasp what this opportunity is and carry it forward to what it is meant to be--that your efforts may bring great fruits of blessings and joy and Love. All is possible as one continues to forge their relationship with God.

Miracles can happen, my beloveds, in this place. Barriers can be put aside. Purpose can be clear and meaningful given the right steps, the right attitude, the prayerful desire to serve. Beloveds, you are mightily blessed within your souls. May you continue to express those blessings in the world. May all those treasures within your souls come forth, shine forth all about you that these gifts that you possess may be expressed in powerful and beautiful ways. Remember, my beloveds, all of this is from God and so allow God to do the work through you. This is what ministering to others is, to be that channel, that instrument for God. You must prepare yourselves in this way, be strong in this way which requires deep humility, a willingness to listen to that very small voice within rather than the insistent voice of your mind. So that voice within grows stronger and stronger as you grow stronger within your souls until there comes a time when these two voices--one of your mind and one of your soul--merge together into one voice and there you have found the key to enact the Will of God.

Beloved souls, beloved souls, may you continue to be blessed and inspired and strong within. I will continue to walk with you as many from the Celestial Heavens shall do and will do. I love you, beloved souls. I am your teacher Augustine. I will continue to tutor you and be by your side. You can rely on the consistency and strength of the angels to be with you. Merely ask and we shall be by your side. God bless you. God bless you, my beloveds.

Title: God's Touch Ignites the Flame

I am Thomas Aquinas and I am a member of the Celestial Kingdom. My soul has been transformed by the Father's Love. I now reside in that beautiful place filled with love and joy. I have come to tell you, beloved souls, how God desires to touch every soul ever created with His Love, with the touch of His Love to bring about the deep healing of the soul, to bring about the potentials of the soul to come forth and be expressed in this world that is so in need, so in need of Love.

Never before has humanity brought such darkness to this beautiful planet. Your world is overwhelmed, my beloveds, by these conditions. Yet the relentless approach of mankind upon this world continues to bring disharmony in the natural order and a lack of love amongst mankind. So, we come to these little circles of Light to encourage you, beloved souls, to seek God, to seek harmony within yourselves for how can the world change if not each individual makes effort to change, to bring greater harmony within them? It is the power of God's Touch that ignites this flame within, beginning a journey of awakening of the soul.

I would encourage you, my beloveds, to continue in your prayers to God to receive His Love, to know His blessing deep within that changes everything. Do this not just for yourselves; do this for humanity for the world needs to change. The world needs lights, those who understand the power of Love, the power of Love that will transform the world and bring it to Light. This is not some idealistic concept, beloved souls. This is the truth that the greatest power of all is Love and the greatest Love of all comes from God. So, I beseech you to explore the realms of God's Love, both within you and within God to bring within yourselves greater awakening, to create an intense awareness of your own true selves and your relationship with your Creator. It starts with a simple prayer, a wondering, a desire to know, a seeking for truth.

As you step upon that path so much is revealed to you, my beloved souls. So much can come to your awareness and all is cloaked in Love and peace and beauty. As your souls begin to awaken, so what is within you begins to emerge and touch others that that Light, that flame may influence those around you, inspire them to go to God and that the flames of their souls may be ignited. In this one soul to another, one prayer to God, great efforts begin in these simple ways bringing change to the world that sits on the precipice of chaos. This world cannot continue to be as it is for what humanity does creates such stress and strain upon this world, upon God's glorious creation. This cannot be a thing that continues forever for in God's creation there are responses and reactions that come with this imbalance.

So I urge you beloved souls, to awaken in your awarenesses, to pile the coals of Love together into this flame, to know that change must happen not only within but without and to seek for God to guide you thus that you may be an instrument for change in this world, that you may give of yourself in Love to your brothers and sisters, that you may walk upon the path of Love and carry others with you in Love. For if you do not heed the call, who will, who will make the change, who will dedicate themselves to bring healing to humanity as a channel of Love, an instrument of God's Will? There are many who have the desire to seek change but few who truly know how this may be enacted. For God has a plan for the salvation of mankind. God will carry all those who desire the light and who are strong enough to enact the changes required.

Be strong beloved souls. Seek light; seek to be a flame of Love and all else with follow. As the conditions of this world deteriorate, the conditions of your soul will accelerate, and you will see your way through and you may contribute to the changes that are to happen in this world and bring about greater harmony for all. It starts with a simple prayer and in this prayer begins a magnificent journey of soul awakening. It is the change of the consciousness of humanity that will bring the wisdom required to live in this world harmoniously, respecting the laws of creation, loving all that is created and here as a gift to you as well. This can only be if you allow yourselves to be in the Light, that you strive to increase your awareness of Love that the wisdom that God has to give to humanity is freely given to all who are receptive. But first you must have the faculties of the soul, the awareness and awakening of the soul in order to receive what God has to give. This is not an easy task but one that is worthwhile and greatly blessed.

Would you live a life of mediocrity, my beloveds, or do you wish a life that is filled with the experience of knowing God, truly knowing yourselves, and experiencing Light in all its magnificence? God gives you the choices, beloved souls. He does not insist upon anything. He merely offers but you open yourselves to the gifts that He has to give, that you desire this, that you are aligned with this Light. It is for you to decide as it is for every soul. May you continue to seek for the highest, to love with all your heart and soul, to continue to grow in God's Love and to hear the guidance that God has to give with each day as He continues to bless you, so you will continue to awaken that your souls may flourish in Love.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am Thomas Aquinas and I am happy to speak to you this day. I wish for you to know even though this room has a very modest circle, there are many hundreds of spirits with you and many blessings are forthcoming from your discussions, your prayers and many blessings are reaching out into the world for when a group of sincere souls come together creating a circle of Light, God utilizes those souls to bring blessings to others, touching their souls. May you continue to pray together, beloveds, and work together and seek to bring much needed change to this world as you listen to God's Will in your life. God bless you. May His Love continue to touch your souls evermore deeply infusing every chamber of your soul, releasing all conditions that are not of Love. God bless you. God bless you.

Title: I Walk with You, Be at Peace

I too walk with you on your travels towards God and your desires to serve humanity.

As you continue to grow in the Love of God, and your awareness expands and grows in concert with the Love that grows within you, so you will see the road you must travel, so you will know the work you must do. Do not try to make your plans outside of God's Will, beloved souls, but to seek the Will of God, to know the Will of God and His Plan for each one of you, my beloveds. For in this way all will be in harmony and flow in grace and peace.

There is no need for struggle, my beloveds. Those struggles come with the resistance of your minds. Allow your souls to take precedence. In this way, all will be known, and the surety of your souls will bring you comfort and joy. Yes, this world brings on many trials and tribulations, worries and cares. I tell you, with the soul expanded in the Father's Love, these things will not be so important. These worries will fall away, and that which is difficult will not be so. You will rise above the conditions of this world and appreciate the beauty of your souls, the wisdom of your souls, the glory of your souls.

