INTRODUCTION

At the end of the first Angels' Questions and Answer Retreat in January 2019, Confucius said, "We are very happy that you have spent this time together in prayer, to listen to our words, to contemplate these truths, to understand in deeper ways the progression of the soul through the Father's Love. We are happy that you have dedicated some time to be together in this prayerful way. For as this instrument has commented, there is a harmony amongst you, a blessing that comes with your presence together. I would urge you, beloved brothers and sisters, to be together again in some time coming in this year so that you may sit as you have and listen and formulate your questions, formulate your desire for more truth, given in prayer and quiet contemplation together."

And so we gathered during July 2019 at the Divine Love Sanctuary in Gibsons, B.C. Canada, which is also the home of Al and Jeanne Fike where there is a beautiful Portal of Light. It was delightful to be in prayerful communication with one another, with the Celestial Angels, and with God. Once again there was great harmony amongst the group. We used this opportunity to brainstorm and consider questions we felt were the most important to our soul development. When we were unable to formulate questions as concise and descriptive as we desired, we trusted the Angels would have heard our discussion and be able to discern the essence of what we felt we needed to know. And it happened just that way. It seemed they took delight in our mortal efforts to delve deeply for the questions most important at this time for us and for you who would be reading the answers they provided. These messages were channeled by Al Fike, a medium through whom Celestial Angels have spoken since 2011.

Josephus who was to be the primary responder to our questions opened the retreat telling us that he would be working with us during this journey to bring through deeper and higher teachings of the Truth, that they had been working towards this goal for quite some time, and that they ask us to be focused and prayerful and set aside outside (earthly) distractions. He advised us to be vigilant of thoughts and feelings not of love, that we had all the resources, support, blessings to help bring through these Truths clearly without hindrance of the human condition. It was indeed a sobering message that we were starting upon a most important mission, that our (spiritual) conditions would influence the success of this effort to fulfill the Heavenly Father's Will and desire to bring Truth to humanity. However, we were uplifted by Josephus' words: Yes, this venture is serious, beloved souls. Its timing is crucial. These efforts are great. If you could see the number of Celestial Angels and high spirits that are engaged to bring about these few precious moments of communication and rapport and efforts together, you would be humbled. You would be humbled by the attention and focus that is put upon you, beloveds.

And Augustine further emphasized the importance of this retreat on that opening day by saying: The blessings and power of Love and Light that will be generated will reach far and wide in your world and deeply into the dark spheres and into those gray spheres above. There will be many thousands upon thousands of spirits who will be attending this gathering. Although, in your minds and your material reality, this may seem a very humble venture indeed, in a very humble place, small and intimate. In truth, it is the nexus of a very powerful source of blessings for many. And you have, each of you, whether you are conscious of this or not, will be a part of something very important that is powerfully blessed by God and you have willingly come to be a part of this. May the revelations that come to each one of you be deep, profound, to change and shift your thinking and understanding of Truth. The nexus...what powerful inspiration it was to hear that! Augustine also invited all who are a part of our spiritual community and family to join in prayer to support this great effort and many were able to pray with us; we felt that presence as well as the presence of those in spirit.

These several days were a time of soul development for all involved, including profound changes for some and continued steady awakening for others. Questions were answered which helped clarify our understandings, helped our mortal minds grasp concepts that had been hazy or misunderstood. As the Angels have told us often, the Truths have been presented during the past through various writings and messages but because of our mindful desires and need for repetition they are bringing them to us once again in different words. Toward the end of the retreat it was evident to all of us that there were no more questions that we felt were important enough to ask of the Angels. I believe we all felt complete and confident that we could continue our own soul development through our prayerful requests for Divine Love to flood our souls, to be channels of God's Love and instruments willing to serve according to God's Will.

God bless you. May you have the courage to go deep in your soul to discover the disharmony and the strength to feel it and let it be replaced with God's Love. May you recognize the blessings and gifts you have been given. May your life be filled with the joy of finding Truth and sharing it with everyone you meet.

MESSAGES FROM CELESTIAL ANGELS

The messages received in Gibsons during the July 2019 Divine Love Retreat were from Angels, Celestial spirit guides and teachers who once lived on Earth...yes, they were human once and through their soul longings were transformed from the image of God into Divine spirits by praying to God sincerely for an inflowing of Divine Love.

PREFACE

Know the Subtleties of Your Soul in Your Work as a Channel of Love

Jesus June 27, 2019 Medium Al Fike

Beloved souls, I come. I am Jesus. I come to bless you on your journeys and your efforts to bring the Truth of God's Love to the world. I come to tell you that God's Hand rests firmly upon you, each one; that you are truly blessed within your souls and that those blessings that reside within your souls, this Love of God's Essence that shines forth within you, will touch many other souls as you travel this world, as you continue to speak the Truth and walk in Light and Love.

You do my work, beloved souls. Know that I am with you in this work and will continue to guide and uplift and bless you beloved souls, as you seek to be God's instruments of Truth and Love and Blessings. God bless you. God bless you and keep you in His Love. I am with you, my love is with you. God bless you.

Maureen: Jesus, may I ask you a question?

Yes, you may ask, beloved daughter.

Maureen: When you say that others will be blessed by our presence when we pass by these people, can you express what that blessing may look like?

You must understand dear daughter that there is communication from soul to soul; that your work is soul to soul; though in your mind you may not recognize and understand this communication, there will come a time for each of you where you will see and comprehend the depth and the value and the blessing that comes with this connection that is made from soul to soul.

I know that you are all eager to understand the dynamics that the soul expresses and is a part of in this work that we all encourage you to do in the world and it is difficult for any of us to explain to you with the limited functions of the mind how this may be and how you may understand it to be. This, beloved daughter, is where faith comes in to your work; to have faith that God is indeed guiding and using you as a channel of Love and is using you in many ways in accordance to the gifts of your soul, flowing and expressing themselves through your daily routines and existence. You may indeed touch another soul who is far distant from you but who is in prayer, and we utilize your light, the power of your soul, to touch another in blessings, to reach another who is praying and longing within their soul to be blessed and uplifted.

So, the flow of your work is very deep and what you comprehend as your work is somewhat shallow in comparison to what truly is. There will come a time where you will understand, dear daughter, and all of you will come to understand the flow of this work, the depth and the intricacies of what you do as an open channel for God. So I say to you dear daughter, in times to come you will receive this understanding and guidance that will assist you to truly comprehend the power of truly being a channel of Love in the world. For now, it is a matter of faith. For now, you feel the energies and influences that ebb and flow in your lives, and this is an indication of what is being expressed through you and blessed through you from God. But, further than this understanding, you must have the soul progression; you must be awakened to the subtleties of knowing the dynamics of the soul and this is not just a life-long pursuit, it is a pursuit that will last for all eternity as your soul evolves and grows in the Love and Essence of God.

But you begin dear daughter, as all of you begin, to have an inkling and understanding of the depth and wonderment of the great potentials and possibilities of the soul awakened in God's Love. And we continue to assist you in this understanding and awakening. We are like the midwives attending a birth; the birth of your soul beloveds, and we will take the utmost of care, with the tenderest of love, to ensure that all that you might come to understand and know of the Truth and wonderment of God's Love within your soul may be realized. God bless you beloved daughter. God bless you all.

Maureen: Thank you for the blessing of your words, for your soul and for your gift to all of us. We love you dearly. We love you.

Introduction to a Significant Retreat

Josephus July 6, 2019 Medium Al Fike

I am Josephus and I will be working with you in the next several days to help bring through deeper and higher teachings of the Truth that will benefit you and benefit many. We have been working towards this goal now for quite some time and we are pleased that we are to gather together a powerful group of mediums and apprentices and supporters for this task. Yes, your arrangements have not gone quite as planned but nonetheless, we will be able to accomplish our task. What we ask of you and all those who are involved to be focused and prayerful, to set aside the concerns and details of the material world for this time, and to be well-prepared for your sessions together.

You have all that you require to accomplish this task. Before you is a Portal of Light, powerful, and has been built and reinforced and energized for a number of years now and this will be most beneficial to our efforts. Those spirits who are dedicated and committed to this task are awaiting your times together and we will all do our utmost to clear away any obstructions to communications and to help facilitate high conditions that are in harmony with God and God's Love. It's the yearning of your souls, my friends, that will help to facilitate the outcomes which we all desire.

Prayer, beloveds, as much prayer as you can engage in during your day and even your nights is important at this moment, so that indeed the dark conditions of your material world will be cleared and a beautiful and bright light will shine upon you all. In this way, you will all be inspired, you will all utilize the faculties of your souls to understand what we are about to convey to you and that you will continue to strengthen the bonds together, to work together for the great ends of the salvation of mankind in this world.

Truth must be said, beloved souls, clearly, unequivocally, beautifully. Truth is so elusive to the children of this world. Truth is so easily distorted by those men whose minds wish to fashion truth to their own ends, or to adjust truth so that they will feel comforted by what they believe. So your task is important, requires focus, requires an uplifted soul, a condition of love and harmony. Because you embark upon an important mission and already in this place a Light has been built, you are also subject to the attacks of negative forces who wish to put out this Light and to divert you from your task. Be vigilant of your thoughts, of those feelings that well up that are not of love. I do not say this in criticism, but I must say that mortals are the weak link in this chain of Truth. For their conditions are unreliable, intransigent and difficult at times, to help bring through Light and Truth in clear and ways that are of the highest. Yet you have all the resources, the support, the blessings, the condition of your soul which is filled with God's Love, to help awaken these faculties and gifts and abilities so that you may bring through these Truths clearly without hindrance, without the human condition impinging upon it.

Yes, this venture is serious, beloved souls. Its timing is crucial. These efforts are great. If you could see the number of Celestial angels and high spirits that are engaged to bring about these few precious moments of communication and rapport and efforts together, you would be humbled. You would be humbled by the attention and focus that is put upon you, beloveds. Do not be the weak links, but the strong links in this effort. Do not judge others nor assume anything, but be open, receptive, faithful, and strong in your love of God. In this way, what is meant to manifest and come through you will do so, and do so in all its glory and beauty. The wonderment of God's Touch upon you all will be felt and known.

We come for the benefit of humanity, to bring these Truths forward, this wisdom, this understanding of soul, of God, of the Universe. You, my beloved and beautiful friends, who are willing to participate and be humble channels of this, will be deeply blessed in the process. You will come to know in a deeper way the power of your own souls, the awakening of your own true and beautiful selves in the Light of God's Love.

Yes, the busyness of your world, the demands of this material plane, the conditions that each of you must deal with on a daily basis, the challenges that you individually have, and the error that continues to live within you, although not great in measure, but still exists. With all of these things, you must be strong enough to deal with, to put aside, to ameliorate, to pray about, and to welcome the Blessings of God to bring you peace and harmony. Consider your own conditions, beloveds. Consider what your challenges are and put aside your fears and worries, concerns and distractions, and be in the Grace of God for these times together, where Love will flow and peace will reign. We will be close, as close as we can be, so that we shall work together as one in the name of our Heavenly Father's Will and desire to bring Truth to humanity.

May God bless you, beloved souls. The first beginnings of a little adventure, something that may have a far greater impact than you may realize at this time but will indeed bring something deep and profound for each one of you and a gift to the world.

God bless you, I am Josephus. I will be with you during this journey as will many, some that you do not know of but will meet, some that you know well and, of course, the beloved Master will bless you all with his presence and gifts of love. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you.

Invitation to Many to Pray With Q&A Retreat

Augustine July 7, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I wish to convey a message through you to all who are part of your spiritual community and family. I wish to invite all who are able to join in prayer, a vigilance of prayer for this work that you are about to enter into, that this prayerful support will enhance and give vitality to your efforts. Though there are many who cannot be here in the flesh, we ask them to be here in spirit, in the spirit of love, in the spirit of prayer, in the spirit of support for these efforts. For we intend to uplift you all into higher realms of consciousness and of spirit. There will be visions and there will be great inspiration and revelation for each of you, beloved souls, even those of you who do not believe this is possible. Given the conditions that we wish to build amongst you, these faculties will blossom and open, for they will have found the right environment from which to do so. Those who will be praying with you from far away will also be touched by this loving condition. An angel will be with them.

The blessings and power of Love and Light that will be generated will reach far and wide in your world and deeply into the dark spheres and into those gray spheres above. There will be many thousands upon thousands of spirits who will be attending this gathering. Although, in your minds and your material reality, this may seem a very humble venture indeed, in a very humble place, small and intimate. In truth, it is the nexus of a very powerful source of blessings for many. And you have, each of you, whether you are conscious of this or not, will be a part of something very important that is powerfully blessed by God and you have willingly come to be a part of this. May the revelations that come to each one of you be deep, profound, to change and shift your thinking and understanding of Truth.

Much awaits, my beloved souls. May all those who are connected in this bond of Love, souls who continue to seek out the Father's Love, join with you in these efforts. So, I ask you to set your times and abide by your commitments. This is not a casual venture, beloved souls. It requires your steadfastness and a strength to lie forth what is required to accomplish these tasks.

May God bless you accordingly, beloved souls, all of you involved, all the beautiful mortals who are seeking to bring love and light to this world of yours as God's instruments and harbingers of Truth. Band together in unity and singleness of purpose, so that we may indeed bring greater light into this world, as God blesses us all in this mutual effort.

God bless you beloveds. It is your teacher Augustine and I indeed shall come and speak to you in your group. God bless you. God bless you, beloveds.

Take Your Commitment Very Seriously

Seretta Kem July 7, 2019 Medium AI Fike

Bless you for your efforts, beloveds. Bless you for your prayers. Bless you for your dedications. Bless you for all those expressions of your soul as God touches your soul, awakening bit by bit, aspect by aspect, your souls, bringing them alive in this world. How many in your world possess a soul that is at least partially awakened? How many strive for this? How many understand what this is even, in your world? We continue to encourage you to take very seriously your commitment to do so, to move forward in this way, to allow the wonderment that is your soul, to awaken and to be expressed in this world, through God's Love.

There is nothing that will hold you back, beloveds, but it does require your time and your efforts. It does require that you put aside all those things that would distract and inhibit and bring you to that place where your condition and your light is diminished. Yet, within your soul is a great burning desire to be in the great flow of Love, to be close to God, to be a clear and beautiful channel of His Love.

Yes, my beloved and beautiful friends, there is a plan awaiting you. It is reliant upon your efforts and your progression and your capacity to be in this flow, to dedicate yourselves to God's plan for the salvation of mankind. Do not be distracted, beloved souls, but continue to work to these ends. Continue to have faith that you will indeed walk upon this path of Love a great distance while you are here on this Earth. There is nothing that can hold you back, beloveds. Walk with a strident effort towards Light.

Do not allow the earthly conditions to inhibit or to delay you upon this. For, in your souls you know that there is something magnificent that is coming within each one of you. There is something beautiful to be expressed through each one of you. There is a great and wondrous plan that will unfold in accordance to your inner condition and connection with God.

Yes, we draw dear souls to you in these coming days, who are eager, who are curious, whose souls bring them forth to this Light and place, with you beloved souls. You will continue to assist others in their development, in their understanding of love and soul awakening. There is much that you may impart and there is some which you may learn from these beautiful souls who are coming.

Be true to God's Will. Seek fervently His Will for you. Seek out the expression of your own soul's desires and gifts. Seek to be a channel of love. In these ways, upon this journey, you will meet many souls, many who see the world differently from you, beloveds. Yet, within them is the same desire for truth, for awakening, for God. As you continue to grow in this Blessing of Love, you may be the shining example and the way forward for many. You give them hope, you give them encouragement, you give them strength, and you point the way to God.

In time, you will manifest many gifts that will make your work easier to educate, to embrace, to show the way to the Truth of God's Love. Each day you step closer. Each day is an opportunity for you to shed some more of those conditions which hold you back and to be replaced by God's Love.

Step forward in faith. Embrace all you meet upon this path. Be clear in your thinking, in your words, in your actions, in your efforts and prayers. May you be clear and steadfast, seeking for the highest, seeking to fulfill God's plan for each one of you. You will see how the work continues, how with each day tiny miracles unfold, opportunities abound, possibilities are realized, love grows with every turn and every blessing.

We continue to walk with you, beloved souls, and you are becoming more aware of our presence and God's Touch upon you. This beautiful bringing together of all these elements and aspects of your being and your life within the universe of God continues to awaken your consciousness and your capacity to know and understand the Truth, to come to know God in an intimate way where He is consciously present in every moment, where your souls feel and express deep joy and gratitude with each day.

So much is coming, beloved souls. Now, there is little in your way as you step forward and much to be discovered upon the Path Divine. Awaken, brothers and sisters; awaken to your destinies and be in the mighty river of God's Love.

May God bless you deeply and fully, richly and beautifully with His Love. I am with you, Seretta Kem. I am with you. God bless you. God bless you. I love you.

Choose To Love All

Keea Atta Kem July 7, 2019 Medium AI Fike

God bless you, it is Keea Atta Kem. I wish to speak about the importance of harmony in your Circles of Light. God brings together many diverse individuals who have had their unique experiences in your world, thus creating for themselves their perspectives and mindful ideas of truth and spirituality. Sometimes those ideas do not correlate with your own. Sometimes you may feel uncomfortable with what the other is expressing as their heartfelt truth. Most often these differences originate from the mind, the material mind, and the material mind persists and holds onto different concepts, constructs of ideas, bringing a certain comfort to the individual. The mind wishes to make concrete those beliefs, to bring its version of truth to the experiences that are spiritual in nature. So the mind persists and is strong in its beliefs and is stubborn to release that which may be of error, or even to listen to another's perceptions and ideas. So you have the crux of the reasons why there is so much conflict in this world, do you not?

The mind often desires control to pursue strength and power and these things are not in harmony with love. Love accepts and embraces, beloveds. When your souls are imbued with God's Love, it is important to express this Love with acceptance, to express this Love with inclusion, to express this Love without judgment. These are the challenges of each individual who is often ruled by the mind yet compelled by the soul to be in this loving state.

For most in this world of yours there is little love and acceptance, merely seeking out those who agree with their perspective and reinforcing the need for comfort and community in regards to these beliefs. Yet you, my beloved souls, continue to venture forth in the world amongst a great diversity of individuals. You continue to reach out and to make efforts putting aside your biases and judgments so to be in the flow and harmony of God's Love.

Yet these human qualities, these mindful qualities, continue to rear their heads in your thoughts and your expressions. It is important at this time and indeed for all times, to quell these thoughts, to seek for the highest which is not of the mind but of the soul, to seek to be in harmony with God, and to allow the Love of God to flow unimpeded and powerfully forth for all your brothers and sisters.

Now, that which has been taught and incorporated in the mind and believed with such dedication and adherence, is very difficult to release or to reform into something more in alignment with God's Truth and Love. These are the challenges that each of you face who are walking upon this Divine Path. For love must be the foundation of all and the expressions of love, as I have said, are of acceptance without judgment.

I urge you to love and to accept. Not in a way that you are detached and do not feel any judgment nor any love or that place that is neutral. This is not what I am implying. Instead, love with passion, love with grace, love with authenticity, love powerfully. Express your soul without the fear that that expression and that openness with another will be met with rejection or judgment from them. I say to you, beloved souls, even if this is the case, love anyway. Love, because this is your purpose, your mandate from God, to love. In the flow and power of this Love there is no hurt, there is no sense of rejection, because from soul to soul there is an understanding and acceptance when there is Light.

So I say to you beloved souls, your minds continue to challenge you, to derail often the flow of love. Yet each day is a new beginning, a new challenge to be met, a new way to be expressed and renewed love that brings healing to all that is not of love. This is your challenge, beloveds: Be love. live love, desire love, express love in all the ways you are able, and there are many. It is a matter of focus and desire and application. This is not altogether difficult or impossible. It is merely the power of your choice, the power that comes when you say: "I desire to be an expression of my soul's light and love and truth, not that of my mind which has been so infected by the human condition."

As you continue to grow in Love, so you begin to see the difference. You begin to recognize this duality within you. With this recognition, comes an understanding and a need to integrate, to bring together these two parts of yourself in harmony, and to let go of all conditions that are not in harmony with love, that are not of God's Laws of Love.

Walk in the Light, my beloved friends. Be the Light. Express the Light within your souls and love, love. Love all. In this way, harmony comes and it is the only way that true harmony will come. It is the power of love that washes away all that is of hurt and pain, of judgement and error. It is the power of love that brings you together in Light and brings you to God in unity and singleness of purpose, so that that connection is forged with great power and wonderful response.

Beloveds, you are Love within you. Acknowledge this. Express this. Be the love that your soul desires to be and that God wishes for all to be. In this way, you teach the most powerful lesson. In this way, you express the most powerful Truth. In this way, you are truly a child of God.

May God bless you, beloveds. I am Keea Atta Kem and I love you, beautiful souls, beautiful souls who struggle in a human world. May God bless you and uphold you and Love you, as you progress forward. God bless you.

Personal for AI

Augustine July 8, 2019 Medium Maureen Cordso

It is Augustine here. As you all prepare for this very important task, we have a message for our most precious instrument that we will be bringing these higher teachings and truths through. Our beloved son, we have been working with you for these many years, helping the development of your gift of mediumship, helping the development of your soul, your spiritual condition. We have been working with you for these many years in preparation for such a time.

We deeply appreciate your commitment to be a worker for God, to allow your soul to be blessed by the Love of God so that you may serve in the highest way with these teachings. Though you do not think of yourself as one who is put higher upon another with your gifts, this is your humility my son, and it is important to stay humble. But what we wish to relay to you is that your gift of mediumship has attained such a height, you carry the ability to hold a great rapport with us and receive these messages with great clarity.

We understand that as you embark upon this task that many have gathered for, there is a weight of responsibility placed upon you. We assure you, our beloved instrument that we will protect you, the angels of healing will be with you and your loving guides surround will you. What we ask of you as our instrument for this very special task, is that you focus upon this one task. For we know, the loving soul that you are, hosting the many people that flow through your home, you feel a certain responsibility to ensure that their needs are also met as they are in your home. But my son and I speak also to all those who will be in the home, receiving these messages, this is not your task. There are many capable, loving, soulful and heartfelt individuals in your midst that will support the physical tasks that need to be done throughout this week. We need you well rested and we need you to care for your physical body in a gentle way. We ask that you do not over-exert yourself this week and that you rest when you need to. For we know in past, your willfulness feels that you can do many things, but it is not necessary this week and we beseech you, my son, to heed this guidance.

