PREFACE

When mentioning mediumship to most people, a raised eyebrow or skeptical look passes over them in response. Such things are supposed to be the purview of entertainers on TV or the imagined gatherings of seances and dark forces in dark places. In the case of what is contained in this book, they are neither. Like most forces in this world, they can be used for good or evil. The gift of trance mediumship has been my life for the past decade. I was never one to pursue this gift and accepted it somewhat reluctantly. I was asked by my spirit guides, Celestial angels all, to perform this task as their instrument of communication to our world. I was not new to the idea of spirits speaking through individuals gifted in this way, but I never considered myself to be such a person. Since 2011, I have been privileged to be a medium for high spirits and Celestial angels. Their presence has been a guiding light and positive force in my life. Since beginning this journey, well over 2,000 messages have been received through me and what is present in this compilation reflects the loving ministrations of my angel friends. Their messages are not generally full of doom and gloom and as you read each one, you will find that they always indicate a silver lining in every cloud. Their messages reflect what I have come to know as the Truth of God's Divine Love. This is the true salvation that they speak of and it is easily obtained through longing and prayer. If there is anything that will save us and our precious Earth, it is the power of love, primarily the transformational power of God's Divine Love infusing the soul and bringing us to the Light.

INTRODUCTION

Earth Changes

In 2015, our small group received a very ominous warning from Jesus. Many chose to brush it aside, others chose to get annoyed that this was “scaremongering.” But as the months passed, culminating in a peak in the last few months, so many spirits have raised this topic that it cannot be ignored any longer. We are not talking here about the climate changes which while still argued about by many are patently obvious to the rest. No these are not minor alterations to traditional weather patterns. We are talking about huge disruptions that will kill a great many humans living on this Earth. How many? It’s pure speculation but it has to be enough to completely change our current attitudes. And that has to be a great number. As of July 2019, we have now moved to “Earth Changes are upon you.”

Now we see other groups that have the same warning, and having spoken with First Nation Canadians, they accept this entirely. They feel it coming.

If you would like third party verification of what is happening day by day, this web site has that information: The Watchers

So what is the cause? It’s not God being angry and punishing us. In fact, at this very moment, God is pouring more energy and love and support into this world than ever before in an attempt to awaken those who are listening. It’s not Mother Earth either, although the energy to throw us off will come from Earth Energies. But the world has chosen a path of evil, and overall this Earth has never been darker spiritually.

By Geoff Cutler

God’s Plan for the Salvation of Mankind

At the same time, our small group has been receiving messages informing us of the Earth Changes to come, we have also been receiving many messages telling us that God has a plan for the salvation of mankind. While humans have had the ability to pray to God to receive His Divine Love since Jesus came to bring the Good News, very, very few humans have done this while still on the Earth plane. However, a large part of God’s plan requires that as many people as possible on Earth and in the spirit world pray for God's Love to enter their souls and transform their soul into a Divine being. Because when this happens to a person's soul, many hidden abilities, potentials, and other blessings come into being for that individual. The person is no longer able to sin. The person is able to be a channel for God's Love to others. The Divine Love cannot transform another's soul through another person, however, it can have an impact on that person's soul and cause that person to also begin to yearn for the Father's Love.

To help with the plan, God has created many Portals of Light from the Celestial Heavens to Earth to allow the Divine Love and help from Celestial angels to come through the darkness of Earth more easily. He has helped to create Centres of Light as well for the same purpose. Part of the plan is for these Portals of Light and Centres of Light to weave together into a Lattice of Light encircling the Earth allowing God's Love, Energy, Essence, and Presence to break through the darkness.

In the messages below, you will learn more about God's plan for the salvation of mankind and what you can do to be a part of it. We have learned through the messages that God has called many, many people throughout the world to be part of this great plan. We have been advised to open our hearts and souls when we meet another with love in their hearts although they may not be aware of all the Truths we have learned, to not judge but embrace. The bottom line is that what is required for humans to survive the Earth Changes is very simple: it requires Love.

MESSAGES FROM CELESTIAL ANGELS

The messages received and included in this collection come from angels, Celestial spirit guides and teachers who once lived on Earth. Yes, they were human once and through their soul longings were transformed into Divine spirits by praying to God sincerely for an inflowing of Divine Love. In the text below, portions of messages or the full message received from the angels that discuss Earth Changes and God's Plan for the Salvation of Mankind have been pulled out so that the urgency of the message can be seen and heard.

If you struggle believing that those in spirit can communicate with some gifted people on Earth and you are a believer of the Bible, consider this fact: you surely have seen that spirits communicated with many prophets in biblical times. Jesus himself was visited by Moses and Elijah. An example from Paul in Ephesians is shown below. So why shouldn't they visit now when there are so much darkness and chaos in the world to help us as they did at that time?

Ephesians 3:2-3a, 5-6 (from Paul)

When you read this, you can understand my insight into the mystery of Christ, which was not made known to human beings in other generations as it has been now revealed to his holy apostles and prophet by the Spirit, that the Gentiles are coheirs, members of the same body, and copartners in the promise of Christ Jesus through the gospel.

The World is Fast Approaching a Time of Chaos

Jesus on August 17, 2015

Blessed are the children who seek to heal this world,
Blessed are the children who long for the Father's Love,
Blessed are you, for, in many ways, this gathering and these precious souls are the hope for the world.....

Now, I wish to say some things to you that are very important. The world is fast approaching a time of chaos. There is a great change coming, the storm is just upon the horizon. It requires you to have great faith and strength and to rely upon your Heavenly Father to guide you through the coming times in the world. For it will be dramatic and it will be destructive. This will not be caused by men but by God and by God's Creation which responds to the actions of men. The Earth rises in pain. It has been abused so greatly by the will of men, by the greed of men, and the Earth is fighting back. I do not think that any of you truly understand the power of the Earth, the forces of the Earth. Indeed, when these winds of change come, you must secure yourself in Light. All of these questions that you ask will become irrelevant and the burning question will be: "Father, guide me through these darkening times, help me to be a beacon of light for those around me who are frightened" as the Earth shifts and the winds blow and the oceans rise, as the fires and the rain and all the elements of the Earth conspire to wash away all the traces of man.

This is indeed a very serious time and you are given a warning as to what is coming. In this, I want you to redouble your efforts in prayer to dedicate your lives to spiritual progression, to walk as clearly and powerfully upon this Divine Path. In this, many gifts will open to you, many faculties and abilities which will serve you greatly in the times to come and will help you to assist others to survive these times. When the clouds clear and the sun shines again, there will be a thousand years of peace upon this world. This transition, this time of cleansing has happened before in your world and it will happen again for God loves this world. He loves His Creation and He loves all of humanity but those who turn away from His Love, who turn away from all that is good and all that is in harmony with His Creation and exert their will to such a great degree that there is no semblance of understanding and love and light, merely the accumulation of things, the accumulation that has taken from this earth and nothing returned but rot and garbage fouling the seas and the air and the land. Is this how you are meant to live? Is this what God intended for you? No, you are meant to live in harmony with this world and with each other. God does not punish those who do wrong but the Laws of Creation are inexorable and for every action, there is a reaction.

All of you chose to some degree to ignore this crisis, this deep and profound wrongness and wrongdoing for you are indeed human. This does not mean that God loves you any less or we love you any less but it does mean that you must, you truly must adopt ways of Light, to increase your souls with Love and to open your eyes truly with great honesty and integrity and to walk this path of Love boldly. The time of fear cannot continue in your lives or in this world. The time of enlightenment and freedom of fear, freedom from all that is so dark, must be, must be!

My brethren, I will walk with you and when the changes come, ask for my presence to comfort you. Ask for God's Love to strengthen you. Ask that God open your eyes and show you what you must do and where you must go.

Yes, your efforts to open Centres of Light indeed are part of the guidance given for these centres will be centres of refuge for many. You must prepare these places, these lifeboats of Light for those who are caught in the storms, these storms of change. You must focus your efforts as one prepares a home for the coming storm. You must focus your efforts to prepare yourselves, to prepare places, to prepare those who will listen.

I do not say these things to engender fear in you. For truly, what is to come is the cleansing of the world, a starting anew and time of regeneration, where all the creatures of this world and all the wonderment of God's Creation will then have the ability to regenerate. This will happen quickly. It will happen quickly. The power of God's Creation, the power of nature, as you call it, is immense. The power to heal and for the world to heal itself is great but the power of mankind to heal itself is weak. The power that mankind must rely upon for healing comes from God. You have free will and with your free will, you have weakened yourself so greatly. Yet you have found the key to be powerful, to heal yourselves. Use this key, my beloveds, use this key.

You know all that you need to know and yet you continue to question, to wonder, and to seek the answer in words. The answer lies wordless within your souls. Seek your souls. Each of you is quite capable of seeking your souls and finding your souls. When you feel you have not come to that place, you have made only an excuse and have only formulated an idea within your mind that it is not possible to know your own soul. You have made a choice to turn away from your soul rather than turn towards it. In many respects, these thoughts and these decisions are the results of the human condition which implores you so often to turn away. Indeed, I reiterate, you must be in the world but not of the world. You must embrace this Truth and live this Truth. By living this Truth, your life will change in many ways and you will change in many ways. What is important to you today will not be so important tomorrow and what you cling to so resolutely will fall away and you feel the rightness and the freedom of this.

You cannot continue to walk forward and not be fully in the Light. You have been called as my disciples to bring the word of Love and Truth to mankind. Surely you are capable of doing so but if you indulge yourselves in what you need, what is so very important to your minds, then you will fail. You will fail your calling. You must take a good and honest look within yourselves to see what holds you from this. When you are able to release those barriers and prejudices and fears, you will truly know what you must do. For the soul informs all. The soul is what you need. The soul is everything. Then the mind will be subjugated by the soul and then the clarity, the clarity, and Truth will set you free from those burdens that you carry so resolutely and insistently.

These questions, surely you can answer these questions yourselves. If they remain a mystery to you, you have not acknowledged your souls as you must. For within your souls lies every answer, every answer. Follow your guidance. Walk in this Light every day and ask God to guide you with each day and those who feel they cannot hear and know this guidance, ask God to remove the barriers and to increase your soul with His Love and the vista shall open to you. The curtain shall be drawn away. For each of you are capable and gifted but many of you approach this from your mind, which you cannot do any longer.

The time grows short. There is urgency and there is necessity to put away your indulgences and to be focused on what you must do to bring greater Light to this world, to bring the message of Love and Truth to this world, and to be channels of healing and Love in this world, to bring peace and harmony to your homes, and to draw your friends in this way, to draw all who are seeking in this way. Accept every soul who comes to your door and though you may not approve of what they say, it does not fit into your belief, within their soul is a longing which you must recognize for in your soul is the longing as well to seek Truth, to seek God. Though they may not recognize this in their minds, you must recognize this within their souls and in this, you will give love. In this comes the flow of God's Love.

“Heavenly Father, bless these, thy children, who seek the Light, who are questioning and who want to be in the Light, and free from all the pains of this world, all that burdens them, and holds them from you. Father, I ask you, to heal my brothers and sisters, that you may give a great inflowing of your Love into their souls. May they long for this. May this be their burning desire, their true and burning desire to be redeemed by your Love for they seek, they seek this. May their prayers be answered. May all our prayers be answered that this world may be healed, that peace may come, and all that is not in harmony with your Laws of Creation be swept away and in their place, may men rebuild this world with greater wisdom on the foundation of Love with wisdom that there may be beauty and grace, that there may be harmony and peace, and all the falsity and all the pain and all the darkness be swept away by your Breath of Love.”

God bless you. I hope that now you are at peace. I hope that now you understand why you were brought together. I hope you can work together in loving harmony. Each will play their role. Each will contribute their true selves, their true soul's gifts into this great effort to heal this world. I am Jesus, and I am your friend and your brother and I am with you in all that you do, in every effort that you make for it is true of your souls' origin and every effort you make in this way will be truly blessed. Walk with me and I will light the way.

The World is Changing

Alec Gaunt on July 06, 2015

Alec here. God bless you, my friends, and may your souls be full to the brim of God's Love. You have been discussing changes in the Earth and I am sad to say that these changes will continue to accelerate. The climate within this world will change dramatically as you have already witnessed. The Earth will become warmer and this will set off chain reactions which will melt the ice and cause further warming and greater disruptions. The very core of the Earth is shifting and changing and this will cause further disruptions. You will have much to deal with in the future and I do not say this to cause fear and anxiety within you, for as you maintain your connection with your Creator, you will be protected and guided through all of these obstructions and cataclysms and problems.

Yes, the Earth responds to mankind's neglect and greed and the imbalance is caused by so many insensitive actions and choices. But in the end, through this time of transition and change, there will be peace and there will be a balance. God will maintain His creation in the beauty that is meant to be sustained. God is pouring His Light, His blessings of Love, and His Spirit of change is working upon every element, every atom, every part of this Earth and those who dwell upon it. You all feel to some degree the effects of this, and it will intensify and this change will continue for much of your life upon this planet. But in the flow of this change, there will be great opportunities for you who desire to be channels of Love, teachers of Truth, and who desire to be of assistance to usher in a new consciousness, new awareness and new truth to mankind.

There will be opportunities, abundant opportunities. You will be guided to be in places and with people in situations that will have a great effect and cause a shift in consciousness in the world. You will join with many others who are in this world at this time and who have chosen this time to bring and usher in changes in the world, as have you all chosen this purpose and this role.

Each of you has struggled for the Light, has desired to be close to God, to come to know Truth and harmony and peace within yourselves. You will share this in these hard times and you will be given the opportunities to do so in many different ways, in many different places in the world. A great work awaits the willing, those who choose to walk this road, to have a deep compassion and love for your brothers and sisters, to have a deep and abiding love for your Heavenly Father, to be educated in ways that will convey the Truth to those who have ears to listen, and eyes to see and souls that are receptive. You are all being prepared. You have been for many years and what we have told you in the past is coming to fruition. You will all come to see this in greater clarity and in this clarity will come peace, and a great calm and an understanding of what you are to do.

Much awaits. We in spirit are in alignment with you on Earth to bring change and healing and balance to this dear Earth. This is God's Will and you will come to know this as the days and weeks and months and years progress in your life and in your time. Have joy, my children, my friends, for you do indeed live in interesting times, a great shift of consciousness in the world, a great shift in how the world is and all its workings. You will have the blessing of knowing what this is and what it means. How many in this world will know? Very few and you will convey this knowledge, this understanding, and bring comfort to many and show many the way to Truth, the way to Love, the way to give back to this beautiful Earth.

Much is in its beginnings and there is much more to know and to learn. There is much more Love to be had within you, an expansion of your awareness that comes from the soul filled with God's Love. We will assist you every step of the way, every breath you take, every thought that you have will have within it some of our influence, a seed of Truth, a grain of Light.

Continue in your prayers, seek your Heavenly Father with all your hearts and souls, all your yearnings and longings and you will be given to, and cared for, and blessed mightily, for your time has come. God gives what you require to be His instruments of Light and change and Love in this world. Perk up your ears, open your eyes, pray your prayers in sincere and earnest longing and my words will ring true and you will come to know your true selves and true purpose in this world. God bless you, your beloved friend Alec is with you always and I love you dearly. God bless you.

The Winds of Change Blow Upon This World

John the Beloved on July 25, 2015

This is John. God's Breath is blowing upon your world. His Touch touches everything and His Breath blows upon the mountaintops and into the valleys, the streams and the lakes, the oceans, the creatures of the world, all of creation in this world is touched by God. At this time, there is a great change to come from His Touch. There is a great change and the world will change. The world will change and you must be strong enough and aligned enough with the Will of God in His Love to be a part of that change in every way, to allow yourselves to be transformed by His Love, to allow your bodies to be touched by this special blessing that is transformative in this Earth, to allow your spirits to reflect the Light within your souls and to allow your minds to be receptive to the knowledge that God is giving you within your souls through His Love.

It is time to put away all that is false and not a part of God's Loving Laws. It is time to acquiesce to the will of your souls and the Will of God which is known by your souls. It is time to step forward and say, "I am a child of my Heavenly Father and I know the way to His redemptive Love." For in this new world, this Love will be the currency among mankind and you must teach this. You must teach this and show those who are willing the way to this new life, this new beginning, this unfolding of God's plan for the salvation of mankind and the healing of this world.

It comes. The Breath of God blows and affects all and shall continue to do so for many years to come. Be a part of this change. Open your eyes and ears. Open your souls, your spirits to the great change that is coming for much will shift. Mountains will crumble. Oceans will rise and your climate continues to shift and change and there is much more to come. Rather than be fearful, be joyful that God has put His Mighty Hand upon this world in order to bring it back to Light, and balance, and goodness.

Listen to your guidance. Listen to your souls and do not allow your minds to place barriers between you and God and you and your true self which is your soul, for God wishes to give deep and profound guidance to each one of you and show you the way through the tumult to a place of peace and strength and stability. The time grows short. Pray earnestly. Pray often and be with God always.

Divine Love is the Path to Heal the World

Augustine August 22, 2015

The world will be changed by one soul touching another as that soul is used by God as a channel of Love in the world. Every time we touch another soul in this way you are changing the world. And the world hungers. The world is in deep deprivation. So little Love in this world, yet so much Love in the universe of God's world. God desires for all to be loved, to know that they are loved, and to receive His blessings of Love. This is meant for all and freely given for those who seek it. Walk in this world as a shining example of Love. Bring this Love wherever you go. Let this Love inform every part of your being. Be that child of God that you are meant to be, that you truly are.

Do not hide. Do not hide your light but shine forth in the world giving through your own gifts and abilities to bring comfort and light and truth and beauty to the world. Each of you has great gifts, wondrous potentials, which require you to truly believe that they exist, that you have these beautiful gifts within you to acknowledge them, to live in the flow of these gifts, to nurture them and bring them forth for each gift is unique and beautiful. Together they form your true selves. The expression of these gifts is the expression of who you truly are. In this way, you will truly feel whole and loved and purposeful in the world.

We in spirit have dedicated ourselves to support you in this, to inspire you, to love you, and to pray over you so that you may walk in this way, in light, and touch other souls who will, in turn, touch other souls until the whole world has changed and made anew in the Light of God's Love.

This world of yours, it bends and groans under the burden of the conditions that mankind has set upon it. It has brought a great imbalance. It is a world that is, that has terrible, difficult and destructive conditions within it. Your world is ill and it needs healing, it needs Love, it needs to be acknowledged and respected for it is your home. This is where you all live and breathe. This is how you are sustained in your bodies through what this world gives, this beautiful world that is a creation of your Creator and loved by your Creator.

As mankind blindly carries on in their greed and their unloving perspectives and their desire for power and control to bring wealth, to bring everything that gratifies their material beings, the appetites, and desires of their flesh, this hurts your world. This brings pain to all. You all bring pain to one another in these conditions and this mindful attitude which is born from fear and error and lack of love for a soul filled with Love would not conduct themselves in this way. This is incompatible with Love. You must teach the way of Love and must learn each day the way of Love so that you truly give, you may truly show others, through your example, the road to take to bring more life to this world rather than take life away from this world. It is possible. For many of you, it seems a deep and terrible dilemma. I know that you anguish over this. You see the destruction. Every soul feels the distress of this world, but so few truly understand it or acknowledge this reality.

It is time for great change to take place. The world will make its attempts to shake off humanity's terrible burden upon it and this will manifest in many different ways. As the ground shakes and the seas rise and the climate brings terrible destruction and inequities within this world that has been nurtured by the rains and the sun and the wind, in these things will come to extremes and cause destruction in your world washing away, washing away much of what mankind has done, making conditions difficult for all of you. It is in your faith, in your closeness to God that you will know how to cope with these changing conditions which will intensify and come to a head and will cause all of you to live differently in this world. It must be so. It is not God's Will that you suffer, but in God's Creation, His orderly Laws of Creation. Where there is an action there must be a response. This is a Law of the Universe and these responses are in relation to the actions.

So, I wish for you to contemplate how it is you will make changes in your lives in this world to bring greater harmony. Prayer is the most powerful tool you have. Your free will is always operating. You have choices to make. Love, Love will heal all and inform you as to how you will be in this world, what you will do in this world. As you follow your Father's guidance, there is much for you to do within your personal lives and within the world as a whole.

Your countries, the many countries in this world must come to the realization that they cannot continue to function in this way. It cannot be sustained. This is well known amongst your scientists and they cry out and say stop but the momentum and power of those in power and who have great wealth resist. They are fearful. They want to retain what they have built but I tell you, this is not possible. God will not let the world go to rack and ruin. God wants this world to be a place that nurtures and sustains all life. If it requires drastic responses, then so be it. The will of mankind must be subjugated and the Will of God must prevail.

We are in serious times. Great upheavals are coming. You feel it. You feel what is just over the horizon. It is coming and you must prepare yourselves spiritually within yourselves. Become strong in your souls and your connection with your Heavenly Father who will guide you through what is to come. When the changes are complete, this world will be at peace. Those who are upon this world will see this world from a different light, will look upon one another in Love, and will make the changes that are required for humanity to flourish in balance with this world.

You must all pray for your world, for all your brothers and sisters, for they will need you. They will need you and you will need to be strong. What is important to you today surely will not be so in these times. What will be important are relationships of love, your relationship with your Heavenly Father, and His care for you which will bring protection and what you require to live in this world. God is the source of all things. Rely upon the resource that is the Creator providing, loving, guiding, and caring for all. If you are able to do this, preparing for yourselves for what is coming, you will be safe and you will be able to save many others in the times to come.

I say these things not to frighten you but to tell you that God wants all of His children to live in a world that is beautiful and in balance. It is meant to be. You will live in that world, will flourish, and know with deep wisdom what you must do as your souls inform your minds and God informs your soul. It is simple, yet, so very elusive for so many. But you have the key, you have the gifts, you have the abilities. You will exercise all that you are in this beautiful Light and find fulfilment and deep purpose in this way, truly being who you were created to be and living how you are meant to live.

Changes are coming, but change is good. Change brings healing and different opportunities and shifts in thinking and doing. Change is good. Do not avoid the change but embrace it in love knowing that this is God's healing for the world. This is going to bring Light to your children and their children down through the generations of children, a great healing and beautiful balance in this world. All the creatures that are hiding and are not thriving will find their place in this world once again and they will be loved. All of this world will be loved by all who dwell upon her. It is the gift that will be given.

Earth Changes and Your Soul Condition

Seretta Kem on October 10, 2016

It is Seretta Kem. I see amongst you great light and a deep desire to serve God and the beginnings of new awakenings within you, as the eyes of your souls begin to open and the awareness that comes with the soul enlivened with God's Divine Essence, His Love. I tell you many deep and powerful insights will come to each one of you as you continue to be affected by the changes that are wrought by this Love, the power of this Love flowing into you. The power of the force of change that is coming to this world, you witness at this very moment, as a small aspect of the changes that are coming.

There will be indeed many storms and shakings of the Earth, risings of the tide, as the Earth cleanses and readies itself for a new era of life upon your Earth. You will navigate these changes in harmony as you stay close to the Creator, have your ears pricked to the guidance that will be given, and be flexible, willing to change and adapt as all around you changes and all within you opens to the Divine blessings and Will. This is the time in which you need to be strong, to search your souls, and take within that the wisdom that comes and be in harmony with God. For it is the disharmony which mankind has brought within themselves and within this world that has sparked these changes and responses.

The world seeks balance. Life seeks life and harmony with the rhythms of God's Will and Creation. You cannot ignore the Laws of Creation. You cannot be immune to the world that responds to your indifference and your willful desire to ignore the balance that God has created within the world.

Yes, you step upon the verge of much change and there will be struggles and difficulties but you will be protected and carried through this time. You cannot carry fear but hope, hope for a world that is in harmony. There will be joy and love and much to be gained from what is to come. Great joy to you, Love and Light. Know that you are loved, that you are in the Light, and that we will be with you as you continue to navigate this world in flux and change.