I will walk with you. My daughter, I walk with you, and I will carry you through your life. This is my promise, beloved daughter. I will carry you through your life and guide you thus along this journey of service for God. You just begin your journey, and it will take you through a road filled with wonders and service, blessings and Love. Be at peace, my daughter, you are loved and cared for, and you are never alone. And we care for your children. Know this, that God has His Hand upon them, as He has with you, my daughter. Beloved soul, God will answer your prayers and bring you into greater Light. As you release the conditions that have held you from this Light, they continue to fall away with every prayer, every prayer. You are blessed and healed.

My son continue in your prayers. Be true to what you know. Be strong in your heart. Do not allow the negative conditions of this world to impinge upon the Light within your soul, my beloved, beloved son. For God is with you and carries you into Light. God will give you the healing you require to live your life with strength and joy. The only thing that holds you, my son, is you. Let go of your fears. Let go of those things that keep you from God, and you will find your way to at-onement, my son. You are destined to walk through the threshold of the Celestial Heavens, to be with God in atonement, as are all here. You shall one day walk through this threshold and know the joy of boundless Love.

Beloved souls, as you continue to serve, and seek to serve God, know that every step that you take, every effort that you make in this world is blessed. Do not consider the numbers of souls that you touch, merely that you are a Light in the world, and God will touch many souls through you. Whether you are aware or not, this happens, regardless. Many souls were touched today, many souls. You will continue, as you walk your road, to touch many souls and bring comfort and bring the message of the Father's Love.

I know you feel a need to see and know, to make your efforts something concrete, that you may not have doubt or worry and see your effectiveness as a servant of God. I tell you my beloveds, each breath you take, you serve God. Each prayer you make, that service increases the power of your gifts, multiply and count more evident into this world.

It is important that you have faith my beloveds, and patience, to allow your destinies to unfold in accordance to God's Plan and timing. When you are within the flow of God's Plan, you feel the comfort and you know that you are in His Grace. This is your signal that you continue to follow the Will of God. You feel the joy of it, the beauty of it and the Love of God pours upon it all.

You will not waste your time, my beloveds. You will continue to grow and to serve, and to serve worthfully within this wondrous flow of God's Plan for the salvation of mankind. Be at peace and know the angels surround you, that God's Love continues to pour into your souls. Do not let your minds convince you that you are not serving God. For you do, and you will. All is in the flow of the Father's Will. Be at peace, beloveds, be at peace.

Know you have the highest angels with you, walking with you, teaching you, inspiring you, serving through you, bringing you closer to God. This is your truth now, my beloveds. This is your life. Be joyful that you have found the road to God and atonement, the highest road of all. How precious you are, beloved souls. How beautiful is your light. God bless you.

I am Mary, and I love you my children on earth. I love you, and I care for you, and I am with you. God bless you. God bless you.

Title: Seek the Straight Path

I am Matthew. The world is in darkness, my beloveds. I believe that you feel the conditions of that darkness in the world. You are aware of it. You live with it. Yet, you continue to reach to God to bring light into yourselves, into your lives. You make great effort to cleanse your souls, to seek truth, to be in Love, in the flow of God's Love.

It is God's Will that places of light, Centres of Light, places of refuge from these dark conditions be created in the world. We continue to encourage you to seek out these places which God has designated and to help bring these places to a condition where this Light may glow and be intense, so that those who come may find the refuge that they seek. Are you willing, my beloveds, to continue to work towards these ends? There are few who are willing, yet there are many in need. Can you dedicate yourselves to the service of mankind, through serving God and knowing His Will? It requires a deep dedication, profound faith, and powerful Love within your souls.

Each of you are on a different path. You have your struggles. You have your challenges. You have your conceptions of what it is you must do to bring yourself closer to God. And yet, within each one of you the flame of God's Love burns. In this way, you are connected. You are brothers and sisters in this great family of God. Indeed, we encourage all who have a desire and a dedication to serve God in Love to band together, to work together. For there is much work to do, my beloveds, much work to do. You have at your disposal many angels who are eager to assist you. We await as you grow stronger, as the Love within your souls continues to shine brighter, as you come to know the wisdom within, opening those faculties of the soul that will bring you to a place of strength and clarity, wisdom and purity, Love, Love for all mankind.

Yet, we do not push you, pressure you, insist that you seek greater Light within yourselves. And yet within you is this deep desire, this longing to be free of the conditions of this world, the conditions that you have gathered within yourself that is not of Love, to be released so that you may serve as a pure channel of God's Love, His Instruments, powerful, resplendent in Love and Light, peace and joy. These noble aspirations, these compelling goals to serve God, are heard by the Heavenly Father. He continues to assist you, to bless you, to guide you along that path, for this world is in deep need of servants of Light that may bring truth, express truth, be the example of truth in the world, and to create greater Light into this world as channels of His Love.

So, we urge you to contemplate the possibilities, not within your minds, but within your souls, of what it is that God wishes for you to do, how He will carry you forward, urge you upon the path that He has designated for each one of you. All is dependent upon your will the timing is in your control. The possibilities may be expressed and realized in accordance to your efforts each day to come closer to God. So, we leave it to you, my beloveds, to you and your choices, and thoughts, and efforts in service, in Love. Once a choice is made, doors open. Possibilities are realized. Understanding is clear. Love flows. You must come to a place of clarity, of dedication, free from those demands and conditions of the world. In the world but not of the world my beloveds, this is the ideal stance in service.

Yet, each of you must fulfill certain obligations and contracts that you have made in life. In many ways this becomes a dilemma, an obstruction at times, a challenge often. Yet, the power of God's Love, the beauty of this touch from God seems to disperse what dilemmas may be in your lives, what obstructions may cause you to turn away. So, I assure you, my beloveds, in your minds you may see a route so circuitous and difficult as to be impossible, but with your souls you know and understand the route that is straight and narrow, clear and in harmony.

Yes, coming to that place of deep clarity, understanding, is not easy. So many forces in this world direct you elsewhere. So much within your minds create these obstructions, and yet the persistence and the power of your own souls continue to urge you forward as your souls listen to God's Will, God's Love for you. Thus, the choice is present. What will you listen to? How will you proceed? What avenue to take? What thoughts to cultivate? What efforts to nurture?

When one listens to the urgings of the soul and the wisdom of the soul, there is no real choice. Merely the recognition of the one choice that God presents to you, to love, to expand in Love, to express Love, to love yourselves, to love all those around you. In this way, the opportunities in life become clear, powerfully clear. Your tests and your struggles are evident with each day, but your strength and your wisdom become stronger, and clearer, and more powerful with each day.

Do not place yourself in the condition of worry and concern, anxiety about the future, about what must be done. Today is the day to be a channel of Love. It is that simple. Leave tomorrow to God. Leave tomorrow, with the faith that tomorrow shall be expressed in all its potential harmony and service and goodness and Love.

Be at peace, my beloveds, know that you are loved, that God seeks to carry you forth in Light, that you are safe and cared for. Be confident that you will make the right choices with each day. And if you do not, have compassion for yourselves, with the realization that when you seek for the highest, you may not always be able to reach that goal. But you must keep trying and do so in Love and the appreciation that God Loves you no matter what. You are loved.