There is great love for all. We have been working diligently on our side of life to ensure that these messages that you are now ready to hear will come through. We appreciate our beloved instrument in setting aside those tasks that will cause an exertion of strength, and the responsibility and feeling that he should be taking care of others that are in his home. It is not the week for that, our beloved instrument. I know that you take this work for God to deep heart and as your teacher who has been guiding you for these many, many years; I know you will take my words to heart as well. God bless you, our son. We all love you. God's Hand is upon you. Take good rest this week.

My love is with all of you and there is great anticipation in the Celestial Heavens for what we are all about to embark upon. I am Augustine your teacher. My love is always with you. Today, I speak more firmly, but always with love. God bless you, I am Augustine.

The Gift of Mediumship

Augustine July 8, 2019 Medium Al Fike

It is your teacher Augustine who has come again to speak. I wish to speak about the gift of mediumship; to give a small lesson on this subject, a subject that all of you are very interested in and desire to know more about. In truth, this gift of communicating with spirit is very common amongst mortals. It is not well understood nor is it well recognized in your world that is so materially focused. Yet, many have this gift in some way or another and are able to communicate with us through the faculties that are both within the mind and the soul. Yet, this possibility and blessing of communication is rarely acknowledged nor used in your world because the faculties of the material mind are revered and focused upon in many of your cultures. Materialism has made its mark upon every mind and every soul in this world. In this way, these grosser aspects of life have their way within the world and the refined gifts that each soul has as a potential within them but cannot find a way of expression or acknowledgement from that individual.

So, the world continues to be weighted down by the material consciousness that is so finely tuned and honed in the minds of humanity. Thus, the possibility of understanding these gifts and possibilities are lost and when these gifts are displayed, most do not believe or recognize its authenticity. For those who do display these gifts, in very, very many cases, the material mind influences what communication is given to such a high degree that much of the true information is lost in these communications. As you know, communicating with spirits that are of a somewhat lower order is easier for these individuals. This has, in some circles, become a common practice. Yet, what is conveyed in these communications is somewhat mundane, though has its place and is helpful to some.

There is a tendency to be fixated upon these sorts of communications. This is unfortunate for there are higher teachings, great flows of truth that are available to humanity when they are asked for and those who listen are receptive to. Yet, there are very few instruments in the world who are able to sustain and accomplish these sorts of communications. When it comes to the Celestial angels able to communicate through an instrument such as this, it is very rare indeed, very rare. Yet, many of you here in this circle have experienced this very often. It becomes commonplace and a norm for you. And I say to you, you are greatly blessed to have such opportunities, greatly blessed indeed. Do you know what it takes to be able to accomplish such things? It is not an easy task. It is not accomplished with casual commitment nor with mindful desire. It is accomplished through a soul awakened to some degree to the Divine Love for the Laws must be obeyed. The Laws of Communication and Rapport are exacting. You cannot underestimate how fortunate you are to be able to experience this form of communication with us. And we do not underestimate the value and importance of this channel that is created in the world.

We embark upon various efforts to take full advantage of these opportunities and we are guided by God in this respect as are you. Though often you comment that few listen to what is being spoken, that even when great Truths are offered many do not believe or seek to discredit. This is the human condition that continues to work towards maintaining the darkness in your world. Yet, through this instrument and others, we have been able to bring forth great teachings of Truth. In this we are very pleased and we are focused upon further expressions of Truth through these instruments.

Indeed, none are perfect, none may bring all that we wish to convey for each instrument has limitations and that which may be expressed in clarity, while some other Truths may be obscured by their lack of mindful knowledge. This is understandable by you all and is not to be a concern, for we continue to work with and desire to develop other mediums, conveyers of Truth in your world. It is the act of expressing these messages of Truth that sustains the possibility of greater Truth to come for when you support this in the ways that you do, then you ensure that the chain of communication continues in your world. This is a great blessing for you personally and for this world. So, beloved souls, it is your efforts and prayers, your desires and your presence that helps to sustain what is and will be a powerful and beautiful effort by God to awaken humanity to Truth.

You are all equal in this effort and the quality and intensity of these efforts are determined by your wishes, your prayers, your presence together. At this time the greatest intensity of Light on your planet is at this very spot. It is a blessing from God. It is a great gift from God. Recognize your own responsibilities in maintaining and honoring this gift, and that if this time together is successful, I will tell you that other times are coming where you will gather in this way and bring these blessings forth.

The power and gift of mediumship is just one small part of this great effort. There are many, many blessings pouring into your world through this channel that has been created here together. I wish you had the eyes to see, the soul ability to acknowledge and to recognize all the many complex layers of work, of effort that is being expressed at this moment as you sit together and flows forth into the world touching many souls. Yes, the words that will be spoken are important, but I tell you the deeper work is all that is being expressed through this nexus of Light to the world, bringing an effect, a change, uplifting and ameliorating the darkness in your world. This is very much the key to God's Plan for the salvation of mankind, for those to gather together creating a channel, a Portal of Light that will influence not just the immediate conditions but will flow forth and affect the surroundings in an expansive and powerful way in your world.

Yes, there is much work to do and often that work seems simple, even mundane, but I tell you, with a soul ignited with God's love, with the inclusion of the Celestial angels and the Touch of God upon it all, you will be able to effect great change in the world through these efforts. There is much to do. There is a great plan afoot and each of you within your souls is well aware of this and has committed to this plan, not just in your time that you have discovered the Truth of God's Love but has done so from the very beginning. Your souls have committed to this great effort and will come to understand more fully your place within this plan and your purpose in this world.

I know that you acknowledge and appreciate the gift of mediumship that makes possible my communications and those of the angels. This is a beautiful gift but I tell you, my friends, the possibilities and expressions of God's work in this world go far deeper than this overt manifestation. Consider this, beloveds, consider that each day, each moment of each day holds the great potentials of being a channel of Light and Love, of healing and peace, of comfort and Truth for the world.

Though there are times when you must focus upon the material, I urge each of you to spend a good portion of your day and ask God to use you as a channel of Love, an instrument of change and of Truth. This is what the world needs, beloved souls. This is what God desires of each of you and this is what your souls have come to recognize. In this way the vistas will open, the understanding will increase. In your own way and your own capacity to know, these things will come and they will deepen and intensify, awakening many possibilities, awakening great love and joy within you, awakening your true selves so that you may truly know your Creator and truly know what God has created within you and all about you. No greater journey can there be but this, beloved souls, no deeper blessing than His Love. Awaken, my beloveds, awaken and know that you are loved. God bless you. I am your teacher Augustine and my love is with you always. God bless you. God bless you deeply. Thank you for listening.

Walk With Humility and Grace

Bright Star July 8, 2019 Medium AI Fike

My name is Bright Star. I was originally from what you call Vietnam and I am a guide of our dear friend who is new to you. I am also an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom, hence my name. I am bright in Light, in Love. I welcome my friend and the friends that are coming. We have worked very diligently to bring you all together. And there is a plan, my beloved friends, a plan that is far-reaching to bring this Truth of God's Love and blessings to many.

As you continue to add more and more souls who are yearning for this Love into your circles, so you reach out deeper and further into the world. With this blessing and Light that comes to those souls, so then these blessings touch others who are part of their lives and on it will go, this multiplying of Light in the world, this beautiful Love, as it spreads and touches each soul, this great blessing that brings peace and harmony to the world. There are many spirits here from many different parts of the world, many different cultures and nationalities that are now seeking greater light, greater love, greater truth. So we come together to share this Truth of God's Love with many for every one person, one soul in the flesh in this circle, there are hundreds more. So your work is far-reaching, my beloved friends. What you are to learn in these circles will indeed help you to continue to expand your awareness, your love, your light and give you the possibility of reaching many others all around the world.

It is because within your souls is a deep longing to help, to assist and to love your brothers and sisters, no matter from where they come, what language they speak, what perspective they have. It is the souls of those who are connected and are reachable yet by love that understands this Truth.

So that, when you bring love, when you are a light, when you embrace all you meet, you communicate truth; you bring the message of love. Those who are receptive will feel comfort from your embrace and will look into your eyes and know that they can trust and be open and know what you have to say is from your heart. This is how God will work through each soul who desires to be a channel of Love in the world. It is in your light, how you are with another, how you are willing to serve and how connected you are to the great Creator of all, that will bring the blessings and Truth to the world.

Many great leaders and teachers have walked the world with humility and grace. The beloved Master, the teacher of Love, taught in this way. It was his gaze, his eyes upon you that uplifted and brought hope to your soul. And it is and will be with you my friends, as the light of your soul continues to shine through your eyes, through your being, bringing a great light, much peace, tranquility and truth.

The world needs to learn to trust again, to reach out again, to be one big family in God's beautiful world. So you, my beloved friends, need to express this with each day, each time you are out into the world, to walk in love, to be a light, to share God's Love with others. Think of what you do and what you say, what you think, how you express yourselves in the world and be sure to bring love into all, to express love in all that you do. For the world hungers for love; the souls thirst for love. The minds of those who are lost, still know that love is important and you must give them the signal, the truth that reinforces this truth, that love is most important.

May you all walk with God, beloved souls. May you all see with the eyes of your soul the great Light of God and know His Touch upon you and feel the Grace of Love that emanates from His Great Soul. Be at peace my friends, and know that you are in a bright and beautiful place, blessed by God. Allow your souls to emerge and to expand and absorb this great Light of His Love so that you may bring the Light with you and walk in the Light always.

I am Bright Star and thank you for allowing me to speak. My love, my light is with you all. God bless you, beloved, beloved souls. God bless you.

Your Efforts are Necessary to Bring Change

Albert Einstein July 9, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Albert Einstein and I want you to know that I am climbing the stairs towards the Celestial Kingdom. I have been doing so for quite some time now and I am close. I am in the seventh and will soon be part of that illustrious family of Celestial angels. I want you to know that I have observed you a great deal, in this time of my continued progress and soul development. For, I am a curious person. I want to know everything that is of Truth. I want you to know that some of you here have helped me in my progress, as you have helped many in spirit. Continue to speak the Truth to all who will listen. So, I have discovered the key to awakening the great potentials of the soul. It is this Divine Love, this Essence from on High that illuminates all those faculties that lie hidden within the soul.

I wish to encourage you all in your spiritual work. Great leadership does not come from great intellect, my friends. It comes from great heart and clarity of thought. When one adds a sincere desire to help humanity to whatever that you do in life, then there is a great power that comes with this expression and I say, a great love that comes over those who have compassion for the many who are lost in the world and ignorant.

I am beginning to realize that much of the insights that I gained when I was on Earth, came from these faculties within me that my mind had trouble to recognize. But because I also had a deep sense of intuition, I was able to put together many things that my mind was able to comprehend and my soul was able to receive from outside influence. So, I was a great success in the world and I must say that it was not because I was what they call a genius. It was because I had gifts and capacities that I allowed to be expressed, that I trusted. This brought deep insights into the secrets of the physical world.

Now I wish to apply these gifts to teach and bring forward insights about the spiritual world and the soul in relationship with God. There are many like myself who are deeply eager to guide humanity towards Truth, to guide humanity towards the Source of all Truth, to guide the soul to Love.

My beloved friends, you are on the right course. You have many gifts and potentials amongst you. If these capacities were realized and expressed in ways that others can understand, then you have the ways and means of making a great impact in the world. Those things that I accomplished in my time in the flesh, will pale in comparison to what you may bring to help the world understand themselves, the potential of humanity. For there is so much that is unrealized, so much that is lost and wasted and suppressed because of human belief in things that are not real or true.

You have stepped beyond those conditions and sought to awaken yourselves to something greater. Because of this, you have drawn to you many beautiful souls. You have drawn to you God's Touch upon you. You have drawn many, many things, many blessings, great power, great Love. You have begun to learn the power of knowledge and the power of utilizing the Laws of your existence.

It is important that you continue to seek out Truth, to express Truth, to exercise your will towards the expression of your potentials. When you do this and you have faith in yourselves and faith in God's guiding Hand, the possibilities are limitless. You will see and come to know such deep and profound understanding of things that are such a mystery to humanity. With this clear and powerful understanding, you may step forward in any crowd, in any gathering, in any setting and proclaim the Truth and you will be heard, because the power of your presence, the depth of your knowledge, the Light of your Love will radiate forth and touch many souls.

God has a plan that is far-reaching. It is meticulously crafted. It is acted upon with each day by those who are willing to listen and be guided. You have before you all the help, support, and upliftment that you could possibly need to bring about enactment in your lives of God's Plan to save humanity from itself. So, the time is now, my friends. The time is now to step forward, to release your anxieties and your doubts, and come to that place of surety and confidence, because you know the Truth my friends.

You know the Truth. Don't hide it. Don't hide your light. Express. Express it and you will draw to you many who seek to be taught and comforted and awakened. This is part of God's Plan. Are you willing to be a part of this plan? We are all poised, waiting, eager, and praying for each of you and the many more associated with you, who desire to lead the world into greater light. Understand the great power you have to bring change, to bring deeper understanding, to open the doors to Truth, to realize your own potentials and to inspire others to do the same.

It is a big world, I know. There are many in your world who are greatly resistant and who are bent upon destruction or power or both. I know this is to some degree a frightening prospect, to challenge the powers that be, but it is in the way that you do so, my friends. I challenged those who were entrenched in certain ideas and I did so with calm, a quiet resolve. I showed them the truth that I had discovered and proved to them its veracity.

Now it is for you to follow your inclinations, your gifts and abilities, to show to others the Truth and the power of Divine Love. Can this be so difficult? It is a simple Truth. It does not require complex formulas, great dissertations, but it does require a pure heart and a powerful longing to do God's Will.

So, this is a journey that is different from mine when I was on Earth, but the challenges continue. The possibilities of changing the world are evident and your efforts are necessary in order to bring about these changes. You have a great deal of support. This room is filled with many, many bright spirits and angels who desire to support you, my friends. You will make a difference. Although, there are times you may stumble, because you are human, you will endure and you will walk forward.

It is part of God's Will and plan and it is powerful. It must be done. For, the world is in great need of saving, my friends. So much needs to be changed. The world can no longer be naïve and lackadaisical and filled with distraction and a need to indulge all the human appetites. It is time for the world to grow, to grow up, to be responsible, to seek something better, to seek love.

May you find your way upon that path of Truth and be strong and upright in your efforts to speak the Truth and demonstrate the Truth. May God bless you beloved souls, I am Albert Einstein. I am very happy to speak to you tonight. May God bless you, my beloved friends. May God bless you for you live in fortuitous times and you are blessed with a great fortune of Truth. God bless you. God bless you.

Heights of Light Rare Among Mortals

Augustine July 9, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Augustine and I welcome you to this circle, this Circle of Light, this circle that God has blessed and has brought each one of you within it; a pearl within the string of pearls; lights, all of you, beloved souls, lights who have purpose, who will be utilized in this time together to help one another grow in the Father's Love, to bring truths forward in ways and means that are powerful to harmonize you all. For each one of you is part of a plan that God has laid forth and wishes to implement in this world. It is for you to be together, holding hands in love, acknowledging from that place deep within you what God wishes for you to do.

There are many gifts within this circle, many great potentials, possibilities that may be realized given the acceptance and desire for the flow of God's blessings upon you and His guidance for you. So, for each one of you, it is important to search your souls and acknowledge that which is within that deeply desires to move in the flow and Will of God, to be receptive to this Will and flow that will guide you forth each day. Are you strong enough, beloved souls, to accept humbly the guidance given whether it be through an instrument such as this or laid within your heart with an understanding of your mind what is meant to be? God reaches you in many ways. God will continue to open doors of understanding and knowledge and love.

But it is for you beloved souls, to put aside the human condition that is so prevalent in your world and accept and seek out that which is above the human condition, that which is of God. This is not an impossible task, beloved souls, but it does require your focus and your efforts. Often, it requires for you to set aside your preconceived ideas and notions of truth and come to that place where purity lies, where truth is understood and yet difficult for the mind to accept. This is your challenge, each one of you, to walk in the Truth of God, to humbly accept His Will, to seek out the power of His Love to transform your souls and awaken the faculties that lay within. For each can contribute greatly to your world as a channel of love and truth and light and blessings for many. But there are two paths that may be taken. One is where you have control and devise the plan for yourself; this is the human way; this is the way of the mind. The other is where you relinquish this control and instead you are obedient to God's Will though this is something that the mind does not readily accept for you have all been taught to come to that place of self-realization and empowerment.

But I say to you, the higher way is the way of God. The more perfect plan is the plan of God. The deeper understandings, gifts, expressions of spirituality and flow of His Love and healing and grace and peace comes through your soul that most readily relinquishes its control to God. For the perceptions and understandings of the soul are very different from the mind. It is the struggle of humanity and certainly your personal struggles to blend together the perceptions and inclinations of the soul with that of the mind. To overcome this deep-held pattern and desire to control your movements, your efforts in regards to spiritual work and service. But it is not what we wish to encourage, beloved souls. We wish to encourage humility, simplicity, truth, love and service in love. Our desires for you at this time as we bring you together is to help you to understand these simple truths, this simple way, and to acknowledge the power of God's Love, its transformational qualities, what may come of this Touch of Love within your souls, what may be a great shift of awareness and perception of yourselves and this world.

This is the change that must come not only for each one of you beloved souls but for this world. For too long humanity has willfully taken control of this world and brought much pain as a result, for the minds of men are not capable of truly understanding the workings of God and His Creation. They may come to some place of understanding, some level of knowing through their mindful actions and investigations, but we implore you, beloved souls, to go deeper, to come to that place where the faculties of the soul flourish and the potentials of the soul are realized. This can only be through the inflowing of God's Divine Love. This Holy Essence from God will ignite the faculties of the soul. God gives you that choice. At this very moment, the great power of Love, the blessings of God's Essence, is all about you and it is for you to invite it within you. It is for you to accept this Gift. In doing so, you embark upon a journey that is magnificent, eternal and transformational.

Beloved souls, we are very happy that you are together, and we wish to continue to teach and to help enlighten you upon your journeys. We ask that you exercise your will in favor of allowing your souls to be uplifted in the light that is here, in the grace that God gives to you at this time, in the beauty of His blessings. In this regard we do not wish to make these times together excessively mindful or intellectual. This is not our goal, but to bring deep healing within your souls, your bodies and your minds. To bring individually insights and understandings that will inform your next steps upon this journey towards God. We invite you to open that door, awaken that desire within your soul to be with God, to walk upon that path that is Love, to yearn for God's Touch of Love within you. The power of His grace will bring you to that place of true upliftment, true and powerful blessings, the wonderment of the faculties of your soul to be awakened and to show you what is possible.

So, my beloved and beautiful friends, each one a light, each one a precious soul to God, may you indeed come to utilize this time for the upliftment and edification of your soul. Be prayerful, beloveds. Be clear on your intentions and your desires. Know that these things inform what may be in these coming days. Most of all, yearn for God. Allow His great blessings to inflow into your souls and your beings and we will bring you to heights of Light that are rarely reached by mortals.

God bless you, beloveds. I am your teacher Augustine and I thank you all for being together in this Circle of Light, eager to be awakened, eager for truth, eager to love. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls.

Awakening Through the Father's Love Allows You to Access Truth

Josephus July 9, 2019 Medium AI Fike

Beloved souls, I am Josephus. I am an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom. I have come to work with this group and hope to bring forth information and guidance that will assist you all in your journey of love and soul awakening. I will entertain questions from you, beloved souls. I know there is one here who is very fond of asking questions. So we wish to facilitate his desire to do so and for those of you who have pertinent questions regarding soul awakening and understanding.

It is not our wish to go into many details regarding this subject, rather it is our intention to encourage and inspire you towards your own soul understandings of Truth. As you receive more of the Father's love, so you are more easily and readily able to access your own Truth and information from God. We do not wish to create a dependency upon you all to go to us who have experienced many more things upon this journey and have much understanding. Yet, it is also helpful to assist you and inspire you forward with the intention of showing you, beloved souls, what may come of an awakened soul.

First and foremost, it is the soul's longings for God's Love that sets the foundation for all of this understanding and teaching. You cannot take the words that I speak or any other angel that brings forth information as a reflection of Truth unless you exercise the capacities of your soul to understand the words that are spoken in a deeper way. The words are merely pointing towards the Truth. Yet, the Truth is understood by your soul and known there. The inclination of the soul is to bring these Truths forward to your mind so that all of you may understand in a way that empowers you upon your journey of soul awakening and your journey to God.

This may sound different from the approaches that those that are very mindful may take, for they believe that it is only the mind that may understand. It is the instrument of understanding, and words are the ways in which these understandings may be communicated. But I say to you, my beloved friends, the mind is a very poor instrument to understand truth. The mind shifts and is malleable and influenced in many ways. So that truth itself becomes elusive and true understanding is not possible.

In many regards, the mindful understandings of mortals merely serves to create the illusions of truth rather than coming to that place where Truth stands alone in Light, in relationship to the Creator. This you must come to recognize, beloved souls, that whatever is spoken here in this time together is merely an indication of deeper understandings to come and that it is your responsibility to exercise your God given gifts to seek deeper and to understand more fully what is given to you in these messages.

When that understanding comes, when the realization is present within you and there is joy in this understanding and awakening, then you must apply these Truths to your daily life. Or what good is knowledge without the application of it, to bring it forward in ways that bring greater harmony and love and light to yourself, to that which is all around you within your life and to this world. For Light is the expression of Truth. Light is the exercise of truth. For when Truth is exercised, Light is created and Light becomes your companion. It is infused in every part of you, every cell of your being, every aspect of yourself.

This builds. This is the foundation which we seek to and encourage you to build. But Truth is not easily obtained in your world. As I've said, it is often illusive. But I tell you my friends, when you find Truth, you will know it in every part of you. It will resonate and reverberate in every part of you and it will bring joy. For Light brings joy. Light brings awakening and awakening comes with Love, Love is the highest of all Light, the greatest of all Truths.

Once that cornerstone has been laid, then many more pieces may be added. But first, you must be grounded in Love and understand the power of Love, the Truth of Love, the Light of Love, then all else comes more readily. For in this way you open the doors of true understanding that is within you. You make possible this interconnectivity of sole awareness, of mindful understanding, of even the interactions of your physical nature and your spiritual nature.

