THE CELESTIAL ANGELS AND SPRITIS IN THESE MESSAGES 98

INTRODUCTION

And so once again...I plan a visit with friends in Gibsons, B.C. Canada and it becomes a personal retreat with a series of amazing messages from the Celestial angels who deliver encouragement, teachings, and answers to enhance our soul progression.

This time at the end of January 2019 seemed perfectly planned by the universe to bring the right people together at the right time for prayer and conversation that generated ideas and questions surrounding spiritual life and soul growth. This happened at the Divine Love Sanctuary which is at the home of Al and Jeanne Fike where there is a beautiful Portal of Light. These messages were channeled by Al, a medium whom Celestial angels have spoken through since 2011.

On the first day of the retreat Matthew came with a special welcome to me and an invitation for us to consider questions for him and other angels about the dilemmas and challenges in our lives, saying: Our goal always is to open the way to the soul, to clear aside any misunderstandings or irrelevancies regarding your spiritual quest, but we cannot do that without your involvement and acceptance. Matthew also invited us to clear the way to gather and formulate questions, telling us: As you come together in this way, as you seek deeper truth, deeper understanding, that which resonates with the soul and brings a sense, a knowing of truth, this is our effort as well which we intend to continue with you. In this not only you will find some clarity in particular ways, but you will also be a channel for truth for others, that this may be shared and assist the seeking souls who look to you. In response we were gifted with communication by the angels bringing answers and explanations that addressed our inquiries and concerns and led to thoughtful discussions and great learning opportunities and greater knowledge for each of us.

Afterwards there was acknowledgement and celebration by Augustine and Confucius of the uplifting work that had been done and advice to review and study and learn the teachings, to understand them both on our soul level as well as the mind level so that these gifts could be shared freely with others seeking connection with God.

The resulting collection of extraordinary messages which follows is almost a primer, a handbook that expounds upon the basic principles of the laws of God's Love to guide us in daily living and to help us to bring greater truth to the world. We share this magical collection of messages to uplift you and encourage you to explore your own soul further.

God bless you. May your life be filled with the joy of connecting heart and mind and soul, walking in the Love of God, and being of service to all your sisters and brothers.

MESSAGES FROM CELESTIAL ANGELS

The messages received in Gibsons during the January-February 2019 Divine Love Retreat were from Angels, Celestial spirit guides and teachers who once lived on Earth...yes, they were human once and through their soul longings were transformed from the image of God into Divine spirits by praying to God sincerely for an inflowing of Divine Love.

PREFACE

“Please Take These Messages to Heart”

Augustine on 2019-02-03

(through Maureen Cardoso after the retreat during an online prayer circle)

Beloved souls, I am your teacher Augustine. A wonderful message from dear Andrew which I encourage you all to heed and spend time upon reflecting his great guidance.

Beloved souls, as your teacher I wish to come and acknowledge these recent days in prayer where many gathered locally to be given the opportunity to ask many questions which came from your curiosity and questions that would help further soul development. We are very pleased with your questions, beloveds. And we are also very pleased with the dear soul, the medium that we used to bring forth these further truths and deeper teachings for through his dedication and prayer and his soul awakening we have been able to work with him furthering his gift of mediumship. We are very pleased with the messages, the way they were received through him. He is a gifted medium, a gifted instrument for God, and we wish to give thanks to his dedication.

Beloveds, these many extraordinary messages that came through, I ask you to take them to heart, to take them seriously, to study them, to review them for there is much in these messages that will assist you as you go about your daily living and God places others before you where you converse. Potentially these people are curious about your spiritual life. We understand that it can be somewhat intimidating to share these truths as they do not often coincide with what already man believes about God and the love of God. But beloveds, there are many teachings for you to share in a very natural way of these truths. So I ask you to take these teachings and to learn them, to bring them deeply into you, into your understanding both on a soul level and within your mind as well. These are the things you want to fill your mind with. This is the knowledge to carry within your mind to be able to share freely.

You are all dedicated students, all beautiful souls with great lights, with a deep purpose in your world to shine forward, to allow the love that is within your soul to bless another. It is not something you need to force upon another. No, beloveds, this is not what I encourage. But as others see this love working upon your soul, affecting your personality, affecting your choices, all more aligning with love, they will be drawn to you and become very curious. You will have the strength and the words to share with them. If you are not sure, beloveds, say a prayer asking God to place words to share, asking God to help you fulfill your purpose before this person. It does take practise and it does take action. You spend many hours in prayer receiving the great gift of love and that love that resides within your soul desires and requires an avenue, an avenue to flow through in your words, through your actions, through your pleasantries.

We dedicated much time recently to these great questions of yours. Beloveds, take the time to review them, to learn them, to use them as the great gifts that they are. We know that there will be another gathering in the not too far off future where we will be given the opportunity to answer more of your questions, your soulful questions. I would encourage you to begin to formulate more questions. Not necessarily asking them at this point but preparing, preparing for your future. What may come of your question as you formulate, God hears your question so you may be gifted with the answer within your soul. Is that not the great connection of God's Soul to your soul where you may receive the blessing of the answer of truth within your soul from your beloved Creator?

My love is with all of you, beloveds. As your teacher, I have the great gift of being able to speak straight to you, with love but straight. Please take these messages to heart. Receive the gift that they are. God bless each of you, beloveds. I am your teacher Augustine and my love is with you. God bless you.

What Is the Desire of Your Soul in Terms of Truth?

Matthew on 2019-01-25

Beloved souls, this is Matthew. I welcome you, dear daughter (L), to this circle and all of you who are intent on coming together in prayer, communing with God, receiving His Divine Love, and with a desire to receive the wisdom and blessings that may come with our communication with you.

Intention is very important in this regard and so we would ask you in these days ahead to consider what questions you may need answering. Where does your curiosity lie? What is the desire of your soul in terms of truth? Do you have dilemmas and questions regarding your own particular life that you may seek answers for in this circle of love?

Beloved souls, we desire to assist you on your journeys and each of you are progressing upon your own unique paths. You have your own unique dilemmas and challenges and have a particular perspective and understanding of truth. It is the Divine Love that brings you together in unity. Within your minds there are still differences and perspectives that vary from one individual to another as your life experiences have informed your perspective. Our goal always is to open the way to the soul, to clear aside any misunderstandings or irrelevancies regarding your spiritual quest, but we cannot do this without your involvement and acceptance. The power of free will always determines what may come in any session together in which we may speak to you. And the intentions and desires of your soul and mind also have a great bearing as to what may come.

Beloved souls, you barely know your own power, your own capabilities, this deep source within you of truth. We continue to urge you forth to a place of clear understanding, of knowing truth that is unobscured by error. As you come together in this way, as you seek deeper truth, deeper understanding, that which resonates with the soul and brings a sense, a knowing of truth, this is our effort as well which we intend to continue with you. In this not only you will find some clarity in particular ways, but you will also be a channel for truth for others. That this may be shared and assist the seeking souls who look to you. We hope that you will clear the way to come together as you are now and serve to bring greater truth to your world.

In this you must always seek for the highest. Yearn for the Father's Love to flow into your souls. Draw to you the angels who may speak and share their wisdom that you may soak up all of this beautiful light and truth and love into your souls, that your minds may accept and clearly understand the words which we will speak, the guidance that we will give so the truth is plainly understood and your soul may indeed ripple in joy and light and love in this experience. So we work together, beloveds. You and we and God will work together upon this small journey and effort to bring truth to mankind.

Be uplifted in your thoughts. Try to focus your intentions, your prayers, your desires upon this for this short time so that we may all indeed harmonize and come together in a condition that is in the light beyond these earth plane conditions to a place where truth may flow with gentle breezes into your minds and souls. In this a deep joy resonates and expands out amongst you and to many others.

We are pleased that you are together. We are pleased that you are willing. And we are eager that you may be willing to spend this time in prayer, openness, and longing so that we may work together and bring truth that will bring greater comfort, knowledge, peace, stillness, and love amongst you in our continued effort to unify all the children in your world who are seeking God's Love. When truth is shared and the souls recognize and feel the upliftment of this, there is a unity that is formed amongst you, a common understanding, a focus that is shared and acknowledged amongst you. Allow the light to flow and carry you upwards, closer to God, and we shall all meet there, beloved souls, in joyous harmony, in soulful recognition of this magnificent journey of the soul.

God bless you, beloveds. I am Matthew and I will come again to speak as will many. Formulate your questions, beloveds. Keep your minds and hearts and souls upon God and all will unfold in a beautiful river of truth and light, love and joy. May God bless you deeply with His Love and awaken the deep desires of your soul that they may bubble forth into your minds so that this may be spoken through your lips and come as a gift to each one. God bless you beloveds. God bless you. Matthew is with you. God bless you.

Feel the Joy of Communing

How happy we are that you are together, beloved souls, and that more are coming. I want you to know that we are making it possible to open doors and possibilities that you may gather in harmony and not be distracted by the daily life that pulls you hither and yon. Feel the joy of communing with your brothers and sisters in loving prayer, the joyful acknowledgement of life, life of the soul, the life that bubbles forth within you, the life that comes from God, and bringing your soul to that place of truly knowing and being in love. I am with you, too. I will be in your dreams. I will be in your prayers. I will be everywhere because I love you. We all have our jobs to do, do we not? And I will do mine in joyful abandon, in loving caresses and kisses.

God bless you, beloved friends. God bless you. Goldie loves you.

We Will Open Another Door

Seretta Kem on 2019-01-25

This is Seretta Kem. We have prepared this portal to work in your favour and our favour, to bring many spirits forth. Some you have not heard from in the past and some you have heard often. All will be bringing their message of truth and blessings to you. So we begin this short journey that will bring some beautiful blessings for you all. There will be many spirits in your midst, many angels orchestrating the development and blessings for each one of you as you continue grow as God's instruments of love, as your gifts continue to awaken, as we continue to forge a deeper bond of communication and love together.

This short time will be an extraordinary time, a blessing, a deep and beautiful blessing from God. May you dedicate your thoughts, your time, your prayers, your light to this work ahead and we will do our part as always. We will open another door that is indeed blessed by God, Portals of Light, beloveds, blessings of truth and the awakening of your souls. These things are within the Will of God at this moment.

God bless you. I am Seretta Kem. I am, as always, happy to work with you to continue upon this journey of forging the link between Heaven and Earth. God bless you. God bless you, beloveds.

Many Scientists in Spirit Are Working to Forge Greater Communications between Worlds

Albert Einstein on 2019-01-25

Bless you my friends. I am Albert Einstein. I too am involved in this work to forge deeper communications between the world of spirit and the physical world for your world is in great need of our support and our wisdom. There is a great effort to bring what we can through to your side of life and to do so with wisdom and with clarity and precision. We will be working with you in times to come to bring what we can that will be helpful and important to deal with the coming changes in the world.

There is a great group of us scientists in the spirit world who are eager to help humanity to bring greater truth and understanding that may bring greater harmony to your world. God seeks to bring harmony to all things in the universe. This is a constant and this is why everything is in motion, moves to this clarion call towards harmony.

Each of you grows within your souls and your minds, refining who you are and redefining who you are in so many different ways through so many different means. You are caught in this great flow of change and growth, of greater light and harmony. And because you recognize this and you are seeking for greater light, so you draw many who are seeking to support humanity in this direction. To come and help and bring forth the possibilities of communication and deeper understanding of truth, we will try to communicate provided we are given the opportunity and all is in harmony and synchronicity with the way of love.

I have come to encourage you and to inform you of our intentions that you may be used, each of you as you form one single conduit of communication, that you may be used to bring deeper truths and greater insights and a full understanding of the ways of the universe. We gather, my friends, with the hopes that a new threshold will be reached, greater possibilities for truth, for light, for harmony.

God bless you my friends. I am at your service. I am Albert Einstein and I am happy to be speaking to you today, a gift that you have brought, my friends, by your presence and intentions and I thank you. May you continue to strive and seek to serve humanity in love, in truth, in light, and may God bless you in your souls with His Love. Thank you.

Thank you my friends.

We Are Joyed You Come to Serve

Jesus on 2019-01-25

God bless you. I am Jesus. And so you see, my beloved, beloved brothers and sisters, that there are many in the world of spirit and the Celestial Heavens who wish to work for the betterment of humanity. There are few who are willing to be the servants of light and truth. And so we are joyed when you come for this purpose and seek to serve in love. My blessings are with you, beloved souls, in these efforts. You will be blessed and protected. All will be in harmony with God's Love and Truth. All will be within the flow of God's Will. You have my blessings, beloved souls, and I am joyed with your efforts and willingness to serve in this way. I will be close. Many, many will be close, beloveds, and many blessings will flow and touch your souls deeply.

God bless you. God bless you, beloveds. My love is always with you. I am your brother and friend. I am Jesus. God bless you.

Continue Your Efforts

Victoria, once Queen of England, on 2019-01-25

Beloved souls, I am Victoria, once the Queen of England. My beloved friends, you have no idea how many spirits are interested in your work and what you may accomplish through your efforts of communication. To do so in this way, having these beautiful and bright angelic spirits with you in your circle is exciting indeed and something that is rare upon your Earth. In my day on Earth, I understood the possibilities of spirit communication. Though I did indeed come to be a part of certain circles, these circles were not of the high calibre and light that you proliferate here. And so, this excites many of us in the world of spirit who see the possibilities and potentials that may come with your efforts and your gifts to bring the wisdom of the world of spirit forward to the peoples of your Earth.

Continue in your efforts, my friends. Continue to seek, to work with these high spirits in light, to bring the truths of love and God, of soul, of beauty, of harmony to your world, for this is what is sorrowfully needed. So many, I see so many in your world are lost. They walk like they are not alive. They only go through the motions and doing so without thought or meaning or depth of desire or soulful expressions of light. This concerns those of us who look upon your world and despair of the darkness, how lost and alone so many are. And yet, when we see those of you in light and your efforts to reach for God, to reach for the high planes and heavens, to bring this to Earth, we are hopeful and joyful and wish to do whatever we may and can for your efforts.

Beloved souls, we will pray for you and if we are able to support you and be with you in these efforts, so there will be many, many who have a deep desire to serve all who live upon your world. Continue my friends, beloved and beautiful souls, to serve God in love, to seek for the highest truth, and to be together in light so that many blessings may flow and pour upon this Earth so parched, so in need of the refreshing waters of the Father's Love.

God bless you, my friends, I am Victoria and my love is with you. May God bless you, beautiful souls.

Morning Prayer

Jeanne Fike on 2019-01-26

Oh gracious God, we thank You so much for bringing us together with this group this morning. We thank You for the wonderful guidance, the messages we received last night from the angels, Goldie who brings her joy and Einstein promising that there's many scientists in spirit who want to help us, Seretta Kem and Matthew, Matthew's invitation to articulate our questions. And we know You've heard all of our discussion and You know more than we do about all the questions that people are conveying.

We thank Jesus for blessing our efforts and we pray today so earnestly and all through this week that Your goal to remove all the obstacles and to help us, each one of us, with our personal issues and dilemmas, that they will be resolved and clarified, that we can give up all our concerns to You and have greater trust and faith and closeness with You.

We thank You for the gift of Your Love and we pray for a mighty inflowing for one another this morning as we gather. We pray for an inflowing of Your Love for us and for all those who are praying for us and praying to be channels of light and love and healing on this planet.

We know Your goal is to unite and connect all the Divine Love followers and so we pray to be used as channels for Your blessings.

And the question that we have this morning in particular is we would like to have more information on the portals in the world, to understand more fully their purpose and how we might help to strengthen them, open them, create them, maintain them, and how we focus our prayers to be in Your service in regards to the Portals and Centres of Light.

We thank You for all our blessings. Thank You for Your Love> And we love You and all our blessed angel friends and teachers who are here. We thank You. Amen.