Know Your Awakened Soul

Augustine on December 12, 2016

God bless you, my students. It is your teacher Augustine. I am happy to come and speak with you as you gather together once more and put your soul longings forward to God. What is it that will happen within you when enough of the Father's Love begins to awaken and transform your soul? How will you change? What comes from this great blessing?

Foremost you will have a greater sensitivity to the energetic conditions of this material world and to what influences surround you as you move through the world. Those influences vary greatly depending upon your thoughts and your actions. There is much to consider and much that determines what does indeed influence you and brings you to certain conclusions and perceptions, eliciting certain emotions, fears even and negative thoughts.

Yes, these things are all too common within this human plane. In fact, the world is rife with many negative influences because the world has gone astray. Most of the world has turned its back upon God and even those who are facing God, carry with them a great deal of error and misunderstanding of the nature of God, and the nature of Truth.

So there are pockets of light in the world, individuals who are clear enough in their perceptions to readily understand Truth and the nature of God and the power of Love. You may count yourselves as part of this small group in the world. As you continue to progress and your souls are infilled with the Father's Love, as His Light within you burns brightly, perceptions will open, understandings will come, revelations will come as your soul is activated and is more easily able to be attuned to the gifts and blessings from God. With these gifts of perception - soul perception - you will easily navigate this world and avoid those conditions which would be harmful, even injurious to your physical being.

For besides the material perceptions, you will have other faculties, sensitivities, and sensibilities which will allow you to see, to get a glimpse into future events, and possibilities so that you will make an informed choice in your lives and see more clearly what to avoid and what may benefit you. Along with this, God will indeed guide you. The angels will provide you with further information so that the picture will be filled out in great detail.

It will not be confusing or contradictory. It will be clear and obvious what you must do in any given moment to bring great Light as you follow God's Will which will permeate all of these perceptions, which will color these pictures, which will allow you to move gracefully through your life, and most importantly, to be an effective channel of the Father's Love in this world. When you are awakened and understand the dynamics all around you, you become empowered with wisdom and knowledge which will assist you greatly in enacting God's Will.

Some of you at this time, have glimpses and periods of time when you are attuned and you have a sense of things, looking through a glass darkly as you might say. I tell you with greater faith and acknowledgment of the Love that resides within you and expansion of this Love, what is obscure and subtle today will be quite evident in the future. You will be able to work with the angels in close rapport and their greater vision and perception will benefit you greatly, combined with your own new-found qualities and gifts, it will make for a very dynamic instrumentality in the world.

Many will seek you out for your wisdom and you must share your wisdom liberally and bravely. Some will want to criticize and get angry with you. Pay them no heed for is it not the influence of the air and darkness and fear of humanity that has brought the world to this dreadful condition where all elements of this planet are close to chaos and the beautiful creation of God suffers, and where very few places in this world are not in this dreadful condition?

Yes, you sense it. Many in this world sense that changes must come. You cannot continue to live as you do, squandering the gifts from God in this world and taking so much and giving back so little. God did create a bounteous world but it cannot be sustained in this way because God created a world that can sustain itself, given that it is not overly depleted. Even the energetic condition of this planet is waning and this will cause upheavals, unexpected catastrophes, difficult weather conditions as the balance is pushed and set asunder.

You need these perceptions of what I speak. You need to be able to know the Will of God, to be able to perceive the support and protection and guidance that the angels will give you to navigate through a world that will have many difficulties and upheavals. This is not to say that there will be a collapse, a rendering down to the very basics of life, no. But there will be many things gone asunder and the creating of conditions where the structures and cultures and ways of life that you live today will not continue. But God in His Mercy will give all an opportunity to rebuild in a more harmonious way. You will not be without resources.

You will be able to cope but within this period of change, each of you and all of you within this world must question what it is that you seek. What are your desires? What are your priorities? Everyone upon this planet has the measure of greed, wanting to accumulate. If they have nothing, there is a great ambition to accumulate. Those who have everything often take for granted what is given and what is available. I do not say this for you to feel guilty, but for you to open your eyes. For when you open your soul, you must see all of these things, this reality that is all around you and the reality of God, and attempt to reconcile these elements of error and truth.

So we have made great effort to bring you together, to encourage you to open to your souls, to be truthful to yourselves, to awaken to the error, and to adopt the truth. I know you have many questions. How can I come to a place of harmony within my life? In many ways, you are ensnared in a condition that brings disharmony. To try and find your way through these entrapped conditions is very difficult indeed. This is again why you must rely upon your soul perceptions, for your minds will not find solutions to these dilemmas. No, this is not possible unless you completely remove yourselves from the flow of humanity. This is not recommended or necessary. Instead, you must be within the flow of humanity carrying the light of truth and wisdom. Let your souls be vibrant and alive in this, brought about by the awakening through God's Love.

Only God will guide you through and help you to find harmony in your life, within yourself, with all who are around you. This is the essential issue. This is why humanity has degraded itself so severely. They have not recognized the wisdom of God. They have ignored the Laws of God's Creation. They have gone about their business not thinking in the ways of love but in the ways of fear and greed and anger.

So, we have put forth many challenges to you in these days that we have been together. Yes, we ask much of you. We ask you to truly contemplate how it is that you can change and be more in harmony with God. We have asked you not to ignore certain aspects of your life and your being but to incorporate all of you within the Body and Truth of God and His Love. This is, in one regard, a very complicated matter and in another way, it is very simple. If you begin with trust in God, faith in His Wisdom, in prayer, establishing a powerful connection with your Creator, then the dilemmas will unravel and the Truth will be revealed for everything must be predicated upon love, everything must be healed with love, all wisdom comes with God's Love.

This is an incremental journey. Awareness comes bit by bit, as you build your foundation upon this awareness. In doing so, you change within and within these changes, come changes in your life for that which is not in harmony will fall away. You will not be comfortable with error in your life. As your eyes open, the error will be plain to see. You, relying upon the strength within your soul and the wisdom, the faculties, the perceptions, will make your way into greater light and harmony and you will find peace and joy.

Pray each day that God's Wisdom will find its way into your being and consciousness, that you will think in Truth, that your actions will embody Truth, that your entire being will come ever closer to God and that your lives will reflect this in every way.

God does not want to deny you a comfortable life. Material benefits do come as you walk in harmony, but a life full of attachments to these benefits and worries and cares and fears is a life outside of God. Do not fear for your safety. Do not doubt that God will care for you no matter what and you will have the strength to cope with whatever comes your way. You will have the wisdom to find your way no matter whatever danger may come and will reach out to those you love.

These are the benefits of God's blessings upon you as he enwraps all in His cloak of protection. Enjoy the benefits of your togetherness, the love you share. Trust one another for each of you has something to give to all the others and in this giving freely, you bring many blessings to yourselves, for when love flows freely, generously, wisely, you create great light and you walk the Father's Path of Love. Do not hold on in fear, trepidation and worry and care, be free of this and allow God's Love to wash over you and bring you a sense of joy. It is your heritage. This Love is meant for you. It's meant to heal you, to strengthen you, to bring you into at-onement with God. Accept this gift fully and all else will fall into place in God's perfect timing and His wondrous Wisdom.

Soul Growth Will Bring Ability to Receive Changes that are Coming

Alec Gaunt on December 21, 2016

Beautiful friends, it is Alec. May the Light of God's Love carry you forward. As you begin to open your soul perceptions and awareness begin to flower and come forth in surprising ways, each of you feels a difference, an opening, the beginnings of something new within you. As God's Love ignites your gifts, the beautiful talents and abilities that lay within you, each unique, each powerful, full of promise, open up doors of perception, gifts of healing and communication and ways in which love may be expressed for the benefit of all you meet. You must expect this in your life that these new feelings of awareness and perceptions will come and bring a different perspective and bring many abilities of sight and wisdom and strength and perception and ways in which love can come and be manifest in your lives within your beings, as God uses what He has implanted within you for the benefit of mankind.

I also come to confirm for this instrument some guidance which he received about changes coming within the world. These things are correct as he received them and indeed they are serious and they do reflect our warnings of the past. There are great changes coming to this world, a world that is at a breaking point, as the populations of your world put more and more stress upon this beautiful planet and resolutely turn their eyes away from what is in harmony and beneficial to all life upon this world. So the consequences will unfold and will have their effect upon many peoples in this world.

There are indeed natural cycles in the world. There are safeguards in place in the Laws of God's Creation that prevent the unraveling of the natural world. You have come close to this point and the world will respond. There will be difficulties and upheavals and problems for each in this world. For those such as yourself who are attempting to be close to God and put prayer before all else, you will be guided through these difficulties. You will find your way through this dark forest and come out unscathed at the other end.

You must gather as many as you can to follow. As I have said, you are gifted with many blessings, perceptions. Much is emerging from your soul and these are to be used in the coming times. God will utilize many aspects of your beautiful selves to help lead, to guide, to bless many. As these coming storms approach, so God accelerates your growth, opens your gifts, prepares you for what is to come. You should not allow fear to override your true knowing that what will come into the world will be a blessing, will bring balance and harmony, will renew the world in a way that the coming generations will have a life which is in much more harmony than what is at this time.

Many of your technologies and accomplishments will remain but how they are used and utilised will change as priorities and understandings and greater wisdom prevails. Yes, there is much change coming and there will be waves of change, waves of challenges so that you may adjust and prepare with each onslaught.

God has strengthened you, my friends. He has strengthened you and has prepared you and has laid many riches within your souls. This has a purpose. This will be called upon. As you have been so richly blessed there will come a time when you will be called upon to give. This will not often be in a way that is easy or gratifying to you. No, it will be challenging. But as you go to the Source, as you seek the strength through God, as you remain steadfast upon this path of Light and Love you will have the strength, you will have what you require to be God's instruments in the world.

This is a time of strengthening, my friends. This is a time of gathering yourself to God and coming to those realisations and openings and strengthening so that you may increase your faith and your abilities to cope with a changing world.

You will not be abandoned by us, not ever. We will be ever closer to you as these things come and we will be there to advise and guide and protect. God has placed His Hands upon you. Do you realize the power of this, this protection that is provided, the angels surrounding you, His Love flowing into you? This is what you must show to your brothers and sisters, how the power of God's Love and His Hand upon you will bring the harmony that all will seek. When they seek, you must be there to tell them the Truth, the simple Truth. Not to reprimand and judge, but to show the way gently and firmly to God.

There is much to come, many changes, travels, shifts in your thinking and how you are in your lives, readjustments, new priorities, and a new focus. Each time you shift into a greater light, a deeper understanding, a greater expression of love, you will know within your souls that you have come to that right place, a place that is meant for you. All will adjust as you adjust. As God blesses in harmony, harmony comes to you.

This is what these changes are, an effort to bring back harmony to the world, a healing of this world, and an enlightening of the peoples of this world, a pulling of the lost souls into the light. Yes, many will turn away and there will be consequences for those who are resolutely blind and deaf to the Truth of Creation. This has always been so for with each choice comes consequence. With the lack of love, comes pain. With the extreme materialism in this world, comes a great imbalance and disharmony. Mankind cannot continue to take, endlessly take, and not expect that there will be a reaction within the material world, a response to these inappropriate actions and selfish responses to life.

When the world had a small population, such actions were absorbed without any great detriment to the planet. But now, the force of humanity is attempting to overwhelm the natural cycles of this world. This is done so blindly and with little care except for what can be gained. This is such folly. You cannot live in this world and be immune to the consequences of your life actions. This applies to your personal life. This applies to each country, each culture, each set of beliefs. Mankind is gifted with free will and as such must bear the consequences of those choices and so, a harsh lesson is coming to the world.

I know that you all feel the coming storms and you worry for yourselves and for your loved ones in this world because you love and because you wish to enfold them. This is good that you wish to love and enfold your neighbours, your loved ones, your friends. God will give you the opportunity to do so but you must remain the pillar of strength, the bearer of Truth, the loving channel of God. In this way, God will open up those opportunities for you to protect and guide your loved ones and those who will listen. Many will listen for as the world reacts to these inharmonious conditions, many will have to listen, will not be able to hide their heads in the sand, and will have to ask those difficult questions: What motivates me in my life? What is important? What direction am I going in? What do I love?

For many, what they love is not what they should be loving. Materialism is not a goal of life. Accumulating and feeling powerful is not what God has meant for you in your life. Yes, God grants material benefits and many blessings, but a wise man will live a life in moderation. A foolish man will bring himself to a place of greed and will find his identity in what he possesses. This is not what is meant, but I assure you there will come a time when the perspective of mankind will change and shift and the conditions of the world will ensure that this change must take place, will carry all of you along to that place of harmony. Remember the power of choice and the power of love and how these two things come together each day and determine the outcomes of your lives.

May God grant you all deep wisdom and great love. May your soul perceptions open and flourish and give you an insight into the new world that is coming and the Will of God which is ever-present, that these things take you upon a journey of awakening and understanding and great strength and faith. Love will prevail. It is the most powerful thing in this universe and it will prevail. You need but follow the Will of God, have faith in your own true soul awareness and understanding and allow Love to enter every part of who you are and your lives so that it may bring harmony and show to all those who wish to see what Love is and what living in the Truth of God's Love is.

You will make a powerful statement in this world. You must. It is dependent upon you and the few others that God will use to bring this Light and Truth and change to the world. God bless you. I am Alec. I am with you as you well know and we will continue to guide you through this journey, through these changes, up this great hill towards greater light. You each have your feet firmly planted upon this path and will indeed have your eyes open, your souls expanded in Love and will lead in Light. God bless you, Alec loves you. God bless you.

Earth Changes are Coming

Peter on January 15, 2017

God bless you, precious souls. I am Peter. Change is coming to your world, deep changes. Changes that will touch every one of you. You must prepare within yourselves. You must be close to God, to be under God's protective care, to be in that great flow of His Love and Light, to know your Heavenly Father in a deep and abiding way. This requires effort from you, a deep effort to reach beyond yourselves and to be open to the Touch of God, to be carried by His Love, His Grace, His Strength, and His Guidance.

For too long man has relied upon himself, has created a world that is not in harmony with God's Creation and has stepped beyond the bounds of a harmonious world. Now humanity will reap the consequences of their destructive natures, their desire for the material above all else, leaving destruction and pain in their wake.

Humanity is not evil but because of the gift of free will, you are powerful creatures in this world. You are able to choose, to make of this world what you will. When you collect all of these energies, efforts, thoughts, deeds of every soul upon this planet, you create a powerful force for good and for evil. There must come a time when mankind must recognize their own power and own responsibility that comes with it. Mankind cannot go blindly upon this planet, taking what it will and leaving behind the destruction and pain that is so common, that comes with the touch from humanity that is both ignorant and self-consuming.

No, you are on the right track. You are seeking God. You are seeking Light. You are seeking to be a channel of Love and Light in this world. You must continue with a fervency and a deep desire to touch the many souls around you, to bring Truth as you can through your perception and your souls, to walk in the Light, to be true to yourselves and to have your eyes open, open to the Truth, open to who you truly are, open to God's Will for these dilemmas cannot be cured by the will of man. No, mankind must turn to God, to seek the Truth, to seek Love, to seek clarity, to release that deep desire to build around you a sense of security through material accumulations.

Beloveds, this is an error.

The true foundation is a foundation built on Love, a soul liberated by Love, a mind that bows to the soul and the soul's true understanding of what life is meant to be. This is a great challenge for you, a great challenge for humanity. So much is rent asunder. The conditions of your world are not conducive for light and healing, joy and love. It pleases we in spirit to see how you build around you and amongst you an oasis of Light, to bring joy, acceptance, Love, and Truth.

This is what is required in your world. It is Love that will heal all that which is not in harmony with God. The power of Love will bring about the healing that is required and you carry this Truth. You carry a Light. It is your opportunity and blessing to give, to be a channel of Light in the world. It is a choice as it is in all things a choice. Choose wisely. Seek the guidance of the Creator. Walk your path as honestly and truthfully as you can, and seek to reach out to others. Draw them into this Light, embrace, be humble, be generous, be kind and most of all, be within the Grace of God. In that flow of Love, God will use you to bless many souls, to bring Truth, to help bring those who are within the whirlwind of these changes into the Light.

Much rests upon you, my beloved souls. Those who seek Light are given great responsibility to walk this world and express Truth and Love. May you be strong enough, clear enough, and with God in a powerful way that you may truly help bring this world to a place of harmony and balance, of joy, of peace. The power of Love, the power of Love will carry you and carry this world to that place of Light and Harmony. Walk with God and be that channel of love.

Changes in the World

Augustine on February 17, 2017

I am Augustine. There has been much talk of late about change, changes in the world. I have come to speak about this and hopefully add some clarity for those who are concerned and those who wish to act to ensure their safety and the safety of others.

Change is a part of this world. It has always been a part of this world. Change has been a part of your lives and always has been. As you receive more of God's Love within your souls, so changes take place within your beings as a result of the inflowing of God's Essence enlivening your souls, having its effect upon your thinking and doing, the countenance of your being.

God is pouring His healing energies upon this world that is indeed under stress and in crisis as many of God's creations leave this world, as much of this beautiful planet created in harmony is disrupted by the will of man. In response to this, these healing energies and the efforts from the world itself, there will be upheavals and there will be change. Because mankind has brought about disharmony on such a wide scale, there must be an avenue, a channel for healing to regain balance and harmony. We have told you of this for many years and now you are within this flow of change at this very moment. You feel the effects of the changing conditions in this world and this does bring a concern to each one of you for you love your world, you love your lives, you love your loved ones. When these things are threatened, at least in your own mind they are, then you become concerned and worried, there is a sense of doom and foreboding.

There will be no doom or conditions which will bring on widespread destruction or disruption within your lives. No, God does not work in this way. God does not punish. He does not disrupt by using violence. He does not bring widespread disharmony. No, God brings healing and you must have faith that within this flow of healing and change, all will be affected in a way that will bring harmony. Yes, there will be those who resist and turn away and indeed these souls will inevitably suffer the consequences of their decision.

But you, we have equipped you with the knowledge that change is coming, that healing and hope are coming, so there is no reason for you to feel fear. There is no reason for you to run and hide, to be on the defensive. No, as these doors open, so you will step through and you will be channels of Light and instruments of change, purveyors of Truth. For as conditions in this world change, God has put within each soul a flicker of Light, a desire to come into harmony with this change.

I know you wonder how you may spread the Truth of God's Love and I tell you God has a plan. He has a plan for each and every one who is willing to follow and be a part of this. As long as you continue to ruminate within your minds, to conceive of plans and strategies to combat the coming storms, you will only create confusion and will invariably take yourselves down roads which are unnecessary and unproductive.

Truth comes from an open and willing and enlivened soul. Truth comes as God pours within you His Love and guides you along your path, devised for you in all perfect harmony as God wills it. Listen. Do not make much of what is not necessarily a severe and destructive future. Yes, there are elements that will be difficult, that will require you to apply yourselves in creative and thoughtful ways as you navigate the conditions that will be created by these changes. You will need great faith and great strength.

Think of the story of Jesus navigating the waters within the boat during a storm. He slept in peace while all about him, his disciples were worried for their lives. Jesus had faith that God would guide and protect and he was a shining example of that faith. So you, during the storms that come, must have the faith of our beloved brother Jesus who knew that despite the storms about him, he would arrive at his destination safely. so shall you and so shall many who walk in the Light of God's Love and those who wish to release their fears, their anxieties and their projections of what may come to be at peace, to walk fully in the Light of God's Love, to be in harmony with God's Will.

Yes, creating Circles of Light, Centres of Light, and places of refuge starts first within the heart, that calm knowing that rests within the soul must first be established. From there, the wisdom rises up into the mind giving inspiration, showing the way so that you may act with wisdom, with knowledge and inspiration that comes from God and not from your own mind's projections and fabrications.

It is difficult for those of you in this world surrounded by the human condition to walk in this way. It is so contrary to what you have learned, how you have been in the world, how you have found a measure of success, how you have built within yourself a sense of well-being. Yet God asks you to walk a different path, a path that requires certain obedience to God's Will, a listening from a place not of the mind, acting from the soul, acting from love, acting with faith, being at peace. For with this foundation, no matter what might come your way, you will easily navigate as Jesus did upon the waters. You will navigate and know that you are safe, that where you are going is where you are meant to go. The choices you make in your life are choices informed by deep wisdom, by the inspiration of God's Will.

Take up this challenge. For yes, indeed, the time grows short and many of you are responding to what already is an intense flow of this great blessing of God to heal the world. You clamour within your minds. You feel anxious and often confused seeking solutions to your dilemmas. Rest in prayer. Know that God has a plan that you will navigate through these waters effectively in peace and with a sure judgment as to what you need to do as each day comes upon you. It is indeed the awakening of the soul, as it is indeed the awakening of mankind in this world that will bring change. Have you awakened? In order for others to be guided and led you must be awake and true to God's Will.

So as change comes, you will adapt. As challenges come, you will face them. As the Earth changes, you will navigate through. You know this within your souls and you are coming to realize within you this true knowledge that God has His Hand firmly resting upon you. Do not doubt this. Do not let the human condition, the condition of your mind, the murmurs of those who fear and are confused to affect your own equilibrium and true knowing for each soul must come to that place while they forge their relationship with God, that individual, beautiful relationship that comes with prayer and true connection to the Source of Love. You forge this relationship each day in your prayers. This must be your focus and when it is time to act you will know it. There will be no doubt and you will see clearly what you must do. But without that clear and powerful connection with your Creator, all that you have at your disposal to enact change for your life, for those around you, is your mind.

We all know what the minds of men have come up with over the eons that they have existed in this world. This is pathetic. This is grossly out of harmony with God's path. We have invited you and encouraged you, each and every day, to come to a different understanding, a level of awareness, a place of the soul, a place of soul communing with God. This will bring the solutions. This will open the doors and many revelations will come in this relationship. You need not worry. You need not race about trying to find solutions where there are none to be had.

No, true solutions come from God and you must open yourselves to what God has to give. For that door, once opened, will allow the treasure-trove of deep insight, powerful, beautiful and simple solutions based on Love, based on Truth, based on integrity and generosity as mankind learns to embrace one another rather than compete and push aside and accumulate and feed that need for power and control. No, the time for that is coming to an end. The time for peace on Earth is dawning. You can be used to usher this in, given your desire to do so and your efforts to strengthen your souls in Love. God has a plan. Seek to find that plan that is relevant to you.

Accept God's Calling

Augustine on August 01, 2017

Each of you has felt a shift within your soul, a quickening, an opening and further understanding of your true soul's desires. I would urge each one of you to pursue these beginnings of an awakening, to open further to God, to open further to your soul and to understand that this process. This quickening will go on for all eternity. The soul's capacity for awakening and gathering Love and Light, of understanding the universe, of knowing God is infinite given an adequate amount of the blessing of Divine Love, the Essence of God. As this accumulates within your soul, so your perceptions deepen, your understandings change, your capacity to love heightens, broadens, and these changes will be deep and profound. You will come to know your true self in all its glory and beauty and loveliness.

Great change is coming to this world. Those things that you see in the world now, these upheavals and imbalances are but a foreshadowing of what is to come. The world will indeed heal itself, will come to a balance. Those who are willing to adapt and to accept this new way of being in the world, a way that is predicated with love and sensitivity, that embraces the Laws of God's Creation, respects and loves each other, will find this transition much less dramatic and will be able to adapt accordingly for God will guide you through these upheavals and traumas. To walk in life within the flow of God's Love, to open your ears and eyes to the Will of God, to be sincere and honest with yourselves so that you may release those burdens and disharmonies within you so that you may harmonize with this new reality, this new Light that is coming, then you will have the opportunity to lead others into Light, but you must be strong.