This may sounds complex, but truly it is not. For it is Love that is the connecting material. It unifies all within you. It is the nurturing of Love, the building of Love within you that brings this harmony, this coming together of all that is within you, to make a powerful expression of your being. One that is not weakened by illusions. One that is not subject to the intransigence of the human condition. One that is not readily fooled by the propositions of others who claim to have the truth. A deep wisdom is obtained with the power of Love that unifies your soul with all that you are and integrates the power of your soul and the capacities of your soul with everything that you are. This wisdom is Truth and this Truth is wisdom.

So, your struggles to understand, to know, to be a Channel of Truth and Love is healed by the power of Love. Seek this Love from God, which is of the highest, the brightest of Lights, the deepest of Truths, and the greatest of wisdom. It is the key to all. It is what you seek within your souls. You will find your way. That foundation will be strong and will not crumble for all eternity, my friends, but be built upon again and again. As the capacities and faculties of your soul are able to absorb more Truth and able to understand in ways that may be foreign to you now, but are indeed within you.

May God bless you upon that journey. I am very happy to be with you, my friends. I am Josephus and I will come again to speak and to answer your questions, my friends. God bless you. God bless you.

Be God's Active Agent of Change

Aaron July 9, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Aaron and I come to speak to you today about the changes in the world that are happening at this time and will continue to proliferate throughout your time on this world. Change is a constant in the world. Change is a constant in God's Universe. Change is often a response to conditions and stressors that build in any particular environment. There is a need for balance always in God's Universe, for energies, for materials, even physical aspects of the world, to seek balance, to come to that place of neutrality or a place of capitulation to something new. So, my friends, in your world today, there are many stressors, many things that are pushing against one another, creating a condition that is not in harmony with God's Laws of Creation. So, there is a need to seek harmony and balance in the world.

I wonder if you all did not acknowledge the increasing tensions and darkness in the world, whether you would be here today praying together, seeking for something higher. Your souls are responding to the conditions that are causing stress upon you and on this world. You are coming together for strength, for fellowship, and to strengthen your connection with your Creator. Your souls are seeking harmony and you have found a powerful way to do so, in prayer to receive the blessings from God of Divine Love and healing and peace. So, you have found your way to bring greater balance and harmony into your lives and you seek to share this Truth, to move in the world as an agent that will bring greater harmony and love.

You sense all around you, as do most in your world, that things are not right. That life continues to be out of balance, out of harmony. For those who have the inclination, they seek to right this imbalance, to bring healing, to bring peace to themselves, but unfortunately, most merely seek distraction. They see these conditions of the world as impossible to rectify, as out of their control. But there are too many who continue to feed the fires of disharmony. There is a sense of hopelessness, a sense to let things take its course in your world. When things do indeed take their course and those who are apathetic and are not proactive are caught up in the conditions and waves of correction that will invariably come, then they feel like they are victims. There is rage and injustice and fear and often they blame God. Often they blame others. But, the last place that they go is to blame, or at least to take responsibility for, is their own actions.

God has given each soul free will, a choice, powerful choices, choices that are not present in any other element in the Universe. But with the human soul, there is great choice. When one comes to realize the power of a soul and the power of those choices that are made by each soul, then one can truly see that what is created in this world, is created by you all, all the varied and multiplicity of choices and actions, thoughts and deeds, emotions, and intellectual expressions.

Many, many elements of the human being are expressed with each of you and expressed in powerful ways, expressed in ways that can be destructive or constructive. As many choose either apathy or the expression of conditions and energies that are not in harmony with God's Laws of Creation, there are great waves of destructive forces, injurious not only to humanity, but to the entire planet. These waves reverberate over and over again around the planet, causing ever more imbalance, causing ever more injury to the delicate balance of God's Creation, this world. For those with the eyes to see this, it is difficult not to feel hopeless. The power of this, the great power of the expressions of humanity in your world is immense. Yet, God continues to allow free will and free reign over this planet.

But God has not nullified the effects of His Laws upon this planet. For, there are consequences to all actions. Whether it be as an individual in their particular lives or all who live in this world, creating conditions that are of darkness, there are consequences, my brothers and sisters. These consequences are evident today and will be evident tomorrow and build as these great waves of negativity join together and create greater impacts upon your world.

There is a tipping point, my friends. There is a time when all that you take for granted in your lives, all that has been created by humanity and by God, will be in disarray. This condition, this chaos is required in order to bring back balance. For these responses, these equal forces that respond to the negativity, will overcome the conditions that have been created and are expressed in the world today, and will be neutralized by these forces that are of the natural order and of Divine Intervention.

We have told you at times, that God has a plan: the salvation of mankind. Indeed, there is a plan. Indeed, you are all a part of that plan every time you come together in this way, creating light, creating positive forces to help neutralize the darkness. As you grow in your souls, awakening the power of love within that comes with the blessing of God's Love, so you become part of the forces that correct the negativity, the power of destruction that has been created by humanity. When we encourage you to continue to grow in this way, to grow your souls in love, to awaken and be in that place of harmony and balance, we do so not only to support you personally in your growth and light and love of the soul, but to be an active agent, a force within this world, that will help neutralize the darkness and conditions that are not of God.

We need, as you can well imagine, many, many souls to take up the mantle of light, to walk in this world in light, to express the energies of light. My beloved friends, you have stepped forward eagerly, sometimes with a sense of curiosity, sometimes with a sense of purpose, sometimes because you have great need. But nonetheless, you step forward and seek the light and God responds, beloved souls. God responds to your soulful longing to receive this Light from the Divine Touch of the Soul of God to your soul. This is the most powerful change agent and energy there is in the Universe and it is required, my friends. It is deeply needed in your world.

So, each of you, who at times innocently step forward, knowing within yourselves there is a deep need to be free from your own personal unwanted conditions and pain, you are needed. When you do so, when you step forward, you are acting upon God's Will and Desire for you to do so. You will be blessed, beloved souls, deeply blessed. As you continue to clear the negative conditions within you and about you, you will become an active agent of God to help bring about the salvation of mankind.

For without agents such as yourselves, who desire to do this work, to help neutralize the negativity, humanity will continue to spiral down into darkness and pain and this is not meant to be. God wishes for all His children to be in the light, to know the joy of true life, true harmony, true love. There is no greater work than this, my friends. There is no deeper cause or greater commitment required or more fulfilling to the soul in its expression, than this work for God and for your brothers and sisters. To take on the responsibility that all must do, to seek for the light, to seek for the highest; to seek for

God and to willingly lay down all of those human needs and predilections that are not in harmony with your true nature, and to live a life that is in harmony with all that is good and beautiful and of love.

God beseeches all His children, as He continues to pour His Blessings upon your world, helping to soothe the flames of anger and discontent, of error, of rage in your world, and there is much, the entire world is aflame with these conditions. Many are seriously unhappy and discontent and lost and rageful. They do not know where to turn. They do not see the way beyond their own pain. Yet you have found a way, beloveds. You have found light. You have found one another.

Are you willing to step forward, supporting one another in this great effort to bring light to the world, to bring the Waters, the Living Waters of Love to pour upon the burning souls of those in such pain, soothing and bringing hope. Are you willing? For change must come, beloveds. Change will come. For this is indeed the Law. For every action, there is a response. For every step in a positive direction, it will be reinforced with the blessing of Light. So, my beloveds, step forward. Be an active agent of change, as best that you can. Seek out God. Seek out God's Touch on your soul and this council within your soul, so that you may step forward, not just in light that is somewhat dim, but light that is bright and vital and true to all that is of God.

God bless you beloved souls. God bless you and keep you in His Light and Love. May you find the harmony that you seek. May you find the truth that indeed ignites the changes that are required, not only within you, but within this world of yours. Be the change that is required. Be the light that is needed. Be a Channel of Love for God and all will flow in your life in wondrous and profound ways, changing all within and without. An active agent of change, beloveds, is what is needed for each soul who is willing to seek out the truth and to live truth in your world.

May God bless you with His great Love pouring within your souls. May God bless you with a great healing Touch, bringing you profound Peace. May God bless you and bring you to that sure knowledge that He is with you and that you are with Him.

God bless you my friends. I am Aaron and my love is with you. God bless you.

All Becomes One and There Is No Separation

Josephus July 9, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Josephus and I have returned as promised. I am willing to entertain some questions from you, my beloved friends. If there is a need to question and that question is relevant to your soul's growth and development, I am willing to answer as best I can through this instrument. So I await your response.

Question. I have a question but I would quite happily leave it to you, Josephus, if you chose not to answer, but it is related to this stage in my soul development. What I understand from other sources and what I have personally experienced is that I have within my mind what I call an indwelling spirit. I have had some...I have less than great success in achieving communication with this being to the extent that I almost don't try anymore. So my question is: Am I...should I anticipate this communication? I suppose I should start with this question: Is it correct to assume that this is true? And you would know who I believe this entity to be and you might comment on that or not. And then I would ask is it important for me to establish this communication and therefore should I be working on it? Thank you.

This is a complex question, my dear son, and one to be expected from your curious and detailed mindful exploration of spirituality. It is the inclination of men to categorize, to dissect and to label aspects of God's creation whether that be those elements within yourselves or those elements in the material world. This allows the mind to accept and to understand those things that are difficult to understand by the mind. This term that you use is a curious term to me for I see myself as a being that lives and dwells within the Celestial Kingdom as not a being that has particular aspects that are distinct in which I may communicate and have conversation, if you will, between my conscious self and another self within. So what you call an indwelling spirit is merely your spirit, your being that dwells within and may be easily interpreted as your soul. Yet indeed your soul has aspects within it that you may consider separate at this time of your development. But in truth once the soul has been completely transformed by God's Divine Love, there is no separation. There is merely existence and that existence is oneness. All that is within the soul and other aspects of your being becomes merged together into oneness so there is no dichotomy of consciousness. There is only the oneness of your being, that is a soul awakened, transformed, alive, and expressive, come together by the power of God's Love.

Yes, many teachers in your world, many writings and speculations describing the aspects of the soul of the individual and suggesting that it is compartmentalized in various ways is an error, although not so much from the human perspective but very much from my perspective as a Celestial soul. I have found oneness within myself and I seek at-onement with God which is beyond myself. These are the only two elements in play regarding my soul's communication. Other parts, of course, come into play to communicate with others whether it be with you mortals in this world or with my fellow Celestial beings in my world. But this is another matter altogether. It does not require a certain separation of who I am, a soul in all its components working together in, as I say, a complete and one state of being.

I hope this answers your question, my dear son. I am willing to entertain more questions if this does not.

Question. Well, it has lots of implications. I'm sure you know the source of the information. I don't choose to announce it in the circle but I'm sure you are aware of the source of this information and you would undoubtedly know also that I have some material on my website which tends to support that plus messages from a somewhat Divine Love medium that support that. So, to the extent that I take it to heart as I've heard it I need to remove that material. So, I thank you anyway for what you have managed to deliver. Thank you.

Well, I would like to say to you that what you are reading and expressing in these various ways is an attempt to explain something that is very difficult to explain, that there is a difficulty in communication of something that is beyond the comprehension of the human mind. The human mind has a great tendency to want to dissect and categorize things in order to make this more understandable. But as you progress in soul development and soul perception and faculties, this oneness state is more understandable. Because the material mind becomes absorbed into the mind of the soul, all becomes one and there is no separation. Even today for many of you when you communicate with yourself, it feels as if you are two people so that brings forth a soulful perception of reality and the mind that also brings its mindful perception of reality. This duality is a great dilemma for many of you.

You wish to come to that place of oneness of which I speak because it is the soul's longings and desire to be in a state of oneness and wholeness in itself. When that is achieved there are certainly no conditions of confusion or separation of those parts of yourself. In the oneness is great joy, great fluidity of understanding, a great depth of soulful experience. This is your great reward for all of your efforts to receive this great gift of Divine Love. So that this may be achieved and for those who do not achieve this, there is indeed a sense of separation, of duality. This becomes the reality of those who walk the path of natural love and seek the reality of the path of natural love. So in some sense, what you say has truth for those who walk this path, even those who have come to that place of purity in the natural love, for they will never achieve the oneness that I speak of. It is not possible, for the soul needs to be awakened by the Divine Love, the Essence of God for this oneness of soul to be achieved. The great dilemma of mortals and spirits alike in this separation and duality is that it may be saved, awakened, and comes together so that there is no more a sense of the inability to communicate with God in this way, this sense of separateness. Instead, it is a journey towards at-onement, both within and with God. This is achieved to some degree as one continues to progress and walk upon this divine path which, as you know, is an eternal undertaking and experience of the soul.

Thank you, my friends. I will now leave. I think I have said quite enough for you to digest for today. May God bless you all in your efforts to truly understand your souls and understand your relationship with God and all that God has created in His beautiful and perfect universe. God bless you, my friends. I am Josephus and I will return. God bless you.

Put Aside Concerns of the Mind

Andrew July 10, 2019 Medium AI Fike

(AI's prayer)...the inflowing of your Divine Essence. Awaken our souls. Awaken our conscious selves to those deeper places within us that are informed by Your Love and created by the Blessings of Your Love that all the faculties and abilities of our souls may come forward and be a living part of our lives, as we live it each day, that Your Gift of Love, the power of Your Love, the power of the Essence of Your Soul may indeed impregnate us with all its richness and glory and beauty; that we are uplifted always in this Gift of Your Love. Father, we are here now to be awakened, to be enlivened and to know the great peace of your presence. Thank you beloved Father.

I am Andrew, and I come to you as your brother. I come to you beseeching you, beloved souls, to put aside the concerns of your minds so that you may be fully with God in this sacred Circle of Love. As you are unified in this beautiful desire and intent that comes from your souls, you then allow the teachings that you so desire to be given to you to come readily. By putting aside those conditions of the mind, the material mind, you step forward in faith allowing your soul's awareness and expression to be present with God, opening a channel of possibilities of knowing Truth, Truth that is impregnated by the Father's Love, Truth that is a reflection of the Father's Love, Truth that is far and above any truth that the mind may know for it is of the soul.

Open now, beloveds, open to this gift. Open to God.

You Each Have the Gift to Teach

Matthew July 10, 2019 Medium AI Fike

Bless you, beloved souls, I am Matthew. Each of you has the capacity and gift to teach, to give the words of Truth to those who hunger for this. This gift is a reflection of your mind but can be influenced and informed by your soul. It is in this attunement between mind and soul that wisdom is reflected in your words. It is important for each teacher to understand the receptivity of the student. For, to use words and concepts that are unrelatable by those who listen, is to miss the mark, to not teach in effective ways. When your words are couched in love, compassion, humility, and flow with the grace that is the result of God's Touch upon you, then your words will indeed be absorbed by the mind and at times the soul of that individual. It is a fine balance, beloved souls, to teach Truth in ways that Truth may be understood.

Most Truths of the Father are simple and understandable. But it is the inclination of the minds of men to complicate and bring many different concepts and ideas into that teaching. Rather than demonstrate the Truth, there is a tendency to complicate the Truth. When Love flows as you speak, when God's Hand is upon you and you know this and you feel the Grace flowing through you, then there is a response from those you teach that is open and trusting and able to absorb your words.

This you must practice, beloved souls. This, you must apply. When you speak to a crowd or an individual, to whomever you speak to, it is important that these elements of Light and Love, of Grace and even peace are a part of the condition that you present, a part of your true selves that is reflected by your soul. When you are at peace, when you are grounded with Love within your soul and connections to God, Truth will flow readily and you shall also have credibility with those who are listening.

You may also be assisted by the angels who will help you to formulate your words and help to reinforce this condition of Light around you. There is no inhibition, no second-guessing of how the other is responding to your words. It is a surety, a sincerity, an authenticity of your demeanor that puts the listener at ease. You all wish to be teachers of spiritual Truth. You all in your own way try to do so and make great effort in formulating the responses and information that you wish to convey. Yet, when you step forward in faith, open to what God puts before you, whatever opportunities are there and you do so without concern that you will falter or that you will not be effective, you open the door for God to work through you as a teacher of Truth.

It will not be perfect. Every word will not be so finely crafted that those listening will think that you are a poet or an intellectual or a learned individual; no, this is not the objective. The objective is to speak that Truth in simple terms, to convey the truth in Love, to open the doors of Truth in simple and humble ways. If the individual to which you speak to is not able to absorb these words but turn away because they reject your words, it is not because you have failed, beloveds. It is because they have failed to listen. It is their choice and their response to an opportunity that God has given.

To be present with God with each day and ask to be a servant of God in ways that benefit your brothers and sisters, God gives you these opportunities to speak the Truth, to be His humble servant in the flow and direction that is intended. So you will come to know that gift of teaching that is within each one of you. You will have a sense of accomplishment, of joy in what you are able to do in these given situations. There is no formula beloved souls. There are no pat responses. It is not needed to practice and hone your skills of speech. Instead, trusting in God's Touch and Blessings upon you to do so, brings the harmonious response and flow of words that are appropriate for that situation.

Yes, it requires humility, beloveds. It requires wisdom. It requires faith. But, this way of teaching, as the beloved Master Jesus exemplified, is powerful and touches the souls of those to whom you speak. It is in this casting of seeds of Truth to the souls of humanity that is God's work; is it not? Each of you has experienced the Creator in all His Glory and Beauty and knows Truth in all its power and simplicity; has experienced the Love of God in all its profound Touch upon your souls and this informs whatever you might say. This is the foundation of your Truth. This is the foundation of your gifts of teaching and sharing of this Truth. I know you wish that this Truth could be known by thousands, many thousands and some day it will be, beloved souls, some day it will be. But, you begin humbly and simply. You start with one conversation and you build and continue to allow God to guide you forward so that you may indeed touch many as time goes on. So, your gifts will expand and so will the opportunities to express these gifts.

None of you are failures or inadequate or unable to do this work. For it does indeed carry on and is open to each one of you. It is only the limitations of your mind that does not allow a wider scope of what it is that you wish to express to a variety of souls. As I have said, to keep the words simple. To express the Truth of Love does not require a deep intellect, a great gift in elocution. It requires a sincerity and authenticity that comes directly from the soul touching another soul. This is the power of Truth and the power of Love that will touch many in times to come.

No, my beloveds, you are not sidestepping your responsibilities to teach Truth, but I know that you wish that things would accelerate and intensify in these opportunities. You must be patient. Have faith in God's Plan. Have faith that each day will bring forward new opportunities to be with others, to teach others, to be a channel of Love for others. This will come. It will come with each day.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am Matthew. I am happy to speak to you today regarding a subject that is important and which concerns you all: of bringing the Truth of God's Love to humanity. I say to you, my friends, each of you continues to play your part in this and will continue to do so. As you listen to your guidance, as your souls grow in His Love, so these opportunities will magnify and intensify until one day you will speak to many and they will listen. But, it is in the timing of God's Will and plan for humanity. Until that day, each opportunity that you have to do so, is a gift and an opportunity to hone your skills and your abilities to truly convey this Truth to others.

May you find your way upon that path of teaching and healing and loving your fellow souls in this world. Many blessings ensue with this gift. Much comes with your efforts. God bless you, beloved souls. I am with you in God's Love. I am Matthew. God bless you.

Soul Awakening and Ego

Augustine July 10, 2019 Medium AI Fike

It is your teacher, Augustine. It is my privilege today to be with you, to answer questions that you may have. This has been our commitment to you and promise that we will do so, provided these questions are relevant to the awakening of the soul and the functions of the soul as it pertains to the growing of the soul with God's Love. So, I am available at this time, to answer your questions, beloved souls. Please feel free to ask.

Question: Pertaining to the soul awakening and development, can you elaborate on the Essence of God's Love, Truth and Light? What is the difference between Truth and Light? Is Light the Truth? How is it that Truth can be transformed into Light? Is there anything different?

Light was created by God. God is Light. Light is a reflection of God. So Light has a power, light is an element in the Universe of God's Creation that has its function within that Creation. Each soul was created to thrive and receive Light within them, to expand in Light, to be Light. It is a natural aspect of the individual to desire and to be imbued with Light. When Light is present, then various abilities and faculties of the individual are empowered by this Light. So yes, Truth and Light are not synonymous, but there is no Truth without Light.

Therefore, it is important to bring Light within the individual. You use the word "enlightenment." In this regard, bringing Light into the individual brings the capacity for Truth, the understanding of God's great Creation and workings and function and the functioning of your soulful selves, your spiritual selves, even that of the spirit body, comes with the enlightening of your consciousness which then allows this information, this understanding to thrive within you. The greatest Source of Light is God's Love. God's Love is the most powerful energy, if you will, of the Universe. God's Essence is of Light. Light reflects from God and the Divine Love of God, His Essence, is imbued with Light. With the reception of this Gift of Divine Essence then Light pours not only into the soul but expands out from the soul into all parts of the individual, even bringing Light to every cell in the body. In this way, there is a transformation that takes place, to enliven all of the aspects of the individual.

For when an individual lives in darkness, many aspects of them are lethargic, if you will, and not functioning in its optimum capacities. That individual then struggles, has disease, is out of balance, carries the burden often of pain, is ignorant, has many emotions that are not of love. Many reflections of darkness then are within that individual. When the individual finds its way to Light and this Light begins to penetrate into the many aspects of their soul, then these things are transformed and changed and a healing takes place. Harmony comes with that gift of Light.

Whether it be through the individual's efforts to be a purified soul in their natural capacities or a soul Divine, transformed by God's Love, Light must come and is present. It is like the sun that shines upon your Earth. Can you envision your Earth without the sun? Can you envision your soul enlivened without Light? It is a natural part of the process of bringing greater life, deeper understanding, joy, awakening, knowledge, Truth and wisdom to the individual. It is that which enlivens all., that which brings harmony, that which is a powerful catalyst for healing, change, balance and Truth.

Light is not Truth in itself, but without Light, there is no Truth. There is darkness. Each of you are familiar with that condition. You have experienced it within yourselves. You have experienced it within others. You know well the condition of darkness and you have rejected this in favor of Light. You struggle each day towards Light. You have an innate sense of drawing to the Light and recognizing it. Your souls recognize Light. Your souls crave Light and every part of your being craves Light. But for many who are numb and in the darkness, this is a difficult understanding. They do not feel and know the power of Light and feel far removed from it. Yet within that individual and every individual is the capacity to draw Light to themselves.

It is a choice, like all things, it is a choice. It is given freely. It is within all elements of the Universe, but, for the individual soul who has the blessing of free will, they must choose. They must choose. God does not deny Light to His children, but His children deny Light to themselves. They starve themselves by their willful desires to contravene the Laws of their existence. At times, they delight in this imbalance and in this darkness. This is the dilemma of humanity and many spirits who continue to crave darkness over Light, to desire that which is not in harmony over that which is. But in time, all will come to Light, all will come to balance and harmony, all will be within that great atmosphere of Light.