Establishing Portals

I am Seretta Kem and so we begin. First, I would like to discuss the importance of acknowledging and realizing the power of the Law of Communication and Rapport. You have been encouraged when one sits in a circle such as this that you direct your love towards the instrument who is being used. This is important, for we are building power, the power that allows us to make a close rapport with this instrument and with all of you. This is accomplished through your prayers, your love, the conditions that you bring within the circle. You carry a responsibility, beloved souls, to be in a condition that is in harmony with love and light, with God, with we who are your friends. That the desire of your soul continues to grow and expand in these directions of closeness with God, of receiving the gift of His Love, of opening the way for we to come close, to control your thoughts, to bring them to a heightened elevation, to awaken the gifts of your soul, to feel and know the longings of your heart.

As you build this foundation within you through, your efforts in prayer, your contemplations, bringing into alignment your mind and your soul with God, it makes it easier in these times when we are close and communicate and brings added gifts in your own spiritual life, times of prayer where we may come close and bring our influence and inspiration to your hearts and minds. You all long for a closeness with God to consciously know His Presence, to be aware of the gift of Divine Love flowing into your souls, to acknowledge this precious and most wonderful part of yourself which is your soul. These things are accomplished through your efforts to sensitize and come into greater alignment with these deeper aspects of yourselves, to have your soul perceptions awakened and opened, and in this way, a personal development and awakening. You help to facilitate many gifts and blessings to your brothers and sisters as you come into alignment and unity with your brothers and sisters for the highest and best and most beautiful blessings. This exercise of communication becomes easier and clearer and more powerful and deeper in its facets and quality of information relayed to you and to others.

It is important my dear brothers and sisters that you prepare for each of these gatherings, whether it be in this form of coming together, or in prayers and Circles of Light, helping to create Centres of Light. It is your own condition of love and light that is important and crucial so that whatever plans God may have within a circle, within a centre, within a gathering that they may be accomplished and expressed with all its beauty and clarity in the highest, most wondrous of blessings and love.

As for the Portals of Light of which we speak and encourage you to contemplate and pray for, I have spoken on several occasions about these gifts that are given by God. There is much information within these messages if you care to read them and think about the truth that they bring. I will summarize now in hopes of bringing clarity to your minds at this moment.

Portals of Light are a mechanism for communication and bring the flow of blessings from God in a concentrated form. You cannot build a Portal of Light, beloved souls. You have not the capacity or the ability to do so, but you may pray for this blessing and this blessing is conferred upon those who have made a commitment to bring forth the highest, to be channels of God's Love, to be in close rapport with the angels. We build these portals, beloveds. There is a great team of spirits who have this capacity and because in a way this blessing has a material element and the aspect of being a mechanism that we may use, it requires a certain effort from we in spirit to formulate this gift of a portal. It would be difficult to explain to you the composition of such, but suffice to say that it is made of energy and it has substance. The energy within a portal is sustained with prayer and desire to have such a gift present within a certain location. This too is supported by your efforts and prayers.

These portals are not conferred lightly. They are not a gift easily attained. They are of great importance and have a powerful function of bringing greater light and blessings to your world. To have this opening conferred upon a place, to have this connection between the higher realms and the earthly plane is a powerful gift and one that is given as a blessing from God as we do not act unless this blessing is conferred by God's Will.

We have indicated where these portals now exist, one of which is with you at this moment. Yes, my daughter, there is a portal at your home. You have prayed for this and this blessing has been conferred and within your soul you know that you are responsible to maintain this portal. Your dedication will indeed bring many blessings through as this portal grows in strength and beauty, as it will in this location. The daughter far off may be comforted by the knowledge that yes, there is a portal within their home shared by her mother. It exists in this place because of their efforts in prayer. This is also given as a blessing to replenish and sustain the dear instrument as she continues with her work. For your beautiful church, this portal continues to be activated by your prayers and thoughts and efforts to bring about many blessings through this gift of a portal.

I will add that the beginnings of each of these portals were ignited by the Master Jesus as a gift to you all. For he is closest to God as you well know and knows God's Will more perfectly than any in the Universe and so his gifts bring and confers this blessing from God. Once the foundation, if you will, has been laid, so we began to work and construct this gift, a great blessing from us, a joyful effort knowing of what may be conferred through this gift to you on Earth, awakening many potentials, bringing deep blessings to your world. It is God's Will that this particular and unique blessing may proliferate in your world helping to elevate the conditions, helping to awaken humanity to love. In accordance to your prayers and efforts, your dedication and the wisdom of God's plan, a portal may be conferred upon any soul, any group of souls who desire to serve in love and for the highest good, to be an instrument of God's Will.

At times these portals may be temporarily established. They are not as strong or wide in scope or ability, but indeed they do help to sustain the light within a Circle of Light. It is your prayers, beloveds, and your desires to be a channel, to open yourself and open wherever it is that you decide to work for spiritual gifts and blessings for humanity that this gift may be conferred. Yes, for some it is difficult to recognize and acknowledge this gift, but this does not mean that it is merely an illusion. It exists and is real. It is powerful and you do not truly know the potential of these gifts of a portal, for you only begin to understand the power that God conveys and puts within your hands to serve humanity in love. It is difficult for you to truly comprehend the magnitude of God's plan for the salvation of mankind. Yet you, with faith and commitment and resolve, continue to work upon your path of love and grow in God's Love. In this, many awarenesses and awakenings will come as you grow in this blessing, allowing your souls to expand and incorporate all parts of your being in the harmony of God's Love.

In time you will all know and work with, in a conscious way, this gift of a portal. You will see what may be accomplished. You will work with us, accomplishing the tasks at hand and come to know the beautiful blessings conferred through God's gifts to humanity. Yes, other gifts will come, beloved souls, other avenues, other mechanisms, many things unknown to you but will be known in times to come. We will inform you and guide you along as these many things open to your awareness, as you are ready and have built together the conditions necessary to bring these gifts forward.

Continue to pray for the gift of these portals, beloved souls. You know within yourselves when you are in the condition that truly benefits these portals and send forth the heartfelt prayers of your soul for God to bless these efforts. That is all that is required at this time, beloved souls. Keep this in your consciousness, not as an obsession or a deep concern, but in joyful acknowledgement of a gift and a desire to be in harmony and in alignment with this gift. It is simple. We do not ask much of you, beloved souls. We merely ask for your cooperation and to keep within your consciousness this reality, the existence of these beautiful and magnificent blessings from God.

You will find your way, beloved souls. You will find your way and may God bless you upon your journeys. God bless you. I am Seretta Kem. God bless you.

All Have Some Ability to Communicate with Angels

Andrew on 2019-01-26

God bless you, beloved friends, it is Andrew. It is our desire that we may come close to each one of you, beloved souls, that the avenue of communication between us may be clear and unambiguous for each of you has a beautiful soul lit by the blessings of God's Love. So, through the Laws of Attraction, we are able to come close to you beloveds, for you bring us close in your soulful desires to be with God, to receive His great blessing of Love.

What inhibits your awareness of our presence? There is within each one of you, indeed some are more gifted than others, the ability to see and to hear, but each one of you possesses many gifts and many abilities which we may use to establish a deep rapport with you. Have faith in your own abilities, to know us, to feel our presence, to communicate, because there is no reason why we cannot be close in a conscious and clear way with you. We do not want all of this to be a mystery to you, that you are unclear or unsure of your steps and the experiences that you are having as your soul awakens. No, my beloveds, we wish for you to experience in all its fullness and beauty the gifts that God has given you, the gift of life that is not so much predicated upon the reality that humanity has created with their minds but the reality that God has created for your soul and your being, in harmony with God. And as you are well aware and continue to struggle with, this duality of reality between the soul and the mind, one that is firm and true to God's creation and one that is not. Yet within everyone's life on this world, there is such a pull to the reality of the mind and the reality that humanity has conferred upon this Earth, most unknowing of their own power and ability to confer such a dark and inharmonious condition which they believe is truth and reality that is only conferred by the five senses and the mind.

Each individual is made up of so many more layers and capacities for truth and reality. Most of humanity walks in this world so steadfast with one truth, the reality and vibration of the material world. This does not bring great wisdom to the soul, merely allows the body and the mind to function within this paradigm of truth. Yet you beloved souls, beautiful sojourners on the journey of soul awakening, continue to strive for a deeper reality, a deeper understanding of truth. With your prayers and efforts, with your struggles, with your challenges, with your efforts to bypass this common reality, you come closer to this with each day. Understandings flicker within the background, like chimeras which are hard to discern and to see clearly. But I tell you, in time these things will become clear and there will be a great shift within your consciousness, your understanding, knowings of God's creation, knowings of your own creation, your own soul, and the many aspects of your being that are so poorly understood by so many. You forge ahead, beloved souls, seeking the truth, seeking to unravel the mysteries, seeking to know God in all His beautiful glory, creation, and being.

This comes ever so slowly, like a flower whose petals unfold in the sureness of time, in the warmth and light of God's Touch. So it will be, beloved souls, so it will be as you continue to strengthen your faith, to grow in God's Love, to awaken your potentials of the soul. So it will be and God's Breath will clear the smoky reality of the human condition and bring a clarity to the truth.

May God bless you upon that journey, beloved souls, and keep you close to God, your souls cradled in love, your beings feeling the joy of this awakening and the knowing that you are loved. In this love all is possible, that you may draw to you deep and abiding truth, beautiful and joyful expressions of your soulful gifts, and knowing that you and God are in alignment and that we too share in this beautiful journey and are with you always.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am Andrew and my love is with you always. God bless you.

Question: How Can Diverse Beliefs Be Unified?

Augustine on 2019-01-26

I am Augustine, your teacher. This dear and beloved soul (Andrew, previous message) is a member of the Celestial Kingdom and a wonderful teacher and healer and we are pleased that he has come to help clarify your questions. Is this what you asked my daughter? (D- Yes) And it is a good question, absolutely, a good question because as you see the variations and differences in perspectives in the world and how the minds of humanity continue to take great pleasure and pride and desire to delineate their perspective from another. There is so much fear in the world, so much longing for recognition because so few feel loved and clamour for those who will acknowledge them. So many bear down with their opinions and ideas to any who will listen. They challenge those in the world who they believe are not in harmony with truth. And so it has been for millennia in your world, this terrible condition of fear and judgment, of desire for power, a desire to be right, to be filled with a sense of self that is based upon the needs of the mind rather than the gentle love of the soul.

But, my dear beloved daughter, we have indicated that the world is changing. In this process of change, many conventions and ideas will be turned on their head. There will be great confusion and disorientation that many will feel. Those who have felt that they understand and recognize the structure and make-up of your world will have their theories and ideas dissolve in front of them as new realities take shape on this planet. In this trauma and these difficulties and this adjustment to a new world, the old anchors of truth, platforms of thought, ideas of spirituality will not be applicable.

God will bring greater truth to humanity, great waves of Love, upliftment, healing to the many souls upon your world. In these manifestations and blessings and gifts, there will come a new awakening where the soul may be recognized and the mind will take its place as a secondary way of understanding truth.

I know this sounds rather fantastic to you all and that the possibility of such things in your world seems unlikely. But I tell you, and have told you a number of times, do not underestimate the power of God's Love and the power of His Touch upon your world and that many, many things are possible. Though your minds may reject this and you may feel fear rather than joy in regards to the contemplation of these changes, in your soul you know and will come to recognize as these changes progress, the harmony and necessity for the world to change. You who seek change for this world, who seek greater love, who seek to know your own souls will be called upon to teach this to your brothers and sisters.

Yes, there will be others who may have cloaked their ideals, their mindful understandings with thoughts that are of what we call the natural love, but as these changes take place, as the earthly conditions fall away, these beautiful souls will recognize their own potentials and their own beauty.

There is a great plan, beloved souls. There is a great plan for the awakening of mankind and I know you wonder and you contemplate this tremendous change in your lives and in the life of this world. I say to you, if you have thoughts that are deep dilemmas, if you have doubts, if you worry and fret about these things, turn to the strength that is the faith within you that comes from your soul and comes from God and you will feel a deep sense of peace and these things will not clutter your minds with questions that are unanswerable at this time. For the answers will come as the changes proceed and unfold in all of your lives. The wisdom of your souls will know what action is to be taken, what response to the changing conditions of your world.

This is like nothing you have ever experienced, beloved souls. It cannot be constructed in your mind and made real in your minds. It must come from the soul awakening and understanding of these matters. In this way, the wisdom of your soul and the guidance from God combined with your desire to serve humanity in love will guide your way and will bring you to that place of peace.

Many blessings are coming, beloved souls. You continue to yearn for the answers, for the awakenings, for the manifestations, for all the blessings from God. God knows your thoughts and desires and your motivations and He will guide you in accordance to your choices and ability to walk forward in love, light and peace. Much will come. Much will be bestowed upon you, beloved souls, as so few truly understand the reasons for what is coming and accept this and are willing to walk in the direction of change without fear, without confusion, without resistance. Be your souls, beloveds. Walk in the light of your own souls and in this way God will inform every step and guide every day.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am your teacher Augustine and I appreciate your curiosities, your questions, expressing the desires of your soul. God will answer all in time, beloved souls, and we will furnish whatever answers we may at this time to support you on your journey of soul awakening. God bless you. God bless you, beautiful, beautiful souls. My love is with you. Augustine loves you. God loves you.

Afternoon Prayer and Question on Healing Modalities

Maureen on 2019-01-26

Dear and gracious Father,

We thank you for this time once again to be drawn together for our souls to commune with You, our beautiful angel teachers, and one another. We ask all those who are praying with us from a distance to be drawn in and help to bring a great power here, into this Portal of Light and to receive the many blessings that are offered by God's great gift. Our souls are open and we feel Your presence and the inflowing of Your Love.

I would like at this time, to put forth my question from my soul desiring to know the answer within my consciousness. When offering healings to the many souls that you send Father, you know that I pray for Your Love to come and to bless the dear soul whom you have sent. Through this energy of Divine Love, I ask for clarity how this works differently than the healing energy of Reiki that both Raphael and I, and others are so familiar with? In what way is this different? In what way does this enhance the healing session? You know the question in my soul and the angels also know. So I ask if I have not articulated thoroughly, to please bless us with an answer. Bless dear AI to receive this with clarity, Father. We sit now to receive the answer to this question.

Thank you for your many blessings. Amen.

Questions Answered About Divine Love Healing

Sri Yarigupta/Yarisupta on 2019-01-26

May the light shine upon each of you and upon your world. I am Sri Yarigupta and I've come to answer your question, beloved daughter. There are many healing energies in the universe and every physical object in the universe has a light, an energy about it. That light of the earth and all that emanates from this earth is the healing force that you refer to in your healing practice. This one energy, this one gift from God is one of many, many. You are well aware of the colors and feelings that come from God's gift of healing as you pray to be used as a channel of healing for another. It is best to be open and receptive to whatever God intends to give in this exchange. To narrow your focus upon one thing, one practice, one element, one color may be helpful but is not necessary.

As you grow in your soul, as the light expands and awakens, many healing gifts of all different colors and dimensions and aspects of your being as God's beautiful created soul, can you put a name to this? Can you say it is this or that? Can you prescribe what is needed? No, my beloved souls, all that one needs to do is to ask to be used as an open channel for healing for another. Yes, the energies and the feelings that come with these energies will vary, as will the colors, as will the intensity, as will many aspects of the experience change with each patient before you. It is not one thing, as you well know, but it is a rainbow of blessings. When you are close to God by receiving this gift of Divine Love, it opens the channel widely and clearly bringing many more options and possibilities forward. Often the intensity is more pronounced and with it comes warmth, the flow of love, and the comfort that every soul seeks.