You are loved by many angels, my beloveds. You are loved in many ways, that your life may be a pure expression of Love. That potential exists. It is determined by your free will, your choices.

So, my beloveds, walk in light. Maintain your prayer practices, efforts to be with God, seeking His gift of Love. Know that each day as you progress along life's path, that many opportunities will come your way. You will continue to grow and expand in your Love, your consciousness of the truth. God will never let you down, my beloveds. God will always be with you. His Love is consistent. His Love is with you.

You shall find your way. Yes, maybe it will not be the straightest path, but you will move forward, progress in Light, grow in Love. This must be because of the power of the Love within your souls, compelling you forward. God's Touch upon you, my beloveds, encouraging you forward. You continue to desire this and be upon that path to at-onement with God.

God bless you. I am Matthew, and I love you. God bless you, beloveds. God bless you.

Title: Love is the Key to Fulfillment, Joy and Peace

I come. I am Jesus. Take respite in this Love, the light that God pours upon you my beloveds. Take respite in this great peace of the presence of the Creator.

Each of you is a light. Each of you carries a light. May your light shine in this world beloveds. May your love flow in dark places and bring comfort to many. For God needs those who are willing to walk this world as a channel of His Love. To lay down all conditions within themselves that are not of Love and to allow the purity of the Father's Love to flow into every part of them enlivening their spirits and souls. That they may walk this world as an example, as an instrument of God.

For what this world needs more than anything is love and what the soul needs and longs for is love and yet so many do not know this unlimited supply of Love that comes from the Father's Soul to your soul. Merely a longing and a prayer, a desire expressed brings this gift within you. The gift that shall never leave you. A gift that shall multiply within you. A gift for all eternity, my beloveds.

It is and shall always be my message that God's Love is the redeeming grace of the soul. It is what will heal your burdens, uplift and bring forth the great potentials of the soul. For each child carries many gifts and there are many possibilities to bring forth these gifts in Love. To see the world from the eyes of love. To touch all of those around you, my beloveds, with the embrace of love. To care for your brothers and sisters. To bring this truth in simple ways in your lives, in all that you do.

My beloveds walk with me upon this path. Serve God in every and all ways possible. Come to know the Will of God as He speaks to you within your souls and be at peace my beloveds and know that God has claimed you and shall carry you forth into atonement.

It is love that is the key and has always been the key to great fulfillment, joy and peace. May it be what you seek always beloved souls, and as you do so I will be with you. The angels will be with you as you continue to seek the empowerment of your souls through the blessings of the Father's Love that come with the Holy Spirit.

This simple way is what will change the world. The simple way is what will change you my beloveds and you will come to know the world through different eyes and come to hear the Will of God that may be expressed through you, my beloveds.

May you find the path prescribed to you. The path that is meant for you. The path that will bring you to the fulfillment of your purpose in this world. It is clearly laid before you my beloveds. Open your eyes to see. May the scales be peeled away and your understanding clear as your souls awaken, and your minds come to accept the power of love.

Title: Seek God's Love to Awaken Your Souls

Seek to know your souls, for within your soul lies the keys to all the answers that you seek. Only understandings that are spiritual in nature come from the awakening of the soul. So many seek with their minds and they construct understandings and realities that they believe are true and plausible. Yet in many ways the mind cannot comprehend the ways of God. The mind can observe, can deduce certain things, but to truly know you must understand with the faculties of your souls. So, I urge you, my beloveds, I urge you, to seek to know that place within yourselves that is of God. For your souls are the image of God, my beloveds, and in the pursuit of the Divine Love comes the substance of God flowing into your souls, His Love, His Light flooding your souls and awakening those parts of you that are long dormant.

With your sincere prayers, your longings, the expressions of your heart will come many blessings, many beautiful blessings that will awaken the passions of the soul and bring you close to your Creator. It is a journey, beloved souls, a journey of awakening, of opening the eyes, of knowing, of seeing, of being in the flow of God's Love. In this comes other gifts, blessings unimagined, opportunities and experiences gifted to you by God. So, I urge you my beloveds to patiently seek the awareness of your souls, to feel the Love of God, that those gifts that are hidden within your souls will lead you to many truths and awarenesses that the mind cannot bring you to, my beloveds.

There is so much to know. There is so much to be given and you spend little time in this world. Soon you will be in the world of spirit, for an earthly life is short and yet within this life you may learn a great deal and experience many things, but you must do so by the laws of God's Creation. He urges you to seek Him from the depths of your soul, to ask for His blessings of Love, to allow this gift to enter and to flourish within you. It does not require a certain prayer, but you may ask from your hearts, that deep longing says and urges God to come close. When your souls open to that flow of Love, capture this light within, allow it to pour in every corner and chamber of your soul for in this comes a deep healing, a deep sense of peace, a beautiful awakening. It is gentle. It is of God. Each day this may come, each day an opportunity to grow, each day a little closer to God.

So, say your prayers, my beloved souls. Feel the urgings, the desires within. All will be given, all will flow to you. With this rapport a heartfelt desire, a seeking that will give deep understanding and great joy and knowing.

May the Peace that passes all understanding be with you, my beloveds, for God is present with you. Drink deep His Living Waters, drink deep and know that He is with you.

God bless you. I am your teacher Augustine and my love is with you. God bless you.

Title: Women are Strong in Love

I am Keea-Atta-Kem. Yes, you speak of the power of women and I say if it was not for the prayers and efforts and love of women in this world it would be no more. For so many have hardened hearts, are consumed in the darkness within and yet there are many, many women in this world who with their prayers and their love and their expressions of caring, nurturing, beautiful expressions have healed many hardened hearts, have softened the edges of those who would be filled with rage and uncaring.

So, it is that much of the power of the light within this world comes from the women of this world. For it is their natures, their gifts, their beauty that has brought much of the goodness in the world and how their nurturing of children have directed their beautiful souls and thoughts towards positive outcomes. Those who make for difficulties in this world are not confronted by anger with those women who are close to them that would give love and wisdom. And yes, it is meant that there be equality in this world between the sexes. For without this coming together of these two different perspectives of life, there cannot be balance and there must be balance in the world, my beloveds. For men and women are a gift to one another. They carry different strengths and in this they complement one another, but as it is in this world at this time there is imbalance that needs to be corrected. The world needs so much more love and caring and consideration of each beautiful soul, and if this were to be so and expressed in the world in powerful ways, then so much of the destruction and negativity in this world would be neutralized and a new perspective will emerge and bring greater harmony and obedience to the laws of God's Creation. The women must play their part for they are the stronger in love. They know within their souls what is in harmony with God and they must express this in their firm but gentle ways in the world.

God needs all those who are willing to be a channel of Love. God needs for humanity to awaken from their slumbers, that their souls may be enlivened by Love, that their conscious selves may be aware of the laws of their creation, the consequences of their actions, the effects of the power of their own thoughts and expressions in the world. So many go about life unaware, merely responding, acting without wisdom or love. For those women who are strong spiritually and are filled with love may they remind others what is important, why you are all here in this world, not to gain wealth and power to control others. No, this is folly, but to express love and nurture and encourage the wonderful hidden gifts within each individual and this may be done in so many ways. Each individual soul has many gifts and wisdom to be expressed in the world.