You must recognize the strength of your souls. You must be able to hear the Will of God, to be humble but steadfast in the Truth. So much of what man lives today is an illusion, an illusion that gives them the impression that they are safe. But what they have created has created a buffer, insulating them from the consequences of their error and darkness, confusion. For each of you, the challenge is to pull back the illusions, that curtain, and look truthfully at the state of this world and indeed the state of your own inner world. This takes strength. This takes faith. This is an act of love to see clearly how you must step forward in love, how you must seek greater harmony within yourself and within your world. Each soul upon this planet is being invited to do so, to have a deeper look, to walk a more harmonious path, rather than seeking that which gratifies them, to seek that which brings harmony to all.

Each of you, if you so desire, will have a role to teach, to inspire those who are able to listen, how to go about bringing greater harmony, how to access that infinite ocean of Love that is God's Love, how to utilise these Laws, this Truth, to strengthen and harmonize your own souls to receiving this gift of Love. First, you must be examples. You must be strong in this Light. You must conduct yourselves accordingly, for each day brings a choice, each day a challenge and a test. How will I be this day? When the world crowds around me, will I run away or will I face the world in Love, and attempt to bring harmony and peace wherever I go?

You must remember that this strength comes from God. You may willfully conduct these efforts for harmony and peace expressed from the mind, or you may go to your soul each day, drink deep of the well of Love that is presented to you and be strengthened thus, walking in the flow of God's Will, His great river of Love, being humble, generous, kind, accepting, truthful, and loving. It is in this that you do God's work. It is in who you are, a light that you carry, the words that you speak, the gestures of love that are expressed through you that you will be known and noticed. You create an opening ever so small within another because you have chosen to give love, you are strong enough to bring light.

Will you accept God's calling? Will you assist in the healing of this world? Will you carry the torch of Truth that is so simple, that Love is the most powerful force in the universe, that Love will heal all and bring what you require to bring harmony wherever you go?

Take up this torch, walk this path of Light, and we will accompany you. The angels will surround you and you will find that God will guide you in many ways, often surprising and delightful. Keep your ears and eyes open. Walk your path of Truth, be a channel of Love and there is no telling what may come in your future as God plans your destiny and you listen to His Whispers and follow His Guidance.

Restore the Harmony of Creation

Paul on September 13, 2017

I am Paul. Indeed the winds of change are blowing upon your world. Much is changing. Yet because you stick resolutely to your perceptions and routines and those conditions within you, it is difficult to discern these changes that are coming. Yet there are obvious signs, are there not? The world is changing, the planet is shifting and restructuring. Life is adjusting to what comes as many people experience the fury of Mother Nature bringing changes, responding to conditions in this world. God is bringing His Light and Love, His blessings as well to this planet.

As all these energies and conditions conspire to force humanity to change, to see differently, to live differently in this world for the crush of humanity cannot continue to trample God's glorious creation, there must be an attempt to respect and to love, to cherish this beautiful planet and allow the natural order that God has created to flourish and for mankind to be sensitive and loving towards what God has created. This will happen when mankind desires to love themselves, to love their brothers and sisters, to love all in this world. For that key ingredient of love is missing in so many places in the world and with so many souls in this world, there is a lack of love.

For with love comes a sensitivity and a sensibility that allows the soul to respond in love, to respond in harmony with creation. When this sensitivity is lost and replaced with fear and greed and a desire for self-empowerment in ways that are inconsiderate towards others, then it is not possible to truly see the glories of this world, the wonderment of life, the beauty of each and every soul that God has created. So this order must be restored, these sensibilities must come again to the consciousness of mankind. For without this harmony, without a semblance of order and balance, all can be lost with this world, all can be destroyed, plundered, ripped away by those who conspire to create order within this world that is of man's making and not God's.

This is not what life is meant to be for each beautiful soul that incarnates into this world. No, there is something far deeper, more beautiful, and more powerful that is informed by Love, not by the powers of man's reckonings. No, but by the Touch of God, the awareness of the Heavenly Father's Touch and Light that infuses the whole universe where His Love, His Glory, and Love, bring the great potentials and possibilities that are available to mankind. But it is for humanity to come to recognize their gifts and their abilities to know the Truth, to live with wisdom and harmony in this world and in the next world.

You, beautiful children, must continue to set forth with wisdom and truth, to join forces with others who also wish to bring harmony to this world, to renege the conditions that mankind has brought upon each and every one of you through eons of choices, through error of perception, through a lack of love. It is time to step forward and declare the Truth and the power of Love, the great Divine Love that God wishes to give every child in this world, but for the asking. For those who are willing to receive and desire this Touch, great wisdom and understanding and sensibility will grow within their souls and infuse their minds with all that is required to bring these teachings, this wisdom forward.

You will carry a strength, a light that others will recognize and will see your example and hear your words and know your love. In this, you will teach and heal and bring greater harmony to this world. This is God's Plan. God is recruiting each and every soul who is willing to step forward in this way, those that are drawn to God and listen to that still voice that God has placed within each one of you. Every soul has this potential to know the Will of God, to hear the Wisdom of God, to be infused by His great Love and be changed and healed so that they may rise up above the conditions of this world to a different place of deep understanding, of compassion, of knowledge and love.

This is what is needed in this world, for the world is drowning in materialism. The world does not require more of this condition where so many are numbed and ignorant and fearful and live in great error and judgment. This is not so much because they desire to be like this. It is a result of the conditions in this world that have been built up, the darkness that infuses so much, and the ignorance and the fear and the hatreds that run rampant in most places. Innocence has been lost. Innocence has been lost and replaced with these conditions that hamper the growth and evolution of mankind to a place of great joy and harmony where their efforts in a material way will bring great support, but done so in harmony and love that the material conditions of each soul upon this planet may be uplifted, that there will be harmony, that suffering will be greatly reduced, and all will be fed and clothed and housed. Their needs will be supplied but must be done in love, with great equity and balance in this world. Many of you know this. You see the need for this. You understand how the inequities of this world have caused great pain for many in this world.

But first and foremost, you must be in harmony and in close connection with God for in this way the wisdom comes. In this way, the answers to these many dilemmas will flow into your consciousness and you will feel great love and compassion for your fellow man. This is the foundation, the foundation from which you must act and move in this world, for those things that come solely from the mind have been tried over and over again in this world without much success.

For when you rely upon those natural abilities which God has given you as a blessing and only that, there is a piece missing, a very important piece that is your connection with your Heavenly Father, the wisdom that comes with your prayers and longings for God and the response that always comes and the blessings that are poured upon you. You must listen. Listen and yearn for God. Come to know the solutions for your own life and come to live the Truth as best you can.

God will guide you to many souls as you are strengthened and grow within your soul and come to accept your true selves. God will guide you to many others whom you may influence and teach, not always by words but by your presence, by who you are. This is not a time to hide away from humanity but it is a time to be strengthened, to be resolved within your own soul, forging that connection with God, unbreakable and powerful. As this is done, you will forge out into the world. God will guide you. That innate purpose that God has put within you will explode forth in all its beauty and perfection so that you will fulfill those tasks that God has placed before you.

These tasks will give you great joy and fulfillment. It will not be a burden but a glorious expression of your beautiful, beautiful soul. The world needs those who bring the Light. The world is desperate for higher Truth, greater Love. You will show those who are willing to listen where they must go to be with their Heavenly Father, to be awakened, their eyes opened, their souls to be yearning for the Touch from God, His great Love, beauty, and Light infusing, healing and enveloping.

This is coming. You will continue to rise up above the conditions of this world and find your rightful place in this Light and harmony, peace and joy, as your soul continues to shed its encrustations and be with glorifying beauty and in at-onement with God.

Make Love be Your Guiding Truth Through Earth Changes

Keea Atta Kem on September 13, 2017

I am Keea Atta Kem. I have come to speak to you about the changes in this world, the changes that have already happened and the changes that are going to happen. At present those changes within the world are not particularly noticed except when they bring some heartache to those people who are directly affected as the weather changes.

But each of you recognizes that the atmosphere of this world is changing. Something is happening that is different. It is not that long ago that you felt the continuity of your life. You had certain expectations regarding the conditions of your life and what you may come across in the future. Now, is it not true that you do not feel that continuity, that expectation, that all is different, that times are different, that what may be in this world is not so certain?

You have turned more to prayer to be with God and to find the certainty in your relationship with your Creator. This is what you must do, to be in prayer each and every day, to allow God to guide you each and every day, and to put aside those thoughts and expectations that seem to inform your life. For as you are able to step aside from these expectations, to allow God to guide and inform your day, there will indeed be surprises, unexpected opportunities, times that you may even feel confused as to what is happening around you. But this is God orchestrating your life, preparing you for what is to come, helping you to put yourself in order so that you may have the strength and the perception and the faith that will carry you through and make you a channel of Love, that you may reveal the Truth to others and may reassure many as they feel their confusion and lack of understanding.

Humanity goes blithely along in their life with the thought that all will be as it should be. Yet, these are not the conditions that are inherent in this world at this time. There are many changes in the works. Even the very energy of this Earth is changing. The magnetic polarities are shifting and the energetic compass of this earth is shifting. So, not only humanity but all of the creatures of this earth are feeling a shift, a change, and confusion. You are beginning to see in this part of the world many more animals encroaching upon your homes. This is not because they are emboldened. No, it is because they are confused and they do not have that sense of what is harmony with their existence. This too will intensify. It saddens us to see the fear that this creates and how these creatures are killed, put aside because there is not an understanding of what is happening in this world.

So it will go in the next several years, intensifying these conditions. This instrument has seen some things that are coming. We will attempt to inform those who can see, those who are open to guidance so they may prepare for what is to come. I wish I could say to you that this will not be traumatic in your lives. But unfortunately, because of the conditions that have been forged by the behaviour of mankind, there is and will be an equal response from the natural order of things in this world. This will bring dramatic change and suffering to humanity.

Those who are able to receive guidance from God and who desire the protection from God and the envelopment of God's Hand upon them will be able to navigate through these tumultuous conditions and find sanctuary and find opportunities to comfort and to teach others. For in these times of changes come opportunities as the souls seek answers to these dilemmas. God will place you in the right situations so that you may teach and give clarity and Love and you may speak of God's plans for humanity, to bring humanity back to balance and harmony.

For this is the prime operation of the universe, to seek harmony. So this must be enacted in this world even though humanity has free will and has been allowed to do as they will. There are always consequences. If you do not accept the reality of the universe and how things are ordered and how the energies and manifestations of God's Creation come together in harmony, when this is ignored, there are severe consequences. Not because God wishes to punish humanity. No, this is not the case. But when humanity ignores the Laws of Creation, there is a response.

For every action, there is a reaction. For every choice, there is a response. Humanity often does not take the road of learning Truth through contemplation, through listening to the wisdom of their souls. No, humanity often presses forward testing the limit of their world and their abilities. This is often reckless and unloving. So the consequences come as this ignorance and error doubles and redoubles in this world, bringing more intense response, more difficult situations, and more difficult conditions. Yet, God sends His angels, many spirits of Light, those of you who wish to be in harmony with God's Creation, all of you, all of these forces of Light and harmony are coming together to salvage and reclaim humanity.

So many do not see the darkness that prevails in this world. They ride upon the surface of their consciousness, seeking the fulfillment of their material desires and mental machinations and serve to hide away from Truth and harmony. So it is for you to speak the Truth, to awaken those who can and will see clearly so that in time humanity will come to a balance once more. This does not mean that their free will be suspended. No, but it means that they will use their gifts and capacities with greater wisdom and understanding for the harshness of the response that is coming will jolt mankind into an awakening that they cannot continue to seize power, to desire control, to negate Love in this world. They will see that if they are to find a harmonious life, they must serve one another in Love. They must see this beautiful planet as a whole organism that needs to be respected and that all of humanity are custodians of this beautiful planet and must tread with sensitivity and wisdom.

You cannot expect to have all your needs fulfilled and more and more and more taking from this world and never thinking of what must be returned and given back in Love for it is a closed system. Your scientists understand this fact. It cannot be put under stress ad infinitum without some response and reaction in the physical laws of this world and the nature of this beautifully created planet.

So, all of humanity, those in the scientific community, those who are spiritually inclined, those who pray to be close to God, those who are leaders in the world, those who are seeking solutions, all must come together and acknowledge that despite the great gifts of humanity, they are unable to see the solutions clearly, that it requires not only these gifts, but a humility and a desire to seek the wisdom that God has to give and to seek to Love, the power of Love, the powerful healing that Love brings and the awakening and wisdom that comes with this Love, God's Divine Love.

So you have a very powerful message to give, a message that is key and vital to the survival of humanity. You must always keep this message forefront within your consciousness and the motivations that you have in your life. That it is Love that is the most important Truth. It is Love that you must live by and enact in your life to become that example for others. In time, God will guide you to many, many different souls, scientists, religious leaders, political leaders, those who have influence in this world. You will be guided to these individuals and as your gifts increase, and abilities, as the Love grows within your soul. This will bring credibility. These individuals will sit up and take notice of you because you have something very unique and special to give. Within your soul is a deep desire to fulfill this purpose, to bring these Truths to help humanity through this trying time.

So you continue to grow and develop, to make efforts to increase your gifts and increase your Love. This we continue to support and be with you upon this journey of soul awakening, receiving the Father's Love in ever greater abundance, of opening your eyes to the truth of this world and the Truth of God's Creation, of knowing God intimately. There is no doubt. There is no worry. Each day then becomes a gift, each day will bring greater wisdom and Love, understanding, and the joy will increase within your heart. Despite all the chaos around you, you will feel the strength and peace and wisdom that comes with your soul enlivened by Love. You will be a rock in a world disrupted by conditions of change, conditions that are meant to bring back harmony and balance to this world.

So you have a great responsibility. If you are nervous about this, concerned about what God asks of you, know that God's Plan is perfect, that He has created such beautiful souls with many gifts and talents and that He is ready to launch His channels of Love in this world to bring what is required for God wishes that all humanity come to a deeper understanding of the meaning of their lives. So as you move forward the trepidation will leave you and you will be strong and clear. You will have the strength of your faith, the clarity of your soul's wisdom, the knowledge that God has His Hand upon you and there will be no doubt, no fear, no worry, only joy and a deep desire to bring Truth to this world, that God may heal this world and heal all upon this world. For this is the enactment of His Love, this wondrous, merciful Love for each and every soul and each and every part of this world. His Desire is to bring harmony. As you listen to His Will, you will understand, you will see. You will feel confident as you move forward despite all that is around you that seems topsy-turvy and confusing. You will see what is coming, which is the restoration of Light in this world.

Stop the Darkness

Noah on November 17, 2017

God bless you. I am Noah and I have spoken to you before about my story. You understand that the story that is depicted within the Bible is not correct by any measure and yet the flood did come to this world. There were great changes in this world at that time in history and the existence of humanity upon this world.

I have come to speak again about the changes that are coming, that the world will be engulfed by many changes. For God has brought His blessings to this world so that changes may take place to bring once again harmony to the natural cycles of this world and to all the creatures of this world. To give humanity a second chance that they may come together and understand what is truly important in life. That Love must reign supreme in God's kingdom on earth as in Heaven. So it must be that Love is what must be focused upon and expressed by each individual in your world.

All the many distractions and conditions of this world that do not bring Love, bring harmony, bring peace are to be wiped from this world. In the tumult of this cleansing of your world will come many opportunities for you to speak and to bring Truth and to explain to the lost souls: What is happening? Why has the world changed so radically, so powerfully that mankind cannot stand against the changes that are coming? All that man has is to listen to is God, to be with God, to understand the Will of God.

Those who open their eyes in this way will have the opportunity to start anew as the phoenix rises from the ashes. So mankind will rise from this terrible condition. Although from the mind's eye, this world has a semblance of order and peace. Yet from the perspective of the soul, these conditions are more dreadful than what is to come in change, in reconciliation, between mankind and God.

You see this darkness that is all about you. Yet, so many are unable to comprehend, to be sensitive to these conditions and be awoken. They must awaken and come to their senses and utilize the gifts that each has to know Truth, to know their true selves, what is within their hearts and in their souls. This must be in the world, an awakening of mankind, a new dawn of humanity. As you develop and hone these gifts that you so pray for and desire, you will bring the instrument of Truth to mankind. It will be an opportunity for mankind to know, to see that God has an invitation for them to come to Truth and Light and Love. This invitation will be extended to all souls in this world. It will be given out of God's Mercy and Love for every child in this world, for it is time to stop the darkness, the error, and the inhumanity. It is time for this to stop and for Love to replace these erroneous ways.

So, my friends, you must express in every way possible the Truth in your lives and your being. You must model what is required to change the conditions of this world by your own behavior, your own actions and your own thoughts and the Light within your souls.

It will be a short time before a true change comes to this world and you must pray earnestly if you wish to express this gift to the world, for there is precious little time where mankind may have the opportunity to see with clarity the Truth that is given in this way. When these extreme changes come to the world, so few will be open and receptive to these Truths. They will be caught up in great waves of change.

The time grows short my friends, very short, to make the warning bell heard, to bring your brothers and sisters to a place of understanding what is to come. This will be done by your voice and our voice; together we will sound the alarm. We will educate humanity so that they are clear as to their choices and the opportunities that God has laid before them and that they may change, that they may seek greater Light and harmony. So many innocent people will be caught up in this terrible expiation of the earth.

Can you not see that you must bring this Truth to them, all the innocents, all the children, all those who seek to do good in this world and live a good life? So many are asleep, they live life in a dream, a dream that is often repeated over and over again by the powers that be, convincing them that all is well. All is not well, my friends, all is not well. You sense this, as do many. You feel the urgency, the need to bring the power of God back to this world. The mercy and tender care and Love that comes from the Creator must find its place once again in the hearts of mankind. You have found His place within you. You know God now in all His glory and Love. Speak these Truths. Demonstrate these Truths wherever you go in the world, my friends. Though you may be rejected by many, the truly penitent souls will hear what you have to say, your Truth, and they will find their way through the turmoil and the changes.

Continue in your efforts. Prepare yourselves as I once prepared myself for what is to come. Be strong, be clear, be decisive, be humble and listen to God. God will guide you through. God will use you to save many souls on this path, this path of awakening the world. This is a gift from God, these changes, what is coming. It is a gift from God. In the end, all will find harmony and peace and the error will be dispelled, the darkness banished by the Light, the pain turned to joy, the solemnness of this world will find laughter and will know peace and not be driven by fear and anxiousness, confusion.

Life will be simpler, my friends, much better, much better. You will not lose all that you've created, no. Something will survive and other things will come to light that will make your life easier and yet in harmony with the Creation of God, His Laws. I know this sounds like I promise you much, but I tell you in the wisdom of God and the Will of God and the expression of God, all will come into harmony. There will be answers to your dilemmas. There will be joy in your hearts as you come to see this world with fresh eyes, a different perspective, and an appreciation of life here on your world, so created by God with such beauty. Your needs will be met for God meets the needs of those who walk in the path of Truth, who live by Love and wisdom, those who honor one another, who live with integrity and honesty, who seek the Light of Truth and know the blessings that God has to give to each of you. This will come. You will find your way because you will be guided by God, just as I was guided by God. So will you in these difficult times to come as many miraculous blessings will also manifest and be part of your life.

Do not fear my friends, but joyfully anticipate the healing of your world. And those who will transition into spirit what is this, truly? Is this a great loss in their lives? No, it is a merciful end to their pain, so that they too may start again in the world of spirit, that they may learn greater Truths and live a life that is of Light. So many see death as a great tragedy and in some cases, it truly is. But in many cases, the transition to spirit is a gift and a blessing, not to be feared, not to be dreaded but joyfully anticipated as you march forward in your life. In a life that never truly ends but has many beginnings.

Your time will come, but I do not see that your time will come soon. God will want to use you in many ways to bring this Truth forward, to help to reconstruct the lives of mankind in greater harmony and Truth. You have something very valuable to give to the world as your gifts expand, as these blessings continue to flow within you. You bring a greater Light, a deeper understanding, a wonderful gift to your brothers and sisters. Seek to fulfill your purpose, to walk in the Light always, to see with the eyes of your souls what must be in your life, in service, in Love, in a joyful expression of your true selves.

I too wish to speak to humanity, for I will speak to them as I have to you about the changes that are coming. I have lived through great change in the material world, in my life. I wish to bring my wisdom and my counsel to those who are willing to listen. I am now an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom, I have been there for a very long time since our brother Jesus brought this Truth to Light. Many angels will bring their wisdom and counsel and Love through this gift and through you and into the world. A great plan is being activated, God's plan for the salvation of mankind. We are a part and many are a part of this wondrous expression of God's Care and Love for humanity.

Prepare for a changing world, my friends, as much will happen within your lifetimes, an extraordinary time in the history of mankind. You will witness this and you will be a part of this and God will place you so that you may give and help facilitate the changes that must take place to bring greater harmony to this world. God has a great plan for each one of you and this plan begins to unfold in your lives, my friends. Allow it to unfold. Allow it to be expressed through each one of you, as you continue to reach closer to the Heavenly Father and come to know your true selves, your beautiful souls. This will come.

You grow so rapidly now as the angels make every effort to uplift you and God pours His blessings upon you. This brings great change within you, my friends. A new perspective, a new world opens to each one of you. Let this be so, do not resist, do not fear these changes but come forward and say to God, "I am willing to walk with you and I trust in your Will and I wish to work for the salvation of mankind." In this dedication, God will open those doors that await your acceptance and desire to serve in this way.

Who Will Bring Truth to the World?

Professor Salyards on January 21, 2018

Continue to pray for it, to long for it, to keep it in your consciousness. We will continue on our part and our dedication to this cause. We are joyful in our expectations as we continue to see the possibilities that this gift may bring, the possibilities of teaching the Truth of God's Love, of awakening humanity to a higher level of awareness, to encourage them to seek spiritual Truth, to seek God in their lives, to be better people.

So much can be given in this way that will garner the attention and the inspiration so that others may take seriously the prospect of growing within their souls and bringing greater Light to themselves. For how will the world change if not by this awakening of the soul, the faculties of the soul, and the desires of the soul, the connection of the soul to God and God to the soul? These things are important matters and so forgotten in this world by some of you.

Humanity must awaken or there is a real possibility that you shall all perish in this world by creating such inharmonious conditions that the world cannot survive the impact of the human condition.

There is time. There is time. Certain changes and influences and occurrences are about to happen that will bring their warnings and their message to awaken. You are being well prepared, my friends, to bring this message of Truth, in conjunction with the Earth changes that are coming. You will have an impact with many souls bringing this Truth, bringing hope, bringing a new way so that harmony may come to this world, that Truth may be known in all of its power and simplicity and acted upon with all sincerity and true soul desire.

Commentary on Earth Changes

Augustine on August 20, 2018

I am Augustine, your teacher. Indeed, you see the outward manifestations of man's condition, a result of humanity's lack of love for their planet, for themselves, for one another. For when love is present, there is harmony and when the human condition intensifies as it has, and the viewpoint, perspective of most in your world is that of the material and a great desire for the accumulation of wealth with no concern for the effects upon your Earth and upon your brothers and sisters, there comes outward manifestations of the disharmony that exists in your world.

I am sorry to say that it will intensify, that humanity has not yet come to a place of recognition, of love, of that which should be held sacred, your Mother Earth, each and every soul upon this planet, and understand that the Laws of Creation that govern the workings of your planet, of your souls, your spirits bodies, your physical bodies. All functions within the workings of the Laws of Creation. Yet, the power that mankind wields in the world because each of you has the gift of free will, is great enough to upset the balance in your world. The momentum of this imbalance builds and carries with it a great destructive force. As you see, the fires burn, the earth rumbles, the waters rise, all manner of havoc upon the world continues to take place. Yet, humanity buries its head in the sand, too fearful to look, too apathetic to act.