So healing comes in many ways and helps in many ways when you are aligned with God and so His Blessings come. It may be that even the Holy Spirit will come and visit and bless the soul with the Divine Love, the ultimate healing, the ultimate gift. When one is healing as one of God's instruments of love, there is always love and you attract the beautiful angels who are wonderful healers and those who minister to the mortals of earth. There is no restriction because with the blessing of Divine Love, the pallet that you use, the colors, the energies, the feelings, the openings widen for there is no limit when the soul is aligned with God. The only limits are ascribed by the mind seeking to formulate patterns and rituals in the healing arts who have been taught this by others and indeed these rituals have a purpose at times, but generally I would suggest that you allow God to guide you in your practice. Allow your heart and your soul to dictate your movements, where you focus upon the body, the sense of your body, the way in which you administer to another. Often this is like a fluid dance as energies flow and you as the healer responds. Though our mind may have trouble making sense of these motions, intimations, the soul is forward and being expressed as a channel for God's blessings. Like all things with the soul, it is a matter of letting go and allowing, inviting and developing the gifts of the soul. Each soul is different, their gifts expressed with different qualities, expressions and abilities. Combined with the physical, they make up what may come through each individual and be determined by these characteristics and by the condition of that of the practitioner as each day brings different energies and conditions. So there are wide variables, variations and determinants as to what may be accomplished in any particular day. The individual who's being healed also has much determination as to the blessings that may come. But when all is in alignment and harmony and the patient is open and receptive, relaxed, and has a desire to be healed and the practitioner joins in this condition, this alignment with God and the other individual, much can be accomplished, miracles may happen in these particulars beloved souls.

There are many more aspects to the art of healing that I might express today. I tell you, each of you have a healing gift to some degree and in some way. Your opportunities to serve in this way will come as you continue to pray to be a servant of God. So the opportunities and openings for these blessings and energies to flow through you to another will be manifest. Yes, every mortal upon this planet has some gift of healing. Some are highly gifted, others may bring the light energies of the earth to bless another. It is all a matter of focus and poise when the soul, the mind and the body are in alignment and in harmony. In this God uses you in many ways, allowing many things to flow, opening many doors so that you may experience the upliftment and the blessing of the healing energies of the universe.

As you grow in the Father's Love, this highest of blessings, so you bring this added gift that also transforms and awakens these healing energies in ways that are beautiful and remarkable. So I urge you, those who wish to be a healer to give in this way, do not limit this blessing with your minds, but realize that what you have experienced in your life so far is merely the tip of the iceberg of what is possible. As you humbly continue to progress in love, seeking to serve as you do, channels of love and light, healing and peace, much will be revealed, much will be manifest upon this journey of service and soul awakening.

I hope I have cleared up some misunderstandings, answered some questions and have encouraged you upon your journey. There is no need for anxiety or concern as all awakens in the flowering of light, of love. All blends together in the power and beauty of God's Love. There is no need to delineate, to separate, even for definitions as to what it is in this gift. It merely is, beloveds, it merely is the beautiful flower of God's gift to humanity. You, each of you, bring this special gift forward in your own unique ways and so how can we define you, each of you, each soul, only by your light, your beauty, your uniqueness, the wonderment of your created soul. In God's garden all His unique flowers are precious and loved, nurtured and cared for. You are all part of the glorious unfolding of God's Creation. May you feel the joy in this, the wonderment, the perceptions that bring all the beautiful details into your consciousness and you will find all that you look for, all the questions answered, all journeys opened to you, all blessings manifest around you and through you. It is the power of the essence of God that brings this journey to its fruition and you are well on your way beloved souls, precious in light, precious in love.

May God bless you, keep you upon His path to glorious light my dear beloved friends. I'm Sri Yarisupta and I love you. God bless you.

Mankind Has the Power to Create Its Own Reality

Abdullah Latif on 2019-01-27

I am Abdullah Latif. I was once a philosopher, a mathematician, and had a high rank within the realm in which I lived on Earth.

I have thought much about the conditions of your world, the darkness that pervades almost every corner of your world, the suffering that comes from this darkness, the struggles and dilemmas of humanity steeped in ignorance and fear, steeped in inhumanity and actions that do not reflect love.

For mankind has the power, does it not, to create its own reality, to make the world a reflection of themselves? This world is indeed a reflection of the cumulative conditions, energies, actions, thoughts, realities of all its peoples. What power you each hold, beloved souls, what power to form the reality and the conditions of this world in whatever way that you might. Those who suffer, and there are many, many who suffer, feel that they are victims of a world that God has created to enhance their suffering, that this reality that you experience in life is created by God.

God created a perfect world, one that can and will fulfill every need and desire that is in accordance to His Laws of Creation. Yet, with free will, humanity continues upon a course that proliferates darkness, that disobeys the Laws of Creation. It is not that humanity is ignorant. It is because humanity ignores the truth that is well known within the soul and continues to exercise their material minds in efforts to gain superiority and to accomplish the fulfillment of the material desires of the body, the mind. These conditions which have been with humanity for a very, very long time continue to worsen as populations increase and the energetic qualities that each individual soul piles upon your Mother Earth bring in greater darkness by each day. Choice upon choice, action upon action, thought upon thought, desire upon desire, multiplied many millions of times every second of every day. This creates a powerful and vigorous, dark, energetic condition in your world. It creates many, many elements in your physical world that are not in harmony with its creation. In this terrible state, is darkened clouds. It is very difficult for God to penetrate and bring healing and right the imbalances.

Each of you has a struggle to retain light around you, to walk in harmony, to be in the joy of the awakened soul. Yet you persist and you are often successful in your efforts because you pray for the most powerful healing and transformative energy in the universe, the very Essence of God, to penetrate your souls making within a mighty fire, His warmth and vitality transforming you, influencing every part of your being.

When you deal with the condition that brings suffering to you personally, it is disheartening. It is difficult to accomplish this because you have spent a great deal of time and effort to neutralize the negative conditions that are around you. Yet, at times, it feels like you are merely treading upon water and that these conditions seem to be so prevalent and heavy upon you that you find a sense of despair that is your nature, conscious thought.

Beloved souls, if you could see from our perspective how difficult the conditions are in this world. Even though you live in beauty, you are removed from much of the frantic conditions that are in your world. Still, the energetic signature of humanity persists everywhere and makes your life a struggle. So, it is important to have compassion for yourself, beloveds, to realize that what you are doing, your hopes and dreams, and ambitions, desires, are light and love, goodness, vitality, are constantly challenged by these conditions. Even too, the very food that you eat, the very air that you breath, all is polluted with the intrusions of the human creation, the human reality, so that your bodies continue to struggle with those elements that are not in harmony with its true function, so that your minds continue to seek control of all negative thoughts, all that is not in harmony with love, and that you continue to keep open and receptive your soul that it thirsts so greatly for the living waters of God. Every part of you, beloved souls, continues to struggle in an environment that is not conducive to fulfilling these deeper desires and needs and efforts for light. We who come to be with you, to assist you in your efforts, have a deep compassion for your struggles and a deep admiration for your strength for each of you has chosen light, continues to desire to grow within your souls, to seek for the highest, to know truth, and to be a channel of love in this world.

My beloved souls, you have the attention of many thousands of spirits and angels in the realms of light. This attention is because you bring hope to this world by your efforts, by continuing to struggle against the darkness, by continuing to extricate yourself from all that is not of light. In this, is rays of hope that you create by your efforts and prayers.

There is joy amongst us who seek to bring light to your world. Yes, some dilemmas in your life are vast and at times insurmountable, but you continue because within your soul is steadfast determination, is a burning desire, and a great light so that you will indeed glow in love in what can only be described as a darkened swamp of the human condition. God's precious lights, God's beautiful souls, straining and expressing the potential that He has put within you. My beloved friends, we understand your struggles.

Personal to Jeanne: My beloved child, you do indeed struggle against the darkness in your world, each day you dedicate yourself to this, each day you reach out to many. You spend much of your time and energy in bringing light. You must rest. You must rest for there must be times within your life where you are being nurtured and strengthened and blessed by God. Your body is tired, beloved soul. Your mind is somewhat addled by all this responsibility that you carry and your deep desire to bring healing and awakening to many of your brothers and sisters. God does not wish for you to be in pain. But when the physical, emotional, and spiritual is out of balance and alignment, then this opens the door for pain and suffering. Surprisingly, often the body will create a solution to the problem of rest. You are in the midst of this command from the body to stop and rest. As long as you continue to deny this to yourself, the signals of the body will give to you will heighten and intensify until you must rest. Listen, beloved soul, listen to what these signals are, what is given in wisdom. This is not punishment but a gift. (End personal)

This is what it will be in your world, beloved souls, as you progress in your lives and as this world progresses in its condition at the imbalance. There will be pain. There will be deep and disturbing signals given to humanity that say stop, reconsider, come to a place of wisdom and love rather than ignorance and fear. God has built into all his creation these wondrous systems of life, many ways in which correction and healing may happen. When humanity continues to ignore and bury their heads within sands of ignorance, then these elements of correction will come into play forcing all to recognize the inharmonious conditions that need correction. This truth may apply to an individual or apply to the human race.

This is where we compel you to grow in wisdom and love in your souls and bring this to the forefront of your consciousness so that you may be a conduit of truth in the world. Though from your perspectives in your present lives the possibility of doing so to a great extent seems implausible. But I tell you that you continue to build this beautiful life that will carry you to many surprising places. Some of you already see the possibilities and are inspired. All of you are working towards being powerful channels of light and truth and love. The pacing is determined by you. God does not interfere with your free will. As I have been speaking, this is indeed a double edge sword. For you may stumble on your own volition or stand straight and take the straight path. It is your choice. But as you continue to grow in this gift of love, wisdom must come and is coming. You will know your destinies, your purpose, as the soul awakens so these things become obvious and are revealed in the timing of your own choosing.

Continue to seek for the highest, to rail against the darkness, to seek light. Yet, you must comport yourself with deep wisdom, understanding, that the rejection you may find as you speak the truth is not meant to hurt you, beloveds. It is not a personal thing but reflects the conditions of humanity, its inability to see beyond the personal and distorted needs of the individual.

You must have deep compassion for all. For indeed you are deeply blessed with a life that in many ways lacks the terrible deprivation of the soul, the mind, and the body that is the daily lot of so many, with gratitude, with a warm heart, a loving disposition, an abundant sense of joy. May you face each day and give as a channel of love to whomever you meet, whomever God puts upon your path and brings you to that place where you may speak and demonstrate the truth of the power of love to heal all, to right all imbalances, to bring into harmony all things, to wipe away the dreadful memories of pain and distortion that each soul carries in their life, that there is liberation, beloved souls, liberation from the darkness. You, my beloved friends, have the key. You understand truth by your own life and example, the truth. Yet, even you struggle at times. This is the power of the collective force of humanity upon this planet and you must be strong. Though the winds of darkness blow, you will remain steadfast, my beloved friends, and walk the path of righteousness and love, light and truth. It is your destiny. For it is the destiny of every soul who seeks truth. Through the Laws of Attraction, you will be drawn to many others who are with you in this great effort to heal this world and all within.

Continue in your efforts to be with God, your daily prayers, your daily thoughts, your daily actions that they all may be of light and blessed and imbued by the power of love. May God bless you, my friends. I am Abdullah Latif and I am very pleased to be able to speak to you today, to come to the world in this light, to be present as we are with you all in this great arena of light. It is a great blessing for us and for you. God makes these things possible despite the power of human condition. He makes a well of light in the world where we may all commune and be together in God's presence. May God bless you, beloved souls, and keep you in His Light. Much love to you and I will come again to speak another day. God bless you.

Be Thankful and Joyful

Oh, our friend is so serious. Such doom and gloom. Know that you are in the light of God's Love, my friends, and that your life has much joy in it, so many blessings, so much to be thankful for. I continue to be with you. My friend, I sang with you this morning as you awoke and my friend, I walked with you in the forest. And with all of you, I have touched you with joy and love and will continue with each day that you are together. I will bring a special blessing, an uplifting light, a joyful whisper in your ear, a tickle, a hug, a kiss, because I love you. I am with you. I love you. God bless you.

Question: What About Whether Jesus Has A Soulmate?

Jesus on 2019-01-27

God bless you, it is Master Jesus, your friend and brother who resides in the highest of the Celestial Kingdom. There has been a question posed by our dear brother from far off regarding the existence of a soulmate in my life. Mary Magdalene was never my soulmate for when I came to Earth, there was an agreement between me and my Heavenly Father that I would walk this path alone and would not require a companion such as this as do all other souls in God's creation in your world and mine. This was the singular blessings given to me because of my particular work and role in bringing humanity to the truth of God's Love.

There are no other souls that have reached my place of habitation in the Celestial Heavens and there is no need on my part to have a companion in these places. And yes, in this way it makes me a unique creation of God and yet I do not feel a lacking or a deep desire for this onement of love between myself and my soulmate. This may surprise you, my beloveds, but this is not a sacrifice on my part. It is merely my truth, the truth of my existence and who I am. So I will never entertain the at-onement that is the partaking of soulmates in the great scheme of the soul's transcendence to at-onement with God. Yet my love for all of humanity, for you my precious brothers and sisters, brings a great fulfillment to my soul, a sense that I am with you all, that I walk in the truth of the Father's Love. I am engaged in such a ministry and effort to bring the truth to you all that I have little time to entertain these requirements of relationship.

I do walk alone and yet I walk with my Heavenly Father. I walk with my brothers and sisters. I walk in a world that is filled with great love and joy. I want for nothing, beloveds. I need for nothing other than the nourishment of God within me. I know great joy and fulfillment in this. Yes, there have been many years of speculation and assumptions regarding relationships between myself and others. I say to you, my desire for such is not present within me and in this I walk a singular path for I have no need. I am one soul and was one soul when I incarnated, not half as is with all of you, but one with God, one in my own self. This afforded me many blessings and insights and understandings of the soul complete and pure in my incarnation.

Yet, as you know, I continue to grow in the Father's Love and awaken thus in my ministry and efforts on this world and in the next. Yes, I continue to grow in love as do you all. I continue to forge the path for you all. I continue to love you all. I am your brother, your friend, and I walk the path that God has chosen for me and I have chosen with God to attain in my existence.

God bless you, my beloveds. I hope that this may answer this question of my soulful composition and need for a soulmate. God bless you and my love is with you, beloveds. I am with you in all that you do for the sake of truth and love. God bless you. God bless you.

Question: What Happens During Our Sleep State?

John the Beloved on 2019-01-27

God bless you, I am John the Beloved. Yes, you wonder about the flight of your souls as you sleep at night. Where do you go? Who do you talk to? Do you have purpose and mission during these times of sleep? God utilizes His instruments in many ways. When you are in this state of sleep, the mind is more relaxed and able to release its control, therefore, there are more possibilities, flexibility in the movement of the soul in your world and in ours for the veil between the two is very thin indeed.

So you move in your spirit body when you are within your sleep state, when that initial, very deep state comes. So you release yourself from your physical body with the silver cord attached and you roam and travel and meet one another. You meet your friends who are far away. You may even do some service that is guided, which we accompany you with so that something is accomplished during this time.

Of course, the level of sleep and the duration of sleep varies with each day and so what is possible and what is asked of you may vary as well. There are some days where you sleep very soundly indeed and from the time you fall into that sleep state and the time that you awaken, much is accomplished if there are no interruptions.

This gives you some idea as to the complexities and layers of your existence. That when you take that time for the body to replenish itself, it does not mean that the soul and the spirit is inactive. In fact, in many ways, the soul and the spirit is more active during these times of sleep. The plans that we lay for you and the individual souls whom we plan to introduce you to are often given the opportunity to meet before your physical connection through the sleep state.

So you are very busy, beloved souls, in this condition that you often do not remember or have any inkling of what has been accomplished or experienced in this state. At times, you have what you may consider interesting dreams as the mind attempts to integrate the experience of the spirit and bring it to consciousness. In most cases, this integration is distorted by the mind and your experience is unclear. Yet, there are times that you feel you have met an individual, a friend, a soul fellow who longs for connection with you and you for them and this is a clear recollection of this meeting.