May you, my beloveds, continue to seek ways to bring this Love forth. To bring the message of God's Love to this world, to encourage all those you meet to express the highest parts of themselves, to be loving and kind, joyful and creative, to be God's children.

You carry a light my beloveds. You carry a light, and you carry a measure of the truth. May you walk in the world as the bearers of Light and bring Love wherever you go and in this way God will bless you mightily and you will know a joy so deep, so full, that you will see the world very differently indeed. God is with you. God continues to bless you. May you continue to be open and perceive those blessings and know the inspirations which He places within your souls. God bless you beloveds, and may God bless all the beautiful women in this world who are loving and a light.

I am Keea-Atta-Kem. I love you. God bless you.

*Title: The Bond of Love Creates Family
(Zoom video chat with Elizabeth)*

I am Andrew. The Father's Love continues to flow into your souls and as you have come together in this prayer, drawing one another close, feeling the love from your hearts for one another and for God and so you uplift your conditions, your demeanours and you are open to all the Light and Love that is present here in this room, the presence of God in your midst, the openings of those inner selves, your souls, that tender place within you receiving the blessing of His Essence continually flowing into your souls.

As you pray together in this way beloved souls, there is an aspect of this blessing of the Father's Love that also reaches out and touches God and touches each other, connecting you all in the bond of Love that does not diminish or disappear but will stay with you for all eternity my beloveds, this bond of Love, this connection that you make in Love.

As you progress in this world and in the world of spirit and into the Celestial Kingdom, there is something within you that is within each one around you creating this sense of family, of being a part of one another, and as you go out into the world and continue to pray with others and to Love and to be a channel of Love in this world, so you increase your family. You allow the faculty of the soul infilled with the Father's Love to reach out to each one that is connected with, soul-to-soul, so that there is this bond, this Light, this network of Light that connects and connects and connects to many, many souls creating this beautiful lattice of light, a lattice of light that God intends to spread throughout the entire world encasing this world in Love, in light, in the power of this Love, to bring souls together in a way that brings meaning, Love, awareness, a sense of being a part of each other.

This is a powerful blessing. The blessing of the Father's Love has many aspects to its habitation within the soul, creating these blessings that may benefit not only you but many others. So, you have become family, my beloved souls, and you shall ever be family and thus your family grows with each effort you make in prayer together to receive the Father's Love, to send your love to another and that love is reciprocated by the other, creating this beautiful blessing, this cord of Light that stretches from one to another, to another, bringing you together in a sense that you do indeed belong to one another and to God, the Father's children, the Father's children. Together all in this great wave of Love from the great Soul of God.

May your family continue to grow, my beloveds. When you set forth in the world give Love wherever you go. Allow these connections to take place. Allow God to build this wondrous network of Light and thus you become His channels of Love in the world and thus His Plan for the salvation of mankind is fulfilled in this way as it will be in many other ways.

Work together my beloveds. Work as one, in Love. Though you are all unique and beautiful and have many unique gifts, this one gift that I describe belongs to you all and can be utilized by God to bless many.

God bless you my beloveds. I am Andrew and I love you and I too am connected with you as you are connected to me and many angels, and so this great family blossoms in Love and continues to grow. God bless you my beloveds. God bless you.

Title: Seek God's Boundless Love

I am Isaiah. God has brought you together my beloveds. His Hand is upon each one of you. And remember the blessings that you have received in your time together will be shared with those you love, that much flows out to them as it does to you my beloveds. You are within this great wave of Light and Love.

Seek this gift of the Father's Love in your lives. For those who are unfamiliar with this gift add it to your prayers and life with God. Allow this blessing to be part of your awareness, that this aspect of God is a great boon to your soul. It merely requires your small effort in prayer, a desire from your heart to know His Love, to be in that great flow of His Love. To do this in a conscious way, in a consistent way, adding to your prayers each day will open up new doors and avenues of experience and knowledge and understanding, for you will come to know God in a way that many in this world do not.

You will come to know your own souls in a deeper way, in a way that will reveal to you many aspects of yourselves that is not yet known. You will come to recognize many gifts within you beloveds and you will come to see others with greater love, acceptance, compassion and bring to them wisdom that comes from God through your souls, the souls that have been ignited with His Divine Love. Such a simple thing brings great rewards my beloveds. There is no greater reward than at-onement with God and His gift of Love makes this possible.

It is not necessary to adopt a creed, a religion, a way of thinking. It is merely accepting the possibility that through your own relationship with God in prayer and seeking this gift of Love, acknowledging the desires within your souls for at-onement that all is possible and will enhance everything within you and within your lives.

This truth, the understanding of this truth, was lost many, many years ago and now it has come to light once more. It was brought by our beloved brother Jesus to the world, his gift to humanity as an instrument of God's Will.

I beseech you to utilize this gift my beloveds, to utilize the knowledge that you have received. To bring this Truth as something palpable within your lives, within your consciousness, within your spiritual seeking and growth. It is Love. It is the highest Love. It is the most powerful blessing given to mankind. Seek and ye shall find my beloveds. Knock and the door shall be opened and know that you are loved beyond measure, that God's Love for you is unlimited and the potential to receive His Love has no bounds. It is available whenever you ask, and it shall never stop, this gift given in prayer and supplication, shall never be with holden, shall never run dry. These Living Waters continue to flow.

So, I urge you to drink deep my beloveds. Go to the fountainhead of God's Love and seek what you thirst for which is that deep desire within you to quench this thirst for Love. It is yours, beloveds. It is yours.

God bless you. I am Isaiah of the Bible and an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom and I love you, beloved souls. All children who seek for Truth and recognize the power and the glory of the Love of God are my brethren, my brothers and sisters. God bless you and keep you in this Light. God bless you.

Title: A Journey of Service

I am your teacher, Augustine. There is a purpose to your efforts. You will be carried and we will draw in those souls who are eager to know your message, the message of God's Love. Be open with each moment you are together that you may be used by God as a channel of His Love, that each moment you are in this place there are possibilities present, opportunities to serve God.

As you well know, you must approach this with the knowings of your soul rather than the understanding of your mind. Listen to the word of God, the Will of God, the flow of His Love as you work together in these days to come. May that grace and ease and harmony and perfect timing of God's Will flow amongst you and through you and out to those whom you will contact in your efforts. Keep the knowings of your soul open, my beloveds. Learn from your experiences. Keep the flow of God's Love rising up through you into the world.

God is with you. We are with you, beloved souls. You will see how we guide you, how you touch other souls as this beloved daughter touched the dear soul who sat beside her. Is this not doing God's work, allowing Love to flow? Wherever you go, my beloveds, there is that possibility. So be open, conscious, prayerful, receptive, yearning to be a channel of Love in the world. You are surrounded by thousands upon thousands of souls, both in the material world and the spirit world. In this way each moment is a possibility, a potential to teach, to heal, to serve, to love. May you come to know this more fully within your consciousness, consciousness of your souls, and see that God places before you a great bounty of possibilities to serve in Love.