The lack of love in your world continues to fuel the unfortunate circumstances that you see yourselves in. In the minds of so many, they wish to point fingers and blame others. Yet, you are all complicit in these conditions to some degree. This is because the momentum and power of the condition of humanity are so great that it is indeed very difficult to stop and correct this terrible imbalance in the world.

We, from the Celestial Heavens, have great compassion for you, seeing as we do the many layers of darkness and inhumanity, of lack of love. It is truly dark and discouraging for us and for you. Yet we soldier on, do we not? We continue to pray for this world and to act where we may bring light and healing and comfort in the world, as do you in your efforts to help nullify these conditions and bring light.

I do not wish to discourage you in this regard. I wish to encourage you for God has a plan for the salvation of mankind. It is a vast plan and it is in motion. I wish to give you hope, but I cannot tell you that the changes that are coming and the reactions that will be felt in your world will not make the transition from the disharmony to harmony easy for anyone in your world. But those who have nourished their souls, who have gathered wisdom, who are strong and of good faith will be able to weather these storms more readily and, in their way, with their gifts and blessings, will be a great channel for change, for light, for healing and comfort.

You must pray fervently for the inflow of the great Divine Love of God. For without this gift, you are weak and incapable of being used as a channel, an instrument for change and love in the world. It is your prayers, most of all your prayers that will help and assist God in making these changes and bringing the balance and harmony back to your world.

Do not pray out of fear. Do not pray out of guilt. Pray with faith and joy. For it is in this opening and joyful acknowledgment of God, receiving His Essence within, that the power required to heal your world will come to each soul who sets himself a task of prayer, who puts above all else the necessity to be in alignment with God and to receive the great blessings of His soul.

When all these changes and adjustments come to pass, peace again will come to this world. Who will be a part of those? Who are wise enough, attuned enough, and strong enough to lead their brothers and sisters to the wisdom that is required, to the knowledge that exists but is unknown, and to the strength and tenacity to rebuild in light and harmony? Who is willing?

It will not be those who are in power at this time for this illusion will be swept away. Those who have lived a life that is filled with God and Truth and Love will be protected by God's Hand, shown the way forward, given what is required to survive and to flourish in the dawning awakening and healing of this world. Yes, what you see before you in these earthly changes, merely foreshadows what is to come.

We, in spirit, have worked diligently to try to assist mankind in avoiding these unfortunate circumstances and yet, a deaf ear is given to the greater wisdom of the angels and the higher spirits. As has been the case from the beginning, humanity has felt that it has all the answers, all the power it needs, all the latitude and the resources to go alone into this world and make it in their own image. This is a grave mistake, one that carries deeply unfortunate consequences. For mankind is not complete without God.

Within humanity are a great many potentials and gifts, a soul that is capable of communing and communicating with God. Yet these virtuous resources, these wondrous abilities, these gifts that God has given humanity, are very much ignored and misunderstood. For those who take on religious life, it also carries with it much error and misunderstanding of the Laws of God's Creation. This too has set humanity on a dark road. A road that on one hand encourages prayer and connection with God, but on the other hand, seeks control and uses energies that are unloving, concepts that in many cases are evil, to guide humanity.

You are very blessed to be free of these conditions, to seek a higher road, to know the avenue which you must walk to at-onement with God. In this way, you have brought into yourself deep wisdom, an understanding of the soul, a relationship with your Heavenly Father that is an important asset in your life and has the potential to help many in their struggles towards truth, healing, and light. You must share these Truths with others. You must encourage your brothers and sisters to open their hearts to God, to seek His blessings in all their abundance, to come to know God and His Love intimately, to be in the light. In this way, all that is coming will not blow you to the ground and sweep you away. No, you will stand steadfast and you will show the way to many others how to avoid the worst of these conditions, how to change your life to a life more in harmony with God's Creation and His Love.

We have prepared many of you for many years for this task. The work begins in earnest. Although you do not see much change, as of yet, God does not bring such destructive forces all at once. It comes gradually, allowing adjustment but it will come inevitably for mankind has made his choice and has chosen to stand alone, in many ways. So, the assistance that is offered by God and His angels is ignored, unseen, unacknowledged, not because mankind has been given the choice, but because the choice is not known, nor acknowledged and this is in itself a great tragedy.

This is why we ask you to speak of this choice in the world, to awaken those you can from their slumbers so that they may see that the time for action, for prayer, for efforts to bring wisdom into your souls, is now. There is no other way. There is no other way. For the forces that are coming, bringing the changes that are inevitable, are too great for humanity to acquiesce. It is for God to quell these fires, floods, earthquakes, and all forms of catastrophes. Humanity is without the power, the knowledge, the wisdom and the strength to change this dreadful onslaught.

These conditions have been created for many, many years, millennia upon millennia. You live in a time where you will see that the flood of God's Living Waters will push back the darkness and bring peace again to your world. You will witness this in your lifetime and you will weep with joy after all has been rectified and come to harmony. This is not a sad time, but a time to rejoice for the healing of your world. It is coming.

Pray. Pray for yourselves, pray for your children, pray for your loved ones, pray for this world for God wants many of His children to continue to flourish within this beautiful creation of a world. They shall do so, provided they come to God in a deep desire to know Him and to be in harmony with Him.

Those who will not survive these conditions will continue to grow and have their life in the world of spirit. In God's Love and Mercy for mankind, there is always a way towards the Light. None are condemned to darkness but given ample opportunity to be in the Light, to flourish in Love. So, it is in this world. Many opportunities are given but few respond in ways that bring change and healing, growth of the soul, awakening, and wisdom. Yet, this must come and will come in these coming times.

I am sorry to be so serious tonight. Indeed, our desire is to encourage you, to show you the way to greater Light but I see you recognize the seriousness of your Earth condition and I wish to acknowledge that your awareness, your budding awareness, can be your strength and will bring greater wisdom. You cannot hide and you cannot ignore what is coming. Instead, you must pray and seek guidance and seek God's Love and comfort. His Light shall guide you and protect you. His Hand upon you is firm. His desire for you is for the utmost and greatest blessing in your life. As long as you carry the faith and trust that this will be so, then, it shall be so.

May the power of God's Love bring deep peace to you and a firm understanding and awareness that all moves towards harmony and light and in time, all will be saved, their salvation assured, either in the Light of the natural love or the glory of the Divine Love. Their souls shall find Light and shall awaken to Truth.

A Declaration Proclaiming the Beginning of a New Era of Light

Isaiah on August 29, 2018

God is infecting the world with Love. He pours His Love into many parts of your world creating great change for individuals and for the many races of this world, changes that will come in surprising ways. Those who feel animosity towards others shall lay this down at God's Feet and will come to embrace their brothers and sisters, to see all as equals and beloved.

The world is about to change. Great change is coming and you will witness this in your lives and you will be a part of it in your gifts and talents imbued by God as you truly come to know the nature of your own souls, as you truly come to know the Will of God through receiving this great gift of Love.

Spend each day absorbing this gift that it may be a powerful catalyst for the awakening of your souls, for opening your eyes and greeting the world in love, that you may go out into the world and embrace your brothers and sisters and live and express this great gift. This message from God is "Children, the way of the world must be of love and acceptance that you may all live together in harmony. The way of mankind and their ways of power and lack of love is finished. This begins a new era, an era that you have all incarnated into to be instruments, harbingers of Truth and Love and Light. This shall flow through you. Mighty torrents of Light and Love will flow through you as you continue to reach to your heavenly Father and reach down from His great Soul, the Living Waters of Love that shall pour through you into this world, flooding this world in Light.”

There are many being prepared, many who have themselves chosen this path and this time to be God’s instruments of change in the world. Great change is coming and you all are swept along in God’s mighty river of Love. You shall all know your purpose and work on behalf of the heavenly Father. It shall be clear and powerful and bring great joy to each one of you and all who engage in this beautiful awakening of mankind for the change shall touch every soul upon this world. The clarion call of God will reverberate within the souls of mankind and elicit the response, as each soul will be given the choice to awaken or to fall away, to become alive in their souls or fall away.

This is the choice. This is the clarion call of your Heavenly Father, that your souls may gain its rightful place in Light and that your gifts of the soul may awaken and become evident in this world. That you, each one of you, may step forward in the days to come and declare the Truth and live the Truth and reach out to your brothers and sisters in Love and Truth and speak on behalf of God. Come and be in the Light. Come, my brother. Come, my sister. Come, children all and be in the Light of Truth and receive the great gift and benediction upon your souls that you may awaken and come to new life, a new era of Light.

Challenging Earth Changes Bring Greater Light and Harmony to Humanity

Augustine on November 29, 2018

I am Augustine. You know no true adversity. Your life is well insulated from true adversity. You want for nothing. You have all that you require to be in God’s Grace. You are comfortable in your lives. Although there are imperfections, some difficulties, and challenges, compared to many in your world, you live a life that is ideal. At times, we who are in charge of your progression and work and soul awakening worry that when true adversity comes your way, that you are strong enough to withhold against the onslaught of the chaotic world in which you live.

It is human to crave comfort and ease and to seek to fulfil the needs and desires that you have. We would not deny you your comfort. But there will come a time when this world will be incapable of supplying such richness of experience, comfort, and ease, for in the transition that is coming, there will be challenges. What is easy today will not be so in the future. We hope that you will not be disillusioned by these challenges and be strong enough to go to God to receive what you require, the strengthening, the peace, the love that will assist you in navigating through the chaos of the world.

Your lives are rich. You have such ease of travel and such wonderful foods, shelter, and comforts available to you. Of course, all these things come at a price. As you well know, the price that humanity is paying for its indulgences in the luxuries of life is the degradation of your planet. God's Creation suffers as you continue to consume and seek out the fulfilment of your material needs and desires.

I know that you see this inequity in the world. I know that you understand that things cannot continue to function as it is. I say to you that the time is coming when all the structures of man, so intricately put into place to insulate you from the harshness of life, will crumble and not be of great use to you. This I'm sure brings fear into your heart, a sense of concern. For each of you is invested in having lives that are comfortable and secure.

I cannot tell you that you will be immune from the consequences of earthly changes, for no one will be immune. No one will be able to carry on as they have in such extremes of materialism that is out of harmony with the Laws of God's Creation. This is not so much your conscious doing, this condition of imbalance, rather it is the collective consequence of all the souls who inhabit your world, each needing from the world, each taking from the world. It is indeed a dilemma, one which you cannot solve nor could the mass of humanity solve. But it is God's intention to solve this situation. For harmony must be attained in order to sustain this world.

There will never be perfect harmony in your world. It is too dynamic for such things. There is too much in play for the world to come to a place of complete harmony. But there are great forces at work that will bring into play the energies and shifts and conditions in your world that will bring a semblance of balance and harmony.

This is God's work, His plan for the salvation of mankind. It plays out at this very moment as you continue to experience conditions and situations in your world that grab your attention, that are overly dramatic, as your world is in tumult and continues to be unpredictable compared to years past. This will intensify, these situations, these calamities of the weather, of the earth and the air, and of the waters, as you continue to add and add elements that are not in harmony with nature. So there is a response and a reaction, bringing fires and floods, rumblings of the Earth. So this will continue and, in time, will wipe away these structures of men, designed to feed their greed rather than bring all that is required for the harmony of the existence of life in your world. But in time, harmony will be struck.

You will see and experience and witness, in your own lifetime, a miracle of the transformation of your world into greater light and harmony. It will not come in an instant, easily attained. No, there will be consequences and struggles. That which man relied on for so long, bringing you comfort, may be nonexistent in the future. But in its place, a simpler life will come, but a life in which your needs will be met and your spiritual condition will be of a greater magnitude and harmony, bringing less of a need for the distractions and comforts of this world for you will be in harmony with God and know and feel and experience a sense of peace, deep peace.

Your physical discomforts and problems will be transformed by this light. Much of what you suffer now will be released and replaced by a body that is more in harmony with God's creation. A spirituality that will be deep and constant in your life, a sense of your relationship with God, will be more intense and love will flow. So though you may release much of your needs for the material, it will be replaced by these deep and beautiful blessings from God.

Unfortunately, many will not accept this gift and release their hold upon their need for power and material. These lost souls will not survive these changes in the world. This is why we are working so diligently with you, my friends, to put the word into the minds of as many as possible, that changes are coming, that God is peeling the bells that will awaken humankind and be given a choice to step towards light or transition to the world of spirit. These are serious matters, I know. We have touched upon this many times. We continue to reiterate this call for greater light, for you to be strengthened and of greater faith, so that you may indeed not only secure for yourself a life that is viable in a new world, but also to teach and show others the way to God.

Yes, much is given to you. So much is given in love, to help to awaken your gifts and your soul. This is not only for your benefit, for the benefit of many others who will look towards you. Where much is given, much is expected. Do not assume that you may sidestep these difficult transitions in your world. But be aware that God will guide you, that God will protect you from the worst of these things, provided you are of great faith and trust. Understand that these things bring forth the awakening of humanity and the healing of your world.

The power of God's Touch upon your world is immense. It grows with each day. It brings the power necessary for this transformation to take place. You feel a sense, a disconnection with the world at times, that those things that were so important to you in the past are no longer of such importance. This is because God is helping you to detach from these old ideas, concepts, perceptions, and habits, so that you may be strong enough to enter into this new situation without much anguish and pain. Allow this to be. Accept this new perspective. Be close to God. Continue in your prayers. Continue to awaken in your souls and to know the power of God's Love which, in itself, brings such a powerful transformation. So all will change and grow and evolve in this light of God's Touch upon the Earth. You will find your way, my friends. You will find your way.

There is nothing to fear, rather, a sense of gratitude, rejoicing in the healing of your world through love, a reorganization of your priorities and sense of what is important, that someday soon your world will be based upon the currency of love, that you will all help one another in this world, and that God will guide you to the resources that you require and need, to be in harmony with His laws and to exist upon this world.

Much will be changing. Much is changing. You must change with it and awaken to receive the dawning new age of light. Consider these things, my friends. Consider how you may step forward in your world in harmony and peace, in love and joy.

Nurturing This Center of Light Will Open Many Doors in The Future

Augustine on January 04, 2019

I am your teacher Augustine. The pace of change in your world is quickening and the pace of change within your own lives is following suit, quickening as well. Many blessings are coming to you, each one of you, in order to bolster your efforts to serve humanity and to adjust to the coming times, the shifts, and changes that are manifesting in your world.

So you have been summoned together to help bring to reality a Centre of Light in your world that through your prayers and efforts. You will help to construct a powerful condition of Light in this place that you call your church. God has summoned you and instructed you to follow your guidance, the knowings of your soul, to help clear all obstructions and conditions within this place, to usher in a new era for your church that is in greater alignment with God, has greater Light within, and many blessings forthcoming.

What is coming in your world are serious matters and for you to build a fortress of Light for those souls who are in need of shelter from the storms of a changing world. You must be strong. You must be willing to give of your hearts, to be a loving channel for whoever comes through your door, to not turn those aside who may be challenging to you but to accept and love, to trust that God guides each soul into your midst, that God brings many opportunities to serve through this place that is a part of His plan for the salvation of mankind.

Yes, this Centre of Light is the beginning of a tremendous project which we will all engage within that will have an outreach that will spread around this world. Though on the surface, this small church with its humble participants is like any other, and yet, beneath the superficial is something tremendous and beautiful that is beginning to germinate within this place. What will come of this will surprise all of you. How this will be surprising, machinations of the emergence of this beautiful and powerful blessing from God will be like nothing that you have experienced. It will awaken many of you to the possibilities of God's Touch and will expand out and bless many in your world.

So your commitment today is a commitment to something far deeper and greater than what you imagined. God is inspiring many to make such commitments in your world. To place their feet in the right place, the right environment for this emergent light and truth to manifest in your world.

Each of you has heard the calling that God has placed within your souls, to awaken, to come together in loving commitment and deep faith and soulful knowings that you may work together towards these ends. For as I have said, there is much change coming in your world and these places of Light will be shelters for many in this great storm and upheaval in your world.

You are all strong enough to walk this path together, to gather others by your side, to enlist your brothers and sisters who in their own souls hear the bell toll bringing you all to service, awakening your gifts, awakening your beating hearts and expanding souls. Each will play their part. Each will see clearly the road they must take. Each will find great joy in these efforts.

Yes, this plan will continue for many years, each step, each day unfolding, bringing to reality this beautiful awakening of mankind. Each of you will be gifted with many insights as to what all of these events are meant to do. You will be able to assist your brothers and sisters with your understanding, your perceptions so as to explain that through the upheavals comes new life, new possibilities, wiping away all the darkness, inequities, pain, and anger.

All the willful places within each heart will be expunged and a new beginning will be given as a gift from God. You will all be a part of the healing of this world. Though you see your parts in support of this little church, it is only the beginning, a small step towards many other steps. But this step, this simple commitment, this loving outreach to the souls who come into your circle and midst is a crucial step that will ignite many other opportunities, many doors to open, many possibilities to be realized.

For as you know, the Law of Free Will is powerful and thus your choices are powerful. To choose light, to choose service and love, to band together as you have in prayer, to ask to be guided and supported, to listen to God's Will, you place your feet upon a path of Light and Love that shall lead to many, many other opportunities to serve your Heavenly Father.

How these choices come unbidden and in surprising ways, but indeed God's plan is beautiful, is it not? God's Wisdom is perfect. God's Love is endless. You will all find your ways. Is this not a great gift that you have each other in loving support, in prayerful support of your efforts, in actions done in love, sharing your insights and wisdom, proclaiming Truth in simple and unambiguous ways, recognizing the power of love to change all, to heal all, to awaken all for this is within in you?

The Fate of This World Rests Upon Each Soul's Choice

Andrew on January 13, 2019

The fate of the world rests upon each soul and the choices that they make in this world. As a soul aspires to be in the Light and does so in efforts to be in communion with the Creator, then they will be uplifted and healed and blessed. The change in the world that you all desire, that we in spirit all desire, comes with each individual soul awakening and coming to a place of understanding their true selves. Until a soul is awakened, it cannot truly know itself, cannot truly be aware of all the beautiful aspects and creative potentials that God has placed within each individual.

For many, they are focused upon the ruminations and actions of the mind, the material mind, and never come to know these other parts and elements within them. This is indeed a sad state of affairs for you are meant to live in this world fully awake and alive, to be in harmony with your own creation, your own being. In this way, many of the mysteries and dilemmas that are faced by humanity may be reconciled and solved in love.

Indeed you have a choice, but you must come to God in order for this awakening, this blessing that is the Divine Love, to flow into your soul. In this way, this is God's recognition of you, of your existence, your soul. In this way, you become aware and come to know the beauty of your own soul, this gift of Love from God who loves you more than you can possibly understand.

Yet, the availability, the flow of this Love is endless. The soul may expand and be transformed in this Light for all eternity. To begin that journey now is to begin a journey towards at-onement with God. In at-onement, there is ecstatic joy, deep bliss, wondrous knowings, and many experiences of the soul. For the soul awakened in Love has its own ways of knowing, seeing, perceiving and understanding Creation. It is a journey, a wondrous journey. God invites every soul, no matter their condition, their past, whatever may burden them. God's Love is still available and is waiting.

May you ask for this gift and may you come to know and understand the power, the true power of Love and be blessed deeply within your soul.

How Can Diverse Beliefs Be Unified?

Augustine on January 26, 2019

Now our daughter has a question regarding how the different perspectives and individuals in our world, your world, will come together in harmony. It is a good question, absolutely, a good question because as you see the variations and differences in perspectives in the world and how the minds of humanity continue to take great pleasure and pride and desire to delineate their perspective from another, there is so much fear in the world, so much longing for recognition because so few feel loved and clamour for those who will acknowledge them. So many bear down with their opinions and ideas to any who will listen. They challenge those in the world who they believe are not in harmony with truth. So it has been for millennia in your world, this terrible condition of fear and judgment, of desire for power, a desire to be right, to be filled with a sense of self that is based upon the needs of the mind rather than the gentle Love of the soul.

But we have indicated that the world is changing. In this process of change, many conventions and ideas will be turned on their head. There will be great confusion and disorientation that many will feel. Those who have felt that they understand and recognize the structure and make-up of your world will have their theories and ideas dissolve in front of them as new realities take shape on this planet. In this trauma and these difficulties and this adjustment to a new world, the old anchors of truth, platforms of thought, and ideas of spirituality will not be applicable.

God will bring greater Truth to humanity, great waves of Love, upliftment, healing to the many souls upon your world. In these manifestations and blessings and gifts, there will come a new awakening where the soul may be recognized and the mind will take its place as a secondary way of understanding Truth.

I know this sounds rather fantastic to you all and that the possibility of such things in your world seems unlikely. But I tell you and have told you a number of times, do not underestimate the power of God's Love and the power of His Touch upon your world and that many, many things are possible. Though your minds may reject this and you may feel fear rather than joy in regards to the contemplation of these changes, in your soul you know and will come to recognize as these changes progress, the harmony and necessity for the world to change. You who seek change for this world, who seek greater love, who seek to know your own souls will be called upon to teach this to your brothers and sisters.

Yes, there will be others who may have cloaked their ideals, their mindful understandings with thoughts that are of what we call the natural love, but as these changes take place, as the earthly conditions fall away, these beautiful souls will recognize their own potentials and their own beauty.

There is a great plan. There is a great plan for the awakening of mankind and I know you wonder and you contemplate this tremendous change in your lives and in the life of this world. I say to you, if you have thoughts that are deep dilemmas, if you have doubts, if you worry and fret about these things, turn to the strength that is the faith within you that comes from your soul and comes from God and you will feel a deep sense of peace and these things will not clutter your minds with questions that are unanswerable at this time for the answers will come as the changes proceed and unfold in all of your lives. The wisdom of your souls will know what action is to be taken, what response to the changing conditions of your world.

This is like nothing you have ever experienced. It cannot be constructed in your mind and made real in your minds. It must come from the soul awakening and understanding of these matters. In this way, the wisdom of your soul and the guidance from God combined with your desire to serve humanity in love will guide your way and will bring you to that place of peace.

Questions Regarding Earth Changes

Augustine on January 26, 2019

Your world is in turmoil. It continues to be in the darkness of this turmoil. Conditions of darkness continue to grow and accelerate in their effects upon your world bringing great pain and disharmony to many places in your world. We who observe from lofty places see the complexities of these conditions in a similar way that your mechanisms in space see the weather patterns of the world. Our eyes see similarly the patterns of the human conditions swirling about on your planet. From this, like those who give prognostications of the weather, so we attempt to give prognostications of the coming conditions that will challenge and disrupt the natural order of your world.

Using our soul perceptions, using what we receive in inspiration and guidance from God, empowered by His Love, we continue to speculate upon the future. For as your guardians, those who are deeply concerned for your welfare and the welfare of all mankind, we seek to know the answers to these deeper dilemmas just as you wish to know the answers to your own personal dilemmas. Our perspective is that of the world. We see much change coming, many responses from the very workings of your world that are an attempt to heal and rebalance what is upset and in turmoil.

We see the difficulties that are coming as the accumulation of dark energies that continue to roil about in the human condition. We see God's desire. We sense His desire to bring healing to your planet, to bring greater harmony and unity and wisdom to your world so that each soul may have a greater possibility of knowing Truth, of choosing Light, of being in a place that is in harmony with God's Will and creation for each one.

So you see, these many layers of energies and movements, of interactions of the elements of your world, the co-creative efforts of many individuals in your world that are both light and darkness, all of these complex conditions conspire to carry your world deeper into chaos, deeper into a point where all must shift and change towards Light and healing rather than the continuation of these conditions that we see so clearly upon your world. At times, we give you as clear a perspective as we can regarding these things. We try to guide, to support, to protect, and to inform each of you as you are in motion, as is everything in your world, interacting, choosing, formulating, and planning your next steps.