At other times, we draw you and others to a particular place in the world where your assistance is required for each of you are instruments of God's Will and blessings for the world. You do subscribe to various tasks which many of you may participate and gather together to enhance the spiritual energies and light in a particular place. This allows we in spirit to come and minister to those who are in need. God blesses this, this beautiful effort to bring some change or some blessing to another or many others.

There is not a day that is wasted, beloved souls. There is always some time spent in this blessed state and condition of service and learning and growing for there are times when you are learning from others as well as times when you are teaching others. You are actually reaching greater numbers with the message of Divine Love in the world of spirit than for those in the flesh. Those opportunities are many while you are in the sleep state.

This instrument through which I speak has been used many times even though he is not aware to teach the message of Divine Love to many souls. He may be surprised to learn that he has been used as an instrument to speak through for the celestial angels in these circumstances.

You see, there are many layers and surprises, possibilities, creative expressions of your spiritual work that may be accomplished in the sleep state. Each of you is engaged in this. This has been part of your development and training as you have come together in these Circles of Light. For some, it has been many years. As you sit in these circles, so we prepare you and acclimatize you to these tasks at hand. Each time you are within this state of sleep, we experiment and you practice in your ability to travel and connect on this Earth plane and other planes of spirit.

As I've said, these are very precious and intense times in which you are being used as God's instruments in the world. This does not tire you, beloved souls, or take any effort in the physical respect from you. The spirit bond enlivened by the Divine Love is vital. As you learn and grow in this love, and we in spirit educate and train you and prepare you for this particular avenue of service, so you are enriched by this experience, you continue to grow the light within you by serving in this way. Yet, all the while, your mind may know nothing of this. You may have a sense, an inkling of these activities but in truth, there is very little awareness that is conscious. Now this may change as time progresses and you progress within your souls, as these particular awarenesses grow within you, your soul perceptions.

There are those gifted who are aware of these experiences so some will come to a clear understanding why others may never, but it matters not for we use you anyway. Many things are accomplished. In many ways, not having the mind engaged or in expectation of this service and flow of love and blessings for your brothers and sisters, there is an ease and fluidity to these efforts, without the interference of the mind.

I hope I have answered your questions. I will stay a while to answer any questions related to this topic if you wish.

(J: are there clinics, educational places for us to visit? Do our guides, do we establish a deeper rapport with our guides for personal development?)

Yes, this state within the spirit body replicates what the experience would be like if you were discarnate and in your spiritual body in whatever spiritual condition you may pass over with. Therefore, there is a freedom to roam and experience these various places within the world of spirit, limited by your own soul growth. But nonetheless, there are many places and many experiences that you may have in the sleep state. Yes, you do communicate with your guides and teachers in this state. There are many conversations and opportunities to converse with your guides.

(J: Would it be helpful to state our intentions before we fall asleep or ask?)

Your souls know, beloveds, but in stating these things you may have more of a conscious awareness when you awaken so it does help the mindful awareness of these experiences. Yet, in this soulful condition with the spirit body, there are many things that you are aware of, many experiences that you anticipate and remember within the soul. These experiences and memories will come once you have passed into spirit. You will see how rich your life has been as you have experienced the blessings of the flesh and the earthly condition and the blessings of the spirit world which you experience each and every time you are in your sleep state. As we have told you often, there are many layers to your existence and many understandings that do not come fully to the surface of your awareness that are real nonetheless and have their bearing upon your experience of life and progression of soul. Great blessings come in this way as God continues to usher you along your road of awakening and soulful expansion in love, such a blessing indeed.

(J: So when we pass, the silver cord is broken. Is there, what kind of limitations in the spirit world are imposed by the silver cord?)

Yes, that is correct. There are limitations and you are protected and guided in this state, always. Therefore, the silver cord cannot be broken while you are travelling in this way, but we cannot take you too far into the realms of spirit for this would be stressful upon your physical state and spiritual state. So, therefore, you are limited to a certain strata and levels of experience, though these are not by any means limiting to your growth and experience and service. There is much within this strata that you may experience and work and journey through. There are many blessings there, my beloveds, many blessings indeed.

(L: Do we plan in the sleep state for what will happen in our physical lives on the Earth plane?)

Yes, often you are aware of what is coming and this awareness seeps into your consciousness giving you a sense of your future and life experiences and circumstance. It is indeed true that many solutions to your problems and dilemmas may come in this way. They may come clearly and in this regard, it is important to pray for an answer to your questions or dilemmas.

(L: Do we meet with others in the sleep state with whom we are having problems to resolve those?)

If the other party is willing to meet, of course. These opportunities are taken to resolve and bring harmony for in the world of spirit the fluidity of the possibilities and the movement and the connections between souls is very much enriched and with a great depth of possibilities.

(M: Would that be the same for a person who has a different time zone? One person is in the wake state, another person is in the sleep state, how they can meet?)

This is a more complex matter but there are times when this connection is made. It does require a more sophisticated approach and as you have all experienced with your friends in other parts of the world, when you pray together, you have felt their presence and they have felt your presence. So this is one manifestation of this particular way of being together. But to have an extended period of communication and rapport with one another, it is far easier when both parties are in the sleep state and guided together in this way.

(L: Are we more aware in the sleep state of our soul condition?)

Yes, it is easier to be aware of your soul condition in the sleep state because you are not so inhibited by your mental condition and biases. There is still some influence by the mind, the material mind, but it is not so restrictive and therefore, there is for each of you, a great sense of freedom and expansion when you are in this state of soul travel.

Are we finished with our questions, beloveds?

(J: Never!)

(L: Well, thank you. You answered our sleep state question and our question about question and answers while you were here. Thank you.)

I am very pleased to support you in this way, to be with you. Though I do not come to speak often, know that I am connected with you in many ways and that indeed I tutor you all in your sleep state as do many of us. We each carry a certain responsibility towards your spiritual betterment and do so with great care and love and attention upon your soul progression and the awakening of all your faculties, beloved souls. And so you see this one state of awareness and experience is merely a portion of the entire flow of your spiritual and physical life. God has given you a great gift to be able to communicate on all of these different levels and ways together and with us, with God. Often, you come together in prayer when you are in your sleep state and experience deep and profound awarenesses and inflowings of God's Love and many other things, blessings, many blessings.

(J: I would love a lesson, more talk, on the chambers of our souls and soul awakening and how that happens but maybe this isn't the time?)

Yes, this is a different subject and we will try to make the arrangements to speak of this matter though we have spoken many, many times of these things. It is difficult to describe what is the soul. You desire to bring things to a physical understanding, an image, something material in nature in order to know and relate to these truths. As for the soul, this is very difficult indeed, where there are no words nor any concepts that are accurate in order to describe the very nature of the soul. But we will attempt to assist you in this journey of further awakening and knowing of these matters.

But for now, I will say God bless you, beloved souls. May you continue to search and seek for truth, for the highest, for the greatest of blessings, that God's Love may continue to pour into your souls, this ever, never-ending blessing that continues to nourish and awaken and bring to you great insight and truth, that this love, that this love may embrace you and bring you deep peace and joy, wisdom and truth. May God bless you. I am John and my love is with you. God bless you.

Question: Which Name Is Correct?

Sri Yarigupta/Yarisupta on 2019-01-27

Sri Yarigupta is my formal name. Sri Yarisupta is a familiar name given to me as a child and I use this familiar name because I felt that you are my friends. I understand your confusions and indeed my language at the time of my birth was a difficult language to understand especially by you who live in this very different world. You are welcome to use either rendition of my name whenever you wish but know that I am your friend and that in the realms in which I live these delineations are irrelevant, that we know each other by our presence.

Names are not particularly important in this realm of Light. And so, to come to your world and reveal names that are unfamiliar to you and admittedly somewhat unfamiliar to ourselves over time, there can be confusion. This instrument, although he is indeed a fine medium, can have trouble delineating the words of a particular name that is unfamiliar so will you please excuse me and my dear friend here for some confusion? It was not meant to be so but I am one and the same.

I am very happy to be with you in these efforts for light. God bless you, my friends. God bless you. Sri Yarigupta, Sri Yarisupta is with you. God bless you. (M: Namaste)
Namaste to you, too.

Question: What about Our Plans if Earth Changes Are Happening?

Augustine on 2019-01-28

It is your teacher Augustine. May the Father's Love continue to pour into your souls in ever greater abundance igniting the gifts and perceptions within so that you may be able to discern truth at all times, know God's Will and guidance at all times, be in the flow of God's Will at all times. This is our desire for you, beloved souls, to know from that place deep within you all aspects and guided invitations and knowings that will inform your day as you seek to be the Father's instruments of love in your world.

When we speak to you, beloved souls, we speak of two worlds. One that is a world made of man in which all of humanity is creating the conditions and reality of your physical world and one that is the knowing and reality of the soul awakened by God's Love. To marry these two together into a comprehensive perception of truth that is applicable to both of these worlds is challenging. You, beloved souls, continue to meet this change with each day in your prayers, in your thoughts, in your deeds. You continue to seek alignment with God, alignment between your minds and your souls, alignment with truth.

Your world is in turmoil. It continues to be in the darkness of this turmoil. Conditions of darkness continue to grow and accelerate in their effects upon your world bringing great pain and disharmony to many places in your world. We who observe from lofty places see the complexities of these conditions in a similar way that your mechanisms in space see the weather patterns of the world. Our eyes see similarly the patterns of the human conditions swirling about on your planet. From this, like those who give prognostications of the weather, so we attempt to give prognostications of the coming conditions that will challenge and disrupt the natural order of your world.

Using our soul perceptions, using what we receive in inspiration and guidance from God, empowered by His Love, we continue to speculate upon the future. For as your guardians, those who are deeply concerned for your welfare and the welfare of all mankind, we seek to know the answers to these deeper dilemmas just as you wish to know the answers to your own personal dilemmas. Our perspective is that of the world. We see much change coming, many responses from the very workings of your world that are an attempt to heal and rebalance what is upset and in turmoil.

We see the difficulties that are coming as the accumulation of dark energies continue to roil about in the human condition. We see God's desire. We sense His desire to bring healing to your planet, to bring greater harmony and unity and wisdom to your world so that each soul may have a greater possibility of knowing truth, of choosing light, of being in a place that is in harmony with God's Will and creation for each one.

So you see these many layers of energies and movements, of interactions of the elements of your world, the co-creative efforts of many individuals in your world that are both of light and darkness. All of these complex conditions conspire to carry your world deeper into chaos, deeper into a point where all must shift and change towards light and healing rather than the continuation of these conditions that we see so clearly upon your world. At times, we give to you as clear a perspective as we can regarding these things. We try to guide, to support, to protect, and to inform each of you as you are in motion, as is everything in your world, interacting, choosing, formulating, planning your next steps.

Indeed, you navigate difficult and erratic conditions that to you, through the eyes of your material selves and through your senses, see rather simply rather than the complexities that we see and acknowledge. Our messages to you, beloved souls, reflect the depth of the conditions that we detect and understand with each moment as time passes. Thus, we cannot give to you and convey to you a complete picture and that which we give and is often interpreted and somewhat distorted by those who valiantly step forward as channels. And so you see our dilemma, beloved souls. To bring truth and clarity is our goal, as is your goal to receive truth and clarity, to act together in this flow of light, of love that is connected to God's Will.

Beloved souls, the chaos of the world continues to influence your understanding of your present and future. As such, our ability to bring clarity is often challenged because of the intensity and erratic nature of the earthly conditions. The easiest way to understand what you must do is to be in alignment with God with each day. For the complexities and the challenges of one day are great enough for a soul learning to be in alignment with God. Thus, we often encourage you to walk with God with each day in faith and trust in what God guides you to do.

We realize that you desire to make plans for the future, that these practical considerations must be taken seriously and applied studiously to your efforts. In this, I can only say that you are the master of your own ship, beloved souls. We may tell you what is on the horizon. We may encourage you in certain directions so that your journey is not only smoother but more effective as a channel of love in the world. But we cannot steer the ship for you, beloveds. This is your responsibility and it is a gift from God that you have within you a compass that will guide you through, along the direction that God intends for you, your path in life. Yet, we do warn and encourage, guide, and expound upon the changing conditions in your world. In all of this guidance, I urge you, beloved souls, to take it to your heart, to test whatever is given as truth, to walk in the light, the joyous light of your at-onement with God. This is the only true compass and guidance that continues to uphold and truly direct.

As we attempt to bring further assistance, clarity to you through instruments and mediums, through inspiration, through many forms of communication to you, remember that the conditions of your world will invariably distort to some degree what is given. The fog of these conditions may at times be thick and impenetrable and at other times, a mist that brings a measure of clarity and understanding. So you must forgive the inaccuracies of guidance regarding specific events in your world. Often one comes to see these particular things as inevitable and precise. This is the way the human mind works and needs to lay down solid ground in order to understand truth. But I tell you, in terms of changing world conditions, nothing is solid nor is it easily predicted, yet we try to inform you as best we can with the understanding that you are, in many respects, somewhat inhibited in your ability to know and receive this type of guidance from us.

I cannot say that you have been led astray, my beloved souls. I'm sorry to say that much that we predict will come to be in time but time is fluid and events are fluid and so we cannot with all surety predict the future for any of you. We can give you some understanding of what we see, the trends and flow upon this river of time but our understanding of time is very different from yours, beloveds. We do not experience the cycles of day and night, the rhythms of your waking and sleeping. This is not our reality.

Ours is an expanded experience of life that would be very difficult to explain to you yet as you continue to open your souls, awaken to the reality of God and know the gifts that lay within you, you will come to see your life, this world, your reality in a way that is in greater alignment with us than with the paradigm of your world.

I do not know if I have clarified this question for you, beloved souls, but my wish is that you understand the complexities and the subtleties and the layers of understanding the flow and ebb of events in your world. We try to warn, to encourage, to prepare you for what is inevitable. And in your human way, you thirst for details, you seek to be comforted, you seek to release yourself from fearful thoughts and concerns in times such as these. We who are with you attempt to do what you wish, which is for us to be close, for you to feel safe, for all to be in love and joy and harmony. For the most part, it is so.

You must be strong, beloved souls, strong and attuned to God, able to weather any storm, able to be a strong influence and light in the world so you may comfort many others and bring truth. This we know, God has a plan for the salvation of mankind. He will not allow the ship to be dashed upon the rocks and for all to be lost. His plan is for the salvation of mankind, to bring healing to this world, to bring peace to this world. This you have prayed for many times and this within your souls, you have beseeched God to be a part of this healing, to assist God in this great awakening and shift of your world.

Each of you will indeed find your place within this wondrous plan. We will indeed protect and insure that you may have the opportunities to serve humanity in times of crisis and confusion. You will be the rock, beloved souls, that others may lean upon in difficult times. You will be the source, beloved souls, of the new template that mankind must come to accept and work with for the regeneration of light in this world, for harmony and peace to be so.

I wish for you to be assured and confident, to be at peace and know that all is well in hand. Though we cannot give you details of what is to come, we can assure you that the power of your faith and light within your soul and the desire that you have to serve and be in alignment with God's Will, will protect you and guide you through these coming changes. God needs His servants on Earth to walk with their brothers and sisters with the strength and the beauty in a loving expression that will bring much comfort and truth to many.

Yes, my beloveds, God has blessed you deeply. You are truly loved. You walk upon the high road seeking for all that is of the highest. In this, you are precious and beloved souls in your world. God will assure your future in light. This is what you must focus upon. Yes, when you feel guided to step forward to make plans and within your heart there is not a warning, a sense of apprehension, then I would encourage you to make your plans, to assume that all is well in God's Will and Universe.

Though we cannot, nor can anyone, guarantee the fulfillment of your intentions, it is indeed important that you trust in your guidance. In all likelihood, your guidance will be fulfilled and your efforts will bring light. Do not hold yourself back with feelings of doubt and fear, wondering whether you are safe, wondering whether you are being led down the garden path, as you say, and are wrong in your assumptions. Every effort that you make in light with the intention to serve God, to serve humanity will bring some measure of blessings. Even when your plans go awry, there are opportunities to learn and grow, to awaken yet greater parts of yourself, and strengthen your wisdom and your resolve.