God bless you, beloveds. Your teacher Augustine continues to uphold you, to love you and to teach you. I am with you. I shall accompany you on these journeys of service. God bless you.

Title: Bring Music!

In your Circles of Light, do not take yourselves so seriously. God's work is a work of joy. Do not worry. The souls will respond, and they will be drawn by your Light and your laughter and your words and your music of joy. This is a celebration, beloveds, a celebration because you are bringing the salvation of mankind to the world. How long has mankind waited? How long has God waited for this momentous time of change and healing for the world?

You begin a great flood by sprinkling water upon each soul, a flood that shall sweep away all the hurt and pain, all the error and grief. Be joyful, uplift, embrace and speak gently but firmly of the way to the salvation of each and every soul who seeks relief from their pain, upliftment and Truth. It will come through each one of you, my beloveds. It is your destiny to comfort humanity, to speak truth, to bring Love. I will sing and dance with you, my beloveds.

Title: The Work Begins

I come my beloveds. I am Jesus. I come to bless my disciples who are willing to travel the road and bless the children that come upon their path. For those who do so are truly my disciples for they do so in love, they do so carrying the truth, bearing the waters of life.

Beloved souls come to know the abilities and the strengths of your souls, how through this avenue and channel within you, you will work amongst mankind and you will bring the truth with an open heart and as God's clear channels of Love, these blessings shall flow. Do not underestimate the power of God's Will within this world for you will find your way as His channels and instruments for peace and truth and change. With the strength of your faith, the power of the Love within your souls, so you shall accomplish much in this way.

Remember that the lost souls live in this darkness, the haze and clouds of the human condition and for them to find their way through this, to come within the light that God is creating amongst you is difficult. So, you must have compassion and you must be patient. But every deep change within the world, within the history of mankind, comes with a single drop of desire. To bring greater light through you, my beloveds, it starts with a single drop. But as you continue upon this journey, the efforts will increase, the possibilities will multiply, and the work shall grow.

You just begin, beloved souls, you just begin. I am pleased to see that you begin with faith and a trust in God's Will and a desire to bring truth of the highest order to those you speak to, to those you minister to. It is this singleness of desire, this coming together of your souls to work within the flow of God's Plan for the salvation of mankind that will continue to open doors and bring about possibilities and opportunities for you to bring what is meant to be brought into this world. Drop by drop, my beloveds, each effort builds upon the next and the next until you reach many souls in this world. You just begin, and I am very pleased that you are willing. I shall lead you forth, beloveds, upon this Path Divine, upon this work blessed by God, upon all these efforts shared by you upon this earth and we in the Celestial Kingdom who work together to touch many souls in this world and the next.

Beloveds, you are truly blessed. You shall continue in this great work. God bless you.
God bless you.

Title: Will You Choose to Become a Soul Awakened

I am your teacher Augustine. God created this world and then He created mankind. He gave mankind a great gift, a gift of this world. To roam freely over the lands, to do what they would, what their imaginations and their desires told them to do. To live a life within this material world. And God only said, love one another. Love each other. Support one another. Give your love.

Yet over these millennia upon millennia of existence of mankind in this world, love has not reigned supreme. Instead, the desire for power, control, greed, lust, many aspects displayed by the souls of humanity have brought a terrible condition to this world. And yet, the aspirations of the souls continue to be expressed in love at times, in Light at times, a soul here and a soul there struggling in these conditions of darkness continue to bring Light. Continue to choose Light. To pursue harmony and Truth. To pursue God.

How long do you think this world can survive under these conditions, as the presence of mankind multiplies and grows ever stronger and yet does not grow within their hearts, cannot see beyond their own needs, their own desires? Humanity stands at a crossroads a place of choice and you all feel this to some degree. You all sense that these are serious times in your world. Innocence has gone. Love barely is expressed. And yet, at these times of crisis, of difficulties, great change can take place. Opportunities open, possibilities explored. So, as you have done, many are coming together to reinforce Light, to seek fellowship. To band together and bring love. To create what we call a Circle of Light in the world.

And so, these dear souls have given you some Truth and I suggest that you take away what they have said and contemplate the experiences you have had and consider the possibilities that may now be laid before you, beloved souls. How will you bring Light to this world? What road will you take? How does God fit into this new understanding? Who are you truly, beloved souls? Are you merely the reflective actions that come with the stimulus of this world or are you something deeper? Is there the possibility of greater meaning and impetus, greater gifts and abilities that may come with the awakening of your souls? You have been told of a great key, a powerful instrument that will awaken your souls. It is the Essence of God, the Love of God pouring into you through your beseeching of God to touch your soul, to be in relationship with the Creator.

Every effort requires a strong foundation. If you are strong within, strong in love, strong in wisdom, strong in awareness, then you may move forward and serve humanity in beautiful ways. And if you include in your awareness, if you bring an opening to God and allow God a presence within you, you will be guided, you will be given powerful knowledge and direction and Love. But it is your choice beloved souls, what direction you may walk upon in this world. It is always your choice. God does not interfere with your free will. God honours your existence in this world with Love. He is open and willing to give to you what you require, but you must ask and seek and pray to release your defenses, your biases, those barriers within you that hold you back from God.

Oh, how you struggle, beloved souls. How you struggle in this world. You seek not to be vulnerable, not to be hurt, not to be disillusioned, not to look like a fool. You want to be invincible and powerful, revered in this world, respected, acknowledged. And I tell you beloved souls, that these desires come from your minds, not your souls. The soul knows the Love of God and thirsts for the acknowledgement of God and in this, the soul gives Love and does not require that others may acknowledge their Light. This is strength, true strength. And yes, there are times when a soul feels hurt, is pained by the conditions that beset each soul in this world. But God is always there, always there to soothe the soul, to bring His Love, to heal the soul. And soon, the soul trusts in God and faith is formed in prayer.

There is so much available to you, my beloved souls. God has a tremendous gift for each one. Many treasures to be laid upon your feet. Priceless wisdom to be given. And all that is required is for you to ask, to trust, to lay down those defenses so well maintained and formulated from a life that has taught you that there is much pain, even humiliation in the world. Yet, with God none of these things exist, only Love. The power of Love then becomes the impetus of your life and you begin to understand life from a different perspective and a new strength is borne within, warmed by the flame of Love and a beautiful relationship with your Creator.

Are you willing, beloved souls, to walk in the world in a way that is not the way that most of humanity wishes to live? If you are, then God is there to show you the way. But if you desire the mundane life that humanity has to offer, then you will never know the possibilities which come from the awakened soul. The choice is yours, beloveds. Know that God loves you no matter what choice you make, and God awaits that moment when you are willing to acknowledge His Presence and desire the gift of His Love.

Every moment is a choice, every moment filled with possibilities. Every footstep may bring you closer to God or further away. But the world needs those who choose Light, to make a stand and say, I am not willing to continue my life in this way of greyness and darkness. I wish to have a life filled with Love and Light.