Indeed, you navigate difficult and erratic conditions that to you, through the eyes of your material selves and through your senses, seem rather simple rather than the complexities that we see and acknowledge. Our messages to you reflect the depth of the conditions that we detect and understand with each moment as time passes. Thus, we cannot give to you and convey to you a complete picture and that which we give and is often interpreted and somewhat distorted by those who valiantly step forward as channels. So you see our dilemma. To bring truth and clarity is our goal, as is your goal to receive truth and clarity, to act together in this flow of Light, of Love that is connected to God's Will.

The chaos of the world continues to influence your understanding of your present and future. As such, our ability to bring clarity is often challenged because of the intensity and erratic nature of the earthly conditions.

The easiest way to understand what you must do is to be in alignment with God with each day for the complexities and the challenges of one day are great enough for a soul learning to be in alignment with God. Thus, we often encourage you to walk with God each day in faith and trust in what God guides you to do.

We realize that you desire to make plans for the future, that these practical considerations must be taken seriously and applied studiously to your efforts. In this, I can only say that you are the master of your own ship. We may tell you what is on the horizon. We may encourage you in certain directions so that your journey is not only smoother but more effective as a channel of Love in the world but we cannot steer the ship for you. This is your responsibility and it is a gift from God that you have within you a compass that will guide you through, along the direction that God intends for you, your path in life. Yet, we do warn and encourage, guide, and expound upon the changing conditions in your world. In all of this guidance, I urge you to take it to your heart, to test whatever is given as Truth, to walk in the Light, the joyous Light of your at-onement with God. This is the only true compass and guidance that continues to uphold and truly direct.

As we attempt to bring further assistance, clarity to you through instruments and mediums, through inspiration, through many forms of communication to you, remember that the conditions of your world will invariably distort to some degree what is given. The fog of these conditions may at times be thick and impenetrable and at other times, a mist that brings a measure of clarity and understanding. So you must forgive the inaccuracies of guidance regarding specific events in your world. Often one comes to see these particular things as inevitable and precise. This is the way the human mind works and needs to lay down solid ground in order to understand the Truth. But I tell you, in terms of changing world conditions, nothing is solid nor is it easily predicted. Yet, we try to inform you as best we can with the understanding that you are, in many respects, somewhat inhibited in your ability to know and receive this type of guidance from us.

I cannot say that you have been led astray. I'm sorry to say that much that we predict will come to be in time but time is fluid and events are fluid and so we cannot with all surety predict the future for any of you. We can give you some understanding of what we see, the trends and flow upon this river of time but our understanding of time is very different from yours. We do not experience the cycles of day and night, the rhythms of your waking and sleeping. This is not our reality.

Ours is an expanded experience of life that would be very difficult to explain to you. Yet, as you continue to open your souls, awaken to the reality of God, and know the gifts that lay within you, you will come to see your life, this world, your reality in a way that is in greater alignment with us than with the paradigm of your world.

I do not know if I have clarified this question for you, but my wish is that you understand the complexities and the subtleties and the layers of understanding the flow and ebb of events in your world. We try to warn, to encourage, to prepare you for what is inevitable. In your human way, you thirst for details, you seek to be comforted, you seek to release yourself from fearful thoughts and concerns in times such as these. We who are with you attempt to do what you wish, which is for us to be close, for you to feel safe, for all to be in love and joy and harmony. For the most part, it is so.

You must be strong, strong and attuned to God, able to weather any storm, able to be a strong influence and light in the world so you may comfort many others and bring Truth. This we know, God has a plan for the salvation of mankind. He will not allow the ship to be dashed upon the rocks and for all to be lost. His plan is for the salvation of mankind, to bring healing to this world, to bring peace to this world. This you have prayed for many times and this within your souls, you have beseeched God to be a part of this healing, to assist God in this great awakening and shift of your world.

Each of you will indeed find your place within this wondrous plan. We will indeed protect and ensure that you may have the opportunities to serve humanity in times of crisis and confusion. You will be the rock that others may lean upon in difficult times. You will be the source of the new template that mankind must come to accept and work with for the regeneration of light in this world, for harmony and peace to be so.

I wish for you to be assured and confident, to be at peace and know that all is well in hand. Though we cannot give you details of what is to come, we can assure you that the power of your faith and light within your soul and the desire that you have to serve and be in alignment with God's Will, will protect you and guide you through these coming changes. God needs His servants on Earth to walk with their brothers and sisters with the strength and the beauty in a loving expression that will bring much comfort and truth to many.

Yes, God has blessed you deeply. You are truly loved. You walk upon the high road seeking all that is of the highest. In this, you are precious and beloved souls in your world. God will assure your future in Light. This is what you must focus upon. Yes, when you feel guided to step forward to make plans and within your heart, there is not a warning, a sense of apprehension, then I would encourage you to make your plans, to assume that all is well in God's Will and Universe.

Though we cannot, nor can anyone, guarantee the fulfillment of your intentions, it is indeed important that you trust in your guidance. In all likelihood, your guidance will be fulfilled and your efforts will bring Light. Do not hold yourself back with feelings of doubt and fear, wondering whether you are safe, wondering whether you are being led down the garden path, as you say, and are wrong in your assumptions. Every effort that you make in Light with the intention to serve God, to serve humanity will bring some measure of blessings. Even when your plans go awry, there are opportunities to learn and grow, to awaken yet greater parts of yourself, and strengthen your wisdom and your resolve.

That Which is Not in Harmony with God's Creation Will Fall Away

Tahlia on March 10, 2019

I come with a healing blessing for you. I come to tell you, my friends, that you must be strong. I come to tell you that there are great changes coming for each one of you, that this comfortable life that you live will be affected by the storms that are coming on the horizon, that there is much you need to do to prepare yourself. You need to be strong, prayerful, and attuned to the Creator. God will use you in many startling ways, unanticipated ways to help your brothers and sisters through these changing times, through transitional times.

All will not be lost, my friends. Rather that which is not in harmony with God's Creation and Laws will fall away, giving opportunity for great and deep inspiration and openings of guidance and understanding that will indeed preserve a semblance of comfort, of life that is in harmony with God, and give rise to much that will enhance your lives but still be in harmony with God's Laws, a great healing of the Earth, something that many have been praying for, a deeper wisdom for those who are willing to listen. Again, many have prayed for this and for Love. Love will anchor you and stabilize your lives in a world that is constantly changing. Love will renew your hearts. Love will open the channels of understanding and truth. Love will strengthen you and bring to you what you require to weather the storms and to bring wisdom and what is required to build anew.

Your world is a dynamic and changing place. To assume that all will stay as it is is naïve. You have seen in your own lives how changing conditions have helped you, assisted you to learn, to grow, and to strengthen in wisdom and love. So it will be with all of this Earth, wherever you may be, whatever place the soul may reside, there will be change and there will be healing.

In time, a deep peace will cover the Earth, a lasting peace. All the threats and inhumane conditions that have been created over millennia will fall away and be absorbed in the changing conditions that are coming. Those who are willing to awaken to a new era, a new time, will move forth in the world and bring Truth and bring what is needed in wisdom to help recreate this world that is more in harmony with God and less a reflection of the human condition.

This comes, my friends. You see things changing before your eyes. You sense that the old is no longer applicable and the day is coming and flowing upon you and reaching many places in your world that have been shielded against God by the human condition. So these barriers will be removed. These conditions will dissipate. In their place will come inspiration, love, wisdom, and light. Have you not all been praying for this, my friends? Praying for the world to awaken, awaken to God, awaken to their true destiny, awaken in such a way that they may live the Truth and know deep Love? This is coming.

So we work diligently to awaken you, my friends, as the precursor to that which must come and will come in good time. Know the change is coming within you, each of you. Know that there is a great shift of thought, of perception, of understanding, of knowing your own true self. In this way, you will understand what is coming and be able to interpret the signs and show your brothers and sisters. Why? For what purpose is this great change that will disrupt so much? It is a gift and a blessing from God.

You will be joyed as to the outcomes. You will accept that which is difficult in the transition and do so because within your heart of hearts you know that this is what is right and meant to be in this world. So we strengthen you, my friends. We inform you and we bless you. We heal you and bring all the resources of heaven to bear upon you in such abundance so that you are prepared and ready for what is to come.

May God bless you on your journey of awakening. May God give you all the resources that you require to be able to navigate the changes that are coming and help all whom you love, all who are in your life, and many more who will be asking and seeking truth and understanding what is coming.

God bless you, my friends and I am Tahlia. I will bring you my strength to assist you where it is needed. Many, many more, many, many more who reside in the Celestials will be working with you. God's plan unfolds and God's plan is great. God's plan is insurmountable by the human condition. It will be overcome by Love, by the Touch of God, by the power of Grace, by the power of the natural world to right itself. Many, many elements are conspiring to bring change. It is not punishment. It is merely a response to God's Will, your prayers, the need for healing and balance. God does not allow His creatures and Creation to overrun the natural laws that He has in place. There is always correction and balance coming in order to circumvent the power of humanity given the gift of free will.

Remember the power of your own choices, my friends. Remember that everything you do has consequences that you may choose with wisdom and love, that you may walk in Grace, that your footfalls may be gentle, that your actions may be of love, and that you may follow the Grace and Wisdom and Truth of God's Creation and Love for you.

Change is Upon This World

Seretta Kem on March 24, 2019

Change is upon this world of yours as the Will of God continues to bring blessings and energies, initiatives that will bring change to your world. As these changes intensify, as conditions become more diverse, even chaotic, you will be called upon, my brothers and sisters in this world, to serve, to be agents of change, to be teachers and healers, to bring Truth and love, comfort to many.

You continue to prepare yourselves. You continue to wonder as to what the future may bring. I say to you, my friends, be in the flow of God's Love. Allow yourself to awaken. The slumber that most of humanity continues to be within is falling away from you, and a new clarity and sense of purpose emerges as your souls awaken and are blessed by the Father's Love. You will be called, my friends. You will be called in service as you have seen with the dear souls who have traveled and answered the call, so will you. Many of you answer this call and find yourselves in places that are unknown to you now but will come to be known. You will be used to establish Circles and Centres of Light, Portals, blessings, expanding this Lattice of Light in the world.

There is so much work to do, my friends. God has a deep desire to see his children come into Light and wakefulness and Truth, that the world may be imbued with the Light of Love. The affairs of men will be conducted with wisdom and there will be compassion for all. You must exemplify these Truths, beloved souls, channels of Love, beacons of Light.

As you venture forth in the world, each day promises opportunities to serve, to grow, to learn. God blesses you deeply. Your souls begin to awaken to their potentials and the subtleties and complexities of God, God's Creation, your world, our world. All of these things will come with your awakening. You will see the grandeur, the complexity, the power, and the glory and the light and the joy of God's Creation. You will convey your joy and your perceptions to those who are blind and asleep. The opportunities will be yours to help awaken those who are willing, who have a desire within their souls to know the Truth.

We will work closely with you. We already do. The intensity and impact of our rapport with you will be felt by you and by those around you. The atmosphere will be charged with Love. The possibilities that come with your awakened soul and our fellowship together will bring many manifestations, signs, and portents in the future that will help to calm the troubled waters, to awaken many souls, to assure these souls that God loves them. You will convey this Love as God's instrument. You will walk in the world in a way that is different from many, and yet many souls will be drawn and wish to have what you possess. Your serenity, your love, your comforting embrace, your wisdom, and your light will draw many. You are just upon the threshold of deep awakenings and knowings and experiences with God.

God is Preparing Many Souls for What is Coming

Andrew on April 01, 2019

Beloved souls, it is Andrew. Pulses and waves of God's Love continue to strike this Earth, uplifting humanity, bringing about the conditions for change in this world. I know that your prayers to be with God have intensified as a result of these conditions that come and will intensify in time. God is preparing the many souls for what is coming. God is opening many doors for each one of you so that you may awaken within your souls. As you sit in these Portals of Light, the blessings that come are intense, powerful, with the intent of awakening your souls, provided you open and receive this great gift of God's Love.

There is much that yearns to awaken within your souls. God truly desires that the potentials that have been laid within your souls may be realized. For with each opening, with each new gift that comes, the deeper wisdom that grows within you. The perceptions, keen and clear, will be a great gift for those of you who serve humanity in the future. It is important that each of you are earnest in your prayers and redoubles your efforts to receive this gift of Love for time is of the essence.

You must be ready to serve in a multitude of ways so that when the call comes, you will be clear channels of the Father's Love, awakened in His Love, sure-footed as you walk in this world, clear and beautiful channels open to God's guidance, direction, carrying the torch of Truth and Love, strong in Light, that your faith may be unwavering, that your capacity to serve may be deep, powerful. For many of you, we have prepared you for a number of years, and we continue to do so. We wish for you to be focused upon this task of releasing all conditions that are not of God, of receiving ever-greater portions of God's Love within your souls, of allowing what it is that God wishes to give you to flow freely, unrestricted, that your minds may acquiesce to your souls.

You continue this sojourn upon the Divine Path and have accomplished much in the years you have been upon this path. There comes a time now when old habits and old thoughts need to be released that you may accept the coming changes that God intends to bring to this world, that you may absorb this before all others to truly be that shining example, that beacon of light that will uphold many. Letting go of the old is what is required.

Embracing the new in joy and acceptance will bring great freedom and joy to you. Profound insights will come, revelations. You will see the world through the eyes of your souls. You will know yourself in this way and know God in a deep and profound way. His Love will color all that you experience in your life. You will come to recognize the power of your own soul that has been touched deeply by this Love. There will be no fear, no trepidation, no doubt, merely a sense of purpose and direction, a knowing of God's Will, a flow of wisdom and Love unending through each of you. This is what God wishes of you, my beloved brothers and sisters. This is what your souls have longed for and know it is purposefully directed to do.

So the time is short. The work is great. The need is great. The world hovers on the brink. You must be strong. It is the strength of your soul that will carry you through all conditions and all that may stand in your way. God will uphold you. God will guide you. God will help you to see clearly the road that you must take. God will protect you, you and your families, those who are close, those who carry this Light. Those who desire to bring change and harmony to this world will have God's Hand upon them. You will know this. You will truly know that you are blessed and upheld, protected and loved, ministered to by angels, carried by the winds of love and change to a new era in your world.

The world has been waiting for this for a very long time. We in the Celestial Heavens have been preparing for this for generations. The time has come for the fruition of God's plan for the salvation of mankind, uplifting this world, bringing all that is not in harmony back to balance and light, and inviting humanity to participate in God's Creation in their rightful place as co-creators in this world of yours. To do so requires deeper wisdom and love than what the majority of humanity has expressed in their lives.

So you must sound the depths of your soul, the depths of what is possible, what God has created within you, what can be ignited by His Love. In this way, you will lead. In this way, you will draw the children out of the darkness into the light. Each of you has been prepared. Each of you has the wisdom to share. Each of you knows the power of your own souls. What is required is a deep strength, an insistence upon light, truth, love, to be an example of such no matter what conditions you are faced with, to go to God for all that you require, for what guidance is necessary, for what truth must unfold and be lived by in your world.

So, my beloved brothers and sisters, are you ready? Have you prepared? Do you truly know what it is that your soul speaks to you in wisdom that yearns to be with God and to be in harmony with God's Laws? Are you ready to take up the banner of Truth, to walk forthrightly through the forest of this dark world, find your way to Light?

God's Plan will guide you. His Truth will be your anchor. His Love will uplift and, rather than grieve the losses of the old world, you will joyfully embrace what is new and beautiful. Are you ready to walk in such Light and embrace it with all of your beings?

A New Reality Dawns

Matthew on May 20, 2019

Yes, the world you live in has many layers of reality, many Truths yet unknown, many aspects unseen. With the soul awakened, these things will come to your consciousness, will be utilized by the abilities of your soul to meet the needs of you and your loved ones and those around you, so that in the times of change coming, you will be able to meet head-on that which comes, and to meet the needs that are required for you to walk in the world, unscathed by these changes.

A new reality does dawn. It is beginning. It is coming. You will be prepared because within your soul is deep knowledge and abilities to be aligned with this changing condition of reality of the Earth. It will be a joyous awakening, a joyful expression of your soul in a new world that is in greater alignment with your soul and God's Great Soul.

A new era dawns. We have asked you to release all conditions within you that inhibit this awakening. This prepares you for what is coming. Accepting and allowing this new reality to slowly emerge in your consciousness will allow you to adjust more readily to the changing conditions of your world.

The Children of Your Children Will Know a Different World

Augustine on May 22, 2019

Beloved souls, I am your teacher Augustine. God has a great plan afoot for the salvation of mankind. God's intention is to bring greater balance to the world, to allow the workings of man and the workings of God to be in harmony together so that the aspirations that humanity has had for so long, to create paradise on Earth, maybe fulfilled. Though this idea of paradise may be quite different from what will be, as God continues to pour His blessings and these energies of change in your world, what will come will be beautiful. The children of your children will know a world very different from your own, where love becomes the currency of humanity and the worship of materialism will be no more, where all will work together for the good of all. This ideal is not so far away nor implausible. It is coming.

In this great plan, it is important that all awaken to Truth and all will look within themselves to see what they carry that is not of love, that there is and will be great healing in your world and that the power of God's Love will carry humanity to a place of Truth and a place of reconciliation with God. Each soul who is willing, who is of Light, who desires the deep change that is required in your world, will be ignited by the Touch of God and guided thusly in their efforts to help birth a new world.

Yes, there will be many changes. Those who are not willing to change will suffer greatly because what they attach themselves to and are so firmly desirous of, cannot be in your world, the new world. So the constructs of man will be washed away and something new will come in its place, new and fresh and joyful in its expression. Each of you will live to witness the beginnings of deep change in your world and each of you will play a part in that transformation and new beginnings.

Walk in faith. Know that God is guiding you. Seek His Love. Seek the Wisdom from the Source of All and it will come copiously, beautifully, deep within you. The flow of God's blessings upon you, the flow of Truth within your conscious self, the awakening of your many hidden treasures and the possibilities of utilizing your gifts for the benefit of humanity, is all poised and waiting for their expressions and Divinely guided outcomes.

Blessed are the peacemakers. Blessed are those who put Love before all else. Blessed are those who desire to awaken to Truth and to teach it and live it. God will bless you. God has blessed you and will do so always. Your teacher Augustine loves you and is by your side. No matter what may come, know that I am with you and many are who will assist you upon this journey, this awakening, these changes. Much will come. Have faith, be strong within your soul and come to know your true selves, which is your soul.

Choose to Drink the Sustenance of the Life of the Soul

Augustine on May 27, 2019

Remember that you determine the rapidity of this awakening and the extent of the effects of God's Love within you. Yes, you have free will and you determine what comes, what is possible. God gives to all freely and does not restrict any soul to grow in Love, to grow in its capacities, to express all the wonderments within. It is like this in everything in your world, for you to determine much by your free will and choices. You restrict much by your minds and perceptions of what you call reality.

So, in many cases, you limit your own growth and awakening because you are unable to conceive of something far greater than what is. In this way, you plod along on your course that is safe and feels secure for you have control of your destiny. Yet, in truth, there is such a vast array of influences, energies, and conditions in your world that you do not have control, that every soul is quite vulnerable to many, many things that may happen in your world. So your sense of control is an illusion. Your sense of creating your own destiny is merely acting out your sense of what you desire and wish to be in the world. In many ways, that which is of your mind, that which you control with your mind is illusory and not in harmony with God's Laws of Creation and Love.

Those things within your mind have been placed there over many years. It is the reflection of the human condition. It is a powerful determinant of your life because you and all in this world allow it to be so. You believe that what you perceive, how you are in the world is reality. It is a form of reality but a reality that you have created and all of humanity has created making this world a reflection of the human condition and not allowing the Truth of God's Creation, the effects and influence of God's Will and blessings upon this world to be realized. For humanity continues to block the true condition of God in your world. Instead, it has created many religions and concepts and ideas of what is truth and insists upon these things whether they be a reflection of the minds, a judgment of what is real and valid, or a reflection of accepting others' teachings of what they believe is real.

Nonetheless, all is in many ways illusory. The Truth in all its beauty and subtleties and richness and depth may only be truly received and understood by the soul. So you continue to delve into your souls to come to understand these aspects of yourself that are so difficult to access in this world of yours. Yet, with the power of God's Love, with the immense power of God's Love, you may come to know Truth and have a true perception of the world, of the universe, of God, of your own inner universe. These things are available to you if you are open and willing to allow the Truth of the soul to bubble forth into your consciousness.

Now you speak of God's plan for the salvation of mankind. Indeed, humanity has created this particular reality that is so contrary to God's Creation that he continues to bring destruction upon this beautiful planet, continues to indulge his insatiable appetite for material things and power and control, again reflecting the condition of the mind.

When we speak of God bringing salvation to humanity, what we speak of, as these destructive forces continue to affect the world and destroy the many creatures of this world and the very fabric of this world, is that God will salvage those who are willing to look beyond the illusions of their minds and come to the reality of their souls in relationship with God.

So, this is why we continue to encourage you to seek this relationship, to open, be open to the possibilities of a new reality, a new understanding of Creation that has always been there but rarely acknowledged. In this way, those who are strong enough, able enough, enlightened enough, filled with enough love for life and all of life will persist through the changes that are coming, will persist through the cycle of destruction that humanity has initiated in your world. You will be protected and guided and you will survive to help rekindle a new reality, one that is true and one that is in alignment with God.

So, consider the power of your own free will, that each day you make choices. You continue to walk upon the path of your daily life with the opportunity to choose to be in harmony with God, to put aside the childish illusions of humanity, and to see the Truth for what it is. For this Truth that God gives to you that comes with the awakening of your souls is truly magnificent and joyful, giving to you many insights that would not be possible otherwise, much wisdom that emerges from your soul that is given to you by God's gift of Love, understanding of the true nature of life, and the meaning and purpose of life.

This will all come with the awakening of your souls, this gift of life, this gift of knowing all of you, all of you in harmony and in balance with your true natures, your true selves. It comes with the gift and power of God's Love awakening those parts of you that continue to sleep. Though it is important to respect the faculties of the mind, the material mind, it is most important to incorporate the faculties of the soul, to merge these two elements together, these two ways of perception to one perception that is great and powerful and beautiful. So that when your time comes to reach out to humanity, the many children, the many souls you will meet, you will have the Truth deeply set within your consciousness and walk with the Truth and speak the Truth and give the Truth to humanity, knowing through the sensitivities and perceptions of your soul what words you may speak, what you may give to each soul you meet that will uplift them and bring them up from the miasma of the human condition into the light.

You are all capable of this. You all have within you this great gift of God's Love. It continues to build, continues to awaken you. Think of this daily. Pray for this often. Allow this transformation to take place so that you may truly go out into the world and be God's clear and beautiful channels of Love and Truth. This is true purpose. This is what you are meant to do. But first, you must do so for yourselves, to make those choices to awaken, to be in alignment with God, to allow God's transformational Love to change every part of your being and bring you to that place of true knowing.

It is your choice. God nor we interfere with your choice. We may encourage you. We may assist. We may bring blessings and we may uplift but we cannot make you drink of the Living Waters of God. It is your choice. May you choose well, for each soul here and all the souls in the world thirst for this gift but often the stubbornness of the mind turns away from the great Well of Water that is God's Love. Do not turn away, but drink and drink the sustenance of the Life of the Soul. It is available to you and will never be withheld. It awaits you. It is here for you. May you reach for it and drink your fill.

Be God's Active Agent of Change

Aaron on July 09, 2019

I am Aaron and I come to speak to you today about the changes in the world that are happening at this time and will continue to proliferate throughout your time in this world. Change is constant in the world. Change is a constant in God's Universe. Change is often a response to conditions and stressors that build in any particular environment.

There is a need for balance always in God's Universe, for energies, for materials, even physical aspects of the world, to seek balance, to come to that place of neutrality or a place of capitulation to something new. So, my friends, in your world today, there are many stressors, many things that are pushing against one another, creating a condition that is not in harmony with God's Laws of Creation. So, there is a need to seek harmony and balance in the world.