So, my beloved souls, I will end my dissertation in hopes that you have been uplifted and assured that all that is within the flow and Will of God will be realized in God's time, in God's way. For you, beloveds, to listen and walk with the knowledge and truth and sense of harmony that comes with each drop of guidance, each desire to serve, each effort to be in the love, the flow of God's Love.

May God bless you deeply, beloved souls. I am your teacher, Augustine, and I love you. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls.

Divine Love is Yours for the Asking

Yogananda on 2018-01-28

I am Yogananda. Indeed my teacher did come to visit you dear son. He was a great man and still is a beautiful spirit of light (Sri Yukteswar). He plowed many spiritual fields in my country of origin, a place where spiritual understanding was much more prevalent than in the Western world. Unfortunately, even my country seems to have come to the Western thought, the material thought. Many are giving up these old ways of living their lives closer to the spirit than the material and this saddens me. It saddens me that the entire world seems so consumed with material thinking and doing, leaving behind understandings that are deeper and of God.

Indeed, it is refreshing to come to a circle such as this where the light shines so bright and each soul sincerely wishes to understand their true natures and exemplify the spiritual rather than the material. But in time, the entire world will come to this, this truth, that you are of light, of spirit, of soul and as such, you need to come to the Source to replenish yourself, to awaken your soul, to be in that mighty river of life that is of spirit, that is of God. When you, in your prayers, beseech God to receive His great gift, His Love, you come to the fountainhead of all great light, awakening, and truth. Though I did not truly understand this while I was in your world, I know it now and my heart rejoices in love.

I join you my friends in your heartfelt solicitations to the great Source, God the Father, the Universal Being that brings all nourishment and life. Open your hearts and your souls to this gift. Bring yourselves humbly to this great fountainhead of living water and drink deep, my friends. Bathe in this place of Holy Love, awakening your soul, showing you the way to your true self.

You will find such comfort, peace, joy, stillness, and love. This God pours out to you with the desire that you embrace all that is of light and truth. God will not hold back any truth and understanding, nor His Love to those who come with innocence and a deep desire to be enfolded and embraced in this Light and love.

There is a great light in this room, beloveds, beautiful souls. There is a great potential to awaken your soul here together this day. Drink deep, my friends. Know that you have a rare gift amongst you, the blessings of angelic forces, the Touch from the Heavenly Source. It is yours for the asking, yours always because there is no restriction to those who desire from deep within the touch, the awakening, the expansion of their souls in love. It is with you now, my friends. It is with you now. So shall we immerse together in these living waters and feel the joy of a heart fulfilled in love?

God bless you. I am Yogananda and my love and your love goes to God in acknowledgement of the wonderment of the universe created in love. May God bless you deeply, my friends.

Question: How Can We Help Approach Scientists?

Einstein on 2019-01-28

My friends, I am Albert Einstein, and you may ask, why we are so interested in you? And I ask you, how many opportunities are there in your world to communicate with mortals? Very few indeed. So, we work with what materials we have, my friends. I will tell you that you will feel guided to many souls that we will encourage you to connect and befriend. These souls will have the potential to bring forth information that we so very much desire to give to the world. Yes, you may not be the direct conduits for these valuable pieces of truth and information to help your world in this way. You will be the intermediaries that will connect us with the precious souls that await.

The illustrious teacher, Augustine, speaks of God's plan and I tell you, we are a part of this overreaching plan that has many facets and avenues to be enacted and brought to your world. You see, the entire higher spheres of spirit and of the Celestial Kingdom are engaged in this complex dance that God has put us to. We listen carefully to the orchestra, to what must be expressed in this beautiful ballet.

It is easy for us, for we have the ears to hear, the eyes to see, and the knowledge to give. It is not so easy for you who live in such a place that is inhibited and suppressed, but nonetheless we continue to forge ahead and work with you all. You continue to step forward in trusted faith, in a beautiful innocence and light that is refreshing to see in your world. May God bless you in your efforts and may God bless all of us in our efforts, that God's Will indeed will be held in place and expressed in love. May we continue to forge ahead on this path with each day. With each small effort that you make, there will be a great effort on our part to match your intentions and your work.

We are closer than you think. We will all find our way and know great joy in this beautiful work, this expression of love for all humanity. We are all guided by God. We are all in the Light of God's Touch and Love and care. This will be our saving grace, will it not, the power of love to heal the world and the power of love to add to the momentum for great change and harmony for your world?

God bless you, my friends. God bless you and thank you for your efforts. Your friend Albert is with you in all that you do. I do pray for your success, the success of your work as do many thousands upon thousands on my side of life. Continue, my friends, continue in your work and we shall continue in ours, working together as one. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls.

Releasing the Last Dark Vestiges in the Soul

Beloved souls, it is Matthew and I come to answer your questions.

You do not suffer greatly, my beloved children, though you believe that your life is difficult. And because you do not suffer greatly you are not highly motivated to release those conditions that are not in harmony with God's Love though you feel you have prayed sincerely and earnestly for this gift. And yet those parts of you that hang on so tenaciously to the roots of pain, of lack of love, continue to dominate your conscious sense of well-being despite the many blessings that you have received, despite the light within your soul, despite your conscious awareness of these conditions and a conscious desire to release such conditions.

You see, we in spirit who bring the blessings of God's healing and peace, His love, may alleviate these conditions from you at times and bring you peace and a sense of well-being. You must ask yourself, when I pray to release these conditions within me, am I merely asking for the relief that your spirit friends may bring or am I willing to look deeply within myself? Bring these difficult and tenacious conditions that are so rooted within my mind, my beliefs, my understandings of myself to the fore and ask my Heavenly Father to take these from me in the healing of your Love.

Many of you have deep expectations and deep judgements regarding your condition and those struggles that you continue to deal with, often on a daily basis. These worn patterns, these old hurts, these old beliefs are not truly expunged because there is a part of you that continues to hang on and does not want to release these carefully nurtured aspects of your condition and thought patterns.

Some time ago, you received a teaching about the Pentecost and how many of you prayed to receive this gift, this dramatic inflowing of the Father's Divine Love. Our beloved Jesus spoke of the conditions that were required to receive this gift. Conditions that none in the room or very few in this world are experiencing at this time. The yearning is not there. And so it is with your struggles and your desire to release these last vestiges of pain. They stick to you with such tenacity, such resolute stubbornness. It does indeed require equal force to break these conditions away from you and so your motivation, your yearning must be intense, beloveds, if you are to come to that place of release at this moment.

In time, my beloveds, these conditions will fall away. The power of God's Love will ensure this healing. But if you are so intent upon being in a pristine condition of joy and peace, free of all elements within you that are not in harmony with God's Love, then you must work very hard indeed to break free of these things. Not a pleading, a sense that God must do this for you, but plunging deep within yourself with a true knowing from your soul that when you face these demons within, with such sincerity and depth and desire and with prayer, this deep healing will take place.

Throughout the years, many of you have received much in the way of healing and soul awakening through your prayers for this gift of love but indeed, these deep and old and tenacious parts, dark elements within you are the most difficult to expunge because their roots go deep within your soul nourished by your pain and anxieties, your thoughts and your judgments, all manner of emotional and mental machinations which feed and ensure the presence of these conditions. To truly go within, to truly look within is very difficult for mortals for each of you in one way or another carry your illusions and your ideas as to how you must be in the world, who you are in your own reality. To go this deep is to crack and break apart such well-worn and well-nourished elements within.

This is truly difficult, beloved souls, but it is worth the effort. Though there may be deep, earth shattering pain in this visitation and gaze within your true self, it precludes the birthing of your soul in purity and light. In this birthing process God is there, we are with you as your nursemaids and you will come through such dreadful difficult pain to light and release, expansion and joy where true love resides rather than the illusion of love. True love, this is where God's great Love penetrates the very darkest places within and heals all that is there. Are you willing to do this, beloved souls? Are you willing to go to that place that so few are strong enough to face and see with clarity? This takes great faith, great courage, and great desire.

Some of you lament that these things have not fallen away as you have so desired, as your expectations insist that such things may merely be released easily and reflexively with inflowing of the Father's Love. Yes, this is possible. This is the power of love shining through, but for this to take place you must pray more fervently, you must have greater faith. You must trust and allow the deep healing to take place.

You have two choices, one in which you willingly and purposefully go within and seek out those dark chambers filled with fear, trepidation or you may continue with your prayers and in time the healing will indeed be granted easily, but this may take many years. For as the drop by drop gift of the Father's Love accumulates within you, so its power intensifies and awakens and heals. So you must choose. Nonetheless, this healing will take place whether it be soon or at some future date. It must happen and will. It is your choice.

And so, I await your questions beloved souls.

Matthew Responds to Personal Questions re Dilemmas and Soul Development

Retreat participants on 2018-01-28

Q: Is this current sciatic pain I am experiencing related to these vestiges within me?

Matthew: The body, mind, and soul are all connected, influenced one aspect to another, but your actions and the conditions you create in your body through your life experiences also influence. And so there are many aspects and elements that make up any particular condition within the body. Some of your pain is caused by the stress that you carry, beloved daughter, by your thoughts and the tensions within your body. Some of these situations and pains are caused by the structure and aging of your body. There are reasons and outcomes that are dependent of the strength and structure of the flesh, but often these conditions are also exacerbated by the inner conditions of the mind and the soul. So there is no one particular answer but your reality is made up and responsive to all the elements that you are coming together in a conscious way. So you feel pain and that pain is real and that pain is indicating stress within the body. How you feel that pain, how intense it is, comes through your emotional and mental state. What you do to deal with this condition is often influenced by your soulful state. As you see, every soul is a complicated arrangement of many elements interacting and bringing about your reality. And so, one must heal the body with what the body requires, heal the mind by being in harmony, and all is healed by the soul connected to God. This great potential for healing comes with deep prayer and desire and connection with God.

And so there is much to attend to and it is important to seek the wisdom of your soul to inform the actions of your mind which informs the conditions of your fleshy body. And I will stop there with this explanation.

Q: When I am outdoors praying outside, I feel as though my soul is connecting with nature--the trees, the living forest, the animals, the flowers, and plants. I'm wondering if it is possible, to communicate with these beings or organisms? Is this a vehicle for soul development or soul expansion?

Matthew: Your ability to communicate and feel a certain rapport with nature, with God's creation is the result of your soulful sensitivities and gifts. And so you feel an upliftment in this natural condition that is God's creation. You sense the many intricate and beautiful interplays in nature and you receive a blessing with this awakening and sensitivity that comes to you as you immerse yourself in the natural world. It is a healing gift that is given, beloved soul, an upliftment. It is as if God's breath is blowing through your being and bringing a cleansing and peaceful upliftment.

How fortunate you are to live in this beautiful place, rich with nature, rich with this energy that is a gift from God and an expression of His creative blessings upon this world. But rather than this bringing the development of your soul, it is a vehicle to help you to be aware of what is within your soul as it touches these gifts and sensitivities. And you experience a conscious and beautiful rapport with this energy and the other elements that come into play.

The awakening of the soul comes with the blessing of the Father's Love. You have prayed for this, dear daughter, and it comes in abundance. It awakens with a sure and forceful blossoming of your soul. In this, many perceptions and experiences and sensitivities come alive. It is indeed a powerful way to come to know yourself, your soul as you are immersed in this beautiful condition of nature. I would encourage you to continue in your walks and sojourns into God's beautiful forests and places of nature. It is beneficial for everyone to do so and absorb these conditions and allow those conditions that are not of a good and wholesome nature to be released as you walk and enjoy these places, for the Earth will absorb these conditions and bring a healing to you, beloved, and to all.

Yes, this is a gift. And may you continue to be blessed with this great gift, God's Touch upon you in so many ways. Thank you.

Q: What is the possibility of meeting a soul mate while on Earth?

Matthew: It is indeed a great boon to the mortals of Earth who are able to work together with their soul mate in harmony and purposefully. This gift is desired by many, but accomplished by few. For the many avenues that a soul takes upon this world often does not bring a unity and a synchronicity amongst those who are soul mates for their life experiences are so different. And yet the souls are drawn together are they not, drawn in love? If the differences can be overcome, if there is a willingness an openness and an opportunity to be together while on Earth, then this is indeed a great blessing and a powerful union that may bring powerful blessings and gifts.

It takes deep soul wisdom and faculties to understand and realize the presence of a soul mate. This is not someone who is compatible in the physical and mortal way of being in the world. This is something entirely different. Being soul mates, one half of a whole is a sacred and powerful union that may take many struggles and experiences, openings and awakenings to truly be realized. It is often the case that one is quite developed within their soul, awakened and the other is not. These dilemmas, the dilemmas of the material world that make for such complex problems often derail the possibility of soul mates working together in harmony. I am not suggesting that it is impossible or unlikely, but it does require a great deal of effort. And indeed for soul mates upon the Earth to come together requires a deep desire and longing to do so for the conditions of the world will often create difficult problems and challenges. Many fanaticize and desire this great gift and want with a deep need to have this experience in life, but everything comes at a price, my beloved friends, and everything requires great effort and often sacrifices in order to be accomplished.

I say to you, dear daughter, are you willing to put forth the great effort to have this gift come? And when it comes, do you have the faculties and awareness within to know it is true? I am sorry to be somewhat sceptical in this regard, but I must to say to you, dear daughter and to all of you, that these possibilities of coming together as soul mates is often not as one wishes or imagines. What it may bring instead are great challenges and also great possibilities.

So beloved daughter and my beloved friends, there are many blessings in life and whether or not one has the blessing of sharing life with a soul mate there are many other opportunities and avenues for great happiness in life without such a gift. When all is in alignment and all comes in love and there is equality in the relationship, there is no deeper joy to experience such things in life. May you be blessed with this blessing, beloved souls, may you be blessed with many blessings.

God bless you, beloved, God bless you.

Q: I am aware to some degree that one of my gifts is to be a battery. I am wondering about some of the energies that I experience when I take the time to consciously pray to be used as a channel, to send love to different places, or to children. I am wondering how real is that, what benefits are accruing? I wonder if part of it is my imagination as I long to serve and I want to hone this gift more, a gift as a healer. Any light you can shed on this would be appreciated.

Matthew: The journey of soul awakening and service is a long and varied journey in life. You are aware of the two vital parts of your being, the mind and the soul. Both serve their purpose and both serve in different ways in the world. Often one confuses soul perception with mindful interpretation and at times one confuses mindful actions for soulful expressions. Each must grow in discernment and awareness of these parts of yourselves expressed in the world. One is of your own making and the other is of God's work through you. As you come to know your own soul and the workings of your soul, the expressions of your soul and allow this to come through clearly and uninhibited by the mind then these confusions no longer exist.

As for imagination, yes, there are times when the mind's interpretation of the event, of the flow of blessings that come through you may distort and make within you a sense that it is unreal, insubstantial in its nature. Is this the truth, beloved daughter? I think not. I think it is merely your own confusion as to what you perceive. There is reality in the action, in the blessing in what flows but the interpretation of that may be distorted and confusing, causing doubts, causing a sense that you have manufactured something that is not real. With time and practice and the ever-growing elements within your soul coming to a state of awakened expression, these confusions will be cleared away and you will know, surely know what is transgression from the mind and what is from the soul.

There is much to learn for all in this circle and many who seek to serve God. The mind's conscious interpretations and experiences in this regard are often insubstantial in nature and perception but as the soul progresses and becomes stronger much will be expressed in firm and palpable ways in your world. Much already comes through you, beloved daughter, and through you all and you are not aware. Your minds do not accept and because your minds have been known to distort then you are resistant to what is in actuality the expression of your soul. It is a challenge but as you grow, beloved children, as you grow in the Father's Love, awaken and your senses come clear and reality is not questioned but accepted then your doubts will disappear and you will know a deep joy and recognition of how God uses you as His channel of love, an instrument of blessings for many. It will come. All will come in good time as you continue to pray and ask, experience and express the beauty of your soul through prayer, through God. God bless you beloved soul.