This must be, for this is. Light is a compelling force in the Universe. It will draw all to it in time. Does this satisfy your questioning, sir?

Question: You mentioned about the natural path process and also that God's Love and Light can transform a person. Are you referring to the natural path process using the material mind that many of us are trapped within and striving of our own power versus opening up our soul and surrendering to God's Love and Light for the transformation? Mankind seems dominated by the intellectual/material mind process and blocking man from surrendering to the Will of God.

Yes, this inclination towards listening to the will of the individual has been with humanity from the beginning. But without the gift of free will, without allowing humanity to choose its course, its way towards God, then those capacities that are of the soul, those things within humanity which are unique and different from all other creation in your world, cannot exist. It is part of God's intricate and perfect plan of Creation. So, the individual has capacities and potentials that are far beyond that of any other creature in your world. Yet humanity often does not understand these powers and potentials to any great degree and are inclined towards the baser desires and aspects of life. They are essentially asleep and they are content to be asleep.

It requires an awareness, a sense of responsibility, a sense of direction, a clarity, a purpose, a desire of soul to awaken and be in the flow of God and harmony with that flow. Yes, it takes a certain amount of humility to realize that they are not all powerful within themselves. Many in your day believe that they are God, that all power rests within them and they within God. This is a gross error and miscalculation of the purpose of life. It again reflects the inclination of the human condition to grasp power and to express power in all that they are, to feel powerful, to feel that they are all powerful. That way, those places within them that are very vulnerable indeed and feeling alone, are masked by this sense of power and control of their existence. All of this is a way of avoiding the great pain and void within the human condition, the human heart and soul that has not been fed with love. To realize this great void within can be quite traumatic and difficult for the human soul to deal with and to be cognizant of that which lies within them. So the soul is layered over with many thoughts and actions and concepts and ideas about themselves which, for the most part, are illusory.

My beloved friends, when you bring this simple Truth of God's Love forward to those who are asleep and those who wish and believe, truly believe that they are all powerful, you threaten their paradigm of truth. Often, you are met either with disbelief or even anger, but your words that God is Love and that your souls long for this Love shake the soul to its core. You ring a chord within them that recognizes that this is Truth and that they must look within themselves and reassess their sense of who they are. Yes, this powerful Truth may seem innocent to the minds, but to the soul, it is a great challenge. It says that you are not complete, even though you think that you are, that you are in need of this completion that comes with your relationship with your Creator, and that you were created so that this may be possible.

Yet humanity, with all its inclinations to create its own world and its own reality, continues to insist upon its way, insist upon its reality, its truth. Since God allows free will to exist in humanity, so humanity takes full advantage of this and continues to sleep within its own illusions rather than come to the Truth of God's reality. Few are strong enough. Few are inclined to step beyond this predisposition towards Truth. Rather, it is better to be asleep in a world that to the mind is comforting, than to be jarred awake to the reality that something truly is missing within them. It is the dilemma that has come down through the ages. It is expressed over and over again in many different ways. It has brought a deep pain to humanity, a deep misunderstanding of their true natures and of the nature of life itself.

There have been brave souls over the many years that humanity has existed in your world, who continue to strike the chord of Truth. You, beloved souls who are willing and who are willing to look beyond your illusions to Truth, will continue to ring that bell, the toll of Truth, to help awaken humanity to its true nature and true selves and the Truth of God's Love for them. This will continue to be your purpose and goal and it is the highest aspiration. You will continue to grow in God's Love and discover the many aspects of your soul as you continue to awaken and know yourselves truly and know the true meaning of life.

Is there anything else, dear son?

Question: Can you explain more to us about transcending the ego, my teacher?

Beloved daughter, the concept of ego is not what you may think it is. What you refer to as ego is really what I have been talking about for this time together. It is the mindful and willful individual that wishes to be acknowledged and in control and power in their lives. The transcending of ego comes with faith and the acknowledgement that they are a child of God. These simple things are difficult to ascertain in one's life in a true way. One cannot give lip service in prayer and desire to be with God. It must be truly a part of your desire, the desire of your soul. So, transcending ego, as you say, is acknowledging that there is something higher within you and to express and apply your desire to transcend.

This is our teaching, beloved daughter, that when you truly and humbly ask for the Blessing of God's Love, the Essence of God's Soul to flow into your soul, then you begin the journey that will dissolve the ego in Love and bring greater harmony to yourself. It is simple. It does not require a great deal of effort although, this is another way of applying your will. This we call the way of the natural love. But the way of Divine Love is a quicker route to dissolving what you call ego, into something that is an awakening and acknowledgment of the deeper parts of yourself.

Yes, I must go now. It is indeed taxing upon this instrument to continue to answer these questions at this time, but we will convene again and come to have these conversations. We are happy to be able to do so and we are happy that this instrument is able to sustain this condition so that we may do so.

May God bless you in His Love, beloved souls. May you come to know your true selves. May all those conditions that are of the human condition dissolve away in this Blessing of Love, that you may know the deep peace and joy, the profound wisdom and Truth, the glorious Love that comes from God. All these things are gifted to you with this one Truth of God's Love.

God bless you, I am your teacher Augustine. God bless you.

Do Not Linger in the Doorway to Your Soul

Josephus July 10, 2019 Medium AI Fike

Dear souls, I return. It is Josephus. I wish to acknowledge the two precious souls whose day is an important day and to wish them all Light and Love, that their souls may continue to thrive and grow in this great blessing that God has for them and for all of you, precious and beloved souls. Bless you. Bless you deeply. Bless you always, in the Grace of God's Love.

We speak much of the soul do we not? We speak in words, in concepts as we wish to convey Truth, helping to understand the nature of the soul. Yet, in many ways, that understanding is not fully realized. Because, for those of you who live in this world of yours that is so material and dense in its condition, your minds do not fully comprehend what it is that we wish to convey. You struggle to find the Truth of your true identity. You battle with those conditions within you that you are so well aware of, that hold you back from truly understanding your soul and truly being in communion with the Great Soul of God. So, the mind is often in control. The mind sows seeds that suggests that the soul does not exist because most of your lives, in truth, are lived from the perspective of the material mind. You feed this mind so diligently. You carry the thoughts in a way that you believe are so precious and important. Yet, so very close to you is a doorway to true understanding, to true enlightenment, to true joy and Love.

But for you, beloveds, you continue to forge ahead, seeking to know this place, lingering at the doorway. At times, entering therein, seeking to understand and to acknowledge that part of you that is truly known by God and knows God. But you continue to retreat from that place to the comfort of the mindful perceptions with the understanding that for you to find credibility and purpose and strength within you, you must engage the mind so fully, so purposefully so that you will not be lost in the sea of the soul that is expansive and full of new perceptions and awareness. For so many in this world, they encapsulate the soul with the conditions created by the mind, seeking to rationalize this perception that is not within the soul, but without; seeking to be in that place that is, to some degree illusionary and not able to truly understand. Yet, it brings comfort to you, does it not, to have a mind that is finely tuned, that is articulate, that is clearly perceptive?

I do not wish to belittle the mind, but I wish to encourage you to venture to that place that is beyond mind, that place where the mind is so very cautious to enter because of the unpredictable nature of the soul. Yet, in that place, there is great comfort there as well. In that place, there is great possibility and potential that cannot be realized without entering therein. One enters the soul in deep prayer and contemplation. In this place, where the mind is set aside, one drifts and sinks into the soul and comes to understand the true nature of Love. For it is there that you have so fervently prayed to have within the accumulation of these golden drops of God's Love, seeking to awaken your soul, seeking to acknowledge that place which we have so diligently encouraged you to go.

Yet for each one of you and all the souls in your world, there is a deep reservation to go beyond that place that is just slightly within this consciousness, rather than be fully immersed in soul. The mind continues to pull you back, frightened of the power of the soul, often reluctant to release control. You continue to feed your well-tended garden of thought, of ideas and concepts of what this is, nurturing ideas that are borne of the mind, collecting those ideas and speculations of others within your minds, rather than immersing yourselves within the soul without these caveats of thought and go to that place that is purely of soul reality.

As God's Love continues to grow within your soul, as you allow and invite this Blessing to enter therein, the pull of this Love, this Light within, continues to draw you closer into the core of the being of your soul and continues to lure you into that place that, in the beginning, seems so foreign and so threatening. As you continue on this journey, you will become acclimatized to the conditions of the soul and you will allow yourself to be immersed in this bath of Light and consciousness of Love that comes as God touches your soul. Your connection with God is reached in a conscious way, through this willingness to be in that place so sacred and beautiful, communing with God in all its wonderment and beauty and glory. There is nothing in the material life, my friends, that can compare to this experience of awakening to your own soul in relationship with God. When you have been touched in this way, when you have experienced the power of Love, the beauty of God's Touch within your soul, the great Light accumulates there through your prayers and efforts to receive it. There is no turning back, beloveds. There is no decision to say, "I do not wish to have this great gift." For in receiving it, you fulfill the great promise of God to embrace each of His children in Love. In this embrace comes a deep upwelling of joy and acknowledgment that the soul has found its way back to its Creator.

This is an experience so profound, an understanding and awakening so magnificent that the treasures of all the Earth, the beauty of all the Earth, the wonderment of your existence in this physical world does not compare to what you have gained within your soul. So we continue to urge you to awaken, to enter therein, to be in that place of grace to awaken. Awaken, beloved souls, to the possibilities that are presented to you with this Truth of God's Love. Drop by drop, it accumulates within you, changing, transforming, healing, awakening.

Like a man who is suffocating, needing the oxygen of life, so the soul seeks the living waters of God to awaken and feel alive. Drink deep these waters, my friends. Quench your thirst which will never be quenched for it is a yearning and a desire that will be eternal. You will find your way to the Celestial Kingdom in all its wonderment and glory. Be in that place where God is present always and your soul finds its rightful place within you, alive and glorious in its nature and being, in the great Light that is God. Enter into the chamber of your soul, beloveds. Feel the power of God's Love and Touch upon you. Acknowledge that this is your true soul's desires, to be with God in His Love.

Law of Light: Can We Release Our Soul Encrustations

Josephus July 10, 2019 Medium AI Fike

Now that you have been refreshed, we may continue with our discourse and questions. So I am here to answer what you wish to ask.

Question: I do have a question on behalf of at least one of us here but frankly there is several of us here to who this matter is of interest and it is of interest to many outside this circle. We do know that one of the problems we have with soul progression is our becoming barriers. One of the biggest barriers that we are aware of is lack of self-worth. So this is the question: Even though an error may be released from my soul, it sometimes seems to be retained in the cells of my body. If this is the case, what is the best way to release this? Thank you.

The Love of God may accumulate within your soul and yet surrounding your soul are the encrustations of the conditions that you have obtained through your life. But not only this, there are energies and conditions and memories that are within each soul, each cell, and within the mind creating again another layer around the soul causing a great constriction of the expression of love within. So, in your world it is evident to us that many of you walk with the Light of Love within your soul and yet are burdened by these conditions. At times, you may even continue to accumulate these conditions through your life experience and thought.

So, you ask, “How may I unburden myself with these conditions? How may I correct this part of me that is and continues to be in darkness and brings me pain?” In time, the power of Love within your soul will indeed neutralize these conditions. Yet, for many of you, you are not willing to wait and you are not willing to put in the fervent prayers that are required to neutralize this condition with God’s Love. So you seek to apply mindful efforts to neutralize these conditions, at least to the satisfaction of your mind. Yet, through all of these applications, you continue to revisit that which you wish to eradicate. So why is this? What holds me in that place? The human form, the individual is a very complex thing, many layers upon layers of energies and interactions within that individual. So in your world, with a constant interaction with outside forces as well as internal forces, it creates tensions and vulnerabilities, vulnerabilities to outside influence and energies that will reinforce the condition through the Laws of Attraction bringing it more alive within your individual self.

In many ways, you are not aware nor cognizant of this interaction. Because you have worn this cloak for so long, it becomes the normal way of life and thought. In this way, you also reinforce these conditions though you are intent upon neutralizing them. There are parts of you that continue to accept and cling to these conditions. You mention the issue of self-worth, of being worthy of release from these conditions. Indeed the power of this condition within you and most of humanity is strong indeed. It creates such a barrier to the opening of the soul so that all is released and falls away. Yet with God's merciful Touch upon you, His ministrations upon your being that will bring release and healing, it continues to make its effect upon you. As you continue to pray and seek and apply the truths that you know, these conditions lessen unless you are intent upon indulging yourself with those thoughts that reinforce this condition. When you continue to believe forthrightly within your minds that this is your true reality, your true worth so to speak, then you continue to uphold these conditions within.

The question is always: Do you love yourself enough to say "I am willing to let this go? I desire to be released from this." Not just from your minds and your intent upon this instantaneous healing but from the very depths of your being, those places within that are indeed encrusted with deep and abiding conditions that are not of love. Struggling to awaken your soul in Light, struggling to release the encrustations of your soul, struggling to indeed cleanse every part of you so that love is present and alive, is a deep struggle, a life-consuming struggle.

It is not accomplished through obsessing with the mind to solve these issues and problems. It is through prayer. It is through faith. It is in your heartfelt supplications to God that say "Father, release me from these conditions. I truly wish to be in the Light. I will no longer indulge myself in these pitiful thoughts and ideas about myself for I know I am worthy, I am worthy of love." To make this resolve within you that goes to the very depths of your soul will indeed break the patterns and that which is locked within you so firmly by the reinforcing belief of error.

Yes, I know this is difficult. I know that many of you have pleaded with God on numerous occasions to be healed and for the great shift of awareness to come and the great joy of Love to flood within you and make all in harmony and peace and resolution. I say to you, beloved souls, in order to break the patterns, in order to shatter the encrustations, in order to change your ideas about yourself, it requires great faith, great resolve. Rather than that resolve and resolution coming from your mind, it must come from that place that is deeper and attuned to God. For when that barrier is released through prayer and faith, through the great effort of your soul to reach God in every way, to be with God in every possible expression and being, requiring your desire, your true heartfelt desire to be there and to not allow the earthly conditions and all the patterns and disruptions that come with a life in this world flooding in, reinforcing these conditions over and over again. So that resolve must come with each day, a true commitment to walk in the Light, to not indulge in the thoughts that are not of love, to be strong, beloveds, for the strength is there, the capacity to truly change is there. But often the mind insists upon its well-crafted view, both within and without. You must not and cannot trust this place as being the truth or the reality of your being. You must continue to dive deeper, to pray more fervently, to be more faithful to this truth that you know but must be applied with each moment.

It is the tendency of the mortal to be inconsistent, to give lip service to the truth, and indeed, at times, to experience this truth in a full way that is uplifting and beautiful. Yet often after this experience, a mortal tends to turn back to the old ways, the old conditions, the old reality. We ask you to be faithful to the Truth, be faithful to the Light within your souls, to truly understand and awaken to this Truth. This requires great effort and strength. It is not easily obtainable. It is challenging and it is difficult. But this struggle, this effort, this life-long desire for change must come from you, beloveds. God cannot heal you in an instant but God will show you the way where you may take responsibility for yourself and find your way in His loving embrace. These shifts will come, one upon another upon another until you find yourself in that place of great joy and harmony, of truly loving yourselves, and truly feeling worthy of His Love.

Yes, you live in a very difficult time and condition. It is challenging indeed but you are here, nonetheless. Each of you have made great effort to be together in this Circle of Light. It indicates the power of your desire and our willingness to seek Truth and to seek to change. Yes, each moment you inch forward in Light, as this great Light continues to infiltrate every part of your being, and you reinforce and acknowledge this beach-head of Light within you so that it may progress further, so that all that is not of Light may be released, is a daily struggle and commitment of which the angels will be with you. You are not alone. You have all the resources that God will give and can give to help you to overcome these conditions. But you must look at your own willful desire and choice. Indeed, part of you, that which is within your soul, will always choose Light, yet there are many parts of you outside of your soul that does not. This is the challenge beloveds, to look, to truly look at yourselves and the choices you make, to take responsibility and to choose that which is of Light in a conscious way so that you free yourselves through the infusion and the strength and the healing power of Love.

It is given freely. God desires for you to be released from all conditions that are not of light and love, that you do truly live in the truth, that you truly express yourselves in love. It is not hopeless, beloved souls, it is not hopeless. In fact, there is great hope, great encouragement, great love, great healing. Many, many things are given in this great journey of learning how to love yourselves and others and God. Yes, the journey is arduous but every step is well-earned and there will not be steps backwards but always forward.

There will come a time when the power of the Love accumulated within your soul will accelerate this awakening and healing to such a degree that you will feel the fervency and joy and wonderment of a soul awakened in the transformative beauty of God's Touch upon you. This comes, it is promised and it will come as you continue to place your desires, to put your focus upon the direction of Light and Truth and healing and Love. It must be with every breath. It must be applied with every moment. It must be your goal. It must be the true desire of your souls that will come and be conscious within you, within all of you, all parts of your being.

You band together and support one another, do you not? You continue to be a testimony to one another, to these leaps forward, these steps, however small, that you take. You are seen by your brothers and sisters who continue to struggle as you struggle, who continue to seek the way of Love as you seek. This is God's blessing for you, beloveds. None of you are alone in this struggle. You are strong enough for you have taken many steps, many steps, and you will continue to do so. Do not be impatient but continue to pray fervently. In your prayers, you will feel the power and shifting of your soul that will indeed infiltrate all those parts of you with Light. It is faith that carries you forward. It is faith that will give you the strength to continue in this journey.

Yes, at times these conditions persist but I tell you, it is not a permanent state. You will find resolution and healing to those parts of you that continue to be stuck within the human condition. I say to you, beloved souls, seek God in all that you do. Seek to be in His Love. Seek to be in His Truth and all will come to resolution and healing and peace.

God bless you. I am Josephus and it is time to leave until we meet again. God bless you.

What Co-creating With God Really Means

Lytergus July 11, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Lytergus. I have not spoken through this instrument before although you have known me through other ways and means and books; I have made comment there. A question has been asked: “How may a soul work with God in bringing about greater Light in your world and how does one know that this work is being accomplished in accordance to God’s Will?” I have come to speak on this subject.

Because of the nature of your world and the conditions within it, it is difficult for you to discern and know that which is motivated by your soul and that which is motivated by your minds and that which is guided by God. Because in your experience in life, all is a flow intermingled with mindful intentions and soulful longings, and God’s intentions for you. The soul’s way of understanding God’s Will and enacting upon it is very different from the mind as you well know. Yet the mind is eager to interpret, to be clear and to understand these inclinations and motivations, the visions and guided information that comes from God.

Unfortunately, by the very nature of the material mind, it is unable to clearly understand these things of the soul because they are in essence different in nature, in expression and in faculties. The mind requires concrete concepts that are formulated by thought and word. This is then acted upon and expressed in the world. This concept is known by you all and is utilized by you all right from the beginning of your life. But the soul that is emerging within the beloved and beautiful beings that you are, is and must be integrated into your conscious self in a way that all is readily understood in a conscious way.

For the most part, the guidance and inclinations and motivations of the soul are hidden to you because the mind cannot readily access this information, although the soul is always making effort to make this understanding available to you in a conscious way. God is forever bringing guidance and instruction to your soul every time that you pray or every time that you ask and every time that you open yourself to God. As your soul grows in Love you are more readily open to God and then information flows from the Creator to your soul. What comes to the conscious self is far less than what comes in this flow and connection with God and as the faculties of your souls grow, as your ability to receive and understand this great flow from God that is of meaning and purpose and Truth and Love, then the power that builds within your soul, that activates the capacities of the soul, that awakens those parts of you that are able to understand God's Will, then the power of this that builds within you infiltrates greater into your consciousness and the mind receives inspiration, inklings of Truth, ideas that are not fully of the soul's origin but of God.

So God continues to bring His blessings forward to you. For you have opened that door with your desires and prayers to receive, and that door widens, the soul opens ever wider to the influence and inflowings and blessings of God. Setting in motion great and rebuilding processes within your being where the awakenings of the soul are blessed by the power of Love. You have come to those moments of wondering: "How much of my thinking and motivations and actions are in harmony with God's Will? How can I enact God's Will in a conscious way? How am I able to know in a clear and powerful way, the Will of God?" As we have instructed you over many years, the faculties of the soul build gradually as this inflowing of God's Essence awakens them. There are those of you here that are quite gifted in your abilities to know the soul. Your mind and your material brain have these gifts and capacities to be able to attune to your soulful consciousness. When you perceive those around you as having an understanding that is of soul and you may deduce that their soul growth is greater than yourself, I say to you that this is not necessarily the case. It is a matter of chemistry and psychic ability and the way that one's mind is constructed that brings about these gifts of perception and awareness in a conscious way.

So I can assure you that those who are gifted in this way have been blessed with physical capacities and other ways that are of the spirit that allow them this access and vision. This does not mean that they are far ahead of you because they see and perceive more. Their capacity to perceive is indeed a gift, but it does not indicate a soul growth that is far ahead of your own. The Divine Love rests within each one of you and will open these gifts in time and will show you the way in time, but the power and inclination of the Love within your soul and in your connection with God is active and influencing your thoughts and decisions. It may not seem clear to you in your own mindful reckonings of the world, but it does indeed have its effects and guides you in subtle ways so that you will walk in the world guided.

You use the word “co-creative” my friends; you and God creating together. And this to some extent is an accurate description, a word that may indicate the process. But as one grows closer to God and the connection and awareness brings more clarity, the word that would be most appropriate would be “obedience.” To act out the Will of God is not to assume that you are playing a willful part within it, rather, you are allowing God to work through you. In this process, there is an element of passivity, of allowing what must come through to come through clearly and directly through you. It is similar to what is being manifested this very moment through this instrument. He does not co-create the words that come, though there is an influence and element of adding to what is said through his capacities of the mind, his vocabulary, his understandings, though these are not utilized by him in a conscious way but are utilized because he is allowing us the control to use what is available to us in order to communicate.