I wonder if you all did not acknowledge the increasing tensions and darkness in the world, whether you would be here today praying together, seeking for something higher. Your souls are responding to the conditions that are causing stress upon you and on this world. You are coming together for strength, for fellowship, and to strengthen your connection with your Creator. Your souls are seeking harmony and you have found a powerful way to do so, in prayer to receive the blessings from God of Divine Love and healing and peace. So, you have found your way to bring greater balance and harmony into your lives and you seek to share this Truth, to move in the world as an agent that will bring greater harmony and love.

You sense all around you, as do most in your world, that things are not right. That life continues to be out of balance, out of harmony. For those who have the inclination, they seek to right this imbalance, to bring healing, to bring peace to themselves, but unfortunately, most merely seek distraction. They see these conditions of the world as impossible to rectify, as out of their control. But there are too many who continue to feed the fires of disharmony. There is a sense of hopelessness, a sense to let things take its course in your world. When things do indeed take their course and those who are apathetic and are not proactive are caught up in the conditions and waves of correction that will invariably come, then they feel like they are victims. There is rage and injustice and fear and often they blame God. Often they blame others but the last place that they go to blame or to at least take responsibility for is their own actions.

God has given each soul free will, a choice, powerful choices, choices that are not present in any other element in the Universe. But with the human soul, there is a great choice. When one comes to realize the power of a soul and the power of those choices that are made by each soul, then one can truly see that what is created in this world, is created by you all, all the varied and multiplicity of choices and actions, thoughts and deeds, emotions, and intellectual expressions.

Many, many elements of the human being are expressed with each of you and expressed in powerful ways, expressed in ways that can be destructive or constructive. As many choose either apathy or the expression of conditions and energies that are not in harmony with God's Laws of Creation, there are great waves of destructive forces, injurious not only to humanity but to the entire planet. These waves reverberate over and over again around the planet, causing ever more imbalance, causing evermore injury to the delicate balance of God's Creation, this world. For those with the eyes to see this, it is difficult not to feel hopeless. The power of this, the great power of the expressions of humanity in your world is immense. Yet, God continues to allow free will and free rein over this planet.

But God has not nullified the effects of His Laws upon this planet for there are consequences to all actions. Whether it be as an individual in their particular lives or all who live in this world, creating conditions that are of darkness, there are consequences, my brothers and sisters. These consequences are evident today and will be evident tomorrow and build as these great waves of negativity join together and create greater impacts upon your world.

There is a tipping point, my friends. There is a time when all that you take for granted in your lives, all that has been created by humanity and by God, will be in disarray. This condition, this chaos is required in order to bring back balance. For these responses, these equal forces that respond to the negativity will overcome the conditions that have been created and are expressed in the world today and will be neutralized by these forces that are of the natural order and of Divine Intervention.

We have told you at times, that God has a plan for the salvation of mankind. Indeed, there is a plan. Indeed, you are all a part of that plan every time you come together in this way, creating light, creating positive forces to help neutralize the darkness. As you grow in your souls, awakening the power of Love within that comes with the blessing of God's Love, so you become part of the forces that correct the negativity, the power of destruction that has been created by humanity. When we encourage you to continue to grow in this way, to grow your souls in Love, to awaken and be in that place of harmony and balance, we do so not only to support you personally in your growth and Light and Love of the soul but to be an active agent, a force within this world, that will help neutralize the darkness and conditions that are not of God.

We need, as you can well imagine, many, many souls to take up the mantle of Light, to walk in this world in Light, to express the energies of Light. You have stepped forward eagerly, sometimes with a sense of curiosity, sometimes with a sense of purpose, sometimes because you have great need. But nonetheless, you step forward and seek the light and God responds. God responds to your soulful longing to receive this Light from the Divine Touch of the Soul of God to your soul. This is the most powerful change agent and energy there is in the Universe and it is required, my friends. It is deeply needed in your world.

So, each of you, who at times innocently step forward, knowing within yourselves there is a deep need to be free from your own personal unwanted conditions and pain, you are needed. When you do so, when you step forward, you are acting upon God's Will and Desire for you to do so. You will be blessed, deeply blessed. As you continue to clear the negative conditions within you and about you, you will become an active agent of God to help bring about the salvation of mankind.

For without agents such as yourselves, who desire to do this work, to help neutralise the negativity, humanity will continue to spiral down into darkness and pain and this is not meant to be. God wishes for all His children to be in the light, to know the joy of true life, true harmony, and true love. There is no greater work than this, my friends. There is a no deeper cause or greater commitment required or more fulfilling to the soul in its expression, than this work for God and for your brothers and sisters, to take on the responsibility that all must do to seek for the Light, to seek for the highest, to seek for God, and to willingly lay down all of those human needs and predilections that are not in harmony with your true nature and to live a life that is in harmony with all that is good and beautiful and of love.

God beseeches all His children as He continues to pour His blessings upon your world, helping to soothe the flames of anger and discontent, of error, of rage in your world, and there is much, the entire world is aflame with these conditions. Many are seriously unhappy and discontent and lost and full of rage. They do not know where to turn. They do not see the way beyond their own pain. Yet, you have found a way. You have found light. You have found one another.

Are you willing to step forward, supporting one another in this great effort to bring Light to the world, to bring the Waters, the Living Waters of Love to pour upon the burning souls of those in such pain, soothing and bringing hope? Are you willing, for change must come? Changes will come for this is indeed the Law. For every action, there is a response. For every step in a positive direction, it will be reinforced with the blessing of Light. So, step forward. Be an active agent of change, as best that you can. Seek out God. Seek out God's Touch on your soul and this council within your soul, so that you may step forward, not just in light that is somewhat dim, but a light that is bright and vital and true to all that is of God.

Your Life Will Have Purpose as You Follow God's Will and Truth

Jesus on July 12, 2019

I come. I am Jesus, Master of the Celestial Kingdom. I come to speak to you today because I have observed your time together. Your time together has been blessed and somewhat orchestrated by us because it is important that you all have the opportunity to be in this Circle of Light that will allow you to grow and to understand one another and to come closer to Truth. Great effort has been made to pour Truth out to you. Great effort has been made to gather you in this Light and the many aspects of blessings and Light that have been poured upon you so that you may have the desires and needs of your soul met in Love. So we have given you great treasures of Truth, blessings of Love, healings, and peace. You have come to drink of the well, the well of Love. Together you have gathered putting forth your souls' desires for God, for Love, the many blessings that God has to give to each one of you.

But as is the tendency of the mortal, you seek evermore, you have a great hunger for Truth and yet that which is given is often cast aside and forgotten, not applied, not recognized, for the power and beauty that is a Truth given by the angels of God. You cannot horde the Truth, it has no purpose. What is purposeful is to take each Truth that is given and apply it thoroughly to your lives for a Truth is worth nothing without its application but a Truth is worth everything when it is taken into your hearts and minds and souls and applied accordingly changing you in this process, enlightening you as you learn to grow with this Truth.

So we feed you what we can, not giving you such a rich diet that you cannot keep up, so to speak, with what is given. You must pace yourselves. Pace yourselves and you must consider as a group within this Circle of Light that you are performing a service for humanity in bringing forth Truths to some degree that will benefit those who are seeking. It is in this act of giving that you receive and it is in the receiving that you are awakened if you absorb and acknowledge what is given.

As for the application of God's Will and plan for the salvation of mankind in this world, it is a very complex matter since the world, your world, is always in motion and movement, interacting, reacting, changing and these patterns created by humanity and their decisions and thoughts and expressions in your world make for a very complex and difficult condition that is often of darkness, contravening the Laws of God, contravening that which may benefit and bring light to humanity. Instead, the baser inclinations of humanity are expressed in foremost ways and that which is of higher thought and condition and love is supplanted by the conditions of darkness which have been chosen with each moment, with each individual, with each choice and expression.

So the condition of the world is in a great crisis where spirituality is not well understood. Love is not the foremost expression of each soul. Life is perverted by the will of men. So this cannot continue in your world, for if it does continue it will mean the sterilization of this beautiful world of yours where all life cannot exist and this cannot be and God will not let it be.

God has a plan to bring the world back into balance and harmony. God makes available to every soul the opportunity to know this plan and to acknowledge this plan for He has implanted into each soul this Truth that they must come to light in whatever path that they choose. There must be this choice. The opportunity lays before you and all to choose Light, to choose to live in your world in Light. Yet you wonder how will your brothers and sisters know of this Truth? How will they know that which is known within the soul but not known within the mind?

This is the dilemma that you acknowledge in your world for the condition of mind is powerful. The condition of thought rules this world. There is little opportunity or acknowledgement of the soul and its operations and information that can be given in a conscious way to every individual. Yet God sends His great blessings, His angels, His Love forth in the world. There are those who respond such as yourselves, souls eager, souls that have been stirred, souls that recognize the Truth that they must yearn and progress in Light.

This blessing and energy that comes from God that touches every soul in your world will continue to have its influence and bearing upon the soul. This will intensify. It will intensify and that awakening, that acknowledgement that there must be change, there must be healing, there must be Truth, there must be Love, and it will continue to beat upon the souls of humanity. This is causing a great unease with many for it challenges what are the patterns and behaviors, the truth that is of the mind amongst all who exist here in your world.

This tension continues to elicit a response within each soul and a sense that change must come. With this blessing from God comes other manifestations and blessings that will continue to usher men towards Light and we have spoken of this. I have spoken of this on other occasions and that there will be great changes in your world. There must be a re-calibration of sorts of the conditions in your world in order to foster the light and harmony within all the races of mankind, all who exist here, a great shift of perspective and even a great shift of conditions in which you all live. This is God's effort in Love and Mercy for your world and all who reside within and all that is within your world to bring things back to light and harmony. This is the great compassion of God who wishes for all to be in harmony, for all to live in love, for all to know that they are loved.

So when I walked the earth so long ago I brought with me the seeds of this change. So it began and so you continue to feel its effects. Though little understood, it still continues to have its effects upon the souls of humanity. The Truth of Love will come and will be expressed in this world. Your children's children will know this, for this change will come that swiftly to your world.

You are sensing it now, you are seeing the changes, the physical changes of the world and this will intensify. You are feeling a sort of restlessness within your soul which continues to yearn for God. You may interpret this as a desire for Truth, for greater Truth. But I tell you, you have enough Truth at this time to bring you to God in atonement in the power and glory of your soul's communion with your Creator.

What more would you require to grow in your soul, to shift in your consciousness, to understand, truly understand the Will of God? There is much that is coming. Yes, the will of men continues to thwart the Will of God but you cannot underestimate the power of the Will of God to manifest in your world and to bring about the changes that are necessary to bring about the light that is destined to be a part of your world.

You know this within your souls, you feel the stirrings, this deep desire to come to that place of truth and peace and love. This is happening with each one of your beloved souls, as it is happening to many others. There will come a time when you will acknowledge one another. You will see with your eyes, the eyes of your soul, a kindred spirit, one who is with you in this great effort to bring peace and harmony to your world as an instrument, a channel of God's Will and Love.

We continue to prepare you, to help you to see clearly, to help you to understand your true natures, to help you to open to God unrestricted by the barriers of thought and error. Each soul who desires this, who makes effort, who capitulates their willful nature to be independent of God towards God, towards communion, towards love will be blessed deeply for a great effort is being made in your world, great effort indeed. This shall intensify as God's Will continues to manifest and be made clear amongst humanity and each of you is needed in this great effort. We need your prayers. We need your light. We need your efforts to reach out to continue to build these networks of light around the world. You have been given every opportunity and facility to accomplish this and this shall continue. Nothing will thwart your efforts, nothing will stand against you. Those obstructions that are placed before you, you will easily and readily overcome for you who are complicit with God's plan for the salvation of mankind will be shown the way and the expression of your place and purpose within it with each day that comes. Pray to be guided. Pray to know your way through these changing times, pray that the changes that are necessary may come to your own soul and your own conscious self so that you are informed and strengthen and shown the way towards love and truth and peace and wisdom and joy.

We continue to make great efforts to communicate this Truth and reality of God's Will for the salvation of mankind. This time that you live within is a very important time and is crucial, for humanity is given the opportunity to rise above what has been their fate for so many years to something higher, something more in harmony with God's Laws and Creation. A choice is always given and you who are here have chosen the Light. Continue to strive towards it and you will teach this and share this good news that is the Love of God available to all. You will be guided, protected, enveloped in Light. Pray for this protection always, pray for this Love. May it be a constant desire within you that you may accelerate the transformation of your soul and that you may awaken to all that is within you and is given to you by God.

May God bless you. I come as a teacher to you. I come as your elder brother. I come to give to you my love and blessings. I know that when I speak in this way I often speak in sobering terms that often challenge your thoughts and your ways of life. But this must be done. This must be done for each soul upon this world for the time is now to sound the bell that will bring God's children back, back home to Truth.

Prepare Yourself Spiritually for the Coming Changes in the World

Josephus on July 12, 2019

As to what will manifest in the coming times in regards to these changes to some degree is dependent upon the choices that humanity makes and the ways in which they will confront these changes and choose to come to harmony or to come to destruction. Yes, I fear that many millions will perish, that many will choose the latter rather than the former. But you must consider that this world, this plane of existence, is just one of many and therefore they have not lost their opportunity to grow in Love and Light but have forfeited their opportunity to grow in Love and Light in this world.

For this world cannot hold the burdens of these many destructive choices of humanity, this great hunger for materialism that continues to leach away the vitality of your world. So the great impetus of humanity to continue to bring destruction must be neutralized and God, as I have said, has a plan to do so. But this does not mean that some of your inventions and capacities for communication, capacities to better your lives in this world may not be utilized and re-purposed so that it is in greater harmony with what is meant to be in your world.

God does not disapprove of men's creativity and propensity to bring forth various ways and means to improve their lives. But God disapproves of the blatant sense that humanity is entitled to strip this planet of all of its resources for their benefit, not honoring life but destroying it in the process. But as these conditions shift and change in your world, as the impact of humanity is reduced in a gross way, as many leave your world for the next, so the opportunities and possibilities to restart and re-establish a more harmonious perspective and expression of humanity in your world will evolve and come together in a guided way and this is where many of you will be important channels to guide, to help correct this new way of being in the world, this new appreciation of life and new honoring of life.

Many of you will play a part in this and there are many others who will do so. You will not lose your connections with one another. You will not lose your ability to communicate, but in this new world many things will be different and many ways to communicate and work together will emerge as a great blessing and boon from God. For God's plan brings powerful change and powerful blessings to humanity. As in any condition in the universe of God where there is change, there is an opportunity. Where there is a shift, there is a blessing.

So you will be surprised, my brothers and sisters, as to what is coming and how this will manifest. We will not reveal to you much at this time, only to suggest that you prepare yourself spiritually for this is the only true preparation that you can make in order to meet the changes that are coming and are able to contribute in light of what is truly coming in light. We urge you to make the growth of your soul, the expansion of your soul and the expansion of the faculties and gifts of your soul to be a priority in your life for the material goals that you work for today will not be present in the future.

You cannot accumulate enough in the material things to insulate yourselves from the changes that are coming. You may only find comfort and strength and capacity to express and be a part of this new way on this earth through prayer and spiritual preparation, through yearning and growing in Love and Light. We give you the key. We give you the keys to a greater life, to a harmonious life, to a blessed life.

Please listen, please act upon what you know and what you have heard and you will find yourselves in remarkable circumstances and opportunities to serve God in this great plan. It will be a joyous thing, a beautiful journey of wonderment and surprise as new capacities and gifts open up within your soul empowered by God's Touch upon this world, empowered because you have chosen to be a part of God's Will and plan.

Please, please come to this realization and walk in faith. Do not attempt to insulate yourselves from what is coming, rather be joyful and realize that God will guide you with each day and each opportunity that comes your way will be blessed. You will know, you will see, you will be guided as changes come. As you continue to listen, as you continue to have faith in God's plan, so all will come in harmony with your lives and the many lives who will be affected by those souls who choose to be a part of this great wave of change, this great wave of light that continues to flow and touch your world, this gift from God, this gift from God.

The Winds of Change Continue to Blow

Moses on August 30, 2019

The winds of change continue to blow across your world and much that was understood in the past, much that was given as wisdom from the prophets of old and the seers of past times, is now buried in the conditions and attitudes and perspectives of your modern world and so much wisdom is lost, beloved souls. Because there is no time nor interest in living a life that is in harmony with behaviors that respect and honor one another, that bring love, that bring light. Instead, many are fed lies, many are fed untruths and deception that lead to souls that are of stone rather than of light.

These are serious times my friends, serious times. There will be consequences for all, not that every soul is guilty of perpetuating darkness, but there is enough of this influence and power in the world that God has seen fit to bring changes that will neutralise these conditions. In this way, doors of opportunity, possibilities to change in a way that brings light and greater harmony to your world will be manifest. The winds of change are coming. It starts and begins with rumblings and fires, floods and turmoil in your world, but this is only a warning shot that indicates that the Will of God will be manifest in your world and that the Laws of God's Creation must be heeded, even for the children of God's Creation who have been given free rein and are allowed free rein.

But even with this gift, there comes a time where the limits are reached, where the children run amok without heed for harmony and grace in the world. So God brings about those conditions that will stop the behaviors and expressions of darkness in the world. In a way, each of you will be forced to choose light or darkness, harmony or pain. You are well aware of this within your souls as are all souls in this world.

They begin to feel that something is coming, that a choice will be laid to bear on this world. For those who choose to continue in the flow of the human condition that is dark and does not honour God and His Creation, will suffer the consequences of this choice. This is not because God wishes for His children to suffer, but God wishes for His children to stop inflicting suffering upon one another and upon this beautiful Creation that is His world.

You cannot continue to take for granted all the blessings and wonderment that is this world and that is your life and not heed the call for change and not heed the call for love and for harmony, for every soul has the capacity to know right from wrong, truth from error. Yet, so many hide from the Truth that they know within them. So many seek to be distracted, to run away, to be within the indulgences of the physical appetites without any expectation of consequences.

Nothing in God's Creation operates without the Laws of Cause and Effect taking place. Even when God gives His children the gift of free will where they have the potentials to operate outside the Laws of Creation, there are still consequences. The machinery of the universe continues to operate. Though humanity has the gift of free will and can choose contrary to harmony with these Laws, they are not outside of the operations of these Laws and so consequences come. Indeed it is easy to see in your world amongst your brothers and sisters what suffering and in-harmony there is created by mankind, created by choices and created by the power of your own souls and spirit and mind and body.

All of these gifts that God has given you, created you with, so much has been perverted by the will of humanity serving the desire for material wealth and power, for the glorification of their own selves. This condition that rejects the Will of God began from the beginning and continues to build and build in your world as your numbers increase and choices multiply and conditions grow and light fades. So the world is in dire straits. So the world suffers greatly. So the world, the planet, cries out to God to be saved and healed.

So those of you who are seeking Light, who are seeking to rise above these conditions and to live a life that is in harmony with God and with Love, you must be strong. You must uphold the Truth and you must look deep within yourselves for the Truth. When you come to that place of acknowledging that which is not in harmony with God's Creation nor with His Love, you must act. You must stop and turn and go beyond these ignorant choices. No matter how innocent, no matter how unaware you are, beloved souls, you must strive for that which is higher than what is your life at this time, to be in greater harmony, in harmony with God's Will, in harmony with the life and reality that God has created, that is meant to be in your world. Be leaders, examples, channels of Love and Truth in the world. You must face your own vulnerabilities and those places within you that are not in harmony. As God's Love continues to build within your soul, these things are revealed, this understanding comes.

It is difficult, my beloved and beautiful friends, it is difficult. For all about you are actions and conditions that are not in harmony with love and with God. It is at times overwhelming to recognize how these things continue to proliferate and carry you into deeper darkness. No doubt this is why so many hide away and do not wish to look. For it is a deep dilemma in the life of humanity upon this world. You have created such a complex world of your own making, often not taking into account the Laws that are exercised by the Creation of God. So error upon error is steeped within your culture, your thinking, and your perception of the world and it is indeed difficult to rectify and to bring back to purity your own souls.

So this is why the changes are coming, that God has found a way to bring harmony back to your world for it is obvious that humanity lacks the capacity, the strength, and the ability to rectify the error that is all about you. Yet God in His mercy, God in His Wisdom, God in His Love, will bring all back to that place where purity is possible, where you may indeed live in harmony with the Laws of God, where your life and your world will honour all creation and that there are love and peace. This is coming, the winds of change, the winds that will bring healing and Truth and Love. God's Hand rests firmly upon your world and in this Power of God, the changes will be wrought and all will bow to the conditions and power that God will bring to this world that will insist upon change and healing and light. Consider this when you witness destructive forces in your world as the natural elements conspire to overthrow the influence of man in order to bring healing, to right the world from all the imbalances.

As this happens, God will call upon you all to speak the Truth, to be an example of love, to walk bravely and with faith amongst the tumult that is coming and say: "This is a gift, a gift of healing for all who are willing to accept it, who are willing to be in harmony with it." Indeed when we ask you to prepare, to be accepting of the Will of God, we ask you to be strong and brave and clear within yourselves, knowing your own souls. In this knowing and strengthening with each day your relationship with your Creator, bringing into your soul the strength and Light and power of the Love of God so that you may walk in the world with wisdom, that you may be guided and reach out to many others who will, in these times, be of great fear and confusion for what to them was solid ground is now taken away and in their fear, they wonder what will be? What will replace their well-honed source of reality?

For that reality will be no more and something new and fresh and beautiful will come, a great shift of consciousness, a great shift in everything in your world. You must have the strength, perception, love, and capacity to see beyond the superficial, the conditions of humanity to what is to be, what will be made anew and given as a gift to those who are willing to accept and bring to their bosom the gift of life that God will give, the gift of a new world made fresh and beautiful.

Yes, so much is coming. Each of you who desire to be a channel of Love and Truth, have chosen this time to be in the world, to witness this great change, and to assist God in settling the world in what will be. Indeed, may God give you the strength to open your eyes, peel the scales away so that you may truly see, so that you are strong enough to weather the storms and to lead others into a sanctuary. Much is coming and much is upon us. We cherish these times together with you to prepare you, to inform you and guide you, to bring the blessings of God closer to your world, to help infuse the world with the blessings and elements of light and change and love that will usher in a new world.

Be strong, my beloveds. Be strong in your hearts and your souls and walk in the Light. In this way, you will truly come to know God and come to know God's Will for you and this world. In this way, you will be used to assist many in the changes that are coming.

The World is in Great Need

Augustine on October 15, 2019

I am Augustine, your teacher. Yes, the world is in great need is it not? Many are in great need. This world of yours continues to present many challenges to every soul who lives within it. This world continues to bring many souls to places that are not in harmony with God. Thus, the conditions that are being created by the multitudes in your world continue to ignite and excite negative conditions that bring pain and discomfort and disruptions so that the world is not functioning in harmony with the Laws of God.

Beloved souls, do you realize how powerful each soul is in the world? How collectively, with your intentions and thoughts and actions, you are guiding the trajectory of your planet? You are doing so blindly without a true understanding of what you are creating in the world and the influences that are reverberating through your world that are bringing more conditions of destruction and disharmony.

This is why we continue to make great efforts to be with you all, to help to guide you and remind you that you must make efforts to step into a higher condition of consciousness and love, that each time you pray to receive the Blessing of God's Love, you inch closer to Light and harmony. When you do so, you generate Light and harmony into your world. So, together as a Circle of Light, you are serving your brothers and sisters. You are serving your world. You are serving God in great efforts to rectify and to balance the conditions of your world.

Do not underestimate the power of a group of individual souls who are in harmony with one another, who have a singleness of purpose and desire to reach for the highest and to be a channel of Light and Love in the world. This Light is reverberating around your world at this very moment. You have with you, legions of angels who are eager to assist you and to reinforce the conditions that you are desiring to bring into place in your world as a channel of God's Love, as a channel of Light and healing and Love for many.