Q: My prayer is the yearning of my soul to be at one with God and to serve and be a channel of love in the world. I am wondering if I am just cruising along too easily and my child-like faith and trust that all will happen as it should be is misplaced, maybe I need to be more proactive and force things. What about that?

Such a paradox, dear daughter. We ask you to be innocent as children and yet we wish for you to be strong and self-reliant in some ways and intense in your prayers. Indeed this balance of innocence and focus can be accomplished with practice and effort. Are you not doing enough? No, beloved daughter, none of you are doing enough for there is a great need for you to progress in this great love, this great journey of love, and to awaken the many faculties within you, the many gifts that you have to give to the world. The time grows short and yet you cannot and we cannot force this to be. It is determined by your own free will and desire and effort. And yet when you push and feel an urgency and feel stressed by this urgency, and this only creates barriers to God. Indeed the paradox is with you and with all of you in this regard. And yet you come together in prayer, in conversation, in efforts to enlighten yourselves and to lighten yourself in prayer with God and this is a beautiful expression of your soul's desire. The key is to make all expressions and efforts part of God's desire to be within your life and you within His Life. This communing with every breath and moment, this natural desire of the soul for connection with God that says "I desire that the great forces of Your Soul, the energy and love that you emanate and project upon me may come into me and awaken me." Is this forceful? I think not. It is just an expression of faith and desire, an opening within you to receive and know that this gift and this process of awakening is God-given and part of your nature, the nature of your soul. And coming and making this your reality, your daily existence is what is needed for you and for all. Though the material world that will indeed draw you hither and yon and at times distract and pull you from God, the deep desire of your soul to be with God will persist and will in time be the great motivating force of your life. My beloved daughter, you do not willfully pull yourself away from God. This is not your nature nor your desire but at times this is the case and it is normal in your world to be in that place that is not always with God. I am not saying that it is preferable for it is not and your challenge is to be in alignment, to be in the flow, the blessing of God's presence always. But it is not a struggle in regards to knowing and feeling this great benediction in your life. The struggle comes with the forces of your world beating against the light that you have created with the intent to bring you back into this gray and dark edition of the world. And so it is necessary to be strong and consistent in your prayers, to be conscious in your choices, to be loving at all times, and to add prayer to your daily life whenever and where ever you can and this will neutralize these conditions that pull and push and try to derail your efforts. Each of you has this challenge; every soul in the world has this challenge. But you have the forces of heaven, the blessings of God's Touch to reinforce and to assist you in these efforts. This will always be the case provided you are willing and you follow the laws that are required to be fulfilled in order for this gift and these blessings to come to you. Know that you are never alone, daughter. None of you are alone. God has assigned angels to be with you. God has put His Hand firmly upon you and you will find your way whether you take the winding road or the straight road. You continue to progress forward and you will find your way.

May God bless you all, beloved souls. I am pleased to have come to speak to you and answer your questions as I promised. And I hope that you take into your hearts these responses and pray and meditate about these issues that you have brought forth regarding your life's challenges. I will help you to find clarity if you are confused still and find resolution for this is God's desire for every soul, to find resolution and light and harmony in their lives. This is done with the power of love, the power of God's Touch upon you. And we assist as you continue to move forward and struggle to grow and awaken. We are with you, beloved souls, and I say to you, may God bless you deeply with His Love. May you come to know your true selves, your souls. May you walk in light always and may you find your way to at-onement with God. God bless you, beloveds. I am Matthew and I love you. God bless you.

Question: Does Every Soul Have a Purpose?

God bless you, it is your teacher Augustine. You have asked an important question, beloved daughter, and have done so with clear and beautiful words as is your gift. Yes, every soul has a purpose, something that God has entrusted that soul to accomplish in their earthly existence to bring greater light to this world. Thus, every soul has particular gifts and abilities and potentials that may be expressed in your world. Along with this invitation from God to express His beautiful creation that is a soul in and along a certain path, God also has imbued each soul with free will. So the invitation may be proffered and is within that soul deep and well-embedded. This does not mean that the soul will listen, that the individual may heed this call and walk a particular path that will lead to the expression of this gift and this invitation. So, many do not fulfill their purpose in your world. Yet, every soul is invited to do so by God, given the abilities and gifts to fulfill his purpose. In response to fulfilling what God has asked them to do in the world, there is a great joy and fulfillment within themselves. This gift ignites a true sense of self, a true sense of the possibilities and potential of the soul.

You, beloved souls, are aware of this invitation but you may not be able to articulate it or plot a course in your life that is in accordance with it. Your soul is drawn in a certain direction and expresses certain characteristics and abilities that reflect the fulfillment of your purpose. Since this is a day-by-day journey, it is difficult for you to see this from any distance where the picture may become clear. Merely, you continue upon your path of life and are drawn and choose certain expressions and outcomes and actions that reflect your purpose, which essentially is a reflection of your gifts.

Now God has a plan for the salvation of mankind. He has seeded many souls with this invitation to fulfill their purpose in this regard. Each of you has that knowledge within your soul, that you are to fulfill your part in this grand plan to bring change to this world and greater harmony. In this plan God has released many souls to the world to fulfill and be a part of the unfolding change that is and is coming to this world.

In many ways, your motivations to be in harmony, to clear all obstacles, to be strong in love and pure of heart is because you are aware of that time for the true and pure fulfillment of your destinies. Your purpose is coming. Deep within you is a knowing that you must prepare yourselves and to be strong, to pray fervently for greater measures of the Father's Love in order to ignite all the beautiful gifts within you that are required to fulfill your purpose. This is why you continue to spend much time in prayer, much time thinking of the awakening of your souls, much time coming together, supporting, and hearing out each of your beautiful brothers and sisters who also hear the call from God that this is the moment, this is the time for that purposeful expression imbued within your soul.

We are deeply pleased with your efforts, your decision to follow that clarion call of your souls, of God's blessing and whispered message to you to awaken, to be on the ready for what God asks of you. God continues to open up avenues and experiences within your life that facilitate this awakening, that facilitate a deeper wisdom within you and a deeper awareness so that these truths within you, this deep wisdom, this love, may be expressed no matter what obstacles might be in your way, that you may walk upon your destined path and do so without such hindrances that your purpose may be only partially fulfilled.

Indeed, God's wish for you, as is ours, that your purpose may be fully fulfilled, that there are no missing pieces, no lost opportunities, no parts of you that are left untouched by God's Love, so that when that time comes, in the ripeness and fullness of time for you to step forward in every way to fulfill your purpose, to bring that key component to God's plan into place and expressed beautifully in light, harmony, love, wisdom and deep joy.

Like those beautiful globes with pictures and particles floating about within its liquid, think of yourself as floating in the embryonic fluid of God's embrace as you grow, soon to be lighting upon your designated place within the sea and your soul naturally gravitating to that place when it is ready. The gravity of delight within your soul will draw you to your particular location and expression. In this, all will be perfect, beautiful and powerful, leaving you in a state of wonderment that all the speculations of your mind will melt away, giving way to the reality of your soul expressed perfectly in God's great plan. There is no greater fulfillment to a soul than this, beloveds, this great awakening and knowing of your true selves and what you are meant to do for God while you are on Earth. Such joy you will experience in this awakening and such a powerful expression of love that will come with this awakening.

In time you will see how your place and the expression of your purpose is the perfect outpouring of your soul and gifts in loving dedication to God and in your desire to serve humanity. As you continue to walk your path, to experience your life, to release all that burdens you, you come closer to your purpose and you come closer to God. In this alignment, all will fall into place easily and fluidly as God's plan is realized through you and through many. May you always choose to listen to your soul, my beloved friends, to seek for the highest, to receive the great benediction of God's Love so that this beautiful purpose bestowed upon you from before the time you incarnated will be realized and realized in its fullest potential.

This is not something that your minds can formulate or even articulate. It is something that is so naturally within you that it is hardly noticeable. Yet this is the greatest gift of your soul to fulfill such a purpose, such an expression of love, such an engrained part of your soul, guided by God, awakened by love. You come to know your true selves, beloveds. As you continue to peel the scales from your eyes, to awaken in those deep understandings of the soul, you will sense you are coming closer to your purpose. You will sense an emerging joy and awareness and acknowledgement that you are fulfilling something beautiful and sacred.

Such are God's blessings to each and every soul. Such are the creations of each soul, unique and with purpose that is unique to them. Yes, there are many things to discover about yourself, beloved souls, many things that lie hidden, many things that yearn to be expressed and to be awakened in love. You continue upon that journey of awakening, of truly knowing, and we escort you upon this journey, insuring that nothing will pull you away from it to any great degree.

God has provided every way and means for you to fulfill your purpose, beloved souls. This gift will be realized in each of you. You will not pass into spirit with a sense that something that you were meant to do was not accomplished. You will have a deep sense of satisfaction, of joy with the realization that you have fulfilled a deep mission for God and have done so in love, have embraced it with enthusiasm, and have expressed it with the perfection of your soul and its gifts in this world.

Your souls yearn for this, beloveds. It is part of your motivation and prayer and desire to grow and be in alignment, awakened and released from all conditions that are not of love. So you will indeed come to that place and step through the threshold in service and dedication and love to God and to your brothers and sisters in need of healing and love, comfort and truth.

Do you not realize that our dedications to you and service in nurturing the awakening of your soul is part of God's plan? Our efforts with you are part of our purpose, the purpose of our souls. This cascading expression of love that touches and nurtures every part of creation, every aspect of the evolving world, the world that is material and the world that is of spirit is a great dance of the expressions of many souls engaged in fulfilling a beloved purpose that God has given them. Do you not see this beautiful and complex ballet of love touching many, many souls in light, stimulating the movement towards harmony in the universe?

Yes, there is movement in the universe, movement towards harmony and light, always. Though it is not a particular location, it is an expressed purpose of the universe to reach harmony. You are all part of this wondrous plan, elements in motion, souls awakening in light, reaching, reaching for God in order to know one's purpose.

The fulfillment of God's plan has many aspects and elements, motion and energy, love that ignites transformation and expression and awakening. You are all swirling in this great motion, this Divine Energy that is leading to one thing, the harmonious and beautiful expression of God's creation in every way.

You barely awaken to this reality, this truth. But with what you have seen and what you feel and what you know, does this not spur you on for greater and higher and more beautiful experiences of expressions and awakenings within, seeking the fuel that ignites the soul, God's Love transforming and awakening, God's grace informing your direction drawing you closer to your purpose, drawing you closer to God's purpose for you so that your soul may know a deep and fulfilling joy?

God brings you together, beautiful souls on this journey. Like attracts like, soul attracts soul, love attracts love. In many ways, God gifts you with many things and you are a gift to one another. You are blessed deeply, beloved souls, and coming ever closer to your purpose. Everything in your life, every experience, every thought, every interaction, every element is seeking harmony and unification and love. Allow this to be. Accept all in love. Accept yourself in love. Accept all that is given in your life as a blessing by God who loves you. Seek harmony always. Grow in love and grow in purpose.

May God bless you, beloved souls. I am your teacher, Augustine. My love is always with you. You know I am the one who continually looks upon you, my charges, my beautiful, beautiful charges. You seek for truth. I am there and shall always be so. God bless you.

Mary Magdalene is Not Jesus' Soulmate

Mary Magdalene on 2019-01-29

God bless you, I am Mary Magdalene. I have come to confirm the message that has been received recently regarding my relationship with the Master. My love for him is great, my respect and acknowledgement of his beautiful soul, this beautiful man who brought the truth of God's Love to mankind. I was close to Jesus during his time and ministry upon the world. He changed my life by his message and by directing my gaze toward God. For this, I am ever grateful for his efforts and his blessings of attentions upon me to teach me this truth. But I was never his soulmate, merely a follower, one who indeed who was close at times, one who ministered to his needs as he journeyed upon the Earth. In my own way, I gave to this beautiful man whose soul was bright and luminous in love and truth, but I was never his wife nor his lover nor anything but one who loved in innocence and gratitude, he who taught truth and brought salvation to mankind in his message of love.

May God bless you, beloved souls. I hope that I have come to dispel some myths and untruths of my character and role with the beloved Master. I continue to follow his teachings and am an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom. My soul is bright with the Father's Love and I have great joy and fulfillment in this. In each one of you I see that you are bright in love and will someday join us in this exalted heaven. May God bless you upon that journey and bring your many gifts and blessings of the soul. I thank you for listening and may God bless you, my friends, beautiful souls all. I am Mary Magdalene and my love is with you all. God bless you.

Question: How Can We Discern Truth When Messages Contradict Each Other?

Jesus on 2019-01-30

God bless you, it is Jesus. You ask an important question, my beloved beautiful friends, regarding the efficacy and accuracy of a message received through a medium. As you can well imagine, there are many elements and aspects involved in this gift. Most importantly, the harmonization of the mind and the soul, the harmonization of the soul with God, and the awakening of that soul with the blessings of Divine Love have a great bearing upon the quality of a celestial message that may come through a medium. The mind plays a great part in what may come through in words and sentences and themes and content of a particular message.

Since the work of our beloved James Padgett, there has always been a desire with those mediums who aspire to speak as James did as a channel for the celestial angels, to bring forth my words and teachings to the world. This is a noble aspiration. This is a true desire to seek for the highest. But often this desire and expectation of the mind cannot be met by the progression of the soul in regards to drawing my person into close rapport with the medium in question. The mind may inform to a great degree what is written or spoken upon the communications from us. When this expectation is excessive and imposes a rule or a stricture as to who may speak and what they may say, there comes the intrusion of the thoughts of the medium which may indeed distort the message.

In some cases, because of the will of the medium and a deep desire for a certain type of message with particular contents, they do not draw the celestial spirits to them. They draw those who are indeed from higher realms of the spirit world and who are all too eager to communicate with mortals. Because these higher spirits of light feel to the medium to be celestial in nature, there is an acceptance and a release of control to the spirit so that they may speak.

No medium is 100% accurate in what may be brought through. There are markers within the message which may indicate that a celestial speaks. The medium will experience through the rapport of that spirit or angel the conditions that indicate that this is a valid communication. As with my presence with a medium, there is a true sense that is conveyed that is unmistakable. There is no ambivalence as to who is present with the power of my love and blessings upon that individual which is always conveyed in these communications as potent and brings a great blessing to that individual.

The use of mediums for communications between we in spirit and you in the flesh is subject to many laws and variables and the greatest variable is that of the desire and condition of the medium that is being used. As I've said in the past and will say again, always test the truth that comes. If you are not satisfied within your hearts or through some demonstration of this truth in your experience, then do not give credence to what is spoken, with the understanding that there are always some distortions within the message. But are these distortions crucial or are they minor in your understanding of what has been conveyed? If there is doubt, release your hold upon this information and ask for guidance and confirmation of its veracity.

Mortals are prone to not take responsibility for their acceptance and absorption of the truth. They prefer to put the onus upon the messenger rather than the capacity of the soul through the spirit of truth that is within each soul to comprehend and accept what has been conveyed.

As for those mediums who desire to be used in this way, I say may God bless them deeply, for these efforts are not easily attained. It is always a struggle upon your earthly plane to keep this form of communication clear and without intrusion from the mindful conditions of your world. My love goes to all those who make efforts in this way for you know and we know that to have this form of communication is a great boon to the journey of the soul to awaken in Divine Love. Your love must go to those who seek to bring truth, who struggle to reach for the highest, who desire to be an instrument and channels for truth.