So it is with any action which God wishes to enact through your being. He uses what is available to Him, both within the soul, the body, the mind, the spiritual and the physical. It is easier for God to act through an individual when their willful interpretation of that act is not so much present in the enactment of a particular task. We have told you, beloved souls, that much is accomplished through you and you are not aware. This is because, to be effective, it is better that you do not interfere with what is taking place. These actions are often on a deeper level than the material plane. There are spiritual forces operating through you as God’s channels and instruments that are not easily understood by you. This flow of purposeful and directed energies and efforts expressed through your physical and spiritual self can be quite powerful and effective, often reaching those souls who you do not know and may be far distant from your present location. The most effective stance that you can take in this process is to release your need to know, your need to be an active and conscious part of it, but to participate with faith and innocence and Love, to give yourselves over to God and say “Your Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven.” This phrase is a powerful statement that God may act through you in simple yet powerful ways that are often not known by you but has its effects in the world. Because you do not consciously know what is enacted, it is a matter of faith and trust that your prayers to be an active agent for God may be fulfilled.

The power of prayer, my beloveds, is a great activator and your willingness, your faithfulness, your trust are the keys that will allow the floodgates to open, the blessings to flow, the Will of God to have its activation and energies in your world. In time you will come to know these subtleties, these layers and levels of the soul working with God as a great lens for God's Light and blessings to flow into your world. This is ensured by the power of His Love within you. This comes because the faculties of your soul have been awakened to some degree, and it will continue to grow more powerfully as you grow in this Love. Thus, we encourage you again and again to continue to long for the inflowing of this Love into your souls, to ask, to ask for this Blessing, not to casually mention and include the idea of receiving this gift in your prayers but to muster within yourself a deep longing for it and asking in humble pleading to God to receive this Gift.

You begin to understand the power of this Love and what it may accomplish, but I tell you, you have just a sliver of understanding of its power and wonderment. You must continue to grow and awaken in this Gift, to receive it, to long for it intensely, to pray for it whenever you can, to give time over to this transformative process that will awaken your gifts and awaken greater possibilities of God's Will being enacted through you.

When you come to that clear understanding of what has taken place in your lives, in your efforts to serve God, you will be astounded as to what God was able to do through you in this world. Yes, it does not bring to you great accolades or acknowledgment from others for they do not see and understand what it is that you are attempting to do and be in the world, but I tell you that God knows every moment of your existence and God utilizes every opportunity that is available to bring blessings to others through you. Allow this to be, beloved souls, and know this to be true. For there is much that happens through you that you are not aware of. There is much that can come through you that relies upon your ability to connect with God and be in harmony with God. The greater the connection, the greater the harmony and the more intense is this alignment with God, the more effective is the instrumentality that allows His Will to be enacted in your world.

This simple process is not complicated nor difficult, but it requires application. It requires a focus in prayer, the strength of your own faith in what is being enacted. It requires your decision to be in a place of harmony and peace so that God may be close and you may be open to what may come through you. The Will of God is a powerful thing. The Will of God is not easily understood by you of this world and the Will of God continues to be understood by us in the Celestial Kingdom. It is a continuous search and effort by us to know the intricacies of God's Will. As we grow in God's Love, so we understand more fully God's Will and act upon this flow and understanding that comes to us, to our souls. This allows us to do the work that we do in your world and in all the worlds of spirit and in many other worlds for the power of Love is great within our souls. The dilemma that you face, where having the understanding of the enactment of this Will in a conscious way is difficult to comprehend. This does not exist for us for we have come to that place where our souls are fully awake, redeemed in Love. That you have some understanding of God's Will in your lives is a great boon to God and to yourselves. You have come to realize the blessing that this is and you will come to further realize the power of it, the beauty and the glory of God acting through you as His active agent in the world. You will continue to grow in this awareness, my beloved souls, and we will continue to tutor you and help you to understand and to work with you and through you as God's active agents, His angels in your world. It is such a privilege and a blessing to do so through willing souls who have not cluttered up their understanding of this process with mindful concepts that do not encourage our efforts and God's Will's expression. Yet there are those who know nothing yet work and carry a great faith that are very effective as God's instruments in your world. This innocence, this Love, this faith makes for powerful agents for God. We continue to help you and encourage you to be in that place, that place of innocence, of faith, of Love.

May God bless you on that journey, beloveds. God continues to guide you along this road and keep you in His care and Light and Love. We will walk with you always, my friends; we will walk with you. God bless you. God bless you, beloveds.

Guidance in Articulating Questions

Keea Atta Kem July 11, 2019 Medium AI Fike

Beloved souls, it is Keea and I wish to come and be with you and share a short message of guidance. There is not much time left together in this opportunity to answer your questions, your soulful questions related to the awakening of your soul. We observed you this morning as you gathered together with the focus upon formulating a question and honing that question into something where a deep and broad answer could be given, such as what you have just observed through our dear instrument. We ask, for these next times that you sit together, this same rhythm takes place. You gather and you come together as a group, formulating a question for when those in the group are in harmony with this question that is going to be put forward, this assists the clarity, not only the formulation of the question but the depth of the answer.

So as you gather these next few days forward, beloveds use the time you have dedicated gathering prior to your prayer beginning to focus upon this great project, being in your soul and allowing the mind to fall into that deep stillness that is within you. This we need of you, beloveds for it is important, this time together and we wish to make the most of that which we have left.

We are pleased with what has transpired and we anticipate your great questions of the soul will allow us to come to you and bring these deeper teachings that you are ready to hear. Pray to God with Intent to Receive His Holy Essence

Confucius July 11, 2019 Medium AI Fike

My beloved, beloved brothers and sisters, I am Confucius. You wish to know how the angels of heaven pray?! I tell you, my beloveds, you are children in this regard. You could not possibly understand what our experience of prayer is to God. For that experience is of the soul entirely and expansively. It is not in words, beloveds. It is not utilising the mind. It is the awareness of the power of our souls' desires to be at one with God. In that oneness with God, we engage in communications that are beyond the reckonings of the mind.

When you pray, beloveds, you are like a little child that reaches to its parent and says "Lift me up! Embrace me!" This simple request, clear and intent from the child, is heard by the parent who in their love, embraces that child, comforts that child, and to some degree, gives that child the perception of the world from that higher place. But you are children, children who are intent on their parents bringing comfort and love.

Our beloved, merciful Creator brings His Love and comfort to you. He insures that you are safe. He insures that you understand that you are loved. He insures that you, from your limited capacities, understand the world, the world of God. But you cannot know what the parent knows at this time. You cannot know what we know at this time. You do not have the faculties to understand. But like any child, the faculties are evident but not developed.

It is the power of prayer, beloveds, it is the power of prayer that will awaken this given its direction and intent to God to receive this Holy Essence, the Great Comforter, within the soul. This very basic Truth which you have learned from the beginning applies to each and every day in prayer, to reach to your Heavenly Father to ask to be lifted up and receive the comfort of His Love. Is there anything complicated about this? No, it is simple. Do you want to know more about the complexities of prayer?

You may receive insight into this as you grow, become stronger in your soul because it is there that this knowledge will come, not from the words that we speak and directions that we give. No, beloved souls, prayer is the holy language of the soul in its relationship with God. You must learn to express this with all your heart and soul. To be in communion with God is the sacred time within your day. It is for you to utilise that time, not in the mindful analysis of the experience but in that simple and direct desire to be lifted up and loved. This is prayer in its highest form. This is prayer in its innocence. This is prayer in the fullness of its power and beauty.

Do not try to complicate this relationship with God, for as you do so and analyse and seek to understand in a way that will empower your mind, you walk away from the true experience of prayer which is wordless, which is an expression of the soul which carries the power of your truest desires, beloveds. Prayer is sacred and prayer is simple. Does this Truth change for us? No, it is more intense and deeper. It awakens more within us, for we are able to perceive and experience this sacred time in ways that you long for within your soul but not yet have come to experience.

Indeed, as you speculate and chatter about the various ideas, concepts, and what you call truth and seek to know our answers, remember that you will not find the Truth through your mindful considerations. Though you may acquire some inspiration and direction from which you may in time know the answers of Truth, it is the awakening of your souls that will give you the Truth in all its purity. It is God's Touch upon your soul that awakens your soul.

This we have repeated over and over, a thousand times fold. And yet, you still consider so much from that place of mind, the material mind. You still entertain so many thoughts and considerations that when you are within your souls seem irrelevant. When a soul perception comes to you, it is multi-dimensional. It is complete in its concept and what it gives to your conscious self and cannot be absorbed in its completeness by the mind alone but is understood by the mind of the soul.

There are those in this circle who have had this experience, who understand what I speak of. And yet, can they truly describe this, this experience of Truth? Because of the way humanity has developed, developing the mind with words and structures, formulating ideas and speculations upon truth, they have limited themselves with what they call knowledge but what is, in fact, merely the reflection of knowledge.

So when you think of looking within a pool of water and you see before you a reflection of yourself in that pool of water, it is a two-dimensional image that is lacking depth. It is merely a reflection, is it not? In order to understand water, one must be immersed within it, not to look upon it. This is what it is like within the soul. The environment, the substance of the soul is like a pool of water. You must immerse yourself within it to know it, not gaze upon its surface and say "I know water". For this is not true. I merely know a reflection, an image. You cannot rely upon this sort of reflection to give you Truth. You must rely upon the experience of the immersion within this substance to understand it. Indeed, we continue to nurture you, beloved souls, to encourage you forward. Indeed, many have come and answered questions that you have in hopes of directing you towards your own personal experience of Truth in this immersion of the soul.

You are eager to share these missives and messages with your brothers and sisters, all of you eager to hear and know Truth in all its form and beauty and depth. And yet, the best that we can do in this regard is to show you the reflection in the pool and say, "now that you know that this exists, you must take that leap into it to be immersed in it and come to know for yourselves the Truth that comes with the experience of the soul awakened."

Yet, many of you insist upon the machinations of your mind. You read many materials. You consult with others. You see the words laid before you and those who speak to you with authority and say "this is the truth," you wish to believe and say "I am comforted by these words and I am comforted by this truth and I shall share this with others." I say to you, beloved souls, be cautious and be humble. Do not assume that what you hear from another is your truth for it is not. It is their truth and it is only a reflection of their truth because all that they can do is show you the reflection of it.

Each of you, if you are truly serious in this pursuit, must immerse yourself within the waters of the soul and speak to God from that place, that place that is imbued with the power of communication with God. For you cannot know a truth that is pure in this way, that is powerful in its effect and application in your lives unless you have immersed yourself in this place, this other place of assessing your experience of truth, your experience of God and what God can give you.

Prayer is like that as well, beloved souls. It is not the words but the intention. It is not the expression of the mind but the desires of the soul. These desires lead you to that road, that place where Truth may be experienced and acknowledged. As God embraces you and as you, His child, seek that embrace and feel for yourselves the wonderment of His Love and Grace and know for yourselves this one powerful and pivotal Truth: that God is Love and God's Love for you is infinite. From that place where you and God reside together and you are well-immersed within your soul, the great benefits and faculties that God has placed within your soul will open the doors to true understanding and awareness. But until you are within that place, until you may look and recognize that place of soul, all that you think and speak of, all that you share, all that you read, all that is within your mind is merely the surface reflection of Truth, not the Truth itself.

So I urge you, my beloved brothers and sisters, seek to know your soul. Seek to know God through that place of soul. When you have experienced that place and when you have communicated with God those heart-felt questions and desires for knowledge, true knowledge, then you may be able to teach others how to come to that place of Truth. Until then, you continue to speculate, you continue to pontificate, you continue to analyse and look and say "I know what Truth is." But I ask you, my children, can you know from that place of mind?

This is not how we know, beloveds. This is not our reality. Our reality is much different. Our understanding of Truth comes from a different Source and the Source we have told you about many times. We keep returning to the one basic Truth above all Truths, to seek God in His Love, to seek your own soul through the yearning for God and His Love. In this way, God will grant you the treasure house of Truth in all its glory and wonderment, all its complexity and beauty. But first, you must enter through the door of the soul and recognize that place and know the path you must take to enter again and again in silence, the stillness, the Light, and the Love of this communion with God.

Beautiful children, you instinctively know through your souls how to do this, this very task, to be in that very place, to walk towards God and to trust in what He gives in His Love. A simple prayer is a gift of love to God. When you listen and allow what God brings to you in this experience of His embrace, there is no doubt or confusion or speculation. The mind is left at the door and the awarenesses and knowings of the soul enter therein and come to know all that is there in that true place of communion. I cannot give you a higher Truth than this, beloved souls, for there is no higher Truth than this. It is the Truth whether said in words or felt in love, it is the Truth. You know this within you. Follow that knowing to its Source and you will be rewarded. You will be rewarded, beloved souls.

We look forward to the day when you are not children but imbued with the strength, the wisdom, and the knowledge that comes with the awakened soul, that comes with your ability to enter into that place of which I speak. So, we continue to encourage you upon that path of Love. Feel the expansion of your souls. Acknowledge its existence and enter through the door where all answers exist, all Truth lies, all Love reigns supreme.

God bless you, beloveds. I am Confucius. I am truly your brother upon this path. God bless you, brothers and sisters. God bless you.

Questions Regarding Guided Meditation and the Universal Code

Josephus July 11, 2019 Medium AI Fike

Yes, I am willing to entertain questions. I know our brother Confucius wishes for you to enter your soul to find the answers and this is a deep Truth. But indeed, you are mortals and this request is difficult for you to obey. So, we come to help you upon this journey so that you may understand more fully, the importance of it and the way to proceed. So, if there are questions to be asked at this time, I am willing to respond.

(Silence)

So, it appears our dear Confucius has struck you dumb. He is a powerful and beautiful angel of God, one of the highest in the Celestial Kingdom. He carries deep Truth with him and a powerful healing blessing for all that he encounters are touched deeply by his presence. How blessed you are to have him as one of those that works with you in this Circle of Light. How beautiful is God's Touch upon you to receive these high and beautiful Celestial beings who continue to bring their efforts forth on your behalf, to help to educate and uplift and carry you upon the path.

It is always our challenge, beloved souls, that we may encourage, but not create dependencies upon this experience and blessing that comes with the angels. For often, the tendency of mortals is, as Confucius indicates, to be lifted up, to be embraced and comforted, but it goes no further for those souls who are merely interested in the blessing and feelings of good will and love that come.

Question: We are encouraged to have more prayer circles and some people react better to guided mediation rather than a prayer like we have done today. What would be the best way to assess and set the intention and let the words come by themselves by whichever form they are supposed to come, or is there a merit to have a short prayer and then silence?

Composition of a Circle of Light is variable. It is dependent upon the individuals that are a part of that Circle and the perspective of each individual who is there. For some, it is indeed beneficial to guide their thinking and their minds upon a certain trajectory, so they are not distracted by their thoughts and expectations that are entirely mind-based. When you take them upon a journey that is guided, as you suggest, there can be some benefit for them, an opening of sorts that will allow influence and blessings from the angels and from God.

This is not a distraction as it is and can be a benefit. In time, one can be encouraged to do prayers as you have done and meditations as you have done. It is a process of gaining trust and a mindful acceptance of the way of prayer for God's Love. There are many tools that can be used in this regard, but it is also a problem if the mind is constantly engaged and reinforced through words and ideas, rather than going beyond this to the place of soul of which our beloved brother speaks. So, it requires discernment and, my brother, you will be guided in the ways in which to approach this challenge.

I say to you that many souls are seeking God's Love, but are challenged by their own minds and mindful considerations; therefore they block the opportunity and experience in prayer and contemplation. They prefer engagement of the mind through these guided meditations, as you call them, but wish not to go further. For often, when the mind is disengaged, there are many conditions and emotional blocks that keep them from a place of peace. There are many in your world who seek spirituality in this way, this mindful engagement that keeps them from their own true soul condition. For they are afraid to look beyond that of the mind to a place that is deeper, a place that has a great need and is often traumatized by the experiences of life.

This is why we make great effort to bring love and comfort and healing to those you work with, my son, and for all who come to these Circles of Light. We make a great effort to comfort these souls who are often in pain and confusion.

It is, at times, unrealistic to expect those who are suffering but seeking, to shift into that place of prayerful meditation since with the reality of their condition, their inner condition, they would find this difficult indeed. It is a benefit to them, to gently ease them along this path of Light, to gain their trust, to pray for each one who is involved, and to ask for healing for them and upliftment. This sort of intervention with prayer and intention on your part, and those who are involved in this effort, will benefit them greatly and help to open the door to understanding that which you are trying to teach and convey. It comes with the experience of receiving God's Love, in its beauty, in its intensity.

Yes, in your world, it is difficult for many to come to that place of acknowledgment. It is difficult to get beyond the mind. It is difficult to get beyond that insulating structure that the mind creates, where the soul finds it difficult to penetrate the consciousness and connect with God. This is most challenging, but this deep and abiding Truth, which you make great effort to teach and those of you here continue to seek to teach others, is a very important effort and needed in your world.

Though, you do not see yourselves as being greatly successful in this, for the numbers come and go, the curiosity peaks and wanes, the efforts are spotty. At times, I know that you are frustrated and downtrodden, knowing the Truth as you do, knowing the benefits of this Truth as you have experienced in your lives. Yet, it is difficult to convey this to others in a way that is meaningful and palpable to them. But, as you continue upon this path, as you persist in your efforts to bring this Truth forward, I tell you, you will find those ways and means that will touch others deeply.

You will be guided and we will be with you to assist. God's Hand will be upon your efforts. For each that you have been with in this way, each that you have spoken the Truth to, each that have experienced to some degree this blessing, a seed has been planted, a Truth has been given; an opportunity has been laid before them. In this way, you do God's work, my beloved son. You will be greatly rewarded for your efforts. In times to come, you will see that nothing has been wasted. All will come into the fullness and richness of your service to God, as will for all of you who make these efforts, who continue to serve God in this way, for the benefit of your brothers and sisters. A great blessing is given to your soul.

This is your reward and this reward is permanently cast within your soul. Think of this, beloveds, each time you draw a Light to yourself, it has a permanent effect upon you, a great blessing. So in this way, are not your efforts worthwhile? Yes, beloveds. Even if one in ten or one in a hundred truly understands what you say, you have done a great service to humanity. The changes that are needed in your world will be hard-won and not easily obtained. But they will come, because this is God's Will: to bring greater Light and Truth to your world. You have taken up the cause. You have within your souls, made a commitment to God that you will do so and be open and receptive to God's Guidance and Will in this regard.

So, my son, you have many questions. You wish to perfect your approach. I applaud you for your intentions, your desire to truly be effective as a channel of Truth and Love in the world. But I say to you, allow God to guide you. Bring your questions to God in prayer. Pray for your efforts. Pray for your efforts each and every day and you will be enlightened and guided and uplifted. In this way, you will also be more effective in your work. For as God's Love accumulates within your soul, greater wisdom comes, deeper perceptions, a clearer understanding that will be conveyed with deep sincerity and deep wisdom.

May God bless you on that journey, beloved souls, on the journey of service, the journey towards Truth, the journey of expressing that Truth as a teacher and a healer and a comforter for God. God bless you beloveds. I will entertain one more short question, if there is one.

Question: I had a repeated dream within which I received a message to: "break the Universal Code." Can you direct me in how to break the Universal Code?

There are many Truths in the Universe, dear daughter. There is no one Universal code, but there are many Truths indeed, that may be obtained and understood. I believe that you are being guided by a spirit who desires to teach you something. When they say "break this code", I perceive that they are wishing for you to be aware of what it is that he wishes to give you. It is your choice, dear daughter, and it is a form of Truth that he wishes to give. It is not THE Truth.

There is no Universal Code, so to speak, but it may be a piece of the great puzzle of God's Truth and Creation that you may obtain through your gifts. Again, it is your choice and that which you wish to entertain in your life, in your pursuit of Truth. So, I cannot help you any further than this for this is not given to you by a Celestial spirit, who would not use this sort of language or not be entertaining such a desire. So again, it is for you to discern and to obtain, through your willingness and openness to it.

I hope this reassures you that you are in control of this and that there is nothing that you can do at this time that will break open a revelation that is described with your statement for these revelations may come again and again and again. It is not simple nor easily obtained. So, I hope I have helped you in some way. I'm sorry if this is not the answer that you desire, but it is the only answer that I can give you, beloved soul. May God bless you.

We will end this session now and I thank you for again making effort to come together in this Circle of Light and be together in this eagerness to understand your true selves and to understand God.

God bless you upon that journey, beloveds. God bless you. I am Josephus.

Your Life Will Have Great Purpose as You Follow God's Will and Truth

Jesus July 12, 2019

Medium AI Fike

I come. I am Jesus, Master of the Celestial Kingdom. I come to speak to you today because I have observed your time together. Your time together has been blessed and somewhat orchestrated by us because it is important that you all have the opportunity to be in this Circle of Light that will allow you to grow and to understand one another and to come closer to truth. Great effort has been made to pour truth out to you, beloved souls. Great effort has been made to gather you in this light and the many aspects of blessings and light that have been poured upon you so that you may have the desires and needs of your soul met in love. So we have given to you great treasures of Truth, blessings of Love, healings and peace. And you have come to drink of the well, the well of Love. Together, beloved souls, you have gathered putting forth your souls' desires for God, for Love, the many blessings that God has to give to each one of you.

But as is the tendency of the mortal, you seek evermore, you have a great hunger for truth and yet that which is given is often cast aside and forgotten, not applied, not recognized, for the power and beauty that is a truth given by the angels of God. You cannot horde the truth, beloved souls, it has no purpose. What is purposeful is to take each truth that is given and apply it thoroughly to your lives for a truth is worth nothing without its application but a truth is worth everything when it is taken into your hearts and minds and souls and applied accordingly changing you in this process, enlightening you as you learn to grow with this truth. And so we feed you what we can, not giving you such a rich diet that you cannot keep up, so to speak, with what is given. You must pace yourselves, beloved souls, pace yourselves and you must consider as a group within this Circle of Light that you are performing a service for humanity in bringing forth truths to some degree that will benefit those who are seeking. It is in this act of giving, beloveds, that you receive and it is in the receiving that you are awakened if you absorb and acknowledge what is given.

As for the application of God's Will and plan for the salvation of mankind in this world, it is a very complex matter since the world, your world, is always in motion and movement, interacting, reacting, changing and these patterns created by humanity and their decisions and thoughts and expressions in your world make for a very complex and difficult condition that is often of darkness, contravening the laws of God, contravening that which may benefit and bring light to humanity. Instead, the baser inclinations of humanity are expressed in foremost ways and that which is of higher thought and condition and love is supplanted by the conditions of darkness which has been chosen with each moment, with each individual, with each choice and expression. So the condition of the world is in great crises where spirituality is not well understood, love is not the foremost expression of each soul, life is perverted by the will of men. And so this cannot continue in your world, for if it does continue it will mean the sterilization of this beautiful world of yours where all life cannot exist and this cannot be and God will not let it be.