So, we come and speak with you. These dear souls come and speak with you to hopefully ignite your imagination, your awareness, so that you may realize there is a choice, that you may come to understand how important is your life and your choices.

May the gift of your life be honoured and expressed in Love and in this, will come many other gifts. God pours His Love upon you at this moment, beloved souls. Strain to feel the Touch of His Love, bring yourself above the human condition. God will lift you up. His angels will support you. May you continue to strive for the highest, the brightest, the most beautiful, of Love. You will be blessed beloved souls, beyond your imaginings. It does not require anything more than your effort. It is a gift freely given by God.

God bless you beloveds. I am your teacher Augustine and I thank you for listening to what I have to say. May you grow beloved souls, in Light. That is my fervent prayer, that you grow in Light and Love. God bless you. God bless you.

Title: Seek the Love that will Carry you through the Changes

This place will be a refuge for you, my beloveds, in times to come. For there is great change coming to this world and there are times when you will need one another, and you will need the comfort of God in your lives. I urge you to band together in community, to work together to help the many souls who will be in need, who will be confused and distraught.

For the world is changing and the world is beginning to heal from the conditions that humanity has brought. The clouds will clear my beloveds. The pain will end, and the Truth will be made clear to every soul willing to listen. You must find within your hearts great strength and Love that will carry you through the changes that are coming and help you to see clearly the road you must follow that will bring harmony, not only to you in your lives but to many others.

Your souls seek this, beloveds. Your souls seek to be in the flow of Light. Listen, listen to that deep desire within. Seek to be open to what God has to give to you. Awaken yourselves so that God may use you as a channel of Love in the world.

Each of you walks a different path. Each of you sees differently the world, but together you have great vision and deep awareness, and this shall deepen and strengthen as you continue to grow within your souls and awaken to that part of you that continues to desire to grow and to become formed in Love.

Listen to your hearts, beloved souls and know that God hears your prayers and your longings. You shall be blessed and those you love shall be blessed and those that are coming shall be blessed. God will touch all who so desire to be in the Light.

God bless you. I am John the Beloved, and I love you. I love you. God bless you.

Title: Seek the Source of all Love, Truth and Light

I am Moses, Moses of the Bible. So many in your world drift upon a sea of despair. Lost and confused, they do not know themselves. They do not know why they are in this world. They do not see direction in their lives. They do not truly feel loved. And yet, at these moments together here in this circle, you rest upon a different sea, a sea of Love. A sea that is God's Presence amongst you.

Seek to drink these living waters, beloved souls. Waters that will nourish you, waters that will carry you beyond those conditions that humanity has created over many, many thousands of years, conditions that continue to bring pain and darkness to this world. You are drawn to Light, each one of you precious souls. You are drawn to the Light. You wish to have relief from the conditions of this world. You seek to know the Truth. You seek Love. And you must seek the Source. For in God, all things are possible. All blessings are given. All Truth becomes your Truth in time. The seeker must find what it looks for. The soul must find its purpose and direction in life. And until the soul finds its answers and knows its own self and realizes the possibility of Love, it is lost, and continues to drift upon the lonely waters of mankind's creation.

So, I beseech you beautiful souls, seek the Light. Go within to seek God. And in the stillness come the answers. In the longings of your soul, come the response of God's Touch upon you. Ask that His Love come into your soul and it will heal you. It will bring the answers you seek. It will awaken you. And in this experience and blessing that may come to you again and again, you will be changed, and you will be empowered to express Love in this world, to know Love within your hearts, to know the Source of all Love. This simple yearning of the soul, the desires of the soul, will guide you to where you must go. To that place of awakening, that place of knowing, that place of deep peace, that place that nourishes the very core of your being and will expand out and out, changing all of you, releasing your mind from its burdens and its confusion, bringing your bodies into alignment, bringing your spirit to joy.

These are the Laws of Creation, my beloved souls and they are simply understood and may be practiced without duress, but merely accepted and expressed through these longings and desires within.

Every soul desires God. It is merely the mind that keeps you from this awareness, beloveds. Do not allow your mind to hold you in a place where you cannot feel the awakening of your soul. Be kind and loving to yourselves. Have faith that in your efforts to reach God, you will have success. You will feel the joy of knowing God.

This is not difficult. This is easy. Do you not feel it now? Are you not enveloped in Light? Do you not have that recognition that there is a special relationship between you and God? For God created you. He created you to know His Love and you in your innocence and your longings will come to know God as the cornerstone of your life and in this all will follow, awakenings will happen, knowledge will come and most importantly you will love yourselves with such depth and peace and joy that all that is in this world cannot truly touch you, nor bring you pain, for you will be with God and God will be with you.

These are important Truths, my brothers and sisters. Take them to your heart. Pray and seek confirmation of what I say, and I promise you God will peel the scales from your eyes, will open your hearts like never before, will bring you to a place of such beautiful Light and loving upliftment that you cannot and will not turn back but move forward in this awakening of your souls.

God's Celestial Angels will be with you if your longings are sincere and your efforts sure. This is how God reaches you beloveds. This is how God reaches every soul. He awaits your prayers, your efforts to be with Him. It is but a moment of your effort. It is a flicker of Light from your soul sent to God and the response that you receive is magnificent, beautiful, powerful, joyful.

Be with God now, beloved children. Be with Him. Release your barriers, your inhibitions, your judgments and come to know God, who is eager, eager to be a part of your lives. God bless you beloveds. I am Moses and I come to you in Love. God bless you.

Title: Serve with Humility

Do you remember the story of your brother Jesus who walked the land speaking the Truth of the Divine Love? He was often met with skepticism until he displayed and expressed in different ways the power of Love in the world.

And so, this is your challenge, beloved souls, as you walk in your world bringing this message which is sanctioned by God and you are given all requirements, your needs are being met to bring this message forward. Yet those you encounter, though questioning and thirsting for Truth, may not believe your message. This is the dilemma of the Earth condition is it not? Something that you will be encountering time and time again in your efforts to bring this Truth. Yet you will plant seeds, beloved souls. You will bring the Truth. Keep in mind that for every soul present, there are many other spirits that accompany them, that the numbers that you are reaching is exponential to the numbers you see in the flesh.

So, this is a powerful work that you do. It is the beginning of something quite magnificent and you will be called upon again and again to bring this message forward in the world and you are learning how to communicate and connect with many. You will continue to make these efforts to put your focus upon the task at hand. Each opportunity is an opportunity for growth, to cultivate and to refine your message to the world and pray that God will manifest healing, will manifest Light amongst you and Love. Those who are receptive will feel the power of this, will feel within their hearts the Truth of it. It is not for you to judge or to assess the effects of your efforts, for this is God's Work is it not? It is for you to follow your guidance. Follow it with wisdom, clarity and humility, to allow God to carry you forth, listening to your guidance, listening to the desires of your hearts to be a channel of Love in this world.