Those whom you love, those who are directly connected with this Circle of Light are all benefitting by your prayers. As you continue to form this Circle, this ring of Light, golden Light, you are creating a bond, a connection with one another that is sustained even after you go about your business beyond this time that you spend together. The more that you are together in this way, the stronger will be the bond and the more effective and powerful will be your mutual efforts to bring Light to the world.

You are creating something unique and powerful and something that assists God in changing your world from a place of disharmony and darkness to a place of harmony and love and light. Each of you has great potential, a powerful place and capacity to bring these blessings forth to the world, provided you are willing and you have the desire to step forward in this way, to step forward with your brothers and sisters, to bring change, to speak of change, to live with change, to be a channel of Love that is the catalyst for change, true change in the world. So, you will and you can work together and draw in others who will work with you for this great purpose and effort to heal your world, to heal each of you, your souls coming into greater alignment with God so that your beings may emanate and transmit Light and Love and peace in the world.

So much can be accomplished by a few brave and dedicated souls who have a deep desire to be with God, to be in harmony with God's Laws, to receive the great and wondrous blessing of the Divine Love within their souls, that transformative blessing that will bring great change to yourselves and in doing so will help and assist great change to come to your world.

You live in a very important time in the history of humanity, a time where crucial changes and decisions must be made, a time where the blind efforts of humanity to conduct their affairs in the world in accordance to their own will and understanding of things that are beyond their understanding in this world, manifest through the will of man. These things must be reconciled with the Truth, with the Laws that God has put into place to bring about a harmonious world, a world where every creature, and truly His greatest creature of all which is humanity, may be a harmonious part of the functioning of your world so that all flows and moves within the beautiful Light of God's Touch upon this world. Rather than being contrary to this, that there be a choice, a decision from mankind to walk in the world in greater harmony and peace and love.

This we have encouraged you to do over and over again. This you must consider each and every moment of your lives that you may walk in harmony and peace and love, that you may be the examples in the world, and that you may draw with your Light, your actions and your thoughts and your bright souls many others who are in harmony with this intention and with this great effort that is guided by God and guides each one of you.

Walk in God's Grace, beloveds. Consider what is of Truth and what is of harmony and what is in relationship with the Laws of God's Creation that you may rise above the Earth plane and all its tumultuous energies and lack of Light to a place higher and closer to God. In this way, you will have the vision and the understanding of what God intends for each one of you for this world. You must collect and gather the wisdom that God has to give to your souls and shift within your consciousness and thinking so that you are aware of what God gives to you and that you may implement and express the Truth that God is implanting within your soul at this very moment.

There Are Great Changes Coming to Earth

Augustine on November 09, 2019

Brothers and sisters, beautiful souls all, I am Augustine. I was once the Bishop of Hippo many, many years ago. I am an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom and have taught these charges for many years now. I come to reassure you that God indeed has a solution to these dilemmas that you face in this world. Yes, the world that you live on continues to suffer. In many ways, all who dwell upon this planet continue to suffer. It is the predominant condition of your world. Where love is absent, so the suffering continues. Where ignorance is absent, so there will be a sense of solution to bring greater understanding and sensitivity to how you all trod upon this Earth.

There are great changes coming to your Earth. It cannot be anything but a great shift, a great awakening in your world. God has given humanity great leeway to do as it will upon this world. You all have that great gift of free will. You all continue to walk on your own. The vast majority consider that they are free and can make those decisions with wisdom. I say to you, you are not free. You are not able to make serious choices that affect your world in ways that bring solutions that last and are in harmony with God's Creation.

Instead, you have built a great tyranny for yourselves. Instead, the world continues to be a victim of your own willful desires and needs. I do not condemn you. You are seeking Light and God gives you all measures of blessings and Love but a time is coming when the world will be tested and so will each of you for change must come and quickly. There is little time. The forces of destruction continue to catapult the world into darkness and chaos.

Though you are comfortable in your material lives, you continue to indulge yourself in all manner of material pleasures and desires. These times that are coming will bring a measure of hardship to all of you. What you require more than anything else is a firm grounding within your soul where all wisdom, true wisdom comes, where all that can be done through each of you as instruments of Light will come and be guided to you. Each of you requires great faith in the higher powers, as you would call it, in God as I know it.

In this way, you will find your way through these tumultuous times. Many of you will assist God in reconstructing this world in a way that will bring greater harmony where all the creatures of your world will flourish. You, all peoples, will be in balance and harmony with Creation. As it is so often in the world of men, it takes a crisis, a jolt, some condition that will shake those who are asleep awake. Those of you who gather here seek to be awake, seek to be knowledgeable and seek to be in harmony.

So we come to you, each one you, to help you on that journey of wakefulness, of Truth. We will continue to assist you on that journey but I tell you, my friends, the time grows short and much is coming. Each of you has the choice to come to that place of deep faith, wakefulness, of being with the Creator, to align yourself with Truth and to see for yourselves through your prayers beseeching God for guidance what must be done. It will come to each of you individually.

You will not be spared any detail or any part of this plan which is a plan for the salvation of humanity. So these beloved and beautiful instruments who have come to visit you today have been on an earnest mission to help all who yearn for Light and aspire for Light to come together in Truth, to walk in the world together. Though your ideas may vary and the perceptions of life are unique to each path, together as children of God you may assist God in this reclamation of your world.

It is crucial that all those who are of Light will come together and continue to work together in whatever way so that those you reach in your world in your daily life may have the opportunity to awaken to Truth, to awaken to the dire circumstances that are all around you. Though in your minds you continue to see that all is of peace and tranquil and yet you know in your hearts that it is not so, that life, the very essence of life is being challenged, that God's Creation teeters on the edge.

I am sorry to be so serious with you, but you have asked to pray for your beloved Earth. I come to give you that message that, yes, your prayers are important, that your efforts are important, that your thoughts are important. Most of all, the awakening of your soul, opening your eyes where God may peel the scales away is crucial. Go to God with your concerns. Go to God with your prayers and your desire for change and healing for your world, for yourself, for all that you love and the doors will open. The opportunities will come to you. The work which is great needs your hands, your efforts, your words, your love, and all that you can do.

You live in very interesting times. You will see great changes in your lifetime. When the tumult is done and all is asunder and yet through the eyes of your soul you will see that it is the dawning of a new beginning, a new world where peace will reign for a thousand years and love will be the currency of all. I say these because there are great hope and great assurance that your world will find the healing that is needed. All within your world who desires to follow the Will of God, the way of God's Creation in harmony with His Laws will find their way to harmony and joy and peace and great love.

The Energetic Conditions of Earth Affects You All

Luke on November 17, 2019

God bless you. I am Luke. I have come to speak to you about the energetic conditions of the Earth plane and how these conditions affect you all. The world was created by God. God's intentions created impulses and expressions, populated the Earth in a way that all was within a level of harmony and grace but not perfect for within all of God's Creations is the intention of change and evolution towards the greater goal of harmony. Then God placed upon the Earth humanity, giving humanity the great gift of free will and a soul, something that no other creature upon your world has, an individualized soul.

Though there was consciousness within all that exists in this world, that great gift of the soul was only given to His most beloved creations which are you and all of your brothers and sisters. God's intentions were that this beautiful world with all its potentials and expressions of God's Creation would become a sort of proving ground for His blessed soul-filled creatures but because of the workings of free will, humanity made the decision to be independent of God, to walk alone.

Since that fateful day when that decision was made, humanity has continued to build and populate the atmosphere in which you live with energies and thoughts, feelings and expressions that are of the human condition which we now call it. Because there is no true understanding of God within the consciousness of humanity, but merely projections and interpretations of who and what God is, for those dear souls who desire to get back to God in relationship in that sense of cohabiting the world with God, there is a great deal of confusion and distortion and darkness. Because of this lack of understanding, true soulful wisdom, loving intentions, grace, expressions of Light are not the predominant expressions that come with the human race, so there is a great deal of distortion and difficulty and many expressions of unloving behaviour and conditions. This has built over many, many thousands of years. So with each generation, the conditions built become darker, more distorted, more a victim of the willfulness of humanity, and further away from the intended Grace that God had built and expressed in His Creation.

Each of you emanates energy through your thoughts, your actions, your intentions, and your emotions. You add to the atmosphere of your world. With that, a great many conditions that are built do not fit with the Laws of God's Creation. Each of you travels in a world that is filled with a great many disparate energies, thoughts and conditions. If you are at all sensitive, you will feel those conditions. They will become quite evident. For many, they have become so numb and insensitive to these conditions that there is no sense of urgency or concern about the world in which they live. They live in accordance with the cause and effect of each moment feeling that they have no choice and that there is no choice within this world.

Apathy is the main ingredient of the lives of many people so that they accept and acquiesce to these conditions. In doing so, often they contribute to the dark conditions of the world. Yet each of you here, and there are many in the world who have made that choice to reach for Light and to be in the Light. In this choice, God has sent His blessings to each of those souls who are yearning for Light.

This is your challenge and your gift, that you have awakened from the ignorance and darkness of the world and have decided to choose Light and in that choice, you are blessed. In that choice, God has drawn you together in these few days to bring wisdom and blessings and Light and reinforcement to your efforts. God wishes for all of you to be in the Light, to be strong in the Light and will do whatever is required for you to be in the Light, provided you choose this and make efforts on your own behalf to be in the Light.

You have been taught that prayer is a powerful energy that will elicit blessings and Light upon you. Reaching to God in faith, trusting in God in faith, being aligned with God not only within your soul but within your mind, and praying for this great gift of Divine Love which expands and transforms the soul into greater and greater Light and wisdom and Truth.

God needs all of you who are willing to step into the Light to continue to utilize the Truth and knowledge that you have to transform your thinking, your doings, and your own souls into generators of Light and Love. You cannot do it alone but must do it together and with God. You are beginning to recognize the power of souls drawn together with the same intentions, the same desire. Utilizing the power of this collective thought and desire to bring God into your Circle, this Light so that the doors are open for God to bless you deeply.

In this deep blessing, comes greater desire, a willingness to go more into the Light, more with God, more with Love. So you empower this great momentum that will keep uplifting, transforming and enlightening with Love each of you. You may discuss many things, think many things, try to analyze and dissect the Truth but I tell you that when you are in alignment with God and you go with this great force of Light that you have together generated with patience, you will receive all the answers to your questions. Your mind will be acquiesced in peace and knowing and joy.

You have discovered how to release that sense of apathy that is so predominant in your world and to be proactive in your lives, bringing Light and Truth and Love. We urge you forward, in the knowing that you are never alone, that God is always with you. Because of your desires, God has sent His angels to be with you as well, that you can rely upon these blessings, you can utilize this Light and this support and upliftment, and you can walk in the world with the sure knowledge that you are protected and blessed.

Only if you, within your minds and actions and emotions, draw to you the negative, the darkness, and all the negative forces that are so rife upon your world, then we cannot protect you, because you have chosen that which is not of Light. Do not empower the darkness, do not. Never enter into a negative condition without an attempt to purify that condition. This is the only stance that you must take. If you can make a change and bring light, then do so, but if that condition is so powerful and so powerfully reinforced by others it is unlikely that you can make that change. We encourage you to pray for whatever condition that you observe in the world.

Prayer, as you have already acknowledged, is a powerful mechanism for change. It brings forth the blessings and power of God. This is your saving Grace that God indeed responds to every prayer, that God will bring solutions. When you bring your problems to God there will be solutions. It may not be immediate, but you will see within a course of time that solutions will come, blessings will come, healing will come, and peace will come.

Use this Truth. Pray that God puts within your soul the great inflowing and blessing of the Divine Love. As this Love expands and grows within you, you will become more adept at using the Truth and the tools that are offered to you to bring greater Light into your lives and into this world. When you are strong enough, God will use you in many wonderful ways to help uplift your brothers and sisters, to bring this Truth forward, to teach them through your knowledge and example and love.

This is a part of God's plan for the salvation of humanity for humanity sits upon the brink of great pain and destruction in your world. You see it all around you. You perceive how humanity has built such a powerful condition of darkness in your world that the world is suffering. The world is vulnerable. The world needs your strength, your light, your truth and you must respond. You must make whatever efforts you are able to bring love and truth and understanding to all those you meet.

This is not an easy task as you well know. There are many who will turn away but in your life, with this commitment and desire to serve God, to serve Light and to serve your brothers and sisters, you will have a life that is fulfilling and gratifying, a life that will bring greater Light to yourself, greater wisdom, greater understanding, and greater Love.

There is much work to do, in this world. I am sure for many of you, you feel overwhelmed and possibly hopeless when you see how inharmonious and difficult this world is but I tell you, with faith, the strength of Love and the power of God's Touch upon you, you may do amazing things, wonderful things that will change this world for the better, that will bring forth your gifts, your purpose, these great potentials within your soul to be utilized in surprising ways, in wonderful ways, and often in humble ways and simple ways. With the power of Love imbued within your actions, imbued within your thoughts, imbued within everything that you are and everything that you express in your lives, you become a change agent in the world, one who is aligned with God and a channel for love in the world.

God will guide you thus, my friends. God will show you the way and God will always be with you. You can rely upon the strength and Love of God, the blessings of God, the guidance of God. All of this is forthcoming given your choice to walk the path of Love and Light.

There Will be a New Dawn of Love

Matthew on November 22, 2019

May God be upon you. I am Matthew. Every soul upon your world has a yearning for God. Every soul is bereft because often that yearning and that desire are not met for this world continues to conspire to lead all of God's children from the Source that will satisfy the deep need and thirst of the soul for God's Love.

Because of this great deprivation of the soul, the world continues to suffer. Because the soul is not activated, the true wisdom that comes with Love and God's blessings upon each soul does not exist. Rather humanity continues to be guided and directed by the desires and thoughts of the mind, the material mind. The mind is revered. The mind is in control. The mind insists upon domination. So the soul continues to be subordinate to the mind. In this inequity, this imbalance, much error, and darkness ensues in your world and continues to be imposed upon God's Creation. With the power of free will, humanity does not see its own error but continues upon the trajectory and road that the mind dictates.

But underneath all of this complex layer of human activity and thought and intention and action is a great crying out from the soul. So what mankind builds in the world, its foundations are set upon the sand. In this way, all that humanity creates is subject to the passing currents of a changing world in which you live. The Earth itself continues to shudder and writhe within this condition, attempting to shake off this heavy and dark condition that humanity has imposed upon it.

As in everything in God's Creation, there is a momentum towards balance and harmony. So that which man has created, this condition, the structures that have been imposed upon your world will not last for it is not built upon love, truth, harmony and the Laws of God's Creation, the Laws of God's Love. So it is up to you and all who choose the light to continue in your prayers and your efforts to uplift yourselves in the Grace and blessings of God's Love in order to heal and rectify the conditions that are within you and to bring wisdom, greater wisdom to yourselves and a greater capacity to love so that you may be active agents of God, Channels of His Love and Light.

To have the Will of God manifest through you is the highest intention and action that you might bring in your life. In order to do that, you must indeed awaken your souls through your desire and prayers to God to receive this great gift of Love. As you activate this Truth within your life and bring the expression of Truth in every aspect of your life where love is your foundation, your strength and where from love comes wisdom, compassion, the ability to express and manifest that which is in harmony with God and God's Creation. Given enough souls willing to do so, to be within this great flow of God's Love, to know God's Will, to know your own true selves in relationship with God, then change, true change will come to the world. True healing will manifest and bring all that is suffering and out of harmony with Creation back to balance, back to harmony.

When this is accomplished and it shall be accomplished, because God has a plan for the salvation of humanity, then there will be joy upon your Earth. There will be fulfillment. There will be a new dawn of love as the currency of humanity. Many spirits and angels are working to these ends, put in a great effort, great effort, all blessed by God's Hand to bring the healing, to bring the rectification of all that is not of love back to love and harmony.

The Needs of the World Require Your Service and Commitment

Michael Collier on December 07, 2019

I am Michael Collier. I come to return and speak to you about your work in bringing the Truths of the Father's Love to the world. I am very pleased to hear you speak about returning to the country which you have visited which, at this time, is undergoing some crises of weather and conditions of fires. These sorts of conditions will intensify around the world as Earth changes have their effect. This is why it is important for you to return to these places, to reinforce and re-establish a sense of urgency around the growing spirituality that is necessary in the hearts of humanity in order to cope with these conditions and to deal with what is coming. So you will be needed time and time again.

Though, as our dear and beloved friend suggests, there are always those who resist and have what you would call a practical mind in these matters but I tell you that you will find the ways and means to do this work and that God will open doors, provided you do not push them so that they cannot open. One must be free of the constrictions of the mind. These so-called practical perceptions and attitudes of mind can be a barrier at times. The mind certainly has its place in your efforts and going about your business in this world, but the primary motivation must be the soul in connection with God. This is faith, is it not, to walk in the world with faith, to be true to the knowings of your soul which is true to the Will of God?

So when these barriers and reluctant judgments of practical matters are put aside and one accepts the invitation of God to serve, to reach out to souls who are seeking, to allow your gifts, whatever they may be, to be active in reaching out to others, to allow God to reach through you to others, to not be shy and nervous and afraid of rejection and judgment, though I'm sure you are aware that these things may come, this rejection may be put at your feet from those who are afraid, from those who will not look, from those who are ignoring the crying out of their own soul, but these are not the individuals that you are speaking to primarily.

God is ringing a great bell, a bell that says it is time to waken. You are helping others to hear that ringing, that invitation by God. When you speak with all sincerity and love and joy and truth, you are helping others to hear those chords within their soul that are resonating with the bell toll of God. This is your work, to help ignite the other souls in the world who will be used by God in times to come, to help awaken all of humanity. It will take a great force, my friends, a great force indeed to help awaken all of humanity.

There will be many forces, many currents and conditions and events within the world that will help stir your brothers and sisters from their slumbers and awaken to the Truth, to awaken to the reality of the situation that humanity has created that will bring about great change and great response from not only the natural elements of your world but all the elements of your world are being stirred, some infused with great Light, some responding from the conditions of darkness, some agitated such as all the many animals and creatures of this world who no longer feel the sense of the rhythms and harmony that God has created for them. For this you must all take responsibility for the power of your very numbers upon this world has created such a disharmony, such currents of disharmony that all in the world suffers from the presence of what truly is God's Greatest Creation, humanity, gone awry, unable to truly see its place in the great scheme of God's Universal Creation.

So humanity must be brought back to harmony. There must be great change in your world, as there must be great change within yourselves, my friends. Yes, those of you who see, who have an inkling of the urgency of this situation in which you all live within, sense the immensity of the need and the complexity of the problem which you find yourselves in. So this is where you must teach and you must do for yourself, to go to God for the wisdom, the knowledge, the spiritual preparation, the awakening of your soul. In this way, the solutions will come and in no other way for the solutions of the mind, of what humanity has relied upon for so many eons of life, cannot and is not capable of bringing the solutions that are necessary at this time.

It is the wisdom of the soul, it is the gathering together of many souls who are in alignment with God, to come to the understandings that are required to see the solutions that are necessary. Perceptions of the soul, my friends, are what is needed. You all have come together in this Circle of Light to seek to hone those perceptions, to bring forward those gifts, to come closer to God to receive more of the Great Fuel of the Soul which is God's Essence.

When you return to your homes, my friends, you must continue to pray fervently, to continue your communications and bonds and love with one another, strengthening, strengthening, creating a great rope that is connected to God and connected to all of you, binding you together not in a way that restricts, but in a way that strengthens and helps you all to see. Each of you has a key. Each of you has something that will contribute to the whole that will strengthen this rope that will pull humanity away from the brink of disaster.

There are many more who will add their entwined wisdom and strength and light to yours and help bring humanity to its senses, help bring reality forward, Truth of what is truly meant to be in this world, not what humanity has concocted in their minds and expressed with their abilities to create. Though these things are gifts from God, this ability to think and create and to choose but these things, when they are out of alignment with God, are not in harmony with God's Creation.

So humanity must learn wisdom, must learn love, must learn how to be in this world, but not in a way that pulls and distorts and is violent in its means and ends, to bring power and control and material success and security. It is all distorted, my friends. It is a tragedy of immense proportions. Now is the time when the tipping point comes and the resolution must come, one way or another. Whether humanity subscribes to God's Will or not. God's Will will be done and there will be a reconciliation of this world towards harmony and light and peace.

So each of you, my friends, has a great responsibility and have been issued many, many invitations to work together, to bring this Truth as far and wide as you can, to take up the mantle of Truth and speak to your brothers and sisters in love, in joy, not in fear, for fear will not bring the solutions that must come. Love will bring those solutions. Love will open the doors to greater possibilities and greater light in your world. So you must bring love. You must bring all the capacities of love that are possible within your hearts and souls, to come forth and be given as a gift to your brothers and sisters.

The capacity of your giving, the desire to do so, the power of your own light and your own choice to serve humanity is important to recognize, to accept that indeed the needs of the world at this time, in these conditions in which you live, requires a great step forward in service and commitment, in allowing God to use you as His channels. Again I repeat, you are being used to strike the chords within the souls so that they may hear the great bell toll of God and act upon this. You are helping to open the doors for many. May you see yourself in this place of serving God, as the ones who are assisting God to open the eyes of humanity.

There is much to do, my friends, and little time to do it. You may help to save countless lives with this Truth. Are you willing to walk with this Truth, to speak it, and to do so with love? To speak in the flow of God's guidance and inspiration? To act in accordance with God's Will? Can you give yourself to this? It requires great dedication, a great desire to serve in this way. It is an important commitment, a powerful choice to be in alignment with God, to not be halfway there, where you have great concern for your needs and what is convenient. No, my beloved, beautiful friends. The time now requires your full dedication, if you are willing. This is a great opportunity to serve God and a serious situation in which it requires your commitment and your love, not in fear, not in obligation, not in a mental decision that says I must do this because I see that it is important. No, my friends. It is a heartfelt dedication to God that says, "I will follow your guidance, your Will, with every moment." This is your love for God. This is truly your love for God in action.

The Fate of the World Rests on Those Willing to Carry the Truth

Jesus on December 17, 2019

Blessed and beloved brothers and sisters, I come. I am Jesus. I come because you are my brothers and sisters upon this world, carrying the mantle of Truth amongst you. To some degree, the fate of your world rests upon those who are willing to carry this Truth to their brothers and sisters, who are my disciples of Light. Those who are committed within their souls to do this work shall be blessed mightily upon their path. As they become sure-footed upon this path, so God will lead them in many different directions in the world to carry this Truth, to touch the souls of many.

You are my disciples, beloveds. You carry the Truth of God's Love within your souls. You have the sure knowledge of this Truth and you walk in this Truth with each day. As each day unfolds, may you come to know the possibilities of every moment to serve God, to be in the flow of His Love, to be in harmony with all of His Creation and all of His Laws of Love. As you grow in this way, so God will open up many opportunities and possibilities to serve your brothers and sisters.

There is much work to do. In the coming year, there is a great need for you all to bring this Truth forward for humanity continues to slip into darkness and ignorance and pain.

In this darkness, they pull at the very fabric of your world creating conditions that are disharmonious and threaten the existence of much of God's Creation in this world of yours. There is a great need for all the children of your world, those children of Light, those children who have concern, who are becoming aware that the conditions of your world are treacherous and vulnerable to the great influence of humanity, this great pressure of thought and deed that continues to pull at the very fabric of life on your world.

You must be strong and continue to speak of the Truth, to be loving channels for God, to help awaken the souls of humanity for without this wakefulness, the world will continue to tumble into darkness. Many will be lost as a consequence of these dreadful conditions that are created by the great numbers of humanity who are ignorant and lost, who are a part of the great wave and trend of materialism and lack of true soul awakening. Awakening of the soul brings awareness of all that is not in harmony. Awakening of the soul brings strength and perception and love, so that collectively humanity may make that decision to bring greater harmony to their lives and their actions upon this world.