God has a plan to bring the world back into balance and harmony. God makes available to every soul the opportunity to know this plan and to acknowledge this plan for He has implanted into each soul this truth that they must come to light in whatever path that they choose. There must be this choice. The opportunity lays before you and all to choose light, to choose to live in your world in light. Yet you wonder how will your brothers and sisters know of this truth, how will they know that which is known within the soul but not known within the mind and this is the dilemma that you acknowledge in your world. For the condition of mind is powerful, the condition of thought rules this world and there is little opportunity or acknowledgement of the soul and its operations and information that can be given in a conscious way to every individual. Yet God sends His great blessings, His angels, His Love forth in the world and there are those who respond such as yourselves, souls eager, souls that have been stirred, souls that recognize the truth that they must yearn and progress in light. This blessing and energy that comes from God that touches every soul in your world will continue to have its influence and bearing upon the soul. This will intensify, beloveds, it will intensify and that awakening, that acknowledgement that there must be change, there must be healing, there must be truth, there must be love, and it will continue to beat upon the souls of humanity. This is causing a great unease with many for it challenges what are the patterns and behaviors, truth that is of the mind amongst all who exist here in your world. This tension continues to elicit a response within each soul and a sense that change must come. With this blessing from God comes other manifestations and blessings that will continue to usher men towards light and we have spoken of this, I have spoken of this on other occasions and that there will be great changes in your world. There must be a re-calibration of sorts of the conditions in your world in order to foster the light and harmony within all the races of mankind, all who exist here, a great shift of perspective and even a great shift of conditions in which you all live. This is God's effort in Love and mercy for your world and all who reside within and all that is within your world to bring things back to Light and harmony. This is the great compassion of God Who wishes for all to be in harmony, for all to live in Love, for all to know that they are loved.

So when I walked the earth so long ago I brought with me the seeds of this change and so it began and so you continue to feel its effects. Though little understood it still continues to have its effects upon the souls of humanity. The truth of love will come and will be expressed in this world. Your children's children will know this, for this change will come that swiftly to your world. You are sensing it now, you are seeing the changes, the physical changes of the world and this will intensify. You are feeling a sort of restlessness within your soul which continues to yearn for God. You may interpret this as a desire for truth, for greater Truth, but I tell you, beloved brothers and sisters, you have enough Truth at this time to bring you to God in at-onement in the power and glory of your soul's communion with your Creator. What more would you require to grow in your soul, to shift in your consciousness, to understand, truly understand the Will of God? There is much that is coming, beloved souls, and yes, the will of men continues to thwart the Will of God but you cannot underestimate the power of the Will of God to manifest in your world and to bring about the changes that are necessary to bring about the light that is destined to be a part of your world. You know this within your souls, you feel the stirrings, this deep desire to come to that place of Truth and peace and love. This is happening with each one of your beloved souls, as it is happening to many others. There will come a time when you will acknowledge one another. You will see with your eyes, the eyes of your soul, a kindred spirit, one who is with you in this great effort to bring peace and harmony to your world as an instrument, a channel of God's Will and Love.

We continue to prepare you, beloved souls, to help you to see clearly, to help you to understand your true natures, to help you to open to God unrestricted by the barriers of thought and error. Each soul who desires this, who makes effort, who capitulates their willful nature to be independent from God towards God, towards communion, towards love will be blessed deeply for great effort is being made in your world, great effort indeed. This shall intensify as God's Will continues to manifest and be made clear amongst humanity and each of you are needed in this great effort. We need your prayers, we need your light, we need your efforts to reach out to continue to build these networks of light around the world. You have been given every opportunity and facility to accomplish this and this shall continue. Nothing will thwart your efforts, nothing will stand against you, beloved souls. Those obstructions that are placed before you, you will easily and readily overcome for you who are complicit with God's plan for the salvation of mankind will be shown the way and the expression of your place and purpose within it with each day that comes. Pray to be guided, beloved souls, pray to know your way through these changing times, pray that the changes that are necessary may come to your own soul and your own conscious self so that you are informed and strengthen and shown the way towards love and truth and peace and wisdom and joy.

We continue to make great efforts to communicate this truth and reality of God's Will for the salvation of mankind. This time that you live within is a very important time and is crucial, for humanity is given the opportunity to rise above what has been their fate for so many years to something higher, something more in harmony with God's laws and creation. Choice is always given, beloveds, and you who are here have chosen the light. Continue to strive towards it and you, beloved souls, will teach this and share this good news that is the Love of God available to all. You will be guided, protected, enveloped in light. Pray for this protection always, pray for this love. May it be a constant desire within you that you may accelerate the transformation of your soul, that you may awaken to all that is within you and is given to you by God.

May God bless you, beloved souls. I come as a teacher to you, I come as your elder brother, I come to give to you my love and blessings. I know that when I speak in this way I often speak in sobering terms that often challenge your thoughts and your ways of life. But this must be done, beloveds, this must be done for each soul upon this world for the time is now to sound the bell that will bring God's children back, back home to Truth. God bless you, beloveds. I am your brother and I am with you always as you continue to seek Truth and Love, as you draw closer to your Creator, our Heavenly Father, I am with you. Know that I am with you, know that I shall always be with you, my beloved brothers and sisters, and I will uplift you in Light. God bless you, beloveds. God bless you deeply. I am Jesus and I love you.

Prepare Yourself Spiritually for the Coming Changes In the World

Josephus July 12, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Josephus. I too wish to give my thanks to you for listening, for participating in this Circle of Light. I also wish to give one last opportunity to you all to ask a question that may be answered that is appropriate to this time together. I will give you this opportunity now, beloved souls, if you are desirous of asking.

Question: May I ask a question?

By all means, my brother.

Question: What I heard earlier about Jesus, this clause about the changing time because within the plan of God that it will not be allowed for mankind, the perversion of mankind to sterilize this world where life cannot exist. Of thinking about the different epochs of time, the time of Abraham, the time of Moses, the time of Jesus some 2000 years ago, each almost like a catalyst to create a change. In this time here I see how mankind is in the energy, the dark energy, I always feel that there is reaching the critical point, a tipping point creating an inflection points, it really caused by mankind, the destruction is caused by mankind and is not by God or not by anyone. Can you share within this Circle of Light, I see the technology that we have, like many are having website, sharing truth, sharing information; we are seeing that there--should there be some kind of catalyst acting to pull everything together. Can you share, is it within the plan of God to share with us what that may be, how can we help, how can we assist to reverse the direction that mankind is moving towards. What I see is that millions of people may perish in order to re-calibrate as the word was used, re-balance life. So that is my question, Josephus.

I see your question as more of a statement of the conditions of your world and what you speak of is true. As to what will manifest in the coming times in regards to these changes to some degree is dependent upon the choices that humanity makes and the ways in which they will confront these changes and choose to come to harmony or to come to destruction. Yes, I fear that many millions will perish, beloved friend, that many will choose the latter rather than the former. But you must consider that this world, this plane of existence, is just one of many and therefore they have not lost their opportunity to grow in love and light but have forfeited their opportunity to grow in love and light in this world. For this world cannot hold the burdens of these many destructive choices of humanity, this great hunger for materialism that continues to leach away the vitality of your world. So the great impetus of humanity to continue to bring destruction must be neutralized and God, as I have said, has a plan to do so.

But this does not mean that some of your inventions and capacities for communication, capacities to better your lives in this world may not be utilized and re-purposed so that it is in greater harmony with what is meant to be in your world. God does not disapprove of men's creativity and propensity to bring forth various ways and means to improve their lives. But God disapproves of the blatant sense which humanity is entitled to strip this planet of all of its resources for their benefit, not honoring life but destroying it in the process. But as these conditions shift and change in your world, as the impact of humanity is reduced in a gross way, as many leave your world for the next, so the opportunities and possibilities to restart and reestablish a more harmonious perspective and expression of humanity in your world will evolve and come together in a guided way and this is where many of you will be important channels to guide, to help correct this new way of being in the world, this new appreciation of life and new honoring of life.

Many of you will play a part in this, beloved souls. There are many others who will do so and you will not lose your connections with one another, you will not lose your ability to communicate. But in this new world many things will be different and many ways to communicate and work together will emerge as a great blessing and boon from God for God's plan brings powerful change and powerful blessings to humanity. As in any condition in the universe of God where there is change, there is opportunity; where there is a shift, there is a blessing. So you will be surprised, my brothers and sisters, as to what is coming and how this will manifest.

And we will not reveal to you much at this time, only to suggest that you prepare yourself spiritually for this is the only true preparation that you can make in order to meet the changes that are coming and are able to contribute in light what is truly coming in light. And we urge you, beloved souls, to make the growth of your soul, the expansion of your soul and expansion of the faculties and gifts of your soul to be a priority in your life for the material goals that you work for today will not be present in the future. You cannot accumulate enough in the material things to insulate yourselves from the changes that are coming. You may only find comfort and strength and capacity to express and be a part of this new way on this earth through prayer and spiritual preparation, through yearning and growing in love and light.

We give you the key, beloved souls, we give you the keys to greater life, to a harmonious life, to a blessed life. Please listen, please act upon what you know and what you have heard and you will find yourselves in remarkable circumstances and opportunities to serve God in this great plan. And it will be a joyous thing, a beautiful journey of wonderment and surprise as new capacities and gifts open up within your soul empowered by God's Touch upon this world, empowered because you have chosen to be a part of God's Will and plan. Please, beloved souls, please come to this realization and walk in faith. Do not attempt to insulate yourselves from what is coming, rather be joyful and realize that God will guide you with each day and each opportunity that comes your way will be blessed. You will know, you will see, you will be guided as changes come. As you continue to listen, as you continue to have faith in God's plan, so all will come in harmony with your lives and the many lives who will be affected by those souls who choose to be a part of this great wave of change, this great wave of light that continues to flow and touch your world, this gift from God, this gift from God.

May God bless you, beloved souls. Again, I thank you for your efforts, your contributions, your prayers, your love of one another. May you continue to open to the Truth, to apply the Truth in all respects to your lives and you will find that God will guide you with each day and bring you to that place of Truth, of harmony, of Love. Thank you, beloveds. Thank you, beloved souls. I am Josephus. May God bless you deeply. God bless you.

God Will Use You

Mary July 12, 2019

Medium AI Fike

I have come to bless you, to be with you in this Circle of Light for you have worked diligently to bring Truths to this world, to help to awaken those souls who are drawn to the Light that is here and to dedicate your time and efforts to fulfill God's Will. Precious and beloved souls, God will put before you many opportunities to serve in this way and in many ways in your world. You cannot and will not be able to count the ways in which God will use you and bring forth many opportunities to reach the souls of your brothers and sisters. For as you grow in the Love of God and have a great desire to love all those in your world, to be a channel of God's Love in the world, so God opens the opportunities to fulfill this desire of your soul and awaken the gifts of your soul so that when you are in the presence of others you will be able to manifest the grace and blessings and Will of God.

This is the fulfillment of what we have spoken to you of over these many years, bringing you in the midst of many diverse souls with many different perspectives and experiences in life. You have embraced all in love, accepted and reached out towards them with the truth of God's Love upon your lips, within your gaze, in your embrace. You have brought this light and love and those who are innocent and open and yearning have felt this embrace and this truth. God will guide to many who are in this place of yearning and receptivity. Be humble, beloved souls, do not restrict the flow of your efforts and work because you do not see what is possible to manifest as you move in the world, as you walk as God's instruments. Do not restrict the Will of God, beloved souls, but carry the great Light, the torch, the flame of Love wherever you go and it will light your way and warm the hearts of many and bring the power of Truth to the souls of many.

Yes, the power of God's Will within your lives increases. You begin to feel the impetus and impulses that are within the soul to move with this Will in many places and circumstances in the world. You will be guided, beloved souls, forever guided and this guidance is only restricted by your capacity to travel and act upon these visions and understandings and invitations from God to be in many places in your world. My beloved son continues to reach many souls. When he was on earth, he traveled a great deal. He went to the many souls who were receptive to his teachings. He was obedient to the will of God and joyfully expressed that Will, that guidance with every day.

And so for each soul who truly desires to serve God and to know His Will so there is a need to put aside your own desires and inclinations in life and come to that perfect flow and plan that God has for you. In this you give up nothing, beloveds, but gain the world, gain the salvation of your soul through service and love, through awakening in Love, through knowing God's Will, through the power of His Love. Seek to serve, beloveds, seek to allow God's Will to manifest in your lives and be the touchstone for all that you do. May it be in your love for God and your love for your brothers and sisters. In this depth of dedication, in this true understanding of what Love may bring your lives will be filled with many possibilities and opportunities and God will provide the ways and the means for you to reach out and touch many. This is your destinies, beloved souls, this is your destinies, to be in that great river, that flow that God has designated for each of you. In your acceptance of His Will where you allow with each moment and each breath to be an instrument of His Will then there is great joy, fulfillment of the soul and a beautiful light builds within you, a depth of wisdom and understanding of Truth, an accumulation of the Light of Love within you. You need not worry of the details, you need not worry how you will be provided for in this life of yours for within God's perfect Will and designs for you. All is provided that is required and necessary for your needs of this world. It will come in a flow of grace and Love from God.

May God bless you, beloveds. May you come to know God's Will for you and realize with great joy the possibilities and potentials of your soul. We are very pleased with your efforts, beloved souls. We are very pleased with how you have embraced God's Will for these moments together and come together in love and peace and joy. This is an example of living your lives in harmony with Truth and Love. You will continue to grow in this and awaken more deeply within this Truth. God bless you, beloveds. I am Mary and I love you. I feel close to each and every one of you. You are my brothers and sisters in this world and I am close. God bless you, beloveds. Mary loves you. God bless you.

Various Questions

Josephus-2 July 12, 2019 Medium AI Fike

The conditions of light, the blessings from God that were given for these moments of prayer together continue to linger in this room and amongst you, beloved souls. So I am quite happy to entertain your questions if you have some to present. I will continue to do so while you are in prayer together for these few days. God's blessings continue to flow upon you, beloveds, and if there are teachings that you wish to have presented to you then they will be given, a deep blessing for you all, beloveds, a deep blessing of love.

Question: Thank you, Josephus. My question is not a question but an understanding of the scope of the questions that we may ask.

I believe we have been quite clear as to the limitations and scope of what may be asked. Our intentions are to speak to you in terms of soul awakening, understandings of the deeper implications of the power of God's Love working within you. We do not wish to entertain personal and private inquiries. Each soul has the possibility of being guided and to be open to guidance from God. In these quiet and private moments with God, you may ask your questions of God and may often receive an answer so that faculty of response to your prayerful inquiries and needs is already available to each of you. Our desire is to give to you clarifications of truths and laws, understandings pertaining to the gift of Divine Love, the awakening of the soul. Do you have further inquiries, dear son?

No, thank you.

Question: I have a question about the ongoing energy of the messages. When others who are not in the circle listen to them or read the messages, are the blessings and healings that are conveyed to us here continue with those people, even in years in the future?

When a Truth is read in print or discussed with another or contemplated, by the Laws of Attraction, by the power of God's Love and Will there is a blessing for that individual. Of course there are limitations, we cannot replicate the conditions that we have built here in every instance to those who are seeking to read and understand the messages that are given. But there is a blessing, my beloved daughter, for those who would even hold that piece of paper with the writings upon it for there is a Light, an energy that is imbued within that object that is a blessing from God. For each item of Truth whether it is in words and print, whether it is verbalized from another, in whatever way it is given to the world, it is blessed with Light, an energy or blessing comes with each effort to bring Truth to the world. This is why when you stand and speak to a crowd or to an individual you feel the grace that comes with that instance of communication. Part of God's plan is in this blessing that comes to reinforce those who speak Truth and who give love and desire to be a channel of Love. So your efforts to spread the words of Truth in the world are rewarded, beloved souls, deeply rewarded within your souls. And the one who is receiving and open to these Truths and this blessing will also be rewarded with Light to help them and uplift them and bring them to some understanding of Truth. God's plan and God's blessings for those souls who seek and desire to be uplifted are multidimensional and has many facets and expressions. So this work continues to ignite the many blessings in your world, the great light that continues to grow through your efforts and the efforts of many including those on my side of life. This shall indeed grow and intensify and you will witness in a palpable way how powerful this light is that will bring the truth to humanity.

Does this answer your question, dear daughter?

Yes, quite well, thank you.

May God bless you.

Question: Josephus, I'm wondering if you'll be able to join us Sunday morning for the online Circle of Light. We are so gratified, so happy about the growing, strengthening bonds of love of people who join in on these calls so I'm curious about the Circles of Light, the Portals of Light, the Lattice of Light. Our dear teachers have encouraged us to strengthen them and we are praying for them and such a blessing today that Darlene shared with us how she saw the portal here as I understand it stretching forth from the center of the earth and the darkest hells right up into the Celestial Heavens. So I'm very curious about this work God and the angels are doing and our role, our efforts, how we can support and strengthen--I just want to know everything that you can share with us about the portals, where they are, how we build them--I mean we can't build them but I think you get the gist of my inquiry.

The gist of your inquiry is quite extensive. So where do I begin to answer these questions.

Question: Are you going to come on Sunday morning, that was the first part.

If you wish for us to come and answer questions within your circle that is such of an unusual character, we would be happy to do so provided that this instrument is prepared and ready to be used in this way.

Question: Is that a good thing, or you'd like to encourage it when it's online or is it better in the circle such as this?

We encourage truth wherever we can, beloved soul. We encourage your efforts, for your efforts have intentions of Light and Love, of sharing Truth and bringing together many souls from many parts of the world. This is a great gift and boon to us all, is it not? To open up these doors of communication, to help others feel that they are a part of a family that is intent upon loving and supporting the journey of awakening the soul through God's Love.

And, yes, these portals are powerful instruments that God has gifted the world with and all of us with for this makes our efforts much easier to reach the conditions of your world and allows many, many angels to come at one time into your midst and to work with you and through you for we have much to accomplish as do you in bringing of truth to mankind. So God continues to bless us with the instruments that are required to bring this Truth more fully, more powerfully, more beautifully to the world. You live in a very interesting time, beloved souls, one in which the miracles of such things are available and manifest in many different ways in your world. I cannot explain in great detail and depth all that God has provided to enact and fulfill His desire for the salvation of mankind but I assure you, beloveds, that the power of this great plan and the blessings that come with it are extensive and are effective in the ways in which this will be implemented, this plan of God to bless humanity. So that you may play a part, each of you, and the many more who are involved and yet in their minds they are not clear in their understanding of such, will continue to be benefited by many blessings and manifestations of gifts and instruments to assist them in their work. You are very fortunate indeed that you to some extent understand, have a clear vision, have some insight as to what is manifest in these blessings from God. This will continue to come to you and build a true understanding of what God intends for this world and what God brings in a blessing for this world. So, my beloveds, you are favored indeed because you have made a simple choice, a choice of Light, a choice of Truth to awaken your souls in this great Love of God. In this way you will have exceptional opportunities, exceptional insights and be deeply blessed as time proceeds in this awakening of humanity and bringing to them the choice that they must make for Light.

Many will be coming to you, beloveds, and ask you what you see and know and understand in this great flow and wave of change and disruption of the world, a disruption that is a blessing to awaken humanity. You must be well versed and clear within yourself and close to God in your soul's longings and communions with your Heavenly Father. In these ways you will be equipped to teach, to uplift, to bring peace to the souls who are in distress, who are and will be in great need, who will need an anchor in their lives so that they may weather the storms that are coming and be open to the guidance and flow of God's Will that is intended to touch every soul in your world. Your mission is to help awaken mankind to the possibilities of Truth and Love. You are doing so now, beloved daughter, and all of you who are involved. Continue to do your parts and to learn as you step forward and express your soulful gifts and perceptions and understanding of Truth and to do so as a channel of Love so that love infuses everything--your words, your being, all that you do and express.

I cannot go further than this in my explanations.

Thank you.

Question: Dear Josephus, can I ask a question regarding...I am reading "Who and What is God," a beautiful work that was channeled through James Padgett and this question is regarding how we are created souls but that with God's Divine Love, His very essence, we become a part of God. I guess what...I'm not sure how to articulate this but I just want to hear of God's Love, about how much God loves each and every one of us and that He knows the hair on our head, He knows when a sparrow falls, I guess my soul really yearns to know more about God and I pray and I seek this in my life and I know that there are many that are lost and for them to know how much God loves each of them, every one, every one of us. This is such a relief that we have such a God of Love, our Creator, and how blessed we are to be an individual soul. But to hear it from your lips, to hear...you know, you are in the Celestial Heavens closer to God and I think just to hear about God, who our beautiful God is from your experience, this feeling of love that God has for you and all of us.

So you wish for me to express a sermon on God, dear soul?

Question: To share your feelings of this, of God's tender loving care to each and every one of us, this love...to know of God's Love for each of us. I don't know if that would be...whatever you can do to elaborate on just that idea.

It is not an idea, dear daughter, it is the Truth. The power of God's Love you will continue to discover and know in your life if you continue to reach for God and receive the blessing of God's Love within. As the soul awakens, so the faculties of the soul are able to perceive God, to understand the depth of His Love. We in the Celestial Kingdom know to a great extent the depth of God's Love but we also are aware that this experience and understanding in our communion with God, His great Soul, continues to grow and will grow for all eternity. To convey to you the power of that experience, the understanding of the extent, the breadth of God's Love for each of His children is not possible. For to understand you must come to that place of being with God, of asking God to open the way for you to understand His blessing, the power of His Love for you and for all. This holy communion with God, this great blessing that comes, this response that comes from God's Soul to yours through the instrumentality of the Holy Spirit is a personal and individual experience that grows and grows as you with your faith and your prayers and your longings and your receptivity continue to receive and be ignited by the great awareness and power of Love that comes.

Beloved souls, do you not feel God in this room at this moment? Have you not been guided towards God with each time that you pray together in a Circle of Light? We continue to point to God and say, this is the Source of all, this is the Power that empowers us and empowers you upon your journey of Love on the awakening of all that is within you waiting, waiting for the Touch of God to ignite all the faculties of your soul. Love will grow, the understanding of Love will grow. But the true and clear perception of the power of God's Love is not something that comes with words or descriptions. It comes with your prayers and opening to God, feeling and knowing His Presence and Love for you, allowing the infusion of this great Love, this energy, this Essence of God into your soul.