And so, you will find some resistance, but you will also find some receptivity. If you go about this in a way that you desire recognition, approval and acceptance, my beloved souls I am sorry to say that you will not receive these things in great quantities. Yet there are some who will embrace you enthusiastically with love and I know this is gratifying to your efforts, but it is not what you seek. What you seek is to serve God and God always approves and Loves and embraces you, my beloved. This is what you must seek always. And, in this way, you will walk with humility and God will clear the obstructions upon your path and open those doors so that you may walk through in joy and a surety that you are following the Will of God.

So much awaits you, my beloveds. So much awaits you and we are very pleased that you are willing to make these efforts to be together, to teach together, to embrace those who come upon your path without judgment, without fear. Even without the desire to ensure that each soul within their minds knows the Truth with the language and correctness that you know. For these expectations cannot be met in one meeting with strangers, but you will speak your Truth in Love and many will catch the words of Truth and they will descend to their souls. So, there will be an awareness, a flickering of understanding and this is God's doing beloved souls as He puts the words in your mouth, as He allows the flow of His Love through you to those you meet, as He manifests the healing, the joy, the atmosphere of Love amongst you.

You are enacting your calling my beloveds. God has called you to service and you will see how God creates the Light. Have your eyes and ears open, your souls ready to give in Love and all will be well beloved souls. All will be well. Walk in faith and the surety that you are in God's Hands, that you will be channel of His Love. There is nothing to fear beloveds. All will be well.

God bless you. I am your teacher Augustine and I love you, dear charges. I love you dearly. I am very pleased with your efforts, your desires to serve. God bless you. God bless you.

Title: The World Needs Souls Longing for Light

I am Mary, mother of Jesus. May you feel within you the burning longing of your souls to be close to God, that you may come to God with the desires of your heart, the concerns of your life, the pains and difficulties of living a life in this world. Lay them at God's Feet and say, "My Beloved Heavenly Father, lift me up, bring me into the Light of Your Presence. Infill my soul with your Love so that I might live in harmony and peace, joy and Truth, of the Truth that you wish to give me may be blessed within my soul and percolate up into my mind so that this Truth may be clear and powerful, that I might be awakened in Love".

The world needs souls longing for Light. The world has a deep need for souls who are strong in Light and clear in Truth and loving in their demeanour. For the world is drowning in materialism and the minds of humanity are focused upon the basic conditions of this world and not upon their souls.

And yet, when a soul, an individual is in balance between the needs of their bodies and the needs of their souls, then there is joy and happiness, goodness and harmony. You must exemplify this, beloved souls. Be a child of God living in this world in harmony and peace and these gifts that come from God will be given to all who seek them. God does not choose who receives. He Loves all His children and will give to each and every soul that desires to be blessed with His Love and His blessings of healing and Light and Truth.

Know within yourselves beloveds that you are Loved and come to know the power of God's Love in a conscious and real expression within your life and your being. So much awaits every soul who desires to be with God. God will push away the barriers, will Light the path, will bring you ever closer to His Light and Presence. It is for you to desire this and to act upon the promptings of your souls to come to know your Heavenly Father.

I bless you with my love. For I love you dearly beloved souls, and all who seek Light and all who seek Truth, and all who seek this Love, this great blessing from God. God bless you and may He keep your soul in His Love and Light. I am Mary and I am with you and I love you. God bless you.

Title: Seek the Love of God and All Will Come

May God Touch each of your souls with His Love. That Touch may go deep within you and bring to you an awakening, an understanding of the blessings that God has to bring to each one of you, beloved souls. It is not difficult to see and to recognize, it is merely a desire away, a desire away, a prayer, a longing from within you. Yet, with this longing and prayer, this gift is available and may be given upon the request from that soul to receive its Touch within.

God's Love is available to you at this moment. Open yourselves, beloved souls. Allow this gift to pour into you, allow your souls to absorb, eagerly drinking of these Living Waters and therefore, beginning a journey that will never end. For in this gift comes the potential to be at-one with God, and in this oneness, there is infinite Love and a journey that will never end.

So, I urge you my beloved souls, seek this gift. Pray for this gift. Sit in silence and longing, openness and desire. Allow what God has to give you to manifest in a conscious way within and you will come to know your own souls with such clarity and beauty, such power and joyful recognition, that it will change your life beloved souls. It will change your life. For when one comes to know this place within these deep chambers of the soul, and when these chambers are filled with the blessings from God and awareness blossoms forth and you come to recognize your relationship with the Source of All, it colours and changes your perceptions, your awareness of the world, of yourselves, of the purpose of your life. Many deep changes and awarenesses come with the awakening of your soul and each of you in some way have a desire for this. You thirst for Truth. You thirst for Love. You thirst for Peace. You thirst for awakening and this great blessing, this substance that comes from God and is carried by the Holy Spirit will satisfy this yearning, will quench your thirsts, beloved souls.

So now you are issued an invitation to seek this highest of gifts, this greatest of blessings. May you reach out and allow this to touch you deeply, powerfully, beautifully. Blessed are those who seek the Light, blessed are the peacemakers, blessed are those who are humble and come to God to receive the blessings that are available to each and every soul. You are blessed my beloveds. May you continue to be blessed and the Light that builds within you may grow to a mighty flame, a powerful beacon in this darkened world. There is much for you to know and to experience, to grow and to awaken. Put your feet upon this path and you will find many, many blessings will come upon this journey. Seek the Love of God and all will come in its stead, beloved souls. I am Matthew and my love is with you. God bless you. God bless you beloveds.

Title: The Journey to Soul Awakening

I am John, John the Beloved. Every soul embarks upon a journey of life, seeking to know themselves, seeking to know life in all its complexities and possibilities, potentials. Yet, often that soul misses the opportunities that may come with knowing his soul. In your world, so few seek this, so few know how to discover their own soul, to find their true selves. And so, they travel their lives, often blind and unawakened, seeking gratification of the material, going about their lives responding to whatever events may come their way. Yet, they truly underestimate their own potential and abilities that are of a spiritual nature, and what benefits may come from this discovery and the opening of their souls in Light and Love.

Yet, each one of you here has been drawn to this circle of Light, seeking some answers perhaps, seeking an experience, seeking fellowship, seeking love. That desire to be together often originates from the soul, some need within you beloveds, to be in the Light in whatever way that may come by your experience together.

At this moment you are in the Light. At this moment you may realize some possibilities of receiving a gift, a blessing from God. May I suggest that you open yourselves to this gift. Make a silent prayer to God with these simple words, "Open my soul to the inflowing of your Essence, your Divine Love." Say this prayer from the feelings of your soul. For your souls crave this gift. Often this craving, this need, is ignored, for you are so much within your mind, the material mind, that the life of the soul, the possibilities of the soul coming to life are ignored and overwhelmed by the conditions of this world. Yet through this simple prayer, through this earnest desire to be with God, comes the opening of a whole new universe, a shift in perspective, a knowing that comes with the awakened soul.