There are many potential mediums in the world. Some are highly gifted indeed but have chosen to use this gift with the great development of the mind but lacking within the soul. In your world, the vast majority of the information that is transmitted through mediums is not of the quality and consistency of the truth of God's Love. So one must take this into account when one reads or hears of a message conveyed by a medium whose soul is in a degree of light but not imbued with the great power of Divine Love for it is that power, that blessing within the soul of the instrument that has an influence and informs to some degree the quality of the communication.

I will say that this instrument has a higher soul development than James Padgett had for he began his journey late in life and had a degree of the Divine Love within his soul, but we spent many, many hours with him in prayer and upliftment so that we may have the opportunity to speak and bring through messages of truth. This took several years to be accomplished and yet he was the first who brought forth truth in a clear and concise manner. Yes, some of these messages were not of a high caliber and had distortions of truth. This is to be expected, beloveds.

No medium is perfect but every medium who desires to be used in this way for the highest of purpose, for the highest of truth, is to be nurtured in love. We from the Celestial realms take great care in choosing those we will speak through, educating and bringing the soul condition of that individual as high as in possible in your plane. This channel was invited by us to be used in this way once he had attained a certain level of soul progression. This is the way we prefer to designate channels and mediums for this purpose. For when a medium puts forth an intention and desire, a mental ambition, to be a medium for us, they cannot circumvented the tests and trials, the experiences and prayers and efforts that are required to bring a medium to a place of clarity and effectiveness.

Yes, I chose James Padgett to do this work that has brought a measure of understanding and clarity regarding the truth of the bestowal of God's Love. I endorse this medium through which I speak for it is our desire to continue to bring truth of the laws pertaining to this gift and truth, the higher laws of the Love of God. You have witnessed this effort to bring these truths forward and we continue upon this path together. It requires not only the instrument to be in a condition of love and light, but you as well, my friends, to be of the highest condition you can be when you come together in such circles. Yes, when you are successful and for a circle that is of light enhanced by the blessings that God has given you with portals and energetic signals within this room, within any room or area that you may practice this, then there can be a great success and at times surprising information given.

You all journey along life's path of discovery, of growing within your soul, of deep commitment to your relationship with your Heavenly Father and the deep desire to serve humanity in love. In this you create through your intentions, the atmosphere, the environment of light and love, drawing the angels close. You have done this many times in the past and will do so many times in the future for there is no end to the truth, the information that might be transferred through a medium to you all. Our intention is to utilize whatever conduits are available to us to bring greater truth to humanity.

This is God's Will. This is our joyful effort and desire, to uplift your world and so we all work together, beloved souls, in this effort. My love and appreciation for you all is great for there are few willing to take these steps, to desire for the highest, to bring the great blessing of the Father's Love into your soul through prayer and supplication and yearning of the soul. This is the key to all that comes as a blessing from God and the workings that we share together for the upliftment of mankind.

You are deeply blessed, my beloved brothers and sisters. You are deeply blessed indeed, for we consider those of you who seek for the highest as precious souls in your world. We surround you constantly. We seek to uplift and influence and assist you upon this journey. You respond to these ministrations to God's blessings. You yearn for truth. You seek it in your prayers. You seek it in your thoughts. You seek it in expressions of your life. This is all that we may ask of you, beloved souls, and to consider that truth grows as your souls grows in love, that you walk in light, that you shed all that is of darkness. As you awaken in this beautiful blessing of love, so truth will grow within you. Your gifts will blossom and bring forth much fruit that may be used to nourish your brothers and sisters upon their journey of love.

So I say to you, beloved souls, when you doubt something that has been spoken to you and you yearn to know its truth or error, bring it to God. Ask for confirmation, for a sign, for the signal from that place in your soul that knows truth. When you have confirmed and have conferred truth within your mind, let it sink to your soul. Embrace this truth and live by this truth. Do not allow another to convince you otherwise. It is your journey to know truth, to truly know, to embrace, and to allow truth to be in every part of you. In your actions and thoughts, in your soul, in all of you, may truth reside and be an expression of who you are, your beautiful being that God has created and has a deep desire that you know of His Presence, His Being, and His creation. This gift is given in love. The gift of our presence is given in love. The gift of His Love is the greatest and Holiest Touch upon your soul. God in His Mercy and Love, His power and glory, His beauty, His Being has much to convey to every soul in creation.

You, beloved souls, have started a journey that will last for all eternity so truth will come, golden drops, freeing you from error, bringing you to a place of strength and clarity, of a knowing that is deep and abides within your soul. Thus God in His Love desires to bring all humanity to that place of purity, light and truth where love reigns supreme and harmony in your life, your being.

Go to God, beloveds, for your truth. Words are but words but what they convey may inspire an awakening within your soul of truth which will bring joy and freedom and upliftment.

May God bless you on that journey. I am your brother and friend. I am Jesus and I love you. I love you, beloveds. You are close to my bosom. I embrace you all. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls.

Thank You for Your Efforts in Prayer

Matthew on 2019-01-30

I've come to thank you for your efforts in prayer, for all those who participated in this time together to receive messages of healing and love and truth. There will always be more to speak of, to teach about, to give in the way of answering the questions of the mind, but remember, beloved souls, the answers lie within you. The answers are there as you continue to awaken your souls and come to that place of conscious awakening, then truly many truths will be available to you as you go to God, as you come to your own soul to commune with God.

Within this gift of love comes truth. Within your souls there is a great repository of truth that given time and the continued alignment of your soul and your mind, these things will come to the fore of your consciousness and you will know the answers to all the questions. You already know the answers to many and if you have forgotten, there are many transcripts to be read and messages of the past to be shared, so that you may refresh your memories and refresh your souls with the upliftment of love and truth, both within your minds and your souls.

We will call upon you at other times to share in these prayers, in this pursuit of truth. As you continue to progress in God's Love, so the questions will change, the perceptions will deepen, the love will grow and glow within you. In this way, more may come, greater truths, higher truths. When you are ready these things will come. We will gather together again and speak and share, reaching for the highest, seeking the benefits of the soul awakened and sharing the great cornucopia of truth that God has for humanity.

So much awaits you, beloved souls. The pursuit of truth never ends as does the great awakening of your soul as it is redeemed in love and transformed. I wish to thank you all for your efforts, your time, for making this time to be together, sharing in prayer and love, supporting one another as the grace of God continues to flow and bring you close.

So I say, God bless you, beloved souls, and keep you in His Love and enliven your souls in love, uplifting, embracing, healing and teaching. God bless you. This is Matthew and I continue to be close. The angels are with you and will carry you forward upon your journeys. Those who are here in the flesh, those who are connected to this Circle of Light, those who are eager and have a deep desire for truth will be touched by God and come close. You all will come close, in circles upon circles of light, truth and love. God bless you. God bless you, beloved souls. My love is with you always. God bless you.

Two Topics: Mediumship Addendum and Jesus Assigns Spirit Guides

Seretta Kem on 2019-01-30

This is Seretta Kem and I wish to add to the beloved Master's talk on mediumship.

There are those in the world who believe that Jesus will come and speak through them at their beck and call and that they insist that the Master is the only one whom they indicate must speak. They do not realize that he is at God's beck and call and moves in that flow of God's Will and does not answer to any mortal or spirit but answers to God, as do all of us within the Celestial Kingdom.

Although you speculate upon the structures and how such things may be accomplished in our realms, it would be very difficult for you to understand how these things may be and are coordinated with such harmony and beauty as we work together. Suffice to say when your soul's faculties are developed so keenly, then you will understand how this collaboration and communication amongst us is possible. But the mind that you know, the material mind, does not exist in our realm, within our beings. It has been completely absorbed and transformed by the power of God's Love so that we possess a mind, but the mind of the soul not the mind of the body and of the spirit but of the soul.

An individual who claims to be a channel, a conduit for Jesus to speak, and that all communications are through him are not truthful in this understanding. Yes, their desire to be that individual whose life is part of Jesus's dedication and communion are mistaken for Jesus does not guide any individual at this moment. Merely Jesus comes to many individuals in response to prayer and supplication, in response to God's Will guiding him through the universe in this great work of uplifting humanity and bringing greater light and harmony to all of God's creation. No one individual can claim this deep connection for this role as guide is given to many of us in the Celestial Kingdom, a role which we share and willingly give of ourselves for your benefits.

I want you to know in the case of an angel being assigned as a guide to a mortal, that Jesus assigns these guides in his wisdom. It is a great blessing to have this assignment and that we find great joy in our work with you, with all mortals who wish to walk the path of love, to seek the highest blessings, to work together in the flow of God's Will for the benefit of humanity.

In accordance with your gifts, in accordance to God's plan, in accordance to what is possible within the Laws of Creation and the Laws of Love, then your efforts, your work on Earth is assigned and nurtured and awakened. You ask whether your commitment in this regard was made before you came to Earth as a soul willing to serve God and to awaken their potentials as a servant to humanity in love. I say, in many cases, this is true and that your soul knows. You have a feeling within you that confers this knowledge, so you must go deep, beloved souls, and seek to know your purpose. What God has conferred upon you, what may unfold in your life and grow within your spiritual awareness, these things are between you and God. When you come to a realization of something that you must do in order to fulfill this purpose, then I would suggest that you follow this truth within you and seek to fulfill what you are meant to do in this world as God's servants, as His blessed children.

You have noticed with this instrument and others that you have encountered in your life that Jesus does not come with every prayer, does not speak with every session that you receive a message. This is one indication that that instrument is fulfilling their role for the highest, that it is impossible for Jesus to speak at every gathering and time of prayer. When our beloved Master comes and confers some message and blessing upon you, you feel and know that it is something deep and beautiful that has been given. There is no need to desire that Jesus come always to speak. There is no need to put within your mind a certain expectation as to who will speak and what will come. It is best that you humbly ask to be used as an instrument, keeping your thoughts and inclinations out of this picture, allowing something higher so that of the soul may be awakened and be open as a conduit for truth. In this way, this humble way, you will always be assured that an angel will be with you and often speak to you. This we desire to do and this gift is available to you given your efforts and desire to receive the blessing of the Father's Love.

So much is given to you, beloved souls. Truth comes. It is graduated and refined and comes again so that absolute truth, which is a goal and obtainable in your world, may come in time. We feed you what we can when you are ready and open and available to this blessing of truth. It is conferred to your soul and your minds will acquiesce to this and become acclimatized to this way of knowing truth. You already know this and feel the difference between the truth that comes to the mind and the truth that is within the soul.

Your goal and desire deep within is to accentuate the power and beauty of the truth within your soul and to allow the mind its measure of understanding. In time, all will merge together with the transformation of the Father's Love. Your journey of truth begins simply and humbly and moves outward in expansive and joyful awareness and knowing of the power of God's creation, the power of truth that is a gift to every soul who yearns for this and follows his journey of soul awakening.

God bless you, beloveds. God bless you.

Question: How Can a Person Receive Divine Love Without Knowing About It?

God bless you, it is your teacher Augustine. A question has been asked as to why and how a soul may receive the Divine Love without the conscious understanding of its mechanisms and protocols to receive this gift. As you know, there are two major components to the motivations and expressions of the individual, one of the mind and one is of the soul. It does not require that the mind has the specific understanding of these mechanisms and laws pertaining to receiving of the Divine Love though it is helpful and does lead more quickly to the receptivity of receiving the Divine Love.

The soul on its own accord can long for God and receive this gift as long as the mind does not obstruct this intention expressed by the soul. There are many in your world that have deep religious beliefs and spiritual aspirations, beliefs that do not concur with the teachings that have been brought forward to you, yet, the opportunity to receive God's Love is not restricted by this. Though these yearnings of the soul from the individual may be interpreted by the mind in a different way, as long as the longing from the soul and the aspirations of the soul are released to God without being inhibited by the mind, this gift will be bestowed in that individual's soul.

The mind may indeed restrict and inhibit and constrict the inflowing of the Divine Love. It does not mean that some of this gift cannot penetrate the soul or is allowed to penetrate the soul. There are many, many souls in your world who have experienced the gift of Divine Love, often not to a great degree, but it does have its place within those souls deposited by their soulful yearnings to God and is having its effect within that soul.

It is when a certain accumulation of light and love is present within the soul that a deeper understanding comes to the mind and the mind resolves to receive more of this gift. So, many in your world who have indeed experienced the inflow of God's Love have not the impetus or the ambition to seek this gift to any great degree. Many come to this understanding when they find themselves in the world of spirit and are more thoroughly educated as to how to receive this gift. So, for many the journey begins on the Earth plane in a very subtle way but may indeed find more powerful openings towards this journey when they reach the world of spirit. You see, the seed has been planted, the experience lingers within the soul and therefore a door may be opened in the future.

For you beloved souls, as you continue to teach the way of receiving the Divine Love, I urge you to reach out to many who have a sense of the existence of this gift within them and a have a sense of God's Love for them. Because they may have different beliefs, you must be sensitive and accepting of their stance by embracing others in love by accepting their individual journeys towards God. Continue to reinforce and ignite this desire for greater truth in the individual by your example, by your light.

God will use you, my beloved friends, in many ways. God will open many doors so that you may indeed express the truth of God's Love by your presence, by your love for them, and possibly by your testimony of love shared with them. Yes, many opportunities exist. Many are receptive to this truth though they may have mental barriers and misunderstandings in the way of this, the soul still yearns for God and the soul at some point will reach its mark and forge that connection that will allow the inflowing of love into their soul and bring the transformation that the soul longs for in this at-onement with God.

May God bless you, beloved souls. Continue to awaken your soul, infuse your soul with His Love, making you a powerful beacon of truth. Your teacher Augustine continues to assist you on that journey. May God bless you, beloved souls.

Question: Reincarnation and Perception of It Supported by Yogis and Gurus Of the East?

God bless you beloved souls. I am Yogananda. The question was asked regarding how does one know about past lives and confer this knowledge in their present life? As you well know, there is no such mechanism as reincarnation. So why do many individuals believe and have had some experience to make them believe that reincarnation exists?

I too believed in this experience of multiple lives and this was taught to me at a young age as part of my culture. Of course, the mind is predisposed to believe that this is a reality and seeks to have confirmation of this experience through their spiritual lives and pursuits. Every soul, every individual upon your world is influenced by spirit. Many different kinds, levels of spiritual attainment and persuasions come to influence mortals as a result of the Law of Attraction. There are many spirits who endeavour to influence mortals in the truths that they know, the understandings and beliefs of their experience and life. For those who are spiritually attuned to meditate and awaken various gifts within them, they may feel a very deep rapport with these spirits who come close, to such a degree that they feel that they are those individuals, that this duality comes into play, a sense that they are both. Thus, with the belief in reincarnation, they come to believe that this is proof of such and desire to know more, to awaken greater understanding of this experience and a greater reinforcement of this belief.

You must understand, my friends, that the veil between the flesh and the spirit is not so great, that each mortal is influenced over and over again by outside spirits and thoughts that are in the atmosphere in which you live. This layer of existence and influence is rife with many aspects of spiritual understanding. Because the mind is powerful in its ability to attract and be influenced by these conditions that lie outside of the mind, there are many ideas and concepts, visions, formulations and understandings that penetrate the mind and influence and awaken various ideas and beliefs. The more sensitive is the individual who is receptive and yearning for greater knowledge and truth, the more they are blessed with these influences. Some are of a high calibre and bring higher truths and some are not, depending upon the control and the desires of the individual in their spiritual life.

So in my tradition of India, there are many yogis and teachers and others who are highly sensitive to these influences. The beliefs are reinforced because they draw to them those spirits with the same beliefs. Indeed they feel as if they have been a part of that personality that comes. With their beliefs of reincarnation, there is no other logical explanation than this, therefore, these beliefs are perpetuated by the minds of those who live on earth and who experience these close connections of various spirit influences. Indeed, these spirits may come so close that the mortal believes they are one and the same as that individual.