And with this I will bid you goodnight, beloved souls. May God bless you deeply, may God uplift you, may God take the scales from your eyes so that you may see for yourselves the glory and wonderment of His Love and presence in your lives. God bless you. I am Josephus. My love is with you.

Explanation of the Soul

Luke July 13, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Luke and I have come to speak to you about the soul since this is the focus of your gathering and your questions and your efforts to clarify your understanding of who and what you truly are. What is your essence? Your essence is your soul. The soul is a being, an entity created by God that has resided most of its existence within God in a place that is wholly different from the material world. In that place, the soul experiences itself to some degree and experiences God more fully because all of the material impediments do not restrict the soul from God.

There is a sort of communion and communing between the soul and the great Soul of God. Think of it as the Soul of God pregnant with other souls, tiny droplets that are a reflection of itself, the reflection of God. Although it is not entirely accurate to think of a soul as a potential of a God becoming, that when it reaches its fullness of expression that it is God. This is not the case. But it is a very special creation of God, very unique. Each soul, as you know, is unique in its make-up, its potentials, even personality, and gifts.

So this potential that is the soul, divides into two parts and enters the material plane and becomes a mortal, birthed into different dimension from whence it came, a dimension very different indeed. In this, the soul gains identity. It becomes more of itself rather than that place where it is in a way merged with so many in this ecstatic condition of Love that is God.

In the process of becoming its true self, the awakening of all its potentials, of knowing its uniqueness and expressing its uniqueness in many, many different ways and aspects that is the soul, this is not accomplished completely without one special gift, the gift of Divine Love, the activating Energies of God that awaken the God-given gifts and potentials that are given to the soul. A soul may obtain identity in your world and continue to progress through the spheres of spirit to that of the sixth plane, pure and beautiful, where all impediments of its natural qualities and nature are refined and eliminated to a point where many aspects of the individual may be expressed and developed.

But still, there are many more potentials waiting within the soul that cannot be developed in this way. So, you, my beloveds, seek the way of Love, the way of developing and awakening these true aspects of yourself that remain hidden in the soul. You elicit the great Essence of God so that it may complete this process of coming into yourself, your true self, the soul, in all its beauty and glory, its potentials and expressions, its gifts awakened in Love.

The soul has no material quality. It is purely of spirit. It is purely of the Substance of God. This is why religious scholars, philosophers, teachers, so many in your world who have tried to define the soul, cannot do so with any accuracy, without igniting the soul faculties and perceptions. Even then, the impediments of the material mind and the material world restrict one's ability to communicate this Truth, this experience of self and this experience of self with God in union and communion.

This is why you find it so difficult to convince your brothers and sisters of this existence of soul and what it means and what it is. For you are yourselves in the process of discovering this Truth, of awakening to your true self. That awakening is beginning. There are tentative steps towards the fullness of the transformative process of the soul awakened by God's Love, but you, my beloved souls, my friends, who are eager to know truth, who are eager to know yourselves, have your feet firmly upon that path and will find the answers to your questions to some degree in this world. Yet, as you progress in the next, many revelations await you and will come to your knowings and perceptions. In this, a great joy, a great joy and being freed from the expectations of the mind and fulfilled in the openness, the opening of your soul to God. For the great gift of the soul is the gift of knowing God, of being able to relate to God in the ways that God relates to you, to coming to know God through the perceptions of the soul.

In this relationship, comes an understanding of your true nature, your true selves. For God puts within your soul faculties and abilities that are beyond the reasoning qualities of the material mind and the perceptions of the material mind. For these perceptions of the material can never truly know God nor truly know your own soul. You must rely upon these other avenues, these other ways of knowing, perceiving, and experiencing that come from the soul to awaken this relationship. When this relationship is awakened and known and utilised, when there is a conversation of sorts between you and God, many revelations come. God gives to you in all His generosity and Love, the knowledge of His universe, the knowledge of Truth.

For when the faculties of the soul are awakened, so the possibilities of understanding these gifts that God has to give come to be within you. Your capacity to love and to express yourselves in all the beauty of your gifts, all the beauty of what and who you are come to be realised as you come closer to the very Essence of what God is. In this way, you come closer to the very essence of who you are and what you are capable of.

As you rise up into this light, this vibration as you call it, and the resonance between you and God becomes more complete, more attuned, more in harmony, then the entire universe of God comes to you and your conscious self. In all of this, your identity, your sense of self is not lost. Instead, it becomes more complete, full of many more aspects, like a diamond that is rough and is polished and the many facets revealed. The light of your own soul sparkles through its many facets and are reflected into the universe. It is your soul expressing the multiplicity of what it is, this great and wondrous and highest creation of God which is the soul of the human being.

I know I speak in esoteric terms and it is difficult for you to understand without the experience, without the journey bringing you further forward into this understanding. But I believe that you sense the magnitude and the complexity and the beauty that is the soul.

When the soul merges with its soul mate, there is even greater understanding and awareness that comes, given this transformative experience and existence of the soul redeemed by the Father's Love. The capacities and gifts of the soul are multiplied by this merging of the two aspects of the soul into one. The depth of joy and wonderment and beauty that comes with this is beyond my explanation to you. But if you imagine the most joyful and ecstatic moment in your life and multiply that a thousand-fold, you may come to realise an inkling of what this might be.

God has laid before His beautiful creations, the souls of humanity, a magnificent journey that never ends. It is all done in His Love for us and His care and nurturing of His beautiful creation which is the soul. Even now, in the beginnings of your journey, you have a sense of appreciation and gratitude for what God has created. In comparison to that place where your soul is redeemed, merged, and made into something new and wondrous, you only see a very small glimmer of what is. Yet you are drawn. Your souls know. Your souls feel the magnetism to move forward into this magnificent journey of awakening, of love, of being.

You will receive each day a little particle of Truth, a drop of Love. You inch your way closer. You have a sense of purpose and direction, of depth and meaning in life. This can only intensify as you pray and receive this gift of Love. Continue to seek and to step forward upon the path. And though this process and journey may seem slow and mysterious and you question so much with your minds, within your soul is an emerging joy, a sense of excitement, a sense of surety that you are indeed upon the path that is the path of a soul awakened in Love.

So, my beautiful brothers and sisters, you cannot know the soul with your mind. You may speculate and imagine. You may go deeper and feel to some degree the experience of this transformational process and the sense of Love that comes from God. But I tell you that when you feel this draw to God, to His Love, does this not motivate you and urge you forward to seek more, to experience more, to allow the experience to inform your understanding so that it may give you true insight, true perception of what it is that we are all seeking and what it is that we are all experiencing upon this journey of soul awakening?

With each day, there is a small change, a small inching forward in this process. You continue to awaken in this incremental way as you adjust and adjust to these shifting perceptions, shifting motivations, shifting understandings. So it becomes second nature to you, beloved souls. So it is the dawning of a new understanding and truth. Allow this to be absorbed within you fully, every part of you. For the soul is the core of your being and informs all that you are whether you are aware or not.

The condition of your soul, the light of your soul influences and affects all other parts of your being. It seeks to integrate all in Light. As you receive God's Love so this Love seeks to connect, to bring together everything within you, and to heal it in Love and bring a complete understanding of all that you are in this way.

Beloved souls, you will know more as time progresses. You will understand more as Love accumulates within your souls. You will come to know God with such depth and wisdom and joy as this Love continues to integrate all that you are into one whole that is the awakened soul.

God bless on that journey, beloved souls. God bless you. I am Luke. My love is with you. God bless you.

Law of Attraction and Dark Spirits Attachments

Josephus July 13, 2019 Medium Al Fike

I have returned, Josephus. How beautiful it is that Luke has spoken to your souls, spoken in words and love. Now, I will attempt to address your minds for this is where your questions come, is it not? I'm here to receive your question.

Question: Thank you, dear Josephus. This is the question we have chosen: as we progress on our path and as a part of our healing efforts, we come across people who have or may have dark spirits attached. What is the best way that we can assist both the human and that spirit or spirits? Thank you.

Well, I believe that my answer will be very simple: the power of prayer, my beloved souls. What you call an attachment of a spirit is merely a relationship that has been built between an individual soul and that spirit who by the Laws of Rapport and Communication has created a very strong bond indeed. One reinforces the other, does it not? The thoughts of the mortal and the thoughts of the spirit go back and forth, blended together creating such a sense in one way that they are at one, much like you feel when you are close to a friend and you understand one another and there is comfort in this understanding.

A spirit that lives in a dark corner of God's reality is lonely, is in need of friends for comfort and seeks out a mortal to do so. Because often in the plane that they exist, though there are many other spirits with them, there is a deep sense of isolation and loneliness. It is possible because of the Laws of Attraction for that dark spirit to be drawn to a mortal who has within themselves dark thoughts and emotions. This relationship then forms between the two. The spirit is lost within the reality of this mortal in your world. This is a rather sad situation, to see what you call attachments maintained in your material world, but indeed they do exist and are quite common.

Your friend who came to visit has a keen awareness of these conditions and this relationship. Though he may not explain this in the way that I have, he still understands quite keenly what is involved and is able to communicate with that spirit and urge it to remove itself from its relationship with the mortal. This is a very difficult thing to do, beloved souls, to convince that spirit who has found so much comfort, who has been able to feed off the energies of the mortal and feel some relief from its loneliness and condition of pain. It requires special skills and abilities and perceptions, a strength to help to release that mortal from its condition of attachment with the spirit.

Yes, prayer is helpful, beloveds. In fact, with an intense prayer done in faith, love and understanding of the situation so that there is compassion and love, there can be healing accomplished, and we are always there to assist you in these situations. Though without the right conditions and capacities, we are unable to accomplish the task without those who are gifted in this regard.

This is a complex matter, beloved souls. Again, it reflects the unhealthy and dark conditions of your world, how the psyches of many mortals are polluted by the influence of the dark spirits. They are drawn by the inclinations and desires of those mortals. This is why we stress to you to keep your thoughts elevated, to be aware of your motivations, to be aware of your judgments, those things within you that do not reflect love because you draw to you darkness when you entertain darkness. You draw to yourselves pain when darkness is present. You know this. You sense this within yourself.

I am not suggesting that there are attachments, as you call it, amongst you but I do say that every mortal is vulnerable if they do not follow the laws and understand the dynamics that are involved. Most mortals do not. They have no idea of what is going on from this side of life that is so dynamic and so immediate in its responses to attraction and influence by the spirit world.

Yes, you broach as I say a very difficult subject, complicated in its nature for free will is involved. The desires of mortals and the desires of spirits merging together to create a condition that is difficult to unravel and creating a bond that is difficult to sever. So, those who are gifted in this way provide a very beautiful service to humanity. Those who do this with love and who need your love and respect and prayers and support for the intensity of this work and the vastness of this unfortunate condition in the world is great. There are very few in your world who are capable of being effective instruments to heal these conditions.

Yes, your prayers may help, beloveds. Your understanding and your compassion are important. Some may develop these gifts if they so choose so that they may help the dark spirits and those mortals encased in this dark condition. But it takes a great deal of fortitude and strength, commitment and perception combined with a gift, a great gift and capacity to work in this way.

In every way, beloveds, there is much work to do. On every level and aspect and layer of life there is darkness and disruption and disharmony and pain. When we say there is much work to do, we are indeed understating the situation which you face upon this world. Yet, for you to remain strong and in connection and contact with your Heavenly Father, guided, developed, strengthened, directed, and purposeful, we have asked you to listen to God's Will and be obedient to it.

We are not suggesting that you take on this task and develop these gifts unless this is the Will of God, unless you are called to do so. Though you may do so of your own free will, it is always your choice but God knows your gifts. He knows your potential and He has a plan to engage these possibilities and potentials within this plan. So I suggest that you listen to your guidance and come to appreciate what it is that God wishes for you to do. It may not be as dramatic as this gift that I speak of but is it less effective in the ways of bringing light into your world?

Consider the wisdom of God and the desire of God for you to work with God, to be with God, to enable God to work through you. This is the highest of aspirations. This comes with the power of His Love within your souls. Seek to serve in the flow of harmony of God's Will and Love in this world and all will come as it should, unfold and awaken within this plan. Yes, many will be uplifted. Many will find healing and release from the darkness and find joy rather than pain in their lives. Have faith that you will play your part, that you will express your gifts, that your service will mean something, beloveds, and have its impact in the world. Trust in God. Trust in God's Will.

I thank you, my beloved souls. I am Josephus and I will say my good-byes for now but will return. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you.

Importance of Beauty in Your Lives

Francis of Assisi July 13, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Francis and I wish to talk about the importance of having beauty in your life. You admire this instrument's beautiful garden, the expression of his soul and mind as a dedication to God. The joy that he receives in nurturing and creating with God's Creations comes together in this beautiful tableau of color and form and texture and light. What joy it gives him and what joy it gives to you, beloved souls, creating and enhancing the power and beauty and blessings of God that have come to this place.

For each one of you, beloved souls, seek out beauty, to be uplifted by the beauty of God's Creations, by the natural beauty of the forests and the water and the streams, the rocks, the plants, animals, all the beautiful creatures of God. As you walk within the forests, sing God's praises, have a deep appreciation for what God has created and how God has provided for all His children in so many ways. So many ways, the beauty of God's Creation is evident in your lives. How fortunate you are that you reside in places of beauty, that you nurture this beauty as best you can with your labors, with your efforts to attract and encourage all that is good and harmonious and beautiful.

Create beauty within your own homes. Be aware of how the place in which you reside reflects your inner condition and inner aesthetics; how this too enhances your environment and to some degree brings to you blessings and energies from God. And within the home that is your body, mind and spirit, bring beauty there as well with your thoughts, with what you do to bring harmony to yourselves, to be uplifted, to be pure within yourselves and in harmony with God's Laws of Creation. For your bodies are a gift from God, they are elements to encase your soul and express your soul in the world.

May that expression be clear and of beauty, of grace, of peace, of Love. For God wishes for each of His children to be a beautiful expression of Love and Light, and this comes as your soul grows in Love and Light. All is reflected from the eye's perception of the soul. You have a deep desire and are attracted to that which is harmonious, beautiful to look at, beautiful to feel and be immersed within. This Circle of Light is a creation of beauty, the beauty of your soul's desires, my friends, the beauty of that which is God's blessing upon you, the beauty of this place that is set in harmony. This scene is indeed a reflection of the beauty of God's Creation.

As you are drawn to higher Truths, greater Love, the aesthetics of your soul grows as well and are reflected in your tastes and desires, of how you live, how you express yourselves, how you are in the world, all of this a reflection of your soul. It is not a burden to create beauty my beloved friends; it is a joy. It is not a burden to be in harmony with your surroundings, with your brothers and sisters, with God; it is a joy. God does not put any burden upon you, beloved souls. God merely guides you along the path that brings harmony and with harmony comes beauty and with beauty comes grace.

Your souls are beautiful, beloveds. Your souls are more beautiful than any garden, anything that God has created in this world. They are more beautiful than the most beautiful flower you have ever seen, the most beautiful sky, the most beautiful water. Know your souls are more beautiful than this. The Light that emanates from your souls is pure and truly a reflection of God's Creation in this world. Come to appreciate, to contemplate upon your own souls, to absorb within your conscious sight the beauty of your souls and what this entails because so much within you reflects the perfect and wonderful beauty of God and His Creation.

When you are creative in the world, you bring an element of beauty into this world and in doing so you bring Light into this world. When you create a garden, it is a creation of beauty and Light. When you write something using language that is harmonious and elicits beauty within the mind and Truth, is this not a beautiful thing? And many other ways, my friends, many other ways may you bring beauty and this in turn brings Light and harmony.

Consider what you may bring into your world. Consider what is beautiful, consider what brings you joy, what awakens you, what inspires you and you will see that there is some element of harmony and beauty within it. God blesses you with the opportunities and the possibilities of expressing yourselves in so many ways. Your souls have such a capacity to create beauty. Your talents and gifts expressed in whatever way that may be bring a measure of beauty to the world. And in this sharing of that which is in you, you uplift your brothers and sisters.

As you come to God, as we all do in our days in this world, so you bring beauty to your souls. You awaken the potentials within that are beautiful and will express beauty and grace and Light. So much comes in this awakening of your soul. So much is available to you as this awakening comes more fully into your being and conscious self and your ability to see beauty in all the simplicity of God's Creations, in some simple form, some color, some word, some act of love from another, in so many ways. With these heightened sensibilities, so your ability to see and know and appreciate the beauty of life comes more intensely and in greater harmony to you. May God give you the vision to see all that is within your life as a beautiful gift, a beautiful gift laid at your feet, given in Love. In this will come great joy, great peace, great upliftment of your soul. It all comes in this gentle Touch from God, His Love pouring into you and bringing the gifts of the soul.

May God bless you, my beloved friends. I am Francis. My love is with you. And I continue to bring to this dear son the gifts of the animals, the blossoms of the flowers, the gentle breezes, the warmth of the sun so that he may see and appreciate all that God has given in his life and yours. May your perceptions deepen, my friends. May your deep appreciation and joy of all that is in God's Creation continue to awaken and deepen and be a true expression of joy within your soul. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls. I am with you more often than you might know and I love you all. God bless you.

The Impact of Mortals Fully Transformed

Jospehus-2 July 13, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Josephus. I continue to serve you with the possibility of elucidating upon your questions and wonderments of life regarding the awakening of your soul, the blessing of your awakened perceptions of life, the gift of life, the gift of God's Creation and I know that there are many things that you may contemplate and wonder about. I am hopeful that I may help you in these wonderments. So I am here and so you are with us in your questions. Please proceed, beloved souls.

Question: If a mortal soul is awakened to the extent of being fully transformed by God's Love, what impact does that have on mortals functioning in the physical and material realm?

The transformation of the soul through God's Love and what has been called the redemption of the soul and transformation that comes with adequate inflowing of God's Love within, changing the perceptions of the individual, their capacity to express their gifts, their beings does not change your mindful abilities to move in the material world. What it does do is bring all into balance so that the focus is not necessarily upon the material, but that focus comes to a higher level of thought and action and doing. It does not incapacitate the individual in their abilities to function in the material world, but merely adds more dimensions and intensity to the experience of life. There is greater wisdom and there is a greater ability to perceive not only the material and static world that is not static at all but moving and flowing in the grace and wonderment of God's Creation, also in your interactions with your brothers and sisters, your children, all who are in your life.

You are more able to love, to respond in love, to respond to the challenges of life with wisdom and with acceptance and grace that allows you to bring love into all that you do, to make your life, every moment, a dedication of love to God so that all things bring joy, all things are a gift, all things allow you to learn and grow and come more into atonement with God. So there is nothing taken away in this awakening of the soul, of being close to God in this way, of letting go the impediments and the burdens that are inevitable in life. With this comes the capacity to ward off the dark conditions of the human condition and to move in life in greater harmony with greater joy, with deeper perception. When a problem comes, a challenge is presented, it is far easier to deal with this problem, to accept a challenge and to feel the joy and love that comes with each moment of life.

Yes, it is true that when you are in greater Light, the negative forces of this world will challenge you. But you are strong in Light when one is at that point of the full release of all conditions that are not in harmony with God's Laws of Love. It does not seem difficult anymore. Your emotions are in harmony; there is no anger or resentment or confusion or even grief. These things of the mind do not exist in this state of a fully redeemed soul. This is God's promise to each of you as you continue to work towards the redemption of your soul, as you pray and ask God to bless you in this way. As this Love continues to work within you, so these elements that are not in harmony with Love are healed and removed and released and blessed and transformed.

But, to be a fully redeemed soul in your world, ahh,..what a beautiful thing to see. It is not easily accomplished, as you well can imagine, but it is possible, it has been done. Of course, your beloved brother and leader and master, Jesus, has been an example of this in your world. All he did was of Love. All he said was of Truth. All he was, was an expression of Love and Truth and God's Will working through him. No matter what situation he came across, he approached it in Love. He allowed God's Will to manifest through him. He spoke and taught, he healed and embraced all. His Light was felt; it was palpable. Yes, there were those who were resistant and angry in his presence for it challenged their dark souls and yet he persisted. He did not turn away from those who were in darkness; rather, he invited them to the Light, and some followed.

Some turned that corner and started to live a life that was in greater harmony with Love and Truth. Each of you are challenged in life at this time of your development, your journey of the soul, but I say to you it is possible to walk in the world as your brother Jesus did, provided you exercise your faith, your efforts in prayer, applying the Truth as it has been given, creating for yourselves a life that is in harmony with Love. But it is a difficult journey, for each moment is a choice to express yourselves in Light, to walk in the Truth, to be close to God in your soul and in your thoughts, in your demeanor and in your actions. As you come closer to this Truth, this way of being, so you will understand what it is to be in that place of harmony and Truth and Love. You inch towards this place with each day, making conscious choices, seeking out God in prayer, wanting to be a channel of Love and Light in your world.

It is a matter of degree, beloved souls, a matter of degree. You are more light than dark. You continue to slough off those things that are dark, not black and horrific. No beloveds, these are merely the vestiges of the human condition that continues to live within you, reflected by your patterns of thought, reflected by the hurts and pains that you carry within. These things you must take to God and ask God to heal these things within you, ask God to strengthen you as you are challenged with the choice each day of light or dark, love or otherwise.

It is a dedication to life with God that will bring this redemption, this place of true and pure harmony with the Laws of God's Love. It requires deep dedication, requires being awake to your own patterns of thought and action, of speech. It requires a willingness to change, to change in a deep and profound way. The motivation and impetus for this comes with the inflowing of God's Love within your souls. As you tap into this resource of your soul in the flow of God's Love and presence that is with you in your efforts and your struggles and your triumphs, then you slowly inch towards that time and condition where you are fully redeemed as a child of God in His Love, purified and healed, awakened and pure, imbued with great and deep insight and wisdom. The flow and embodiment of Love is truly who you are. These things, beloveds, challenge you each day, I know. You wish to be that being of Love. You wish to express that purity of Love.

You wish to be a child of God in every way and to show God how His Love has changed you with every thought, and every expression, every moment of your lives. Indeed, you continue to be a Light. You continue to be transformed. The power of His Love continues to work and infuse every part of your being, helping you to awaken, bringing to you the insights that you require to change and be that harmonious and beautiful soul that comes with Love. It is a noble aspiration, it is a powerful journey. It is a great gift, not only to yourselves but to the world, to seek to be that beautiful soul redeemed in God's Love and it comes, ever so slowly. It infiltrates all these parts of you. It continues to awaken and elicit change within you. And there are adjustments as this change is manifest and there are efforts required so that this change may indeed be a reflexive part of who you are. It requires your efforts and conscious choice to be this way, the way of Love.