The power of God's Love is immense, my beloveds. If every soul in the Universe prayed earnestly to receive this gift in unison, it could not possibly take a minute portion of this Love into themselves. Thus, the Love of God is infinite and cannot be received fully by one individual or a multitude. It is this vast, this wondrous, this glorious. And this Love of God is with you at this moment. Drink deep, beloved souls. Drink deep of this blessing. Come to know it, to savour it, to bring forth the desires of your soul so that this thirst that is within each one of you may be quenched for the moment and you may come back to this well again and again to receive ever greater quantities of these Living Waters, this Essence of God.

It takes but a moment of your time, a small effort from your soul, in conjunction with your mind coming together in prayer. In the reception of this gift you will know that you have come home to God. You will remember God's Love for you, and you will recognize its beauty and necessity in your lives.

Drink deep beloveds. Seek this gift. This gift, in time, will bring you at-onement with God and will redeem your souls, beloveds. Meaning, that your souls will be fit to enter the Celestial Kingdom and you will find a place within that Kingdom which is not of this Earth, that is beyond any explanation, beyond your conception of joy and love. No beauty you have seen compares with this place.

But first you must receive this Love, this Grace, and travel a road that takes your effort and your prayers and your desire to allow the Love to heal you, that you may release your pain, release all that is in error and not in harmony with God. This is a journey my beloveds. A journey that will bring you to Heaven and yet, it will not end there for Heaven is not a place that is static, it is ever-growing, and change comes with every moment. And so, you will continue to grow. Your souls will continue to expand in this Love as you continue to seek it, and this will never end.

So, I invite you upon a journey that is endless, magnificent, beautiful and joyful. Seek this gift from God and we will accompany you upon your journey and assist you in the inevitable travails and challenges that come with the awakening of your souls. But it is a journey like none other and there is nothing that can compare.

May you seek for this Love, the highest of all gifts and come to know your true selves in ways unexpected, delightful, magnificent, beautiful and filled with Love. God bless you beloveds, I am John the Beloved. Thank you for listening to me and may you drink deep from this well of Love. For God pours His Love into you whenever you allow the opening to be within your soul. God bless you. God bless you and I love you.

Title: Will You Respond to God`s Call?

I was once an inhabitant of Egypt many thousands of years past and now I reside in the Celestial Kingdom. My soul has been transformed by the Father's Love. I am now a Celestial Angel. We come to Earth to encourage others to follow this road to becoming an inhabitant of the Kingdom of God, with their souls resplendent in Divine Love.

Each of you has many gifts, beloved souls, and the untapped potentials, possibilities within. The power of God's Love will awaken the soul and bring you to the realization of these gifts and all the potentials of the soul and the mind in harmony with Love. So, it is for you in your prayers to seek the blessing of this Love in all its power and simplicity, its beauty and grace. For God desires to touch each one of you with this blessing and it is merely the effort that you are required to make in prayer to dig deep within you to know this desire that resides in your soul and to express this desire to God. This is not difficult, it merely requires time and focus and faith so that you may know the aspirations of your soul, come to know the power and beauty of your soul, as God awakens your soul step by step, prayer by prayer. As knowings emerge, possibilities are realized and Loves flows and flows, endlessly.

This is not a doctrine, beloved souls, it is a Truth. It is a part of God's Creation and it is available to any soul who so seeks it. No matter their station in life, their experiences in life, the condition of their soul, it matters not. For God Loves every soul and His Love is endless, deeper than any ocean, vaster than the Universe. His Love, His Love is for each one of you.

Quench the thirst of your soul beloveds. Seek this blessing. Come to know that part of yourself that yearns to be acknowledged and expressed. In this room God has blessed you with a portal of Light and in this portal, this connection between this Earth plane and the Heavens, many blessings are pouring down upon you, angels are present with you, Love is intense and easily accessed in this condition. So, I urge you my beloved souls to open yourself wide. Feel that place within you, deep within you, that yearns for God, yearns for Love, yearns to come awake and be realized in all its beauty.

May you be richly blessed beloved souls. May you put your steps upon that path of Love that will eventually take you to at-onement with God. God has drawn you together. He knows the desires of your soul. As you look back upon your life, do you see how God has guided you, continues to guide you, continues to put forth at your feet many opportunities to grow and to learn, to open and to acknowledge your souls?

Do not ignore these aspects of your being, these beautiful treasures that lie within you. Come to know who you truly are. How beautiful you are. The unique treasure that God has created in the world that is you and know how deeply you are loved. Feel that Love. Express that Love in the world. Be a channel of Love in the world.

For you are all aware how deeply the world needs to be loved. All the souls so lost, confused and misdirected, need your love. You bring a Light with your love, a Light that will help to dispel the darkness and bring a greater Truth to this world. God needs every soul who is willing to bring their Light, their love and their Truth into the world. Not to hide it away, to keep it from others, but to be strong and yet guided, truthful and loving to your brothers and sisters.

In this way, coupled with humility and faith, God will use you as a channel of Love. The rewards will be great, beloved souls. The opportunities many. The possibilities unimaginable at this time what will come, as God brings the cleansing Light to your world, shifting the conditions, opening up opportunities, bringing deep change to humanity. Thus, He requires many souls who are willing to help usher these changes forth bringing Truth and Love, showing the way to a world that is more in harmony, whose currency is Love, not greed or fear but Love.

In your minds you cannot see this as a possibility. For each of you have seen how the world is, knowing the conditions that are so powerful and dark. Yet, your souls respond to this message and know it to be true. And so, it is your souls that you must listen to. Cultivate an understanding of those aspects of your soul that will bring these Truths, this strength, this knowing, this Love, forth in you. This will be your guiding Light. This will show the path that God intends for each one of you.

I know this is challenging, often difficult. It sets you apart and yet it must be. For whether you are willing to walk upon this path or not, that which God has deemed to take place in this world will be, regardless. So, each soul has a choice, to be strengthened in Light, to follow the Truth of their souls, to be close to God or to continue in the human condition which in time will be neutralized by Love. Those who cannot withstand the power of Love, the way of Love, will perish from this world and find themselves in the world of spirit.

This cleansing will bring a new era of Light and peace in this world - a new beginning. As I have said, God needs those who are willing, who are strong enough, who can withstand the tumult that will come and will be able to bring about the changes that are necessary.

So, I urge you beloved souls, be strong in the Light, seek for the highest, acknowledge the power of Love and express this in your lives, and God will surely guide you beyond the dim understandings of your mind to the clarity and magnificence of the perceptions of your soul. May you realize all these potentials. May you come to be that individual that God has created in all its magnificence and Light. May you be a channel of Love for God.

This is my message to you, beloved souls. At this time, you are surrounded by angels. God's Touch is upon you. He has graced you with this magnificent portal of Light that brings about a bond of Love between you that may be used in the future to support you in these changing times. You are loved. God has a deep care and desire for your upliftment. May you listen and respond and grow in Light. Choices each day, each moment. All is available to you my beloved souls, so much. May you be open and respond to God's Call.

I give you my blessings and my love and I thank you for listening to me. For these are indeed serious times and we are making great efforts to reach humanity, to help usher in this change for the good and harmony of this world. So, I wish love for you beloved souls, peace in your lives, joy in your heart, wisdom of your souls. God bless you. I am Seretta Kem. God bless you.