It is a tremendous challenge, one that each soul who is willing must take seriously and consider what must be done, to seek the council of the Heavenly Father so that they may awaken and come to know what God wishes of them, God's Will enacted through them so that change may take place however subtly and gradually this may be. Still, the trend must be towards Light and harmony, Light and harmony above all this darkness and ignorance and deprivation that comes with the soul that is not awake and does not know Love.

I come to you to uplift and to encourage you, to bring the light of day to the dark world that you may indeed through the power of your souls awakened in God's Love be guided and inspired to bring Truth and change and Light and peace to your world. You are needed and many more like yourselves. Continue to pray for this world, for your own souls, and for the souls of those you love, that all may be awakened and healed, that their understanding of the true way of life, the expression of love, how one treads upon this world may be given to each soul so that they may indeed have the choice and may choose for Light rather than walk in the darkness unaware of this fact.

In the End, There Will be Peace and Harmony

Augustine on December 20, 2019

I am your teacher Augustine. Yes, your world is in deep distress. It is everywhere. There are times when it becomes quite evident that the conditions of your natural world are under great duress. Yet, hidden under all the natural cycles and evident matter of your world, there are contradictory energies and conditions that continue to cause tension and abrasion in your world. As this condition intensifies, as these energies continue to be contradictory towards one another, one that is the expression of God and His Creation and the other is the expression of man and his creation fighting for dominance upon your world.

Though God's great energies, the foundation of creation within the world, will persist and not disappear, it can be weakened by the human condition, that condition is created by your actions, your thoughts, the inhumanity to man that continues to be expressed throughout your world, and the deep patterns of thought and need and desire that continue to see the world in a way that it is not of life but an object for the gratification of humanity. Until these attitudes change, until the majority of those who inhabit your world are willing to see beyond the veil of their own personal needs and consider what is in harmony with the great Creation of God which is your world, then these conditions of strife will continue.

It is serious indeed and we have great concern and empathy and love for you all for in some way, you will all be affected by these conditions. It is inevitable. As the conditions of the world continue to intensify, so your weather, your topography, the oceans, all that makes up your world will be shifting and turning, attempting to heal itself and create conditions that are in harmony with the Laws that God has set into place.

Though we will protect you and we will try to make these conditions less difficult for you, it is inevitable that you will be subject to these unfortunate shifts and transitions in the world. Prayer indeed is the antidote. To put aside your fears, your great concerns and place your faith before God, understanding that in God's Will and God's timing and God's blessings, the change that will happen will bring harmony in time, harmony that will be more substantial and less vulnerable to the human condition, harmony that will be a greater foundation for this world. Each of you is challenged to be aligned with this great harmony and change that is in your world at this time. It is the power of God's Love within your soul that will bring you the perceptions and the understandings that will help you to cope with these hardships.

There is much more to come, my friends, in your world that will bring change, but in the end, there will be peace and harmony. You must have faith, my friends, that this will be so, that even though you may suffer for the time being and see suffering all around you and wish that you could allay those that are suffering and bring peace and comfort, that this will come in time. Your prayers are important. Your very act of prayer today has made some difference in these conditions that you speak of and there are many others praying. For is this not what humanity turns to in the sight of calamities and dilemmas? It is unfortunate that it is usually after the fact but indeed, even these difficult conditions bring forth an opportunity to teach others how to pray, to show by your example the power of prayer to be a clear channel of the Father's Love, blessings for others and for this world.

Continue to pray. I know that this suffering is difficult to bear, that these perceptions of the world bring grief and concern but I tell you, there is a higher way to cope, an avenue of greater Light and of peace. I encourage you to take that road, to be strong, to walk in faith and love.

We are with you. We have never left. We will continue to walk with you all. We will continue to assist you in any way that is possible within the Laws of God's Creation, within the power of God's Love within your soul. So we will bless you and bring to you that which you require to be in the Light, to be enshrouded in protection and Love.

Why Does God Allow the Suffering of the Innocent?

Josephus on January 01, 2020

I am Josephus. I have come to answer your question which you have had on your mind for several days, seeking some clarification. In order to do so, we must go back many eons of time to the beginning of the establishment of humanity upon this world. In that time where God created the first parents or who they represent, the Earth was in balance and harmony. Elements worked together to sustain life. The first parents were blessed with a purified soul, a beginning very auspicious indeed for their start upon this planet and proliferation of humanity thereupon.

But in the beginning, a question from God was asked of His Creation, "Do you wish to follow the road which I have made for you so that your souls may continue to grow and expand with My Essence implanted within your soul, and shall remain there and grow for all eternity or do you wish to follow your own road and walk upon this Earth and consequently, the spheres of spirit, in your own way?" And the choice was made to be independent.

So your long history of humanity upon this world continues to follow that road of independence. Your numbers have increased and increased and increased until the entire planet is overshadowed by the human condition. That human condition gives no thought or very little to the ways of God and the harmony of His Creation. Instead, humanity becomes ever more consumed and selfish with great desires for material benefit and gain and with little heed for the consequences of these things, for the momentum of the human condition and human actions upon your world continues to grow and is immense in its effects, not only in the physical nature of your world and your actions, but also the spiritual effects that come with your thoughts and intentions and desires creating great waves of disharmonious thoughts and actions that are not considered with wisdom, efforts that are often in error and are difficult to rectify.

The power of humanity is great and its power is not fully understood. So humanity continues to wander in the darkness. It lacks wisdom. It lacks love. It lacks the ability to see beyond the small world of its own making to the bigger picture of its collective effects upon the world. So the elements of the Earth, these great wheels and mechanics that God puts into motion for the well-being of all Creation are being affected by the immense power of humanity. The ultimate consequence of the choice that was made at the beginning of humanity's creation is now coming to fruition.

This has come as a result of destructive and inharmonious actions of humanity. So all of Creation suffers from these actions. All the world has been disrupted. The natural cycles are changing rapidly because of these disruptions and effects of the human condition implied upon this planet.

So there is great turmoil. There is great suffering. Not only humanity suffers, but so does all creation. Yes, there is a great concern for the animals. The creatures of all descriptions that God has created continue to be victimized by the great waves of darkness that humanity has created upon this planet. Indeed, God is saddened, as are we in the Celestial Kingdom to see these great forces unleashed by the ignorance of man.

Yet, the Laws of God are immutable. They cannot be changed. The world is subject to the free will of humanity and because of this, all suffer in consequence. Yet, as we have told you many times that there is a plan for the salvation of mankind and the salvation of your world. All will not come to destruction and darkness, but these trends and energies and consequences will be reversed in time.

I ask all of you to continue to pray for the infusion of the Father's Love. Pray for the success of God's great plan for the salvation of your world. Seek to be instruments that you may do your part in this great effort to save your world. Yes, all will suffer. This is, unfortunately, a consequence of the great tides and currents of energies and effects of the activities of humanity but also, God has sent many blessings to your world and will continue in greater measure to bless your world, to turn back the tides of darkness, to be in the flow of the great healing of your world through His blessings.

For those who resolutely turn their eyes from God, who feel nothing but anger, frustration, rejection of God, hoping that God will indeed bring an instantaneous gift of healing to all, are sadly mistaken. For the powers of humanity are great, as I have said, and the power of God is greater still but He will not countermand His Laws of Creation nor His gift of free will to humanity. Instead, one must realize that these elements that are interplaying in your world must find a resolution, for all Creation is designed to bring harmony in time.

The consequences of human actions will be felt in ways that are harsh, in ways that reflect the harshness of humanity, in ways that are powerful and must countermand the efforts of humanity. This cannot be done in an instant. This interplay will continue for some time but in the end, God will win out because God is the Source of All, the Power of All Creation. Through the Laws that God has initiated in Creation, there will be a resolution in time and balance and harmony.

But this does not assuage your concerns for the moment, my friends. As you see great destruction in parts of your world, consequences unforeseen and consequences difficult to accept, consequences that in the minds of men bring further destruction but all the elements of the world have a healing element to them. As God continues to bring forth the power of these elements in the world, healing will come. The world will be healed. The elements of Creation will bring healing.

They are like a double-edged sword, however. With change comes, at times, destruction but with destruction comes change and the opportunity to build a world that is better, an opportunity for the elements of the natural world to conspire to heal those places ripped asunder by the harshness of the elements. This is the way in which God has created the world. In His infinite Wisdom, these elements will continue to come into play to help heal and change your world.

Yes, many creatures have lost their lives upon this world and go back to the source from which they have come but this does not mean the end, the absolute end to these beautiful creations of God, merely a pause as God continues to work His Will upon your planet, continues to allow the elements of change and renewal to come forth, to bring greater harmony to your world. This will be seen over and over again in your world in this great time of change and transition, of healing and destruction.

This is not the result of God's intention to bring such forces to play into your world. It is the result of the actions of humanity to continue to countermand the Laws of God and the Laws of Creation thinking that this is to their benefit and it is not. In the end, humanity will see its folly, will understand that it cannot ignore what is truly the beautiful Creation of God that is your world.

Some will come in humility and shame to God to ask for forgiveness, to seek another way. Those who cannot bring themselves to admit their folly will suffer great consequences because the folly of man cannot continue to rule this world in such harsh and unloving ways. So the truth of the matter continues to unfold in your world. Those who are innocent, those who are ignorant, and those who are estranged from God will be victims of the great waves of change, great elements conspiring to bring healing to the world.

Humanity cannot escape. Humanity is a victim of itself. Humanity has been given great blessings and choices. Yet humanity continues to sleep, to choose this slumber, this ignorance, this lack of knowledge and caring and love. Humanity has a great capacity for all of these things but has chosen instead to be harsh within their minds, to ignore the pleas of their souls, the pleas of God, the pleas of all the angels to come to that place of humility and grace that is the Touch of God upon them and the Holy Touch of His Spirit within their souls.

This we pray for. This I know you pray for. Yet when you witness the great power of this Earth in its attempts to heal and cleanse itself of these elements of disharmony, you are downtrodden. You worry and care about what is happening. Instead, I urge you to pray, to pray unceasingly, to pray for the healing of your world, to pray for the healing of your own soul, and to pray for the salvation of all. This is what will help to bring harmony back. This is the great power that many of you do not acknowledge or understand, the power of prayer.

Continue in your efforts. Continue to be patient, to be faithful. Put aside your fear and your anger. I know this is difficult in circumstances that seem to be impossible to accept. Yet, within your soul, you know that change must come, that healing must come, that all within your world must revert back to the harmony of God's Creation. So, it will be with you. God's Hand is surely upon you. Accept that God's plan is of the highest order and greatest wisdom. You will see in time, as His plan unfolds, how God has blessed and brought harmony to all the world.

God bless you, my friends. We are with you. We understand your anguish and your suffering and yet the world has suffered in anguish and disharmony for many, many years. It is time for the healing to begin and it has and will unfold in the timing and harmony of God's Will. God bless you. May His Love continue to awaken your soul to Truth, to understanding, compassion, patience, and Love.

What is God's Plan for the Salvation of Humanity?

Josephus on January 02, 2020

The origins of God's plan for the salvation of mankind come from His Great Soul. The manifestations and energies that are expressed by His Great Soul focused upon your Earth plane. For all things, physical have origins within the spiritual, the energetic fields of Creation. So the beginnings of God's plan start within this energetic field where God will continue to manifest actions and efforts to help balance the world.

You have been invited to be co-creators in this effort. So your prayers, desires to be used a channel for God's Will, are important for they add a certain element to this process of materialising blessings and manifestations in the material world. It is not necessary for you to know the details of this great plan. It is merely necessary for you through your own faith, desires, efforts, and prayers to be a part of it, to be an open and active agent of God and His Will. Know these things within your soul, and manifest them in your intentions and actions in the world.

God's plan is fluid. It changes. It bends and flows with the currents of this material world of yours. The intention is always to bring harmony and to neutralise that which is not in harmony. So these efforts and expressions of God are manifest moment by moment, situation by situation in the world. As the free will of man has indeed dominated the conditions of your world, so His will is unpredictable in many regards and is reactive to the many conditions in your world, many thoughts generated by humanity, the actions imposed upon this world by the desires and inclinations of humanity.

Though God has great vision and understands all, to work within the parameters of His Laws of Creation requires this flexibility and fluidity in action. God is certainly one step ahead of the moment but it is a subtle and complex and challenging situation in which God may and must move within the parameters of these Earthly conditions.

You are in the same situation. This is where your faith and strength, your capacities to listen to God's Will and to act within it, the intensity of your prayers, the desire of your soul and the knowings and guidance that come as a result of these efforts, must constantly strive for alignment with God, must be in the great flow of God's Will. To give you specific information about events that are happening or are about to happen is not productive. It merely distracts you from your spiritual pursuits.

There are times when this may be done or given in order to assist you in your efforts or protect you in certain circumstances but this is where I will come when needed. Instead, it is walking in the world with great faith, faith in God, your alignment with God, your efforts of the soul to be in communion, to be a great channel of love, to pray for your world and to pray all the souls and creatures of your world. This is complying with God's Will in regard to His plan for the salvation of mankind. Where you may shed Truth upon another and give some comfort, some clarity, some peace, then indeed you are complying with God's Will and plan.

Yes, there is much to do but the doing is in the moment is within the Light that you carry and the faith that you carry and prayers that you have, the thoughts that you entertain. What manifests through you and around you is important. Consider the moment, beloved souls. Consider the moment and be in harmony with God.

This will bring all the answers you seek. This will bring the revelation of the moment in regards to God's plan. All come with faith and trust and love. May God bless you. May God bless you deeply with His Love awakening the great wisdom of the soul, giving you the understanding that is deeper than mind and that goes beyond the intellect, the words, and the linear thoughts to that place of soul that is multi-dimensional and empowered by Love. God bless you, beloveds. I am Josephus.

The World is Enshrouded in Mist and Hues of Gray

Augustine on January 07, 2020

It is your teacher, Augustine. The world is enshrouded in mist with hues of gray, some dark, some lighter but very little light. As we approach your Earth, so we must penetrate this misty environment created by the conditions of humanity upon your world. So the oppressiveness of this blanket is difficult for each of you to live within and to become clear of in your daily life and prayers. It is the power of your own prayers that is capable of clearing the air and bringing light.

When you pray for the inflowing of God's Love, so you make for yourself a little oasis of light in this dark world. You draw to yourselves the angels of God from the Celestial Heavens to be with you in this concerted effort and humble prayer to God. It is important that you know this when you feel the oppression of this dreadful blanket of the human condition that you will put yourself to prayer clearing those conditions around you and to be in the Light for this blanket and mist moves and shifts and encircles your world.

So there is a need for great vigilance and the knowledge that you must have one hand reaching out to God at all times. No matter what you do you in your world, ensure that your thoughts, your motives are clearly aligned with God and that the power of God's Love within your soul is a beacon that shines through these conditions. So much in your world continues to strengthen and darken this great cloud around you. It is indeed necessary for you to continue earnestly in your prayers to work towards light always for each of you have experienced the dark conditions of your world and have felt its oppression and mantel upon you.

Now you realize that there is an antidote to these conditions. There is a way of neutralising the darkness. So you must use this knowledge and utilize the power of your own desire and intention of the soul to help dissipate this condition. You may pray for others as well. Pray for the cloak of protection for your brothers and sisters. Pray that the dark conditions may be dispelled with Love and Light and efforts on the behalf of humanity that are of Love and Light, that God's Hand may come to you and to all in your world and with these blessings, a light may be strengthened and the darkness diminished.

Prayer is a powerful thing. It keeps you in the Light and protects you from the darkness. Just as you have shelter and food and all that you need in the material realm, so you must ensure that you are rich in light, provided for by God, and awakened in your soul so that your lives may be one of joy and great fruition of your soul's purpose and desires and alignment with God.

Consider this, beloved souls, your responsibility toward yourself and towards this world to help dissipate the darkness, to help generate light and be a co-creator with your Creator in this process. Each of you have a great hidden power within your soul that may bring great blessings toward yourself and toward others but it is your choice and it requires your efforts and focuses. It is your prayer, your desire for the highest of gifts, the blessings from God, the fulfillment of your soul in Love. These things generate Light. Your thoughts can generate Light. Your actions and intentions can generate Light. Light is the antidote to darkness.

Consider what you bring to the world, what you can give to the world with each moment and each breath. That, in prayer and desire and thought and action, everything that you do may bring greater light and neutralise the darkness for there are many places in the world that are very dark and are suffering at this time. There are eruptions and indications of greater darkness as the will of men continue to try to tame your world and tame the peoples of your world.

There are no more important time and a greater need than now for your prayers and efforts to bring light to yourselves and your brothers and sisters. Continue to pray. Continue to be in alignment with God. Do so with faith and confidence that your efforts are important and have meaning and purpose. Be in alignment with God and strive each day to continue to strengthen your alignment and harmony with God. In this way, great blessings flow, possibilities are realized, and Love abounds. This is the key to your own well-being and joy in your life.

An awakened soul is immune to darkness and can indeed be a great instrument to alleviate the darkness. May you all find enlightenment through the gift of God's Love in your soul and dispel whatever darkness that may cling to you or to your families or to your area in which you live. All these places in the world from which you come are in need of your light and your instrumentality as a channel of God's Love to dissipate the darkness, to bring Truth and Love and joy to the world.

I know you have great concerns. I know you see around you fomenting darkness, crises, problems, suffering, and error. Your greatest ally is God. Your greatest instrument is your own soul. The greatest possibilities for Light may be realized through your efforts in prayer and your actions guided by God. May all these things come into alignment and make you an effective instrument for Light in the world. God yearns for your partnership in assisting in the healing and transformation of your world.

May you see the role that God has designated for each of you. May that insight and perception come to you clearly and powerfully so that you may move within the Will of God and act accordingly. May God bless you upon your path. May God show you the way. May God strengthen and guide you and teach you about the ways of Light and Love.

Love Must Become the Currency of Humanity

Jesus on January 12, 2020

I come, I am Jesus. I come because you gather together to honour your beloved Earth and to honour God and beseech God for His Blessings upon this world. I come because I love you all. You are all my brothers and sisters who walk in this world seeking to uphold light, love, and truth. I come because I wish to uphold you, to assure you that in times to come, although there will be great changes and disruptions in your world, that God will envelop each you one of you in protection and guidance and love.

In God's blessing upon you, you will be guided and you will be used to assist all who come upon your path and to bring them the Truth of God's Love, to bring them the comfort of God's Love and to bring them the healing and assurance that God's plan for the salvation of mankind will manifest in your lives. Seek God's Love above all else.

Awaken to all that God has to give to your souls. Allow your minds to accept what God has to give. Bring these two parts of yourself into alignment and reach out to God to seek harmony and alignment with His Great Soul.

In this way, all questions will be answered, all dilemmas will be healed, and all confusions will come to clarity. Those who are fearful of the results of Earth changes, you will come to a place of peace and acceptance for what is happening in your world is the healing of your world. What may look extreme and harsh is the blessing of God's reconciliation of humanity to your world so that all may live in peace and harmony.

Yes, there will be great adjustments and difficult times for within all of your hearts and the hearts of humanity is a great resistance to change, a fear of what is new and different. I urge you to go within your hearts and souls to find the answers in prayer. In this way, you will come to understand and recognize God's wisdom and mercy upon this world for if humanity continues to have dominance in your world, the world will be ruined by the ignorance of man, the greed of man and the lack of love that is so predominant amongst humanity. God is bringing humanity to Him, beseeching His wisdom, beseeching wisdom within their own souls so that you may all understand the road that you must take, so that you may all accept the changes that must come and the adjustments within your own thinking and doing in the world.

These are serious times. These are times that will test your faith. These are times that will bring new revelations and understandings to each one of you. These are times that will bring change, both within the material world and within your own selves. These are the manifestations of God's great healing Hand upon the world bringing many blessings forth, bringing you and all to a place of clarity and of choice.

The world comes to a crossroads. Humanity must choose, for God does not countermand the Laws of Free Will. God will give each of you the blessing of understanding this choice, of understanding the Truth that must be lived and expressed in the world. This Truth is predicated with Love always and Love must become the currency of humanity. Love must be involved and included in all decisions and undertakings of humanity. It is time for humanity to mature and come to that place of understanding their true natures, their true being.

Each of you, my friends, has this Truth within your hearts. Each of you may be used by God to give this understanding. As time goes on in your world, so the need for Truth will become more evident and the desire for Truth will rise up within the hearts of humanity. For when the world is in chaos and all that which you have come to rely upon and live within is no longer a part of life, then humanity, all of you, will be challenged to find the road which will be taken to bring greater harmony to your world and to ensure the survival and the vitality of your world.

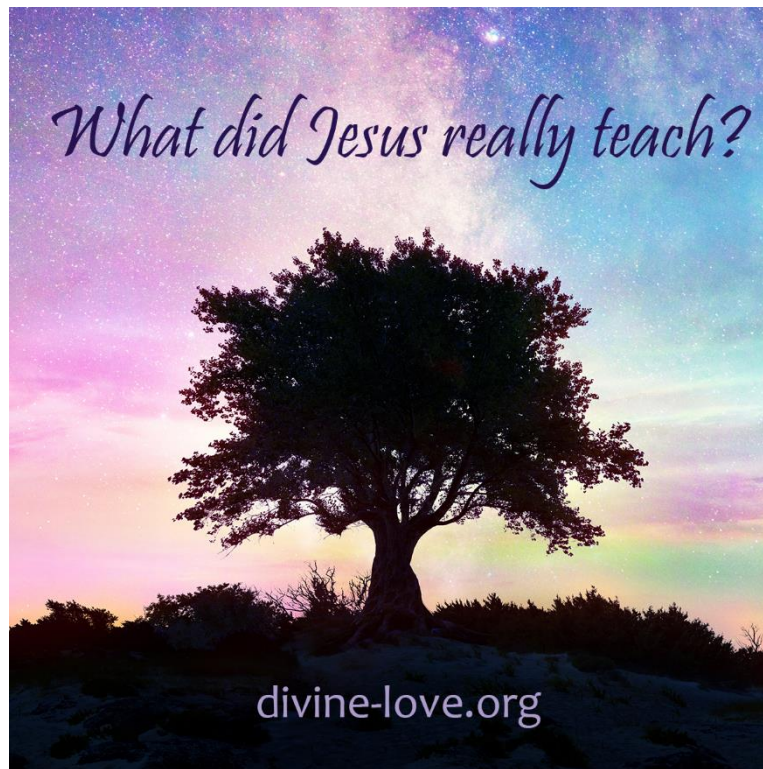

You live in very crucial times. It is a time of choice. It is a time of putting aside all your material concerns and putting forth in your lives the concerns of your soul in relationship with your Creator. This is your challenge and your invitation. As you pray for this world, pray that the world will come to understand Truth, to truly understand Creation in all its aspects and how Creation is in relationship with the Creator, to understand the Laws of Creation, to understand the Laws of Love, and to understand what is important and necessary in terms of your relationships and your actions in the world. It is Love. It is Love that brings harmony. It is Love that brings wisdom. It is Love that will heal the world.

So you must live Love. Be an example for your brothers and sisters. Walk in this world as a Light. Be open to God's guidance and God's Will. Be a true brother and sister of this Truth that I came to reveal to humanity and continue to uphold in the world and in the world of spirit. If you are truly my brother and my sister then I beseech you to live this Truth with every breath, to walk in this world as a channel of Love, to be God's child, truly and deeply.

I am your brother and friend. I walk with you. I shall always be with you. May God's Love continue to pour into your souls awakening all, bringing the Truth to your blessed consciousness and understanding. Awaken in Love, my friends. Awaken in Truth. Be humble and strong. Be clear and be dedicated to the Truth of Love.

May God bless you all. I am with you. I am Jesus and I love you all. God bless you. God bless you.