There is much that is needed for each one of you to be that child redeemed in God's Love, but you continue to aspire towards this goal and you continue to express a difference, a shift, a light that is brighter. This brings great joy to God and to us as we observe you from afar, as we observe you close, and as we pray for your redemption and transformation of the soul.

May God bless you as you journey in this great and wondrous awakening and healing and expression that is truly of the soul. God bless you, beloved souls. God bless you. I am Josephus and I will leave you with this small talk about redemption. Thank you for asking, beloved daughter. I hope that you have received an answer that will inspire you forward in your great journey to God. God bless you all. God bless you.

Celestial Angels Desire to Encourage and Assist Humanity

Josephus July 14, 2019 Medium AI Fike

May God's Love continue to touch your souls. May you come to know the magnificence that is your soul in God's great Creation and Universe. I am Josephus and I thank you all for inviting me here to speak to you. I do indeed reside within the Celestial Kingdom. I follow the truth that our Master Jesus spoke of so many years ago and continue to expound upon and explore with my own soul's awakening, receiving the gift of the Father's Love within.

Our desire as a Celestial Angel is to encourage and assist humanity in their discovery of their souls. This must start with a clear motivation and desire to receive this gift of Divine Love. For without this very foundation laid, this understanding expressed, this truth enlivened within your being and awareness, we cannot proceed to teach you beyond this one fundamental truth. For it is our goal that you understand, beloved souls, fully and firmly this great truth and the power of it and the wonderment and beauty of its being alive within you.

As you pray to God, God wishes for you to have all good gifts and blessings and truth. But in order to understand in deeper ways from that place of soul, you must receive this gift that awakens your faculties and capacities to truly know and live by this truth. Your souls seek redemption, healing, at-onement with God. It is the purpose of a soul to find at-onement with God. Every soul in your world who seeks truth often takes very circuitous routes to this understanding. Indeed, understanding of truth in clear ways is difficult for you, beloved souls, in your world for in many instances you seek to know truth through your minds, through your intellects, through that instrument that you use so readily within your world and give so much power to.

Yet when it comes to matters of God, of Truth, of the soul these things can only be truly understood by the soul, a soul awakened and enlivened by this gift that God gives to each one of you through prayer so that you may be blessed with the true knowledge and understanding of God's existence and God's Love for you and the power and glory of His Love for each one of you. This Truth is so fundamental and simple, yet so poorly understood, because your minds have trouble to accept that this is a complete Truth. This a Truth that you may base your life's journey upon. For this will bring all other truth, this will bring all that your souls and even your minds desire to know. But the doorway must be opened, the passage must be cleared, the connection forged in love and dedication and faith. This takes time, beloveds, it takes your dedication, your time, your focus, your prayers, so that you may come to know in your own way, on your own journey who and what is God and who and what is your true being, that self within you that God created and may be eternal in its existence through the blessing of the Father's Love.

Yes, you continue to ask your questions, seek your answers, affirm and reaffirm this truth. I say to you, beloved souls, as this dear and beautiful soul has indicated in her prayer, rest within the grace of God, open yourself to this touch of Love, be in the Light of God's presence. This will answer your fundamental question and that is, "Does God love me? Do I and can I feel this gift of His Love?" It is an act of faith. It is the power of your own active energies and prayers directed to God. There will always be a response, beloved souls, a response that may not be recognized by your minds, but indeed your souls will receive this touch of Love and strike the chord that says yes, I have found my way back to God and will continue to walk upon that road that is resplendent in love and truth, peace and joy.

Beloved souls, I have come to answer some questions from you for I know for all of you there are many questions regarding the awakening and development of your soul in God's Love. We are all too happy to entertain these thoughts and queries and respond as best we can through this instrument. So I await your questions, beloveds.

Question: Dear Josephus, we have this question. How does one feel that spiritual progress is being made on this journey? Thank you.

When you walk into the world and the sun is shining and you feel its warmth upon you, this is evident because you have stepped out into this light and recognized intuitively and instinctively that this is the sun shining upon you and warming you and bringing light to your vision. So it is with your relationship with God. This warmth of Love that shines from God through His Holy Spirit bestowing upon you and your soul this blessing that enlivens and opens vision and knowings and feelings of love and upliftment. But in your world there are many obstructions. The clouds that are the dark conditions of your world often obscure this light and touch upon your soul. You, at times through your doubts or at other times through your assumptions as to what this blessing is and how you might feel it and therefore misdirect your consciousness to something that is not in line with the experience. There are many ways in which a soul may not know the blessing of God's Love. But most commonly it is because the mind is firm and insistent and will not yield to this experience. The mind has for some a great need to control and to orchestrate its experiences even when it comes to spiritual matters.

I say to you, beloved souls, if and when you pray for God's Love and you do so earnestly and you cannot feel this touch in some way that it is not affirmed or confirmed in your experience of it, I say release your fears, your judgments, your assumptions, your ideas of what this is. When Jesus says "come to your Father as a child with all innocence," this is his instruction to each soul who seeks the Heavenly Father, the Source of all Love. It is that innocence, putting aside all expectations that will bring the opening and assertion of God's Touch upon your soul in a conscious way. Some find this experience to be very real and easily attained. Others struggle mightily for it. Yet in both cases, given the sincere desire and prayer for this blessing, both souls receive this blessing. In time the one who struggles for evidence of it will receive it, will know it and will come to it. Often there are barriers of the mind that are not easily pushed aside. This is where an earnest soul exercises its faith in persisting with its efforts to be reached by God and to reach out to God. Each of you has this persistence and strength, this measure of faith within you. Each of you experiences God in your own unique ways.

I say to you, beloved souls, that each of you has God's grace upon you. Each of you are blessed with an angel that walks with you to assist you on this journey. Each of you, even those who have struggled many years to feel something that affirms this existence of Love, will come to that place. Often they have come to that place in a particular moment and have not recognized it and have not affirmed that it has been a real experience in their prayerful way. I say to you be patient, beloved souls. You will come to that place of true knowing and you build for yourselves a great foundation of Light within. This will increase and increase as you continue to beseech the Heavenly Father for the gift of His Love. It does exist. Turn to your brothers and sisters, ask this question "Have you experienced this blessing? Do you know it is real and alive within you?" I say to you, all who are here will say yes, will say yes, this is a true and powerful blessing. It exists. It has uplifted me. It has blessed me. It has changed me. And it shall do so for all eternity.

I hope this has answered your question. I am willing to entertain another.

Question: Thank you, Josephus. Forgive me if I have to say that must be the finest message on a difficult topic that I think I have ever heard. The second question: In what way does our soul reach out and influence other souls? Thank you.

There are many layers of interaction and reality within the existence of a soul in the material world. You feel and know the truth of the physical world and respond accordingly. This brings interactions which may be expressed in many different ways. Certainly the mind is fond of communicating with others, interchanging ideas and thoughts. There are feelings of love and other feelings that are expressed through the individual. Emotions are active within each individual and expressed in many different ways, including energetic ways. This transference of energy that comes from thoughts and emotions is often not recognized by the physical, mindful condition of the individual. Yet this does take place. You are influencing one another often and you are being influenced by one another and by spirits often. This is another layer of reality that is not well understood or well perceived by the material conditions of the individual on this earth. So it is with soul, beloveds. You emanate the condition of your soul. You bring either light or darkness into the world as a reflection of your soul. This is no different whether you are in a physical body experiencing a physical life or in a spirit body experiencing a spirit life. These influences, interactions, energies, conditions of the soul are telegraphed out into the world and are interacting with others. Now, when you bring Light into your soul, when you beseech God to infuse your soul with His Divine Essence, you make for yourself a powerful condition of light that is being expressed into the world.

Another gift that comes with the soul that has been sufficiently uplifted by this Love and changed to a degree, is the capacity to be a channel of Love in the world, to be one who God may use to reach through your soul to another soul. This is another layer of interaction that is highly valued by us who work with you mortals in the world and is part of God's intention to help sustain Light in your world through His active agents upon this world. Unfortunately there are not many who are able to do so. But this is growing. Your work is opening doors and avenues for this to happen. You are engaging within a flow and plan that God has for the salvation of mankind. This salvation is being expressed, this plan is being executed, not in an entirely overt way where the conscious mortal is aware of what is happening. Most predominately the flow of this light and change and influence in the world is coming soul to soul. On this level of interaction it will strike many chords within the individual and encourage them to seek God, to awaken to a longing within their soul. This is how God will fulfill His plan, by touching many other souls who are for the most part in darkness, unawakened to the true desires and nature of their soul. But this will come. The influence will increase as the numbers increase in your world who are willing to be channels of Love as their light increases and the potential and capacity of them to be a channel of Love is magnified by the blessing of God's Love within.

So, beloved brothers and sisters, we ask you and encourage you very, very often, to pray, beloved souls, pray to receive the gift of God's Love within your soul. Pray to be a channel of Love, an active agent of God in your world so that this may be realized, this transformative plan of God may be enacted in your world and do what it must do, which is to change the hearts of men, change the hearts of all souls and turn their vision, their sight towards God to receive what God has to give them in Love and wisdom and blessings and peace. Much God has to give to His beloved children, but they must be able to be open and receptive to what is given. This is your challenge, beloved souls, not only personally but as an instrument of God; to help open the eyes of your brothers and sisters. This effort begins with the awakening of your soul and the passage of God's Light and Love and influence through your soul to another. Insure, beloved souls, when you pray each day, when you begin each day, ask God to use you as His instruments, as a channel in service to Truth and Love and Light for your brothers and sisters. This is a powerful prayer, beloveds. It is a much needed prayer, for all of you have great capacities and gifts within your soul which need to be activated and expressed. I know for many of you it is difficult to acknowledge and comprehend what lays within your soul. But it is there nonetheless. The power of it exists. It is your discovery and journey of awakening and knowing of this, will bring you great joy and will enlighten you deeply in terms of your own wonderful soul, what God has created and what God will awaken in Love.

You do not need to know what influence you carry to another. All you need to be and know is as a faithful servant of God, asking to be used, asking to be in the grace of God, the flow of His Love. The rest will take care of itself, my friends. You do not need to worry, merely walk in faith as you walk out of your homes into the sunlight of God, this warmth and beauty, so you must walk in the world with faith that you are being used as His instruments, channels of Love. What will come with each moment, each day, each step you take is not to be predicted, even anticipated, but merely a reflexive flow and response from your soul of God's will working through in you, innocently, beautifully and powerfully.

May God bless you, beloved souls. I will entertain one other short question if there is one.

Question: We have not agreed on a third question, Josephus. I don't whether anybody is prompted to make a suggestion spontaneously but we won't have discussed it. Thank you. (prolonged silence)

I fear I have dumbfounded you all, beloveds. (general laughter and a couple short responses by participants)

Question: I think you told us that we have all the Truth that we need, Jesus told us that. I think that struck us very deeply.

Well, my beloved daughter, we have repeated these Truths many, many times. And indeed, yes, there are many Truths that have been shared with you all and many Truths that I'm sure you have read within the volumes of messages through many different sources. This is our effort to continue to remind you of what is the potential of your souls in relationship with God as you receive His blessing of Love. All of these things that we speak of relates to this one great Truth. We wish for you to continue to make these efforts to understand your journey so that you do not lose sight of where you travel to and how this journey is so magnificent and full of many blessings and experiences in life.

May God bless you upon that journey, beloved souls. Know that we are with you, that our beloved brother and Master, Jesus, continues to lead the way that we may all follow, that we may all indeed come to the place of knowing God deeply, of finding the fulfillment of our souls which has many, many aspects within to be awakened on this journey. May God bless you, beloved souls. May God bless you and keep you close to His bosom that you may be open to His Love. Acknowledge this each and every day, with each and every breath acknowledge God and His Love for you. You will find such joy in this knowledge, such wonderment in your lives with each moment. Great blessings come in the humblest of ways, beloved souls. Great blessings come in the humblest of acts of service and love for another. Great blessings come with the pure and true prayer to beseech God to touch your soul and awaken all that is within.

God bless you, beloveds. I am Josephus and I am happy to come and speak to you in this way. God bless you. God bless you, beloveds.

Good-bye with Love and Gratitude

Confucius July 145, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Confucius. God bless you, beloved souls. We have opened the door of communication for you, beloved souls, so that you may be encouraged upon your journeys. We wish to inform you upon that journey. At times it is your minds that hunger but know, beloveds, most importantly it is the hungering of your soul that we wish to encourage and to nurture and direct you towards.

Know that all is given in love. Contemplate our words but most of all put what we have told you into action. Make it truth in your lives, make it a truth that is active and effective in your own soul's growth and in your own expression of love in the world serving God as a channel of His Love, beloveds. You will come to know all Truth in time. God does not keep secrets from His children but you must be ready and you must be willing to receive. You must not cast aside the pearls that are given but utilize these pearls of Truth and make them truly a part of you. Your souls understand this, beloveds, your souls truly understand.

God bless you. And we say good-bye for this time with our love, our gratitude. We say good-bye. God bless you. God loves you. God bless you.

We Are Pleased with Your Efforts

Seretta Kem July 14, 2019 Medium AI Fike

So you have continued to expand in your service to God and the ways in which you serve God. As you come to know your souls, so your souls reach out through the veil of your flesh into this world as a living channel of love for all whom you are with and pray for and become involved with their lives, beloved souls. Your gifts will continue to expand, the use of them, the ways in which they may be used will continue to grow.

There is much coming, my beautiful friends, much coming for you to do, much time when you will gather together and do God's work in many places in your world as God infuses His blessings and energies in this world, waking up those who are asleep, helping so many come to that place of soul awakening, at least know the possibilities that the soul may take and be in your world and the world of my world.

We are all very pleased with your efforts in this last week. You have made great strides and progress. You will continue to walk forward and seek to serve God in His Love and Truth, channels of love for humanity. May God bless you, beloved souls, on that journey. I am Seretta Kem. My love is with you. God bless you.

Always Choose Light and Love

Josephus July 15, 2019 Medium AI Fike

I am Josephus and I've returned and am somewhat amused that you continue with your questions which seem to be an endless stream of curiosity. But this delights me, for one of my gifts is to help articulate the Truth in ways that others may understand, to bring complex matters to simple explanations. So I will attempt to do so, and I'm aware of your question for I have been with you as you have been discussing this and referencing my presence.

Your existence in this world brings its influences and energies in many different ways. As you well know, every action brings a reaction, every thought has some impact in your world, every emotion also has its impact in your world. Depending on the severity and intensity of these elements of your being expressed with each moment in your world, there is some condition created, something comes of this for you are generators and receivers of energies. So when your expressions and thoughts, your actions and deeds are dark and lack love, you generate this, created so to speak into the universe of your existence. And conversely, when others express conditions that are dark towards you or even express generally within the condition that you live within, so you may receive and absorb to some extent these energies and conditions. As with light, these laws apply.

We continue to advise you, beloved souls, to keep your thoughts elevated, to be prayerful with each day, to be in the flow of God's Love, to be an instrument and channel of His Love. All of these things help to elevate your light, your condition, your thoughts, your expression, creating a momentum of light all around you. The power of light will ward off the darkness so you are not so susceptible to these conditions in the world. Therefore, when you are not reactive to dark conditions and expressing them, you are not creating darkness within yourselves as those things that are powerful that cling to your soul and cause encrustations are not active around you.

But as with all souls who have lived in this world of yours, you begin life absorbing dark conditions and error. Thus your souls become encrusted with these conditions. You absorb within your minds various thoughts and conditions that are of error. You respond and react from these conditions that are all around you with like conditions, with darkness, with pain. Your young minds absorb many things that are not true. Thus within your beings, you have this interplay of light and dark, love and that which is not of love, truth and that which is not true, feelings of anger, of hurt and pain rather than joy. You are well aware of this, beloved souls, this struggle. You have all felt both of these conditions. At times, you have felt both conditions they are simultaneously active within you, providing for you a choice of what expression may be authentic.

Generally, the world is in darkness. Generally, most souls are in darkness for they do not understand this dynamic. They merely respond to what is presented to them and what they wish to present to the world, thus creating a downward spiral of conditions of the soul. Nurturing darkness rather than light and at times, nurturing light rather than darkness, creating such a mix of conditions within you. The soul, beloveds, has a deep memory. It carries all of your experiences. Every moment of your life is carried within a chamber of your soul. This whether your soul is activated by God's Love or not has its power to influence and to create a condition, an energy around you. This informs, as you know, where the soul resides in the realm of spirit when that time comes of transition because it is your soul that is the generator of all these conditions and the reflector of those conditions around you. It informs the light or darkness that you carry.

Now, when the soul continues to progress, and often this is in the realm of spirit, there is a need for purification. This is called the Law of Compensation. Whether the soul is in light or darkness, whatever their beliefs and conditions are, these paradigms of thought, of reality, of expression, a sense of truth or not truth, all are expressed through the soul and the consciousness of the soul which is then reflected into the minds of mortals and spirits alike. This broadcasting of energies continues and intensifies. There is no escaping from this. It is a truth and a reality in your world and mine. But God provides an opportunity for each soul to move away from those conditions that are not in harmony with Light and Love. God provides many other souls who are willing to assist that individual in their journeys towards Light. For God continues to pour His compassion, concern, Love, Truth upon each soul, all His children. In time, each child learns and is receptive to what God has to give. This is often done through individuals who are further progressed than that individual.

This chain of compassion that goes throughout the spirit spheres and the Heavens is a powerful antidote to the darkness and ignorance in which most individuals live in your world. Yet to penetrate the darkness of your world is difficult. Other laws are in play, such as the Law of Attraction and many through their ignorance attract dark rather than light, falsity rather than truth. Yet when you say that a soul is well-meaning, you merely say that a soul is ignorant yet does not consciously choose darkness. It is merely a fact that darkness is generated by the thoughts and actions of that soul and that your task, beloved soul, is to inform your brothers and sisters of this Truth, that there is a way beyond and above the conditions that have been created so powerfully in your world. To inform these souls that what they do and who they are and what they choose and what they express is far more important than the material responses that so many souls look to receive from their actions. There is a greater purpose to life than the superficial thoughts and desires that many have.

When you ask the question of what is the meaning of life to many, they put up their arms and say "I do not know". In this forfeiting of taking responsibility for their being and expressions and light, then they are victims of the darkness of your world. In this, they continue to generate and reinforce this darkness. In that passivity and ignorance, they often pay the full measure of the Law of Compensation at some point in their existence, often within the world of spirit. But even in your world, beloveds, you all pay the price for the general darkness which lies in this world.

It requires a great deal of effort and focus to counteract and neutralize these conditions. You are well aware, beloved souls, that you must be cognizant of the choices that you make, that every action, every thought, everything that you express either contributes to the light or contributes to the darkness. Very few expressions in your life have a neutral action upon your world.

As you desire to be a channel of Light in the world, it brings a whole set of responsibilities, a whole spectrum of choices and expressions that are often unrecognized and misunderstood by humanity. But we educate you, beloved souls. We continue to show you the way to fulfill this soul-felt yearning to be in the light and to be with God and to be a positive light-filled influence in your world. From the conditions within your soul, these memories and encrustations that have come over the years of your existence in your world, there is often a reflexive response or attitude or expression that is not of light, given a particular situation that may elicit such responses.

This is why you must be vigilant, beloveds. You must think of your words and your inner responses, your emotions, and your actions and train yourselves to put aside those conditions that are not in harmony with love. In this process of retraining yourselves, you must consider the deeper expressions of the soul that come with the inflow of God's Love. This in conjunction with your conscious efforts creates the environment of light and goodness and love that you aspire towards.

In the journey of the soul, one may wait and have patience for the transformation of the soul through the Father's Love allowing these encrustations and even thoughts to be transformed by the power of this Love. Ideally, this is all that is required to bring forth this transformation, this deep change within you and without. But you live in a very fast-paced world that continues to present to you many challenges and also continues to bring to you many opportunities for light. So, taking responsibility for your thoughts, for your actions, doing so with an informed mind and soul so that you bring the highest and best results to your life and to your service to your brothers and sisters is more beneficial than to have a passive, nebulous idea that God's healing of your soul will make all right and in the Light. This is true, given much time and many prayers, but we wish for you to be accelerated in your progress, to be strong and filled with Truth and Love, that your thoughts be pure and of light, that your beings, all of you, may be in harmony. So we help to assist you to make these great efforts to change. We help you come to an awareness of the challenges that you create when you choose unloving thoughts and actions and behaviours.

In this time and in your world, the darkness increases with every moment. We in the Celestial Kingdom are diligent in our efforts to work tirelessly to help not only neutralize this darkness but to bring greater light to you all. It is important for every soul to understand the responsibility that they carry and that when one lives in ignorance of these laws, there are consequences, there are responses that often do not bring joy and awakening, love and wisdom, rather darkness and pain.

When you know the laws, beloved souls, when you are aware of the great power of these laws to affect the human condition and to affect every soul in your world and in mine, you cannot afford to be silent. To passively watch as your brothers and sisters, your friends, your relatives, the many that are in your lives, continue to blindly step forward in life creating such a mixture of light and darkness that it is hard to discern between the two, creating a fog of error, a condition so bogged down by these energies that are not of light that invariably many suffer, suffer greatly, suffer in many ways from their very physical condition to their emotional and spiritual selves. All is out of harmony. All requires correction and healing and balance.

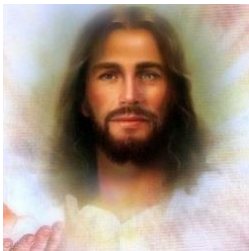

You must continue to speak of these Truths, the power of God's Love to heal, the power of knowledge to inform your choices, the power of Truth to inform your souls. May you continue on that great, epic journey of the salvation of your own soul and the assistance of others to find their way. At least to indicate to them that there is a choice between light and dark, goodness and that which is not of love. May you be strong in your wisdom, the power of your words, the beauty of your light, the wonderment of your relationship with God and all will fall into place so you may be a powerful influence in the world, that you may be a generator of Light and Truth and Love as God's instruments upon this world.

May God bless you, beloved souls. May God bless you deeply with His Love. May you always choose Light. Whatever you do, wherever you are, may you always choose Light for that is deep wisdom, that is the Truth. You must carry it in a conscious way always.

God bless you, beloveds. My blessings are with you. I am Josephus. God bless you.