It is the soul that knows truth, my friends. I have discovered this since I've come to accept the truth of the Divine Love transforming my soul. The soul who knows truth, who is awakened in this way, is more cognizant of the mechanisms and dynamics of influence related to communication and rapport with spirits. It no longer is a mystery or shrouded in mental beliefs and understandings of these workings in the world. Until these spirits, who are well meaning and have in their way a firm understanding of certain dynamics which unfortunately are in error, until they come to a place of deeper soul awakening, these ideas will continue to be perpetuated. There are many spirits who are waiting their time to reincarnate into the material world believing that their growth depends upon this experience, that there are no other opportunities to truly spiritually grow and expand in light than to come back to earth to test their ability to withstand and to come to truth in a world that is challenging.

Yet, in the world of spirit, these challenges and opportunities for growth are great indeed. I would say far greater than that which is ours, for the earth plane is a low vibrational existence and it is difficult to be in a state of light and high vibration. It is much easier in spirit once one understands the laws and dynamics in regards to spiritual growth. The progression of that spirit in the world of spirit through the planes of spirit can be swift indeed once there is a desire and the knowledge to do so.

My friends, in your world, there are many misconceptions and beliefs regarding spiritual progression. When the angels say that you must seek for the highest, they truly are perceiving the truth in regards to your journey because the awakening of your soul is the highest pursuit, where many believe that is the perfection of the mind, the body and the spirit, that these are the areas in which one must focus and yearn to be in that exalted state, perfect in every way. Yet the soul remains unrecognized and barely understood. You have taken the other route, the other choice to spiritual attainment. This, I can tell you my friends, is an easier road in many respects. For the energy it takes to be spiritually uplifted in the natural love and the natural way of the mortal, for the spirit, it is an arduous path indeed, taking much time and focus and effort.

I can attest to the fact that though I was gifted in many ways, it took many trials and tribulation, tests and efforts to come to a state of spiritual awakening. Yet, I knew there was something more to attain. I was gifted with the knowledge of the Divine Love when coming to this world of spirit. I met with the Master Jesus and we spoke. He clarified many questions that I had and directed me towards the light of my own soul and helped me to understand how my soul may attain more light and expand in love.

It was my teaching and pursuit of the power of love, the power of God that drew me to our beloved Master who exemplifies such teachings. The Master calmed my mind, helped me to release those things that were not of truth and set me on the path towards at-onement with God to receiving His Love. No greater joy that I have than this knowledge and awakening, releasing my expectation of perfection, and gaining the joy that comes with my relationship with God, the Creator. All fell into place and seemed easy and beautiful and rich and fulfilling.

I continued upon this journey until I too entered through the threshold of the Celestial Heavens, thinking I had reached the end but then coming to the realization that this progression continues on for all eternity. What wonderment has God created in this ever-increasing joy, this expansion of awareness and love and truth. How God must love us all, giving us this gift, this gift that brings all gifts, this blessing that opens the door to all blessings. I am truly grateful, my friends, to have come to this truth and to have released those things that are not of truth. My illusions have been banished and in their place comes truth and the power of love that brings such capacity to know truth. How gifted are we all to know this truth, to come in joyous gratitude to God, opening to receive His Touch and blessings in us.

May God bless us all, my friends, and may you come to know the never-ending journey to at-onement with God and along that journey may you experience all there is to experience, know all there is to know, feel all the depth of joy and awakening that comes as God blesses you deeply within your soul. God bless you. I am Yogananda. God bless you indeed and thank you.

Question: What are the Faculties of the Soul?

Josephus on 2019-02-01

God bless you and may His Love find a great inflowing into your soul. My name is Josephus, I have not spoken through this instrument before but I have been asked to speak about the faculties of the soul. I was a philosopher and teacher of the Jewish faith and helped to formulate the scriptures of this religion. Now I reside within the Celestial Kingdom. I have followed the teachings of the Messiah of Israel, our beloved Jesus.

I have studied in detail the composition of the soul and what makes up the faculties of the soul. I hope that I may convey this information accurately through this instrument for it is a difficult subject. To truly understand the faculties of the soul, one must experience them in action, awakened within the soul and expressed consciously within one's life. This is the true avenue of understanding so that even the mind may comprehend their functionings.

When God created humanity, they were created with a dual consciousness. One was that of the animal, that of the flesh and beast that utilizes the many aspects of the material mind in order to survive and live on the material world. The faculties of the material mind are well understood in your day and there is no need to go into these details. Suffice to say that the mind may and will function without any great development of the soul, but indeed only half of the creature that is mankind is alive and functioning without the awakened soul.

We encourage and cajole you all upon the earth plane and in those spheres of spirit to develop through this great gift and boon of the Divine Love your souls that have within in them many hidden treasures and capacities not found within the mind, the material mind. You ask, what are these faculties? What am I striving towards to develop, to awaken through my prayers and efforts to be in a place of light and harmony and alignment with God?

I cannot tell you of all your faculties my friends. It would take too much effort to bring such things forward in your world nor is it necessary to know, but I will expound upon a few, which I hope will be comprehensible to your minds. Since those who are listening to this message have a certain measure of soul development, I am sure that you will come to understand of that to which I speak of.

The greatest faculty of the soul is the emerging awareness of God since God is of soul composition and is the great over-soul, having the senses of the soul that may know God and understand and comprehend His being. Then the great question is answered, is it not? For who and what is God? God is a being. God exists in a place. God has many attributes. God's expressions are present throughout every part and area of the universe. God is more than what I speak because unless you are able to experience God purely through the soul you will not know this truth in all its fullness and intricacies.

Those of us within the Celestial Kingdom continue to develop our faculties in order to know God more clearly and to communicate with the Source of all. For us to convey what it is that we comprehend, our experience with God, would be like one of your brilliant mathematicians trying to teach formulas to a child. So we must make this simple and comprehensible so that you, at the level of your present soul development, may comprehend what we say.

Your capacity to see and feel and sense the presence of spirits, to see beyond the veil of the material world, is partly a function of areas of your material mind but these are greatly enhanced by the faculties of your soul. Without these faculties enlivened, your ability to know us from the Celestial spheres is greatly limited. So understanding and communicating with the higher spirits and angels in the universe of spirit is made possible because of soul awakening. This is another indicator of the development of your soul, a clear and unambiguous sense and communication with we in the Celestial realms.

The capacity to know truth is another faculty of the soul. Truth in a pure form can only be understood by the soul for truth in a pure form is not formulated by language, words or mental concepts. Truth in a pure form is known by the soul and truth can be conveyed by God directly to the soul and through the inflow of the Divine Love comes an element, an aspect of this gift which is truth. When you come to a realization, a knowing, something that you are very sure about from deep within you, you have garnered some truth within your soul and your soul then communicates this to your mind in some way. Often that way is feeling, possibly visions, some sense of something that you know is true through some experience that you may have in life.

The gift of the Spirit of Truth is what conveys truth to the soul and is able to deposit truth within the soul through your prayers for the highest and for the gift of Divine Love. So the Divine Love, the Holy Spirit, which conveys the Divine Love, brings with it the capacity to open chambers within your soul that it may receive truth. If this may sound rather complicated, it is not really. Think of the gift of Divine Love as a ray of light that has many hues and colours within in it, a rainbow that touches your soul. Within that beautiful light, composed of many colours, there are many gifts that are conveyed with that one gift of Divine Love. As God gives to you a portion of His Essence, that enters the soul and finds lodgement within the soul, in various chambers of your soul. Each chamber has a purpose, a gift, a capacity of function that awakens with the gift of this colourful light that is absorbed, this Love that is the signature of God's Touch upon your soul.

So within these chambers of the soul, reside many faculties. Within these faculties come the capacity and gifts of each individual soul that may be expressed once these chambers are awakened and there is an exercise of expression of these chambers. So a new reality opens to the emerging soul, the reality of God's Creation, of God's Presence, of that which God has made within the parameters of His laws. So the ability to understand God's laws, to truly live in harmony with God's laws and the laws of Divine Love come as the soul awakens and the chambers are enlivened and true understanding beats within the heart of each soul.

In this way, there is a capacity to know truth, to know what is right and in harmony with God and what is not. To have these faculties awakened, which is the core of truth within you, is a great gift and is an important gift upon your journey, especially here in this world that is full of error and misdirection. So you must trust in this faculty of truth, this knowing that grows, this truth and knowledge that grows within your soul and emerges subtly but resolutely within your mind. Trust in this, my friends, for this one faculty, this one ability brings to you a power and strength that will assist you in your work as a channel of God's Love.

To be a channel of God's Love, one must ignite the faculties of the soul so that opening that flow may be possible. For God cannot convey His Love through you without your soul partially awakened in love. There must be that avenue which has been created within your soul and every soul, to be a channel of love in the world. But it must be awakened, this faculty must be present and awakened and in alignment with God.

It is often surprising to those who begin this journey when they feel and express within their feelings, a great flow of love for another, a sort of love, a quality of love that is different, that has the feeling of the divine, this quality of love that may flow through you, awakened by the faculties of your soul.

With the awakening of your faculties comes a true knowing of direction. You are able to know the Will of God. God will utilize this gift which is somewhat like an antenna within you that receives God's Will and communication to you. This does not come in words, it is not like an angel that speaks to you, it is a sense, a knowing, and it comes with that awareness that all is in harmony and right within this knowing, this awareness of what you must do in the world. Thus your purpose comes alive because your capacities to know your own selves, your own direction, your own gifts is awakened with the Divine Love. As all these capacities, all of these faculties are awakened and come together to formulate a different perception of reality, the truth, the vision, the knowings, the experience, the feelings, the expressions are all informed by the faculties of your soul.

There are many more that I could expound upon but I have shared with you some very basic but important elements that may be considered as faculties within your soul. Each of you are experiencing these aspects of your soul to some degree and you will come to know them well and utilize them in your work. Trust in these intuitive expressions that come from deep within you. Though your minds may distort or misinterpret when it comes, with each acceptance and embracing of truth that comes from your soul you will grow a little more and the transformation of your soul comes a little closer to realization.

When you come upon an insight, a vision, some guidance, some understanding, some experience and it is new to you and possibly confusing, go to God with your question. Ask for confirmation, ask to understand how and why these things may be in your consciousness. You will find that God will answer you and show you that beautiful chamber, that beautiful aspect of your soul that emerges. Like any new thing that is somewhat weak and a little feeble but with your focus and prayers, it will get stronger.

You will, in time, have a deep clarity which will engender a deep strength and knowing within you that will inform your life and take you upon the journey that God intends for you. So you must rely upon the faculties of your souls and your interpretation of these faculties will be unique. You cannot compare your journey with another's. It is your journey, how God has made you which is unique, and how these gifts and faculties come together in beautiful and wondrous ways so that the jewel within you, your soul, may sparkle and shine in its unique beauty and colour and facets so that you may enjoy the beautiful creation that it is you and enjoy the beautiful creation which is your brother or sister and see with the eyes of your soul, this faculty of perception, the uniqueness that God has created and sees such with great gratitude and appreciation as one gazes upon a flower or some other beautiful aspect of God's world.

Know that you barely understand your own self, that there is so much more to know. There is so much more to be awakened and that as this awakening comes and the power of the mind and of your soul, which is created and enlivened as your faculties awaken. And the Divine Love brings power to all of these aspects of you and there is a deep joy that emerges from this awakened part that yearns for God.

I wish to add that all the memories of your life are stored within the faculty of your soul. You carry this with you when you go into spirit. This memory of your life may be used to help you to journey further for there is wisdom stored within it, a powerful repository of experience that is a gift and at times a great burden. As the Divine Love cleanses your soul, the encrustations that are not in harmony with love, so that which is not useful falls away with this cleansing process. The important parts of the stored memories and wisdom within you may be utilized and enhanced through the soul's faculties to bring greater wisdom to your consciousness, adding to the mind of the soul in many different ways.

The gift of healing comes from the faculty of the soul. It is a way of attuning oneself to the higher energies and forces within the universe, within God's Creation and emanations that bring healing and harmony to the world.

Often the creative expressions of each individual, their gifts in music, in arts, in all things creative originate from the faculty of the soul.

Original thought often comes from the soul and one's capacity to love is surely part of the soul's abilities whether awakened by Divine Love or not.

So there are layers within the soul of capacities, of faculties, some of which do not require the awakening of the Divine Love but are naturally a part of the individual but are enhanced by the gift of Divine Love. These higher human impulses that are not of the animalistic nature come from the soul. They are that innate part of your being that is deep within you and those impulses that are of a higher inclination originate from soul, not the mind. The mind will interpret, the mind will add certain colourations and feelings to this, but they are not originally from the mind. All higher feelings, emotions are of the soul.

That moral compass within you is of the soul and is another faculty. These elements are basic attributes that are expressed to one degree or another within every human being. These elements when ignited with Divine Love become refined and transformed as is everything within the soul transformed by the love.

I think I've covered many aspects of the faculties of the soul this day. I may return some other day to expound further upon this, but I am well satisfied with what I've shared today as I hope you are, beloved souls. This may add some clarity and inspiration to each one's journey of knowing the soul. It is my sincere wish that you continue in your efforts to receive this glorious gift of Divine Love, to awaken your faculties and transform them in love. For this is the highest road that can be travelled resulting in the highest expressions of your faculties, awakened in love, awakened by this awesome and wondrous touch of the Essence of God.

I thank you, my beloved friends, for listening. I'm glad to have come to speak to you for there are not enough opportunities for we in the Celestial Kingdom to speak to you on Earth of these matters and this is a great gift and I thank you for this. May God's Love continue to uplift you, my friends, protect you, inform you and change so that you may truly know yourselves as God's children. God bless you. God bless you. I am Josephus.

Come Together Again With Your Questions

Confucius on 2019-02-01

Beloved souls, this is Confucius. We are very happy that you have spent this time together in prayer, to listen to our words, to contemplate these truths, to understand in deeper ways the progression of the soul through the Father's Love. We are happy that you have dedicated some time to be together in this prayerful way. For as this instrument has commented, there is a harmony amongst you, a blessing that comes with your presence together. I would urge you, beloved brothers and sisters, to be together again in some time coming in this year so that you may sit as you have and listen and formulate your questions, formulate your desire for more truth, given in prayer and quiet contemplation together.

There is always more to learn, beloved souls, always more love to receive, always more awakenings to be experienced as you come close to God and receive this gift of love. We will continue to guide you, beloved souls, prepare you for times when you may indeed be in this harmonious grouping of souls.

My dear daughter, more souls are coming into your circle. This light that you continue to build within your soul will draw these beautiful individuals who desire to learn and grow. You are continuing to learn and grow in your soul. This makes for a powerful teacher, does it not, having this knowledge and awareness, speaking with humility and grace to your brothers and sisters, bringing the experience of God's Love into the midst of those who come and pray with you?

You are not lost, beloved sister, but God has you upon His path, that path designated for your purpose and service in this world. It will continue to unfold and you will see, beloved daughter, what God plans for you and what will come of your effort in service and love. You are not lost. No, beloved daughter, but have gained the world of God and come to know this world, come to know God in your prayers and your efforts, to walk in faith, to walk in your deep trust of the Heavenly Father's Will for you, beloved.

Yes, you all continue to serve, to grow in love. You all continue to listen and be receptive to God's yearnings and guidance for your life. This will continue, beloved souls, it will for all eternity and many experiences and opportunities will come your way as you continue to pray for this gift and for service in love.

We thank you, beloved daughter, for your efforts, for your gifts of love and support, for your loyalty and love, for this cause and purpose to bring mankind to the truth of the Father's Love.

May God bless you upon your journey, beloved soul, upon all your journeys, beloveds, as you continue to open yourself and to walk through the many thresholds that God has prepared for you in order to serve in ways that are powerful and beautiful, in ways that touch many souls deeply. We will be with you upon your journeys and continue to uphold you, beloved souls.

I am Confucius and I love you beloved beloveds, beloved beloveds. I love you. This portal opens wide. Many gifts are coming, beloveds. Many gifts are coming. God bless you.
